COTTON HARVESTING EFFICIENCY SET FOR QUITAQUE NEXT WEEK

A meeting on harvesting cotton for maximum efficiency and quality preservation is slated in Briscoe County on Monday, September 23, announces County Agricultural Agent Ken Cook.

The meeting will be held at the Bank Community Room in Quitaque beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Speaker at the meeting will be Dr. Robert Metzger, area agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Proper use of harvest-aid chemicals will be discussed with special emphasis on correct timing of application. Timing is important with respect to maturity of cotton and weather conditions. Other topics to be covered will include proper harvesting techniques for maximum preservation of lint and seed quality.

Quality preservation is a vital step in the overall cotton production picture so proper harvesting of the crop is most important.

The session will last about one and one-half hours, says Cook, and all cotton growers, ginners and others interested in the cotton industry are encouraged to attend.

This is one of a series of 18 similar meetings which are being held through the South Plains to provide the latest, up-to-date information on cotton harvesting with reference to the upcoming season.

Turks Lose to Happy Silverton Is Next Foe

The Turkey Turks took on a very fine team in the form of the Happy Cowboys last Friday night at Turkey and came out on the short end of a 54 - 6 score. However the game was not as one-sided as the score might indicate, for the lighter, inexperienced Turks gave the Cowboys just all they could handle for almost a half, and trailed 24 - 6 at the intermission.

The Cowboys scored in the first quarter after intercepting a Turk pass on their own 30 and carrying it to the Happy 28 before being hauled down from behind. Four plays later Zeke Frost, a very fine football player, scored from the four yard line. He also carried the ball over for a 2-point conversion play to make the score 8 - 0. That was all the scoring in the first quarter.

The Turks drove to the Happy 25 yard line early in the second quarter only to lose it on a fumble. However, the Cowboys gave it back to Turkey just three plays later on the Turk 46.

After picking up 3 yards over the middle, Doyle Lee Williams

BILL HELMS GETS A RATTLESNAKE

The Editors called the Bill Helms for news this week and got a rattlesnake story from Bill. It seems this rattlesnake ran from under the tractor. He had learned from the Indians to get their attention with something to make them coil. He threw his $15.00 Stetson hat and the snake coiled, then struck the hat. He says the snake coiled, then struck the hat. He says the rattlesnakes usually wait five or ten minutes to strike again, but this one coiled and struck again almost immediately. Bill got a claw hammer and between throwing the hat and his hammer, he beat the snake to death. (That's getting too close for this editor.) He said there was snake poison all over his hat, and he went bareheaded the rest of the day, and burned the hat.

brought the Turk fans to their feet by breaking loose over the middle of the line on what looked like a touchdown scamper, only to be brought down on the two yard line. One play netted a half yard, then Russell Barnhill hauled it over for a touchdown on the quarterback keeper. The try for extra point was no good and the Turks were back in the ball game 8 - 6.

Frost outran everyone on a 46 yard touchdown jaunt, then carried over for the 2 points to make the score 16 - 6. Before the half was over the Cowboys added 8 more points to make it 24 - 6. The Turks put on a

The Turks lost two good scoring opportunities during the first half.

Following the second half kickoff, the Turks lost the ball on a fumble on the Turkey 41 yard line and the Cowboys promptly turned this mistake into another touchdown, with Ramos carrying over from the two yard line and Culp carrying over for the 2-point conversion.

Claud Robison returned the Cowboy kickoff out to the 29 yard line as the third period ended with Happy out in front 32-6. By this time the bigger Happy crew but the Turks pretty well worn down and tacked three more TDs on the scoreboard before the game was over.

The Turks never quit trying, however, giving it all they had until the final whistle.

The Turks made quite a few mistakes but they also looked pretty good at times, moving the ball pretty good against the heavier more experienced Cowboys. Coach Coker reported that his crew took the loss pretty hard, which means they really want to win, and play desire means a great deal on the gridiron and this Turk crew is going to improve with every game and is going to win some battles.

Setliff, Lane, Carlisle, Barnhill, Robison, and Williams turned in good performances for the Turks.

Turkey takes on another big tough team this week when the drive up to Silverton to play the Owls, who were upset winners over well-rated White Deer last Friday. Silverton fans are quite excited over prospects for their team this fall. So the Turks have their work cut out for them again this week but they will be ready for the Owls and fans will be glad to see the Turk fans are urged to drive over to Silverton Friday night and root for the Turks for your presence and support will really help. See you there!

Next week the Turks will be a home against the Lefors Pirates.

PANHANDLE AREA TO GET AOUDAD PERMIT INCREASE

San Angelo — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will issue 93 aoudad permits for the Palo Duro Canyon area, 9 more than last year.

The aoudad or Barbary sheep, a native of the Atlas Mountains of Africa, is considered a difficult animal to hunt, due to its choice of habitat.

The animals were released experimentally by the Department several years ago, and the herds have increased to an estimated population of some 650 animals.

Project leader Richard DeArment said the 84 permits issued during the 1967 season resulted in a harvest of only 21 animals.

"The species has adapted well in the most rugged terrain, says DeArment, "and the only way to bag one of the 200 pound - plus sheep is the hard way; there are no easy trophies."

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Shico and Mrs. Stella Wells spent from Sunday until Tuesday with Mrs. W. J. Carter last week. The longhorn almost became extinct after being replaced as beef producers by other breeds around 1900. However, the longhorn remains a living symbol of the Old West.

Moving Day For Rio Grande

Putting the Rio Grande river back where it belongs would appear to most people to be much too formidable a task to undertake. But not for Mexico Compania Constructora S. A., a leading Mexican contractor headquartered in Mexico City.

With a fleet of six giant Allis-Chalmers earthmovers, the contractor has done just that — digging a new channel in the right place to put the river back.

Nearly one million cubic yards of moist, heavy sand, deposited over the decades by the Rio Grande river (Or Rio Bravo, in Mexico), are being moved in the process of forming the new Adolfo Lopez Mateos Canal, which will slice between Juarez, Mexico, and El Paso, Texas. By fall, the contractor hopes to be ready to switch the Rio Grande into the new canal, where, as the international boundary between Mexico and the United States, it properly should be.

For more than a century, Ciudad Juarez and El Paso have been in this precarious position, situated on opposite sides of the border at the extreme northwestern tip of Texas where the Rio Grande snakes its way down from New Mexico. Since 1853, the two cities watched the river gouge out three completely different channels.

Result: by 1962 the meandering stream had bequeathed some 400 acres of land, called "El Chamizal," to El Paso. But in this age of earthmoving behemoths, even intangible things like international boundaries can be set aright, especially between friendly, understanding neighbors like Mexico and the United States.

Map locates new channel (broken line) excavated for construction of the Adolfo Lopez Mateos Canal.

Loaded to the gills and lined up Indian file, this fleet of Allis-Chalmers earthmovers tote away more than 25 tons of sand and dirt from the new river bottom forming the relocated channel of the Rio Grande.

At an official ceremony last October, President Diaz Ordaz of Mexico accepted return of the land from President Johnson in Juarez, marked by cheering crowds and fluttering blizzards of confetti.

Ingeniero Frederico Schroeder, project engineer for the contractor, had already brought in his crew and heavy equipment to move more than a million tons of sand to relocate the Rio Grande. The project has been the scene of intense activity, eight hours or more a day and six days a week.

Goal of the project — diverting the water of the Rio Grande, or Rio Bravo as it is known south of the border, to mark the new boundary — is a matter of moving earth and moving it fast. The earthmovers provide an impressive sight coming down the excavation slope Indian file, kicking up tons of dust as they approach the new Paso del Norte bridge still lined up perfectly despite their speed and the rough terrain. They disappear under the bridge and then reappear at the other end on their way to pick up yet another load.

Other crews stream out of the batch plant nearby to handle the 130,000 cubic yards of concrete lining for the canal.

A bird's-eye view clearly reveals the strip marking the excavation for the new canal comprising El Chamizal, just west of Cordova Island. Visible, too, is the gap formed by houses torn down in the previous housing project. But even more apparent is the fact that the new border is a gigantic step forward, due in large measure to the efforts of the industrious crews working on the project under the leadership of Ing. Schroeder.

BIBLE DISTRIBUTION PROGRAM EVOKES FAVORABLE RESPONSE

Dallas, Tex. — Officials of the Baptist General Convention of Texas here are optimistic for the success of the Bible Distribution campaign currently under way. Initial reports from Dallas, Fort Worth, Brownville and Baptist hospitals and colleges scattered throughout the state have been favorable.

Under the leadership of BGCT Executive Secretary Dr. T. A. Patterson, Texas Baptists plan to order more than one million copies of "Good News for Modern Man" and its Spanish language counterpart "Dios Llega al Hombre" for state-wide distribution.

The best-selling American Bible Society version of the New Testament is available to all Southern Baptist churches and associations at a special rate of 20 cents per copy when ordered in lots of 50 books. The order deadline is Oct. 10.

"Private individuals and churches are not only ordering copies for their own use, but are planning gifts of several thousand copies to hospitals, missions, colleges and the Texas Baptist Rio Grande River Ministry. We encourage all interested citizen, civic groups or churches to join us in this effort to make God's word accessible to all Texans," Dr. Patterson said.

SOCIAL SECURITY NOTES

A youth injured in an automobile accident in 1966 and facing a long period of recuperation was not surprised to find that he had not worked for social security long enough to qualify for disability benefits.

A change included in the 1967 amendments, however, reduces the amount of work credit needed to qualify for disability benefits. Today the worker and his family are collecting nearly $2,800 a year, based on his average pay of $3,500 before he became disabled.

This and other examples are included in a new social security booklet announced this week by Travis C. Briggs, the social security district manager in Amarillo, Texas. The booklet, "Social Security for Young Families," tells in detail how social security operates for the young worker.

"A surprising number of people still think of social security as primarily a retirement plan," Briggs said in announcing the booklet. "Actually, over the years, social security has evolved into a comprehensive program of income maintenance and financial security for all ages."

Briggs noted, of the 24 million persons currently receiving social security benefits — some 2.2 million are disabled workers and their dependents, and about 3.4 million persons are widows and children of deceased workers receiving survivors benefits. The booklet explains how a young worker builds up survivors and disability protection, what it can mean to a family, and how to make an application should it become necessary. Also included is information on how to check your social security account and the financing of social security.

The booklet is especially important since the 1967 amendments include a number of changes of particular importance to young workers and their dependents, Briggs said. Copies of this booklet may be obtained free of charge from the social security office at 1006 Adams, Amarillo, Texas 79101.

BRISCOE COUNTY From The County Agent's Desk

Losses from handling are stealing profits from the Texas Livestock industry, according to County Agent Ken Cook.

These losses include killed, crippled, and bruised animals, transit shrinkage and loss of bloom.

Reduction of shipping handling losses can be achieved by avoiding the use of clubs, whips and other bruise - causing persuaders. Use canvas slappers, and use them sparingly. Eliminate protruding nails, bolts and broken boards in trucks, pens and chutes. Remove stumps, posts and machinery that will cause bruises in feedlots and in corral areas.

Haulers should bed the truck properly. Also, have trucking equipment in good order. Loading should be done slowly and carefully as rough handling is an expensive way to speed up loading and unloading.

Protecting animals from bad weather, providing proper ventilation and frequent checking of the load are all good practices that may help reduce losses.

By keeping these suggestions in mind, shippers can reduce their handling losses and this will, in turn, insure an increase in livestock profits.

All Briscoe County 4 - H members and prospective new members should contact the county extension office as soon as possible if they are going to feed pigs this year. The deadline for buying pigs is growing near, and they will need to be picked up as soon as possible.

Shirttail Sermon

A fellow lived in Tennessee who made his living by catching rattlesnakes. He caught one with 14 rattles and put it in a box with a glass top. One day when he was playing wood his little 5 year-old boy, Jim, took the lid off and the rattler wriggled through and struck him on the cheek. He ran to his father and said, "The rattler has bit me." The father ran and chopped the rattler to pieces, and with his jack-knife he cut a chunk from the boy's cheek and then sucked and sucked at the wound to draw out the poison. He looked at little Jim watched the pupils of his eyes dilate and watched him swell to three times his normal size, watched his lips become parched and cracked and his eyes roll and little Jim gasped and died.

The father took him in his arms, carried him over to the side of the rattler, got on his knees and said: "Oh, God, I would not give little Jim for all the rattlers that ever crawled over the Blue Ridge Mountains."

Perhaps a rattlesnake will never be kept at your home, but what of some of the little vices and sins kept around your home and which you lead your family to participate in. One day the ugly head of sin will strike at your son or lovely daughter and leave its mark on them. Decide now. Which do you value most? God will help you if you ask Him.

SUGGESTIONS ON SAFE HUNTING LISTED
College Station, Aug. 29 — Safety is the most important factor to remember in the upcoming hunting season, says Wallace Klussmann, Extension wildlife conservation specialist at Texas A&M University. Nearly all hunting accidents could be prevented if gun safety rules are followed.

It's the "over - anxious" hunter who endangers the lives of fellow hunters and causes needless damage to wildlife. Approximately two - thirds of all hunting accidents are caused by humans in the line of fire, humans mistaken for animals and hunters not using the safety catch on their guns.

Hunting only in season and respecting the bag limits are rules of good hunting sportsmanship, says the specialist. Also never throw away a lighted cigarette or leave a burning campfire, since either can start a destructive grass or forest fire.

Another good rule to remember is to respect the rights of others and to obtain permission before going onto another's property, says Klussmann. Treat all property as if it were your own and don't litter the countryside.

One of the most important rules, but one that is often neglected, is to handle every gun as if it were loaded. Never carry a loaded weapon in an automobile and be sure the action and barrel are clear of any restriction.

In conclusion, always be sure of your target as you would want your fellow hunter to be, says the specialist.

PRAIRIE CHICKEN SEASON TO OPEN IN PANHANDLE

San Angelo — When the two - day Panhandle prairie chicken season opens October 12, hunters will benefit from a chicken population which is a good or better than last year's, according to Jack Parsons, regional wildlife supervisor for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Last year's two - day season, the first in thirty years, involved Hemphill, Lipscomb and Wheeler counties. Five more counties have been added for the 1968 hunt. They are Collingworth, Donley, Gray, Ochiltree and Roberts.

Parsons advises that shotguns only may be used. The bag limit will be two birds per day, with four in possession after the first day's hunt.

Check stations will be set up in the towns of Higgins, Allison, Wheeler, McLean and Booker.

It will be unlawful to possess any prairie chicken, except during the open season, that does not have a tag attached at one of the stations prior to 10 p.m. on the day the bird was harvested.

During the 1967 season, hunters bagged 373 birds in the three counties, and Panhandle Game Management Survey project leader Dick DeArment said that hunters were more successful around milo maize fields.

Each hunter averaged 4.3 hours' hunting time and on an average, the birds weighed one pound six ounces each.

DECLARATION OF ESTIMATED TAX

Individual taxpayers who previously filed declarations of estimated federal income tax for 1968 must now revise their estimates to reflect the new surcharge tax recently enacted into law, Ellis Campbell, Jr., IRS District Director for Northern Texas, said today. He also reminded taxpayers to file Form 1040 ES, declaration of estimated tax, if their federal income tax for 1968 will exceed their withholding by $40 or more.

Mr. Campbell said a new 1040ES worksheet is now being developed to aid taxpayers in computing the amount of revised estimated tax. It will be mailed to taxpayers at the time they are billed for their third quarter installment due September 15. The worksheet will also be available at IRS offices around the first of September.

The new tax law imposes a 10% annual surcharge tax retroactive to April 1 on individual tax returns. This means, Mr. Campbell said, that most taxpayers who file on a calendar year basis will be required to pay a 7½% surcharge on federal income tax covering income received during 1968.

Taxpayers who previously based their 1968 estimate on tax paid during 1967 can no longer use this method after Sept. 15, Mr. Campbell said. The law now requires individuals to use "anticipated income" as the basis for computing estimated tax.

A new Form 1040FY will be sent
