INJUNCTION IS GRANTED N. Y. CLOTHING FIRM

JUDGE DECIDES IN FAVOR OF MICHAELS, STERN & COMPANY.

SERVED AS TEST CASE Decision Calls for Permanent Injunction and Damages to the Amount of $100,000.

Associated Press. ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 18.—Justice A. J. Rodenbeck today rendered a decision sustaining the Michael-Stern & Co., in a suit against the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America for a permanent injunction and $100,000 damages. The suit grew out of an attempt by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, to organize employees of Michael-Stern Company, a Rochester concern making men's clothing, and to negotiate an agreement with the company on their behalf. The attempt was made after the Amalgamated already had agreements with other large Rochester clothing factories and with many of the large clothing factories in the principal men's clothing centers of the United States and Canada.

The case attracted wide attention because of the expectation that it would serve as a test case to determine how far a labor union was justified in applying economic pressure against an employer, and what means lawfully might be used by a union in enforcing its purposes. The Amalgamated called a strike of its members employed in the Michael-Stern Company plant on July 25, 1919, after the company had refused to recognize it as the representative of its employees. The company invited the United Garment Workers to organize its employees and entered into an agreement covering working conditions with it as its employees' representatives.

From the time of the calling of the strike until October the strikers, reinforced by Amalgamated members employed in other Rochester clothing factories, picketed the factories of Michael-Stern Company and some of the shops of contractors who did work for the company. The company charged that its employees were subjected to "verbal abuse, actual assaults and threats," and its business was unlawfully interfered with.

In October it applied to Supreme Court Justice Adolph J. Rodenbeck for an injunction restraining the union members from the acts alleged, and was granted a temporary writ. Early in the year here the temporary injunction made permanent and asking for $100,000 as reimbursement for damages alleged to have been done to its business by the union's activities.

The sole issue raised, according to the company's counsel, was whether the law will protect Michael-Stern & Company and its employees "from verbal abuse, actual assaults and threats, and unlawful interference with its business."

According to counsel for the union, the legal questions were: Whether the enforcement of collective bargaining was a legal object, and whether the means employed to enforce it were lawful. The union contended that it sought to better the conditions of its members by the enforcement of collective bargaining and that "the strike, incitement of strikes, picketing, and appeals to the public in so far as they did not involve violence, fraud or defamation and similar tactics, which the defendants emphatically disavowed, were tactical means reasonably adapted to the achievement of the strategic objective of collective bargaining," and strictly within the law. The company sought to show that the means used by the union transcended the bounds that have been set by courts to picketing and other means of persuasion.

FRED'K. GIMBLE CHARGED WITH EXCESS PROFIT

ALLEGED THAT SUIT COSTING $33 WAS SOLD FOR $75.

WARNED BY OFFICIALS

Two Other New York Clothing Arrested on Same Charge—90 to 275 Per Cent.

Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 19.—Frederick Gimble, first vice president of the Gimble Brothers department store, with branches in many large cities, was arrested here today by agents from the department of justice. He is charged with profiteering in clothing. Gimble is head of the company's New York store.

One of the biggest profits alleged to have been made was when a clothing salesman declared that a suit costing $32 had been sold for $75. Another charge was that a $5.50 mohair suit sold for $29 and a $15 suit sold for $33.75. The agents making the complaint against Gimble, stated they had been making an investigation of the Gimble store for the past two weeks, and had gone to the Gimble store a few days ago and informed of the profits on clothes.

The arrest came as a surprise to officials of the store, who announced "it is and has been our desire and intention to comply with all federal regulations." J. J. Dowell, a general merchandise manager, and C. D. Slaughter, a clothing buyer, were also arrested on similar charges. All three men were charged with making profits from 90 to 275 per cent.

Man Knocked Through Plate Glass Window In Main Street Row

One man was knocked through a plate glass window and his opponent sustained a broken hand in a street fight here Saturday afternoon which was the culmination of a quarrel over stray cattle.

One of the men, it is said, accused the other of permitting his cows to stray and graze upon land owned by the accuser. A fight started. A crowd quickly gathered on the scene of the brawl which was staged at the corner of Broadway and Main.

Blow rained thick and heavy. The accuser was backed against the plate glass window of a millinery store in the Masonic building, according to witnesses and a blow on the point of the chin from the accused sent him crashing through the glass. His hand was severely lacerated. His assailant, it is said, started to leave but returned and the fight was resumed.

The antagonists were finally separated by bystanders, and shortly after were arrested by Deputy Constable E. M. Elliott. Both were taken to the office of Drs. Howell and Lee. One has six stitches taken in his hand which was cut to the bone across the back. The other had his broken knuckles put in splints.

SAN FRANCISCO SHORN OF OLD-TIME RESORTS

"ROARING COAST" WITH PICTURESQUE ENVIRONS GONE

DIFFERENT DENNS NOW

If You Go to Democratic Convention, You'll See Improved Conditions.

Special Correspondence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 12.—Visitors to the democratic national convention will see but few reminders of the old, romantic days of San Francisco when the red-shirted miners swept down from the gold-straked reaches of the Sierras and threw fistfuls of "pay dirt" on the bars or the store counters for whatever they wished to purchase.

They will never run across such characters as the little old millionaire who used to haunt the "Barbery Coast" resorts in memory of some of the old-time residents. This individual, who had hit a "pay streak" early in the "mother lode" of northern California, used to order a particular brand of champagne, the price of which he well knew. Although he was a "good fellow," he never would allow himself to be victimized by the loose, vicious financiering of the district. He would keep the cork from every bottle, no matter how convivial it might be, and when the time came to settle up he would produce these corks to check against his bill. If the dun did not coincide with the evidence of the corkage, he would not pay it.

Gone is the roaring "coast" and less picturesque environs. "Bottle" Keenly and "Bottle" Meyers, who used to run noisy cock fighting establishments in what is now the shadow of the hall of justice, have long since passed on and the "Montana dance hall," most blatant and blatant of all the coast resorts, is hardly a memory. Even the establishment of the old German doctor, who, according to some local histories, used to be the German emperor's personal physician, is gone almost from the recollection of men. It is here that the denizens of the "coast" were hatched and shorn and set right physically after their bouts with John Barleycorn.

Chinatown guides still point out the little restaurant hanging precariously over old Dupont street, where Frank Norris, the author, went occasionally to get a bit of local color. Directly ahead and facing the hall of justice is Portsmouth Square, a cave for the city's human drift, where the "visitantes" staged many a stirring scene and the "sandlot" was under the leadership of Jerry Dennis Kearney, dismissed the town's political leader.

Some of the old wine shops, rivals in the new world of the coffee houses of Addison and Steele as gathering places of the artists and the literati, still cling to the Latin quarter. But most of the old cafes, where much of the city's history was plotted, remain in name only. Gene's Dunca, Nichol's, the "Bank Exchange" of former days where the famous "Paco Parrot" was served over a mahogany bar that was brought around the Horn. The old Cliff House, where residents of the United States and other renowned statesmen used to enjoy the sea food breakfasts, was burned years ago.

On Vawter Place still may be seen the quarters of the old Siberia Club, stronghold of Yee Mee, "king of Chinatown." Here, before the police "axe parties" became a feature of Chinatown, the chance games of "con-can," "chuck a luck" and "fan-tan" were played in the midst of a maze of corridors and dingy parlors worked by secret springs and exotic odors of opium and Chinese dishes. Above the gambling room were the alcoves where the beaten and broken gamblers could sleep off their anguish and could remain until they had recouped their fortunes.

The black docks that lined the "Frigate" from China Basin to the Presidio are gone and lately berths for ocean liners have arisen in their place. The dimly bars that stood back of them, where adventurers of all degrees were once dropped, drug-stuffed, through trap-doors and into waiting boats below as part of the great "Shanghai" game, all have been swept away. The "Shanghai" was the system for recruiting the crews of the "lime juicers," the great deep sea barks that plied principally between San Francisco and South American ports. They got their name through the fact that for more than a decade those under English registry carried a consignment of lime juice on every voyage to combat epidemics of scurvy among the crews. With improved conditions the scurvy disappeared and the lime juice went back into the water-front cocktail.

The hall cannon that made the defenses of the old Presidio may still be seen in mock defense off Sutter Heights. Nob Hill, once the home of the city's elite, shows a collection of ragged foundations, much as the great fire left. "Sons of the Slot" the ancient remedies have given way to smart apartments in their midst standing the slowly disintegrating ruins of the "Mission of Serranos," known in Spanish as the "Mission Dolores," built in 1776 by the Franciscans. It is the best memento of the romantic old San Francisco that endures.

Blondes are more in demand than brunettes, for acting in motion pictures, a preference which is chiefly due to the fact that the lighter hair, photographed against certain types of background or special lighting, is much more effective than the hair of brunettes.

RICH YOUNG WIDOW SOBS STORY

Prepare for Hearing of Red River Dispute Before Commissioner

Special to The News.

Special to The News.

NEW YORK, June 12.—"Won't you come into my parlor?" said the spider to the fly.

"Please always accept the invitation of the spider, who seems like such a nice, good, friendly sort. And flies don't know much about webs till their poor little feet get entangled."

When the fly sits in the other fellow's game he makes a mistake. Such an error was that of Mrs. Eva R. Gleason when she decided to play poker for amusement—and profit—the possibility of which was held out to her by those who invited her to join their game.

Tuesday night Mrs. Gleason slept comfortably in a ten-dollar-a-day room at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

Wednesday she found a cot in jail less agreeable.

To a certain day some months ago, and to a certain woman, Mrs. Gleason ascribes her descent from the estate of a carefree young woman to that of one with the law's heavy touch on her slight shoulder.

In the West Side Court, where Mrs. Gleason was arraigned on charges of the theft of $1500 in gems, proffered by Mrs. Chester H. Curry, she shook with sobs, drew her heavy tan polo coat close about her, and pulled her fox furs up to hide her face from sight. Later she consented to tell something of her experiences with poker players.

"I have always played bridge," she stated, "but a certain woman said she could tell me of a nice, friendly little game that might be interesting."

"I then considered joining these wretched poker players."

"Every one warned me, but I wouldn't listen to good advice."

"The game was fascinating, alluring. I couldn't stop after I began—it was irresistible."

"I won marvelously at first. Beginners often do. They didn't like that. If you keep on winning they put you out. They won't stand for any one taking their money away. They want to get yours."

"I was unusually lucky. They want people with money to come in, and I had good income, a thousand a month. If I had kept on winning I suppose they would finally have put me out."

"But the fact of my arrest and other occurrences leading up to it have a basis in the jealousy and fear of a certain young woman I have known for a time."

"This woman feared I would tell a man she loves something about her that would make him leave her. I had no intention of doing this, but it is a fact that if you know something unpleasant about a person that man or woman thereupon becomes your enemy."

"Well, to go on. She is known to have said to people that she would be able, if I talked about her, to reply concerning me: 'Why that woman has a jail record—don't believe her.'"

"This enemy of mine is lacking Mrs. Curry's charges against me. Were it not for her urging the case would be dropped."

Mrs. Gleason lifted her filmy veil and threw it back over her smart little hat, and revealed the ravages of a sleepless night in jail. Her cheeks were tear-stained, her eyes hollow and dark.

Outside the door of the West Fifty-fourth street Police Court stood several shiny, nickel-plated limousines. A creamy Pomeranian toddled up and down beside one car.

NEW YORK, June 12.—"Won't you come into my parlor?" said the spider to the fly.

When the fly sits in the other fellow's game he makes a mistake.

Such an error was that of Mrs. Eva R. Gleason when she decided to play poker for amusement—and profit—the possibility of which was held out to her by those who invited her to join their game.

Mrs. Gleason lifted her filmy veil and threw it back over her smart little hat, and revealed the ravages of a sleepless night in jail. Her cheeks were tear-stained, her eyes hollow and dark.

Outside the door of the West Fifty-fourth street Police Court stood several shiny, nickel-plated limousines. A creamy Pomeranian toddled up and down beside one car.

On the oaken benches within five or six feet fashionably dressed women exchanged views on the forthcoming case of a former member of their clique.

All wore the navy blue of the present mode, several embellished with slinky sable neckpieces. White kid 16-button gloves were numerous.

On the other hand Mrs. Gleason seemed strangely out of place in a police court. Her expression of extreme French shoes, costly stockings, imported hat of great chic, heavily embroidered tan coat with navy serge cross-belt, resplendent with red beaded trimming, made her appear more like a pretty girl one might notice at a tea table or matinee.

"I was a stranger," said Mrs. Gleason. She forgot to add, in paraphrase, "and they took me in."

One of the women mentioned as frequenters of the card games at Mrs. Curry's and other houses is the wife of a prominent actor.

Fifty men all of them blinded in the war, engaged in a spirited boat race the other day over the famous Thames River course in England.

The names of several very prominent women are included in the list of delegates from the United States to the coming International Woman Suffrage Congress in Geneva, Switzerland, June 6-12. Among those who will represent the United States are Miss Julia Lathrop, head of the children's bureau of the U. S. department of labor; Mrs. Helen Ring Robinson, a former member of the Colorado senate; Mrs. Maud Nathan, honorary president of the National Consumers' league, and Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, president of the Kentucky Woman Suffrage association.

1410 Students Are In Attendance Upon T. U. Summer School

Special to The News.

ASTIN, Texas, June 19.—It is announced by F. L. Reed, head of the big department of music of the University of Texas, that at the recent national convention of Phi Mu Epsilon, held at Eugene, Oregon, authority was granted for the establishment at the university of a chapter of this honorary music sorority.

The installation of the chapter will take place soon after the opening of the regular session next fall.

It is stated that many great artists of the country belong to this honorary sorority.

The professional requirements for membership are very high. Mrs. Katherine B. Peoples, a well-known pianist of Dallas, has been appointed a member of the faculty to the institute of applied music, which is affiliated with the department of music of the university of Texas. Mrs. Peoples will begin her new duties at the opening of the coming fall session.

She is widely known in Texas as a brilliant pianist.

With an enrollment of 1410 students for the first term of the summer school at the University of Texas the increase of attendance over last year at this time is approximately 12 per cent. It is expected that some increase to these figures will be made during the next few days.

The summer normal of the university opens next Monday.

According to Dr. Frederick Eby, dean of the summer school, prospects for a good increase of attendance at the summer normal session are very encouraging. He predicts that the attendance will be between 400 and 500, as compared with about 350 last year.

LOCAL DRUGGIST SAYS OKLAHOMA IS PROSPEROUS

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Fain returned Saturday morning from a ten-day trip through Oklahoma. Fain said that business in the various cities he visited was very good and especially so in Okmulgee, which is in the center of Oklahoma's latest big oil field.

Many new wells are coming in daily. Fain stated, and Okmulgee is enjoying a large building boom.

The crop conditions in Oklahoma are excellent, and the general prosperity of that state looks very good, according to Fain.

GIVING PLAY FOR BENEFIT OF HI ANNUAL

"MRS. TEMPLE'S TELEGRAM" TO BE PRESENTED AT CITY HALL FRIDAY EVE.

NEED $200 FOR FUND

Cast to Be All-Star and of Local Talent, Including Faculty Members of School.

For the purpose of raising funds to complete payment for the "Occidental," the annual booklet of the students of the Cisco High School, a comedy entitled "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," will be presented at the City Hall auditorium next Friday evening by members of the faculty and other local talent.

An excellent cast has been picked for the play which is extremely humorous and should be highly pleasing.

The leading characters are Mrs. J. J. Godbey as Mrs. Temple, who causes all the trouble, and Prof. Godbey as Mr. Temple, the real criminal, who makes his wife believe him the soul of honor.

In this sparkling comedy, G. F. Galtier, as a busy liar, is given a chance to show his ability along theatrical lines.

Another interesting character is Mr. Z. B. Edworthy as Capt. Sharpe, a typical Englishman. He is rather slow in catching the jokes that are practiced upon him, but as a pleasing lover, the captain can not be beat.

W. J. Barnes as the butler, must of necessity keep his dignity, but he really has one of the best parts in the play and brings a laugh every time he comes on the stage.

Miss Vada White and Dr. Paul Woods as Mr. and Mrs. John Brown are the eccentric characters and are a complete show in themselves.

All who saw the Senior play "And Home Come Tom," know the ability of Misses Edna Webber and Ruth Williamson. They play well their respective parts. The one the "glimmering sweet heart" the other the "dull-witted wife."

Prof. and Mrs. Godbey have given "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" several times before and the public may well expect real entertainment.

The entire proceeds will go towards paying the debt on the annual so that the publications committee of the Cisco High School may start the students activities next year without this financial burden.

It is necessary that $200 be raised through this performance if the "Occidental" debt is to be completely liquidated, according to Professor Godbey.

Constable's Office Here Raids Alleged House of Ill Fame

A house of alleged ill fame was raided at noon Saturday by the constable's office here. Two women and one man were taken in the raid.

All three pleaded guilty to vagrancy, according to Justice of the Peace Z. M. Taylor. The police officers are looking for another man who escaped during the raid.

Both of the women and the man concerned were fined $20.75 each. The women were ordered to leave town.

The arrests were made by Deputy Constable D. M. Elliott and Deputy Sheriff Joe Ray.

According to Judge Taylor the house of alleged ill fame is a private residence that was leased some time ago and fitted up by the lessee for light house, keeping rooms. These rooms, he says, were rented to women who had no visible means of support.

"Complaints were made to the police department and city officials on numerous occasions by residents in the neighborhood," says Judge Taylor, "but these people were told that they must first obtain evidence that anything wrong was going on in the house. I got the evidence and proceeded to act upon it."

"A complaint was sworn to by one of the residents in my office Saturday morning and I issued warrants for the arrest of the occupants of the house in question. The fact that they all pleaded guilty seems to justify my action."

Judge Taylor says that the lessee of the house pleaded guilty and paid his fine, and that he also paid the fines of the two women who were unable to make payment and were about to be put in jail.

CENSUS BUREAU FIGURES SHOW 7 BIG CITIES

International News Service. BOSTON, June 19.—Boston Friday fell to seventh position in the cities of the United States when the population of Detroit and Cleveland were announced by the Census Bureau at Washington as 993,739 for Detroit and 798,836 for Cleveland.

St. Louis, for many years the fourth largest city of the country, was also superseded and is now in sixth place.

The standing of the seven leading cities of the country, according to the latest figures, follow:

- New York, 5,621,151.
- Chicago, 2,791,212.
- Philadelphia, 2,190,000 (estimated).
- Detroit, 993,739.
- Cleveland, 798,836.
- St. Louis, 773,000.
- Boston, 747,923.

Cisco Jail Empty; Crooks on Strike, Police Conjecture

Cisco's jail is empty. It has been that way for nearly a week now, and the police are beginning to get worried about what to do to keep tenants in their iron-barred lodging house. No other landlords around town seem to be having any trouble in that respect and are being paid high rents.

"We let the last one out Monday," said Patrolman George Carmichael, "and he came out with a leg over the desk down town at the station and took a chance on hitting a nearby cuspidor."

"I guess all the crooks have either gone on a vacation or else on a strike for better hours and more loot," said Assistant Chief of Police J. T. Stamps, as he wandered up and down Main street futilely.

"Don't Ever Marry" is the title of the latest Marshall Neilan production which tells the funny, fascinating story of the troubles which Benson ran into by marrying. It will be the attraction at the Judia Theatre Sunday afternoon and night.

REPRESENTATIVE THOMAS BLANTON SPEAKS IN CISCO

APPEARS BEFORE CISCO PEOPLE ON SATURDAY EVE. AT CITY HALL.

HE ASKS RE-ELECTION

Declares That He Has Fulfilled His Promises to Constituents, Citing Work.

THOMAS L. BLANTON

Representative Thomas L. Blanton was greeted by an enthusiastic audience at the city hall auditorium Saturday evening when he came before the people of this city to ask for re-election to his present office.

Congressman Blanton was surprised at the growth and progress of Cisco since he was here last year and passed many compliments upon the recent achievements of this community.

He had spoken in Ranger and Eastland during the day.

Although his voice was somewhat husky from his strenuous campaign tour, the congressman spoke forcibly and impressed his hearers.

A brief summary of his speech is as follows:

"I gladly report my stewardship to my constituents. I come with a clear conscience, knowing that I have left no stone unturned in doing everything within my power in their behalf."

"On my platform I pledged the following: Unimpaired service and constant attention to business; condemnation of the prevalent inactivity and absence of congressmen from Washington; strict public economy and a clean-up of useless, wasteful departments; merit rather than the spoils system; national prohibition; national woman suffrage; rural farm credits; real help rather than the usual camouflage for the farmer, business and the spinner closer together so as to eliminate the gambler and middle-man; a strong merchant marine to insure prompt transportation of all farm and industrial products; tariff for revenue only; restricted immigration; a fair square deal alike for labor and capital; an uncompromising fight against all pork barrel, garden seed and other graft; maximum government assistance for education; for the eradication of tuberculosis and other menacing diseases; boll weevil, tick, blackleg, and hog cholera; and a rural partnership between all the people and the federal government instead of between special interests and the federal government."

"I have faithfully kept every campaign pledge. My record in congress shows favorable results on every promise. No other member has been in more constant attendance on the house floor or given more active and painstaking attention than I have to all public business. I have participated in every debate of importance during my membership."

Eloping Bride-to-Be Finds Fiance in Hotel With Wife As Third Girl Claims Him

SCENE FROM MARSHALL NEILANS "DON'T EVER MARRY"

Plans that go wrong are the cause of nearly all the trouble in the world. No sane person ever plans trouble for himself, yet everyone is constantly planning ahead, and trouble develops, therefore it must be that most plans go wrong for trouble is one of the commonest things in the world.

It is experienced so often that the most nerve racking troubles are usually humorous to bystanders, and many times cause good laughs to the people involved after they are over. It would seem that people could get a source of comfort out of predicaments they are in by realizing the humor of the situation, but it is very seldom there is any humor to be seen until they are safely out.

Marriage Plan Goes Wrong. Deep trouble for the people involved, which was far from humor for spectators developed in Elmfield, a little country village, due to the plans of a pretty maid to avoid a marriage upon which her mother had insisted. She enlisted the aid of the best friend of the man she really loved. Her plan was simple. She would announce that she had married the friend. Ergo, no other marriage was possible.

After the announcement she planned to go to her own home for the night to pack. He was to go to a hotel. The next day she would accompany him to New York where he had accepted a position. There they would separate, she going to the home of a friend until her true lover could come to claim her.

The plan is complicated at the start because the young man whom she has selected to play the role of husband, has secretly married on the day he is to assume the role. The announcement is made however, and then the plans go all wrong. Her excuse to go home to pack is brushed aside as nonsense, and the couple are conducted by an impromptu wedding party to his rooms in the hotel, and left there to begin their honeymoon.

The secret bride has seen them taken the hotel. The girl is pretty. But why attempt to describe the complications that ensue when Marshall Neilan has depicted them with all their humor in a motion picture production entitled "Don't Ever Marry," which will be the attraction at the Judia Theatre this afternoon and night.

ship. Of the Texas delegation of 18 members, I was the only congressman who made a speech for national prohibition.

"Through exhaustive personal investigations made at my own expense, I have succeeded in having several thousand useless employes discharged, and several departments cleaned up. The graft best known to the public is the rivers and harbors appropriation and the public buildings appropriation. Since I have been in congress only one small rivers and harbors appropriation has been made. By investigating and filing minority reports against unscrupulous private claims, I have saved over $100,000,000. By making points of order against improper appropriations, which were sustained by the chair, I have saved about $200,000,000, proof of which is shown in the excerpts from the record sent you, entitled "Let the record speak."

"In refusing to obey orders and wear a yoke, in forcing members to stay in Washington and attend to business by recording their absence, in opposing and defeating their private bills involving millions, in trying to reduce mileage to actual expenses, in denouncing the giving to each member every session a cedar chest, a pine chest and an oak chest, in blocking all efforts to raise members salary from $7500 to $10,000, in denouncing frequent and expensive junketing trips, in fighting garden seed and other graft, in making points of order against appropriations for special interests, I very naturally made some enemies, but I survived their side-jabs."

Railroads Forced to Use More Ice by the Big Rio Grande Crop

Special to The News. BROWNSVILLE, Tex., June 19.—The large increase in the size of the winter and spring vegetable crop in the Rio Grande Valley this year is indicated by the increase in the amount of ice the railroads used in cooling cars in which the vegetables were shipped. More than 60,000 tons of ice have been used by the Gulf Coast Lines, according to J. C. Nolan, superintendent of that road, who said that in preceding years the road's largest contract for the season was 5000 tons and much of that had been wasted.

This year, Nolan said, even by sweeping all available territory, enough ice to meet the needs could not be secured, although shipments were made from points as far distant as Texarkana and New Orleans.

SIT STEADY.

The pendulum can swing only so far; then it must swing back.

The inflation of prices—the increase in the cost of living can go just so far—then it must return to normal.

The pendulum has swung. It has swung not only as far as its own mechanism can take it, but as much farther as the use of artificial boom and false stimulus can make it go.

It now hovers for that infinitesimal fraction of a second, which in business life is several months, on the extreme degree of its arc before beginning its backward swing.

The question now is not whether the pendulum will swing back. That is almost certain.

The problem is whether it can be stopped at its dead center of normal and be prevented from rocking as far to the other side of the clock of industry.

It is quite probable that it can. There is a lull now that should have been expected—not only expected, but prepared for.

It was inconceivable to believe that this mad race of expenditure could go on forever or that matters could even begin to remedy themselves on their shaky platform of inflated prices and decreasing values.

It is mercy enough for all of us that the thermometer of finance is merely dropping rather than breaking.

Fortunately for us, the federal reserve system has applied the ice of conservatism to the rising pulse of recklessness from the fever of which we might have nationally died.

"We are killing the town!" That has been the hue and cry for many months of those who would like to see Cisco wide open with dance halls off ill repute and gaming tables maintaining an artificial activity that counterfeits growth and progress.

"Business is dull!" This is the kindred cry of those who are loath to see the banking interests of the country figuratively piling the gambling tables of speculation into the streets and burning them in order to make way for more substantial business.

If these cases are not parallel, it is only in respect that gambling is considered vice and speculation considered high finance.

The merchants of this city are doing as good a business as they have ever done, if not better. The elimination of speculation has rebounded to their benefit, whether they are aware of it or not.

The people have come from a bounding sea into the smooth water of a harbor and are wondering whether or not, with the absence of the rolling and rocking, if the ship is still moving.

It is moving, to be sure. But in a safer, saner, surer and more substantial way.

The thing to do now is to sit steady in the boat.

OVERWORKED BRAINS.

George W. Perkins, noted financier, died Friday of one of the rarest diseases known to mankind—an overworked brain.

It's surprising how much more the brains of some of us would hold if we were not so afraid of crowding them.

Brains are just like muscles; they improve with exercise. But it is pretty certain that more people have died of athlete's heart in this world than from overworked brains.

Unless you are a human wizard you will never be able to put into your brain nearly as much as it will hold.

The best policy is never to pass up anything on the grounds that it is not worth knowing.

The knowledge of some small fact has saved many a man in the greatest crisis of his life.

Did you ever see so many brick buildings going up so quickly and at the same time as are being erected in this city right now? Every morning when you come down to work you find another one almost finished that you never saw before.

"What other city of Eastland's size is undertaking the paving of forty blocks of city streets?" asks the Eastland Oil Belt News. Cisco has nearly completed that number already—not merely undertaking to.

A whole lot of people plead mightily for the two-edged law. The side toward them must be blunt; the side toward their neighbor must have a razor finish.

Any better off this month than you were last month? If you have been buying war savings stamps every time pay day comes around, you certainly are.

Don't bother so much about wearing a crown. Be sure that your head is worthy of one.

Keep the upward gaze. It turns prisons into palaces and transforms hovels into castles.

God makes the sunshine; we make the shadows.

Dread only the self-made hell; there is no other.

Just a bare living is not getting on in the world.

PALESTINE—ITS CITIES.

In Jesus' day we read of two cities of great importance, viz: Jerusalem and Capernaum. Bethlehem, Nazareth, Bethsaida and Tiberias were cities of much less importance.

Of these cities Jerusalem, Nazareth, Bethlehem and Joppa remain. Ruins and a small population mark Tiberias and Bethsaida. Capernaum, a few miles distant, then the chief commercial city of Galilee, is lost to sight.

For this information we are indebted to Frank G. Carpenter, who tells us that he was there and saw the house. Bethlehem, the city of Jesus' birth, still remains, the one of the cities of Palestine, having about 4000 population.

Joppa, sea port of Palestine, has a poor harbor. Here the "Zionists" recently unfurled the Jewish national banner, over the first ship owned and manned by Jews, for 2500 years.

Between the two, bordering the sea coast lies the "Valley of Shanon," the most marvelous for production in Palestine. The orange groves of Joppa, one of them containing 5000 acres, produce the finest orange in the world.

Josephus, the historian, informs us that the place at which the whale landed him was several hundred miles nearer his destination than was Joppa.

So we now come to Jerusalem, the most widely known city of the earth. Though now insignificant in dimensions, David chose it as his capital 300 years before Rome was founded.

History tells us it was destroyed seven times, besieged 27 times, captured 18 times. The present city is built upon 40 feet of debris from former cities.

David made a magnificent city of Jerusalem, but Solomon put the crowning touch when he built "The Temple of Solomon," which, with the foundations, was the costliest structure ever erected on earth.

The Temple stood 500 years and then was destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar, and the gold and brass carried to Babylon, which was used to construct "The golden image," 60 cubits high.

The Temple was rebuilt in 520 to 536, B. C., standing to Herod's day, and was by him enlarged and embellished with gold.

Despite Titus' efforts to preserve this Temple, it was destroyed by his soldiers in A. D. 70, thus fulfilling Daniel's prophecy written 500 years before, saying: "The people of the prince that cometh shall destroy the city and the sanctuary."

"Not one stone shall be left upon another, that shall not be thrown down." Hadrian plowed up the soil and sowed it in salt, thus fulfilling Jeremiah's prophecy written 700 years before.

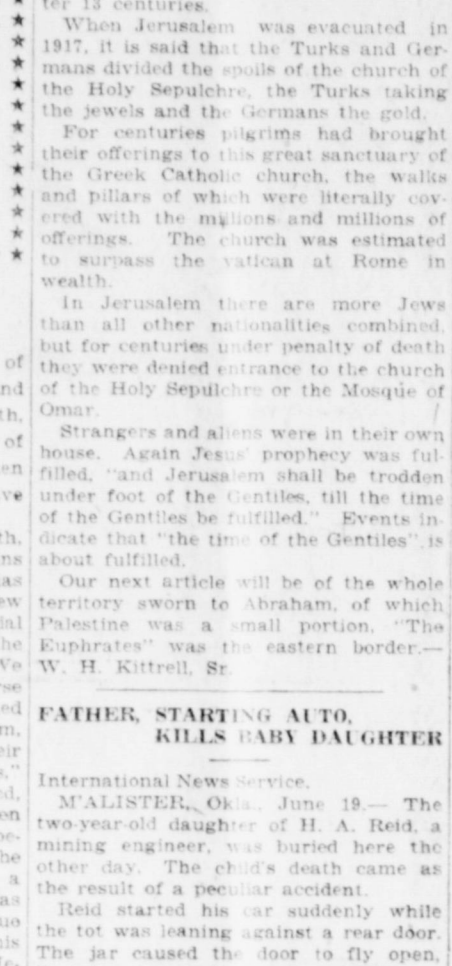

Constantine began the construction of a new city in the fourth century. His mother, Helen, built the church of the Holy Sepulchre, at that time, supposed to be at Jesus' tomb.

Later the Mohammedans captured the city and Caliph Omar built "The Mosque of Omar," yet standing. It occupies the same spot as did Solomon's Temple, and is in perfect condition after 13 centuries.

When Jerusalem was evacuated in 1917, it is said that the Turks and Germans divided the spoils of the church of the Holy Sepulchre, the Turks taking the jewels and the Germans the gold. For centuries pilgrims had brought their offerings to this great sanctuary of the Greek Catholic church, the walls and pillars of which were literally covered with the millions and millions of offerings. The church was estimated to surpass the Vatican at Rome in wealth.

International News Service. M'ALISTER, Okla., June 19.—The two-year-old daughter of H. A. Reid, a mining engineer, was buried here the other day. The child's death came as the result of a peculiar accident.

Reid started his car suddenly while the tot was leaning against a rear door. The jar caused the door to fly open, throwing her under a rear wheel.

BAD STRETCHES IN CISCO-ROMNEY ROAD NOW BEING FILLED

Through the efforts of the Young Men's Business League and the faithful collaboration of County Road Commissioner W. M. Eppler, a bad stretch of road across the Leon bottoms three miles south of town is being filled in with clay and gravel, and other bad places on the Cisco-Romney highway are being repaired.

About a year ago the Humble Oil & Refining Company filled in this break with crushed rock abutted with concrete curbs, but the heavy rains of the winter washed away the greater part of this filler and the roadway at this point was almost impassable to motorists.

While this road is not embraced in the county road building program for which a contract was recently let, it was realized by the commissioner that it would be many months before the hard surface macadamized highway projected could be laid and that unless some immediate action toward relieving the situation in the meantime were taken, traffic between Cisco and Rising Star would suffer inconvenience.

Commissioner Eppler has also required several stretches of roadway between Cisco and Lake Dothan, Cisco's most immediate watering resort and playground.

BROWNWOOD, Texas, June 19.—Contracts have just been let for putting down two test wells near Brookesmith, 17 miles south of here.

and astonished all New York in the audacious "Dark-Scene" Test.

and then the LIGHTS went OUT

Read below what the New York newspapers said of the test. Remember—the marvelous instrument used in New York City was an exact duplicate of the original Official Laboratory Model, which cost Mr. Edison three million dollars in research work.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph with a Soul"

"A portion of the demonstration was even carried on without the lights, so that no one could see whether Miss Case's lips moved or not. It was all genuinely instructive, and the twin-ship between Miss Case's singing, and the reproduction thereof, proved so close as to be often indistinguishable."

"When the lights were lowered, it was impossible to tell when it was Anna Case, and when it was only her voice that was singing."

But Miss Case's voice went smoothly on. It rose to the very heights of its superb artistry. Then, the lights flashed on! The audience gasped with astonishment. Case was gone! Her voice had been coming from the New Edison.

Free Demonstration of the Thor Electric Washer In Your Own Home!

YOU now have the opportunity to see how soiled clothes are washed spotlessly clean, in a jiffy, by "electrical muscle" without "human" rubbing or washboard wear—and you can have this opportunity in your OWN HOME if you will but step in and tell us or phone 21 that you wish a Thor sent to your home for a thorough demonstration. After you have become acquainted with the workings of the Thor, and you decide that it is indispensable in your household, it is an easy matter to arrange for this wonderful machine to become a regular fixture in your home. There is absolutely no cost whatever to this demonstration—call us the first thing in the morning and we will have a machine at your house in time to do this week's washing.

We want you to try one of these machines—use it FREE

We will place it in your home and you can use it—try it out thoroughly—and then if you want it, simply pay for it in

LACE CURTAINS OR HEAVY BLANKETS

THE scope of the Thor is unlimited. Your daintiest lace curtains or your heaviest blankets will be washed equally well. No streaked or half clean clothes, no parts that need rubbing after the Thor has done its thorough work. Nearly a half million women have freed themselves from wash day drudgery by purchasing Thors. Have yours for next wash day.

Revolving, Reversing Cylinder—Washes Clothes Clean Without Wear.

Drop into our shop today. Watch the cylinder action of the machine we have in operation. See for yourself how gently clothes are handled in the Thor Cylinder—and how thoroughly they are cleansed. Or if you wish, just telephone and have a Thor delivered for your next wash day.

Small Monthly Payments

USE WILL PROVE ITS WORTH

When you buy a THOR, you buy real worth, highest quality, which gives the utmost in economy, efficiency, durability and satisfaction. See the THOR demonstrated. Investigate its advantages—then you'll join the ever-widening circle of satisfied owners.

ALWAYS ON THE JOB—READY, WILLING—SILENT

Don't fuss and fume because servants are hard to get. As time passes they will become scarcer and scarcer. Make the home work easier for yourself—and your help—get more out of what you have. Harness electricity to the hard job.

Here is a mechanical servant that pays its own way—week after week—throughout the years of its usefulness. It makes the best servant because it fits into every home.

SAVES MONEY, TIME AND THE CLOTHES

The Thor will do a big washing in an hour. It washes everything, laces, linens, blankets. The clothes come out of the cylinder absolutely clean and unharmed.

With the Thor there is no work—push a button and the machine takes care of all the drudgery—even the arm-tiring job of wringing is done by the Thor.

The Thor saves the cost of extra help on wash day—it saves the cost of sending the clothes out to be washed. And it saves all the wear and tear the clothes get when washed by hand, because it washes without rubbing.

A Thor actually pays for itself. It returns all you pay, over and over again, in a saving that goes on year after year. And it is built to last a lifetime.

All this—and more—for the small cost of only 2 cents an hour. Surely it's worth so trifling an amount to be forever rid of the worry of wash day.

And from the standpoint of sanitation, the Thor gives maximum cleanliness. The clothes are washed in your own home, under your own supervision. Clothes sent out and washed in questionable surroundings may not be clean or even safe to wear.

Let the Thor Do Your Family Washing This Week---Call 21 and Ask About It.

Johnson Strong, Scouts Win Opener From Resorters, 3 to 1

ALLOWED ONLY THREE HITS AND 1 BASE ON BALLS

KING GETS THREE BLOWS OUT OF FOUR TIMES AT BAT.

FLAGG BACK IN FORM

Harding, on First, Accepts 16 Chances—Team Is Playing Hard to Win.

The Scouts with F. Johnson on the mound, took the first game of the series from the Resorters here yesterday 3 to 1.

Johnson allowed but three hits, and kept the visitors well in hand. The only time Mineral Wells could break through the lines, was in the sixth inning, when on a couple of misplays by the Scouts, Bockkopf slipped home.

Cisco did not hesitate for a moment, but in their half of the game, Flagg brought in a couple of rallies, and took the lead that the Resorters could never beat them out of. King led off with a nasty double to right field. Neely singled to left, and John came home. Matthews made a wild throw home to catch King, and Neely pulled up at third.

Ross Johnson brought Neely home with a sacrifice fly to Wakefield.

Cisco did not hesitate for a moment, but in the eighth, King again led off, and whipped a pretty drive to right field. Neely walked and so did Ross Johnson filling the bases. Flagg took a look at a pair of Abernathy's fast ones and then hunted a sacrifice fly to Wakefield, on which King sped home.

The outstanding features of the game were the superb pitching of Johnson and the batting and base running of John King.

The box score:

Club	G	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Scouts	9	32	3	3	20	12	1
Resorters	9	34	1	1	21	14	2

Umpires: Two base ump, Chick King; short base, King; pitcher, Johnson; catcher, Neely; first base, Earl Chapman; base on balls, Abernathy; second base, Johnson; third base, Johnson; fourth base, Johnson; time 1:30. Umpire paid.

Housewives of Fresno, Calif., believe they have found a satisfactory solution of the domestic servant problem by engaging fifty Indian girls, ranging in ages from 14 to 22 years old, from the government training school in Nevada.

BANKERS SUGGEST TO CITIES MEANS OF GETTING MONEY

Steps which municipalities can take to help make possible development of their utilities in keeping with industrial expansion and city growth are suggested in a resolution just passed by the board of governors of the Investment Bankers' Association of America.

The bankers suggest indeterminate franchise to supervise term franchise and insist upon state commission instead of local regulation.

The resolution which is of much interest to all communities where demands for service necessitates investment of additional capital, reads in part:

"Whereas, investment bankers are expected to purchase and distribute the securities of public utility companies, which must sell if utilities are adequately to supply the demands upon them for local transportation, light, heat, power and the transmission of messages; and,

"Whereas, the credit of many of the public utility companies will not permit the sale and distribution of such securities, thus interfering with the development of many commercial enterprises, the welfare of many communities and the comfort and convenience of a great many people; and,

"Whereas, the credit of the public utilities is largely dependent upon the attitude of the public as expressed through the various governing and regulatory bodies:

"It is hereby resolved by the board of governors of the Investment Bankers' Association of America that, as steps in the restoration of credit of the public utilities:

1. Term franchise should be succeeded by indeterminate permits securing the right to operate under proper regulation during good behavior with provisions for equitable adjustment of rates from time to time, as tending to eliminate controversies which inevitably impair the public service, the credit of the companies involved and the value of their securities.
2. The power of regulation and the control of public utilities should be vested in state commissions as tending toward standardization of regulation, which is not possible under local regulation."

Nothing Within Miles of them for Mileage

MILEAGE is what you want—good, clean, trouble-free mileage. That's what you pay out your Tire and Tube money for. The more mileage you get, the more you get for your money.

Gillette Tires and Tubes give you the longest run for your cash. They out-distance them all in wear—and by many miles.

The new Gillette Chilled Rubber Process toughens them as iron is toughened by conversion into steel. Strengthens them; gives them vitality and come-back power unparalleled in the history of Tire and Tube manufacture. They give you miles of wear—after others are worn out.

One Gillette will prove up our claims—and more—and sell you a set.

Autos in Dallas Are More Dangerous Than Three Dread Diseases

Special to The News.
DALLAS, Tex., June 19.—Automobiles, by killing seven people on the streets of Dallas during the month of May proved to be more dangerous for that month than any disease except tuberculosis, heart diseases and cancer, as only these passed the automobile death mark for that month.

Of the 178 deaths in the city during May automobiles were responsible for two more than are charged as homicides, five being the latter number.

Births nearly doubled the deaths, there being 126 boys and 125 girls born, a total of 251 births to offset the 178 deaths.

AUTOMOTIVE PRODUCTION EFFICIENCY HIGH IN U. S.

Next to the tremendous physical and financial growth of the automobile industry in America, perhaps the most remarkable feature of its triumphant development is the efficiency of production.

In this connection some very interesting comparisons may be seen by the actual figures of production.

Assuming that the French and British motor industries are representative ones of the European trade, it is interesting to note that the motor car manufacturers of these two countries have consistently produced just about one car per man per year.

In 1913 40,000 British workmen turned out 40,000 cars and during the same year 50,000 French workmen were producing 50,000 cars.

On the other hand, let us examine the development of the American industry in this particular.

Fortunately we have official figures, which show that in 1899 2240 American workmen produced slightly fewer than 3000 automobiles.

In 1904 the number of workmen had reached 12,000 and they built 18,000 cars, which is at the rate of a car and a half per man.

In 1909 the industry was really getting started and the 75,000 workmen employed turned out 120,000 automobiles, a slight increase in individual efficiency.

But in 1913 the manufacturers of motor cars had really begun to get into big production and they produced 450,000 cars, employing in the task 150,000 workmen or at the rate of three cars per man.

In 1917, the last year of uninterrupted production before we were drawn into the world war, our automobile industry turned out a total of nearly 1,900,000 cars, the number of workmen required for the task being 380,000.

This works out at approximately seven cars per workman.

In China an average of only one child out of ten has an opportunity to attend school.

Says Auto Industry Is Taking Men Off of the Farms in Vast Numbers

Special to The News.
AUSTIN, Tex., June 19.—Automobiles are blamed for the scarcity of farm labor by W. B. Yearly, cotton specialist of the state department of agriculture, who said today:

"In the cities thousands of men formerly employed in productive enterprises or on the farm are employed as chauffeurs or yard men.

"With prosperity hundreds of thousands of automobiles were sold in the south. Farmers who had not been able to own a buggy or a carriage became automobile owners, mainly of cheaper grades of cars, while many of the city and town people bought the finest cars made. Automobiles call for garages, sales agencies and gasoline stations, averaging one of those upon nearly every block. They had to be manned, which drew heavily upon productive labor, of course."

Yearly goes on to say that these chauffeurs and yard men earn larger salaries than many farmers with an investment of $25,000.

"With the uncertainty of prices of farm products and the low price compared to cost, those formerly on the farm have not felt safe in returning," he said, and added, "for the same reason farmers hesitate in paying the price for labor."

UNIFORMITY OF FOIL GIVES CAR LONGEVITY

Selection of an automobile lubricant means nothing whatever to a motorist unless he has some assurance that uniformity is a characteristic of the oil. Such is the statement of C. M. Lewis, head of the Strum Oil stations in Cisco. Continuing Mr. Lewis gives this view on the longevity and preservation of cars through proper oiling:

"Longevity is as important for a motorist's consideration as any other subject in connection with his car. From talking with many automobile owners, though, I have reached the conclusion that this enters very little into their calculations.

"Preserving the condition of a car is just as important in a mechanical way as preserving the health is to a man. It is a whole lot easier to keep well than to get back on your feet after you have been sick—and it is cheaper and saves time and trouble. The same thing holds good with a motor car. Keeping well is largely a matter of food and exercise. Lubrication is feeding an engine you might say, and the use of the car is its exercise. Use good oil and don't expect more of the power plant than the designer planned—there you have the secret of a car's longevity.

"There is a time in the life of every car or truck when its owner wants to sell it or turn it in on a new one. The better condition it is in when this turnover takes place, the more money there is in it for the owner. There is, as a matter of fact, very little wear on the moving parts of a power plant and the transmission if there has been efficient lubrication of the pistons and cylinder wall and all the bearings and moving parts. Cylinders, for instance, that have been properly lubricated should never require rebering by the time the owner is ready for a new car. Proper adjustment and efficient lubrication of the bearings should find them in good condition and free from noise always. If a man will keep his car adjusted, oiled and clean, his upkeep bills will be almost nothing and the need for repairs mighty rare.

"The selection of a good lubricant is therefore one of the most important things a motorist has to consider. But, suppose some friend has advised a particular brand because he had good results from a filling—that means nothing unless there is a certain uniformity in the oil. A given oil of a given grade may be of one quality once and another quality another time.

"So my advice is to select an oil of continued uniformity."

Master Mind of Gang of "Desparadoes" Is Seven-Year-Old Boy

Special to The News.
WICHITA FALLS, Tex., June 19.—The "master mind" of a band of juvenile "outlaws" who has been operating in Wichita Falls recently, according to the police here, was a red-headed and freckle-faced lad of seven years who is known in gangland as "Leon."

It was Leon, according to information the police said they had obtained, who entered a basement store and grabbed $50 in currency and small change while the clerks were kept busy selling articles to three other members of the gang.

Leon, the police said, also rifled a cash register in an eating establishment whole other members of the gang engaged the proprietor's attention with their demands from the lunch counter for sandwiches.

A special investigation of women laundry workers on strike in New York city showed that 50 per cent earned not more than $11.50 a week, or nearly $5 below what is considered the necessary minimum wage.

Essex Reveals True Economy
Not Limited to But One Advantage

The question of motor car economy is not limited to gasoline mileage.

It includes oil, tires and particularly repair costs.

The Essex consumes no more gasoline than other cars of similar capacity. And it is a common remark of all owners that it requires hardly any oil.

As for its tire economy, many reports are so remarkable that we repeat them only with the explanation that they are exceptional rather than average. One owner has a record of 29,600 miles on one set of tires that appear good for several thousand more miles of use.

The repair requirements are so slight that it has given Essex a distinctive position among all cars.

THE BLANKENBECKERS ENTERTAIN YOUNG PEOPLE

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Blankenbecker entertained with an informal dance for eight young couples Thursday night at their home on West Ninth street.

The guests were entertained with solo dances by little Miss Vernon of Wichita Falls, who is a very talented and graceful dancer.

Refreshments consisting of punch, ices and cake were served during the evening's pastimes.

MRS. LLOYD WINSTON GIVES RANCH PARTY TO SOCIETY

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Methodist church had a most enjoyable meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Lloyd Winston at her ranch home.

The trip was made in truck. After a short business session, the ladies busied themselves with preparations for a picnic supper.

The husbands motored out at six to enjoy the supper.

Late in the evening a swimming party was enjoyed and they came home late in the evening, after having spent a most enjoyable afternoon and evening.

BAPTIST LADIES AID MEETS WITH MRS. L. A. HARRISON

Circles B and C of the Baptist Ladies' Aid enjoyed a social meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. L. A. Harrison.

The hostess served delicious ice cream and wafers.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blankenbecker were hosts to a delightfully informal dance at their home at 762 West Ninth street Thursday evening honoring Miss Beth Coombs, a recent graduate of Texas Christian University, whose family now resides in Cisco.

The Blankenbecker home was made beautiful with ferns and cut flowers for the occasion.

Mrs. A. C. Green assisted in serving delicious fruit punch throughout the dance.

Another feature, which greatly added to the pleasure of the evening was a number of solo dances given by the little Ava Lucile Vernon of Wichita Falls.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served to the following guests: Misses Beth Coombs, Nova Shelton, Dorsey, Lillian Church, Sarah Maude Benham, Joyce Langston, Maurine Maucill, Messrs. Wisdom, Brown, Ducker, Stuart Williams, Rosemond, Williamson, Vaughn, Leach, Calloway, Dr. and Mrs. Griswold, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Green, and Ava Lucile Vernon.

Three Texas Girls Among Illinois U. Degree Candidates

Special to The News.
CHAMPAIGN, Ill., June 19.—There were three Texas girls among the 950 candidates for degrees at the forty-ninth annual commencement of the University of Illinois this year, and Dr. R. E. Vinson, president of the University of Texas, delivered the commencement address.

Degrees were conferred by Dr. David Kinley, president of the University of Illinois.

The Texans graduating from the university were:

- Rachel Augusta Breckhoff, A. B., of Wichita Falls.
- Janet McQuie Hawkes, A. B., of Dallas.
- Mary Stanhope Scott, A. B., of Lampasas.

Miss Marie Lohr, Lendon's foremost actress-manager has been identified with the stage since she was four, at which early age she made her debut in a school part at Sidney, N. S. W., her birthplace.

WILL BE DELEGATE AT SAN FRANCISCO

Mrs. Peter Oleson.
 Mrs. Peter Oleson has been chosen as one of the Democratic delegates at large from Minnesota to the national convention at San Francisco in July. Mrs. Oleson was the only woman speaker at the recent Democratic Jackson day dinner in Washington, D. C. She says the political campaign of the Democrats this year will be a crusade in behalf of the progressive forces of American life.

FARMERS MAKE REPORT ON SALES OF TEXAS TOBACCO

Special to The News.
HOUSTON, Tex., June 19.—Tobacco sales by Texas farmers are reported by the United States commissioner of internal revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, by counties as follows:

Campan county, 4548 pounds; Maverick county, 3585; Neodesha county, 28,842. Total for the state, 35,914 pounds.

When the personal effects of the once famous dancer "Ripolléche" who died recently in Paris at the age of 30, were sold at auction, an old silk dress was knocked down to a second hand clothes dealer for a mere song. On carefully examining the garment the purchaser found concealed in the lining a bundle of French bank-notes to the value of $1065.

LEERAY DAILY MAIL SERVICE STARTS MONDAY

C. OF C. IS NEGOTIATING FOR INSTALLATION OF NEEDED PUBLIC UTILITIES.

LEERAY, Tex., June 19.—Elmer Browder has been appointed postmaster and Leeray will have regular mail service beginning Monday next.

So far the only telephone communication is through a line connecting the depot of the Cisco & Northeastern Railroad with the Cisco office of that company.

Petitions of the Chamber of Commerce are being sent to the telephone company, asking for adequate service immediately.

A committee is investigating fire apparatus, with a view of furnishing immediate protection, as the town is building up solid.

"Red" Burton, deputy sheriff in name only for Leeray, begins to wonder what his status is, for the town lies both in Stephens counties but no salary or perquisites. The citizens solved the problem by taking up a public subscription to sustain their only limb of the law.

President J. W. Angle of the Chamber of Commerce has requested the county health officers of Eastland and Stephens counties to appoint Dr. W. L. Gore as health officer for the town. As soon as an appointment is made health regulations will be put into force.

The same difficulty exists regarding the establishment of a school district here. Both counties have agreed to choose a site and make arrangements to open a school with the beginning of the new term.

Deputy Sheriff Burton appeared before the Chamber of Commerce and asked the citizens to provide a town calaboose. So far no breaches of the peace have occurred, but as a step toward "safety first" a committee is seeking a temporary place of rest for malefactors.

AMERICAN LEGION POST AT BEAUMONT LIBERAL IN FUND

Special to The News.
AUSTIN, Tex., June 19.—The American Legion post at Beaumont sent a contribution of $1005 to the fund being raised by the Benevolent War Risk Society for the construction of a hospital for tubercular soldiers at Kerrville, according to Dr. C. W. Goddard, state health officer and president of the society.

Goes to Bedside of Mother.
 Mr. and Mrs. Baifanz left Thursday for San Angelo to be at the bedside of the mother of Mrs. Baifanz, who is reported to be seriously ill.

When a special train leaves New York city on June 19 carrying more than fifty women delegates and alternates to the Democratic national convention at San Francisco, it will be the first expedition of its kind in the world's history.

For Summer Sewing Days
 By Jeanette Tyler.

Basque models in blouses seem to be on the way for fall wearing, offering opportunities for decorative hand work.

Tailored costumes will have longer skirts this fall in keeping with the slender silhouette to which all fashions are being modified.

Rich fabrics will be worn unadorned with trimming. Draped effects and novelties in cut will be featured.

Where trimmings are used they will be more elaborate than ever, and you simply can not apply too much handwork, if you use any at all.

V necks are also indicated and where the yoke is at all low, well-line and net will be decoratively fitted in.

High collars may also be expected as many of the earliest fall models show very becomingly designed effects of this type.

Among the embroidered novelties, especially on cottons, is flowers done in their natural colors and a whole profusion of blossoms worked in.

Metal thread embroidery is being used on the coarse silk pet blouses, some of which are cut low on the hip.
