KIM HAM TELLS OF MONTH AT CAMP

(Kim Ham recently returned from a month stay at Camp Davis in New Mexico. It was an event she had been looking forward to for several years and she wants to share her experiences with all her friends. The following is an account

Early Wednesday morning, June 18, we drove to Lubbock where I boarded a bus, waving goodbye to my family. I didn't know anyone going to Camp Davis, but I soon made many new friends. I was fascinated by the countryside. Camp Davis was settled deep among the mountains and forests of New Mexico. Coach and Mrs. "Mule" Davis own and operate the camp.

The first days of camp were spent getting acquainted with everyone. There were six cabins and I was in Cabin 4, along with seven other girls. The meals there were the best ever. Every morning we arose at 7:45, ran out on the porch and yelled "Cabin 4"! There was a cold shower ready for those who didn't.

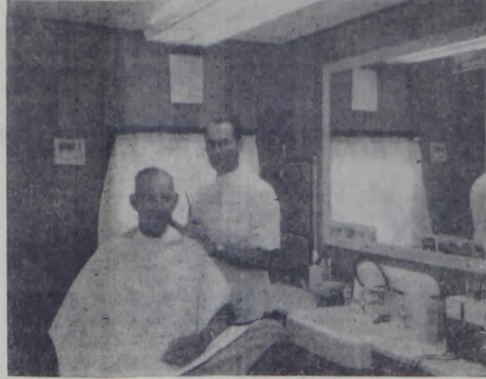

Each day we had a choice of activities for that day. The activities provided were horseshoe pitching, miniature golf, riflery, tennis, archery and badminton. Hikes and horseback rides were taken daily. Each night after dinner we had "Rec Hall", at which times the cabins took turns entertaining. We played such games as Charades and Bingo. If it was a nice evening, we would have a counselor hunt. After Rec Hall we would have our friendship circle. All the campers and counselors would gather around in a circle outside under the stars and sing the friendship song.

Sundays at camp weren't exactly what one would call a day of rest. Although we had breakfast in bed and got to sleep later in the morning, that was just to get us prepared for what was ahead. Next we cleaned the cabin from top to bottom. Every cobweb had to be brought down, the floors swept and mopped, the walls dusted, and the grounds raked. Coach and some of the counselors came by for inspection of the cabins.

The morning worship services were prepared and given by the counselors. Afterward we had our Sunday lunch which included turkey and dressing with all the trimmings. Candy was given to the two cabins that won inspection. In the afternoon we played a game of baseball, and then had a picnic. Afterward we had vespers during which time we sang hymns and quoted Scriptures around a fire.

About ten days after camp had begun, the snow trips to the snow-capped mountains were scheduled.

Shirttail Sermon

When Isaac Newton saw his falling apple and discovered gravity, the third dimension was opened to man's comprehension. Albert Einstein has added a fourth dimension with his work on the theory of relativity and its connection with space travel. Experiment suggests that a person traveling at the speed of light would experience a standstill in time and destruction of the ability to sense distance. All time would become present, with no sense of past or future. While this is far too complicated a theory to explain in just a few short sentences, we do find that a man named Jesus understood very well man's need to live in the fourth dimension, the dimension of time.

Many human beings become what one might call slaves to the future, as is so well illustrated in God's Word. In Luke's sixteenth chapter, Jesus tells of a rich man who harvested a bumper crop one year. After storing his grain in huge, new barns he said to himself, "Lucky man! You have all the goods you need for many years. Take life easy, eat, drink, and enjoy yourself." But the Bible says that God came that night to say, "You fool! Tonight your life is required of you, and then who will own all these riches which are yours?"

This man made just one mistake, but it cost him heaven. He assumed that he would have tomorrow, and during that time he thought he might get right with God. The Lord never promises us tomorrow. "Boast not thyself of tomorrow: for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth." (Proverbs 27:1. Perhaps our greatest stumblingblock today is this affluent society in which freedom has rendered us independent and self sufficient to the point that we neither have time or need of God. Perhaps you have built bigger barns, saying you are rich with many years of life ahead of you. How would you stand with the Lord if Christ labeled you the fool and required you to give up your life tonight?
