Quitague Deputy Sheriff Escapes Sniper's Bullets Monday Night

Deputy Sheriff Ronnie Mull, apparently set up for death by a fake CB call around 9 o'clock Monday night, escaped a sniper's bullets although his car was hit several times.

A call came over his CB radio that a woman was crying for help near the second bridge south of Quitague about six miles.

Deputy Mull immediately drove to that spot and as he neared that location the sniper opened fire, hitting the car in the side and back. The deputy was pinned down for awhile, but managed to get out of his vehicle. He called for help over his radio and law officers were soon speeding his way and before too long they started arriving from Silverton, Turkey, a couple of Highway Patrol cars arrived as well as officers from Memphis, Clarendon and other nearby counties. Also taking part in the search was Deputy Mull's brother, Texas Ranger Jimmy Ray Mull. Road blocks were quickly set up and all traffic was halted on that road.

Deputy Mull said that he did not see anyone but he did see the flashes of gunfire. He said that the sniper fired eight or ten rounds at him and that he fired several times in return.

Residents living in that area south of Quitague were quickly alerted by hearing conversations on their CB radios, dug out firearms and were on the lookout for prowlers. Newsmen from Lubbock and Amarillo were quickly on the way and some of them remained all night.

Officers searched the area for several hours, then finding no trace of the sniper, called off the search until daylight Tuesday morning.

A helicopter was called in from Amarillo, and bloodhounds were also brought to the scene from Amarillo. After a thorough search of the area, and after the bloodhounds failed to pick up any scent, the search was called to a halt.

DROUGHT IS TAKING BEATING AS GOOD RAINS FALL HERE

The long dry spell is taking a pretty good bending if it is not broken here in the Valley as good rains have been received during the past week, beginning Wednesday night of last week.

Slow, gentle showers started falling late Wednesday night and continued most of the next day. Then on Saturday and Sunday more rain was received for a total of around two inches all over the Quitague and Turkey vicinity.

The rains returned late Tuesday afternoon and night when reports ranging from a quarter of an inch to an inch were reported in both Quitague and Turkey. Some hail fell in these rains, which were accompanied by considerable thunder and lightning. These rains fell in a hurry, causing the first runoff since it started raining a week ago.

This area had received good showers a couple of weeks ago and as a result the Valley is turning green, the earliest for the area in some years. When the weather warms up now some farmers will plant some cotton, and there is enough moisture to bring it up for those who like to plant early.

Forecasts are for more rainfall for the next few days, and also cooler weather, so the time for planting is not quite right, yet. But the rains were great and prospects look very good right now, for this part of the country does not usually get the rain quite this early.

Sherice did take Hartman and helped her team advance to regional.

Fund-Raising Campaign To Begin

This April, The American Cancer Society's educational and fund raising Crusade in Briscoe County will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Mary Ann Sarchet, a volunteer committed to making the ACS goal - "We Want to Wipe Out Cancer in Your Lifetime" - reality.

Syndicated news columnist Ann Landers is the 1977 National Crusade Chairman. The Crusade, which will involve 2,300,000 volunteers nationwide, is under the honorary chairmanship of actor John Wayne, who scored a personal triumph over lung cancer.

Famous names are important in drawing national attention to the Crusade," Mrs. Sarchet said, "but cancer doesn't discriminate; it strikes the famous and the unknown, rich, poor, black and white. Thanks to the public's continuing and generous support of the Cancer Crusade, enormous progress has been made. There are 1,506,990 American men, women and children alive today who are cured of cancer."

She noted that the ACS program is a threefold one of research, education - teaching the public how to safeguard against cancer, keeping the medical world informed on the latest laboratory discoveries - and service and rehabilitation programs to help the cancer patient and his family.

"We could be saving many more lives from cancer with what we know today if everyone understood the importance of early diagnosis and prompt treatment of cancer. While there are many more things that can be done for the advanced cancer patient today, treatment is most successful when applied to an early case," she said.

For this reason, the annual ACS Crusade combines education and fund raising to support the three-fold ACS program. "Our volunteers will be contacting as many people in Briscoe County as possible to ask for support, and to distribute a pamphlet containing the best ACS advice on safeguards against cancer."

Mrs. J. W. (Jewell) Lyon has volunteered to assist the Cancer Crusade this year, and will be contacting the people of Quitaque by mail. Mrs. Orville B. (Carolyn) Turner will also be assisting by contacting the people of rural Briscoe County by mail.

The largest group of volunteers, the L. O. A. Junior Study Club, will be sponsoring a basketball double-header in the Silverton School Gym on Thursday, April 28, with all proceeds to be donated to the Cancer Crusade.

Cancer Benefit Is Thursday, April 28

A womens' team from Quitaque will play a team of Silverton women captained by Barbara Pigg. Lynn Frizzell is arranging two mens' teams. The men will practice at 7:00 p.m. Friday night in the Silverton School Gym.

All proceeds will be donated to the Cancer Crusade. The event is being sponsored by the L. O. A. Junior Study Club.

Tech Scientists Receive Grant

The Texas Pork Producers Monday awarded Texas Tech University animal scientists a grant of $2,200 to study sow nutrition before and after farrowing in an effort to increase the survival rate of baby pigs.

The award was made at the producer's annual meeting in College Station.

Principal researchers for the project are Drs. Leland F. Tribble and Donald E. Orr.

"The number of pigs produced per sow per year is a major factor in swine profits," Dr. Tribble said. "The loss of pigs soon after birth is one of the major causes of profit loss."

Two factors appear to have a major influence on the piglet death rate, he said. These are the weight of the pig at birth and the ability of the sow to produce sufficient milk after farrowing.

Tribble and Orr will compare a two-stage feeding program during the gestation period with the constant feeding program generally used. While half of the sows in the experiment will be fed four pounds of feed per head per day throughout the gestation period, the other half will be fed three pounds per head per day for the first 75 days and six pounds per day for the last portion of the gestation period, from the 76th to the 109th day.

"It is in this later period that most of the growth of the pig in utero takes place," Tribble said.

After farrowing, a condition called MMA (Metritis, Mastitis and Agalactia) is a common problem in swine herds. When the condition exists, milk production ceases or is greatly reduced. Baby pig losses result because of

Changes Announced In Commodity Loan Program

Your local ASCS Office has been advised that 1976 wheat loans may be obtained through May 31, 1977. This is a full two months extension of time but the maturity date will be February 28, 1978.

Other changes in the loan program that was announced include an increase in the 1977 crop loan rate for soybeans and feed grains.

The new rates, previous rates and amounts increased are as follows:

Commodity	Prev.	New	Inc.
Corn	1.50	1.75	.25
Barley	1.22	1.50	.27
Oats	.72	1.00	.28
Rye	1.20	1.50	.30
Grain Sorg.	1.43	1.70	.27

starvation. "In most cases constipation in the sow is a symptom associated with MMA," Tribble explained. "Bulky, high fibrous feeds have been used for a laxative effect, but these feeds reduce the energy value of the ration."

"We will use a feed containing 1 per cent magnesium sulfate (Epsom salts), a chemical laxative, for five days after farrowing. This should provide energy concentration but relieve the MMA condition."

While control sows will be fed in the traditional way, the experimental sows will be assigned to treatments on the day they are bred and will remain on the treatment for three consecutive reproductive cycles. A sorghum-soybean meal ration will be used.

Twenty sows and gilts are bred every 21 days at the Texas Tech swine farm. Three groups of sows will be used in the experiments.

April 30 Is Tax Deadline

State Comptroller Bob Bullock today urged Texas retail merchants and other sale tax permit holders to put a big red circle around April 30 on their calendars.

That's the deadline for filing quarterly sales tax reports with the State Comptroller's Office.

"Failure to meet the deadline can result in penalties for the sales tax permit holder and a lot of additional work for my office," Bullock said. Bullock urged sales tax permit holders to contact the nearest Comptroller's Field Office or call his toll-free tax information number, 1-800-253-555 if they have any question about their returns.

Some 172,000 businesses file their sales tax reports on a quarterly basis, Bullock said.

Mrs. Keyth Tiffin continues to receive treatment at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. She is in room 250.

Statue of limitations.

One thing Americans didn't need back in 1776 was a statue of King George III.

What they did need was ammunition. So on the evening of July 9, 1776, a crowd gathered and toppled the four-thousand-pound statue.

Then, adding insult to injury, they melted it down to manufacture exactly 42,088 bullets.

That was one way Americans took care of their country's needs.

Today, over 9 1/2 million Americans take care of their country's needs, and their own, by buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

Whether bought through the Payroll Savings Plan, or regularly where you save, Bonds add up fast to take care of all your needs. Education, retirement, travel, whatever.

So buy U.S. Savings Bonds. There's no limit to what you can save.

Simply Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, according to Mrs. James Lipscomb, Coordinator of this year's Special Campaign Event.

"We need to make the public aware of lung diseases in children," she explained. "We must find a control for the inherited disease, Cystic Fibrosis, and we must also help as many as possible of the five million children with other chronic lung diseases." "Diagnosis and therapy are available at 117 Centers throughout the country where as many as six out of seven of the children seen are found to have other diseases in which the symptoms closely resemble those of C. F. The Centers are not only helping children with Cystic Fibrosis, but also those with chronic bronchitis, asthmatic bronchitis, asthma with lung damage, the condition sometimes called "childhood emphysema", bronchiectasis and other lung and intestinal diseases as well." You can help these children by participating in the Bike-A-Thon. They're counting on you to give them a chance to breathe. We know you won't let them down. ### May Is Designated As Mental Health Month

Today we know that mental illness can be prevented in many cases. We can do this through education, especially of parents, and by learning to cope with stress. There is a group of citizens like ourselves, trying to see that this happens - the Mental Health Association. During May, Mental Health Month, your neighbor will be coming to your door to collect for mental health. I urge you to give generously. The Mental Health Association needs your support because mental illness can be cured; the cycle of child abuse can be stopped; education of parents can prevent some emotional problems in children.

Nacogdoches Farm Family of the Year

The Edward D. Melasky, Jr. family has been named Texas Farmers Home Administration Farm Family of the Year for 1976, according to an announcement made by State Director, J. Lynn Futch. The Melasky family resides at Route 1, Box 46, Douglass, Texas. The Melasky's were selected for this honor among contestants located throughout the state. Families selected for this honor have made outstanding progress through the use of Farmers Home Administration's credit in developing their farm and home enterprises. This is the seventh year the award has been made with one previous award winner also from Nacogdoches County. The Melasky family owns 233 acres and leases 100 acres all of which is devoted to a highly successful dairy operation. With energy coming in increasing short supply, the Melasky family has been foresighted enough to build fireplaces in both their home and in their dairy barn. This has eliminated the need for gas or electric heat in the dairy barn, and reduced the need for other heat sources in the house. Wood for the fireplaces comes from a 20-acre woodlot on the farm. Some of the improvements this family has made to increase their income and utilization of available resources are construction of a small lake with pipes and outside tanks for livestock water; an automatic feeding system; and improvements and additions to pastureland through the use of fertilizer and animal waste. The Melasky family has kept precise records on each cow in production and follow a strict culling program to insure high herd production. Their dairy herd numbers 175 grown cows. The family takes an active part in church, school and other activities, with the two Melasky sons, Steve and Stan, receiving numerous honors from 4-H and FFA competition. Mr. Futch is quoted as saying

Mr. Melasky's family is one of the most self-sufficient families in the States. Mrs. Melasky, with the help of the other family members, always has fresh or home frozen vegetables and since the family drinks a lot of milk, a portable milk pasteurizer provides them plenty at low cost. Staple foods are purchased well in advance to take advantage of sales and bargains. Mrs. John Rustus of Plainview spent Saturday night in the home of Mrs. Reona Holcomb.

The Regional Annual Meeting is held every two years for the purpose of training, updating, and special recognition for volunteer Scouters within the region, which includes Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, New Mexico, and parts of Colorado, Arizona, Utah, and Mississippi.

A special SAN ANTONIO NIGHT is planned for Thursday evening, May 5.

The meeting will give special attention to Cub Scouting, Scouting, and Exploring as it relates to training, finance, activities, advancement and long range planning.

The South Plains Association of Governments has proposed to include a $20,000 grant to Wayland Baptist College for a new color photo lab, in its 1978 agenda. The funds will not be available until October '77 and will not be put into use until January of '78.

According to Dorothy Miller of SPAG in Lubbock, the association is a regional planning agency which assists local governments (city and county) in getting funds which, as in her department of criminal justice, will implement programs to help cut down on crime.

Glenn Hunsucker, head of Wayland's Criminal Justice Department, said the color lab will be used on a regional basis for all area law enforcement personnel.

"I see it as an aid in increased prosecution of felony offenses by improving law enforcement photo capabilities through color presentations during trial."

USDA APPOINTMENTS ADD CONSUMER, INTERNATIONAL ORIENTATION

An analysis of the appointments to high level positions within the U. S. Department of Agriculture leads Dr. Ronald Knutson, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, to conclude that the agency will more concerned with consumer, international, small farmer and environmental problems than the previous administration.

"One of the most difficult jobs of new agriculture secretary Bob Bergland will be to integrate these new and often conflicting interests in food and fiber policy into a cohesive USDA program," contends Knutson.

"One appointment which clearly has a producer orientation is John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, who is designated to be second man in USDA. The appointment of White to this position is highly significant to Texas," says Knutson. "The deputy secretary potentially is in a position to provide input into policy decisions cutting across all USDA agencies. Texas has not been represented in a high level USDA decision position for many years."

According to the Texas A&M University System economist, the third most powerful position in USDA goes to noted agricultural economist Dale Hathaway. Hathaway has been nominated for the position of Assistant Secretary for International and Commodity Programs. As a result, he will play a key role in developing legislation for the 1977 farm bill, international agricultural policy and price support decisions.

Hathaway comes to USDA from his position as head of the International Food Policy Research Institute, a Washington-based research organization supported by U. S. and foreign governments to conduct studies of agricultural trade, eign assistance and food reserves, aid and development policies throughout the world. He has written extensively on issues surrounding the world food problem, sharply criticizing USDA's lack of concern for problems of food shortages and advocating expanded for- notes Knutson. Hathaway was previously head of the Department of Agricultural Economics at Michigan State University and was widely recognized for his work in agricultural policy.

Carol Foreman, head of the Consumer Federation of America, has been nominated to be assistant secretary in charge of consumer programs. She will have jurisdiction over the food stamp, school lunch, child nutrition and supplemental food programs which currently comprise about 65 percent of the USDA budget.

"This is the first time a consumer advocate has been appointed to a management position in USDA," points out Knutson. "The man who formerly held this position also had control of controversial marketing order regulations, meat inspection and livestock marketing regulations. However, political pressure from producer and agri-business interests resulted in splitting off a portion of these functions from Foreman."

The individual selected to have supervision over the functions such as marketing orders is Bob Meyer, a large farmer in the Imperial Valley of California. "Like White, Meyer can be expected to represent producer and agribusiness interests in USDA," contends Knutson.

The chief USDA economist will be Howard Hjort. Hjort will have prime responsibility for interpretation of data collected and analyzed by the economic and statistical agencies of which he has jurisdiction. "The chief economist has also traditionally had substantial influence on policy decisions of the Secretary," emphasizes Knutson.

Hjort was previously a partner in Schnitker Associates, a highly firm with primarily agribusiness man in USDA during the Johnson administration and a key advisor to Carter during the campaign, explains the economist.

The new assistant secretary in charge of agricultural research, extension, forestry and conservation programs is Rupert Cutler. Cutler is a professor of natural resource policy and an Extension economist at Michigan State University. "He brings to USDA a background of concern for environmental problems and enjoyed the support of environmentalists in attaining this important USDA position," Knutson points out.

Alex Mercure, a Spanish-American educator from the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, will be assistant secretary for rural development. He will have charge of USDA farm credit, ele-

USDA APPOINTMENTS ADD NEW INSIGHT

New high level U. S. Department of Agriculture appointments indicate more concern with consumer, international, small farmer and environmental programs, contends an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. They include John C. White as deputy secretary, Dale Hathaway as assistant secretary for international and commodity programs, Carol Foreman as assistant secretary for consumer programs, Bob Meyer as director of marketing orders and similar functions, Howard Hjort as chief economist, Rupert Cutler as assistant secretary for agricultural research, extension, forestry and conservation program assistant secretary for rural development.

trification and rural development programs. "The most likely effect of Mercure's appointment is to orient these programs more in the direction of small farmers and rural poor consistent with concerns expressed by Carter during the campaign," believes Knutson.

recommendations for the 4-H program.

More 4-H'ers can visit Washington, D. C. in June and July for the National Citizenship Short Course and Heritage Tour. The youth can visit numerous historical sites and also have an opportunity to visit their congressman.

Other 4-H'ers in Texas begin the summer months with Texas 4-H Roundup. More than 1,200 4-H'ers statewide come to the campus of Texas A&M University to meet new friends and show off their skills in more than 40 project areas—from rifle safety and public speaking to horse judging and child development. Everyone at Roundup is a winner, contends Miss Callahan.

July is time for the annual Texas 4-H Congress. This year 4-H'ers will gather in Corpus Christi for the week-long event to study "Oceans of Opportunity". Activities will include tours, exhibits, tasting festivals, music dance and much more.

The summer is also an ideal time to study ecology, go on nature hikes, and enjoy water sports and lots of other exciting activities. The summer camping program at the Texas 4-H Center provides for all of this and more, with the latest in dining and sleeping facilities, the Center overlooks beautiful Lake Brownwood on a 78-acre site.

Fall brings record books—an activity in which most 4-H'ers are involved to learn record keeping, evaluate goals, and measure accomplishments.

The State Fair of Texas in October helps 4-H'ers celebrate fall with Rural Youth Day; that means free entrance for all 4-H'ers to the fairgrounds in Dallas.

For one week in October, 4-H'ers celebrate Nation 4-H Week. Parades, floats, festival, radio and TV appearances, and exhibits all help to spread the news about the largest youth organization in the nation.

Throughout the year 4-H'ers take part in club meetings, projects of their choice, committee work, and other local activities to plan and carry out programs of interest to them.

4-H is fun and learning. If you are between 9 and 19 years, you can join 4-H and have the time of your life, contends Miss Callahan. For details contact your county Extension office.
