Quitaque Hoe-Down Saturday, June 24th

Clean-up, Fix-up, Haul-off

The Quitaque Beautification Committee, a branch of the Quitaque Chamber of Commerce, held a special meeting Thursday, June 15, 1989, at 3 p.m. at the Community Center to bring together business owners and managers to explain the goals and objectives of the newly formed committee.

"The purpose" stated Chairman Ronnie Chestnut, "is to work together as business leaders of the community to beautify and improve our town. To promote every aspect of the area. To make it look attractive, desirable, and most of all inviting to tourism, industries and young families. We know what a great place it is, but we've got to let others see that too."

Chestnut also informed the group that Quitaque and Turkey have been included on several tour schedules that should begin as early as this week. This re-routing of bus tours came from working with the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Several ideas were discussed by the group of business leaders, and all agreed we must begin with a major city-wide clean up. Roadways within the city and leading to the State Park must be beautified. This is the first things tourists see upon arriving.

It was decided to set aside Saturday, June 24, 1989 as Quitaque Hoe-Down. A community effort to clean alleys, yards, vacant lots, streets, mow lots, yards, wash store windows, etc., is needed.

"One group or a few people cannot clean up our town, but we as a group can," said Ronnie Chestnut, "with July 4th coming up, officials at Caprock Canyons are expecting a record crowd of visitors. We need to impress those traveling through our town."

Clean up is scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. Citizens are to meet at the City Park. Everyone is asked to come, bring their garden tools, mowers, pickups, trailers, trash cans, weed eaters, weed killer, etc. and a sack lunch. Groups will be formed and sent throughout the city for the first annual Quitaque Hoe Down. Workers will meet back at the park for a picnic lunch. Iced tea will be provided before returning to the clean up chores.

To wrap things up in the evening, a jamboree is being planned to begin at 6:30 p.m. at the City Park.

Anyone having bulky junk, limbs, trash, brush, or anything else to be hauled off need to call one of the committee members before Saturday to get on the list for free pick up. Citizens are asked to gather everything together for quicker immediate access for the workers.

Beautification Committee Members are Ronnie Chestnut, Mary Stark, Jacquelyn Ham, Jimmy Ross, and David Brunson.

It was reported a group of Texas Tech architecture students are scheduled to come to Quitaque to draw up plans for a possible Main Street face lift. One purpose is to coordinate the building fronts to make them more attractive. Jimmy Ross is also working on the possibility of obtaining grant funds from "Main Street Texas."

Chestnut informed the group of the goals of the committee:

1. Educate the public about the importance of the appearance of their homes, properties and businesses.
2. Work with Quitaque City Council to set objectives for zoning and ordinances concerning cleanliness of property in the Quitaque City Limits.
3. Organize the local businesses to work together in the beautification of our city.
4. Research the various resources available to us to aid us in programs to make our city more appealing to the investor and tourist.

5. Get local organizations to sponsor motivational programs to interest residents and business owners-managers to work on the appearance of their buildings and grounds. i.e: Yard of the Month; Business Improvement of the Month.

6. Promote a community wide interest in the promotion of our main tourist attraction: Caprock Canyons

State Park enhances our city's potential in many ways.

These Goals are not only things that need doing... They need done NOW!!!

Watch the newspaper for future meetings and make plans to attend.

Local Churches Unite To Bring Services To State Park

The services are being conducted by the different churches. Each church involved will be responsible for services for one month at a time throughout the summer. The services are non-denominational and are made up of congregational singing, prayer, testimonies, special music and Bible preaching.

Everyone is encouraged to attend and be a part of this time of worship.

Commodities will be distributed in Turkey on Friday, June 23, 1989, 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Bob Wills Community Center.

As I See It!

By Thelma Gafford

If you missed the baseball action in Quitaque last Saturday, you missed a very exciting and fun time, not to mention the delicious hamburgers. The city ball park was certainly alive and well once more. One minor little disappointment was that none of our teams walked off with a win, but it wasn't because the effort wasn't there. The thrill of one of ours running across home plate totally matches the thrill of a touchdown or a dunked basket. Maybe even more, because for most, this is their first time to compete in competitive play.

The T-Ball was very refreshing. Talk about a roaring crowd of spectators. It was great. This week will wrap up the regular Little League season, as the teams travel to Memphis for the final games. There will be All-Star games, to be scheduled.

The Quitaque Chamber of Commerce is seeking a catchy slogan for the tourist brochures to promote the area. An interesting one showed up on an envelope from one of our subscribers this week from Fresno, California. On the front of the envelope was a drawing of a smiling face with "Queen City of the Valley" written above it. Pretty nice, huh? If any of our other readers have an idea or suggestion, let us know, we'd love to share it. You never know, you could be the one to come up with the perfect slogan. You'd be made famous, at least around here!

Stealing electricity is against the law!

Stealing electricity is a felony.

Some people tamper with their electric meters to avoid paying for the energy they use. Stealing electricity is a felony offense in the state of Texas and violators will be prosecuted. West Texas Utilities' Current Diversion Department is working hard to help combat the growing problem of energy theft.

Energy theft is dangerous.

Not only is service theft a crime, but it is also very dangerous. Serious injuries can result from meter tampering.

A crime against you!

When someone steals electricity, they are not only stealing from WTU — they are also stealing from you, as a rate-payer. Just as shoplifting increases the cost of items you buy in the store, power theft increases the cost of your electric service.

WTU will prosecute.

Because we are concerned about the dangers and costs resulting from meter tampering, West Texas Utilities will prosecute energy thieves.

Storm Preparation Is Key To Protection

Living in Texas sometimes can mean living with severe and occasional threatening weather conditions. The key to protection is preparation, says the Texas Medical Association. You can't stop a raging hurricane or tornado, but advance preparation can help protect lives and minimize damage to your property.

Hurricanes and tornadoes can cause emergency situations which call for specific measures. When the National Weather Service determines that a particular coastal area may be struck by a hurricane, a "hurricane warning" indicates you have time to prepare but no time to waste.

In the case of such a warning, evacuate beaches and low-lying coastal areas that are especially susceptible to flooding by storm tides and rain. If you live in a reasonably safe area several miles inland and your home is well constructed, stay at home and make the following emergency preparations, unless Civil Defense authorities recommend evacuation.

Check outside for loose items that might blow away or strike the house. Cut down any loose tree limbs, lower television antennas and store them, and firmly secure objects that cannot be stored. You may want to board up windows and put storm shutters in place. In addition, check your automobile, fill the gas tank (in case evacuation is necessary), and be sure windshield wipers work. The best place for your car is in a garage, shelter, or any place trees are not likely to fall. Set the brake after parking.

Thunderstorms and tornadoes are likely in Texas during spring months. Once again, preparation is your best protection. When a "tornado alert" is in effect, severe weather conditions could produce tornadoes. Keep a battery-operated radio or television tuned to a local or area station for warning information and bulletins. When a "tornado warning" is issued, funnel clouds have been sighted and could be headed in your direction. A "tornado warning" requires immediate action. Evacuate, if possible, to a cellar or basement. Or go to a corridor and sit with your head between bent knees. If you must remain in a room with windows, close the shades and drapes to prevent possible injuries from flying glass. Stay away from the windows until the storm is passed.

Hurricanes and tornadoes can cause prolonged power and water failure. Each household should have the following articles prepared in case of severe weather: flashlights and batteries, candles, a gasoline camp stove or canned heat, battery operated radio and batteries, food that requires no refrigeration, and plenty of bottled water for drinking. Water for other purposes can be obtained from hot water heaters and toilet water tanks.

The Texas Medical Association also urges you to keep emergency telephone numbers for use when your health is threatened by severe weather. These numbers include the fire department, ambulance, police department, and the weather bureau. Of course, in any extreme emergency, call 911 for help.

By using common sense and preparing in advance, you and your family should be able to escape injury and minimize damage. The best defense against the dangers of hurricanes and tornadoes is a healthy respect for the storm and sensible action—remain calm and move quickly.

The Texas Medical Association is a professional organization of more than 29,000 physician and medical student members. It is based in Austin and has 116 component county medical societies around the state. The Association represents 80 percent of the state's physicians, and its goal is to improve the health of Texans through the professional and personal development of members.

Briscoe County Extension News

A combination of thin wheat and late spring rains has led to a severe weed problem in much of the area wheat. TDA has recently issued a crisis exemption for the use of Diquat as a harvest aid in wheat. Diquat use is authorized to begin on June 19, 1989. This crisis exemption expires 15 days later on July 3, 1989. The product may be applied to wheat after it reaches the soft dough stage. The labeled rate is 1-2 pints per acre. A nonionic surfactant should also be included at 16 oz. per 100 gallons of water. This contact herbicide will be more effective when applied in a high volume of water to insure good coverage. Diquat should not be applied within seven days of harvest.

Task Force Organized For Briscoe County Caprock Comments by Oochum

coordinate county-wide activities that will benefit the people of Briscoe County.

Jimmy Ross was elected to serve as chairman of the organization. Ross was asked if he was willing to serve as chairman. He said he would, if those present did not feel there was a conflict of interest. Those present felt Ross has knowledge of resources that can be a great help to the people of Briscoe County. Ross was elected by acclamation.

Virginia Hardin was elected secretary.

Other officers will be six board members chosen by the Quitaque Chamber of Commerce and six board members chosen by the Briscoe County Activities Association. All residents of the county will make up the ad hoc advisory committee. Task Force meetings will be the second Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Summer months and 6:30 p.m. in the Winter months. Meetings will alternate between Silvertown and Quitaque. Meetings are open to all residents of the county. NO MEMBERSHIP DUES or FEES ARE CHARGED.

Quitaque Chamber of Commerce reported receiving requests for information on vacation spots in Briscoe County. Most requests have been for opportunities to visit a working ranch. Anyone interested in providing vacations for visitors for a fee or free, please contact the Quitaque Chamber at P.O.Box 207, Quitaque, Tx. 79255. The Chamber is making a list of things to do and the approximate cost of the activities. The list will be sent out to area Chambers of Commerce, tour guides and individuals who ask for information.

Briscoe County Activities Association members, Spud and Betty Nan Tiffin, have agreed to allow their phone number and mailing address to serve as the "Silvertown Chamber of Commerce." Silvertown does not have a chartered Chamber and City Hall has been answering mail directed to the Silvertown Chamber. The Tiffins will render a much needed service.

You may ask why we need a county-wide organization such as Briscoe County Task Force. The people who organized it believe in Briscoe County and what it can become. We know we must seek ways to make our county a viable place to reside once again; a place where new residents along with heirs of county pioneers can live a quality life spiritually, educationally, culturally and financially.

Lines borrowed from two recent newspaper columns express the ideas of the Task Force. From an essay by Joseph Fort Newton: "Just for today, let us live this day only. Let's forget yesterday and tomorrow and not try to solve the whole problem of life in one fell swoop. So, just for today, let us be agreeable, responsive, cheerful and kind. Let us look our best, walk softly, praise people for what they do and not criticize them for what they cannot do."

From a column by George Plagenz: "Life is all a matter of improving on what we have been given, doing what needs to be done and taking life 'only as directed'."

You are invited to attend Briscoe County Task Force meetings to help IMPROVE ON WHAT WE HAVE BEEN GIVEN. ----- submitted by Virginia Hardin hailstorms will certainly do it!

It's vacation season, that two weeks that are too short, after which you are too tired to go back to work and too broke not to!

A busy doctor has this sign posted in the waiting room, "Please have your symptoms ready!"

It's alright to hold up your chin so long as you don't turn up your nose!

As a special treat, the farmer's wife served her city visitors with a four-year-old-cured-ham and told her visitors that her husband cured it himself. "Cured it?" the city lady asked, "What disease did it die from?!"

...They are no longer two but one flesh. What therefore, God has joined together, let not man put asunder.

Matthew 19:6

This is the month of weddings, when couples happily proclaim their oneness before families and friends. Unfortunately, many marriages end in divorce today. The strain of modern living can pull partners apart, if there is not something to hold them together. Does God have a place in your marriage? Let him be the bond between you... attend services in the church of your choice this Sunday.

Airman Walters Stationed At BAFB

A Sunray man, Allen C. Walters, has been assigned to duty at Bergstrom Air Force Base in Austin after completing basic and advanced training.

Inducted Oct. 7, 1988, Airman Walters went to Lackland AFB, San Antonio for basic training, then was assigned to Keesler AFB, Biloxi, Miss. for advanced training.

On completion of control and communications training in Mississippi, Walters received his permanent assignment at the Austin base. He expects to continue training courses that will lead to an associate degree.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Walters of Sunray, and the grandson of Allen Matthews of Turkey, the airman was graduated from Sunray High School in 1987 and attended Texas State Technical Institute in Amarillo prior to entering the Air Force.

The Farmer's Will

I Leave:

To my son: Equity in my car; now he'll have to meet the payments.

To my banker: My soul; he's got a mortgage on it anyway.

To my neighbors: My clown suit; he'll need it if he continues to farm as he has in the past.

To FHA: My unpaid bills; they took some real chances on me and I want to do something for them.

To ASCS: My grain bin; I was planning to let them have it next year anyway.

To my farm adviser: 50 bushels of wheat to see if he can hit the high market I never did.

To the SCS people: My farm plan; maybe they can understand it.

To the junk dealer: My machinery; he's had his eye on it for years.

To my undertaker: A special request; six implement and fertilizer dealers for pall bearers, please. They're used to carrying me.

To the weatherman: Rain, sleet and snow for the funeral, please. No sense having nice weather now.

To the grave digger: Don't bother. The hole I'm in should be big enough.

To the monument maker: Set up a jig for the epitaph... Here lies a farmer who has now probably assumed all his obligations."

Hosea 14:7

The prophet Hosea describes the people of Israel returning to the Lord in this beautiful passage from Scripture. No matter how far Israel strayed from the path of righteousness, God's love never waned; His love continued to offer the promise of a bountiful new life for His people. That love is waiting for you, too. If you would like to rejoice in life in the Lord, we invite you to attend services in the church of your choice this Sunday.

Tick Bites Can Cause Arthritis

Warm weather signals the start of tick season in many areas of the country, including Texas. According to the Arthritis Foundation, the bite of a certain type of tick can also pass along Lyme disease.

"Lyme disease can cause a number of health problems, including arthritis or problems with the nervous system, that can be prevented if people recognize symptoms early and see their doctor," said Judi Moulton of the Arthritis Foundation's Northwest Texas Chapter.

Most people do not spot or remember a tick bite because the tick is so small. People are more likely to spot early symptoms of Lyme disease including a flu-like illness and a skin rash. The rash can appear from three days to as long as a month after the bite and often looks like an expanding red ring with a clear center.

Early treatment of Lyme disease with antibiotics can prevent more serious medical problems, said Moulton. If left untreated, Lyme disease can cause problems with the nervous system, heart, and produce a disabling type of arthritis in the knees.

These problems can occur months to years after the tick bite and often are confused with other diseases, such as osteoarthritis in the knees. Treatment is more difficult and less successful if Lyme disease is not recognized until these later stages.

Ms. Moulton explained that Lyme disease can also affect pets and farm animals. Symptoms in animals can often be the first clue that infected ticks are in the area.

There are precautions people can take to avoid tick bites. These include wearing protective clothing, checking for ticks when returning from the outdoors, and clearing your yard of brush and other attractions for ticks.

A free brochure on Lyme disease is available from the Arthritis Foundation by writing: 3145 McCart, Fort Worth, TX 76110 or by calling (817) 926-7733 or outside Fort Worth call: 1-800-283-7733.

DPS Recruiting Upcoming

Recruiting efforts by the Texas Department of Public Safety are picking up for the next trooper-trainee school, scheduled to begin on September 12, 1989.

"Our field recruitment personnel are informing interested persons about the professional and dependable nature of this state agency," according to Colonel Joe Milner, Department of Public Safety Director. "The Department of Public Safety has a national reputation of excellence in law enforcement, and we're looking for people who will help us maintain this tradition."

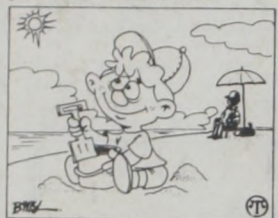

More than one hundred applicants will be accepted for the 22-week trooper education program at the Department of Public Safety Academy in Austin. A major part of the department's recruiting goal is minority and female hiring.

"We earnestly seek qualified minority persons for employment with the Department of Public Safety," Colonel Milner pointed out. "And, as in the past, we will do our best to start the recruit class with at least 40 percent minority enrollment."

Milner also indicated that his Sun Savvy

Dr. Frank Akin is an expert on the sun's effects on the skin. Here, he answers some frequently asked questions on sun care and protection in the sun.

Q. I have a very fair skinned little boy. How can I keep him protected this summer?

A. Try to limit his sun exposure during the peak hours of 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and always apply sunscreens when he is outdoors. Be sure to protect sun-sensitive areas such as the face, ears, lips, neck and arms. You may want to use a line of products specially developed for children such as Water Babies. In case your youngster does get burned, try the Water Babies Sunburn Relief Mist. It comes in a pump spray so you won't have to touch his sensitive skin.

agency offers competitive salaries. "The Texas Legislature recently authorized a five percent increase in salaries for state employees, including the commissioned and non-commissioned personnel of the DPS. This action will increase the pay for trooper-trainees to $1,622 per month.

The deadline for submitting an application for the next trooper-trainee school is Friday, July 28, 1989. Colonel Milner requested that interested persons should contact their local DPS Trooper or any DPS Office during normal business hours.

During the era of the Texas Republic, land promoters advertised it was cheaper to raise a cow in Texas than a chicken. It was... because of the hardy characteristics of the Texas Longhorn. She needed no government trapper to guard her calf from wolves.

In times of drought, she could walk many miles from water to grass. If there was no grass, she could eat brush and prickly pear. The Texas Longhorn became the foundation of the American cattle industry and there may never be another animal which has had a greater influence on the culture and economy of a people.
