NEWS from the High Plains Research Foundation

To paraphrase an oft-uttered statement - "To irrigate or not to irrigate, that is the question." On the High Plains, this question is answered easily in almost every crop variety except wheat. And as more research is instigated, more conclusive is the answer that irrigation of wheat is not economical in some instances.

At least this is not the opinion of Jim Valliant, Soil Scientist at the High Plains Research Foundation. Valliant states, "A four-year average, 1964 through 1967, of wheat within an 80 - 60 - 0 fertilizer level indicates that when wheat is irrigated for germination and not grazed during the winter, months, a winter irrigation is not practical and reduces irrigation efficiency."

Explaining the Research Foundation's 1968 wheat irrigation and fertilizer study test, Valliant said Tascosa wheat was planted October 18, 1967 at the rate of 100 pounds of seed per acre with a 10-inch drill on land from which grain sorghum was harvested.

In the test, three irrigation methods were used - Method 1:

germination, winter, jointing, early boot and soft dough; method 2: germination, jointing, early boot and soft dough; and method 3: germination, jointing and early boot.

All plots were planted dry and irrigated for germination October 19. Other dates of irrigation included winter, January 2; jointing, April 8; early boot, April 29 and soft dough, May 27.

Total irrigation amounts included 29.1 inches in method 1; 24.9 inches in method 2 and 17.4 inches in method 3. "Rainfall during the season added 9.20 inches," Valliant said.

A self-propelled combine was used to harvest wheat plots July 1. Yields were adjusted to 12 percent moisture and yields calculated from the corrected plot data.

"Results of the wheat irrigation study indicates that a winter irrigation on non-grazed wheat was not practical," Valliant said. "The yield was reduced significantly

Aubrey McDonald

Dear Aubrey: I'm a busy secretary who sits behind a desk most of the day. The only opportunity I have to repair my make-up is during my lunch hour. The rest of the day, all I have time to do is powder my nose, and repeated applications of powder make my face look pasty. What do you suggest for on-the-go touch-ups? D. H. Manheim, Pa.

Dear D. H.: If your powder builds up and makes you look pasty, you're not using translucent powder, the only type I recommend.

Remember that powder should add no color of its own. It should be used to set and highlight your liquid make-up, rouge, eyeshadow and other cosmetics.

For an extra-quick touch-up at your desk and to make your whole face sparkle with fresh, delicate color, try Fashion Two Twenty's new Mystic Blush. Mystic Blush is a sheer, pearlized brush-on that adds a becoming flush to your complexion without detracting from or covering up your other make-up.

For the teenager, who doesn't want to hide her natural, youthful beauty with heavy, artificial make-up, win some Mystic Blush is the ideal cosmetic.

This new cosmetic and a silky sable brush come in a sleek, mirrored case that's perfect for your purse or vanity. Use it whenever your spirits and your looks need a very special lift.

To apply Mystic Blush, simply fluff it on with the sable brush over your other make-up, or just frame your face with its delicate color. Now wait a few minutes. Notice how Mystic Blush discreetly adds a warm, subtle glow to your complexion.

Any woman, be she blonde or brunette, will find that Mystic Blush harmonizes perfectly with her complexion and actually complements and accentuates her other cosmetics.

If you have any beauty questions, send them to me % Fashion Two Twenty, P. O. Box 195, Aurora, Ohio 44202. I'll be happy to help you "put on a pretty face."

Halloween Treats
by Betty Crocker

Halloween is a grand time for a costume party for the little folks. So pull out the drawing paper and let your own crew get started on the invitations, cut in the shape of pumpkins or ghosts or black cats. For fun and games, do the old-fashioned favorites - bob for apples, bite doughnuts off strings and tell spooky stories. Then for sit-down refreshments, serve my pretty Pumpkin Teacakes (iced with Orange Frosting, Fizzy Root Beer Floats to drink. And since each small witch and goblin deserves a costume prize, pass out Chocolate-Caramel Apples for take-home treats. A simply grand finale for any costume party.

PUMPKIN TEACAKES

2 1/2 cups New Bisquick
3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons butter, melted
and cooled slightly
1/2 cup milk

Heat oven to 450°. Mix all ingredients except frosting with fork to a soft dough. Knead 8 to 10 times on lightly floured cloth-covered board. Roll dough 1/4 inch thick. Cut with 2-inch cutter. Form rounds into pumpkin shapes, using extra dough for stems. Bake on ungreased baking sheet about 10 minutes. Cool. Frost with Orange Frosting. Makes 2 dozen.

Orange Frosting: Blend 1 1/2 cups confectioners' sugar, 1 to 2 tablespoons milk and 1/2 teaspoon orange extract until of desired spreading consistency. Reserve 1 tablespoon frosting; color green with green food color for the stems. Color remainder with red and yellow food colors.

CHOCOLATE-CARAMEL APPLES

Wash 6 medium apples and dry thoroughly. Remove stem and blossom end of each. In top of double boiler over hot water, heat 1 package (14 ounces) vanilla caramels, 1/4 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces and 2 tablespoons hot water, stirring occasionally, until caramels are melted and mixture is smooth. Keeping sauce over hot water, dip each apple into mixture, spooning sauce over apple until it is completely coated. Insert wooden skewer in stem end; remove from sauce. Place each apple on mound of 1 tablespoon chopped nuts; sprinkle any remaining nuts on top. Makes 6 apples.

when compared to wheat not winter irrigated," he stated. "And the reduction in yield with the winter irrigation may have been due to winter kill of lush growth promoted by irrigation," Valliant pointed out.

There was no difference in yield due to a soft dough irrigation. "However, the soft dough irrigation did reduce lodging," the Soil Scientist stated. "And lodging in the 1967 - 68 study was greater than previous years due to hail and high winds on June 9, he added.

The Foundation study shows that in spite of hail damage, wheat under the method 1 system of irrigation yielded 38.8 bushels per acre while method 2 yielded 45.7 bushels and method 3 yielded 47.7 bushels.

Briggs said that up to now beneficiaries were encouraged to notify the Social Security Administration about the occurrences of these events on postcard forms pre-addressed to one of six social security record forms when they initially applied for monthly benefits.

DAVIDSONS WRITE FROM AFRICA

The Leon McCrackens received a letter from the Rev. and Mrs. Roy Davidson, Limbe, Malawi, and were kind enough to share it with the rest of the community, since he was pastor of the local Baptist Church when they went on the mission field in Africa, we feel our readers everywhere will want to share the news of their work with us. The letter follows:

Dear Friends,

I hardly know where to begin. So much has happened since we last wrote. First of all we want to give God all the glory; for great things he hath done. Secondly, we want to express our sincere appreciation for your love for missions and your prayer support for us. We have seen wonderful results these two and a half years in Malawi and we know it is not because of us. We still stumble and sputter the language, we still offend in customs of the people, there are so many places we must go, and yet God so richly blesses the witness and we are amazed at the response and the results.

We rejoice at the work being done in the Chikwawa district. There are six new Baptist Churches there and Roy has baptized 75 people since January in that area. The Chikwawa area is an expanse of land along the Shire River. It is extremely hot and infested with mosquitoes. The people suffer from the heat, an inadequate diet, malaria, and bilharzia. There is virtually no mission work other than that of the Baptist being carried on there. Missionaries have gone down there for years, but would soon give up because of the heat and intolerable living conditions. We have established a book store in one section of Chikwawa and have placed a man in the market near a sugar estate and factory to sell Christian literature, distribute tracts, and be a witness. Please pray for our work in Chikwawa (CHI KWA WA.)

We are so excited about the Baptist Building. It should be completed by November. I'm enclosing a picture of the main building which houses a meeting hall to seat 175 people, a lounge, kitchen, offices, a work room, three class rooms, and a nursery. On the same property we have two rest cottages and a house for our Journeyman.

We are so thankful that God gave us such a good location for the building. We are "next door" to the university. The technical college is a short distance away, as is the college of commerce. Already we are seeing an encouraging response among the students. With this building and our new Journeyman student worker we expect great things. The building is also across from the Central Stadium and the municipal Hall.

Our Journeyman is the greatest. He has been here two weeks and in those two weeks he has gone with Roy to Chikwawa and made mud bricks for a church building, preached on Sunday, shown movies and conducted services in a near village, held a Youth Fellowship, and started making plans in student work. We are so grateful for him. He was a summer missionary here two years ago and has now returned to serve with us.

Roy is in Rhodesia for two weeks preaching in a Nation-wide Crusade. Here in Malawi in addition to his own area, he is also covering the work of another missionary who is home on leave. We all have to double up when someone goes home on leave.

The work in the city continues to grow. We have several new churches and preaching points within the city. The Jerusalem Baptist Church has added on to their building three times and still it will not house the people who come to worship.

The English-speaking Church now has 25 members who have committed themselves to be a witness in Malawi. They help extend the Kingdom among the Chinyanja speaking people as well as the English-speaking. They are certainly Roy's co-laborers in the mission field.

My sewing class and ladies meeting is such a thrill. The women are so grateful for all that is done for them. They make simple clothing, pillows, quilts, etc. We are making stuffed animals and toys for Christmas.

I wish each one of you could have spent the summer with us. We had two girls from America as our Summer Missionaries. They were in our area for five weeks. During that time we conducted 5 VBSs, a Youth Rally, and a Youth Retreat. In addition to sharing Christ with the children, we conducted adult classes. For handcrafts we made seed mosaics, wastepaper baskets, puppets, sandals, picture books, pillows, handkerchiefs, and small decorative items for the home. On the day we gave out popcorn and gave a demonstration on how to pop corn in a skillet we were almost mobbed by about 200 children who were afraid we might run out of sacks of popcorn before they received theirs.

One of the best illustrations of how eager the people are for the gospel is shown by an experience

I had not long ago, I had gone with Roy to a village where the relatives of one of our Pastors lived. While Roy was visiting with them and helping to work out a family problem, I walked a short distance to hand out tracts. When I started giving them out, people came from everywhere. In a matter of minutes I was surrounded with people crying, "Patsani Mabuka," give me a book. People began pulling and tugging. I called for Roy to come help me, but he couldn't get near. The press of the crowd was so great I just threw the tracts all in the air. You can imagine the clamor. I've learned a lesson. Whenever we go into the bush we give a hundred or so tracts to a number of key leaders in the village and let them pass them out to the people who are seated on the ground in an orderly fashion. Be sure the tract is read and reread, and then passed on to someone else. "How can they hear without a preacher, and how can they preach unless they are sent." Pray that God will send forth more preachers.

We have never been happier — we are where God wants us. We daily thank Him for the privilege of serving in Malawi in this day of opportunity and response. Malawi is one of the few nations with truly an open door and we must work while it is yet day. Pray that others will know of the call of the Lord to Malawi.

The children are all fine. Guy has just returned to school at Kenya. He is 5' 8" tall. Gill just had his 8th birthday. He trusted Christ as his Savior last week. We are all so happy for him, but Gill is the happiest of all. Gay is 5 years old and so sweet and "grown up." Gwen is into everything. This morning she ate my prized African violet and dropped our puppy in the water pan. She is gabbering some in English and some in Chinyanja.

In a personal note to the McCrackens we noticed were Pat said that they plan to return to the states on leave in about a year.

THE TRIBUNE

BANK NOTES by Malcolm

DID YOU KNOW...

THE FIRST U.S. COIN TO BEAR A PORTRAIT WAS THE LINCOLN PENNY THAT APPEARED IN 1909, ON THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE GREAT EMANCIPATOR'S BIRTH. ON THE 150TH ANNIVERSARY, THE IMPRESSION OF THE LINCOLN MEMORIAL WAS ADDED TO THE REVERSE, GIVING OUR "COPPER" THE DESIGN IT STILL HAS.

ONE OF THE TITLES OF JUNO, THE ROMAN GODDESS, WAS JUNO MONETA, "JUNO THE WARNER." ROMAN COINS WERE PRODUCED IN THE TEMPLE OF JUNO MONETA, WHICH BECAME THE ANCIENT CITY'S MINT, AND THAT'S WHERE WE GOT OUR WORDS "MINT" AND "MONEY" — FROM A ROMAN GODDESS!

Public Notice

Persons going into the other Colonias may be stopped with any Number of counterfeit Congress-Notes for the Price of the Paper per Ream. They are so neatly and easily executed that there is no Risk in getting them off, it being almost impossible to discover that they are not genuine. This has been proved by Bills to a large Amount which have already been successfully circulated. Enquire for C.I.E.D. at the Gallos-House, from 11 P.M. to 4 A.M. during the present Month.

During the AMERICAN REVOLUTION, COUNTERFEITING WAS ENCOURAGED BY THE BRITISH AUTHORITIES TO HELP RUN THE VALUE OF THE PAPER MONEY ISSUED BY THE CONTINENTAL CONGRESS. PUBLIC ADVERTISEMENTS TOLD WHERE TO BUY COUNTERFEIT BILLS "FOR THE PRICE OF THE PAPER." SOON "THE COLONISTS' MONEY WAS NOT WORTH A CONTINENTAL!"

We will be looking for all of you to join us once again Monday Oct. 14, at 7:30 p.m.

The theme this month is "What Discipline." The Junior and Senior English Dept, has written and produced skits on home, self and school discipline.

There will be a panel of discussion by the students. If you are a parent, a Youth Rally, and a Youth discipline your teenager would write about, be sure and attend this program.

Thank you, The Executive Committee
