New Area Soil Chemist Named

A new area soil chemist for the Texas High Plains has been named by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock. He is Dr. Dale Pennington, formerly of Weslaco, who has succeeded James H. Valentine as supervisor of the Extension Soil Testing Laboratory at Lubbock and as soil chemist for 80 area counties.

Valentine, who in 1960 established the laboratory at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock, retired August 31.

Pennington is a graduate of Texas A&M, with doctoral and masters degrees in soil chemistry and a baccalaureate degree in agricultural education.

He has a wide range of experience in farming, research, agronomy and the Extension Service. He is a native of Haskell County, where his family still farms cotton and wheat south of Haskell.

Prior to returning to graduate school on a Texas Plant Food Society scholarship, Pennington served as assistant county Extension agent in Jackson County, in the rice, cotton and sorghum producing region along the Gulf Coast. While pursuing graduate studies, he was an assistant in soil chemistry for the Extension soil testing laboratory at College Station.

Before becoming area soil chemist for Extension Districts 1, 2 and parts of 3, 6 and 7 on September 1, he served as area agronomist for Extension Districts 12 and 14. He was stationed at the TAMU

Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Weslaco. As area agronomist, he was responsible for the Extension educational and crop demonstration program for cotton, sorghum, corn, flax, wheat and sugarcane for 22 counties in South Texas.

As assistant in soil chemistry, Pennington identified or helped identify several production problems throughout Texas. In Lee, Atascosa and Mason counties, the first reported copper deficiency in peanuts and wheat were identified by tissue and soil testing. During the development phase of tissue analysis at College Station laboratory, the first South Texas zinc deficiencies in sorghum in Matagorda County and corn in Victoria County were identified. Also, the first reported boron deficiencies in vegetables grown near Houston were made by soil extraction.

His research included studies conducted in Bailey County which indicated that zinc was needed in sorghum for this area prior to 1969. Pennington has also evaluated methods for predicting nutrient requirements for crops through petiole analysis.

While serving as area agronomist in South Texas, Pennington utilized infrared photographs to determine extent and intensity of iron deficiency in South Texas sorghum. These efforts increased the use of iron sulfate by 200 percent by skeptical producers. Demonstration data indicated efforts boosted yields by 10 to 30 percent where the practice was adopted.

In the Rio Grande Valley, Pennington was able to demonstrate that cotton could be grown with far fewer costs by outlays than had been previously thought. "Our philosophy was to develop a cotton crop with less than three insecticide applications, to get the maximum efficiency from our herbicides and to give pest management a chance to operate," he said. The result was dryland yields of 998 pounds per acre in 1977 and 858 pounds per acre in 1978. Cost per pound for the Minimum Input Cotton Demonstration programs were 23.5 and 28 cents, respectively.

His honors include outstanding senior in Agricultural Education, 1962 and membership in Gamma Sigma Phi. He is married to the former Carmen Cornelius of Llano and they have one son, Shannon.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

by Janice Burns

Question: When my ex-husband died in 1976, I applied for social security benefits on his work record. I was told I couldn't get payments because our marriage hadn't lasted for 20 years or more. Has that requirement been changed?

Answer: Yes, but the change doesn't become effective until January 1979. Starting in 1979, the length of time a divorced woman must have been married to a worker in order to get benefits will be reduced from 20 years to 10 years. If you and your ex-husband were married for at least 10 years, you should re-apply for benefits in 1979.

For further information regarding Social Security benefits please contact the Social Security office, 1401-B West 5th Street, Plainview, telephone 293-4371.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Browning of Turkey were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Arnie Duncan and family and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cunningham, all of Amarillo, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Culver, Jr., in Groom Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Mullin and girls of Hereford spent the week-end visiting in Turkey in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Mullin and with other relatives.

Claud Woods of Lorraine spent Tuesday visiting in Turkey with friends. He formerly served as Church of Christ minister here and is holding a Gospel meeting at the Rock Creek Church this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Mohon of Whitney were visiting in Turkey the first of the week with relatives and friends while attending to business in Turkey.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Barbee were in Clarendon Sunday to visit their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Wayne Barbee. Their granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Shaeffer of Lubbock, visited the Tom Barbees and the Earnest Wayne Barbees Sunday afternoon.

The Answers to PAR GOLF

THE AUTHOR:

Kris Morgan Wise took up the game of golf in 1960. Like most beginners, he found the golf swing to be the most difficult part of the game. Frustrated by years of failure to improve by using traditional methods, Wise was determined to find the real answers to the classic golf swing. An engineer by training, Wise was familiar with the laws of physics and their relationship to golf, and by applying this knowledge to his golf game, Wise devised a series of unique exercises which helped him to master the game.

Wise currently resides in San Diego and is employed at San Diego State University. Outside the University, his main interest is golf; his spare time is spent developing his golf theories and giving golf lessons. Wise also gives tennis lessons, and is working on a book about the tennis stroke.

THE BOOK

You can play scratch golf by using a few easy techniques. The Answers to Par Golf shows you how. Kris Wise covers all aspects of your golf swing, from its relation to the laws of physics to the actual placement of the swing itself, with each movement fully illustrated.

Step by step, the author shows you how to develop a free-flowing natural golf swing. He has also developed innovative exercises to aid in perfecting your swing.

Whether you are a beginner or an expert, The Answers to Par Golf will have strokes from your game.

What Think Ye?

This might be a good mirror—take a look at yourself. A key will open a locked door, but only a smile can open the window of a heart.

A smile is said to be a frown turned upside down—this way it catches any bit of happiness that might be floating around. A smile adds to your face value, a frown takes away from your true worth. A smile shows your front teeth, a frown shows your disposition.

An old proverb: A smile has the corners turned upward like the petals of a rose reaching for the sunshine. A frown is angled downward like the tail of a whipped puppy.

If we give the other fellow a chance to talk, he will appreciate it, and who knows, we might even learn something.

Stubbornness is a thing we hate; Firmness, that's okay. The first is my neighbor's trait; The last, that's my way.

Sez I to myself, as I grumbled and growled, "I'm sick of my church," and then how I scowled! "The members are unfriendly, the sermon's too long! In fact, it seems that everything's wrong. I don't like the singing; the church—a disgrace! For signs of neglect are all over the place. I'll quit going; I won't give them a dime, for I can make better use of my time."

Then sez my conscience to me, sez he, "The trouble with you is you're too blind to see that your church reflects you, whatever it be. Now, come, pray and pay and serve cheerfully; stop all your fault-finding and boost it up strong; you'll find you'll be happy and proud to belong. Be friendly and willing, and sing as you work—for churches aren't built by members who shirk."

Stretch your energy dollars—Install an energy-efficient electric heat pump

A heating system that's more than 200% efficient may seem like something out of the future. But it isn't. It's yours today, with the electric heat pump. Because when correctly installed in a properly insulated home, the heat pump produces two units of heat for each single unit of electricity it uses. It transfers heat that's always present in sun-warmed outside air into your home during the winter. And reverses the process, pumping heat outdoors during the summer.

If you have plans to buy, build, or remodel, or are looking for a new heating and cooling system for your home, call a local FACTORY CERTIFIED heat pump dealer or talk with WTU.
