Family Histories Now Being Sought

The Briscoe County Historical Survey Committee would like to remind you of the deadline in which to submit your family history for the book which is now being planned.

The Committee is meeting now with the publisher, and is urging you to get together all factual data on your family so that it can be ready to turn in by February 1.

This volume will be very beautiful and will contain histories of Briscoe County pioneer families and early county history. You and your family may also buy a tribute page with just your family name or photograph on it. Many families have already submitted their histories and several are working on them now.

The Committee would like to have five typewritten pages from you with authentic names, places, incidents and histories of your family. Much work has gone into the preparation of this book and much work is yet to be done. Your help is needed in completing this volume.

If you have pictures to include with your story, the Committee asks that you have the pictures copied and submit only the copies. This is to prevent loss or damage to your precious keepsakes. B. J. Willis has been copying photographs in his home darkroom in Silverton, and has indicated that he will be happy to do this for anyone who needs photos copied, but he asks that you please contact him at home and not at the school.

The books are being pre-sold now and you may purchase one at a saving by contacting one of the Committee members now. In Quitaque you may contact Mrs. Murry Morrison, Mrs. Alton Johnson or Mrs. O. R. Stark, jr. In Silverton, you are asked to contact Mrs. Edwin Dickerson or Mrs. Fred Mercer. Pre-publication price of the County History is $23.63, tax included, and it will sell for $5.00 more when they are completed.

Please help this committee in this endeavor to preserve the pioneer history and colorful culture of Briscoe County, of which your family has been a part.

There is a big sign inside the Claude gymnasium that says "This is Mustang Country: Love it or leave it." Well, this is one ole boy that is always glad to leave that part of Mustang Country, for the local teams always have a very hard time winning a ball game at Claude.

In the first place the Valley teams can expect to be placed in the bracket with the other toughest teams so they can look forward to playing probably the best other teams in order to reach the finals.

Both Valley teams were matched against Panhandle in the first round of play. The Valley girls won their game 39-38 to advance to the second round of play.

The Valley boys won 70-67 over Panhandle to advance to the second round action.

In the Friday afternoon semi-finals the Valley girls lost to the Sanford-Fritch Eaglettes 45-57 and that, for all practical purposes, was the championship game in the girls division for the Eaglettes won easily over the Claude girls in the finals Saturday night.

The Valley boys won 74-67 over the Sanford-Fritch Eagles to advance to the championship game Saturday night.

Saturday afternoon the Valley girls easily defeated the Stinnett girls, 39-22, in the game for third place.

The Valley boys met Hedley in the championship game, and lost to the Owls 44-56. The Patriots got off to a very poor start. The teams were tied 2-2 in the first minute of play but then the Owls, who hit every shot they put up for the next several minutes, ran the score to 10-2 before the Patriots could score again. At the end of the first period the Owls led 16-7. Hedley upped its lead to 13 points in the early going of the second quarter and several times during the second quarter owned a 13 point spread but the Patriots narrowed the margin to 9, 11 at half-time, 19-30.

In the third quarter Valley outscored the Owls 13-11 to trail 32-41 at the three-quarter mark. In the final quarter the Patriots went after the Owls who were a very tired bunch, and went into a stall with about half the period left to play. The Patriots pulled to within three points of the Owls but as time was getting away the Patriots had to do some fouling to get the basketball back and as a result the Owls put the game away. Pepper Jones, who was lost on fouls about midway of the fourth period, led the Patriots in scoring with 20 points.

Most of the local fans (and some people who were strangers to us) were heard to say that they did not think the best team won) felt that Valley had the better team. District play got underway Tuesday night and the local teams had to go to Hedley to play their first district games. The Valley girls did not expect to have too much trouble against the Owlettes and that turned out as expected as the Patriots won 74-34 to start a successful defense of their district title. The Valley girls have won the district championship every year of their existence, three years.

Senior forward Mitchie Lipscomb who worked herself into the starting lineup late in the season of her freshman year, led the Patriots in scoring against the Owlettes with 28 points. Sophomore Sherice Price was close behind with 26 points. Sophomores Joanie Turner scored 14 points and Jena Mullin tallied 6.

In the boys game, the Patriots justified local fans feelings about the outcome of the game at Claude for the Patriots defeated the Owls 61-53, and that win came on the Owls' home floor. Once again, it was Pepper Jones who sparked the Patriots in scoring with 19 points. Brian Wheeler contributed 15 points to the cause, Joey Barefield 9, Ron Eudy 8, Ernie Lucero 6 and Scotty Seltiff 4.

The local teams take on another district foe here Friday night as they host the Samnorwood teams. The Eaglettes are sporting the gaudiest record of any team (girls) in the district, 19-2 at last account, but they have not played the schedule that the Patriots have. The local teams have played three Class B teams to date, the remainder in Classes A, AA and AAA.

Tuesday night of next week the Valley teams go to Quail, where they will encounter stiff opposition. Quail had a very fine boys team and have been picked to fight it out with Valley and Hedley for district honors.

CONSUMERS GET BETTER CHANCE TO SETTLE MAIL-ORDER COMPLAINTS

Consumers soon will have a better chance to "fight back" when dissatisfied with mail-order shopping, Miss Linda Mullin, Briscoe County Extension Agent, reports.

Beginning February 2, 1976, a new Federal Trade Commission ruling states that a mail-order company must notify the consumer within 30 days after receiving an order if there will be a delay and the merchandise will not be shipped within the stated time.

And if the delivery can't be met, consumers can cancel their order and receive a refund, if they ask for it, she said.

Other avenues open for action on consumer complaints are the Consumer Advocate's Office in the Postal Service, Washington, D. C. 20201; the Office of Consumer Affairs, Washington, D. C. 20201; and the mail-order industry's Direct Mail/Marketing Association, Six East 43rd Street, New York, New York 10017.

But before even placing an order, consumers can help avoid problems by reading the catalogue carefully for company policy on returns and estimated delivery dates. A seller with a known place of business is easier to complain to than an anonymous post office box number.

If the firm is unfamiliar, certify its credentials through the seller's local Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce. A couple of phone calls may be worth it if the order is over $25.

Consumers also can ask the firm to supply a local reference from a trade association or bank, she reminded.

The Cruellest Tax

WASHINGTON—The most cruel tax you have to pay isn't even called a tax by the politicians who have foisted it upon you.

I can't imagine a more oppressive tax than the hidden tax of inflation, which is ravaging the real income of all Americans.

Inflation is a regressive tax which hurts the poor more than the rich, and the middle class worst of all. It is an insidious tax that demeans the value of work, encourages profligacy and waste, and erodes the productive resources of society.

Inflation, moreover, is a tax which no voter has ever approved, which escalates capriciously, and which is all but impossible to limit.

The tax of inflation has been rising rapidly in recent years. Consumer prices rose by 12 per cent in 1974, on top of an 8.8 per cent increase in 1973.

Most Americans perceive the symptoms of inflation—ever increasing price levels—not its causes. This is dangerous. To try to cure inflation by removing its symptoms with such measures as wage and price controls is as futile as trying to cure measles by removing the spots.

Inflation is the result of expanding the supply of money in an economy at a faster rate than the production of goods and services is increasing. If there is more money chasing fewer goods, price levels go up.

Excessive federal deficits are the primary cause of inflation. Every dollar that the federal government spends over what it takes in leads indirectly to an increase in the money supply of about $2.50.

This is how it works:
(1) When the federal government runs a deficit, it issues IOUs—Treasury bills—and sells them to investors in order to make up the deficit.

(2) The more the federal government borrows, the more it drives down the price of its own Treasury bills and the price of all other debt instruments such as bonds issued by cities and states and private corporations. This is the same as increasing interest rates.

(3) In order to keep interest rates from going too high, the Federal Reserve buys Treasury bills to slow the decline of security prices. In effect, one agency of the federal government issues new money to pay for the debts of the other agencies.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Powell during the holidays were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Payne and daughters, Brenda and Carol and Johnny Powell, all of Shamrock.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Geissler were in Carlsbad during the holidays visiting in their daughter's home, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Wynn and children.

Mrs. J. M. Hale spent Christmas in Hereford in the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Hale.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Young were in Dallas for New Years to attend the Cotton Bowl football game and they visited his son, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Young, in Fort Worth while in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. John Adamson and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Adamson, jr. were in Lubbock last Saturday to attend the wedding of John Adamson's great-niece at the Presbyterian Church at 4 p.m.

This past Monday night, Mr. and Mrs. John Adamson were in Hedley and spent the night with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Omie Simmons.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Gatlin during the holidays were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Davis and daughter, Sunnie, and Mrs. Wanda Cagle of Plainview.

Mrs. Rufus Butler was a visitor in Paris, Texas last week with her father, Bill Tallant. She went to be with her step-mother, who was seriously ill and in the hospital.

Christmas dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Butler were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Butler of Quitaque, Bruce Edwards of Grapevine, and Dick Skelton and Mark Butler of Turkey.

Mr. and Mrs. Olen Hogue of Turkey visited this past week in Tucumcari, New Mexico with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Craig.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fuston and girls were in Dallas last weekend to be with Mrs. Fuston's brother, Norman Noble, who is seriously ill. Wilda remained to be with her brother while her husband and girls returned to Turkey.

(4) The money the Federal Reserve uses to buy the Treasury bills supplies reserves to commercial banks, which use the reserves to provide loans to businesses and consumers.

(5) Since banks are able to loan out about $2.50 for every dollar they hold in reserves, and each loan leads to a dollar-for-dollar increase in the money supply, each dollar the Federal Reserve spends to buy Treasury bills ultimately results in a $2.50 increase in the money supply.

Deficit spending is the result of lax fiscal policy by the government. It stems from the cowardly reluctance of spendthrift politicians to tell the voters the true cost of the programs they are proposing.

There is no easy way to repeal the tax of inflation. Halting inflation would involve giving up those governmental programs being funded by this hidden tax, and this would offend many powerful special interest groups. But inflation must be halted or it will destroy our economy.

The first step to ending the tax of inflation is to recognize that it is a tax—that there is not, after all, any such thing as a free lunch, or a harmless budget deficit.

Flourish Into Off-Camera Flash

Turn a group of little girls loose with a batch of grown-up clothes and the results are sure to be delightful. And so are the pictures you take of them. Indoor shots do require flash sometimes, of course, but this can be very simple, particularly when you are using one of the new Kodak Trimlite Instamatic cameras with flipflash.

You still have to remember that flash is most effective from four to ten feet and that, to avoid harsh shadows, you should keep your subjects away from the wall. And for even lighting in a group picture, try to have each person reasonably equidistant from the camera.

While you're taking pictures, and the kids are in a relaxed and happy mood, why not do a shot with enlargement-for-the-grandparents in mind? For the best effect, shoot at the kids' level.

When the dress-up hat suddenly slides down to cover the wearer's face completely, you have to be alert to catch the instant with your camera. When you have flipflash on your camera, you're ready for eight in a row.

With the flipflash, you have a choice of a series of light flashes on or off the camera, with a single flip after the first four. For off-camera flash you need a Kodak flipflash extender, which connects the flash and camera by means of an 18-inch cord.

This arrangement gives you the freedom to direct the light at your subject from the side, or above, or as needed. You can even bounce the light from a white ceiling if you wish.

The Trimlite Instamatic cameras retain all the advantages of the popular pocket cameras. They are small, light, easy to operate, and use film in the same tiny 110 cartridges.

Moving your picture-taking indoors does not change the basic rules for good pictures. You still need to hold your camera steady and level. Watch the background as you shoot, to avoid distracting clutter. Shoot from your subjects' level and, to keep them relaxed, give them something to do. The dress-up situation mentioned above has great potential because the clothes serve as props as well as an inspiration for funny, elaborate posing.

The final, and perhaps most important, piece of advice is to stay alert and ready. Expressions and poses are fleeting, at best; and to save them, you have to be equally fast with your shutter finger.

HOME

What is home? A blend of memories and mortar . . . walls and roof and smells of breakfast cooking . . . a place of rest at the end of the day . . . a feeling of possession, of belonging . . . a place of hates, loves, anger . . . center of things living.

Home may be a mansion on a hill, a cramped apartment, a farmhouse, a hovel, a new suburban split-level, the house Father built . . . but only to you and your family is it home. No one else may call it that. For home is a part of you!

Centuriés ago a shepherd-poet felt this. Lonely seasons on the grazing slopes had taught him to love . . . to long for . . . HOME.

But he realized that, through this life and beyond, the nearness of God is part of the sense of home. Goodness and mercy would follow him all the days of his life. And he would dwell in the house of the Lord forever!

Sid Returns Home

On December 17th, Mary Ollie Persons drove me to Childress where I caught the bus at 10:12 a.m. for Dallas. S. T., Jr., met me there and we drove to his home, which is about 15 miles distance, and you talk about a good supper—Esther had one, and did I enjoy it. Here I remained until Tuesday at which time S. T., Esther and Dorrie drove me to Tyler to the Holiday Inn, at which place Barney had already arrived and was waiting for us. There we had a good lunch together, as well as a good visit. Barney and I had a pleasant drive from there to his home at Nacogdoches, Texas, where we found Emile Margaret waiting for us, and she had things well prepared for us, eats, etc. Here E. M. had the prettiest Christmas tree I think I have ever seen. It was a young pine tree decorated just like any other tree, but, so far as I can remember, it was the first time I ever saw a pine tree used for a Christmas tree. It was beautiful. I am sure Santa Claus must have thought it was beautiful, for he left so many nice and useful gifts for all of us, me—too.

After opening the packages and saying "thank-you" we enjoyed the most delicious Christmas dinner, turkey and ALL the trimmings. We must have had 15 or 20 people there to enjoy the good lunch. I shall not try to name all of them. I might leave out someone. I must mention though, Emile's mother, the former Mrs. Gardiner and her husband were there. I enjoyed seeing all of them.

Monday the 29th, Barney and I drove to Shreveport, Louisiana, from where we made a circle through several Parishes where we saw several of my kins-people as well as friends. We did not eat at lunchtime that day—we just ate a little (?) or much, every place we stopped. But we wound up about 3:00 p.m. at Willie Bogan's where she had the best meal prepared for us, and was it delicious? After which we took off from there to Barney's home, by the way of Ringgold, Louisiana to see a couple more people, which made about 115 mile drive home. We enjoyed all of it, the woods are so pretty, all the way.

Tuesday afternoon Barney and E. M. had a trip planned to Denton so they took me by S. T.'s house where I remained until New Year's Day at which time all of us took off to Betty and Jerrel Gaddy's home for our get-together and to eat New Year's Day lunch. We had a good crowd there and a good lunch, including "black-eyed-peas."

After watching the football game we started on our way back to S. T.'s house which is 25 or 30 miles and when we reached the downtown section we began to contact the Cotton-Bowl traffic which was almost bumper to bumper, and a great number of them were Arkansas cars. We could tell from their license plates.

The next day, Friday, everything went well until after "supper" I decided to come home Saturday. We called Gladys' house to see what the weather was and it was pretty. So, we hurried around and got me ready, Esther packed my bags, S. T. set his alarm clock and he and I got up early enough, Esther also got up and fixed a hot breakfast, and we got to the bus station in time to get my bags checked and catch the bus at 7:40 a.m. for Childress. The weather from Dallas was pretty all the way. When I got off the bus, Lila Ramsey was there to meet me. We had a nice drive home. I really did have a nice time, good eats, good visits and the number of pounds gained is a military secret. But after all the good things I have mentioned, and I did enjoy all of them, I was so happy to get home, and to prove that I do want all of you to know I still love and appreciate you. While I was away I went to preaching services each Sunday and heard good messages each time, one of which impressed me greatly. The preacher at the First Baptist Church of Nacogdoches preached on people trying to predict what will happen in 1976. His text was on Isaiah 8:19 (New Bible) His question was "Why depend on wizards, etc., why not ask your God?" I believe he was right about it. I believe that is the only right source of information. Thanks to everyone here and there, including Louisiana. Go to Church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gipson of Amarillo spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gilmore and attended church services here Sunday where Herbert filled the pulpit both morning and evening.

Mrs. Reona Holcomb is spending this week visiting in Houston in the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Geiseke.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Griffin and children were hosts for Christmas dinner. Those present were Mrs. Bernice Thurman of Gainesville, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lee Woods and daughter, Silverton, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Woods and Mrs. Bessie Nall.

All the group were there for New Year's dinner but the Earl Lee Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wynn and Clint were also present.

Electric Range

★ Using your range more carefully can mean significant savings on your fuel bills. Avoid the temptation to keep opening the oven door. You lose up to 20% of the heat every time you do.

★ Pre-heating the oven and baking only one dish or heating a few rolls is wasteful. With a little planning you can cook an entire meal in the oven.

★ Reduce heat as soon as practical. When water is boiling, medium heat will keep it boiling. Use pans with tight-fitting lids to conserve heat.

Design Defines Space for Dining

Dining at home may well be the trend of the times in entertaining. Making space for a dining area is another matter altogether. Today's do-it-yourself decorators rely on visual tricks to define dining space in general living areas. Newest approach calls for the use of pre-pasted wallcovering murals that are easy to hang, large enough to make a strong and definite design statement, and far less costly than other artworks. Most varied of the new mural collections is Imperial's E-Z-Du under-$60 group—all in washable acrylic, a must in dining areas, where spots and splashes are inevitable. Designs include this striking super-graphic geared to a contemporary setting. The theme of dazzling elegance is carried out in sleek chrome and glass furniture, with Collins & Alkman's velvet-cut white carpeting underfoot. White for dining? Carpet consultants feel it stands up under use as well as dark solids, without sacrificing the visual impression of space.

Mr. and Mrs. Odie Honea had their grandson, David Self, of KI Sawyer AFB, Marquette, Michigan home for two weeks during and following the Thanksgiving holidays. The Honeas and David were guests of the Bill Sells in Silverton. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Collins and Minnie Norris.

During the Christmas holidays Mrs. Odie Honea and Mr. and Mrs.

Bill Self visited Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Self, Anthony and Darla, in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Merrell had all their children home for Christmas holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Merrell of Waco spent two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lee Merrell and two children of Wellington and Jo Beth Merrell of Amarillo were here at various times.

Guests in the J. A. Mayfield home during the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Richmond of Anson, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mayfield, Canyon, and Mr. and Mrs. Rick Stewart of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Woods had all their children and grandchildren home for Christmas, also his mother. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rowell and children, Dumas; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wayne Woods and children, Silverton; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Woods, Plainview, and Mrs. E. E. Woods, Quitaque.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. J. C. Chandler last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hawkins and Todd of Mesquite.

On The Sidewalks Of New York

Janis Eric Reiter's winning design in the Grace Plaza Competition features unique ways to use the open space fronting the W. R. Grace & Co. headquarters in New York City. Container units house easily-accessible components that will turn the plaza into a center for audio-visual happenings, via screens and projectors; a modern bazaar complete with booths; an open-air exhibit hall, with vertical and horizontal display partitions; a stage for concerts and speeches, and more. Also included: Units to protect strollers from inclement weather.

NEW YORK, N.Y. (ED)—Anonymous silhouettes of steel and glass, row upon row of skyscrapers; that's what large cities are made of. But there's a growing movement among urban planners to bring a sense of interest back down to earth, to street level. In New York City, the idea of surrounding new buildings with plazas where pedestrians can sit or stroll has taken firm hold. The problem facing architects: How to make a giant corporate headquarters a place where passers-by feel welcome, and workers feel comfortable entering. W. R. Grace & Co., the international industrial concern, found a unique way to solve this design dilemma. They invited students of art and architecture to submit plans for best use of the plaza which abuts Grace's world headquarters building on Avenue of the Americas, a skyscraper-lined street in mid-Manhattan. They offered $10,000 in prize money for the best design and students submitted nearly 200 concepts to solving the design project. The winner of the Grace Plaza Competition was Janis Eric Reiter, a student at Pratt Institute, New York. He conceived of a "space frame" roof incorporating an energy source from the ceiling. Mr. Reiter's design contains a series of inflatable partitions and movable structures enabling the plaza to be used for a variety of street-level entertainments. The idea is to take the anonymity out of big-city life, and make New York a place for people, not just skyscrapers.

Other winning student suggestions for design of the Grace Plaza in New York City present a vast array of young solutions to a real-life problem: How To Improve Urban Open Space Areas.

Who'd want to invest in a bunch of revolutionaries?

They didn't exactly look like winners.

But then our revolutionary army beat the British at Saratoga in 1777.

And people recognized Washington's men as an army, rather than a band of renegades.

So faith was won as well as a battle. And investments in our government's securities started picking up.

It took courage to take stock in America back then. But it paid off.

And it can do the same for you now.

Just join the Payroll Savings Plan, or buy U.S. Savings Bonds at your bank. There's no safer, easier way to build your savings.

So, buy the specially designed Bicentennial Series E Bonds.

Those brave revolutionaries would be proud.

Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

TEXAS TALK

What a difference a trade makes! Especially when "Trade" refers to the world trading done with American agricultural products. "Difference" is $22 billion dollars produced by the trade. Where would we be without it? First of all the cost of government subsidies to the few farmers that survived would be sky-high . . . some economists estimate around $12 billion dollars a year. Then there's the dollar that would go through a super devaluation to offset the trade deficit. Which brings us immediately to the price of oil . . . naturally that would go up to reflect the devalued dollar. Now we come to the problem of unemployment . . . it would be up. Not so much from the farmers who went broke, as to all the jobs lost down the line from related industries. All of which makes for a strong argument to keep export markets strong and provide producer incentives for making them stronger.

SURRENDER TO PEACE

Perhaps you have heard the story of the little lad who went to bed, and for some reason or another—I think the mother was away—he was sharing a room with his father. When the father got into bed the little fellow called out in the dark, "Daddy, can I sing?" Consent was given, but the singing was of such a nature that sleep was impossible. So after awhile the father said, "Son, I think you had better stop." Silence fell in the darkness of that room. Then in a little while the young boy in a strange room in the darkness, asked, "Daddy, is your face turned this way?"

There is something of that little chap in all of us. We crave many things, but most of all we want to know if our Father looks our way. The Christian gospel answers in the affirmative. In essence it is saying, "God loves you and the proof is Jesus of Nazareth." This is why we are encouraged to let Christ take control. "In the bitter waves of woe, beaten and tossed about by the sullen winds that blow from the desolate shores of doubt, Where the anchors that faith has cast are dragging in the gale, I am quietly holding fast to the things that cannot fail." The Bible says: "And let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts . . ." Col 3:15
