A TRIP TO MEXICO—

LAND OF STRIKING CONTRASTS

On June 23, Lee and Sadie Vardy, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Gilmore, a sister of Lee Vardy and a former teacher in the Turkey Public Schools and Kathy Vardy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Lee Vardy of Lubbock and granddaughter of the Lee Vardys, left for a sixteen day trip to Mexico City, Acapulco and other places of interest in Mexico.

Here is a day-by-day diary of account kept by Sadie Vardy.

Before leaving for our trip we went to Lubbock to the Mexican Consulate Office to secure our visas. Since Kathy was a minor and was born in Germany she had to have her German birth certificate, passport, American Naturalized Citizenship papers and a notarized certificate of permission from both of her parents to leave the country with us. Also Lee changed some of our money into Mexican money so it would be easier to purchase gasoline as Mexico does not honor credit cards for gasoline.

Friday, June 23—Left Turkey at 2:00 p.m. Arrived at Junction in time for dinner and a good night's rest.

Saturday, June 24—Drove to Uvalde, Texas where we stopped to tour the mansion of former Vice-President John N. Garner. We viewed his historical documents, an armchair collection, their formal attire, beautiful furnishings and oil paintings. We were all immensely interested in his collection of over 100 gavels presented to him from different countries and states and made of different woods. This home has been given to the City of Uvalde for a library and museum in a living memorial to his wife, Elsie B. Garner. She was his secretary during his career in public affairs.

Drove on to Laredo for the night, where we purchased our car insurance. We were given a Traveling of the places we wished to visit. This book contained about 150 pages of Regulation and Rules of Travel, maps, mileage charts, money exchange and every city or town, the interesting things to do and see, all the good places to eat, the nice motels, the location of gasoline stations, each town, even places where there were dips or bumps in the road. Directions were given through each city, town or village. As long as we stayed with this book we did not get lost, but if we veered off the beaten path it was too bad. Luckily Mrs. Gilmore is an excellent Spanish linguist so we had no trouble reading the advertisements or making our needs understood. Kathy's mother had bought her several books on Mexican history, etc. so we enjoyed each part of the country more after reading about them and then seeing them.

Sunday, June 25—Went through customs at Nuevo Laredo without any trouble. Smallpox vaccinations are no longer required on entering or leaving Mexico. Kathy's father who is a physician had prepared us with the sorts of medicine we would need if we became ill—also gave us the name and address of a doctor in Mexico City we could contact if needed. Drove to Sabino Hidalgo to Mrs. Webster's Cafe, a favorite tourist stopping place—a distance of 82 miles from Laredo. Ate here and then on to Monterrey, a city of 800,000 population, where we stayed at the Ramada Inn built atop a mountain of marble. This self-contained resort city motel has tennis courts, horses and a magnificent pool set in colonial arcades with famed Saddle Mountain as a backdrop. This place was a delight to Kathy as well as the rest of us. Had breakfast here by the pool side.

Monterrey is the main industrial center of Mexico with a large steel industry, glass factories, cement and textile plants and a large banking center. Monterrey has the largest brewery in Mexico where Carta Blanca and Bohemian beers are made.

The city has five newspapers, four television channels, and twenty radio stations making Monterrey one of the best informed areas of the country.

We used our own car here for sight-seeing. We visited the Bishop's Palace, centuries old standing above a hill with a terrace overlooking the city. It was built for the Bishop's headquarters but was used for many historical events. During the Spanish-American war this site was perfect for the defense against the invading armies. The City Hall is across from the Zaragoza Plaza. We walked through this Plaza and stopped for a Coca-Cola in a Travel Office. The Capitol Building also faces the Plaza. Of particular interest in the Capitol Building are the Spanish style patio and the decorated halls.

Monday, June 26—Here we are at San Luis Potosi (city of gardens). San Luis Potosi is a Quechaword meaning outstanding wealth. This city has a population of 240,000 with many middle-sized industrial plants and a rich mining center. It was here that the Mexican Anthem was written. This city has the only aircraft factory in Mexico. Spent the night here.

Tuesday, June 27—About 45 miles from San Luis Potosi we come to Ranch Santo Domingo owned by the widow of the founder of the fighting bull business so into this gate we turned. The ranch is managed by a son, Javier Labastida, a very able and pleasant young man who received his degree in animal husbandry at Oklahoma University. He speaks perfect English. He was not at the ranch but we were shown around by one of the hired men. The son raises the bulls and his brother in Mexico City handles the sales to the biggest bull rings in Mexico City, Tijuana, Juarez and other places. We saw the ranch buildings, the hacienda, the pretty patio, the little church, the bull pens, the business office and the fabulous gardens and flowers. The others saw the bulls but it was too far for me to walk so I rested on the patio and enjoyed the scenery.

Now on to Queretaro and we were looking for a place to eat and we saw Posada La Mansion advertised so here's where we stopped, for one of our most delightful lunches. It was built from the ruins of a centuries-old granary. "Herr George Ehlers" is the manager and runs one of the loveliest inns of Mexico. In one of the halls of the hotel is a wonderful piece of Mexican handicraft "Tree of Life" decoration. This meal in relaxing atmosphere and tranquility we shall never forget. There was also a 9-hole golf course but Lee didn't take time to enjoy that.

Mexico has three grades of gasoline and you can tell them by the color of the pumps. Yellow is the one we always looked for as it was the Pemex 100-109 grade gasoline—100 octane. At one of these stations Kathy bought a wool rebozo (stole) for 60 pesos or $4.80 in American money. We also visited Santa Maria and saw the cinder women teaching the younger ones to weave these rebozos, belts and hair bands, so the tradition of these rebozos would not disappear.

Arrived in Mexico City about 5:00 p.m. Our hotel reservation was in a four-storied structure in a beautifully landscaped district of Mexico City with fabulous homes. The district was called Polanco, the same name as our hotel on Edgar Allen Poe Street. The hotel had been converted from a hospital. Our rooms consisted of a living room, two large bedrooms and a bath as large as a living room. The hotel had a lovely dining room on the fourth floor with large windows from where we could view the very beautiful city. We found all employees of the hotel gracious and kind. We had good food and good service in the dining room.

"Okay, we've landed, now let's get out and look at this old moon!"
 My two small boys are at it again. Today, the old gray stump is a spaceship. Tomorrow it may be a fort or a castle. More practically, at lunchtime it's a picnic table.
 Right now the side yard is my sons' world. Behind a picket fence, they roam the seas and sky in imagination, the sound of their voices reassuring me of their safety.
 It won't always be this way. Someday, they'll leave the back yard forever, swashbuckling through a world of schools and camps, friends and parties.
 How strange it will be—not to guide their every footstep. Where am I to get the courage? Fortunately, I can answer my own question. I have my church, and so do my boys. As a source of great goodness, it will guide them all their days.

HOME NOTES

by Dorothy Powell

Briscoe County

Home Demonstration Agent

Fondue is the newest food craze. It's fun and nourishing. Cheese fondue means easy, casual entertaining. Serve unusual "dippers" such as raw fruits—apples, pears and pineapple—and favorite raw vegetables — carrots, green peppers, and cauliflower flowerettes.

For best flavor use fluid milk and cream within three to five days and cultured products within two or three days, says the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Unopened jars of sterilized cream can be kept for several months in the refrigerator. After opening, use within 10 days. Pressurized cans of whipped cream may be kept for several weeks.

On a diet? Dairy foods are a dieter's most valuable helpers. Milk is a leading source of body-building calcium and protein, riboflavin and vitamin A. Low-calorie dairy food dishes stick to your ribs and let you stick to your diet. Milk and other dairy products are especially in the spotlight now, since June was National Dairy Month.
