Hall County Election Called For Vote On Hospital District

Hall County citizens will be going to the polls again, August 8th, to decide upon the creation of a Hall County Hospital District, voting on exactly the same proposal as was passed in an August 1986 election.

The necessity of re-voting upon the creation of a Hall County Hospital District, came to light when the Texas Constitution was examined by the clerks of the respective House and Senate preparing for special legislation authorizing the election of a board of directors for the Hall County Hospital District.

Asst. Attorney General Dwight Martin had advised County officials they could create a district under Article 4494 (p), which the County used in calling the first election.

Later it was discovered that this Article of the Texas Constitution only applies to counties with more population than is found in Hall County.

"Since the district was created under an incorrect and non-applicable statute, the solution is to get a special law passed by the Legislature," the Asst. Attorney General advises.

Thanks to the work of State Representative Foster Whaley and State Senator Bill Sarpalius, H.B. No. 2510 has passed both the Houses of the legislature and is being signed into law.

Hall County Commissioners meeting as a Hospital Board Tuesday evening, June 9th, called for an election for the second Saturday in August 1987, which is August 8th, for county voters to decide upon the Hall County Hospital District.

Hall County Judge, James Chappell has a copy of H.B. 2510 which authorizes the creation of the Hospital District. One section of the new law, Section 9.20, validates all that has gone on in the past by the hospital board in references to contracts, taxes voted for and collected, and all contracts are validated in all respects.

The new law set tax rate not to exceed 20 cents on each $100 valuation of all taxable property in the district. The District may not levy taxes to pay the principal of or interest on revenue bonds issued under the Act.

Judge Chappell explained the act does not prohibit the Hospital District from assuming bonded indebtedness, but it can not use tax money to pay off bonded indebtedness. "The Hospital District would have to retire these bonds using money collected from patients or other sources," he explained.

Now, if voters approve the creation of the Hall County Hospital District, which last August carried by a rather large majority, then in May 1988, an election will be held to elect five (5) directors, all running at large, and the top three vote getters will have two-year terms and the 4th and 5th vote getters have one-year terms. The five elected directors would then vote to see which one serves as president and who would be vice president of the hospital board. Also a secretary would be elected. The secretary does not have to be an elected board member, but a board member could serve as the secretary of the board if so elected.

Hospital board elections will be held annually, just like city and school elections are held, with all candidates running at-large.

H.B. No. 2510 is described as a law relating to the creation, administration, powers, duties, operation and financing of Hall County Hospital District. As soon as the Secretary of State duly records the new laws, copies will be available locally for inspection by interested citizens.

Judge Chappell summarized the situation in this way, "we followed the advice of the Attorney General's office in calling the first election, and the Attorney General notified us they had made a mistake and the first election could not be valid since it was called under Article 4494 (p).

"Now that we have a law passed by the legislature authorizing the calling of the creation of Hall County hospital District, H.B. No. 2510, this election is being called under this Bill," he explained.

If voters approve the creation by a simple majority, then the Hall County Commissioners will continue to serve as a hospital board until such time (May 1988) that a five-member hospital board is elected by county voters.

Appraisal Review Board To Hear Taxpayer Protests July 8

Notices of Appraised Value were mailed this week to all persons whose property value has increased $1,000.00 or more over last years value, and/or have new property on the 1987 appraisal roll for the first time, according to Carlye Fleming, Chief Appraiser. Most of the notices pertain to personal property, but a few concern real property (real estate, land, etc.)

Taxpayers whose values have increased, as stated above, must be notified at least 20 days before the Appraisal Review Board meets. The A.R.B. is a three-member committee appointed to hear the protests of taxpayers who disagree with the appraisal given their property.

Although all taxpayers have the right to appear before the A.R.B., Carlye said she feels most problems can be solved if taxpayers first visit with the appraisal district staff as they can answer most questions that a taxpayer may have concerning how the appraisal figure was determined.

HOWEVER, taxpayers who want to protest before the A.R.B. must file a written protest at the appraisal district office and must have evidence to support their claim, according to state property tax law. The A.R.B. will meet at the courthouse to hear protests July 8.

For more information, the State Property Tax Board has prepared a booklet titled, "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, and Responsibilities", which is available at the appraisal district office.

"Looking Back"

By Curtis Tunnell

Looking back about sixty three years ago and living out on the farm. People would look forward for the fall of the year and the first blue norther, as there was no radios or television to give the weather reports, you had to look to the North and give your own weather report. This meant it was hog killing time. The average family would usually kill around six to eight fat hogs which would give the family their hog lard to be put up in five gallon cans. Their sausage was put in sacks just like sausage is put in plastic today. The women folks made the sack: out of cloth and stuffed them full of sausage, these could be hung from the rafters in the smokehouse. The hams, shoulders and sides of bacon were put a large box, then you put a layer of salt, then meat and continue this until you have the box full. This would keep the meat all winter, but come spring you had to prize the meat out from under the caked salt and scald it to get the salt off, then put liquid smoke on it, wrap in cloth and hang in the smokehouse. If you had a fat yearling it could be butchered then cut in quarters, you would climb the windmill tower and hang the beef twenty feet or more from the ground, this would keep it until it was all used up. The only thing was someone had to climb the tower and cut off a piece of beef.

For something sweet we would first cut off some old broom handles and head for the cane patch and prepare the cane to be taken to the syrup mill. This we did by stripping all the leaves off the stalks of cane, then cut it down with large knives and load it on a wagon and head for the syrup mill with gallon buckets to put the syrup in. The mill was pulled by one mule that traveled in a circle day after day.

Each family had about one hundred laying hens to furnish the eggs and to raise small chickens for fryers. When the corn was ready to gather we would gather, shuck and shell all by hand, then go to the corn mill and have it ground into corn meal. This gave you meal to make cornbread. It took three to four cows to furnish plenty of milk and butter for the family.

The clinic doctor gave the man who limped into his office a huge pill and then turned to another patient. The first man got a glass of water and swallowed the pill.
 "Now," the doctor said, turning back to him, "Let's drop the pill in this bucket and soak that foot of yours."

One mother of a boy in college advised another, "The surest way to get your son to write home is to send him a letter saying, 'Here's $50. Spend it any way you like.'"

 "Yes, indeed," came the reply. "Just forget to enclose the money."

An office manager asked his employee why he was late for work again. "It's not my fault," the man said. "It's that woman across the street. She's so particular that when she goes skiing she wears a complete ski outfit; when she goes jogging she wears jogging clothes; when she leaves for work she wears a business suit."

"So what?" asked the office manager.
 "Well, today was her birthday!"

Watch For Kids Out of School

School's out and children are laughing and playing everywhere. Major V. J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, wants to remind you that with the Texas schools letting out our highway system will be loaded with people taking their vacations and going to their favorite place of recreation.

Major Cawthon stated, "We the members of the Texas Department of Public Safety, want to remind you that with the extra traffic on the roadways there will also be extra hazards and dangers. Kids get tired on long trips and you need to take some games to keep them occupied. Take frequent breaks during your trip to get out and stretch your legs and shake the cobwebs from your head. Make sure you stay wide awake and alert on your trip."

He also reminded us that with our city driving we need to be especially watchful for our children. "With the excitement of playing, children seem to forget the rules of safety and sometimes dart into the street in pursuit of a misguiding toy or ball. While driving our residential areas be especially watchful for our smaller children," he said.

"We also want to remind you to protect everyone in your vehicle by using your safety belts. We want everyone to have a nice safe summer vacation and enjoy school being out," advised major Cawthon.

Always believe everything you read; Surely somebody wouldn't have gone to the trouble of writing it down if it wasn't true!

Finally discovered perpetual motion...stayed in a motel room which had a room above it!

The reason they are called Government Bureaus is that's where the taxpayers shirt is kept!

Caprock Pete says the thing he wants most out of his new car is his teenage son!

Middle age is when you are sitting at home on Saturday night and the phone rings and you hope it isn't for you!

The most inflammable kind of wood is a chip on your shoulder!

It's a good thing that wheels were invented before the automobile, otherwise, can you imagine that terrible screeching!

Train a child in the way he should go, and when he is grown he'll tell you how wrong you were!

By the time you learn to handle your wife, if ever, then the kids are doing it!

Isn't it funny that when a person says they are all tired out, the first thing a Doctor looks at is their tongue!

Always put aside a little each week for vacation and you'll save enough to have the roof fixed the next rainstorm that comes along!

If you don't think these how-to-get-rich books will help you get rich, just ask the man who wrote it!

Kids just love two-dollar bills...they think that the picture shows Thomas Jefferson applying for Federal matching funds!

Every husband should have a mind of his own so he can figure out how he would have handled it if he had anything to say about it!

If it weren't for the optimist, the pessimist would never know how happy he isn't!

Suspicion is trying to find out what you will wish later that you had never known about!

The same kids who now drive real fast by the schoolhouse were the ones who went so slow when they were going thru it!

If you are average, you are a guy who thinks things over very clearly about ten minutes after you've already done it!

If you can't think women are explosive... try dropping one!

Middle age is that time of life when your clothes don't fit, and it's you who needs an alteration!

In their early years, the boys seem to have a higher IQ than girls, but at age 16, it's neck and neck!

That's -30- for this time, remember, if you want to recapture your youth...cut off his allowance!

Do You Remember?

From the Files of the Turkey Enterprise June 19, 1947

City Secretary Garland Coker states that quite a few have not yet paid their 1947 dues for cemetery upkeep and that money will be badly needed before the summer is over.

There is lots of work to be done at the cemetery, more than usual because of all the rain we've had, and funds now available will not be sufficient to carry through the summer program.

Wheat cutting is hitting its stride in Briscoe and Hall counties with elevator crews at Quitaque and Turkey working as nearly around the clock as facilities will permit.

35th Class Reunion Held For Turkey's Class of '52

The Turkey seniors of 1952 held their 35th class reunion on Saturday, June 13th, in the Senior Citizens Room at the Turkey Bob Wills Center.

All the members who went on the senior trip and were also here 5 years ago for the 30th Class reunion, were present for this reunion. This is quite unusual.

On their senior trip, the class toured Louisiana, with their destination being New Orleans. They traveled in two cars, one driven by a room mother, Donae Browning, and the other by their sponsor, U. F. Coker and his wife, Ann.

Packaging People

Know why we build skyscrapers? In order to have many more people working in a limited area. We package people vertically!

Among the skyscrapers our photographer has discovered a church. It too has a vertical element — a steeple pointing heavenward.

Church architecture with its traditional spires expresses our beliefs. People today are packaged too tightly. Pressure, custom, conformity crowd in upon our souls. Christ teaches that every person is important — each one of us is loved by our Lord.

As we worship God each week side by side, our beliefs point us heavenward.

OF NUTRITION

FOOD LABELS: WHAT TO LOOK FOR

Did you know not all vegetable oils are low in saturated fats? Some foods that have vegetable oil listed on their label contain highly saturated tropical fats such as palm and coconut oil.

Health conscious consumers read labels and look for products made with oils that are low in saturated fat.

The American Soybean Association recently commissioned a supermarket survey that uncovered 1155 foods containing fats and oils. More than half the product labels listed fats and oils in a confusing "and/or" approach such as, "contains one or more of the following." That means you may not know exactly which oils are in the product.

For a more healthy diet, you may want to look for products that contain a single vegetable oil only. In a consumer survey, soybean oil was favored as a light, nutritious oil that is low in saturated fat and has no cholesterol. Research has shown a diet low in saturated fat helps decrease serum cholesterol and lowers the risk of heart disease.

For more information about soybean oil and your health send a self addressed, stamped envelope to Fat Fighter, American Soybean Association, Box 27300, St. Louis, MO 63141.

ALLERGY UPDATE

Living With Your Sensitivities

Man's best friend can be one of his eye's worst enemies. Dander, minute scales from the hair or skin of dogs and other pets, can trigger an allergic response in susceptible individuals. A similar reaction can be elicited from those sensitive to pollen, dust and mold spores. Regardless of the cause, the results are the same thing: itching, tearing, burning, red eyes, among other symptoms. Medical experts refer to this eye condition as allergic conjunctivitis, commonly known as red eye. Avoiding the allergic causes of red eye may be no simple task. Allergies may take years to surface in some individuals, and the pet who has become part of the family may have to be let go if another member becomes allergic to it. Other individuals susceptible to pollen may have to give up outdoor activities during certain times of the year, while some must totally avoid certain environments, such as dust- or smoke-filled rooms.

If getting rid of the family pet or foregoing a trip outdoors is too drastic a measure, there are alternatives. Medication is available that can lessen an individual's sensitivity to certain allergens. Potential pet owners might do well to investigate those breeds of animals, such as poodles, which do not affect most allergy sufferers.

During periods of peak pollen counts, those who suffer from allergies are advised to use their home and auto air conditioners and keep their windows closed. Those sensitive to dust can avoid household furnishings that raise dust, such as draperies and cloth upholstered furniture. The surroundings should be dusted with a damp cloth frequently, to avoid much dust accumulation, and damp-mopping is recommended over sweeping.

Red eye may flair up from time to time despite constant vigilance. Relief is available in the form of over-the-counter eye drops. The latest, OcuClear® from Schering Corporation, soothes, clears and keeps the red out better and three times longer than leading brands.

Along with eye drops and allergy medications, sensitive individuals can find relief.

Joseph Priestley not only discovered oxygen in 1774, he also discovered the way to make soda water.

Build Your Own Place In The Sun

Do you think you could build your own sunroom in one day? Don't scoff. It can be done.

Sunrooms are among this decade's hottest home improvement features. And, their popularity continues growing in established neighborhoods, as well as in new developments.

The reason for that popularity is their many uses. A glass-enclosed sunroom creates new, year-round living space that can be enjoyed as a recreation room, a sun-drenched breakfast room, or a studio. Some homeowners add flowers and plants for an all-season garden room. Many use it as a spa whirlpool enclosure.

Although do-it-yourself sunrooms have been available for some time, most homeowners have opted for dealer- or builder-installed units. Knowing most DIY sunrooms consisted of thousands of nuts, bolts, extrusions, gaskets, and countless pieces of glass was enough to make homeowners reluctant or downright fearful. And construction typically took weeks or even months. But things have changed.

A new development in do-it-yourself sunrooms may encourage more homeowners to build their own sunrooms. The Sunspot™ room, specifically created for consumer installation, sheds new light on sunroom construction.

Utilizing a modular concept, it is designed with interlocking panels that two people can assemble in one day, using only a few simple hand tools. All components are designed to make assembly quick and easy, even for the inexperienced homeowner. Construction is further simplified with an instructional manual and videotape. In only 12 hours, homeowners can enjoy a new source of comfort and pride, while enhancing the value of their homes.

To assure years of comfort, a vitally important choice is correct glazing. Tempered safety glass (like sliding patio doors) is a must because it's shatter resistant. Double-insulated glass conserves heat, but in warm climates, single pane glazing is usually adequate.

As with glazing, climate factors will dictate choice of clear, bronze tint, or Low E (emissivity) glass. With clear glass, the sunroom will warm up quickly during the day, but lose heat at night.

Low-E is a special coating that protects against heat loss. For warmer regions, bronze glass is highly recommended because it reflects much of the sunlight, thereby reducing daytime heat gain.

Location is another important consideration. When facing south, a sunroom receives maximum sun exposure. For the morning sun, an east or southeast exposure is best. A west or southwest exposure will capture the afternoon sun.

Before construction begins, however, a sunroom must have a proper foundation. This usually requires a concrete slab with footings extending below the frost line.

This can be done by the homeowner or a licensed builder or concrete contractor. Also be sure to obtain a building permit so that all local building code requirements are met.

Most sunrooms have options such as vented windows, slider or screen door, operable roof panel, ventilating fan, or internal electrical wiring, which must be ordered with the sunroom.

Sunrooms can also be "dressed up" with mini-blinds or quilted window shades in a variety of colors. Besides color, such window treatments also add insulation and shade. However, if a sunroom is built near a leaf-bearing tree, nature will provide the shade.

A sunroom offers many choices for the homeowner who wants to increase his living space in an economical, yet gracious style.

To learn how to build your own place in the sun, write for your free brochure, "More Than a Room," from ODJ Incorporated, 215 E. Roosevelt Avenue, Zeeland, MI 49464.

THEN and NOW!

Mary Jones walked barefoot 28 miles to buy a Bible.

Here's news about the 1800s and how a young girl's love of the Bible inspired the formation of Bible Societies around the world.

Then: Mary Jones was a young woman who lived in Wales around 1790. Mary longed for a Bible of her own and for six years she worked hard at odd jobs to save money. One day she set off by foot to a town 28 miles away to buy a Bible. She even went barefoot so her shoes would be clean when she got there. The Reverend Thomas Charles, the only supplier of Welsh Bibles in that area was completely out of stock. However, when he saw Mary's disappointment he gave her one of his own treasured Bibles.

Those who heard her story realized there were many people in the world like Mary Jones, and the British and Foreign Bible Society was formed in 1804 to meet their needs. The American Bible Society followed in 1816.

Now: Bible Societies prepare Scriptures in many languages and forms such as Braille for the blind and simple English versions for those just learning to read. In 1986 the American Bible Society distributed more than 100 million Scriptures in 81 languages. To do so it relied on 70,000 volunteers around the country, dedicated men and women who make sure their friends and neighbors have the Scriptures they need. For free brochures on how you can help share God's Word in your community, even if you have no experience, write: American Bible Society, Dept. RP3, 1865 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10023.

The largest eyes of all land animals are those of the horse and ostrich—about one and a half times the size of the human eyes.

When Souls Communicate

When souls communicate — it's like prayer. There may never be a word spoken . . . just a sigh, a wish, a hope, a longing. A child trying to express some simple feeling to its Mother. Mother trying to express her devotion to her child.

All prayer is founded on the idea that God loves us and cares about the things that affect us. Jesus taught us to pray "Our Father . . ." He wanted men to see God's love on the parental level.

When you feel the need to pray, reach out with your heart to God. You may not be able to find words. Yet He hears, He understands those deep feelings we find hard to express.

In church our efforts to communicate with Him are strengthened by the fact that many others are praying with us. They need Him just as much as we do. And we need their longings, their hopes and wishes and feelings to help us express our own. Join us in prayer at your local church or synagogue.

Baby Shower Honors Wheeler's New Daughter

Florene Cobb and Ruth Hooks spent the weekend in Amarillo visiting with Florene's son Melvin Cobb.

Bo Morrison, Danny and Barbara Mayfield played in a "night light" golf tournament Friday, June 12, at Clarendon Country Club. Tee-off time for the nine-hole scramble began at 10:00 p.m. Golfers attempted (and I mean attempted) to hit glow-in-the-dark golf balls down a very dark fairway, lit only by glowing markers. The flags on the green were also lit by glow sticks.

This tournament caused quite a disturbance with the local residents and law officers of Donley County. Vehicles were lined up on the road by the golf course with people wondering where all the green meteorites were falling from, or if the golfers chasing them had just been turned out of the nut house and didn't know you can't play golf at night. (By the scores that were turned in, golfers would have had better luck chasing meteorites.)

Mrs. Hubert Price of Turkey and Mrs. Jerry Maupin of Quitaque took the Valley High School Cheerleaders to Lubbock Sunday where they will remain for several days attending instruction classes in cheerleading.

The new cheerleaders for Valley High for the fall of 1987 will be Amy and Melissa Maupin, Amy Hewett and Sandy Price of Quitaque and Lacy Price and Michelle House, of Turkey.

There will be a called meeting of all the Turkey people interested in the Dreamland Cemetery fence. It is scheduled for Thursday night, June 25, at 7:30 p.m. at the Bob Wills Cafeteria.

Virgil Blakney of Turkey was in Austin recently to attend a Farmers Union board of directors meeting.

The Farmers Union still requests the urgency of contacting your Congressman to gain their support of the Harkins-Gephardt Bill which emphasizes 70% parity and 30% set-aside to assist in saving our family farms for our future generations.

Mutt Holland stated Monday that his sister, Mrs. Delta Lee of Tulia entered Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo where she will undergo lung surgery. Her room number is 433. She will be remembered here in Turkey as Delta Holland.

Debbie Maxwell and daughters, Emily and Tiffany of Idabel, Okla. are visiting in Turkey in the home of Debbie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tink Lane.

Mrs. Helen Fowler was returned to Turkey by her son, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fowler and daughter, Jodie, of Cleveland, Okla. after Helen had accompanied the family on a tour through Louisiana and over to Beaumont, Texas. While in Oklahoma, Helen attended her granddaughter, Michelle's, high school graduation.

Guests were registered by Rita Guest at a table covered with a white cloth, with an overlay of white lace. The baby's book, a feathered white pen and a small, cut-glass bowl containing an arrangement of tiny white and pink silk flowers adorned the table.
