FOSTER capitol comments

After ninety days of heated debate and many hours of hasseling over the budget for the State of Texas, our Appropria-tions Committee approved a two-year budget that totals $36.1

This was done mostly by cuts in the budget, some raises in user fees and a tuition increase for students in our state-supported colleges and universities. No doubt this has been the toughest session in the last 10 or 12 years. Take my word for it, there is plenty of room to make further cuts.

Contingent on the passage of several pieces of legislation which we feel will pass, state employees will receive a three-percent raise for the first year of the biennium and a two-percent raise for the second year.

I am very proud of the fact I successfully authored many of the motions to trim the budget by millions of dollars. One of my motions out the Legislative Bud-get Board's proposed $17 million teacher testing program to $6.5 million. This would leave enough only for basic skills testing. supported an amendment to delete all of the funds for the delete all of the funds for the testing program, but this motion failed. I then dropped back and made the motion for the basic skills test. Can you imagine a test that would cost $100 per teacher for our state's 170,000 teachers? Assuming five-percent fail and are declared incompetent, this would mean it would cost $2,000 per teacher to locate the incom-netent teachers. There has to be a better way. We didn't touch the kindergarten (baby-sitting) pro-gram. By eliminating this pro-gram, we could have saved other $93.3 million

There are certain programs still left in the budget which I'll be "gunning for" when they hit the floor of the House. I will be referring to the items in future columns. My, it is fun down here successful in cutting

Last week a good friend from Pampa called in regard to the required auto liability law. Col. Jim Adams of the Texas Depart-ment of Public Safety provided me with some information on this subject. In 1981, before the bill mandating the liability insurance only 73% of Texas motorists had only 73% of 1 exas motorists had insurance. In 1982, when the law took effect, the number of insured motorists rose to 91.5%. In 1983, the number of insured motorists dropped to 84%. In 1984, insured motorists remained at 84%. During the 1982-83 fiscal at 84%. During the 1882-83 isscal year, there were 135,838 convic-tions for those violating the liability insurance law. In the 1983-84 fiscal year, this figure rose to 177,000 convictions. As of April 4, 1985, there have been 367,267 drivers who have had their driver's licenses suspended for violating the auto insurance liability law. If you don't have liability insurance, I would advise you to re-read these statis-

In addition to the Appropriations Committee, I also serve on the County Affairs Committee. A lot of proposed legislation comes before this committee. Some of this legislation affects only part of one county or a part of a State

Representative's district. An un written rule is to quickly pass these bills out of committee and schedule them on the Local and Consent Calendar for floor action. These bills are usually gaveled through without a dis-senting vote. However, an increasing amount of legislation comes from Harris and Dallas counties where more than 20 representatives serve each of these counties. Many times the proposed legislation is a means to settle fueds between local fig-ures. Sometimes this legislation will affect the rest of the State adversely. Much of this legisla-tion mandates city or county government to do something. A lot of it is state legislation that actually meddles in the rightful affairs of a county. For instance, one bill was proposed that would require all persons collecting fees, such as justices of the peace, to deposit the fees within 24 hours from the time of collection into the County Trea sury. One such bill was assigned to a subcommittee of which I was chairman. Our subcommittee ex-tended the time to seven days and permitted the County Commissioners Court to grant a 30-day extension if the population of that county is less than 50,000 people. This is called a population bracket. Much of the legislation from Harris and Dallas counties have a population bracket affecting counties of more than 1,000,000 people

Most of the representatives on the County Affairs Committee have from two to fifteen counties in their legislative districts. This is very helpful in screening bills which will adversely affect small Recently, Rep. J. W. Buchan-Recently, Rep. J. W. Buchan-an, D-Dumas, passed a bill at the request of The District and County Clerks Association, that would raise the cost of a marriage license by $7.50. All of the additional funds would go to the General Revenue Fund of the county. For several years now, a group has been trying to raise the marriage license fee and require the funds be sent to the State to sponsor a program for battered wives and children. A representative from San Antonio offered an amendment which provides a county may use these funds for the benefit of battered wives. This amendment was accepted since it is an option given to the county court.

More recently, a major bill has mandates marriage license fees be raised again and the monies sent to the State in order to sent to the State in order to establish a protective children's fund. Presently, the General Appropriations Bill provides $150 million for a protective children's program and approximately $5 million for the batter-old wives recommended. ed wives program.

The annual Wheat Field Day to be conducted at the USDA Conservation and Production Research Laboratory located west of Bushland will start at 1:00 p.m. on May 23, 1985, according to Dirk Aaron, County Agricul-tural Agent. "Wheat research at Bushland looks especially good this year because of above-average rains, and Dr. B. A. New wheat varieties, including TAM 107, TAM 108, and several experimental lines, on both irriexperimental lines, on both irri-gated and dryland, will be featured at the event. Research on irrigation of wheat, no-tillage production of wheat, and grazing of wheat also will be shown and
