

$50 Door Prize, Talks To Feature CofC Event

Brief talks by civic groups, meeting new members, and a $50 door prize will be the program features at a quarterly breakfast meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at 7 a.m. Wednesday, October 29.

The $50 door prize (you must be present to win) is being sponsored by the First National Bank and Kimbrough Funeral Home. Breakfast tickets are $3.50, and reservations must be made by 5 p.m. on October 28th by calling the CofC office (442-2537).

Five minute talks about the purpose and projects of three service clubs, the historical society and the AARP will be on the program. New members will be introduced and there will be some surprises, reported Breakfast Chairman Elaine Dixon.

CofC President Roy Dennis will preside at the event.

CJC Wranglers Are Now 6-0

The Wranglers of Cisco Junior College continued their winning ways Monday night as they defeated the North Texas State junior varsity 10-3 in Denton. The Monday night game, dominated by defense, was CJC's sixth straight victory as they remain undefeated for the season.

After a scoreless first quarter, Cisco's Ricky Nunn kicked a 36-yard field goal and the Wranglers took that 3-0 lead into the locker room at halftime.

Cisco scored next in the fourth quarter on a 13-yard pass from quarterback Bill Bayless to Matt Ligon and Nunn booted the extra point to make the score 10-0. NTSU got its only points on a 27-yard Gary Franklin field goal late in the final period.

Cisco's next game will be Saturday night in Roswell, N.M., against New Mexico Military Institute. Kick off will be at 7:30 p.m.

Hall Of

by Herrol Hallmark

CONGRATULATIONS to Randy Linn, manager of the local Allsup's convenience store, who recently won an all-expense paid trip to Mexico.

FOUR WOMEN from the First Evangelical Methodist Church in Cisco spent the weekend in a Women's Retreat at Trinidad, Texas. Returning to Cisco Sunday afternoon from the trip were Evelyn Clinton, Rosa Escobedo, Rochelle Wheeler and Ramona Nichols.

I am sure their husbands were glad to have them back home, but this weekend the men have the opportunity to attend a Men's Retreat. I wonder how many of the men will be going?

VISITORS IN the home of Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Harris of Cisco this past weekend were their son, Dr. Larry Harris, his wife, Judy and their son Jason. The Larry Harris are of Houston.

ON THE GROW could be the motto for Marvallee's Dress Shop of Cisco as they moved into their new larger building this week at 611 East 8th.

LANE FRANKS of Cisco has been elected as Youth Minister at the First Evangelical Methodist Church and will begin his duties there this week.

Plans call for non-denominational youth activities to be planned and open to all youth of Cisco. More will be printed on this as it develops.

AREN'T YOU glad the Cisco Lobos game which is to be played the week of Halloween has been scheduled for Saturday night, instead of the usual Friday night, since that would be October 31, Halloween night?

ARE YOU READY to set your clocks back one hour this Sunday, October 26, as we go back to the regular time? Sometimes I wish they would just leave the time alone, or maybe strike a happy medium and set it either a half hour ahead or back, and leave it there.

Gospel Singing To Be Sunday

There will be a gospel singing Sunday afternoon, October 26, from 2:00 to 4:00 at the First Assembly of God Church, 308 West 7th Street, Cisco. Solos, duets, trios, quartets, and congregational singing will be the order of the service. Come and join in the singspiration.

Annual Bazaar Of CWF To Be Oct. 31 & Nov. 1

The annual bazaar of the Christian Women Fellowship of the First Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) will be held October 31 and November 1, in the fellowship hall of the church, 303 West 8th. The members have been working all year on various handmade items and there will be a bake shop. Breakfast and lunch will be served both days.

Make plans now to come and Christmas shop from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

CJC Sophomore Has Two Loves: Football And Choir

Jimmy Smitherman, a sophomore banking finance major at Cisco Junior College, has two loves: football and choir. Recently he told CJC Choral Director Wylee Peebles, as he left the choir room, "I like this class as much as I like football." On the gridiron Smitherman wears Wrangler jersey No. 60 and plays offensive guard. He stands six-two, weighs 225 pounds, and sings bass with the CJC Singers. At Crane High School he played both offense and defense for Coach Joe Allen and sang in the high school choir under the direction of Tommy Butler. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smitherman of Crane.

As an outstanding track man, Smitherman attended Odessa Junior College on a track scholarship following his graduation from Crane High School in 1978. His performances in track prompted Abilene Christian University to offer him scholarships in both track

Two Police Cars Accepted By City

The Cisco Police Department took delivery Monday of two 1978 Ford police cars that were purchased recently by the City of Cisco from the Department of Public Safety. Chief Bill Pence and Utilities Superintendent Frank Young went to Austin to pick up the vehicles.

Both of the police cars, which were in service Tuesday, were completely reconditioned and sold by DPS for $2,000 each, City Manager R.J. Turpin reported. The city will take delivery later this month of two other DPS reconditioned cars, a Dodge and a Plymouth, Mr. Turpin said. The city paid $7,250 for the four vehicles that are replacing worn-out equipment, he added.

CHS Loboes To Host DeLeon At Chesley Field Friday Night

The Cisco High School Loboes met at the Corral Room Thursday, October 16, at 6 p.m. for a covered dish supper and regular meeting with 49 members and two visitors.

Neal Moore gave the secretary's report. It was approved as read.

Lela Lloyd gave the treasurer's report. One new member brought the membership to 112.

Thelma Bosworth gave the community service report. It was voted to make the next regular meeting November 20 a celebration of the fifth anniversary of the Cisco Chapter. There will not be a meal but birthday cake and punch will be served and past presidents will be honored.

The group was dismissed by Gid Bowers at 8 p.m.

Good Will Rebekah Lodge Holds Meeting

The Good Will Rebekah Lodge #102 met for their regular meeting recently with Era Hamilton presiding.

An announcement was made about the Oil Belt IOOF and Rebekah Association, in which Good Will Rebekah Lodge #102 is a member, will be held in Stephenville American Legion Hall with a pot luck supper at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 21. Also a reminder of the pot luck supper and Halloween party at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, October 23, at the regular meeting.

CJC Elects Class Officers

Cisco Junior College recently held an election for the purpose of electing class officers for the freshman and sophomore classes.

Freshmen elected were John Cox, president, Godley; Karen Bostick, vice president, Cisco; Dianne Fox, secretary, Eastland; and Tracey Gallman, treasurer, Fort Worth.

These officers will serve during the 1980-81 school year.

Dublin 27-22 while DeLeon was defeated by Eastland 13-7. The Eastland Mavericks are now rated #1 in District 10-AA as they are undefeated with a 6-0 record for the season. Cisco is 1-2 in District play and 3-3 for the season. DeLeon has a 2-1 record for District play and 4-2 for the season.

Cisco Coach Rick Calhoun said DeLeon has a "fine, starting ball club." He said they use the wishbone formation and "do a good job" with their "good running backs." He also said DeLeon has a member eligible this week for play who is a former player from Breckenridge. He stated "we are only concerned with winning the game Friday night."

A doubtful starting player for the Loboes this week will be Danny Garcia who sprained his ankle in last week's game at Dublin, according to Coach Calhoun.

He also said Jimmy Elrod is doing the kicking for Cisco but it is doubtful if he will see any other type of playing because of his still bruised thigh which they are being careful to protect. Elrod had been on the injured list since Cisco's first game against Haskell.

Friday night's offensive starting lineup, according to Coach Calhoun, will probably be as follows: Randall Rattan, quarterback; Forrest Starr, tailback; Gary Speegle, fullback; Kory Wallace, center; Mark Hum-

Don Hamilton Is Promoted To C-City Sergeant

Don Hamilton, a former member of the Cisco Police Department a number of years ago, was recently promoted to the rank of sergeant with the Colorado City Police Department.

Mr. Hamilton was raised in the Cisco area and his mother, Gladys Glenn, presently lives in Breckenridge.

Tommy Claborn & Ken Cunningham Place At Fair

Tommy Claborn and Ken Cunningham placed with their animals at the State Fair. Tommy showed a light weight Hampshire lamb that placed 24th in his class and sold for $120.00 per pound in the special sale on Saturday morning. Ken had a Poland China hog that placed seventh in his class.

Wolves Defeat Hawks With 20-16 Flag-Ball Victory Here

The Wolves still have a perfect record, but the Hawks would have spoiled it if an offside penalty had not cancelled a winning TD by James Johnson in the last few minutes of the game.

The Wolves had many team members gone on a Boy Scout trip and like to have not had enough to play the game but were still able to keep their record clean.

The Hawks were the first to score on a 20 yard run by Shelby Nixon on a hand off from quarterback James Johnson. Johnson scored two on a quarterback keeper to make the score 8-0.

The Hawks kicked off to the Wolves and quarterback Jarrod Jeffcoat picked it up and ran 60 yards for a TD. Dusty Petree added two points to tie the score 8-8.

Touring Texas lakes

Lake Cisco: An old lake with good fishing

By L. A. Wilke

Lake Cisco, one of those early-day lakes of Texas, was started some 60 years ago. At that time oil was the principal product of that little West Texas town in Eastland County. But municipal water was needed for a growth that really never did develop into a metropolitan center. Lake Cisco is impounded by the Williamson Dam, started back in 1920. It covers a little less than 500 surface acres with only a 26 mile drainage area. It was built across Sandy Creek, that flows north in Eastland County, with a greater surface flow above the lake than below it. But Cisco has made the best of this lake. Today it is one of the play spots of West Texas with its rolling plains, 100 miles West of Fort Worth. The weather is ideal for its use with an average mean temperature of 68 degrees. Lake Cisco has a 35 mile shoreline, and is one of the beauty spots along US 80 between Fort Worth and El Paso. There are numerous cabins, good fishing and water sports. And since it serves the needs of Cisco for its municipal water, it is a landmark of that area. Cisco has its traditions. It is the town where Conrad Hilton built his first hotel that grew into a worldwide chain. And despite the fact that it was built larger than the available water would support and doesn't stay full, it is still considered one of the fishing spots of all that part of Texas. Perhaps one of its early claims to fame came with the infamous Santa Claus bank robbery back about 1927 when robbers impersonating old Nick were killed in their attempt to rob the bank. A monument marks its history today. Then there was the brick highway between Ranger and Cisco, one of the early paved sections of this highway running from Broadway, New York to Broadway, San Diego. Right now Cisco is getting ready to observe its 100th anniversary in 1981. It still refers to the city as one with a promising future. And that is what the fishermen think of it. If you are looking for a spot where there is fishing and fun, you might consider this spot in West Texas. The city maintains cabins and parking areas for fishermen and campers, both in town and at the lake's park area. There is a boat ramp on Schlaphers Creek, with two other very small lakes, known as Twin Lake and Bernie Lake, just south of the main body of water. So, if you are looking for a place to spend an enjoyable vacation during the coming year, you might write to Gene Abbott, manager of the Cisco CoFC, Cisco, 76437. Abbott can steer you to some good camping spots and some good fishing, too.

KERC Has Strange Loss Of Power

At approximately 10:10 a.m. on Monday, Oct. 20, 1980, KERC Radio Station in downtown Eastland experienced temporary loss of transmission power. The reason for this is still a mystery to the personnel and management of the local station. In an interview with station manager, Dave Walker, who was in his office at the time of the unexplained happening, he stated that "during the time of our power loss, disc jockey Bob Kincheloe noted the unusual action of the monitoring dials. Upon opening an outside channel he picked up some sort of transmissions. Where it came from we still do not know." He went on to say, "Our chief engineer still has no explanation as to recent deviations in the normal transmitting power." Mr. Walker also said that under the rules of the radio station, all transmission received or put out through the control board are automatically recorded for further use. It seems that even though all power was lost, the recorder, which is located at the transmitter site on the Lake Leon Road, continued recording transmissions. Therefore, KERC has a recording of the unknown transmission. After lengthy study of the recording and its contents it has been determined to contain the following statement. "Greetings earthlings! We have been monitoring your local radio transmissions and have received word that another meeting has been requested. This request will be accepted with the following conditions - 1) only the Eastland Jaycees will attend the meeting, 2) no outsiders will be allowed, and 3) no physical contact will be made with our people." Local authorities would not allow time or place of the meeting to be disclosed. The Jaycees, due to the fact that they have been put in charge of the investigation, were notified and the information was given out to them. This media will keep you informed on the latest happenings concerning this incident.

Olden Volunteer Fire Department Sponsors Country Music Concert

Once again the Olden Volunteer Fire Department will be sponsoring a Country Music Concert at Olden Gym at 8:00 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 23rd.

In person, Joe Paul Nichols and his Five Pennies, plus Dale Lay stars of Radio and T.V. plus G.M. Records.

Most of us are well acquainted with them as they have been here to entertain us for several years.

The concession stand will be open with lots of goodies. Please plan to be here.

Tickets will be available at Olden Sharp Shop (O.D. Cooper). They will also be available at the door $2.50 for adults and $2.00 for children. If you buy before then, it is $2.00 for adults and $1.50 for children.

House To Have New Extras

The Jaycees have been hard at work preparing for their second annual Haunted House to be held October 25, 27, 28, 30, & 31 in the Jaycees meeting hall on the south side of the square in downtown Eastland.

This year's haunted house will feature the same spooks as last year with many new extras this year. Many special effects will be utilized which are all being prepared by Jaycee members.

Last year's haunted house was a huge success and it is hoped that this year can be bigger and better. Help is needed in the effort to get everything ready in time and if you would like to be a part of this year's "spook house" contact any Jaycee member or Jaycee President Jim Keffer. Remember to mark your calendar for this upcoming spectacular event.

DALE LAY
GM Records

Dale Lay was raised around the saw mills of Eastern Oklahoma near the Arkansas border, where listening to country music was a part of life. The Grand Ole Opry, broadcast over WSM in Nashville, was something he looked forward to every Saturday night. Little did he dream that the day was to come when he would be invited to come to Nashville to sing over WSM. Dale developed a deep love for country music early in life. Hank Williams was among his favorite singers.

It wasn't long before young Dale was doing a little picking himself, playing for country dances by the time he was nine. This proved to be the start of a life-long career as an entertainer. Today Dale Lay is well known in the entertainment world of country music. He is

Joe Paul Nichols & His Five Pennies

If hard work is the road to success, Joe Paul Nichols recognized by well known show business personalities, Dale is quick to give credit for his successful career to old friends like Ernest Tubb who gave him a helping hand along the way. In turn, Dale tries to help others get a start in the music business. In his unselfish effort he has helped Tim Knight into a very successful career in the world of entertainment.

Dale has managed somehow to hang on to the simple lifestyle that many other successful entertainers seem to lose. He has written and recorded a number of songs on the GM label. His records and eight-track tapes can be found in the homes of friends and fans all over the country. Many thousands of country music fans have come to know Dale through television shows and his many personal appearance tours on the Grand Ole Opry road shows with Loretta Lynn, Little Jimmy Dickens, The Wilburn Brothers, George Jones, Cal Smith, Jack Green, Jeannie Seelye, David Houston, Bobbie Bare, Ernest Tubb and a host of other big names of country music.

Dale has come a long way from the country dances in Eastern Oklahoma saw mill country to the successful career he now enjoys. One thing Dale enjoys most of all is meeting new friends as he travels across the country.

and His Five Pennies figures they have piled up more than their share of mileage. Nichols and his band continue to be one of the busiest groups in Texas and Oklahoma playing shows during the week and dances on weekends. Joe Paul and his band are one of the best dressed groups in this area. They have several sets of matching uniforms.

Always, for Nichols, there is the search, the constant looking, for The Song - the tune which will become the big hit. Joe Paul has recorded over one hundred songs in his career on singles and albums. He records for Custom Records, and some of his recordings are "Hello Trouble", "These Little Things", "Hallelujah Jones", "Mathilda", and "Texas Memory".

Nichols and His Five Pennies have toured with the Hee Haw cast, and are familiar faces around state fairs and rodeos where they have performed with stars like Mel Tillis, George Jones, Ernest Tubb, and Johnny Paycheck.

What the crowds get is a goodly portion of traditional country music, strong on George Jones and Bob Wills, for example, leavened with contemporary contributions from such as The Oak Ridge Boys, Larry Gatlin, and etc. There is plenty of instrumental work and plenty of Joe Paul Nichols, too, in the person of his strong baritone. If you are looking for good Country Music you can't go wrong when you see a Joe Paul Nichols Show.

DANGER! HIGH EXPLOSIVES
 (ED. NOTE: With increased oil activity in Eastland County, there is possibility that youngsters might find dangerous "play-things" around and this article is presented to warn parents and youth.)
 by B.J. Cosley
 You're off enjoying a pleasant weekend in the desert and one of your group returns to camp with some old dynamite from an abandoned mine. What would you do?
 Harry Hampton of the Institute of Makers of Explosives (IME) advises: "Move it only if absolutely necessary. As dynamite grows older it becomes more sensitive. Any handling or movement must be gentle, tender, with loving care. And the best handling of all is NONE AT ALL!"
 Instead of old dynamite, suppose it had been a child with a pocketful of detonating caps picked up in a deserted cabin? The warning is still the same. IME's safety message to the public regarding all explosives is "Don't Touch!" Only qualified persons should handle its removal.
 "But I've been going to the desert for years, and I've never seen any explosives," you say. Maybe you've just been lucky, because according to William McCorkle of E.I. duPont de Nemours & Co., a manufacturer of explosives, "A lot of it is lying around out there."
 The facts are that dynamite abandoned in old mines and prospectors' diggings, particularly under certain temperature conditions, will function today almost exactly as it was intended to function 25 or 75 years ago. The same holds true for blasting caps.
 Caps are used to detonate commercial explosives during blasting operations. If handled improperly, they can cause serious injury or damage. Builders, miners, ranchers, all use blasing caps in their work - over 100,000,000 each year. Rigid regulations require extreme care when moving, handling or storing. Nevertheless, some caps are lost, stolen or simply stored away and forgotten. Blasting caps can be set off by electrical fields from almost any source (wall outlets, batteries or even static), from exposure to heat, and from rough handling. Two-way radios operated nearby are particularly dangerous.
 The caps are powerful enough to rip up your face, blow off your fingers, put out your eyes or make you deaf. To make matters worse, they appear to be no more threatening than a small firecracker.
 In the California Desert several years ago, three young boys on bikes discovered a box of colored wires and small, shiny metal tubes. Unable to resist this interesting find, one of them tossed the box into his basket and continued down the hot, bumpy road. One hour later there was an explosion. He was lucky! He only lost two fingers, but he could have lost his life. Of course, he had never seen nor heard of blasting caps.

 According to William Digel of the Petrochemical Division at DuPont, the most dangerous find of all is old dynamite. And because it was used extensively years ago, the chances of finding some are far greater. Basically, dynamite contains nitroglycerin plus a "safer," inert material and is generally less dangerous to handle as long as the nitro remains dispersed throughout this relatively inert material.
 The cartridges or cylinders vary from seven-eighths to eight inches in diameter and range in length from four to 30 inches. As the dynamite grows older is becomes more sensitive and if it should sit without proper care for a long period of time, it tends to "sweat." In other words, the nitro leeches out and crystallizes at one end or on the surface. Dynamite has even been known to turn the board it rested on into a lethal bomb, because the nitro transfers by osmosis. At this point it is more deadly than any rattlesnake. Don't touch it! Don't even go near it!
 Not long ago the Los Angeles Times reported on a teenager's find in the Mojave Desert. He had been exploring a deserted cave when he came upon a cache of dynamite used in mining operations. Being a good citizen, he carefully removed it to a police station. He was lucky. So were several hundred other. More than 1,000 persons were evacuated from the area while the bomb squad applied chemicals to neutralize the explosives. Officers said the dynamite was about 10 years old and because of its age, extremely unstable.
 Since weekend outings to the desert often mean exploring abandoned mines, excavations, quarries or ghost towns, don't overlook the fact that these are also considered dangerous sites by the safety experts. The crumbling ruins of a 100-year-old prospector's cabin or the deserted trailer of more recent vintage are two risky possibilities.
 So whether you explore the desert in an RV, on a trail bike or on your own two feet, if you want to keep your weekends accident-free, study the pictures on the adjacent page. Pass them around and make sure every member of your family or group not only learns to identify blasting caps but also understands the dangers of explosives.
 Remember, should you find anything that looks like an explosive, leave it alone. Do not touch or move it. If possible, post a guard and report your find to public safety authorities - police, sheriff, fire department or military unit. Uninformed, untrained individuals must not dispose of the material. Treat explosives like you would rattlesnakes. Stay Away!

Association To Sponsor Day

The Cisco Livestock Show Association will sponsor the Eastland County 4-H and FFA Beef Field Day on Saturday, October 25, at Cisco High School. The day will begin at 9:00 a.m. and its activities will include a program on feeding, fitting and showing animals.

There will be a judging contest for adults and school students. There will also be a division for out of county students. There will be a showmanship contest for dairy animals, beef animals and sheep. A tail rattling contest for beef cattle will be held.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon. Those attending are reminded to bring a covered dish.

The purpose of field days is to get youths involved, familiar with shows and how they function.

Every 4-H and FFA boy and girl in Eastland County is invited to come and bring an animal. All area ranchers and interested persons are invited to attend the event. Tommy Toland and Gilbert Copeland, high school ag teachers, and Cisco 4-H adult leaders would especially like to encourage all future FFA and 4-H feeders and their parents to come and take part in the day's activities.

The decision to have the field day was made at a recent meeting of the association at the Colony Restaurant.

The association's board of directors are Charles Moad, president, Henry Fry, Sutton Crofts, Jimmie Lee, Charles Clark, Douglas Fry, Gaston Boyd and Ross McCaghen.

New Booklet On Merchandising Tips Is Inflation-Fighter For Business

"Merchandising for Profit, a Guide for More Business" is a new eight-page tabloid publication that can help every businessman reap more profit in this inflation-ravaged age.

The booklet is a storehouse of tips and advice on "getting the most of what you've got" and there's dollars and cents suggestions on merchandising, advertising, motivating employees, handling credit, housekeeping, and the section on meeting and beating competition could mean the difference between profit and loss.

Another tip worth dollars suggests taking advantage of the local newspaper's professional art services and layout expertise which can give any business, an extra edge in putting the best foot forward in advertising and promotion.

"Fantastic" is the way Lyndell Williams, Executive Director of the Texas Press Association, describes the tabloid.

As Emerson said, "This time, like all times, is a very good one if we but know what to do with it."

All in all, the little tabloid rounds up a lot of good advice for every business, large or small. Copies are available for $1 from Merchandising, P.O. Box 29, Eastland, Texas 76448. ($5 will bring 10 copies for distribution to employees).

IWU Reflections In Perspective

By I. Will Ussery

Los Teques is a charming old city of some 20,000 population which rest quietly atop one of the many high ridges of the western branch of the Andes mountains about 30-40 kilometers to the southwest of the capital city of Caracas, Venezuela. At an altitude of something like 5,000 feet, it is literally in a land of perpetual Springtime. The sun shines every day in the year, and while the lowest temperature in mid-winter may drop into the middle fifties (F), the high rarely goes above 80.

The claim to eternal Springtime is well supported by the principal industry of the city...floriculture. The commercial floral farms produce just about any flower one could name, but the principal commercial product is gladioli. The flowers are grown by Portuguese gardeners in tiny mountainside plots literally scratched out of the fertile mountainsides and propped up behind high stone terraces.

When the Pan American Highway was constructed, they considerably skirted the city, leaving the original almost totally untouched by modern influence. Southbound, to the left of the highway there is largely a void of space through which one has a vista of vast distance across shoulders and steep valleys of the mountains, along the slopes of which mahogany and coffee trees grow right to the tops of the ridges.

Between the two turnoffs which lead from the Pan-American into Los Teques (the locals do not insist upon their use, actually) is situated the "hotel Los Alpes", which was owned and operated by a Swiss couple. Clinging to the mountainside by means which remain a mystery to me until this day, and on the "off side" of the highway, the Los Alpes offered a breathing stop for the truckdrivers who had ground their way to a point from which everything would be downhill for the next forty miles.

With fuel pumps and a tire repair shop in the front, there was also a Venezuelan answer to today's fast food facility via which the drivers could be served such hearty delicacies as empanadas, pastellitos, or a dish of lomo con papas and a bottle of the heavy local beer with which to wash it down.

Inside there was another world. Miraculously insulated from the noise of the highway traffic, and providing a view through steel-sash casement windows across countless miles of mountain scenery was the dining room of the Los Alpes. And it appeared that an olive pit dropped from one of those windows would have fallen hundreds of feet, so precarious was the perch of the hotel on the shoulder of the mountain.

In the operation of the hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Cross had a very sound and workable arrangement. Madame ran the kitchen and the fast food department, while her husband held sway over the dining room and the twenty rooms which were on the second floor...and also well insulated from the traffic. All the rooms afforded the same view as that of the dining room.

Having occasion to be in Caracas for a week or so, and having tired somewhat of the frenetic pace of Maracaibo and Caracas, I abandoned my suite at the Hotel Tamanaco in Caracas for a room at Los Alpes. After all, it was only a short

Cong. Stenholm Questions Reagans

Statements On The Farmer

ABILENE, TX--Congressman Charles W. Stenholm today called upon Republican Presidential candidate Ronald Reagan to "either repudiate the anti-farmer statements of his chief agricultural advisor or quit saying he is for improving the income and lot of the American family farmer."

Stenholm, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, cited statements in the Sunday Dallas Morning News which quoted Reagan's farm and food division co-director Richard Lyng as saying "the dwindling number of family farmers are no reason for alarm and that, in fact, the reductions have been necessary for the good of the country."

In Abilene for part of a District-wide speaking tour, Stenholm said, "Such thinking is devastating to every hardworking family farmer and rancher and to the small businesses and communities of this land who depend upon the viability of the family farms and ranches.

"If that statement is an accurate reflection of Ronald Reagan's beliefs, then I invite him to get out and drive through the small rural communities of the 17th Congressional District to see how 'helpful' it is when we lose our family farmers. To see the boarded-up downtown businesses and to witness the closed schools and churches in these small communities, and then to hear that 'these reductions have been necessary for the good of the country' leaves me in utter amazement."

Stenholm said, "If this statement is true, then I believe the message here is clear to America's farmers and ranchers as to where we are headed and what views are held by those persons drive to the city, and my office was easily reached from the entranceway of the Pan American to Caracas.

When I reached Los Teques in the evening, I was in another world. A world of perfect peace and quiet. And during the perfectly delightful dinner which Madame Goss would prepare and have served in the dining room, Mr. Goss would now and then serenade with music piped in from a little anteroom just down the hallway. An artist, Mr. Goss had retired from the Caracas Symphony Orchestra where he had played first chair violin. His organ music was most delightful, coming via the electronic channel from the little anteroom. It was only the minimum of politeness to stop after dinner and to compliment the musician on his dinner concert, but Mr. Goss seemed always to be especially appreciative of compliments. We became quite close friends.

One evening there was a new sound with that of the electric organ. Dinner over, I made my usual courtesy call to the anteroom. "Ah, Doktor! I knew you would come, and I am happy. I want you to meet my very old and very dear friend, Pablo Casals". Pointing to the bald, pudgy, smiling little man who stood beside his violincello.

Seems that the Great Casals was on a visit to Caracas, where he had rendered a concert or two with the Symphony Orchestra where he had played for many years, and had come out to Los Alpes for a bit of rest...and a jam session with his "very old and very dear friend". Neither of them knew how I appreciated the position of principal beneficiary.

Three other people had dinner at Los Alpes that mild summer's night. We were treated to a concert by the world's foremost cellist, accompanied by an un-sung organist. When I hear the haunting strains of George Frederick Handel's "Holy Art Thou", I envision the kindly smiling little man standing beside his instrument in that tiny room in Los Teques.

who will be setting the agricultural policies of this nation under a Ronald Reagan Administration.

"It has been the family farmer who has made possible the dramatic advances in farm productivity and farm efficiency that they profess to support. How can they then say that it is 'good for the country' that we lose these people out of agriculture?"

The Congressman said he objected strongly to Lyng's additional statement that the U.S. would not have its present level of health care, education and communications "if we hadn't relieved an awful lot of people from the drudgery of food and fiber production."

"My view," he continued, "is that food and fiber production is one of the noblest professions in this country and to call it 'drudgery' is to insult the millions of Texas and American men and women who strive to make a living from the land. It reflects a clear misunderstanding on their part as to the importance and satisfaction of those efforts which have afforded this country the most abundant, lowest cost and high quality food supply in the world."

"We need national political leaders who share a commitment to the importance of the farm and ranch families of America and not someone who feels that their work is 'drudgery' from which they need to be relieved for the good of the country," Stenholm concluded.

Artvan to Visit Schools in Area

Region 14 Service Center and the Abilene Fine Arts Museum art team, Mrs. Margaret Rutledge, Art Coordinator for Region 14 and Jodelle French, Art Education Curator for the Abilene Fine Arts Museum will take to the 12,000 square miles of roads that make up Region 14 every Monday until Christmas.

The "artvan", sponsored jointly by both organizations, will visit six elementary schools in the Region 14 area, which administers to 515 school districts and 45,000 students.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 27
Ranger Elementary - Lorene Oliver principal 30 minute assembly at 10:00 - pictures will hang in library-assembly in cafeteria 351 students - 19 faculty grades 1-6.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4
Eastland Elementary - R.O. Baze Principal 30 minute assembly at 10:00 in cafeteria where pictures will hang. 412 students - 14 faculty. Grades 1-6.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 10
Cisco Intermediate - Bob Lindsey Principal 30 minute assembly at 10:00 - Don't know where exhibit will be placed.

In the van there is a specially constructed folding screen that will display ten framed prints from the Abilene Fine Arts Museum's permanent collection. The lithographed works are Emmett William's "10 Autobiographical Prints" selected especially for their content of color, shape and texture, along with their delightful appeal to children and grownups alike.

Early every Monday morning, the "artvan" pulls up to the site of the previous week's exhibit. Mrs. Rutledge and Ms. French then proceed to pack the framed prints and load them into the van, dust off their hands, and proceed to the REAL work--the student assembly waiting for them as far as 70 miles away.

Once arrived, the van is unloaded and the prints make their debut "on stage" at the student assembly. Mrs. Rutledge introduces herself and the collection of prints, then turns the show over to the Abilene Fine Arts Educator, Jodelle French. Ms. French then talks to the students, demonstrating with the aid of a color wheel the concepts of color, shape and texture to her audience.

"It's great to watch the children's excitement when they discover color for themselves in these prints," Ms. French says. "The satisfaction of talking to the children about art makes these frenzied Mondays well worth it."

The Region 14 "artvan" outreach project was begun last year to share arts awareness experience with the boys and girls of the Big Country area.

2 Eastland County NTSU Graduates

Some 987 students were awarded degrees Aug. 16 at the North Texas State University summer commencement ceremonies.

In addition to 509 bachelor's degrees, the university granted 410 master's and 68 doctorate degrees, during ceremonies in the NTSU Coliseum.

Eastland County students among the NTSU graduates were Teresa Ann Dudley, Ranger, and Clark Hopkins Smith, Rising Star.

Miss Dudley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly S. Dudley, received the master of education degree in secondary education; and Smith, a 1976 graduate of Rising Star High School, received the bachelor of science in education degree in secondary education (guidance studies, cum laude).

Story Deemed Revelant To Recent Happenings In Cisco

By Vida Killon
It has been said, "everyone likes a twice-told tale."

One of the late Peter Marshall's stories is so relevant to recent happenings in Cisco that it seems worthy of relating.

A strange and quiet forest dweller lived high up in the hills. He took it upon himself to be the keeper of the springs.

He patrolled the hills and wherever he found a spring, he cleaned its brown pool of silt and fallen leaves, so that the water that bubbled up through the sand might run down cold and pure. As it leaped over rocks and dropped down to the city below, it became very much a part of the life of that little community. Millwheels were turned by its rush, gardens were refreshed by its waters. Swans sailed on its transparent surface, and children laughed as they played by its banks in the sunshine.

But the city council, as they scanned the budget for the ensuing year, found a salary for the keeper of the springs. The keeper of the purse said, "Why should we pay this romance ranger? We never see him. He really isn't necessary to our town's work and life. If we built a reservoir above the town we could dispense with his service and save money.

A vote was taken and the keeper of the springs dismissed. Later the city built its reservoir but the water was not the same. It wasn't clean; a green scum beflowed its stagnant surface. The machinery of the mills was clogged with slime. Even the swans left town.

An epidemic raged; yellow fingers of sickness reached into the homes of the villages.

An emergency session of the city council was called acknowledging its mistakes. The old keeper of the Springs was sought out and asked to return to his joyous labor. Gladly he accepted. Soon pure water was flowing again; stench disappeared. Sickness was dispelled; children played again and the swans returned.

There are some real springs that need keeping.

SPRINGS OF COMMUNICATION
Wouldn't it be wonderful if the City of Cisco could and would become keeper of the spring of communications... first to God, then to mankind?

Open mindedness, awareness, alertness, informing the public of what is going on, would go a long way in removing the silt of chaotic conditions.

SPRINGS OF CONFIDENCE
The clear, cool waters of trust can flow only when the murk and mire of misunderstanding is removed.

SPRINGS OF CONSIDERATION
A regard for others, their feelings, their interests

On Saturday, October 25, at 2 p.m. our birthday party will be hosted by the Holy Rosary Catholic Church. Birthday honorees are Alma Keough, John Taylor, Lena Weatherly, Earl Steel and Evelyn Foxworth.

On October 28th, the First Presbyterian Church will host the Halloween party. We are always looking for new volunteers. There are many different things that a volunteer can do to help the residents in a nursing home. Come by and discuss with the activity director the things you would like to do to help our residents. We are open to suggestions from our volunteers. On Tuesday, October 21, Volunteer Council will meet at 7 p.m. at the Center.

Moran News

By Mrs. Luke Huskey

It is reported that Shirley Mark is improving from her recent accident.

Mrs. Helen McCollum and son, Wesley, attended the funeral for her brother, Clarence Knight, in San Angelo last week.

Roger Scott of Odessa spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Roe Scott.

RAIN

Moran received some more much needed rain Thursday night. 1 1/2 inch fell.

Mrs. Odeta Levine and Mrs. Aleda Brandt of Rouge River, Oregon, spent last week with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. J.J. Gaskins and other relatives.

Remember to come to the Moran Country Musical Friday night, October 24, at the Moran Community Center. Come and enjoy an evening of music and fellowship. A concession stand will be open. All area musicians are welcome to come and take a part.

The American Legion will have a fish fry for November 11 at the American Legion Hall in observance of Armistice Day. The fish fry will be catered by the Stanley White Fish Catering Service of Stephenville. Serving will start at 5 p.m. Drawings for the electrical appliances to be given away by the American Legion will be at 6:30 and the drawing for the door prize will be at 7 p.m. If you are a veteran of the Moran community, please, bring in a picture so it can be reproduced to be placed in the Legion Hall.

BIRTHDAY CLUB PARTY

Twenty persons were present for the regular monthly meeting of Birthday Club, when Lucion Brooks and A.J. Thomas celebrated their birthday. A delicious meal was served at the Moran Snack Bar and was enjoyed by all. Others attending were Mrs. Lucion Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Williams, Bessie Fields, Elma May Huskey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, Merle Newton, Ezra Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brooks, Mae Delle Jones, Frances Green, Barnie Midkiff, Mr. and Mrs. James Garrett and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Keith. Any one wishing to come and enjoy an evening of fun and fellowship is welcome.

Frances Green had the misfortune of picking up a gun last Tuesday night and getting her hand injured. Frances found two rattlesnakes in her house, killed one and attempted to kill the other when the gun went off, hitting her in the left hand.

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Collinsworth of Andrews visited with relatives in Moran last week.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL
The Moran School Halloween Carnival will be held on Saturday night, November 1. The senior class will have charge of the "cake walk" and the junior class will have bingo, with the other classes having different activities. Come and take a part and help support the school in this annual activity.

Mrs. Lucy Burton is receiving treatment in the Albany hospital, having had the misfortune of getting some broken toes one night last week.

Open House Oct. 25

Open House for Eastland National Bank in the new bank quarters located at 201 East Main Street has been set for Saturday, October 25, 1980, from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m., and the Officers, Directors, and Employees of the Bank cordially invite the public to attend.

Door prizes will be awarded including a $100.00 United States Savings Bond and limited edition prints by five America's leading Western artists. These prints are "Sunday Morning" by Jim Daly, "The Sentinel" by Nicholas S. Firfires, "Sagebrush Hangout" by Lee K. Parkinson, "Stopover at Cottonwood Springs" by Carl J. Smith, and "Before the Fall" by Robert Summers.

They are signed and numbered by the artists and were purchased by the bank as a means of assisting the West Texas Rehabilitation Center which received fifty per cent of the profit from the sale of these prints.

Original art by each of the five artists will be exhibited in the bank during open house and next week, and Lee K. Parkinson of Layton, Utah will be personally present in the bank all day Tuesday, October 28th.

The Eastland High School Band will present a concert for entertainment during the open house Saturday.

Refreshments will be served.

Voting Time

NOV. 4--

Milton S. Eisenhower?

Isn't that name out of history? What's it doing on our General Election Ballot?

As vice presidential candidate with John Anderson on the Independent Party? What happened to Patrick Lucey who Anderson named as his running mate?

These probably will be questions buzzing through voters heads when they go to the polls Tuesday, Nov. 4, and look at the bed-sheet size General Ballot.

Some folks are saying they're having enough trouble with the Carter-Reagan choice without being bothered with another Eisenhower from the past.

Well, here's how it happened, according to an executive with the Secretary of State's Office who was in Eastland Friday to explain this and a lot of other things for Election Judges, meeting in the County Commissioners Courtroom:

When John Anderson filed to be on the ballot in Texas back in July, he had not named a running mate, but gave Eisenhower's name as vice presidential candidate. Later when he named Lucey, he asked the State of Texas if it could change the name, but there's no such provisions, and so rather than go through an expensive court battle to get it changed, it was just left "Milton S. Eisenhower." And so, the ballot is correct, is not misprinted, and will be counted - if you go to the polls and mark yours.

In addition to the top of the ballot which offers in this order: Ronald Reagan-George Bush as Republicans; Jimmy Carter-Walter Mondale as Democrats; Ed Clark-David Koch as Libertarian Party; and Johnson Anderson (and you know-how) as Independent.

Cong. Charles Stenholm, representative to the 17th Congressional District is unopposed.

Henry C. (Hank) Grover (former unsuccessful Republican gubernatorial candidate) is opposing Democrat Buddy Temple for the State Railroad Commission; Doc Blanchard, Republican, and David Hutzelman, Libertarian, are opposing Democrat Jim Nugent for another Rail Commission post. Republican Jim Brady opposes Democratic incumbent Jim Wallace, to the State Supreme Court, and Republican Will Garwood and Democrat C.L. Ray are seeking another Court seat.

Other state races are uncontested, but Eastland County voters will play a key role in choosing the next State Senator for District 22 which includes this County.

Two new-comers -- Democrat Bob Glasgow of Stephenville and Republican Jay Brummett of Cleburne -- seeking the post for which Veteran Sen. Tom Creighton did not seek re-election.

County Democratic candidates are unopposed. They are District Judge Jim R. Wright, Sheriff Johnnie W. Morren, Tax Assessor-Collector Nancy Trout; County Commissioner Richard A. Robinson; and in Eastland, Constable Bill Hunter.

As usual, there'll be proposals for changing the state Constitution on the ballot - nine this time. Each is for or against proposition.

There'll be nine voting boxes in the County and polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., and voters are advised to bring their voter registration cards to speed voting.

For persons who know that they will be out of the county on Election Day, absentee voting is now being conducted at the County Clerk's office through Oct. 31 at 5 p.m.

DECADES OF GAS SUPPLY FROM TWO OF NATURE'S BEST-PROTECTED SOURCES.

Did your mother ever hide some of her spare cash in a cookie jar, out of easy reach until she needed it?

Well, that's what Mother Nature did when she placed enormous deposits of natural gas in hard-to-reach places.

Places like the deep basins in Texas and Oklahoma, where the gas deposits were miles too deep for man to reach them.

Places like the tight basins in Texas, where formations were so tight-fisted the gas could barely flow to the wells.

Now, after spending years and millions of dollars, producers have the technology to explore five-mile depths and speed up the flow of gas through dense rock. And high-production gas wells are being completed in the deep and the tight basins.

Many industry experts believe that each of these sources can double the nation's current proven reserves. Exciting news, because Lone Star is well situated to buy your share of this new gas for the 1980's, the 1990's and beyond.

GAS. IT'S PLENTIFUL, EFFICIENT AND RIGHT FOR THE TIMES.

I am delighted with the opportunity of discussing a few ideas and concerns I have about the future of our country and our industry. At the present time, nearly 20 million persons, or about one out of every five working people in the nation, are employed by automobile and auto-related industries. Therefore, the policies of government usually have an immediate and profound impact on us as members of those industries and as citizens.

In light of this immediacy and our country's economic problems, I am reminded that in 1928 Stalin, then director of the USSR, invited William Foster, at that time chairman of the Communist Party in America, to visit in Moscow. On Foster's return he quoted Stalin as follows:

"Comrade Foster, you can never get the American people to vote for Communism or even for Socialism, but you can lead them into our program through the back door. Go home and say that you support the present system, but that you wish to improve it by more government action on behalf of needy people.

"Take your stand for anything that will involve government more deeply in the regulation and control of the activities of men. Stand for municipal ownership of utilities, government aid for underprivileged people, more subsidies of all kinds, stricter regulation by such government bodies as the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Trade Commission and any municipal, state or federal plan for any kind of intervention with the economic activities of the people. In this way, you can bring America into communism and the people will never know it."

That is quite a statement isn't it? Now, stop and think—isn't the Congress of the United States through the regulatory agencies it has created marching us down the same path with an unrelenting push for more and more regulation of the business community and of our personal lives? It's exactly as if Congress was following Stalin's road map to our destruction.

I think it is important to remember the foundation on which this country was built. The Constitution, the Bill of Rights, the Pledge of Allegiance and our National Anthem all declare that this is a Republic, one nation under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

However, Congress, labor leaders, revolutionaries, misguided activists like the

Game Day

The public is invited to participate in Game Day at the Women's Clubhouse in Eastland on Wednesday, October 29th, from 1:30 to 5:00 p.m., according to Mrs. H.T. Wilson, President of the Fondas, Naders and Haydens, aided by worldwide publicity, have made a mockery of these words. They're trying to create a Godless society completely divided with liberty and freedom being stifled and justice to suit themselves.

It is ironic that as the most powerful industrial nation on this planet, we have been able to offer protection against Marxism to millions of people all over the world while here at home our legislators have been capping the well of his strength, which is the free enterprise system.

Basically, and in a broad sense, there are two schools of thought in this country. There are those who believe all of our problems should be solved by local, state or federal governments. Then there are others who believe and have faith in the American people to solve their own problems. America was founded on the second premise, and the Constitution and the bill of Rights were formed to guarantee that the people would remain free, with the government having the supreme responsibility to safeguard individual freedom.

Clubhouse Board. Proceeds will be used to help with the upkeep of the Clubhouse. Games such as bridge, canasta, forty-two and dominos will be played throughout the afternoon with prizes being awarded to the winner of each. Creature From UFO Captued By Jaycees

The Eastland Jaycees, responding to a recent message from alien creatures received through local radio station KERC on Monday, arrived at Eastland Lake at 1:20 a.m. Tuesday morning for a meeting which was arranged with the creatures. The time and place had not been disclosed to the public due to the fact that the members of the Jaycees and local authorities felt it best that the citizens of Eastland not be around in case of possible danger.

As the "UFO" landed and the creatures filed from it Jaycees members were able to capture one of the "aliens", but were unsuccessful in their attempt to seize the others. The captured human-like creature showed no sign of being harmful, but instead seemed scared of his strange, new surroundings.

The creature has been put in seclusion as, with the citizens of Eastland being in an upset state over the "UFO" incident in the past few weeks, Jaycees felt that someone might try to harm it. The creature was described as being around six feet tall, of medium build, and a greenish complexion. It has no hair, with large red and yellow eyes protruding from their sockets. Pointed ears and protruding eyebrows, along with a large pointed nose add to the awesome effect of the creature. The alien is an amphibious type humanoid as it cannot breathe for a long period of time without being submerged in water.

Local, state, and national authorities were contacted, but Jaycees were hopeful with their upcoming haunted house that no action would be taken before the end of the week and the creature could possibly be on display throughout the next week.

It was noted that the creature appeared interested in earth customs, but is fearful of many things it has already encountered here.

Also, the creature spoke in an accelerated tone of voice, but when recorded and the tape slowed down, the voice was audible. More news and details concerning the alien will be forthcoming in the next edition.

No Taxation Without Representation.

Texas' rural counties are in danger of being gerrymandered and combined with urban areas to the point that rural Texans face the possibility of being virtually without representation in either Washington or Austin. Redistricting will be the single most important issue facing the next session of the legislature. Bob Glasgow knows that rural Texans carry the burden of supporting state government. He will fight to keep a single one of our rural counties from losing its representation by being swallowed up in an urban district. Bob Glasgow believes that those who pay the taxes deserve representation.

AN ARTICLE about Lake Cisco, written by L.A. Wilke, long-time Texas sportsman and writer, appeared in the October issue of the Texas Fisherman, a monthly magazine. Mr. Wilke writes a regular piece entitled TOURING TEXAS LAKES. And the sub-title of the October article was LAKE CISCO: AN OLD LAKE WITH GOOD FISHING.

Because of its interest, The Press is reprinting the article elsewhere in this edition. You'll find it interesting. Thanks to Mr. Doug Fry, local rancher, for making the article available.

TRAVEL TRAILER vacationing made a real good impression on Mr. and Mrs. John McGuire of our town. They got home Saturday night after an enjoyable trip to New Mexico and Colorado in their new trailer. They enjoyed stops at Littlefield, Santa Fe, for two days, and a week or so in a delightful trailer park on a lake near Bayfield, Colorado.

At the Colorado camp, they noticed rain was falling before bedtime one night. Before long, it turned into sleet and then all was quiet. Next morning, there was nearly a foot of snow on the ground. Temperatures dipped below 20 degrees. They looked in on the John Huffmeyer, formerly of here, at Bayfield and found John and his Las Cruces brother in the middle of elk hunting.

LET'S GET SET to welcome some newcomers. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis of Moran have purchased the Tom Webster home at 601 West 12th Street and are moving to Cisco. They are the parents of Mrs. Al Fanin, long-time Ciscoan. Next door at 601 1/2 West 12th, Mrs. FE's sister, Mrs. Viola Everett, long-time Putnam resident, has purchased the house in which she will be moving. Yvonne McMillan, local real estate broker, handled the deals.

GUESS WE CAN all be looking for an invitation to visit the Kenn Norris at Carbon. The superintendent of schools there is a former coach and faculty member here, and he has just purchased a four bedroom home with six acres of land.

The Norris are frequent visitors in our town. THE ED Bradshaws loaded up their motor home last Friday afternoon and drove down to College Station where they saw the Saturday football game. Saw the Bruce Barneys of Copperas Cove in town last weekend. The former CJC faculty members now live at CC where he is a high school coach and she is on the high school faculty.

Saw George Downey, a former long-time Ciscoan, and daughter and son-in-law of San Antonio in town the other day. They returned home to SA after attending services at the First Presbyterian Church here last Sunday. The Vance McCrackens of Abilene visited his mother here Sunday.

THE CISCO Civic League held a successful bake sale in downtown Cisco last Saturday morning. Diane Fisher, Sherry Kimbrough and others were on duty during the event. Mr. Ted Hale, retired Humble pipeline, will check into a hospital in Abilene Oct. 29 and undergo eye surgery the next day. Mr. Pete Kelly, Exxon oil production official at Houston, visited his parents, the Jack Kellys last week and enjoyed playing golf with Mr. JK and Mr. Norman Huston. The Bill Huffmans of Houston were in town last weekend to visit his mother, Mrs. H.T. Huffman, who has been ill.

WANT TO HEAR an Aggie joke? Go to the telephone, we were told, and dial 1-800 plus AGGIE IQ. We haven't tried it yet. Notice that the Linton Baateas Builders building on East 8th Street now has three new display windows. Our scouts report that one of the most enthusiastic skaters at a First United Methodist Church skating party the other afternoon was the Rev. David Adkins, pastor.

LOOKED IN AT the Maner Memorial Library at Cisco Junior College the other day and enjoyed seeing the nice paintings that Mrs. Mildred Jackson of Austin has on display there. She's the library's Artist of the Month and 30 or 40 of her paintings are being shown.

Mrs. Jackson's paintings are mostly outdoor scenes, many with birds or animals. There are some lovely Bluebonnet scenes. You'll want to go out and see them. A new book at the library is worth looking through, too. It is a large book of Saturday Evening Post cover pictures by the late Norman Rockwell - the most complete collection of Rockwells that we've ever had the pleasure to look through.

WE TOOK OUR camera out to the college to make a picture of the Powder Puff Auto Mechanics class that Mr. Danny Claborn was going to teach. The class didn't get off the ground, however, as there wasn't sufficient demand for it. We had hoped to get a picture of some lady

The Loboes of Cisco High School scored in all except the final quarter of play last Friday night as they were defeated by the hosting Dublin Lions 27-22. It was the second District 10-AA loss for the Loboes.

The Loboes are 1-2 in District play following the game Friday night and 3-3 for the season. Dublin is also 1-2 in the District and 4-2 for the season.

Cisco took the opening kick-off and marched the ball downfield from its own 46-yard line to score less than four minutes into the first quarter of play. At the beginning of the drive, Lobo quarterback Randall Rattan made two handoffs to back Gary Speegle to place the ball across mid-field to Dublin's 44-yard line for the first down. A pass to Danny Garcia netted nine more yards and another handoff to Speegle got the first down, placing the ball 24 yards from the end zone. A handoff to Forrest Starr gained four yards and a pass to Chuck Cannistraci got another first down. Seven yards from the goal line, a quarterback keep play failed to get the ball any closer; however, a handoff to Speegle on the next play put the ball into the end zone for the first score of the night. The extra point kick by Jimmy Elrod was good making the score 7-0 with 8:24 left in the first quarter.

The Loboes threatened to add more points to the scoreboard on their very next possession of the ball, but a penalty wiped out a touchdown pass from back Forrest Starr to Larry Adams. Cisco got possession of the ball at Dublin's 27-yard line when Cisco's Robert Caraway tackled kicker Bill Boy Bryant following a bad snap from the Dublin center. Seven plays later the penalty against the Loboes wiped out an apparent touchdown and set them back one yard from where they started the drive, at the 26-yard line. With 21 yards to go for a first down to continue the drive, an incomplete pass from Rattan turned the ball over to Dublin.

From their own 26-yard line, Dublin went to work moving the ball downfield making four first downs in 17 plays and a touchdown. The Lions' quarterback Bill Boy Bryant used the running abilities of Dean Thompson and D.L. Funderburgh, as well as the pass-catching abilities of Blake Bryant, Sammy Taylor and Funderburgh to move the ball downfield to the one-yard line. Cisco's defense toughened up and it took Dublin QB Bryant three tries before he was able to plunge over for the touchdown. He then kicked the extra point tying the score at 7-7 with 8:45 left in the second quarter.

On the ensuing kickoff, Dublin tried a sneaky on-sides kick, but it did not work and Cisco's Cannistraci got the ball 30 yards from the goal line. The Loboes scored 45 seconds and three plays later. A handoff to Starr netted 10 yards and a first down while a handoff to Speegle got nine more yards. Another handoff to Starr and he ran up the middle for an eleven yard touchdown. The extra point kick by Elrod was good putting Cisco in the lead with eight minutes left in the second quarter by the score of 14-7.

The Lions took the kick from Cisco at their own 19-yard line and started another scoring drive. Dublin QB Bryant again used the running ability of Funderburgh along with the pass-catching abilities of Taylor, Blake Bryant and Charles Turner to get four first downs in 10 plays and put the ball at Cisco's 10-yard line. A handoff to Funderburgh got the touchdown with 3:24 left in the second quarter. The extra point kick by Bryant was good tying the score at 14-14. Cisco took the kickoff at their 25-yard line and began pushing toward the opposite end zone. With handoffs to Starr and Speegle and passes to Cannistraci, Starr and Larry Adams, the Loboes advanced the ball to within 14 yards of the goal line in eight plays. With 39 seconds left in the half, a pass from Cisco QB Rattan was intercepted at the 5-yard line by Dublin QB Bryant who then returned the ball 95 yards for a Dublin touchdown. Bryant then kicked the extra point putting Dublin in the lead 21-14 at halftime.

Dublin received the halftime kickoff, but six plays later Lobo Larry Adams intercepted a Bryant pass at Cisco's 35-yard line. The Loboes began a scoring drive from that point and sixteen plays with five first downs later, Cisco QB Rattan threw a 5-yard pass to Adams for the touchdown. Speegle did most of the digging in this drive; he received the handoff from Rattan eight times. Starr carried the ball four times during the drive and Rattan carried one time. Adams scored with 2:44 left in the third quarter and Starr for an extra two points, making the score 22-21.

Dublin came back in the final quarter and scored with 3:26 left in the game. The scoring drive originated at the Lions' own 20-yard line. Funderburgh, Taylor and Blake Bryant were instrumental during the drive, moving the ball to Cisco's 36-yard line in seven plays with three first downs. A handoff from QB Bryant to Funderburgh got the touchdown, but a pass for two extra points from QB Bryant to Blake Bryant failed making the final score 27-22.

Outstanding players on the Lobo defense included Danny Garcia, Forrest Starr, Blair Boyd, Robert Caraway, Brian Fleming, Gary Speegle, Chuck Cannistraci, Leslie Agnew, Kory Wallace, Mike Sherman, Jeff Cathey and Larry Adams.

Dublin standouts on defense were D.L. Funderburgh, Bill Boy Bryant, Tim Taylor, Lee Roy Gaitan, Dean Thompson, Lee Morton, Blake Bryant, Larry King, George Satterfield, Robert Burney, Billy Tyus, Joel DelBosque, Lee Pope, Terry Templeton and Rodney Kilcrease.

'Animal Farm' To Open The 1st Of November

Things are bustling at the Eastland Civic Theater as cast and crew anticipate the Nov. 1 and 2 Reader's Theater production of George Orwell's Animal Farm.

A newcomer to the ECT stage will be Vivian Maxwell, the 22-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.R. Maxwell of Lake Leon. After her graduation from Eastland High School, she attended Texas Christian University in Ft. Worth, where she received her B.F.A. in Theatre Arts.

She has also done post-graduate work in theatre and Radio/TV/Film at Texas Tech University.

She has worked with the Granbury Opera House and has appeared in numerous productions in Fort Worth and Lubbock.

Local theatre-goers will remember her most recent performances as Laura in "The Glass Menagerie", and as Ida, the saucy cockney maid, in "See How They Run" at the Cisco Roof Garden Dinner Theatre.

Services For Leoma Skiles Held Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Asa (Leoma) Skiles, 87, of Abilene, were at 10 a.m. Monday at the First Baptist Church in Abilene. Dr. James Flamming of First Baptist Church in Abilene, officiated, assisted by Dr. Clyde Childers of HSU. Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery in Cisco, under the direction of Elliott-Hamil Funeral Home, 542 Hickory Street, Abilene.

Mrs. Skiles died at 6:15 a.m. Saturday in the Baptist Geotrics Hospital in San Angelo.

She was born May 4, 1893, in Scranton, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. George W. Parks, a prominent West Texas Baptist minister. She attended Brittain's Academy and Hardin-Simmons University.

She married Asa I. Skiles in Scranton on June 21, 1911. They moved to Cisco in 1919 after living in Scranton and Abilene. After her husband's death in 1943, she sold their business interest in Cisco and worked for Baptist Book Stores in Richmond, Va., and Louisville, Ky. For 12 years, until her retirement from HSU in 1963, she was a residence hall director at Baptist colleges and universities.

She lived in the Abilene Towers Apartments until May of this year when she entered the hospital in San Angelo.

Survivors are a son, Dr. Elwin L. Skiles of Abilene; three sisters, Mrs. A.J. Parker of Sherman Oaks, Calif., Mrs. Leland Dawson of Lake Jackson and Mrs. H.G. Griffith of Atlanta, Ga.; two brothers, George Parks of Roscoe and Herman Parks of Arlington; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Eastland National Bank Presents....

NEW BANKING HOUSE OPEN TO PUBLIC

The management of the Eastland National Bank cordially invites the citizens of Eastland to an open house in its new banking facilities. The recently-completed structure is located on 201 E. Main Street in Eastland and will be open to the public on October 25, from two until five. Directors and employees will be on hand to point out various features of the new banking house and the customer services they afford. Refreshments, including ice cream, will be served and each visitor has a chance to win the door prize. Please come by.

for quick and accurate problem-solving, the Apple Computer, made by Apple Computer Co. The programmable system not only balances books: it also records information concerning the payroll, employee benefits, federal fund calculations and even utility programs. More teller, and new check encoding, machines were added in the new building and, as all equipment at Eastland National Bank, are subject to continual update. Notably, its new Horizon telephone system allows Eastland National to be the first in town to have push-button dialing.

The security system found in the facilities are brand new and undoubtedly the best available. The vault area is impenetrable - there are fifty tons of concrete in the ceiling alone. And customers will recognize the 21,000 lb. round vault door, taken from the Petroleum Building. Some things just can't be improved.

At Eastland National Bank, the prime consideration is better service. That does not mean simply being nice; instead, Eastland National wants to deliver the best to its customers. Planning and hard work go unnoticed sometimes, but this October 1980, Eastland National Bank is proud to present its finest effort yet.

ENB TODAY

Eastland National Bank is happy to announce the opening of its new banking house, located on 201 East Main in Eastland. Inadequate space and construction led the management to Tittle, Luther, and Loving of Abilene, architects, who designed the facilities recently completed by Rose Construction Company. The move has been made from previous banking site, the Petroleum Building on 114 S. Seaman Street, to the new building, and everyone is proud of the results.

By purchasing the lots where the old Coca-Cola building and Fina station stood,

Eastland National more than doubled its entire area available for construction. The banking house, approximately 15,000 square-feet, is twice the size of the old quarters, leaving area available for future expansion. This increase allows the different departments much needed space for both personnel and equipment. The new facilities offer the public a community room in response to the popularity of its predecessor, and include a multipurpose employees' conference room for meetings, classes, and bank examinations. The exterior brown stucco and large panes of tinted glass create a cool and pleasing appearance beneath the West Texas sun, while practical, attractive appointments of royal blue and cranberry furnish the interior.

The new facilities feature the most modern of motor banking services. Chairman H.T. Wilson and President Grover Hallmark personally tested and chose Diebold's top-of-the-line system at the factory in Canton, Ohio. Facilities include one commercial and three express lanes, with room and means for installing three more units in the future. The new system allows the customer to initiate the transaction, thereby eliminating much of his wait and increasing teller efficiency. Its construction enables one teller to operate all units simultaneously during slack periods. Customers enter the drive-in facilities from Commerce Street and exit onto Bassett.

Other new equipment includes the fully illuminated Diebold Securomatic After-Hour Depository, and

NEW BANKING HOURS ANNOUNCED

New banking hours for the Eastland National have been approved by the board of directors. The new hours are as follows: main lobby and commercial drive-in window, 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday; late hours on Friday, 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. All other drive-in windows will be open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. The longer hours have been adopted in hopes of making banking more convenient for the customer.

Directors Help Community Grow

The progress made by Eastland National Bank, particularly as manifested in the new banking house, is due in large part to the community-minded efforts of the board of directors. These men have taken every precaution for the safety of deposits, while providing the best possible choices to make money grow. They have actively extended their concerns beyond the bank itself and into the community, so that in all aspects of their lives, they have worked for the growth of Eastland.

H.T. Wilson was appointed to the board on July 16, 1954. Born in Hereford, Texas, on July 24, 1927, he attended and graduated high school from Philips Exeter Academy in Exeter, N.H. After serving with the Marines for 18 months, he began his college career at the University of Texas at Austin where he graduated with a B.B.A. in 1949. On August 24, 1956, Wilson graduated from the Colorado School of Banking at the University of Colorado, one of 17 graduates from a class that had originally contained 63. He has served his community, not only as a progressive banking leader, but as a city commissioner, president of the Rotary Club, president of the Eastland United Fund, member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Industrial Foundation, and the Water Board. The Golden Deed Award Winner of 1964, Wilson has worked hard to build a solid economic base in Eastland. He is also an elder in the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. M.A. Treadwell joined the board soon after Wilson. Born April 10, 1924 in Bauxite, Arkansas, the physician is a graduate of Rice Institute and the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston. After completing his internship and surgical residency at Scott and White Hospital in 1951, he came to Eastland to practice medicine. A Gold Deed Award winner in 1976, he has been active in the Rotary Club and has served two terms as city commissioner as well as in the Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Treadwell is currently a deacon of the First Baptist Church of Eastland, and a member of the Eastland County Medical Society, the Texas Medical Association, the AMA, the Texas Academy of Family Physicians and the American Academy of Family Physicians.

On January 14, 1965, M.H. Perry became a director of Eastland National Bank. After graduating from his hometown high school in San Saba, Texas, Perry attended Southwestern University in Georgetown and graduated in 1941. He taught and coached high school football in Grandview until April of 1942 when he joined the service. After his release in 1946, Perry came to Eastland where he first taught at Eastland High School and then at Eastland County Veterans Vocational School. He was made director of that organization in 1948 and continued there until July of 1953, when he became associated with Southland Life Insurance Company. Throughout the years, Perry has belonged to both the Rotary and the Lions clubs, the school board (serving as chairman for thirteen years), the Chamber of Commerce, the Water Board, the Eastland Industrial Foundation, and was chairman of the Construction Committee when Eastland built her hospital in the early 1950s. He is a member of the Methodist Church and has served as chairman of trustees. Winner of the Golden Deed Award in 1965, Perry has also won numerous awards in connection with his business.

Grover Hallmark joined the board in 1973. Born in Flatwood, Hallmark was first employed at the bank in 1956 and worked his way up. "When I went to work for the bank," he says, "I started out filing checks: I just barely stayed out of the janitor's way." By 1972, Hallmark was executive vice-president and soon appointed to the board. Chosen Eastland's Outstanding Young Man in 1963 and a Golden Deed Award winner in 1973, the bank president has served the community in many capacities over the years, including president of the Jaycees, campaign chairman for the Eastland United Fund, director of the Eastland County Farm Bureau, city commissioner, member of the Chamber of Commerce and of the Industrial Foundation, to name a very few. He is a member of the Methodist Church in Eastland.

In 1976, J.P. McCracken retired from the position of chairman of the board and Wilson assumed these responsibilities. Mr. McCracken had been on the board since 1954. Born in 1907 in Fort Worth, he soon moved to Romney, Texas near Cisco and began work in the banking business soon after his 1924 high school graduation. He received no pay other than experience during his first six months at the Cisco Banking Company. After finishing his stint in the service in 1946, he returned to Cisco to work in the First National Bank. It was McCracken who gave Wilson his first banking job and they continued to work together until February 7, 1977 when McCracken passed away.

At this time, Mrs. J.P. McCracken replaced her husband on the board at Eastland National. She originally hails from Romney, West Virginia and came to Cisco with her husband soon after WWII. A director at Eastland National Bank, she also holds a position of equal responsibility at the First National Bank of Cisco. She is a member of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, an officer in the Presbyterian Church, and a rancher, while managing the estate of her late husband.

On July 17, 1980, Eastland National suffered the loss of director Russell Hill. A native of Eastland, he was born in 1902 and had worked for the bank since its opening, rising through the ranks to the position of cashier in 1944 and director in 1945. With the advent of the new management in 1954, he was promoted to vice-president and served as secretary to the board and chairman of the Advisory Committee for the profit sharing plan. Although retired from active duty in 1968, he remained on the board until his death.

Over the years, the Eastland National has been guided by a competent and progressive board memberships, persons who consistently look for new and better ways to serve the community. "Our banking philosophy over all has been more or less three-fold," says chairman Wilson. "We must be fair to the shareholders, and see that they get a fair return on their investment; but along with that fairness should extend to the community also and to the employees who work with the bank. If we can balance this fairness three ways, then we never have anything to worry about."

The E.N.B. Staff

Ann Johnson, Wendy Trout, Ruth Smith.

Joe W. Taylor, Marcia Pack, Mike Perry.

At Eastland National Bank, excellent customer service has always been a major goal. Constant facility and equipment updates have improved services throughout the bank's nearly fifty years. Yet these improvements would be virtually meaningless without the courteous staff of Eastland National. And they are delighted to invite the public in to see the new banking house at 201 E. Main. Each one is ready to introduce you to his new location.

As the customer enters the bank by the main north entrance, he notices the familiar round vault door. Becky Powell, in charge of safe deposits and collections, greets him. Becky came to Eastland National as a proof operator in October of 1973 after working as a teletype operator for brokerage firms of Abilene. She also worked as a teller and in new accounts before her recent promotion.

A turn to the right, and the customer enters the loan department. He is welcomed by secretaries Ruth Rosenquest Smith, Ann Johnson, and Wendy Trout. Ruth came to work for the bank in May of 1960 as a secretary. She was later named executive secretary. Ann attended the Nixon Clay Business College in Austin and worked at the University of Texas as a secretary previous to her employment at Eastland National. Beginning in 1968 as a part-time bookkeeper, she later worked in savings and new accounts until November of 1976 when she moved to the loan department as a secretary. Wendy came to work for the bank in 1975 after attending Cisco Junior College. She moved quickly from her original position as teller to new accounts and then to the lobby desk in 1976. Since her initial employment, Wendy has attended the Abilene branch of the American Institute of Banking. Her appointment as loan secretary is a recent promotion.

In offices surrounding the secretaries' area are the loan officers themselves. Joe Taylor came from Karnes City, Texas, and the Karnes County National Bank to assume duties as vice-president of Eastland National in September of 1976. He has attended several schools, including the Intermediate School of Banking at Texas Tech University and I.B.A.A. Bank Officers School at the University of Arkansas.

Marcia Pack has been recently promoted to the position of loan officer. She was self-employed as a bookkeeper and tax return specialist for two years, then came to Eastland National in April of 1978 to train as a loan secretary. In July of 1977, Mike Perry left his association with the Crum and Forster Group of insurance companies to be named vice-president of Eastland National. By September, he was a vice-president and loan officer. Mike received his B.B.A. from North Texas State University in 1967.

The meeting room for the board of directors is located in the northwest corner of the new banking house. Moving south, one finds President Grover Hallmark. A native of Eastland county, he began working at the bank in 1956, filing checks. Chief Executive Officer H.T. Wilson's office is adjacent to Mr. Hallmark's and as one walks past his door, he finds himself in the southwestern area of the bank, and at the offices of G.A. White and Kay Hughes. Mr. White moved to Eastland from Putnam in January of 1965 to become co-owner of Super Save Grocery. In January of 1979, he joined the Eastland National Bank staff as field representative. After graduating in 1977 with a B.S. from Panhandle State University in Goodwell, Oklahoma, Kay received experience as a bookkeeper until her association with Fidelity Bank in Oklahoma City as audit representative. She came to Eastland National to train for the position of comptroller and auditor. In August of this year, Kay received her C.P.A. certification and now holds the position of auditor.

From these offices, one only need look east down the hall to see the big new Customer Identification File run by Nona Fox. Nona worked at Irving Bank and Trust before joining Eastland National in 1971 as a teller. The Note and Credit Department is located here with Marianne Walker in charge. Marianne came to work as a filing clerk in June of 1957. After rising through the ranks and attending the American Institute of Banking, she is presently assistant cashier. She is assisted by Bernice Hunt, who was employed in August of this year. Bernice received previous banking experience in Midland.

Hilde Squiers' office, containing the check printing machine, is a little farther down the hall. In July of 1961, she was employed as housekeeper but was later placed in charge of the print shop. She is assisted by Billie Mahaney, who started at Eastland National in September of 1979. She works in housekeeping as well as in printing.

PBX operator, Darlene Basham, answers telephone calls at her board located immediately east of the check printing office. She was previously with Southwestern Bell before coming to the bank in December of 1975. Her new Horizon system is the first in Eastland to have push button dialing and required almost a mile of cable to install.

The drive-in tellers' cages are found just southeast of Darlene's board. Lennie Sue Koen is in charge of the commercial window. She worked in Midland before moving to Eastland, and began working at Eastland National in June of 1976 as a teller. Paula Ovalle came to the bank from Perry Brothers in February of 1979. She began as a teller and today her talents are utilized in several departments.

LaJuan Rollins was associated with Super Save Grocery in Eastland before becoming a teller in November of 1979. One of the newest employees, Carol Snyder, joined the bank in August of 1980. She had previous banking experience at Granbury State Bank and First National Bank of Pecos. Mary Anderson worked at Fort Worth National in the special deposits department, then came to Eastland National in January of 1979 as a part-time teller, or wherever she is needed.

The proof department is located behind Lennie's cage. Pam White, proof operator, was employed as a secretary before moving to Eastland. She started at the bank in January of 1973 as a drive-in teller. Her present job can be rather hectic, for almost every document that comes to the bank must be run through proof.

Just north of the drive-in windows is the bookkeeping department. Head bookkeeper Myrna Lewis worked for six and a half years at West Side State Bank in Fort Worth before joining the Eastland National in April of 1964. She has been a safe deposit attendant in addition to her duties as bookkeeper. In November of 1949, Patsy Hill came to Eastland National as file clerk after two years at Cisco Junior College and a year in the Eastland School Tax Office. She is now head file clerk. Rebanell Steinman is in charge of the general ledger and is assisted by the brand new Apple computer. She came to the bank in February of 1976 as a relief proof operator and teller after working for Permian Oil, the City of Eastland, and the Georgetown Hospital.

As the customer walks towards the front of the bank, he passes the tellers in their modern accommodations, backed by the Eastland National Bank logo mural. Elaine Glenn was employed in August of 1976 as a teller. She had previously had two years of experience at First National Bank of Breckenridge. Faye Frazier worked at the Eastland County tax office before coming to Eastland National in March of 1978. She began her duties as a teller, as did Ruth Guy, who joined the bank in March of 1980. Ruth had spent 23 years at the Eastland Auction.

Jean Flinn started at Eastland National in April of 1967 as a proof operator on the old manual proof machine. Her previous experience included work with Republic National in Dallas, Bank of America in Fullerton, California, the First State Bank of Dimmitt and First National Bank of Breckenridge. After advancing through almost every department, Jean was elected assistant cashier in November of 1975 and is now head teller in charge of all vault operations, tellers, and overdrafts. She also serves as board member of the American Institute of Banking.

Craig Beskow's office is located east of the tellers' counter. He attended Cisco Junior College and then received his B.B.A. in Business Management from Tarleton State in 1974. He has continued his education at the Abilene branch of the American Institute of Banking. Craig began as a bookkeeper and teller in March of 1975 and was promoted repeatedly until finally in February of 1979, he was made vice-president/cashier.

Pass the lounge and community room entrance, and the customer finds himself at the special services department, headed by Inez Harrell Bourdeau. Mrs. Bourdeau was employed as advertising manager for the Breckenridge American newspaper before 1952 when she went to work for Eastland National Bank as a teller. Today she is a vice-president. Since the inception of the department, she has worked to build her charge, serving as Special Organizational Services (SOS) Advisor for Eastland County. She is also head of the women's department.

The savings and new accounts department is adjacent to special services, with Pat Burns in charge. Pat had been secretary/receptionist to the president of the First National Bank in Lordsburg, New Mexico before coming to work at Eastland National in August of 1974. She began as a teller and after moving to savings and new accounts was promoted to assistant cashier. Sharon Arther joined the bank as a teller in July of 1975 after attending Cisco Junior College. She worked as a relief proof operator and was in charge of collections before moving to savings and new accounts. Tina Butler graduated from Tarleton State University in May of 1979 with a B.B.A. and went to work immediately for Eastland National. She began as a teller, worked as a drive-in teller, and spent time at the front desk.

Thane Arther was promoted to assistant cashier in August of this year, and works in all departments as he is needed and may be seen almost anywhere about the building. Before coming to work for the bank in June of 1978, he was employed at Bray's Department Store. Thane is currently taking college night courses and is working toward American Banking Institute certificates.

The customer's tour of the new bank familiarizes him with the staff at Eastland National and each of their functions. With proper appearance, punctuality, and a confidential attitude, the employees are expected to reflect credit on the bank. In return, they receive many benefits, including cost-free insurance, profit sharing, and paid vacations. They are encouraged to participate in political and civic activities (their opinions do not reflect the bank's, of course) as seen in their outstanding support of the yearly United Fund drive. These friendly people are happy to give Eastland its new banking house, while maintaining the excellent service that customers have learned to expect. Look for them all at the open house. They will be looking for you.

The Texas and Pacific Railway Company laid a line through Eastland in October of 1880, transforming the tiny village into a distributing point for stage and U.S. mail lines. The town's growth created its first real need for banking services, and concomitant with custom, a Mr. Berry of Stephenville opened a banking business in Jake Alexander's store. Although the first national bank to be organized in the county was located in Cisco, Eastland soon had the second. In the fall of 1890, it opened its doors on the Square, with Major W.H. Parvin as its president and John T. Yearin, the cashier. Unfortunately this venture did not last, for by the year 1900, only five banks were operating in the county: three in Cisco (First National, Citizens National, and Merchants and Farmers), one in Gorman, and one in Carbon. (The latter three had the same president, Mr. W.H. Eddleman.) The economy was relatively static and unable to support another financial institution: collective deposits of the county banks in 1907 were just over one million dollars, less than that of any one bank in the county in the year 1950. The agricultural community, producing mostly cotton, desperately needed a "shot in the arm."

On July 2, 1917, W.K. Gordon of Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company began production in Eastland County. The J.H. McClesky well gushed on October 27, opening up the Ranger oil field. Initial production was 1600 barrels with three million feet of gas. At the height of the boom, the field produced 73,000 barrels of oil a day over a 120 square-mile area.

With the oil came the inevitable population boom. The census of 1910 shows Eastland's population at six or seven hundred. By 1920

A Glance Backward

It takes a prosperous, innovative community to support the building of a progressive bank like the new Eastland National: such modern facilities are certainly a sign of the times. Yet Eastland's progressive attitudes were not formed in a vacuum; they are products of its rich and vital history, which began almost 125 years ago. On February 1, 1858, the Seventh Legislature of Texas approved a bill creating the county, along with several others, and named it after Captain William Mosby Eastland who, as one of the ill-fated Mier Expedition, died a hero in Mexico on March 25, 1843. Through the efforts of a young lawyer, Silas C. Buck, Eastland County was organized in 1873.

Pioneers faced the existing populace: the friendly Caddo and the fierce Comanche, the opossum and the hardy mesquite. The settler soon occupied this borderland of civilization, so that two adventurous men decided to invest both time and money in the newly organized county. On January 15, 1875, Jack Daughtery and C.U. Connellee staked out the public square of the city of Eastland, and in May of that year, with the assistance of J.B. Ammerman, they set about building a frame store-house. Lumber and goods were wagon-hauled from Dallas by way of Granbury and Stephenville, completing the trip through Desdemona and Merriman on the Fort Griffin military road. Eastland's population grew, settlement encouraged by offering fee simple title to any lot bought for the purpose of building a residence or business house. In 1876, the county seat was moved from Merriman to Eastland City.

it had jumped to 9,368. In 1919, the building permits for one week in Eastland totaled $420,000, compared to Dallas' $136,000 or Houston's $53,000. Such tremendous growth drastically affected the banking situation in the county; banks kept opening until the county-wide total reached 18 in 1920. In 1918 Eastland had four banks: City National, American National, Guaranty State, and First State, each doing a healthy business. During this period of accelerated growth, First State's (now Eastland National's) impressive round vault door, weighing 21,000 lbs., was hauled from the train station to the present Petroleum Building, the wagon sinking in the muddy streets.

The early twenties brought a decline in oil production and many left the county for new fields in East and West Texas. As might be expected, the banks duly suffered. In the spring of 1920, American National merged into First State. Guaranty State followed suit in 1921. City National had become Security State Bank & Trust, only to close its doors in '21. The First State Bank, which had salvaged so many, went under in January of 1924. In that same month Texas State Bank was chartered, assuming the banking house and fixtures of the defunct First State. It was joined by the Exchange National Bank in 1924, and these two aided by the short-lived state Guaranty Fund, attempted to strengthen Eastland through the nationally prosperous twenties. One might speculate that wounds would have healed successfully had not the lightning bolt struck that shook the world - the Great Depression.

By 1930 the number of banks in the county had decreased to seven, with a total value of $314,840. It was early in that year that the Exchange National merged into the Texas State. Soon after, in October of 1931, Texas State closed, leaving Eastland without a bank. Times were poor: depositors could only get 18% on the dollar, and one fellow remembers that he could not cash his paycheck of $25, because no merchant in town had that kind of money.

It was not until 1934 that Eastland was again served by her own banking facilities. In February of that year, an organizing committee of three was appointed: Jess Williams, J.A. Beard, and P.L. Parker - public-spirited men who had lost money when Texas State closed. With Albert Taylor of Austin soon added to their number, the committee raised the required capital from individuals and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. An arrangement was made with the State Banking Department for the purchase of the Petroleum Building, previous site of the defunct Texas State, and the Comptroller of the Currency granted the charter. The new Eastland National Bank opened for business on November 5, 1934, numbering the fifth bank in the county, a figure unchanged to this day.

The institution opened with W.C. Campbell serving as president; Albert Taylor, vice-president and cashier; Guy Parker and Russell Hill as assistant cashiers; and Lahoma Hathcock, bookkeeper/secretary. J.A. Beard, Albert Taylor, Milburn McCarty, G.W. Fisher, Grady Pipkin, W.C. Campbell, and Walter Murray sat on the board of directors. From the very beginning, the Eastland National was a success: on November 24, less than twenty days after the doors opened, it had a healthy $170,110.34 on deposit, and $4,143.47 out in loans. By December 31 deposits had increased to $267,591.08, loans totalled $13,290.76, and total resources stood at $328,969.13. The bank and its management generated such confidence that on February 27, 1935, it was designated a special depository of public monies and soon had an application for state depository in the works.

Eastland National continued to grow slowly but surely over the next twenty years, keeping a conservative attitude in the wake of the Depression. In March of 1945, the last of the preferred stock held by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was sold. Throughout these years, the institution provided not only much needed loan and deposit services: it contributed to the well-being of the town as well. Eastland National supported organizations like the Boy Scouts and the Infantile Paralysis Campaign. And when Eastland built the Eastland Memorial Hospital in 1951-2, the bank not only gave money, but many of its employees contributed their valuable time as well.

Eastland National Bank was an entrenched institution in the community when, in 1954, J.P. McCracken and H.T. Wilson bought major shares of stock. On July 16, 1954, they received appointments to the board of directors. The date marks a turning point in the growth of the bank: in the past 26 years, total resources have risen from nearly 3.5 million dollars to over 35 million. This is due, in large part, to the innovative attitudes held by the management. What benefits and develops the community, they feel, benefits and develops the bank as well. This applies not only to active participation in community affairs, as Eastland National's support in the United Fund drives, but also defines basic banking philosophy. Loan activity and bond purchasing increased, while one of the best profit-sharing plans written to date was immediately adopted. Usually banks do not go on a full accrual system of payment until they reach $25 million, yet it was utilized when Eastland National was worth only $8 million. In 1960, the capital stock was raised $100,000 and then again in 1979 to total $500,000. The banker's blanket bond has always equaled or superseded those of banks many times its size.

The bank has also expanded and improved customer services, from providing credit cards to both consumer and merchant to its unique consolidated monthly statement. The special services department has adopted the copyrighted Special Organizational Services program (SOS) in order to further serve customers in times of change or stress. And when Eastland National computerized its operations in 1969, direct deposits, automatic transfers, and today's Double Eagle accounts were made possible.

The transfer to computer was not the first equipment improvement Eastland National has made over the years. The original Burroughs Sensomatic posting machines, purchased with the banking house in 1954, were quickly replaced with the National Postronics system, allowing Eastland National to be one of the first banks in the country to issue account numbers. After computerization in 1969, an even more advanced system was adopted in 1975, while microfilm and microfiche record transactions efficiently. Checks and deposit forms are printed in the bank's own shop. And the security equipment has always been the very best available, giving customers the most for their money.

Just as the management of the Eastland National Bank has consistently offered the most in services, so it has continually updated its facilities to better serve. The first remodeling was done in the spring of 1960, when the safe deposit vault was moved from the basement to the first floor, all new fixtures were installed, and the convenient time and temperature clock was placed on the Square. Three years later, motor banking facilities were built, while a second window was installed in 1971. Also in that year, the bookkeeping department was completely remodeled to keep up with its modern computer-based system; the kitchenette and community room were added in the annexed Western Auto Building for the convenience of both employees and customers. In 1973 saw the safe deposit vault expanded three times its original size, and the proof, bookkeeping, and savings departments moved and enlarged. An upper floor of the building was also remodeled to rent as office space.

The innovative attitude of Eastland National Bank has consistently proven itself. And 1977 was no different. It was in this year that the management requested permission to buy the Coca-Cola building and the Fina property in order to build all-new facilities. These men recognized the inadequacy of ground floor space, drive-in facilities, and customer parking at the old Petroleum Building, as well as its energy inefficiency, and looked to the future. Architects were engaged, the plans drawn up, and now after months of construction, the people of Eastland reap the benefits of time, hard work, and money spent. Once again, citizens can be proud of the intelligent, practical planning, characteristic of Eastland National Bank as it works for the growth of the community.

What Does Your Bank Mean To You?

"Just a minute, while I drive through for some cash," we often hear. Without seriously considering its implications, we simply dismiss the statement, collect the money from the drive-in teller's window, and move on. It is easy for us to take our Eastland National Bank for granted: we fully trust its proven soundness. Convenient location and accessibility make the bank such integral part of our familiar, immediate environment that the purposes it serves tend to blend into the background.

The Eastland National Bank is more than just a fancy "shoebox" for savings, or ready cash at the drive-in window. By providing funds and extending credit to local manufacturers, merchants, and consumers, this institution strengthens our economy. It lubricates the national monetary system by converting currency and coin into demand deposits and making these two money forms interchangeable.

The bank also provides facilities for storing purchasing power, allowing customers to plan for the future. Our idle monies grow with interest accrued in savings accounts. Certificates of deposit allow the highest interest rates possible. And for a nominal fee, we can rent a fire and theft-proof safe deposit box - and security - for articles of value.

By virtue of its construction, the bank provides unparalleled protection for the consumer's money. Yet the banker himself instills a sense of security and well-being in his customer. He acts as a professional, personal advisor in fiscal endeavors - anything from establishing suitable conditions for a purchasing loan to the planning of the family budget. The banker's interests extend outward, from individual problems to those of the community as well. He offers a fair share of active and monetary support in an effort to solve local problems, for his bank, he knows, will grow only as does its environment.

It is interesting to note that this particular philosophy of service and growth, and its closely associated facilities, are the developments of over two hundred years of trial, error, and correction. Having evolved in the spirit of individualism and self-help, the banking system of this country is uniquely American. Freedom in banking is as prized as freedom in all other areas of endeavor, and early bankers refused to accept any restraint they considered a denial of their inalienable right to conduct business as they saw fit. The need for stabilizing limitations were evident, however, and through legal statutes (such as that establishing Alexander Hamilton's Bank of the United States, or the post-Crash Banking Act of 1933), certain necessary controls have been authorized.

A cursory glance at some elements involved in commercial banking reveals its interworkings as an intricate system indeed. National, local, and individual influences merge to manifest the personal banking service we so often take for granted at Eastland National Bank: even as we sleep, our futures are protected. And now, with dedicated effort indicative of a truly conscientious yet progressive attitude, Eastland National Bank brings us the all-new modern facilities located on 201 E. Main. There's more behind that round vault door than meets the depositor's eye.
