NAZI SURVIVORS SKEDADDLE TO ONLY HAVEN

CISCO TRAINEE AND OHIO SOLDIER ARE WED

The love bug has visited the Cisco Ordnance Training Center. On May 2, Miss Dannie Churchwell, trainee, was married to Private William (Bill) Carmignano at the Church of God, with Rev. C. S. Moad performing the ceremony. Mrs. Frances Pass was matron of honor. Private Carmignano is from Cleveland, O., and the bride is from Texarkana, Ark., arrayed in her military uniform. Private Carmignano is stationed at Camp Berkeley, but Mrs. Carmignano is to continue her training here, as she is most anxious to help her country in this war.

WAR DEVELOPS CONSIDERATION OF OTHER FOLK

"Be neighborly when you are going to the lake and pick up ordnance school students who might be wanting a ride to the swimming pool," said F. D. Wright and Manager Monroe Sweeney, Saturday, as they were discussing the social obligations we owe to the more or less strangers who are preparing for war work in Cisco.

"These women are charmed with the bathing facilities Cisco possesses for her citizens, and the visitors who come by the hundreds during the swimming season, but remember that the only way these students have of getting to and from the lake is to hire a bus or catch a ride," Mr. Sweeney added.

CANNING AND PRESERVING SUGAR RULES

This year, as was the case last year, the government grants a special allotment of sugar over and above the regular allowance in Ration Book One. This is for canning and preserving purposes, only.

Current rumor seems to have it that special allowance must be had now or not at all.

Just the opposite is true. OPA suggests that no one purchase or use sugar for such purposes until the fruit is on hand or is immediately available, and then only as is needed from time to time, as the various fruits ripen. For instance, now is strawberry season. Buy and use only what you need for this. Wait until other berries come in to get sugar for them. Likewise, wait still longer until peaches and other fruits have arrived for what is needed for these.

Maximum amounts allowed as above are five pounds per person for preserving and twenty pounds per person for canning fruits.

And remember, this is all that will be allowed until next March, 1944.

Regulations are for no one to secure any of these special allowances without using for such exact purposes, and not then unless actually needed.

In canning one is required to use not more than one pound for four quarts of the processed fruit. It will not be necessary to go to Eastland to get this special allotment of sugar, as it can be had at the Cisco chamber of commerce, provided you call on the days when some one will be there to attend to the matter.

For the coming week, come any day except the afternoons of Tuesday and Friday. After this week there will be posted in advance on the front plate glass windows of the chamber of commerce building just what days to come.

ORDNANCE SCHOOL PICNIC

Mrs. Eleanor Hackel Phillips of Dallas has been placed in Cisco as supervisor of the women of Cisco Ordnance Training School. She began her work Monday, May 3, and after a conference with the local recreational committee, is arranging for a big picnic program at Lake Cisco, Sunday afternoon, May 16, at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Phillips emphasizes the fact that people of Cisco are not only invited but are expected to be there as hosts of the women of the school, whose entertainment they are wanting to further. Every man and woman in Cisco have special invitations to attend the program, which will consist of swimming, skating, soft ball, foot races and other sports.

In addition to the regular recreational committee appointed by the chamber of commerce at the beginning of the school to cooperate with Supt. J. R. Crawford, some additional Ciscoans have been added to aid in the responsibility of recreational programs. They are as follows:

P. R. Warwick, secretary of the chamber of commerce; R. N. Cluck, superintendent of schools and president of Cisco Junior college; Mayor Edward Lee, Snitty Huestis, Sim Leford and Ernest Hittson, war scout executives; Norman Huston, president Lions club, and Lonnie Shockley, president-elect of Rotary club.

The personnel of the original committee is Mrs. E. L. Graham, Mrs. A. D. Anderson, Mrs. Karl Armstrong and Mrs. H. S. Drumwright.

Miss Clara Jackson, supervisor of the canteen, will also work with the local committee. Harry Grossman, zone representative of the army ordnance division, is also giving active cooperation with all plans for wholesome entertainment for the young women workers of the school.

C. F. HAMOR, 82, DIED SATURDAY, 10 AM.

Charles F. Hamor, 82, who came to Cisco in 1918, died Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in a Ranger hospital. He lived at 700 W. Eighth street, Cisco. Mr. Hamor broke his hip about nine weeks ago and had been in hospital since.

He was born in Illinois and came to Texas as a child, settling in Eastland county in 1906, as a farmer; was a member of the East Cisco Baptist church and was married to Miss Katherine Cochran about 56 years ago.

Five children were born of this union, two sons and three daughters. The sons are Rev. W. T. Hamor, Winters, and E. F. Hamor, Ranger; daughters, Mrs. C. B. Bryant, George West; Mrs. C. B. Sheffey, Plainview; Mrs. E. M. Sheffey, San Benito. There are also eight grandsons and three grand daughters.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at First Baptist church, with Rev. Dennis Russell and Rev. Cooper Waters officiating. Thomas funeral home will have charge of the remains and interment will be in Oakwood cemetery.

Pallbearers are J. G. Robinson, Jack Reeves, J. J. Beck, Guy Ward, George Waters, Earl Edwards, Roy Huffmyer and a Mr. Putnam.

CISCO FIRE SET-UP IS EXCELLENT

At the regular meeting of Cisco fire department this week, officers were elected for two years as follows: W. W. Sledge (re-elected), chief; Arlin Agnew, assistant chief; Clyde Weathers, secretary-treasurer; W. L. Thetford, captain; H. O. Anderson, lieutenant; Spurgeon Parks and John Sledge, fire police.

The department now has a new 500-gallon pumper, says Chief Sledge, which has been installed on the booster truck, replacing one that had served its day. With the booster truck in working order it is not necessary to lay a line of hose for small fires, the truck carrying about 275 gallons of water and giving about 50 pounds of pressure at the nozzle. This supply of water lasts about 20 minutes, enabling the department to extinguish grass or similar fires, or holding a larger fire until a line of hose can be laid from a fire plug.

The department also has two 750-gallon pumps installed on other trucks; also one utility truck, which it uses as a hose wagon and to carry equipment usually needed.

The Cisco department is composed of 22 men, nearly all of whom have completed the standard 20-hour first aid course, and one member, B. B. Hurst, has completed the instructor's course, which enables all members to receive instruction.

The department meets twice a month for practice—pumper drills, hose drills, small tools and their use, first aid and other things a fireman should know.

Members of the two hose companies are as follows: No. 1—H. O. Anderson, C. L. Tune, B. B. Hurst, A. W. Watson, J. J. Collins, Howell Sledge, C. R. Hightower, Henry Hardin, Jack Norman, John Sledge.

No. 2—W. L. Thetford, Clyde Weathers, Fred Grist, Joe Britain, Jay Garrett, C. F. Denby, E. S. Townsend, Don Rupe, Charlie Pence, Spurgeon Parks.

Most drinking is an escape for those who have leisure and can't think of any other way to kill time.

MISS ERWIN JUNIOR COLLEGE QUEEN

The coronation ceremonies at high school auditorium Friday night, in which Miss Freda Fern Erwin was crowned queen, was a big success, both from the standpoint of execution and from a financial basis, the auditorium being packed with adults and school children.

The "wonderful wedding," a burlesque play which followed, was enjoyable from start to finish as a result of the men's appearance in women's clothes and some consummate acting on the part of some of the cast.

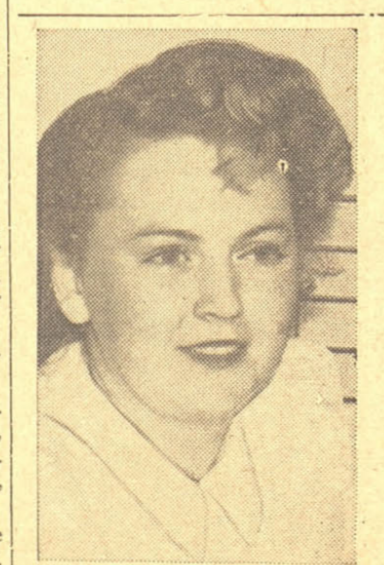

The play was sponsored by the Wrangler staff of Cisco Junior college, and they were more than satisfied with results of their efforts to stage a number that would attract a big audience and then send them away feeling that they had gotten their money's worth.

ALLIES MAKE READY.

American and Allied forces edged into improved offensive positions at both ends of the Pacific front Saturday, working to soften up the Japanese on the northeast New Guinea coast and getting set for an expected push to drive the enemy from the Aleutians.

TEXTBOOK BILL.

AUSTIN, May 8.—The Texas house by a narrow margin defeated the multiple textbook measure, which provided that local school authorities would have the power to select their own books, removing such authority from the state board of education.

BUSY TOO—While her husband, Capt. Joseph J. Foss, was busy shooting down 26 Jap planes in war zone, Mrs. Foss was doing her bit for war effort as dietician at Scripps clinic, La Jolla, Cal.

PRICE CUT ON 7 FOOD ITEMS

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The government today began meeting labor's demand for a lower cost of living by ordering a 10 per cent cut in the retail prices of beef, veal, pork, lamb, mutton, butter and coffee and indicating that a roll-back ranging to 30 and 40 per cent in the price of canned and fresh vegetables would follow.

The 10 per cent price cuts on seven major food items will become effective June 1. But once machinery for rolling back prices is set into motion an Office of Price Administration spokesman said, it can be used on any item within a few days.

The present objective of Price Administrator Prentiss Brown, who announced the roll-back program last night, is said to be return of the cost of living to the Sept. 15, 1942 level by July 1—a month after the first roll-backs are effective. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the spokesman said, the cost of living has increased 2.6 per cent since last September. OPA hopes to reduce it by 2.5 per cent during the next two months, he said.

"The greatest increases are present in the food line and that is where OPA will strike. We expect to knock the price of fresh vegetables down 30 per cent, and in some cases 40 per cent."

The government will become a "lock-stock-and-barrel" purchaser of foods under the program which will be financed by a government subsidy at the processor level.

Thus growers and processors and handlers of food need not fear that they will have to shoulder the benefits which the consumer will enjoy, although it is not expected that subsidies will be used in rolling back vegetable prices.

DENY LOBBY CHARGE.

AUSTIN, May 8.—The Texas Chiropractic Educational committee, through its co-chairmen, took issue Saturday with published statements that chiropractors had a "highly paid lobby" in Austin. The statement was attributed to Dr. Conn L. Milburn, speaking at the recent Texas Medical association session in Fort Worth.

INVASION; JAPS MAY BOMB US

WASHINGTON, May 8. (United Press)—When and where will we invade? Best informed sources all say soon. As to where—there are many guesses, may actually be many invasions at once, designed to confuse the enemy. Informed Britishers wouldn't be surprised if the major effort takes place through France and the Low Countries. Unless Hitler is "possuming, the Allies now have air superiority, plus what it takes to put an actual aerial umbrella over the channel and the European bridgehead.

The Pacific coast may be bombed any time. The Japs now have a bigger carrier-based bomber job than the Mitchell B-25. They would gladly sacrifice a make-shift carrier or two with all planes and men aboard in order to bomb our coastal cities, airplane factories, shipyards. If it comes it will end effort in some quarters, now agitating western congressmen, to release Japanese from internment camps and let them return to Pacific coast.

Other side of the picture is that you can look for our side to bomb Japan again soon. Japan fears it; is expected to launch a new offensive in China to deprive us of bombing bases on Chinese soil. Second purpose of such an attack would be to destroy China's "Rice Bowl," in the hope of knocking China out of the war by starvation.

Pulse-feeling trips by U. P. reporters, covering most of the country, net these conclusions: Political trend still runs against Roosevelt. Fourth term is unpopular though there's widespread belief it will come to pass. Wallace on the ticket would be clear liability. Willkie could corral most votes against "The Champ." Most popular war administrator is Jeffers; it seems to be due to liking for men who get things done. Most unpopular individual throughout the country: John L. Lewis.

Something stronger than the Connally anti-strike bill will pass the house. House members, sore at the senate for pigeonholing its Smith anti-strike bill and other labor-control measures, may get even by substituting the Smith bill for the Connally bill.

DUNN PRODUCE OF CISCO WON $25 WAR BOND

A letter to the Cisco Daily Press from Ralston Purina Mills, St. Louis, says Dunn Produce of Cisco has just won a $25 bond as a prize in the "Food For Freedom" contest, in which 3,000 merchants participated.

The object of the contest was to impress feed dealers with their present opportunity and responsibility of serving their country by helping farm customers "stretch" their feed to produce the greatest possible amount of meat, milk and eggs, the letter said. "Mr. Dunn reached his objective with conspicuous success," the company stated.

INVADERS HARD HIT.

MOSCOW, May 8.—The Red army, intensifying artillery and aerial hammering of the Axis bridgehead in the Caucasus, have wiped out a German infantry battalion—about 1000 men—in its drive toward the Black Sea port of Novorossiisk, the Soviet report announced today.

ALLIES FAN OUT FROM TUNIS AND BIZERTE TO STRANGLE REMNANTS OF DEFEATED FOE

NORTH AFRICA, May 8.—Eager American, British and French forces fanned out from newly-captured Tunis and Bizerte to clamp a stranglehold on fleeing remnants of the Axis African armies, paving the way for an invasion of southern Europe.

In the climatic showdown the arrogant German and Italian forces—battered and beaten by savage Allied onslaughts—surrendered or fled without attempting a real last-ditch defense of either Bizerte or Tunis.

American and British armor pressed close on the heels of the Hitlerites as they fell back under terrific aerial bombardment. Thousands of prisoners were taken, many of them arriving in their own trucks to surrender and entered barbed wire enclosures. The Americans in one sector alone took 495 prisoners yesterday.

There were a number of pockets of resistance in the hills but the main enemy forces were south of Tunis and eastward on Cap Bon.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, returned from the front, promised that there would be no let-up until the last enemy forces in Africa were destroyed.

While the bulk of von Arnim's German forces skedaddled for the rock-ribbed Bon Peninsula under a terrific aerial onslaught for a "Bataan stand," French forces slashed into the enemy's southwestern flank and captured the important road junction of Pont Du Fahs and high ground to the east.

Gen. Eisenhower, supreme Allied commander, and Gen. Harold Alexander, personally directed the final phases of the lightning 36-hour offensive that engulfed both Tunis and Bizerte within five minutes of one another yesterday. Eisenhower has now returned to Allied headquarters.

Simultaneously, it was disclosed that Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, tank expert and commander of the 2nd U. S. Corps, has been transferred to another important command and replaced by Maj. Gen. Omar N. Bradley of Missouri. Bradley took over the command of the 2nd Corps following its transfer from southwestern Tunisia to the northern front and directed the successful assault on the great naval base of Bizerte.

Patton, known to his troops as "Old Blood and Guts" because of his toughness and daring tactics, presumably will play a leading role in coming Mediterranean landing operations. He is one of the ablest and experienced American field commanders.

TUNIS IS HAPPY. NEW YORK, May 8.—CBS Correspondent Charles Collingwood, who entered Tunis with the Allied troops Friday, reported in a broadcast from Algiers Saturday that "the people of Tunis were crazy with joy to see us. They kissed us, they sang, they wept, they cheered for gladness," Collingwood said. "There was fighting going on all around us but the people continued to cheer."

HENDERSON BOBS UP. WASHINGTON, May 8.—Leon Henderson who resigned under congressional fire last winter as price administrator, a job in which he imposed regulations on business, will become chairman of the board of editors of the Research Institute of America May 10, a job in which he will interpret government regulations for business.

MOTHERS STAND BY.

There is a very old Latin hymn about the crucifixion, called, from its first words, the "Stabat Mater." The first stanza says, in simple English, that "The mother, with sorrow in her heart and tears in her eyes, continued to stand by the cross as long as her son was suspended there."

Mother's Day this year finds thousands of American mothers in that place. They send cheerful, comforting letters and small gifts to their sons overseas. They hold heads high and keep on with appointed tasks. But anxiety lies like a lump of lead in the breast and tears are never far from the eyes. For some of them, the sword of the angel of death has already pierced the heart.

It is pleasant to be remembered by one's children. The flowers, the candy, the new gown, the dinner-getting are happy trifles in times of peace. They have little importance in this year of war. The emphasis is not on what Mother gets, but on what she gives. It is the high privilege of mothers who have sons overseas, of young mothers of the babes of fighting men, of all mothers everywhere, to be able to give strength and courage to their nation. In the precise old Latin language it is interesting to observe that "stabat mater" does not mean that "the mother stood there for a moment and turned away." "The mother continued to stand" is what it says.

It is the great happiness, the poignant satisfaction of mothers this year, that as long as the nation's sons are in danger, they may stand by.

POLICING.

One of the more interesting recent Gallup polls takes up the question of post-war policing of the world. A poll of the senate on the matter of whether they favored committing the senate and the country now to a course of preserving peace through an international police force showed that 24 senators did not favor it, 22 did not and 40 did not vote. The senate, of course, carries the responsibility for foreign engagements, and would, therefore, naturally go slow about casual commitments on so important a subject.

A poll of the public on the same issue showed 74 per cent for it, 14 against and only 12 with no opinion. The larger states were for it, New York by 77 per cent, Pennsylvania 74, Illinois 68, Ohio 69 and California 79.

Most important of the showings was that of the gain in three years favoring the international police force. In August, 1939, only 46 per cent of the general American public favored such a step. In August, 1942, 73 per cent favored it, and in the last week of April, 1943, the percentage was 74.

The cause of this growth seems to be the spread of knowledge of the needs of a world no longer cut into small separated jigsaw bits, but made into one whole by the bonds of common purpose and ideals of peace. It is a hopeful trend.

PRODUCTION.

There was a passage in the President's passionate speech last Sunday evening that might well be pasted up on the walls of millions of homes. Not because of questionable loyalty, but as a stimulating reminder of the dangerous position in which this nation now finds itself, and the need of unceasing vigilance and efforts. Here it is:

"We have not yet won this war. We shall win this war only if we produce and deliver our total American effort on the high seas and on the battle fronts. That requires unremitting, uninterrupted effort here on the home front. A stoppage (of coal or other essentials) even for a short time would involve a gamble with the lives of American soldiers and sailors and the future security of our whole people. It would involve an unwarranted, unnecessary and terribly dangerous gamble with our chances for victory."

It cannot be repeated too often that this is a world war, a total war, an "all-out" war, into which the nation must pour everything it has or can produce. The war could be lost by indifference or confused thinking or internal conflict. It could be half-lost by merely fighting the powers of evil to a standstill. The only safety lies in a clean victory, accomplished by the greatest effort this nation has ever put forth.

IMPORTANT.

When great-grandma made her own soap she did it because she had to—it was the only way to get enough soap to keep the family clean. When grandma made soap at home, it was easier to get commercially made soap, but she made it because she was thrifty. When mother started housekeeping it was more thrifty to buy soap.

Home soap-making is practised again now, by women who want to save money or have heard rumors of a soap shortage. They do not realize that today there are just as good reasons for not making it at home. Soap takes fat, one of the important materials for war. When a woman makes soap from her waste kitchen fat, she has soap, and that's all. If she turns the fat over to her butcher for government salvage, it not only becomes better soap than she can make, but provides glycerine also, needed for explosives.

As long as the drippings keep coming, there will be both soap and explosives. If fat collections fall off, salvage authorities say there will soon be a serious shortage of glycerine.

In spite of appearances, there are still some people in this country who are not denouncing other people.

CANNON ROAR LIKE CONSTANT THUNDER PEAL

Second Lt. Charles L. Howard, nephew of Mrs. Fred Grist, Mrs. Kate Richardson and Mrs. J. R. Burnett, writes an interesting letter from Africa. The lieutenant, son of Edgar L. Howard, former Ciscoan, but now Katy agent in San Antonio, is a member of the signal corps. He says:

"We are in the combat zone in Africa and more than that I cannot tell you. We do have some of the most beautiful nights here that I ever saw. We are bivouaced in an oasis with the most beautiful palm trees and the only thing that I need is that sweet little wife of mine and I would be happy. We can see flashes from the cannon and they keep up a roar that sounds like one constant peal of thunder. Also, we are constantly being bombed from the air at night. The planes come roaring over and drop flares; then when they locate their targets, they let go with their eggs.

At first, I don't mind admitting that I was scared to death. I cannot describe with words the funny feeling it causes to hear a plane come screaming down in its dive. Then you hear the bombs as they sing their whining song on their way down to earth. At first you try to sight the plane; then you sink lower in your fox hole and when the bombs begin to whistle, you try to shrink into the very ground, itself. A chill runs up and down your spine, and whew! what a relief to hear the thud and boom as it goes off some distance away.

As the bomb comes down, you feel as big as a house and think the plane is aiming at you, only. Great stuff, Ha!! In the daytime we have very little trouble, because our own planes are in the air. We get to see occasional dog fights and watch them with all interest. The boys cheer at good plays just like at a football game. You should hear us shout when we get one, and that is pretty frequently, as our men are pretty good. It is surprising how little damage is really done over here at night by the bombs. As long as you are beneath the surface of the earth you are safe from shrapnel and it takes a direct hit to get you, and few direct hits are scored. All in all, it is not bad and boy, what an experience! I will at least have a lot to tell my young 'uns if I ever have any.

The news from the other fronts still seems to be swell, so maybe it won't be too long until this darn mess is over. I just live from one mail to another. Receiving mail is the biggest event in the lives of our service men, so write as often as you can.

Ask me some time about a wild ride I had one night in a jeep, dodging fox-holes. We couldn't tell an enemy plane from a friendly one until they were directly overhead, and what a night!

I haven't had a bath in so long that I am afraid I have forgotten how to take one. Have not been able to relax for three days and until about half-past three on the third night, no sleep.

Oh, well, such is life, or as the French say, "it se le guerre," which means it is the war. Adios, my sweets, until I can once again find a moment to pound off another letter. Love, Your Bud, CHARLEY.

IN STEP WITH JOHNNY DOUGHBOY

Cisco and Eastland county are in step with Johnny Doughboy and the program to keep him supplied with material with which to fight the enemy in the remote parts of the world. No strikes for higher wages here, but every body doing what he or she can to provide for the welfare of sons and husbands who are making the sacrifices—giving even their lives—for the sake of country and freedom from the domination of dictators should we fail to win the victory. The school child with her drives for war stamps and bonds, the woman with her Red Cross aid that will serve to comfort in battle fields, and the farmer who is doing his part to grow food with which to feed soldiers and allies. Yes, Cisco is in step with these moves. Eastland county has gone over the top with its bond quota and will continue to do the patriotic part for her soldiers.
