Burial was in the cemetery there.

Mr. Rice died about 9:00 p.m. Friday in a hospital at Fort Smith, Arkansas, after suffering a heart attack.

CURTIS POLLEY

Curtis Polley Earns Double Honor

For the first time this year, Coach George Scott has one man as his "Player of the Week" for his play against the Paducah Dragons last Friday night.

Senior Curtis Polley was the selection as player of the week both on defense and also on offense. Curtis was in on 14 tackles, three of them unassisted on defense. On offense Curtis carried the ball 14 times and gained 92 yards, which comes out to about a 6 1/2 yard per carry average.

Others who were pointed out for fine defensive efforts were David McKay, Kenny Setliff and Ike Ferguson.

On offense, Joe Lane and Ike Ferguson were standouts, according to Coach Scott.

Paducah's score came late in the third period on a 20-yard pass play. The extra point try was also a pass to make the 8-0.

The Turks moved into scoring territory twice during the fourth period, moving to the 14-yard line on one occasion and to the 15 on

Rites Conducted For Ralls Resident Oct. 6

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday of last week for Carrol Lee Moore, 28, of Ralls, at the Assembly of God Church. Arrangements were under the direction of Carter Funeral Home at Ralls.

Moore died about midnight Sunday, October 3, when his pickup truck, northbound on Loop 289, struck a mound of dirt in a construction zone 2 mile north of East 19th Street and overturned four times, smashing through a barricade and stranding wreckage for about 160 feet. He was taken to Methodist Hospital. Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy conducted an inquest.

The pickup, which also struck a speed limit sign, came to rest on its top, the occupant still inside.

It was the city's 25th fatality this year and the 89th recorded on the South Plains.

their next possession, but each time the Dragon defense held and took over.

The Turks will be trying to get in the win column Friday night against the Groom Tigers, who are coached by a former Turk, Sherrod Arnold. The two teams should be evenly matched and the game will be a good one, although the Turks are pretty hard hit by injuries. Ray Mullin underwent knee surgery recently and is out; Fran Cruz suffered a fractured rib in last week's contest; Joe Lane has a pulled muscle in a leg, and there are other bruises here and there. However the Turks are showing a lot of desire and spirit in workouts and they are still out to win, so fans are urged to turn out and help them get the job done. Your presence at the game and your cheers will mean a lot to the team.

On Friday night of next week, October 22, the Turks will start district warfare, hosting Amherst and the chances are good that the Turks can get on the winning side of the ledger in the first district game.

Rainy-Day Fun With Empty Meatkeepers

Empty luncheon meat packages are perfect for keeping children happy and little hands busy on rainy days, or at Brownie and Cub Scout meetings this fall.

Once the meat is gone, use your imagination and let youngsters use theirs to create toys, decorations, even simple household items from these new, recyclable Eckrich "Meatkeeper"™ packages which the company is currently introducing in its luncheon meat line. All you need are scissors, crayons, spray paint, paste, and a paper punch. Add material scraps and left-over strands of string and yarn and these cute and colorful items are easily and quickly made.

And don't forget the packages are good for paper clips, pins, rubber bands, jewelry — or for materials you're using for other Meatkeeper projects! Here are a few suggestions for starters. Let young imaginations take over!

CLOCK
Spray paint a round, bottom portion of "Meatkeeper" package. To make clock face, trace around the circular bottom of the tub, preferably on a contrasting color of construction paper. Cut hands from construction paper and fasten on face of clock with a brad or pin through center of tub bottom. Punch corner with a paper punch and thread with yarn or ribbon. An excellent way to learn numbers — and how to tell time!

PICTURE FRAME
Spray round or square "Meatkeeper" tub with light-colored paint. Paste child's picture on a piece of construction paper which has been cut to fit bottom of tub. "Frame" with cut out dolly pasted to outer edge of tub. Using paper punch, make two holes for yarn or ribbon to hang the picture. A cute gift for a proud parent!

MASK
Masks are easily made from "Meatkeeper" lids. Spray with pink, flesh-colored paint. Use scissors or paring knife to cut eyes and nose. Freckles, teeth, mouth and lashes are made of construction paper and glued to painted surface. Multi-colored yarn is braided and fastened to "face" with tape. Punch holes on outer side edges and use quarter-inch elastic to make mask head-band.

CHILD'S HAT
Spray a round or square "Meatkeeper" tub. Punch holes on each side for yarn "straps." Decorate with ribbons and flowers using glue to hold in place. Cute combinations of accessories are endless!

Several participants declared the meetings with other justices and discussion of common problems and experiences was most rewarding.

Attendance included 28 female JPs, with Mrs. Billie Montgomery of Munday elected president of the West Texas Association. Other elected officers are C. O. Jones of Kermit, first vice president; Charles E. Smith of Lubbock, second vice president, and Wayne LeCroy of Lubbock, secretary-treasurer.

A second session of 20-hour courses are scheduled in Lubbock February 14-16. Texas A&M has scheduled four other state-wide short courses in Arlington, Longview, College Station and San Antonio.

November sessions are set in Arlington November 3-5 and in Longview November 17-19.

RIVERBED HUNTING GETS STATE OKAY

In a recent meeting the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission rescinded one action taken in its June 4 meeting. In June the commissioners closed state-owned riverbeds and railroad rights-of-way to all hunting except waterfowl.

In all counties under regulatory authority, except Dimmitt, Uvalde and Zavala counties, hunting is not prohibited in state-owned riverbeds.

In all counties under regulatory authority hunting regulations for the area will apply to railroad rights-of-way.

SUMMARY OF A SPEECH BY SENATOR HUBERT HUMPHREY AT WASHINGTON FLY-IN

My fellow co-workers, you are my co-workers—by your appearance in Washington today you are helping me with my job. Farmers Union is the best farm organization we have and you are doing more than anyone else; however, you still need to do more. Get in news and write your Congressmen.

Farm prices are made in Washington as well as the market-place. That was the keynote of Senator Hubert Humphrey's opening remarks to some 125 Farmers Union members who had come to Washington as personal lobbyists for strong farm bargaining legislation.

Mr. Humphrey said that part of the farmer's problem is that he has been forgotten by the news media. With the exception of negative stories, such as huge payments, or rich farmers finding loopholes in the payment limitations, agriculture is ignored. Even the financial pages overlook the largest industry in the country with the possible exception of reporting the corn futures market.

Mr. Humphrey said that if his audience thought he looked mad now, they should attend some of the hearings of the Joint Committee on the Economic Report on which he serves. That Committee's special duty, he said, is to review the economic report of the Council of Economic Advisers to the President of the United States. Witnesses testify from the Administration, from business and from labor but not one in a hundred mentions agriculture. Senator Humphrey said that he asks the witnesses if they can spell "farm" or "farmer." Then he asks if they can spell "agriculture."

The purpose, he said, was to emphasize the point that you can't talk about the wage-price freeze—you can't talk about inflation, recession and unemployment without discussing one of the greatest segments of the whole economy, which is agriculture. The people down here in Washington, he said, are interested in the environment, race, cities, prices, labor, interests and the rest, but very few are talking about agriculture. That is why it is difficult to get action from Congressional committees and why it is difficult to even get members to serve on the Agriculture Committee.

Mr. Humphrey reminded his audience that one of his Senatorial campaign promises had been to ask for an assignment on the Senate Agriculture Committee. He made good on that promise and is now a member. He admitted that it is not considered one of the most choice assignments in the Senate especially for a man who has served on the Foreign Relations Committee where you make the news. "You don't run for high office on the Committee on Agriculture. There hasn't been a question asked on one of these television shows about agriculture for so long that they've forgotten how to ask it," he said.

Until we get people concerned, he said, nothing is going to happen. That is why personal lobbying is so important. Here in Washington you should not be visiting only your old buddies, but talking to everyone. "It is nice to be polite," said the Senator, "but you must go up to people, look them in the eye, and tell them your story. That's the way you're going to get action down here," he said.

Mr. Humphrey lashed out at the 1970 farm program and called it "nothing but trouble." He recalled National Farmers Union president Tony Dechant's call for an end to the set-aside program. The Senator said that the 1965 farm program was beginning to work when it was scrapped.

To emphasize his point, Senator Humphrey quoted some of the current farm prices. Corn, he said, is averaging 92¢ at Minnesota county elevators and less in some places. He asked the rhetorical question: "What do you think would happen if the IBM stock dropped that much?" He said there would be headlines so big you wouldn't find space for them in the papers. "These are bankruptcy prices," he said. Referring to the upcoming second phase of the wage-price freeze, Senator Humphrey said, "I don't care how many fancy Dan phase two programs we come up with." Investment credits will not help much, he added, when wheat prices are down, sorghums are down and feed grains and all farm income is down. He predicted that the recession will continue and millions of people will be out of work until the nation's economic base is rebuilt, starting with agriculture. You will not solve the problems by the "trickle-down" theory of helping big business and waiting until farmers and others receive some benefits down the line. We've got to get someone in this government that understands that you can't solve the problem by holding down agriculture.

Mr. Humphrey expressed amazement at President Nixon's comment when it was pointed out to him that agriculture is taking the economic brunt of efforts to solve the trade deficit. He said that Mr. Nixon is reported to have said "Agriculture can stand it." That, he said, shows a tragic misunderstanding of the situation.

He said that he was pleased to see that the strategic reserve bill had been passed in a House Agriculture Subcommittee and pointed out that similar bills had passed the Senate in previous years but had been killed in the House. He expressed pleasure with the Melcher bill which has passed a similar committee, saying that a 25% increase in the loan level during times of surplus will go a long way toward providing immediate economic relief during this year's bumper crops. He had high praise for the Mondale-Bergland bills as sensible, effective legislation providing for meaningful farm bargaining. "If I hadn't been playing vice-president, that would have been the Humphrey Bill."

The Senator chided Farmers Union for "still not completely understanding political action." "Farmers Union must be involved in the political arena," he said. Farmers have been known to vote for their worst enemies. He emphasized that he was not simply talking about voting Democratic but did feel that any representative who does not do the job for farmers should be replaced by someone who will.

The Administration is holding up appropriated funds and trying to save money by cutting back on the school lunch program, he said. The Child Nutrition Act will provide school meals for every child in school. He noted that without a nutritious diet, we are asking for dropouts from the educational system, not only because of academic reasons but because of health and the inability to learn on an empty stomach. All of the social programs will cost money, but you shouldn't let that worry you, he said. Just take a look at how much we are able to spend on the military budget. Certainly a great nation such as ours should be able to provide for its greatest resource—people.

Rural development can work only if there is a strong agriculture. He said rural development programs will mean little without good farm prices, storage reserves, and supply management. Rural development begins with improved farm income, he said.

Senator Humphrey warned against the corporate giants in agriculture and said the fight to stop their spread should be taken up in every state legislature. The Rural Development Bank

INTERM REPORT

by Rep. Tom Christian
Thursday a letter signed by 43 members of the Texas Legislature was presented to Governor Preston Smith with the request that a special session of the Legislature be called in order to declare the chair of Speaker of the House "vacant." As one of these 43 members I strongly urge the Governor to grant this request.

Speaker Gus Mutscher has indicated that he would retain his office because of his position on the Constitutionally-authorized Redistricting Board. However, it has been made known that he does not intend to step down.

We do not seek to jeopardize the position of Speaker Mutscher in his upcoming court case, but we are concerned with the image of the Texas Legislature.

For almost a year the Texas House of Representatives has suffered from the divisiveness of the current leadership and it is time that we pick up the pieces of our State government and begin to move forward again.

The scandals which have rocked our state over this extended period of time have shaken the faith of people in their government. A continuation of this situation will only contribute to its further deterioration.

We are already slated for a special session to write an appropriations bill. So we might as well take care of this matter at the same time and avoid the expense of calling two special sessions.

I am hoping that the Governor will give this recommendation his serious consideration.

Highlights And Sidelights

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — A new year-round voter registration law went into effect for Texans on October 1.

Predictions are that it will make significant changes in the political structure of the state. New rules governing the operation of

Aoudad Hunt Will Be Held Nov. 14 - 20

From a nucleus of 44 animals released in 1957, the aoudad sheep population in the Palo Duro Canyon area has grown to more than 650 animals, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists.

Hunters are going after the big sheep should have a good hunt during the November 14-20 season, say the biologists.

Landowners designated as having surplus animals can pick up the required permits beginning on October 18 at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department office in Amarillo.

Aoudads are natives of the Atlas mountains of Africa. The big sheep may weigh as much as 270 pounds, and the world record aoudad had horns 34 1/2 inches long. The largest horns taken from the Palo Duro Canyon were 32 inches long.

Aoudad hunting is traditionally tough on the hunter since cold and rainy weather has blustered into the canyon area during the hunt for the past few years. Getting the aoudad out of the rugged canyon area demands the utmost in stamina.

The annual harvest of aoudads political party conventions also will begin operating next year.

These major provisions in the new voter registration act are noted:

★Voters can register at any time (except for a temporary cutoff 31 days before each election). Registration is good for three years, and is automatically renewed by participation in an election during that period. The old registration period, one of the shortest in the nation, was October 1-January 31.

★Eighteen to 21-year-olds may register and are eligible to vote in local, state and federal elections under a new U. S. constitutional amendment.

★Roving or resident registration deputies may sign up voters anywhere, apartments, union halls, club rooms, dormitories, industrial plants, office buildings, supermarkets or private residences. The law provides that "no voter registrar shall refuse to deputize a person." This is expected to increase sharply the use of deputies to round up voters.

Predictions range upwards of five million total eligible voters in 1972, an increase of a million over 1970.

Voters must have resided in the state a year and in a county for six months to qualify for local election participation. Those who have lived in Texas more than 30 days but less than a year before the November 1972 general election can vote for presidential and vice presidential candidates under special residency registration with is less than 50 animals. Hunters spend an average of eight hours each and fire an average of three shots each.

Only in the Panhandle counties with an open aoudad season are the sheep considered game animals. In all other counties they are classified as exotics.

STATE TO FIGHT FOR TREASURE

The state is prepared to go to the U. S. Supreme Court to get title to all artifacts recovered from Spanish galleons which sank off Padre Island more than 400 years ago.

Texas Antiquities Committee was told a decision is near by Brownsville federal court in a long legal dispute over the treasure. Platoro Ltd., a Gary, Indiana salvage firm, recovered the valuables in 1967 and proposes a 50-50 split with the state which demands the entire treasure.

Meanwhile, Committee learned an underwater archaeologist has agreed to help set up a program to recover artifacts from another ancient Spanish galleon near Padre Island next year.

COURTS SPEAK

The Supreme Court dismissed the appeal of relatives of Clyde Barrow who lost a suit against Warner Brothers Studio claiming character defamation in the movie "Bonnie and Clyde."

In a pile of other decisions released after a summer recess, the High Court:

★Set a November 17 review of a San Antonio district court ruling which the Alcoholic Beverage Commission maintains would rob it of its power to suspend dealers' licenses for violations.

★Upheld an injunction against a Tarrant County dentist who allegedly claimed he could diagnose and treat cancer.

★Said the Texas Railroad Commission has power to change natural gas prices covered by contracts between cities and pipeline companies when it finds a change is in the public interest. The case grew out of High Plains Natural Gas Company's effort to get a price increase for gas sold to the city of Perryton.

★Turned down city of Azle's appeal from the 1969 incorporation of Sanctuary in Parker County, holding Azle had not proved jurisdiction over the property.

★Booked November 3 hearing of Denton County case in which a father sued his son who backed a car into him for negligence.
