CISCO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1934

Cisco State Bank Opened Its Doors Monday at 9 A. M.

In a beautiful setting of rare and choice flowers the lobby of the Cisco State Bank, successor to the Cisco Banking Co., presented the appearance of a prolific green house when that banking institution was opened for business at 9 o'clock, Monday, July 16, and began honoring the Cisco Banking Co. depositors' checks as fast as they were presented to the tellers' windows for 60 per cent of the deposits on hand when the Cisco Banking Co. closed its doors nearly three years ago. Before the bank closed Monday evening every check for withdrawals had been paid in full, but those who cashed in on their deposits did so in an orderly and businesslike manner. There was no resemblance to a run, but all business proceeded as though the doors of the banking building had been open all of the nearly three years that its portas had been closed.

Deposits More Than Withdrawals

"While the withdrawals were continuous and heavy," according to Guy Dabney, executive vice president, "yet the deposits were about ten times greater than the withdrawals at the close of business Monday afternoon." Mr. Dabney told the Citizen Wednesday that the business of the new bank indicated a prosperous future, as new business had been added every day, and all new depositors are pleased. "Naturally this is very gratifying to the officials of the bank, for we have kept faith with all our patrons.

"But don't imagine, that the past three years have been a season of frolic. We have been on the job every minute, and to accomplish what has been done has meant hard and persistent effort. Now we feel that we can relax to a certain extent, as every one of the depositors in the old bank have been paid and we have plenty of cash to carry on without interruption, and today the future of Cisco looks brighter to me than it has since 1928."

Two Sound Banks

With the opening of the Cisco State Bank Cisco can boast of two of the strongest banking institutions in this bank—both officered by sound, safe section of Texas—a national and state and experienced men, who have the confidence of every citizen in the county as well as their bank corres-

Father of Mrs. Nick Miller Passed Away Wednesday Morning

The sad news of the passing of her father, Mr. R. J. Brown, was received early Wednesday morning by Mrs. Nick Miller, that caused Mr. and Mrs. Miller and daughter to go to the parental home in Gatesville. Burial was in the cemetery of that city Thursday.

Mr. Brown was 73 years of age at the time of his passing, and his death was unexpected, as he was found dead in his bed at the breakfast hour, according to the message that reached Cisco soon after. He was a retired business man, and the death message came as a severe shock to his daughter and her husband. Besides his invalid widow and his daughter, Mrs. Miller, it is said several other children survive.

MISS JEWEL ELY IN VIOLIN RECITAL HERE SOON

Miss Jewel Ely, teacher of violin, has returned home from her summer work in Simmons University, where she has been studying violin and counterpart with Professor Christian Thaulow, a renowned violinist and conductor.

Miss Ely, who is a talented musician, plans her recital here in Cisco on the professor's return from a Century of Progress.

ponents. These institutions now functioning, augmented as they are by the highway projects, relief work, all furnishing employment to people, gives the city a more roseate perspective than has been the case since the depression hit the country with its deadly blight.

Then new people are coming in, vacant houses are filling up, and with the exception of the continued drought, everything looks pretty, and a house shortage would not be surprising as time goes on.

But the closed bank was responsible for much of Cisco's growth in the past, for no individual or institution contributed more to the city's prosperity than the Cisco Banking Co. and its executive officer, the late Gus Ward.

The officers of the State bank who will direct its affairs: J. H. Reynolds, president; Guy Dabney, executive vice president; Forrest D. Wright, vice president; J. A. Lauderdale, cashier, and Tom Stark, assistant cashier.

JIMMY ALLRED DISAGREES WITH SUPREME COURT

On, at leasts two occasions, the United States Supreme court has held that negroes cannot be barred from participating in Democratic primary elections, yet Attorney Jimmy Allred has recently furnished an opinion to the state executive committee that the Federal supreme court is all wet. The Citizen recognizes the right of any party to pass rules and regulations as to the qualifications of all persons to participate in a Democratic primary election, and these qualifications are supposed to be that the participant is a white man, and a Democrat. But that was under the former program where Democrats controlled their party machinery, and regulated those matters. Not content with the old regime the party appealed to the law-making body and requested that primary elections should be made legal proceedings in designating whom the party would vote for as candidates, and who were allowed to vote. In doing this they laid down the fence to all who may present themselves as voters in the primaries. Probably Jimmy Allred did not know this, but the federal constitution provides that no man, "on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude may be denied the ballot in any legal election held in any state in the Union."

Thus, the act making the primary election laws of Texas legal elections, was an act that admitted the negro as a voter, and he can vote in any election held under the Terrell election law just as legally as can Jimmy Allred, the major oil companies' candidate for governor.

Yes, Jimmy Allred has ruled that the federal supreme court is in error, and has reversed the highest court in the nation in support of his ruling that negroes shall be barred from the primaries July 28. Verily Jimmy is not very bright, except in inducing the men to finance his campaign whom he was supposed to be prosecuting two years ago. Oh, yes, he is smart in dismissing cases where big interests may be penalized.

Remitting Penalties Show Incentive for Larger Tax Payments

AUSTIN, July 18—When the state and county delinquent taxes that were paid in Texas during the past tax year which closed June 30, shall have been totaled, the amount will be far in excess of that of last year, it is indicated by reports that have been received from time to time by the semi-weekly Bond Buyer's Bulletin of The University of Texas during the last several months. It is regarded as assured that all previous records of such paymentss were broken during the twelve months just closed. In many counties the delinquent tax payments were in the aggregate several times the total of such payments dur-

Albany Bank Raiders Used a Cisco License Plate Disguising Car

Before robbing the Albany National Bank, about noon Wednesday, the two men made a foray into Cisco and extracted the license plates from the automobile of Miss Helen Williamson. When the news reached Cisco that the robbers' car carried an Eastland county license plate, giving the number 316,019, it was identified as that attached to Miss Helen Williamson's car. A phone message revealed that the plate had been taken from her automobile.

The two men entered the bank, covered the officials and a customer with a machine gun and rifle, corralled them into the vault, while the other man scooped up all the cash in sight and the pair made a hasty get-away.

Their freedom was short lived, however, for posses were organized and the chase began shortly after the robbery. But the Albany posse failed to overtake them.

Getting news of the hold-up Sheriff Arch Holmes, of Baylor county, took up the chase and apprehended them near the Baylor-Knox county line. He continued the pursuit for about 15 miles, after making a running fight, till the bandits disabled his car. He then got another car, and with Deputy Cloe Shawber, overtook the men when the gunfire continued till the robbers surrendered. One of them was identified as Jim Lucas. The other man refused to tell who he was, but stated his record was at the penitentiary. Both were escaped convicts. The unidentified man was shot in the leg. The sum of $10,103 in cash and checks were recovered.

Reunion Enjoyed At Cisco's Playground By a Pioneer Family

A reunion of one of the oldest of Cisco's pioneer family connections was held at Lake Cisco July 15, when about 135 of the Courtney clan gathered at Cisco's famous playground, in a gathering that was replete with pleasure, rest, recreation and reminiscence. In fact, those planning this reunion succeeded in rounding up every living member of the connections except two, the Citizen was told, the absent ones being Walter Shelleberger, Fort Stockton, and William Courtney, of Pecos. Perhaps this was the largest family gathering ever assembled in this part of the state, certainly the largest that is known to have congregated at the Cisco resort. Among those whose names the Citizen could gather included the following:

Mrs. Fay Dawson, Miss Ruby Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Calloway, Mr. and Mrs. I. Carlisle, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Calloway, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Cozort, Luke Carlisle, Mr. and Mrs. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Notgrass, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Courtney, Misses Elizabeth and Hazel Cozort, A. A. Abbott, Mrs. R. R. Calloway, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. ANOTHER SCHOOL DOLLAR WILL BE PAID JULY 15TH

AUSTIN, July 11—The state will pay $1 per capita to the public schools of Texas, aggregating $1,575,842, on July 15, Superintendent of Schools L. A. Woods has announced.

The payment will raise to $12 the total paid on the current year's state school apportionment of $16 a pupil. A payment of $2 is planned in August which would leave the deficit at $2 per child on Sept. 1, compared to a deficiency of $5 per child uast Sept. 1.

MCCRAW'S TENACITY MAY HAVE INSPIRED THE BET

Probably inspired by the tenacity of the man in fighting his law suits, they are betting bull dogs on Bill McCraw carrying McCullough county. Aresident of Coleman county, his opponent's home, bet a prize bull dog on McCraw, according to the San Angelo News. McCulloch adjoins Coleman. Verily it seemeth that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country."

SUPPORTING McDONALD

Jess Nobles was a pleasant caller at the Citizen office last Saturday. In addition to the prevailing complaint about dry weather, crops burning up, etc., Mr. Nobles talked C. C. McDonald for governor. He has always been a strong friend of the Fergusons, and is supporting McDonald for two reasons, he said. Likes his platform McDonald has always been a strong supporter of Farmer Jim. Hooy!

COUNTY COMMITTEEMEN TENDER RESIGNATIONS

The County Crop Production Control association have accepted the resignations from committees as follows: L. Y. Morris, Eastland, from corn-hog committee; John Smith, Okra, from cotton committee; Dick Brown, Rising Star, from corn-hog committee. Also the resignation of Mr. Morris from the County Emergency Crop Loan committee was accepted by Murrh Nolte, Field Supervisor of the Emergency Crop Loan Office, County Agent Patterson says.

It is an established policy of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and Farm Credit Administration, that men who have entered the political field should not be held on committees on which they were serving at little or no compensation when there is possibility that this service rendered unselfishly might handicap them in their respective political aspirations, or when they might be called back to committee service when engaged in seeking support at the polls.

I wish to publicly express appreciation of the efficient and unselfish service rendered by each of these men while serving on their respective committees, Mr. Patterson said.

ADMINISTRATOR BANKHEAD ACT FOR EASTLAND COUNTY

EASTLAND, July 10—Administration of the Bankhead act in Eastland county will be under the direct supervision of R. F. Lawrence, who has been added to the county agent office staff as administrative assistant county agent, according to J. C. Patterson. Mr. Lawrence is an employe of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and his salary all comes from the federal government. In his new duties he will represent the government in the handling of all triple A contracts in this county. When not engaged in administrative duties Mr. Lawrence will be available for use in any county agent activity.

Administrative assistants are being placed in all of the larger cotton counties in the cotton belt to aid in handling the enormous amount of additional work caused by the activities of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Mr. Lawrence comes to us well recommended and we urge for him the hearty cooperation of the citizenship of this county.

Mr. Lawrence paid a visit to Cisco last week.

NEW MEXICO VISITORS HAVE RETURNED HOME

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Hicks, who have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Hicks, have returned to their home near Carsbad, N. M., where Mr. Hicks is employed. MUNICIPAL PLANT FORECLOSED

"Near five years ago a competitive municipal plant, promoted in the city of Seymour, was financed through the issuance of so-called "revenue warrants," the city, however, a substantial down payment for real estate, building, freight and erection. Fairbanks-Morse and Company took the revenue warrants and turned them over to their refinancing agency, called the Municipal Acceptance corporation of Chicago. The city now owes on these warrants more than the original contract price of the plant due to refinancing and adding the interest in on interest and defaulted principal payments.

"At the time this plant was promoted and installed, the state law did not require as now the city on the issuance of revenue warrants to obligate itself to charge such rates as would meet the payment of interest and principal; however, this was set out in their contract with the machinery interests. The city endeavored to increase their rates, even went through to the supreme court of the United States to require their competitor also to increase rates. The lowest rate that can be charged by the municipal plant or private company is

Few More Foreigners Of Lotief Type Less Kinnairds Our Needs

The following open letter is prepared and paid for by the friends of Cecil A. Lotief, present flitorial representative, who is making the race to succeed himself. Lotief's record in the legislature is without blemish, where he has proven his fidelity to his constituents. If he is not returned to the legislature the voters of the 107th district do not appreciate honesty in office or loyalty to the people. There is no question about Lotief's strength in the Cisco country, but one of his opponents, the Lone Star representative, who is making the race against him, has seen fit to attack him solely on his nationality.

This Lotief supporter calls attention to the fact that if we had a few more public men of foreign birth we might expect more integrity in our public offices. D. L. Kinnaird, who has shown his interests and friendship for the monopolies, doesn't like a foreigner, and thinks he should be succeeded by one of his like. God save the country if the people will turn down a loyal patriot, like Lotief, foreigner though he may be, for a man like Kinnaird, who has demonstrated his loyalty to the special interests against his home friends and neighbors.

But we don't believe they will do it. Lotief has proved true to every trust, while Kinnaird, not yet trusted with public office, is courting the retainers now higher than those that have been in effect, but still fails to meet the expenses connected with such municipal venture even without the items of depreciation and taxes which have to be borne by their competitor. After making the substantial down payment and some other payments over the five year period, the city yet owes considerable more money to the machinery interest than when the plant was installed. The city's contract with the machinery interests and the state law now permits foreclosure and dismantlement of the plant.

the special interests offer those who will betray their constituents.

This communication points out some of the patriotic practices of the LaGuardias and Cermacks, that would show the little Kinnaird as infintesimal indeed.

To the voters of Callahan county:

Donald Kinnaird, Lotief's opponent in the race for flitorial representative, 107th district, throughout his entire campaign, has not found one thing against the character or record of Lotief except his nationality. Now all of you good people know a man's nationality is the one thing in life over which he has no control. Donald Kinnaird is here in this country because he could not help it. Lotief's parents and himself came to the good good old U. S. A. through choice, so that they might enjoy the freedom of thought, religion and speech, that America offered, and likewise have the protection of your UNCLE SAM and my UNCLE SAM. Kinnaird hasn't lost an opportunity of deriding Lotief and stabbing him and his family for their nationality.

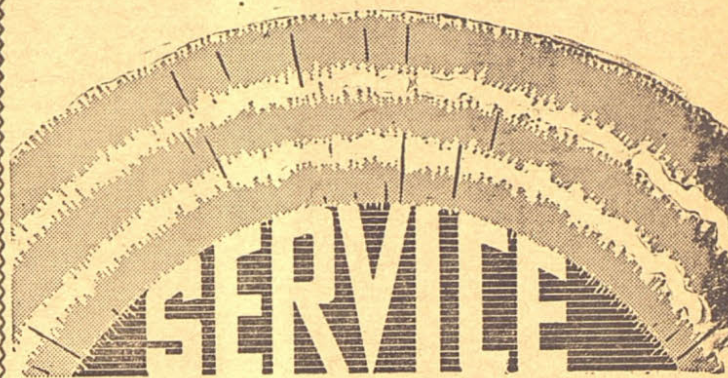

Of course you people all know these facts which I am about to relate, and no doubt have thought of them during Kinnaird's cowardly personal thrusts at his opponent about his nationality and I feel sure, you like myself, have pitied him because of his gross ignorance, and narrow mindedness; but let me remind you, that La Guardia, the mayor of New York, the largest city in the world, is of foreign nationality. He is recognized today as the most sympathetic mayor; a man with a heart and mind for the common people that the city of New York has ever known. Let me give you just one example, out of many, of his love and sympathy for the common people.

At the beginning of this summer, the corporations and milk trusts, raised the price of sweet milk to approximately seventeen cents per quart, La Guardia, (the foreigner, as Kinnaird would sarcastically call him) appointed a committee, instantly, acting as a member himself, and made it possible to furnish every underprivileged child in New York City, with pure and rich sweet milk at SEVEN cents per quart. He did not make it possible for the poor children to have food next month or next week, but next morning. Not a day passed that they were not fed, thereby saving the lives of thousands and thousands of babies and children during this terrific heat. Except for a few corporations and trusts; for this one human deed alone, New York city calls La Guardia the saviour and friend of New Yorks under privileged (poor) children.

The late and immortal Cermak (The foreigner as this insignificant misfit would hatefully call him,) of Brague, Bohemia, was worthy enough to be the beloved and trusted mayor of Chicago, the second largest city in the United States. He was beloved and honored, not only by the people of Chicago, but by people all over the world, this love was shown when he lost his life at the hands of an assassin in Florida.

Cermak, "the foreigner," in dying gave his life that Franklin Roosevelt, the saviour of our country, and "the friend of the forgotten man," might live: Cermak, "the foreigner," did not deliberately or knowingly take into his own body the deadly bullet that was intended for President Roosevelt, because he did not know that the shot was being aimed at Roosevelt, but had he known this, he would have gladly given his own life that President Roosevelt might live, because his dying words to Roosevelt were—"I am glad I got the bullet instead of you, our country needs you." Greater love hath no more than this, that he lay down his life for another."

If these two foreigners, La Guardia and Cermak, are worthy enough to be the beloved and honored mayors of the two largest cities in the United States, in his humble and honest way is not Lotief worthy to be your representative when he has already demonstrated his loyalty and fidelity to his people? In the language of Lord Beaconsfield, Lotief's "ancestry were probably kings and princes while

Except in the larger cities, electric service was rarely satisfactory before long-distance transmission of electric power was perfected.

Small local plants serving single communities generally lack the variety and volume of demand which enables a larger system, serving a wide area, to operate efficiently.

Nor can small, isolated plants meet sudden new demands for more power nearly as readily as the larger system.

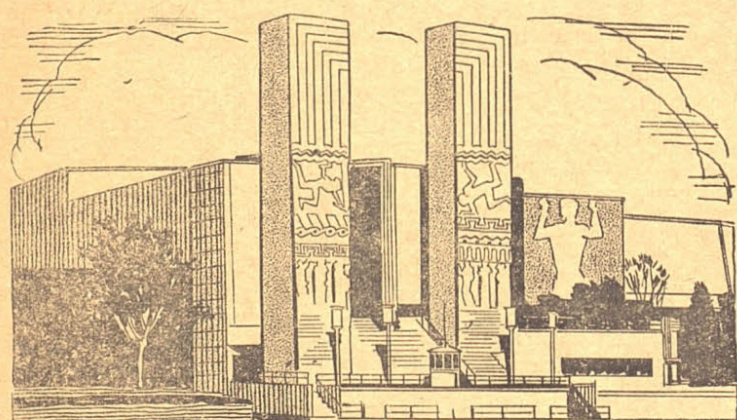

The transmission line can deliver larger amounts of power at once without the delay of installing additional equipment. Thus it clears the road for industrial growth.

The present-day industrial progress of small communities is based in a large measure on the ample and economical power supply which resulted when the transmission systems replaced small local plants throughout the nation.

With 2,608 miles of transmission lines, the West Texas Utilities stands ready to render satisfactory service to 159 prosperous cities, towns and communities throughout West Texas—"The Land of Opportunity."

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

John Shertzer's Body Due To Arrive Today Burial Here Sunday

The remains of the late John Shertzer will arrive here from California on the Texas & Pacific Texan this morning from Santa Monica, accompanied by Mrs. Shertzer, her daughter Lillian, and Charles Shertzer, brother of deceased. The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral Home till the funeral hour, Sunday afternoon, at the First Methodist Church. Miss Marilyn Shertzer and Miss Mary Elizabeth Cllett, will remain in Santa Monica where Mrs. Shertzer and Lillian will later join them.

The shocking news of Mr. Shertzer's death came in a message to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cllett from Mary Elizabeth, who accompanied the Shertzers to California, where she and Lillian will pursue their studies through the remainder of the summer, announcing his passing last Saturday. It was only a few hours before the death message was broadcast over the city, and was received with a shock and surprise by every one who knew the genial gentleman. Other than the arrangements mentioned above the funeral program will await the arrival here of the funeral train, when the details for the last rites will be announced.

John Shertzer was a well known and prominent oil operator, who came to Cisco about 10 years ago, and he and his estimable family have made this their home continuously since. Mr. Shertzer's holdings were in the oil fields of this section, and when the East Texas field came in he acquired interests there, which proved very lucrative.

There were few better men in Cisco than John Shertzer. Recognized as a hard and fast business man, yet he was known to be liberal with those deserving persons, to whom he aided without glamor or pretentiousness. Even today one who I hardly expected of knowing him, remarked: "In the passing of John Shertzer, personally I have lost a friend. I mean as a friend, he was a man who I could appeal to in emergency and be the recipient of his benevolence with meagre prospects of remuneration. He was my friend, and I am grieved by his death."

GUESTS OF NEW BANK

During the opening day of the Cisco State Bank prominent guests here for the occasion were W. M. Massie and J. A. Olson, vice president and assistant cashier, respectively, of the Fort Worth National Bank. Both of these gentlemen were highly complimentary to the bank officials and citizens of Cisco on their splendid deportment and confidence manifested.

McDONALD STRESSES HOME OWN PLAN IN PLATFORM FOR GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

HOUSTON, July 18—Real prosperity will not return until the United States becomes a nation of home owners, is the contention of C. C. McDonald, administration candidate for governor and a staunch advocate of universal home ownership.

Mr. McDonald contends that free tillable land is gone forever and, that though the federal land banks now loan one-half the actual value of a family home, many of the country's finest people are homeless because they do not have the other half of the purchase price or enough to make the down payment.

In the home ownership plank in his platform, Mr. McDonald says that the most important and far-reaching policy this state could adopt would be to place within the reach of every family a home of its own, which, he says, could be done were the state to guarantee the other half of the cost of each homestead not to exceed $4,000. After moving into the home, a family could, under the McDonald plan, repay the money over a period of time at five per cent interest. Mr. McDonald contends that there would be few, if any, defaulters, due to the fact that payments would be less than the average family now spends for rent.

In outlining his platform in speeches throughout the state, Mr. McDonald avers that the foundation stones of his candidacy are his desires to provide opportunity for universal home ownership, equalization of the burden of taxation, repeal of the prohibition law, penioning of the aged needy and infirm, just rights for working men and women and state aid for rural schools.

STATE CHARTERS GRANTED IN JUNE SHOW INCREASE

AUSTIN, July 18—New charters granted corporations during June to carry on business in Texas showed a substantial rise over May, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, statistician in the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas. A total of 130 charters was granted with aggregate capitalization of $1,890,000, increases of 8 per cent and 50 per cent respectively over the number and capitalization in May. There was, however, a decline of 30 per cent in number and practically the same percentage drop in capitalization in comparison with June, 1933; and for the year to date there was a drop of 12 per cent in number and 39 per cent in capitalization compared with the corresponding period last year.

Charters granted out-of-state firms were 29 per cent fewer than in May but 4 per cent above June of last year; and for the first six months the increase over last year was 27 per cent.

A total of six firms with capitalization of $100,000 or more each was chartered against two in May and six in June last year. During the first half of the current year seventeen firms were chartered against 34 during the corresponding period last year.

GRANDSON OF W. H. KIRBY DIES AT MASONIC HOME

Roy W. Childress, the little eight year old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kirby, passed away at the Masonic Home and School of Fort Worth last Wednesday morning of meningitis, following a mastoid operation. Taken when an infant Mr. and Mrs. Kirby, who reside on Route 3, Rising Star, but were former residents of Cisco, reared the little fellow till he was sent to the home.

Since his father's death Mr. and Mrs. Kirby have been parents to the little Roy, who was given admittance in the Masonic Orphans Home and School about two years ago. He was eight years of age June 3, this year, and was devoted to his grandparents. Even before his condition became alarming little Roy seemed to realize the end was near and gave instructions as to the disposition of his childish trinkets. Of his toys, some of which had been loaned him, he told to whom they should be returned, and of his financial assets, consisting of two dimes, he requested that one of each be given to Mr. and Mrs. Kirby. He also requested that his little body be laid beside the grave of his father in Oakwood cemetery, here. Carrying out these instructions, the funeral services were conducted this morning from the Church of God, by the pastor, the Reverend Moad, with burial in Oakwood.

This couple is well known to the oil fraternity, Mr. Gallagher being associated with Mr. O. G. Lawson, one of the oldest drilling contracting firms in this section.

F. L. CLARKE SPOKE FOR TOM HUNTER HERE WEDNESDAY

F. L. Clark, of Fort Worth, addressed a small but attentive audience in the interest of the Hon. Thomas F. Hunter Wednesday night. Basing his talk on Hunter's progressive platform, which is familiar to most of the Citizen readers, the speaker criticized the platforms and speeches of the other foremost candidates for governor, but his remarks contained little or no harsh statements about Hunter's opponents. Mr. Clark said that Hunter's platform should appeal to all legitimate business men, for if his policies are enacted into laws there will be more business for those honest business men who do not care to monopolize trade. "Hunter's policies will reduce governmental expenses, decrease taxation, keep Texas money in Texas and leave a greater volume for the legitimate needs of the people," he said.

He used a loud speaker, which he said, was paid for by himself and another Fort Worth gentleman.

CLEVE CALLAWAY TO SPEAK

HERE NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT Hon. Cleve Callaway, of Cross Plains, will speak in Cisco next Thursday night in the interest of Tom Hunter's candidacy for governor, at the city hall lawn. Tuesday night, July 24, he will speak at Eastland. Tonight Callaway will speak at Cross Plains.

Mr. Hunter will broadcast a statewide hook-up tonight, beginning at 8:30.

HOUSING SITUATION IN CISCO BECOMING ACUTE

There is a sharp demand in Cisco right now for houses is manifest by the many applications at the Citizen office for homes. In the last few days we have been called upon for houses. Had property owners had the foresight to have placed a two-bit ad in the Citizen we could have placed three or four tenants. These applicants said they will likely place an ad for a house in the Citizen unless they find something in the meantime. Twenty-five cents is a small fee to advertise your house for rent. Yet, if placed in the Citizen it will likely land you a tenant. Citizen ads generally get the fruit.

The Rainbolt twins, Master Royce and Miss Joyce, have returned from Dallas where they were guests of their sister, Mrs. C. W. Melton and Mr. Melton.

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 22.

The Golden Text is: "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given life in himself" (Johs 5:26).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "That thou mayest love the Lord thy God, and thou mayest obey his voice, and that thou mayest cleave unto him: for he is thy life, and the length of thy days" (Deuteronomy 30:20).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Because Life is God, Life must be eternal, self existent. Life is the everlasting I AM, the Being who was and is and shall be, whom nothing can erase" (page 289-290).

TEXAS SERVICE STATION AWARDED SECOND TROPHY

Alpha V. Clark, owner of the Texas Service station at Ave. E and West Eighth street, is displaying a handsome silver sales ratio plaque, awarded by Dr. S. H. Gross, eminent greasologist, for making the highest ratio of grease selling, compared to gasoline sales for May, in the Dallas district. This is some compliment when it is known that this territory embraces Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma. The plaque is a permanent trophy which he is displaying with pardonable pride.

Some time ago this station won the district plaque in the Abilene district.

His station besides winning the sales trophy, has been highly complimented by tourists as being the neatest they visited in their travels.

ROOSEVELT SHY KINNAIRD'S CONSENT TO NAME PECORA

President Roosevelt, or those having that authority, were guilty of a grave error in naming Ferdinand Pecora supervisor of stock market trading, before securing the consent of D. L. Kinnaird, acting mayor of Eastland, Texas. Pecora is a foreigner, you know, and Kinnaird sees red every time he hears of an imported citizen holding a public job. Probably Pecora's appointment will be revoked when they learn that Mr. Kinnaird objects to foreigners.
