GERMAN LOSSES 260,000 MEN AT LENINGRAD

In an area of benevolent climate, blessed with an abundance of the purest lake water, possessing the best in recreational facilities, situated on the Bankhead, all-weather route, with three railroads and many highways, Cisco is the best place in Texas to live and to work.

MINERAL WELLS TO PLAY MINERAL WELLS, OCT. 10; TEAM NOW CONVALESCING

The Mineral Wells team is said to be plenty tough. They have not showed any brilliant scores thus far, but the fact that they have been playing a hard schedule with tough opposition must be taken into consideration. The Lobos, according to Coach Murphy, have to be at their best if score is to be on the Cisco side of the ledger. Coach Murphy reports wounded Lobos improving and possibly all injuries will be healed sufficiently for the Mineral Wells tussle, with the exception of Moseley, who is still out with his bad leg. Johnson is having trouble with injuries but may be in the battle line. However, it is doubtful, the coach said, if Moseley gets into the game.

KLEINER GAVE REASONS FOR BOND ACTION

Charles J. Kleiner, member of the city commission, gave Lions today some of the facts leading up to the action of the commission this week in voting to accept the city bond settlement proposal. In this logical address, Lion Kleiner took up the various points and set them forth in a clear manner. He said he did not blame citizens who might criticize the commission's action if they did not understand the facts, but he did want to give Lion members concrete reasons for what he considered the only alternative left for Cisco's action regarding the debt. President Stamey appointed committees to carry through on the magician show to be held at the high school auditorium on the night of Oct. 16. They were as follows:

Advertising and window cards—Paul Culp, J. H. Latson, Jr. and Stanley Webb. Ticket Sales—Raymond McCauley, C. J. Turner, Drael Looney, Bruce Younger and H. R. Garrett. Arrangements—Charles Sandler and W. H. LaRoque. The executive committee is W. H. LaRoque, Charles Sandler and R. W. McCauley. Visitors present were Hal Curry of Ballinger, guest of Lion McCauley and H. C. Davis of Abilene, guest of C. M. Nevill.

NEVILL HOME FROM DALLAS GAS MEETING

Conservation and protection of man power as well as materials by all possible means in these critical times was urged upon key-men of the Lone Star gas system at their annual conference in Dallas, according to C. M. Nevill, manager of the Community Natural Gas company, Cisco district, who attended the meeting.

The gas men studied the industry's responsibility to the national defense program, ways to improve customer service, and preparations for meeting the peak demands for winter fuel.

"Our company is completely prepared to meet all emergencies of national defense and cold weather because for more than thirty years it has been routine to meet emergencies every winter," he said. Since organization, the Lone Star policy has been conservation of man-power and materials. One of the system's slogans is, "In the summer's heat we prepare for winter's cold," and the gas men have been carrying this out in numerous sections all the way from the Texas Panhandle to laying gas lines across Galveston Bay.

Mr. Nevill pointed out that while the war affects everyone in rising prices, the gas utilities, only utilities under Texas state regulation, except railroads and buses, cannot voluntarily meet this increased operating cost by increasing prices of its product as to other businesses. "To make our fixed revenue stretch to increased operating costs," he said, "we must practice even greater economy than ever before, short of injury to customer service. While it is true that we may benefit from increased activity from national defense projects, this increase in business will fall far short of balancing the added costs; and our company will not benefit to any degree near that of similar companies serving national defense projects."

AFTER THE STORM—The Strenge family didn't forget their rooster, cat, dog or goat when they were forced to evacuate their home in Irish Bayou, La., in the face of rising water and oncoming hurricane. They fled to higher ground, where they weathered the storm.

DEFENSE WORK IS CARRIED ON BY LEGION AUX.

The American Legion Auxiliary's half million women have worked continuously and effectively for the security of America throughout the past year, according to Laila Smart, national defense chairman of the local auxiliary units. Reports being compiled at auxiliary national headquarters show vast and varied contribution to national defense by the auxiliary women.

Auxiliary units everywhere have worked in the U.S.O. and aluminum drives, supplying leaders and workers who have contributed materially to the success of these campaigns.

Through nation-wide registration for voluntary emergency service, approximately one-fourth of the auxiliary's members have themselves volunteered for service. The type of work each member is able to do has been listed and lists have been supplied to Legion Posts, Red Cross chapters and civil authorities so that auxiliary volunteers can be called immediately in case of need.

Thousands of auxiliary women have engaged in Red Cross work, in many communities taking over the responsibility for the Red Cross work rooms. Hundreds of thousands of garments and other articles have been made for the Red Cross. More than 5,000 auxiliary members have taken Red Cross first aid training, while others have trained as nurses' aids, radio operators and ambulance drivers.

Auxiliary volunteers aided in the selective service registration throughout the country. Thousands of books and magazines have been supplied to the camps. Units near army camps have taken an active part in arranging entertainment for soldiers.

MITCHAM WON THE SILVER AT ABILENE

G. P. Mitcham returned to Cisco last night from Abilene after a day at the Abilene fair, where he exhibited several head of his famous Hereford cattle. This morning the Ciscoan was displaying a beautiful silver service tray—an "Ernest Grissom Trophy for the Best Pair of Junior Calves." Besides the elegant silver trophy, Mr. Mitcham won several other first and second prizes. About 150 head of thoroughbred cattle were on exhibit.

Mrs. M. C. Stivers, who underwent major surgery at Graham sanitarium two weeks ago, was able to be moved to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kunkel, 1900 Ash street, today, where she is reported resting well.

SCHOOL HEAD PAYS TRIBUTE TO PONSLER

Commenting on the untimely death of Luther Ponsler, R. N. Cluck, head of the local schools, said: "In high school, Luther's superior and gentlemanly attainments won the admiration and respect of everyone—faculty members and student-body. His leadership, good sportsmanship and scholarship were unquestioned. He was a brilliant pupil with an A average, an active participant in school activities and an untiring reader, never wasting a moment. His modesty, even to the point of timidity, sometimes, and his keen sense of humor, together with his democratic spirit, endeared him to many, and those who knew him best, loved him best."

Beautiful floral offerings from the many friends of Luther Ponsler gave testimony of the esteem in which this splendid young man was held. Tributes came from his associates in A & M college, where he spent four useful, happy years; from Cisco friends where he was intimately known from early childhood and much beloved, and from friends of his parents who desired to express their sympathy with flowers—"emblems of friendship and love so true."

FLORAL TRIBUTES.

The secretary declared he has no doubt that Nazism will be defeated, and added that "we shall proceed from one measure to another measure until we have taken adequate steps to bring defeat to the legions of Hitler and his satellites in Italy and Japan."

AYCOCK SEEMS TO HAVE WON HEALTH AGAIN

Ed Aycock, who has weathered a long siege of illness, misfortune and hospital confinement, is now at his home, 206 I avenue, recuperating nicely.

This information was furnished the Daily Press by Mrs. Aycock, yesterday.

Mr. Aycock's game, fight for life, even after it was found necessary to amputate a leg, has occasioned many compliments on the part of friends and others, all of whom join in expressing their keen pleasure that his complete recovery seems certain.

NATHAN ADAMS WARNS.

DALLAS, Oct. 1.—Nathan Adams, president of the First National Bank, warned Wednesday that a price ceiling on oil would threaten the entire Texas business structure by discouraging oil exploration. It was pointed out that some operators have feared such a ceiling would be imposed by the Government during the war emergency. An attempt to fill emergency needs from fields now producing might result in the destruction of vast taxable values through exhaustion, Adams declared in a statement.

Mrs. Bob Key and daughter, Miss Margaret Key, visited Mrs. Key's mother in Brownwood Monday.

U. S. TO ICELAND

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Oct. 1.—Authorities permitted disclosure today that regular United States army forces have arrived in Iceland to augment the United States marines who comprised the first forces in the American garrison in this country.

MUST HAVE PEACE FOR 100 YEARS

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 1.—Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, proposed that the United States and Britain join forces for "100 years at least" to produce "by force if need be," an effective system of international law.

He told the American Bar association that to prevent another world war the seas must be controlled for many years to come by "peace-minded, justice-loving powers."

"We will come to this, I am convinced, by the sheer logic of events, we will come to it by a gradual recognition of its inevitability. We will not indulge in any idle dreams of a millennium. We are not going to stop all wars."

"But I am convinced we, for our own safety and protection, and for the maintenance of our way of life, shall have to provide an interregnum in which we shall not only devote ourselves to the pursuit of peaceful aims, but provide the essential might to enforce such a peace on those who are not willing voluntarily to pursue such a course."

Knox declared ultimate success of such a plan "must lie in the hearts and minds of men rather than in the mere exercise of material force."

The secretary declared he has no doubt that Nazism will be defeated, and added that "we shall proceed from one measure to another measure until we have taken adequate steps to bring defeat to the legions of Hitler and his satellites in Italy and Japan."

JAPS CAN'T DECIDE BEST WAY TO JUMP

The German offensive threat to the Donets industrial basin gained momentum, but the Red army and the RAF struck back at the Axis military machine, while resistance mounted in the Nazi-occupied areas. Ishtanbul and London reports indicated an increasingly serious situation in Rumania, Bulgaria and Serbia.

Threats by the Germans to bomb Belgrade, former Jugoslav capital, were reported by the British. Shanghai sources received reliable reports from Tokyo that the Japanese cabinet of Premier Fumimaro Konoye is facing a crisis because of failure to make progress in reaching an agreement with the United States.

Japanese army extremists are said to be threatening "positive action."

German progress on the eastern front is described as a grave threat to the Donets basin, but Moscow dispatches told of new gains in a 200-mile Central Front drive.

It is estimated that the Germans have lost 260,000 casualties in the fighting around Leningrad.

The Cisco Lobo football squad is now in Brownsville, more than 500 long miles from home, faced with the responsibility of upholding the prestige of upstate football of Rio Grande Valley stars against a strong aggregation picked from a score of teams. That is a condition similar to pitting a team from a town of 10,000 against a team from a town of 200,000 or more and technically is a gigantic imposition to be placed on the Lobos. To make matters worse, only a handful of home-town folks will be in the stands to root for the Lobos when the golden jersey youngsters from Cisco take the field against the all-Valley aggregation Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The distance was too far and the season too far gone for home folks to follow the youngsters to the scene of combat. The boys making the trip are: O. C. Ray, Ray Miller, Orville Black, Paul Cole, Wesley Smith, Bill Christian, "Chuck" Van Horn, Clifford Turknett, Willard Miller, Wendall Whitehead, "Cotton" Pippen, Louis Purvis, Dick Bryan, Roy Chambliss, Cleo Ray, Seldon Tomlinson, Bill Benny, Forrest Ray, Raymond Witten, John Connell, Fletcher Blackman, Cebron Yeager, Louie Swink, Joe Coldwell and Hagen McMahon.

Dorothy Scarborough's latest novel, "Can't Get a Redbird," has just been received by the Cisco Twentieth Century club from Mrs. R. Q. Lee, who is now residing in Washington. The book has been placed in the Cisco library, which is maintained by the Twentieth Century club to be read by the public. Mrs. Lee was an active member of the club during her residence in Cisco and still retains her membership. The members of the club greatly appreciate this gift.

A final appeal to the people of Cisco to send in contributions of outgrown clothing for distribution among the needy during the Christmas holiday season was issued Saturday by Mrs. J. V. Heyser and her committee of women who are assisting the Elks in their charity campaign here. A very generous response was accorded the initial appeal sent out by the women, but not enough clothing was received to supply the demand that is being made upon the committee.

Ten more families received the charitable attentions of the Cisco Elks club this Christmas than last, according to a checkup on the number of baskets delivered to poor families by the club Tuesday afternoon. Forty-five such baskets were delivered Christmas eve while a year ago 35 such baskets were distributed. Along with the baskets the club presented gifts of serviceable clothing collected from the generous people of Cisco. There was plenty of clothing and toys to go around, Hugh White, exalted ruler of the club, said. There was no lack of food to take care of the destitute families that were on the club's list, also, so that the club's efforts were met with general success that more than pays for the effort expended in that direction. Money for the baskets was raised through the medium of a charity show at the Palace theater, generously loaned to the club for one evening by the manager, K. N. Greer.

The final meeting of the board of directors of the Cisco chamber of commerce in 1929 will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the chamber of commerce offices. The most important matter of business before the board this afternoon will be the nomination of 15 local business men from whom the city commission will select five to fill vacancies occurring on the board with the expiration of terms of present members. Those whose terms of service end with this year are W. W. Wallace, R. L. Poe, J. T. Elliott, W. K.

PLAYING MARBLES.

I stood and watched a game today which took me back once more into the olden, golden ports, and in through Mem'ry's door I walked and saw the smiles of those with whom I used to play. And scramble for the prizes, in a wholesome boyish way. I lived the long years over and realized that life is like the old-time marble game, with all its bitter strife.

There's the fellow who will cheat you, unless he's made to quit; The one who grabs more than he wins—and takes a pride in it; There's the rascal who will "hunch" until he's way inside the ring, And when he's caught, shouts, "Aw, git out! you kick at everything."

I've noticed also that the lads who played the old game fair, Are now, as men, the ones who deal with others, on the square.

'Tis said that men are only boys grown big, and so it seems, For, when I close my eyes and lose myself in pleasant dreams, I see old boy chums 'round me, though some of them are gray, Their hair and voices seem the same as in that far-gone day. When on the old school playground we made the marble ring And danced in glee when winter-time had given way to spring. JAS. W. WOODMAN.

Johnston and A. B. O'Flaherty. The fifteen nominations will be submitted to the city commission immediately after this meeting and that body will then select the five new members who will take up their duties in January.

Rev. J. B. Baker, former pastor of the Methodist church here, was shaking hands with friends and transacting business in Putnam this week, returning to his home at Ovalo on Friday. "Uncle" Billy Jobe, W. E. Farris and J. H. Burnam, of Scranton, were transacting business in Putnam Friday. Misses Lillian Wingo and Wilna Pruett have been employed by the Shackelford Lumber Co. to work during the holiday season. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burnam, of Abilene, stopped in Putnam for a short time Monday enroute from Scranton, where they have been the guests of relatives. W. M. Crosby, who has been working at Olney, arrived Monday afternoon for a visit with home folks. After the holidays he will resume work in the oil fields at Seymour. Miss Virginia Brock arrived from TCU at Ft. Worth, where she is a student, on Saturday and will spend the holidays here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brock. Misses Hazel Jobe and Opal Heslop and Jack Broyles were visiting in Cisco on Friday.—Putnam Letter.

Although it was the first day after Christmas, when people are generally visiting out of the city on other missions of recreation or pleasure, the Cisco Rotary club at noon today counted only eight of its members on the missing list. Most of these, if not all, are expected to make up their attendance records so that the club will maintain the excellent average that it has had since the recent attendance contest was begun. There were seven visitors at the club. They were Paul Brown, of Eastland; D. H. Jeffries and Chris Christian, of Abilene; Miss Olivia McKissick, of Cisco; Wilbur Westertfeld, of Cisco, student in Texas university; R. Q. Lee, congressman from the seventh district of Texas, and A. B. O'Flaherty. The program was up to the high standard that the club has been maintaining during the past few weeks. There was a solo, an old favorite, "In the Gloaming," by President B. C. Boney; a flag talk by F. E. Harrell on Italy, and a talk by Congressman Lee.

The little community of Pleasant Hill, which has long been noted for its hospitable and generous citizens, has again caught the spirit of the season as was shown in their contribution of Tuesday evening. The Sunday school and church of this community remembered Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Kinard very generously on Christmas eve. Both of these people are pioneer residents of that community and church active members of the church there. They are each in declining health and unable to longer partake in the communities' activities. As a mark of appreciation for these good people, the Sunday school presented each of them with a lovely gift, also remembering with gifts the two little orphan grandchildren who reside with Mr. and Mrs. Kinard. In addition to the gifts, each of the community prepared a nice dish of food. The company assembled in a body at the Kinard home, placed the lovely spread upon the dining table and called the honorees in to witness their surprise, and such a delightful surprise! There were eats galore, Rich, tempting food that would appeal to the appetite of the most fastidious. Mr. and Mrs. Kinard wish to express their thanks and appreciation to these good people through this paper, also to extend every good wish for a bright and prosperous new year.

W. P. Collins, 81, died at his home in Midland, December 21, after a long illness. Had he lived until the 28th of January, Mr. Collins would have been 82 years of age. Burial was in charge of the Masonic order, of which he was a member for fifty years. A wife and twelve children survive. Children who were present at his bedside when death occurred were Pate and Perry, of Midland; W. B. Collins, of Toyah; Mrs. Annie Willis, of Ft. Worth; Mrs. Minnie Loving, of Eolian; T. P. Collins, of Moran; Mrs. J. W. Gentry, of Cisco, and Mrs. Lizzie Gentry, of Harpersville. Mr. Collins joined the Presbyterian church at the age of fifteen and lived a faithful member of that church until his death.

The First National bank will open for business in its magnificently remodeled home in the 700 block on D avenue Thursday, Jan. 2, according to plans announced Saturday by Alex Spears, cashier. Three months have been occupied by contractors in remodeling the building "internally and externally"; during that time the institution has carried on its business in temporary quarters directly across the street. Jan. 1, New Year's day, is a legal holiday and the bank will not be open for business during that time. But on the day following, the people of Cisco and patrons and friends of the bank in particular are cordially invited to call and inspect the new banking quarters. "We want the people who helped to make this bank what it is to enjoy to the fullest extent the conveniences that have been provided in our new home," said Mr. Spears. "This bank was built for them. We want them to feel perfectly at home and to know that they are welcome. There will be no formal opening."

NEWS: A Banana "Allergy" Bread!

ALLERGIC to eggs, milk or wheat - and dying for a slice of really good bread? Then this Banana Rye Bread is for you; the best bread you've ever tasted, and lacking completely in the "must nots" on your list. It's egg, milk and wheat free, has a flavor all its own, and a character that lends itself to morning toast or mealtime slices. Even if you're free to eat as you choose, you'll still love this loaf - and it's no more difficult to make than any other kind of bread. Clip and try this new tested recipe.

Banana Rye Bread
2 cakes compressed yeast
3 tablespoons lukewarm water
1 tablespoon salt
1 1/2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons melted shortening
2 1/2 cups mashed ripe bananas (5 to 6 bananas)
1/2 cup rye flour
1/2 cup white flour
Use ripe bananas... yellow peel flecked with brown. Dissolve yeast in water. Mix together salt, sugar, shortening and bananas. Add half the flour and beat until smooth. Beat in the dissolved yeast. Add remaining flour gradually and mix well. Turn dough out onto a floured board. Knead about 5 minutes, adding just enough additional rye flour to prevent sticking. Place dough into a lightly greased bowl. Cover and let rise until double in bulk (about 2 hours). Shape dough into 2 loaves. Place into lightly greased bread pans (8x4x3 inches). Cover and let rise again until double in bulk (about 1 hour). Bake in a hot oven (425° F.) 5 to 10 minutes, or until crust begins to brown. Reduce temperature to 350° F. and bake 35 to 40 minutes longer, or until bread is done. Remove from pans. Brush top crusts with water. Makes 2 loaves.
Note: A dough made with all rye flour requires special care in kneading, particularly during hot weather. The kneading may be omitted, if the dough is thoroughly beaten. The volume will be slightly less and the texture not quite so fine and even, however, a satisfactory loaf can be expected.
This bread may also be made with 100% rye flour (containing bran) by using about 5 1/2 cups in place of the 6 cups of sifted rye flour called for in the recipe.

ISSUANCE OF NEW DRIVERS' PERMITS SOON

AUSTIN, Oct. 1.—Issuance of long-awaited new drivers licenses in Texas, scheduled to begin Oct. 1, will be delayed a week or ten days, State Police Director Homer Garrison announced today.

Garrison said paper stock for the printing of applications and other supplies, ordered more than two months ago, have just now been received. "Several days will be required for printing and distributing the applications," he said. "We're going to get started as soon as humanly possible."

Due to be renewed by Dec. 31 are all old licenses numbered from 1 to 450,000. Licenses bearing numbers above 450,000 will be renewable at later periods.

Applications for renewal will be available from Highway Patrol offices, Driver's License Examiners, sheriff and police departments, banks and other public places, or by writing direct to the Department of Public Safety in Austin.

Applications must be executed on a typewriter or printed in ink and mailed to the department in Austin along with a 50-cent money order or cashier's check. Stamps or personal checks will not be accepted. The new licenses, good for two years, will be mailed to applicants from Austin.

Persons renewing licenses will not have to take an examination unless they have had records for traffic violations or collisions.

Switzerland is only about three-fourths self-sufficient in foodstuffs, the Department of Commerce reported.

STEPHENS CO. OIL MEN ARE VERY HOPEFUL

BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 1. — A commercial oil producer in southwest Stephens county, who is making preparations to bring in two wells and who plans to spud a wildcat in the northeast part of the county, turned eyes of local oil producers in four directions here Wednesday.

Production has been assured in the Snoddy Brothers No. 1 J. W. Poer, a wildcat, section 10, OAL survey. Caddo lime show from 3,536 feet to 3,540 feet was acidized and after cleaned out, flowed at the rate of 40 barrels per hour. Four hundred barrels were run into storage before the well was shut off.

Two offsets to this producer have been staked. Wittmer, Knight & Ewing, discoverers of the area, have located a direct north offset, No. 1 Poer, section 10, OAL survey; and Knight & Ewing have located a direct west offset in their No. 3 McKelvain, section 11, OAL survey.

In the northwest part of the county, Orion Daniel No. 1 O. H.

Green, northwest corner section 1294, TE&L survey, was swabbing Caddo lime preparatory to perforating in expectation of an oil producer after the Wichita Falls operator and geologists opened action in that area with a gasser on the Blach ranch, nine miles northwest of Breckenridge.

These operations have been offset by Target Drilling company's No. 1 W. H. Green, 467 feet out of the southeast corner of section 1284, TE&L survey.

Test for protection in the eastern part of the county is to be made in the F. H. E. Oil company No. 1 A. W. Corbett, section 2, block 3, SP survey. Preparations were made to acidize below 4,000 feet.

In this same area, two other wells were drilling. Schroder No. 1 T. M. Corbett, section 12, block 3, SP survey, block 3, was preparing to clean out hole and go ahead. This hole was shot at 3,937 feet, and afterward carried to 4,110 feet.

Preparations have been made to spud Daniel & Pardue No. 1 A. W. Corbett, 940 feet from the southwest, and 440 feet from the south lines of the east half of the northwest quarter of section 11, block 2, SP survey. Rigging has been moved in for this test scheduled for 3,500 feet. Contract has been let to Blackie Lohan of Breckenridge.
