

40-MINUTE DEMONSTRATION FOR WOOD

NOMINATING SPEECH BY ALLEN, SECOND BY ROOSEVELT'S SISTER

First Woman Ever to Second Nomination In National Convention—Wants Wood Because He Is Same Type of Man as Her Brother—Lowden First to Be Placed In Nomination.

Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 11.—The name of General Wood was placed before the convention by Governor Allen of Kansas, seconded by Frank Knox, of New Hampshire, and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, of New York.

At the conclusion of the nominating speech thousands of many-colored turkey feathers were loosed from the ceiling, floating down over the delegates. The Minnesota delegates started a march around the hall, with many women among the marchers, for the first time.

Convention managers saw prospects for a long session, as demonstrations went on. They guessed that supporters of other candidates would try to outdo the Wood people, with delayed balloting resulting.

The demonstration lasted 40 minutes and was only quieted after the chairman had threatened to clear the galleries.

Mrs. Robinson was still in mourning for her brother, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, when she took the platform. She is the first woman ever to second a nomination in a national convention, and received a rousing ovation.

Mrs. Robinson declared she wanted Wood for president, "not because he was my brother's friend, but because he is his type of man."

Rodenburg received the greatest applause when he came to the praise of Lowden as a business man, predicting that with the Illinois governor as president he would give the country an administration of ability along the lines of economy and finances.

For the first time since the convention began, presidential candidates are missing from the floor. Butler of New York gave his proxy to a woman. Sproul announced he would return to the hotel when balloting began. Johnson's friends did not expect this.

GOVERNOR LOWDEN FIRST NOMINATED

Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 11.—The name of Governor Lowden of Illinois was the first to be presented to the republican national convention. When nominations were called for, Arkansas yielded to Illinois and Wm. A. Rodenberg placed the name of the Illinois governor before the convention as a candidate for the presidency.

Rodenberg, although ill, took the platform and delivered his address, likening Governor Frank O. Lowden unto Lincoln and telling the delegates to the republican national convention that once before many years ago Illinois was called upon to furnish a man when the nation was in dire distress.

"Three score years ago," Congressman Rodenberg said, "at a time when the passions of men were stirred to the depths, when the horizon of the republic's future was darkened by the clouds of approaching conflict, when the very perpetuity of 'Government of the people, by the people and for the people' was trembling in the balance, the nation turned for leadership to the state of Illinois. Here on the broad and fertile prairies of this state, so open that truth could find no hiding place, we found a man of the people, a leader of leaders, the apotheosis of freedom's holy light, our Lincoln, the world's Lincoln! Grandly, nobly, sublimely he met the test.

"Patiently and passionately he pressed forward in the great task that lay before him and today he stands acclaimed as America's greatest contribution to the world's heritage of great and noble men.

"Illinois, the state whose soil has been sanctified by the blood of the immortal Lovejoy, our first great martyr to the cause of free press and speech, gave Abraham Lincoln to the nation in 1860, and Illinois, the state that is still the well spring of republican hope and inspiration, stands ready in 1920 to consecrate to the service of the republic another of her great sons—one, whose brilliant record of public and private achievements is the very best and surest guarantee that under his leadership our beloved country will be raised from the obliquity into which it has fallen and again placed on the road that leads to national honor and national glory.

"We present him to you because we believe in his rugged Americanism, the Americanism that comes from the close contact with the plain people. Born of humble parentage in the state of Minnesota, his early youth and young manhood were spent on a farm in the state of Iowa. It was there, close to nature and nature's God, that the great school of human experience, that school that has given to the nation its best and truest men, that he formed those sterling traits of character that have ruled his life and left their impress upon his every act.

"We present him to you because we know him to be a man of courage and conviction, endowed with the genius of common sense, faithful and fearless, whose every heart beat is in full sympathy with the noblest aspirations of his fellow men.

"We present him to you because he is a man of courage and conviction, one who will steer a straight and steady course through the troubled waters of national disorder and again find refuge in the harbor of national safety and security. To find such a pilot is the imperative duty of the republicans assembled in convention today.

DELEGATES CHEER LOWDEN 42 MINUTES

NAMES OF "BIG THREE" CANDIDATES NOW BEFORE THE G. O. P. CONVENTION

Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 11.—By 12:40 o'clock today the three most mentioned candidates—Wood, Lowden and Johnson—had been presented to the republican national convention.

The demonstration following the conclusion of the nominating speech for Lowden lasted 42 minutes.

This was followed by Charles S. Wheeler of California, nominating Johnson. He got cheers when he referred to the Wilson administration as the "royal family," and Wm. G. McAdoo as "Crown Prince," but jeers and guffaws when he referred to Johnson as having an adequate campaign fund.

Expect Balloting to Start Late Today

Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 11.—Forcing the convention along at express speed to make up for time lost on the treaty issue, efforts were made to hold all demonstrations down to the minimum—one seconding speech.

Every effort is being made to reach balloting before adjournment tonight.

All nominating speakers get ready response from the convention, a number of delegates taking part in each demonstration, talking fairly closely with the number claimed by each of the "Big Three" candidates.

The second woman to be called to the platform for a seconding speech was Mrs. Fletcher Dohkins of Chicago, who supported the Illinois candidate, Lowden, whose supporters made the slogan of "business man for president."

Governor Morrow of Kentucky made a brief Lowden address.

Not Concerned About Vice-Presidency Now

Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 11.—Naming a candidate for vice-president is interwoven with results of the presidential race. Political consideration, based on the part of country from which the two candidates hail, will have great bearing on the selection of a vice presidential candidate. As has been the custom in the past, the candidate for vice president will probably be chosen from a section of the country where strength for the ticket is most needed. Leaders are not inclined to cross the vice presidential bridge until they know what river they want to cross.

Gathered Early to Name Candidate

Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 11.—Animosities of the platform battle being swept away, delegates to the republican national convention gathered early today to name a presidential candidate.

Who would receive the highest honor still is in the lap of the gods.

Wood, Johnson and Lowden adherents expressed confidence in the outcome, but the balance of power is with 500 uninstructed delegates.

Senator Lodge said he did not expect the convention to reach the balloting on vice president before Saturday.

It still remained for the first ballot to reveal any decision of the drift of sentiment among the rank and file of the party.

First on the program was the nominating speeches.

The convention met at 9 o'clock to get these out of the way.

Seconding speeches were limited to two five minute addresses. This rule is expected to bring the first ballot by the middle of the afternoon.

Dark horse activity is still deep beneath the surface. Workers for Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania, for Butler and the best of them all, Charles Evans Hughes, were reported conferring on nomination, but there was no outward evidence of their labor.

There is a marked quiet among the avowed advocates of Hoover.

STORK RUNS AWAY FROM GRIM REAPER

SCORE OF 22 TO 2 SHOWS FORMER LEADS AMIDST CISCO CITIZENSHIP.

CITY IN GOOD HEALTH

Doctors Contemplating Fishing and Pleasure Trips for Lack of Sickness.

The stork won from the grim reaper in Cisco during May by a score of 22 to 2, according to Dr. J. W. Gregory, health officer and referee on birth and death statistics.

In a report to the state Dr. Gregory charges laxity among quarantine officers in the oil belt, who, he says, fail to enforce vaccination and fail to keep those exposed, under surveillance the required length of time.

There were seven cases of smallpox quarantined here during May. Most of them have been dismissed, the report declares, and the remainder are rapidly convalescing.

Two cases of scarlet fever and a large number of measles and whooping cough among the juvenile population were also reported.

Dr. Gregory optimistically concludes his report as follows:

"Health conditions generally, are quite excellent now. Local physicians are contemplating fishing trips, have plenty of time to attend the ball games, use their lawn mowers and keep their residence premises up to the standard of trimness and sanitation.

Bank of England Building Will Be Rebuilt; Historical Site

Associated Press. LONDON, June 11.—The Bank of England is to be rebuilt. The governors and court of directors of the institution for the past 25 years have considered the advisability of replacing the black, one-story "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street" with a more modern and commodious structure. The inadequacy of the venerable pile to meet present-day needs has necessitated the establishment, since the beginning of the war, of six outside branch offices in various parts of London to house the bank's growing army of clerks and newly created departments.

Established in 1694, the Bank of England is the oldest national bank in Europe. Millions of people throughout the world know the outside of the low, black building, which for more than two centuries has been the empire's financial center. Its central part was erected in 1734, but the outer part, which one sees from adjacent streets, dates from 1788.

The present building spreads over four acres of what is perhaps the most valuable real estate in the world, in the heart of London's world training center. At least once, in December, 1825, it saved the country from bankruptcy. During the Lord George Gordon riots of June, 1870, it withstood a two-days' attack by a mob which was driven off by soldiers stationed outside and clerks and bank officials who mounted the walls.

Since that date the bank has been guarded every night by a detachment of thirty-six soldiers, who, commanded by an officer, march down from London Tower and take up their positions on the walls at sundown.

A number of windows, which broke the bank's solidarity of the bank's outer walls, were closed with huge blocks of granite after the rioting, but their outline is traced by the remaining sills.

GOMPERS' POWER IS THREATENED BY PROGRESSIVES

Seattle Man Leads Opposition to Labor's Long-Headed Representative.

Associated Press. MONTREAL, Canada, June 11.—The conservative wing of the American Federation of Labor has been threatened by the progressive element of the federation, headed by James Duncan, of Seattle, Wash., who yesterday overthrew two major reports of the organization committee and prepared again to contest Samuel Gompers' power.

The progressives are seeking the release of the political prisoners and the recognition of the Russian soviet government.

The conservatives are predicting that Gompers' return will restore the conservative to power.

Gompers spoke long and earnestly to the assembled delegates today, and laid special emphasis upon the section of a plank providing for the settlement of public utilities' strikes by tribunals similar to the Esch-Cummings bill.

KIDNAPED CHILD'S MOTHER APPEALS TO MOTHERS FOR HELP

Coughlin Boy, Thought Located In Dallas Few Days Ago, Still Missing.

Associated Press. NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 11.—The mothers of children throughout the entire country are appealed to by the mother of 13-month-old Blakeley Coughlin, who was kidnaped in this state nine days ago, and who it was thought a few days ago had been found in Dallas, Texas.

The Dallas police have decided that the child located by them, and who they believed to be the Coughlin child, is not Blakeley Coughlin.

Mrs. Coughlin asks the co-operation of every mother within the call of this message to her assistance in locating her son.

"If there is a strange baby in your neighborhood, please find out who he is."

Thus Mrs. Coughlin appeals directly to every person to assist in the locating and recovery of her baby boy.

"American Coolies" Designation of This Burmah Oil Driller

Associated Press. WICHITA FALLS, Texas, June 11.—A local driller, who with 20 others signed a contract with the Burmah Oil company last July to go to Burmah, and who recently returned here, agrees with Kipling that "the best is like the worst" east of the Suze.

"American Coolies," he said was the designation of Rankee drillers, who worked in the sultry Burmah heat punching holes in an oil field two miles long and a half mile wide which had been worked for 30 years, and contained a number of wells that had been dug by hands of coolies who were paid from $2.40 $2.75 a month.

"We thought we could live on $50 a month," said the spokesman, "when we signed out contracts in this country; but we found that it cost $6 a day to live. Some of us sent money from Burmah, but it never arrived. One of the drillers who was sending $100 a month home found upon his return that his wife had secured a divorce for non-support.

"Imagine," he added, "working in an oil country where it is always sultry in the cool season. I didn't stay for the hot season. Where coolies earning from 10 to 33 cents a day dress all the tools and handle them without cranes or chain hoists. Where some oil wells are dug by hand, one coolie working with a helmet to protect him from the gas while another squats at the top of the hole and flashes light to him with a mirror."

ONE MAN HURT SEVEN ARRESTS MAIN ST. FIRE

EARLY MORNING BLAZE DESTROYED S. MAIN ST. FEED STORE

LOSS WILL BE $8,000

Charges Are Against Seven Auto-drivers for Driving Across Hose Lines.

One man was hurt, seven people were arrested and there was a loss of $8000 in conjunction with a fire which destroyed the Aaron & Young feed store on South Main street early this morning.

The injured man was Marvin Vick, local business man and volunteer fireman, who ran a nail through his foot as he was attempting to lead a hose into the heart of the blaze.

Eighth Driver Sought.

The seven people arrested were charged with having driven motor vehicles across the hose lines.

An eighth driver is being sought. The police have the number of the machine, they say, and will call the man to account for his heedlessness.

The alarm of fire was turned in at 1 o'clock this morning. Both pieces of apparatus responded promptly. The blaze had gained great headway and was racing among bins of hay, bins of feed and sacks of grain.

Spontaneous Combustion.

While the origin of the fire is not definitely known, it is believed to have started from spontaneous combustion in two carloads of hay which had just been stored.

From the start, the possibility of saving anything was realized to be hopeless, as the damage to the hay and feed by water would be equal to destruction by fire.

Three lines of hose were laid across Main street from the opposite side.

The firemen battled the flames tediously, and owing to the properties of the materials involved were compelled to remain on the job after the fire had been gotten under control to spread the hay and kill out the smoldering embers.

Stationed on Hose Lines.

Men were stationed on the hose lines to prevent vehicles crossing. The first violation of the city ordinance was perpetrated by a service car driver, who is said to have disregarded shouts warning him not to cross the hose. An attempt was made to stop him on the other side, it is said, but he speared up his machine and sought to get away. Several firemen jumped aboard engine No. 2 and gave chase. The driver was arrested when he ran into the yards of the Pickering Lumber company and could find no exit. He had a man and a woman with him in the car. All three were taken to the police station and charges preferred against them.

Five other motorists crossed the hose later and were subsequently arrested. Two escaped during the morning, one of whom was taken into custody today.

The building was owned by J. P. Aaron. It was totally destroyed at a loss of $3000. There is $1800 insurance on it, however. The stock was valued at $5000. There is $4500 insurance on the stock.

CISCO SCORES AGAIN.

Cisco is to have a cotton textile factory.

It will be built by the Continental Tire & Rubber company, of Dallas.

That is proof positive of the standing of Cisco among the big industries of the country. Already a score or more have chosen Cisco as the town of permanency in West Texas, as evidenced by huge investments.

The company behind this late movement talk like they mean business. They are not asking a single cent at the hands of the citizenship of this community. The president of the company thus gives his attitude toward locating in Cisco:

"This company has not come to Cisco to ask for anything at all. We intend to pay our way as we go, and do not care to be under obligations to anyone."

Fifty skilled workmen will be brought from the mills of the Carolinas, around which to form a nucleus of the more than 300 workers required to operate the mill.

This announcement means that Cisco is very much on the map. It means that men with money have their eyes on Cisco and faith in its future.

But in this connection, Cisco has a duty to perform. It has an obligation that must be met. This city must show to those who are investing their money here that it is glad to have them. The only way to do this is to provide proper housing facilities for the 300 or more families that will be brought here by reason of the erection of this plant. And in providing homes for these new citizens, it must not be forgotten that it must be done at reasonable rental.

When they become citizens of Cisco they must be satisfied. No man can become a booster for a town when he feels that he is being forced to pay exorbitant prices for the privilege of living there.

Simultaneous with the announcement of the location of a big cotton mill in Cisco, comes the news that the Ray well, five miles from this city, is destined to become a gusher. Truly, Cisco is moving along at a rapid pace.

TREATY PLANK AS ADOPTED BY REPUBLICANS

DISTINCT COMPROMISE BETWEEN "IRRECONCILABLES" AND "MILD RESERVATIONISTS"

International News Service.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The International News Service herewith presents the text of the foreign relations plank as agreed upon by the "steering committee" and which was adopted by the republican convention Thursday afternoon. It eliminates the League of Nations idea, and substitutes therefor an association of nations for the arbitration of international disputes. It is a distinct compromise between "irreconcilables" and "mild reservationists."

The text of the plank follows:
Foreign Relations—The foreign policy of the administration has been founded upon no principle and directed by no definite conception of our nation's rights and obligations. It has been humiliating to American and irritating to other nations, with the result that after a period of unexampled sacrifice, our motives are suspected, our moral influence impaired and our government stands discredited and friendless among the nations of the world.

Favors Generous Foreign Policy.

We favor a liberal and generous foreign policy founded upon definite moral and political principles, characterized by a clear understanding and firm adherence to our own rights and unwilling respect for the rights of others. We should afford full and adequate protection to the life, liberty and property and all international rights of every American citizen, and should require a proper respect for the American flag, but we should be equally careful to maintain a regard for the rights of other nations.

Serupulous observance of our international engagements when lawfully assumed is essential to our own honor and self-respect, and the respect of other nations. Subject to a due regard for our international obligations, we should leave our country free to develop its civilization along lines most conducive to the happiness and welfare of its people, and to cast its influence on the side of justice and right, should occasion require.

The Republican party stands for agreement among the nations to preserve the peace of the world. We believe that such an international association must be based upon international justice, and must provide methods which shall maintain the rule of public right by the development of law and the decision of impartial courts, and which shall secure instant and general international conference whenever peace shall be threatened by political action, so that the nations pledged to do and insist upon what is just and fair may exercise their influence and power for the prevention of war.

We believe that all this can be done without the compromise of national independence, without depriving the people of the United States of the right to determine for themselves what is just and fair when the occasion arises, and without involving them as participants and not as peace makers, in a multitude of quarrels, the merits of which they are unable to judge.

Covenant Falls.

The covenant signed by the president at Paris failed signally to accomplish its great purpose and contains stipulations not only intolerable for an independent people, but certain to produce the injustice, hostility and controversy among nations which it proposed to prevent.

That covenant repudiated to a degree wholly unnecessary and unjustifiable the time-honored policies in favor of peace declared by Washington, and Jefferson, and Monroe and pursued by all American administrations for more than a century, and it ignored the universal sentiment of America for generations past in favor of international law and arbitration, and it rested the hope of the future upon mere expediency and negotiation.

Call Wilson Dictator.

The unfortunate insistence of the president upon having his own way without any change and without any regard to the opinions of a majority of the Senate, which shares with him in the treaty making, and the president's demand that the treaty should be ratified without any modification, created a situation in which senators were required to vote on their consciences, and their oath, according to their judgment against the treaty as it was presented or submit to the commands of a dictator in a matter where the authority and the responsibility under the Constitution, were theirs and not his.

Senators Commended.

The senators performed their duty faithfully. We approve their conduct and honor their courage and fidelity. And we pledge the coming republican administration to such agreements with the other nations of the world as shall meet the full duty of America to civilization and humanity, in accordance with American ideals and without surrendering the right of the American people to exercise its judgment and its power in favor of justice and peace.

30 CARS DAILY ARE NEEDED TO MOVE FOARD CO. WHEAT

Special to The News.

CROWELL, Texas, June 11.—A stream of harvest hands is flowing into Crowell county daily through the efforts of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's employment service in cooperation with the department of labor. The harvest is now looming up and Foard county's million bushel crop will be conserved. The weather has been ideal with no rain for more than a week.

Shortage of grain cars gives grain men and farmers considerable apprehension, but there is a silver lining to the cloud in press reports that a line of cars is on its way from the east. All elevators and farmers' barns bulge with wheat held over from last year's crop now thrown upon the market for the new crop.

"Thirty cars a day" for wheat loading is demanded to clear our present contracts on last year's wheat," declared a leading elevator man here today. "With bars of farmers full and our own commercial storage replete, we are confronting a situation that can be ameliorated only by more cars. We have placed the matter in the hands of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, as well as have taken up the situation with our congressman."

Agricultural Wealth West Texas This Year Will Take Blue Ribbon

Special to The News.

RULE, Texas, June 11.—"West Texas sends its debt to every section of the state to compete against it at the Waco Cotton Palace this fall in agricultural lines," declared J. C. Wells, exhibit manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who halted here a short time yesterday on his tour of Plains counties to secure their individual contribution to the exhibits which will be taken to the Dallas Fair, the Cotton Palace and to the 13 state fairs to be visited by the organization.

"The agricultural wealth of West Texas this year will take the blue ribbon at any exposition," he said. "It is only needful that West Texas counties enter their best of the 1920 production to carry off the prizes."

SECOND GAME GORMAN SERIES WON BY CISCO 2-1

SCOUTS AND BUDDIES STAGE ONE OF BEST EXHIBITIONS OF SEASON.

In one of the best games seen on the local ball lot this season, the Scouts for the second successive day took the Buddies into camp, 2 to 1.

Both Baldrige and Billings hurled good ball, and made run-getting hard. The visitors brought in their only run in the second inning. Thrash walked and on two clean hits by A. King and Whitney, the stocky little Gorman right fielder romped across the plate.

The Scouts didn't break the ice until the sixth. After two men were out in this frame, Faye hit safely through short and easily scored when Earnshaw tripped to right center. Ernie hit the ball hard, and pulled up at third with room to spare. It was his second triple of the afternoon.

The second, and winning, counter for Cisco came in the eighth. Tim was the first man up, and he walked. He went to second via the robbery route, and Faithful Faye brought the speedy Tim home with a clean drive over the second sack.

Earnshaw's hitting and Faye's all-around spectacular playing were the features of the game.

This afternoon the Buddies and Scouts met in a double header.

GIL'S GLEANINGS

Third Baseman Faye has certainly been the right stimulant for the local club. The Scouts have won every game since Faye broke into the line-up, and his big bat and powerful defensive strength in the field have helped materially to turn the trick for the Cisco team.

Earnie certainly found his batting eye yesterday. Each and every time at the bat he hid the old apple long and hard, and it fell safely on three occasions. Earnshaw has been in a slump for some time, but it looks as though he has found himself again. He is a murderer of left-hand pitching.

Sam Langford, the famous negro heavyweight boxer, whom it has been said Jack Johnson always feared, will meet Pinky Lewis, another negro heavyweight, in a scheduled 12-round bout at Fort Worth Friday night. It will be Sam's first appearance in the south for several years. He is said to be one of the greatest colored heavies of all time.

Abilene won another yesterday. It seems that it is up to the Scouts to stop the on-rushing Eagles. When they meet us again, we prophesy, there will be a different tale to tell.

Ump. Price is not the only referee in the circuit who is making the players respect their decisions. Dale, at Ranger yesterday, proved to a couple of Eastland boys that he was the sole umpire on the grounds, when a pair of fine was tacked onto Browning and Darnell.

Abilene's pitchers are doing great work in the box. Harrell gave the Reporters only three hits yesterday.

Savone made a great catch of York's drive in the seventh. He scooped up the hot hit and threw out Jack by a snafu's eye-lash.

BARRELS OF "FISH" TAKEN FROM TRAIN GOOD SCOTCH

International News Service.
ST. ALBANS, Vt., June 11.—The most expensive fishing trip and this is not a fish story that ever occurred in this locality was staged when United States customs officials, Peter Marcano and W. E. Fuller, had seventeen barrels of "fish" taken from a train. The barrels were opened and after removing about a dozen fish nicely packed in ice and sawdust the officials began pulling out quart bottles of Canadian Club Scotch and White Horse. In each barrel they found from twenty-five to thirty-one bottles, about 500 bottles in all. It was estimated that the shipment in Boston would be worth $5,000.

Jones County Farmers Up Against Hard Labor Proposition; Low Wage

Special to The News.
ANSON, Texas, June 11.—Farmers in the cotton belt of Jones county in seeking cotton choppers declare that they can not at present pay more than $2 and board a day. They point to the fact that they have thousands of bales of cotton on their hands from last year's crop, which they can barely dispose of at a very unsatisfactory price.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce's employment service reports a call for several hundred hands south of Anson at $2 and board per day.

As the wheat harvest is on and brings good wages, as do the oil fields, it appears that the farmers of West Texas will be up against a hard proposition to get men at the wages that they are offering now.

His work as member of congress and as governor of a great industrial state, with all its complex and diversified interests, stamps him as the living embodiment of the doctrine of the 'square deal.' He believes in the interdependence of employer and employee and in all of his official acts he has accorded to each exactly the same measure of protection under the law.

We present him to you because he typifies more than any one of the distinguished gentlemen who will be placed in nomination before this convention, the great vital issue of economy in the administration of public affairs. He believes in the application of sound and practical business principles to the conduct of government and as proof of that belief we point to the decreased tax rate and the increased administrative efficiency of the state over whose destinies he presides today.

"We present him to you because he is in full accord with the spirit of America which will prefer the nationalism of Theodore Roosevelt to the internationalism of Woodrow Wilson. He believes that the sovereignty of the United States must be kept free and inviolate from European influence or dictation and that, while maintaining a friendly attitude toward all nations, we owe it to those who have gone before and to those who are to follow us to enter into partnership with none.

"We present him to you because to him, the American flag, whose stars and stripes have been bestowed in the best blood of American patriotism, symbolizes the strength and the power and the majesty of a mighty nation and he believes that the flag should command respect at home and abroad and give full and ample protection to the humblest American citizen, wherever it may be unfurled to the breeze.

"Delegates, a solemn responsibility rests upon the republican party today. Many difficult and perplexing problems, social, economic and industrial growing out of the world war, are pressing for solution. The best constructive ability of our great constructive party must be utilized in the solution of these problems. It is a crucial and critical period upon which we have entered the nation demands as its chief executive a man of clear brain and steady nerve, a man of vision but not a visionary, a man of ideals but not an idealist, a man of works and not of words.

"Illinois has such a man. We present him to you as our candidate for president.

"We present the patriotic governor of a patriotic state, Frank Owen Lowden."

"Bulgaria Will Rise Again, Be Example to World," Says Premier

Associated Press. SOFIA, Bulgaria, June 11.—Bulgaria will keep the peace despite the loss under the treaty of her provinces of Dobruja and Thrace, Premier Alexander Stambulsky told the Associated Press correspondent today.

"America and the Allies may be assured that we shall maintain order and quiet, and bear our burdens and trials stoically," he said. "We will face the harsh sentence the peace conference has imposed upon us with courage and fortitude, and rely upon internal reconstruction and preserving labor to gain what we have lost in the war. Bulgaria for the moment may be crushed, but she will rise again with new strength and be an example to the world of what patience, industry and national patriotism can accomplish."

The premier referred to Bulgaria's relations with Greece, Serbia and Roumania. "We desire, of course," he said, "to live in harmony and good-will with our neighbors, but some of their territorial demands are so excessive that any cordial and enduring relationship seems well-nigh impossible. How can our friendship with Greece be terminated while Mr. Venizelos denies us the right of a seaport on the Aegean? And how can our friendly feeling toward Roumania be anything more than artificial and transitory while she insists on holding the Southern Dobruja? With our other neighbor, Serbia, we desire to live on the most agreeable terms, but in the absence of a permanent government there we have not been able to take the necessary steps toward establishing the elements of future friendship."

M. Stambulsky then discussed America's participation in the war and the peace negotiations and lamented the failure of the peace conference to apply President Wilson's 14 points. "It was Mr. Wilson's promise that we should gain by peace all that we were striving to gain by war that caused our soldiers to lay down their arms and capitulate to the Great Powers. But what did the peace conference do? It trampled under foot all the high principles which your president had enunciated. And Bulgaria was thus completely misled."

"However, with all the tremendous burdens that have been imposed upon us by the Allies," Mr. Stambulsky concluded, "we have not lost hope. I look optimistically to the future. The world is in a process of regeneration and recreation. Mr. Wilson's principles which were flaunted by the Allies are being taken up by the peoples of the earth, whether conquerors or conquered. Inevitably a popular movement will be created which will enforce a revision of the peace treaty. Even in the Allied countries there is much dissatisfaction with it."
