

RESIDENT IN FAREWELL SHOT AT CONGRESS

FAILURE TO TAKE ACTION ON CONSTRUCTIVE MEAS- URES CRITICISED.

POLITICS WAS FIRST Public Welfare Subservient to Political Expediency, Says the Chief Executive.

Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 5.—President Wilson, in a telegram today to officials of the railroad brotherhoods, criticises congress for failing to take action in regard to high living costs, conclusion of peace, and important domestic legislation.

The telegram was in reply to a message from the brotherhoods requesting the president to prevent the adjournment of congress today.

The president said: "In the light of the record of the present congress, I have no reason whatever to hope that its continuance in session would result in constructive measures for the relief of economic conditions to which you call attention. It is evident to all that the dominating motive which has actuated this congress is political expediency rather than the lofty purpose to serve the public welfare."

The president declared he had accepted some of the legislation enacted by this congress because "despaired of anything better."

States Organize to Defeat Townsend Bill Affecting Highways

Associated Press.
TOPEKA, Kan., June 5.—Based on the claim that the passage of the Townsend bill in congress would mean the death knell to federal aid to the states for highway construction, twenty-eight states are organizing concerted action to defeat the bill. These states, through their highway systems, are in favor of the construction of a national highway system under a national highway commission, as provided in the Townsend bill.

At a conference of state highway officials in Washington last month, a committee was appointed to perfect this organization. It is composed of Henry D. Eller, Oklahoma, F. R. White, Iowa, D. Eller, Alabama, C. M. Babcock, Minnesota, and W. C. Markham, Kansas. It has recently issued a letter to 28 states pledged to the state disunion plan, declaring that vigorous action is necessary if the state plan is to be saved from defeat.

The 28 states uniting in the campaign to retain the present system of federal aid follow: Missouri, Texas, New Mexico, Vermont, Minnesota, Indiana, Iowa, South Dakota, Colorado, Kansas, Alabama, Washington, Oregon, Utah, Florida, Wisconsin, Illinois, Nebraska, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Arkansas, Kentucky, Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Former U. S. Soldiers Seek Jobs In France

Associated Press.
PARIS, June 5.—A large number of former American soldiers, finding American conditions unsatisfactory, are returning to France to find employment. Finding work for them is a serious problem for the officials of the American Legion of this city. Some are working as laborers at comparatively small wages.

Officials have sent out warnings to doughboys not to return to France unless well provided with money to defray all expenses until positions are found, which are scarce.

NEFF PRESENTS CANDIDACY TO CISCO VOTERS

GUBERNATORIAL ASPIRANT SPOKE TO LARGE CROWD LAST NIGHT.

Hon. Pat M. Neff, of Waco, candidate for governor, made a most eloquent talk in his address at the city hall auditorium Saturday night. A splendid audience greeted the speaker, and he held them with intent interest throughout. And, judging by the frequent hearty applause, the hearers were strongly for this native Texan for their next governor.

The meeting was presided over by W. J. Barpes, and the speaker was introduced by E. W. Patterson—who told of their college days together at Baylor university, and paid a glowing tribute to the lad of that day and to the man later. He recited his record as prosecuting attorney, when only 16 out of 422 cases escaped conviction, and that he saved the county some $24,000 in economizing during his term. He then spoke of the brilliant speaker of the house, who was so impartial as to have no appeal from his rulings. He introduced Mr. Neff as the "next governor."

Mr. Neff opened by saying: "We have but few friends, and these are the friends of youth and school days. Later ones are merely acquaintances." However," he added, "one true friend is worth living and dying for."

The speaker then launched out on the greatness of Texas—stating that there were four centers of civilization: Illinois, on the Great Lakes; New York, on the Atlantic coast; California, on the Pacific, and Texas, on the Gulf of Mexico, and the gateway to South America. And he drew many wonderful pictures of Texas.

Mr. Neff announced that he was a candidate on his own responsibility; he consulted no politician, and had no campaign manager. A man who could not manage his own campaign, he said, was incapable of being governor. There would be no middle man with him, but citizens could come direct to the governor.

Headquarters in Automobile.
In campaigning, his headquarters were wherever his hand bag and his automobile were. He said he was the first candidate for governor to campaign west of the Pecos river, and that he had spoken in more than 80 places that never before had seen a gubernatorial candidate.

He told the hearers that his platform was "just a constructive legislative, Texas platform." That platforms were of no value without a man of value on it. In other words, it was man before mere platform.

Favors Greater Educational System.
Mr. Neff strongly favored a greater educational system; one that would raise Texas from the 38th rank among the states to the foremost one. He would open every school house in the state, place therein red-blooded teachers and pay them good salaries.

The agricultural business is being neglected, and he would have the state aid in establishing a marketing system that would give a better distribution of products at more equitable prices. He would have the farmer have more to say than just sit on his wagon and hold the reins of his team while selling his cotton.

He declared for "good roads," saying that his recent automobile tours had increased his enthusiasm. He held inefficient the present taxation system, through the inequity of which some counties get back much more money than they pay in taxes. He would supplement the Hogg alien land law with a law that would reach the million-acre, non-resident land holders, and compel them to put it on the market.

All Now Prohibitionists.
He says that all are now prohibitionists, and the only thing is to enforce the law. This he would do so rigidly that the boys of the future would not know the color, smell or taste of whiskey. He had always been a woman suffragist, too.

He favored factories for Texas; also the conservation of flood waters of the state.

If made governor, he would economize as he did when prosecuting attorney, and prune down some of the 3845 office holders in the state. He says they take up five million dollars of the state's money annually, whereas just a few years back three million covered

MAYOR CHALLENGES WILD TO PROVE CHARGES IN MASS MEETING ON MONDAY NIGHT

Mayor James Williamson has openly challenged Claud Wild, former city commissioner, to prove at a mass meeting held at the city hall auditorium this Monday evening, charges which Wild made regarding the municipal administration's alleged procrastination and retroactivity.

A petition is being circulated on the streets of Cisco asking for the recall of Mayor Williamson, on the charge of being responsible for "certain deplorable conditions" which are alleged to obtain in this city.

A counter-petition is also being circulated by the mayor's sponsors, asking for definite charges against the mayor and for a mass meeting Monday night for public consideration of the controversy, and at which the mayor will answer his accusers.

These are the latest developments in the fight which ensued when the smouldering embers of dissension in the city commission broke into flames at its most recent meeting, with the resignations of Commissioners Wild and Sue.

The mass meeting at the auditorium has been called for eight o'clock. Attorney B. W. Patterson, chairman of the Law and Order League, has been asked to preside at the mass meeting.

WILD AND SUE DENY CONNECTION WITH STREET PETITIONS

Denounce as False Rumors as to Recent Resignations Pertaining to Political Situation.

To the Citizens of Cisco:
Since various rumors are afloat relative to our recent resignations from the City Commission, and pertaining to the present political situation, we are taking this method of declaring them false.

Our reasons for resigning were stated in the News at the time and no repetition is necessary. We did not start, and have not circulated, signed, nor had any other connection with any petitions being circulated, condemning or endorsing the present mayor.

It is further rumored that our reason for asking for a change in the administration was because we wanted a wide open town. Such rumors are absolutely untrue and have absolutely no foundation. We were and still are in favor of the strict enforcement of the law, whoever it hurts. The clash in the commission came because we were fighting for that law enforcement, and could not get it. Whoever makes such charges against us is asked to come to our offices and substantiate them in person.

Though our action in resigning from the commission is final, we still have the interest of Cisco at heart and are still in the harness to do what we can as private citizens. Respectfully,
CLAUDE C. WILD
J. O. SUE.

ALLEGED TO HAVE DRIVEN BETWEEN TWO FIRE ENGINES

Complaint Against Local Citizen for Violation of Ordinance Giving Right-of-Way to Firemen.

Alleged to have driven his automobile between Engine No. 1 and Engine No. 2 of the fire department as they were responding to an alarm Friday afternoon, a local citizen has been charged with violation of a city ordinance in a complaint sworn to by officers of the department.

The ordinance rules that whenever an alarm of fire is sounded that all vehicles in the path of the apparatus shall draw up to the curb and stop. It is alleged that instead of doing this the citizen deliberately closed in behind the first engine and followed it to the fire to the detriment of the second engine which was close behind him.

CISCO IS TO HAVE WATERING RESORT IN LAKE DOTHAN

Cisco is to have a watering resort. It is Lake Dothan, about six miles west on the Putnam road, where provisions for boating, bathing and fishing have been completed.

The resort will have its formal opening this Sunday. Many motorists are expected to make the trip today. The place is said to be ideal for picnicking.

President Pessoa attended the opening ceremonies. General Gamelin is head of the French mission.

MAYOR ASKS FOR PROOF ON FIVE POINTS

City's Chief Executive Calls on Former Commissioner to Explain Accusations Against Administration.

Following is the challenge to former Commissioner Wild as issued by the mayor:

Understanding that I have been charged openly in the newspapers by former Commissioner Claude Wild with maintaining a political machine with having a retroactive and lethargic administration; and with having cast the vote which defeated his motion asking for the resignation of the present chief of police, I openly challenge Mr. Wild to defend his stand and prove his accusations at a mass meeting of the people of this city to be held at the city hall auditorium this next Monday evening.

1. I challenge Mr. Wild to prove:
 1. That the present commission body is a political machine rather than a cooperative body.
 2. That I am a party to such a machine, if one exists.
 3. That any organization or individual has done more for the permanent welfare of this city than the city commission has during the time I have been in office.
 4. That I cast a vote defeating his motion, or cast any vote at all on that motion.
 5. That he can formulate a practicable plan of city government superior and more beneficial to the city than the present one.

CISCO'S ROD AND GUN CLUB WILL PULL BIG SHOOT

"Big Doings" on Foot for the Near Future—Some New Stars Being Developed.

The Cisco Rod and Gun Club is getting ready to pull off a big barbecue and shoot right soon. It is also announced that "some big doings" are on foot for the near future, and that the Cisco Rod and Gun Club expect to be the star.

Several of their members were out to their club grounds at Lake Bernie Friday evening, getting the trap in shape, and also shot a few targets. In this shoot some new stars developed. It was remarked of George Connor that "he can shoot as well as bake bread." Lingle did well, considering a sore shoulder, and Chas. Gray was hitting them good, said the old-timers.

Otho Kearn shot at his first shoot, and promises to develop into a good one—10x25 is not so bad for beginners. And with a little practice, shooters will have to watch that man Wisdom, for 37x50 is a splendid score for a starter. Gather had a heart and quit at 25, when it looked like he could have led the bunch if he had continued to the finish.

The old hands will have to be leary of the new ones will make their step. The Club extends invitation for new members, and asks that "shooters" in the city call on Chas. Gray, who will gladly receive them.

Following is the score of Friday's shoot: Fairless, 43 out of 50; Connor, 42 out of 50; Gray, 39 out of 50; Lingle, 39 out of 50; Wisdom, 37 out of 50; Gailther, 20 out of 25; Kearn, 19 out of 25.

MOTHER ACCUSED OF KILLING BABY IS NOW ON TRIAL

DALLAS, June 5.—The case of Mrs. Edna Ogles, charged with killing her infant son on April 28, was expected to be given to the jury in Criminal District No. 2 late today. Mrs. Ogles entered a plea of not guilty when the case was called yesterday. The baby died a few hours after its birth.

The principal witness was Frank Coe, a county detective. He identified a statement which, he testified, was made to him by Mrs. Ogles shortly after the child's birth. According to the statement placed in the evidence the woman said she poured the contents of a small bottle of poison over the baby's face until "she was sure it was dead."

Dr. Tom Burnett, who attended Mrs. Ogles at the baby's birth, testified the child was normal in every respect. A few hours later, he said, the body was found buried in a sand pit.

Mexico Is In Bad Plight, Says Financial Head

Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, June 5.—The financial restoration of Mexico is one of the most important problems confronting the country, Salvador Atvarado, provisional secretary of the treasury, told the Associated Press today. He said Mexico's national debt is approximately 540,000,000 pesos. It has been suggested, he said, that an Anglo-American Bankers' commission be formed to lend Mexico 100,000,000 pesos for five years.

INVESTIGATE EXPENDITURES G. O. P. IN TEXAS

SENATE COMMITTEE HAD E. H. R. AS WITNESS BEFORE ADJOURNING.

Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 5.—After hearing E. H. R. Green of Texas, son of the late Mrs. Hattie Green, the senate committee investigating pre-convention political financing, adjourned today until July 9.

Colonel Green called to tell what he knew of the selection of Texas delegates. He said he contributed money to a mixed faction of black and white republicans, denying that he had worked for any presidential candidate.

The committee gave out the statement that a number of witnesses still unheard will be called when the committee reconvenes. Declaring that there are three sets of Texas delegates in Chicago, Green said: "If there had been any more time, they would have split some more. We have more candidates for office than republican voters."

Workmen Injured- In Falling From New Standpipe Improving

J. W. Steinkuhler, one of three workmen who were severely injured several days ago when the scaffolding upon which they were working inside the new reservoir standpipe south of town gave way, is improving and has been removed to Abilene, according to Dr. D. W. Gregory, city health officer.

Steinkuhler's wife, son and daughter arrived here yesterday from Yukum and had the injured man removed to the Estes sanitarium at Abilene. A coincidence occurred when Steinkuhler's sister, who had come from Kansas, stepped off the same train here which he and his family were boarding for Abilene. There was a quick recognition and the sister rejoined to the train just as it was about to pull out.

TROOP ORDER TO GALVESTON IS POSTPONED

GENERAL COPE REPORTS IMPROVEMENT IN THE MOVEMENT FREIGHT.

REMAINS GALVESTON

First Break Came When Union Switchmen Agreed to Handle Cans.

Associated Press.
GALVESTON, Texas, June 5.—General Cope said that he found freight moving on the docks at Galveston today and that he had decided to postpone the movement of troops to Galveston.

General Cope announced that he would remain in Galveston under the governor's orders to see that freight moved. He said he found today increased forces working on the water front where congestion is greatest, with railroad cars being switched to and from the docks.

Switchmen Return to Work.

Associated Press.
GALVESTON, Texas, June 5.—The first break in the ranks of union labor in connection with the coast-wide strike came today when union switchmen of the Galveston wharf company agreed to handle cars, whether loaded by union or non-union labor.

Associated Press.
AUSTIN, Texas, June 5.—Governor Hobby early today directed Adjutant General Cope to begin the movement of troops to Galveston at 9 o'clock if he considered it necessary. At that time a Galveston dispatch said that General Cope left his headquarters, accompanied by the chief of police and two rangers, to make an inspection of the water front and ascertain if the ultimatum in regard to the movement of freight was complied with.

The mayor of Galveston and chief of police sent renewed assurance to the governor that "every effort would be made" to bring about free and uninterrupted movement of freight on the docks.

History of Strike.

Sixteen hundred union longshoremen went on a strike at Galveston, March 19. The docks of the Morgan and Malloy lines were affected. An attempt was made to send non-union workers to Galveston from Houston in five rent cars Monday, May 10. The cars were attacked, broken with rocks and bricks and one driver badly injured.

An attempt was made to move strike-breakers from Galveston in interurban cars Tuesday, May 11. The cars were attacked on the way to Houston. A negro was fired through the window and a negro officer was injured. The cars were also stoned.

The Malloy line announced it would quit Galveston May 13. A vessel was rerouted from Galveston to Port Arthur soon afterward. The seacoaks were opened en route and the cargo badly damaged.

Governor Hobby ordered four Texas Rangers to Galveston May 14 upon request of Mayor Spappington of Galveston. There are approximately 1,200 tons of freight on the Malloy docks at present. This is consigned to interior Southwestern points. No southbound freight is being loaded. At the present time the value of commodities on coast, hampered by strike conditions, is estimated between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000. Nearly 1,500,000 bushels of grain are at the docks ready for loading and probably 15,000,000 more bushels in nearby towns. There are 1,000,000 bales of unshipped cotton in Texas. There are millions of dollars worth of commodities at New York ready to be shipped to Texas when conditions permit.

Unightly Awnings Between Fourth and Fifth to Come Down

The wooden awning and screened upper balcony, which for twenty years has been a part of the Hartman Hotel on Main street, has seen its last day and is to come down. Likewise the unsightly structures hanging from the remainder of the business houses on that block, including the American National Bank building.

A contract for their destruction was let yesterday.

The move is in pursuance of a request by the city commission to all merchants to dispose of the awkward wooden and metal awnings and to substitute canvas or build a modern marquee in front of their places of business.

ANTI-AMERICAN MEXICO PAPERS DISAPPEARING

LATE REVOLUTION HAS HAD DISASTROUS EFFECT ON CARRANZA PUBLICITY SERVICE.

MEXICO CITY, June 5.—One of the notable results of the latest revolution has been the disappearance from Mexico City papers, which formerly were strong supporters of the Carranza administration, of the "Servicio Internacional" over stories which could hardly be construed as favoring the United States.

It has long been common knowledge that the foreign office, under the Carranza administration, maintained a very efficient department, managed by a Mexican journalist, Manuel Carpio, to keep informed on what was printed in foreign countries about Mexico. Clipping agencies furnished news stories and special articles, especially from United States and Latin American papers, while Mexican diplomats and consuls also contributed. Stories unfavorable to Mexico and administration officials were especially noted and if the writer were in Mexico he received a free ride to the border, under Article 33 of the constitution.

NEW YORK IS EXPECTED TO BE LARGEST CITY

WILL BE UNDECIDED UNTIL LONDON'S OFFICIAL CENSUS IS KNOWN IN 1920.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Indications are that when the New York City census is announced it will show a total population larger than the last available figures for London. The race for largest city in the world, however, will be undecided until London's official census of 1921 is announced.

While no official intimation has been given as to the growth of New York during the last 10 years, as will be shown by the enumeration made in January, estimates of the city proper place the total population at about 6,100,000 and for the metropolitan district of New York, consisting of the city proper and the territory 10 miles from its boundaries, at about 8,200,000. These estimates are computed on the Census Bureau's method of arithmetical progression shown by experience to be nearer in accuracy in the majority of cases than any other formula. Statistics for the city proper will be the first given out; the figures for the metropolitan district will not be available until some time later.

all incorporated places half of whose area lies within the limit or half of whose population resides within the limit, covers about 344 square miles. The population of this metropolitan district was 4,474,568 in 1910. The city of London within municipal and parliamentary limits has an area of 655 acres, a little more than a square mile, and in 1911 had a night population of 15,657 and a day, or working, population of more than 1,000,000. The Administrative County of London, known as Inner London, is composed of the City and County of London, and is described as the London for census purposes. It has an area of about 116 square miles and had a population in 1911 of 4,521,385. This population showed a decrease of almost half a million people in the estimate made in 1917.

the whole cost of the state government. He would rub out the state and start again. Preserve Children's Health. He is strongly for sanitary and health laws that will protect children, as the state now has laws to protect pigs and cows and cotton, and other heavy products. HUGE AMOUNT DIAMONDS HAVE BEEN CONFISCATED

Associated Press. THE HAGUE, June 5.—As an example of the strict vigilance of the German customs officers in order to save their

TEXAS CONTEST IS NOW BEFORE COMMITTEE

INVOLVES TWENTY-TWO VOTES CLAIMED BY TWO SETS OF DELEGATES.

Associated Press. CHICAGO, Ill., June 5.—The Texas contest was taken up today, which involves 22 votes claimed by two sets of delegates from two conventions at St. Antonio.

"Steam Roller" Talk Starts Stir.

Associated Press. CHICAGO, Ill., June 5.—Disposing of the remaining Georgia district contest, the republican committee today decided the delegate favorable to Wood. Considering the contest of the Lowden delegate, Senator Moses, General Wood's manager, denounced the setting of Lowden delegates over Wood delegates yesterday, as "steam roller" procedure.

"Steam roller" talk has not appeared in convention preliminaries since the celebrated Taft-Roosevelt contest in 1912.

Many of the steady influences which guided the preliminaries four years ago are absent at this convention, and there are many new elements that make for confusion at the present time. Bosses who have spoken in the past with an evident note of authority, seem to be absent, and although incoming delegates are willing to be led, they do not find any formidable party conducted in any one direction.

Penrose Unable to Attend.

Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 5.—Senator Boies Penrose will not attend the Chicago convention, it was announced today by his physicians.

Johnson May Take Floor In Own Behalf

CHICAGO, Ill., June 4.—With the battle slogan "no compromise," Senator Johnson will lead the entire senate group of "irreconcilables" on the floor of the republican convention in a spectacular fight against the Wilson League of Nations, it was disclosed here today.

The fight is expected to be the greatest platform combat in the history of the party and may result in splitting the G. O. P.

Smashing at the fence straddling plank which Senator James E. Watson will bring to Chicago, Field Marshal Johnson will direct the "irreconcilables" in a drive to cast into the jump heap all "pussyfooting" measures affecting the league and to force the Republican party to rivet into its platform a plank committing the party to definite, unalterable opposition to the Wilsonian world brotherhood idea.

May Personally Lead Fight. If the battle goes to such a point that it becomes necessary, Senator Johnson will appear personally on the floor of the convention, to launch a final drive with the objective of ripping the League of Nations to smithereens.

Senator Borah, who is scheduled to arrive here today, will be Senator Johnson's chief tactical general in the anti-league fight, the outcome of which it appears today will decide who is to be the party's nominee.

Neither of the "irreconcilables" who will occupy a front place on the Johnsonian firing line—aligned with him on this one big question at least—will be Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania, Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois, Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman of Connecticut, Mayor Thompson of Chicago and the seventeen Illinois delegates, under his control are in the fight on the California senator's side, tooth and nail.

Penrose Too Ill.

Senator Penrose, the great G. O. P. boss mechanic, is reported too ill at his home in Philadelphia to venture here. But if his plans do not carry through, he'll come on a stretcher, his old friends say. It is said he is suffering from Bright's disease. But whether he comes or not, his hand is surely moving across the map with the Pennsylvania delegation which will arrive in fine feather tomorrow morning.

The Pennsylvania delegation comes pledged to cast its first ballot for Governor William C. Sproul of that state and it developed here today that it will be Sproul who will execute Penrose's orders.

Will Support Sproul.

Fifty-three of Pennsylvania's delegation of seventy-six attended a meeting in Philadelphia a few nights ago and pledged themselves to support Sproul and follow his lead as per Henry's instructions. When these steam into this city there will be a brass band reception of the "gang's" all here.

J. Hampton Moore, Mayor of Philadelphia, will make Sproul's nominating speech.

It would appear that Knox, Penrose's second natural choice, is not in the "favorite son" class now. And the tip went around among the professionals this morning that there was an actual agreement between Penrose and Garding that the latter would receive the Senator's support if a winner did not go over convention top during the early balloting next week.

May Be Only Talk.

Maybe this is only talk. Everyone heard circumstantial stories early this week that Penrose would first give his strength to Johnson, if the latter needed it in a pinch. As a matter of fact, however, Johnson's aides here are known to be working both by day and by night to convince the old guard that Johnson deserves support, because, as they say, "he can win the election."

But manifestly Johnson's fate depends upon ability of his friends to convince the machine men that he is safe and sound in every particular, whatever that may mean.

There was more dark horse talk today, but it wasn't very convincing. And the Southern delegate mixup is proving an embarrassment to the old guardmen who for many years heretofore have known about where they stood four days before convention dates.

Two Interviews Daily.

Publicity plans have had an impetus and beginning today, Wood, Lowden and Johnson will begin giving two daily interviews to newspaper men. Other candidates will join the clan as they arrive. Senator Poindexter of Washington arrives today from Washington and on Saturday his special trains of boosters and delegates are due in from the West.

Vice President Marshall is going to have a look at the Republican contests and possibly some of the convention on his way West. He is to arrive today.

England is spending something like $100,000 on the compilation of an official naval history of the late war.

LOCAL OFFICER AFTER MEXICAN HOLDS UP TRIAN

ARRESTS MAN ALLEGED TO HAVE BEATEN HIS WIFE ALMOST TO DEATH.

An eastbound train on the Texas and Pacific railroad here was held up for five minutes yesterday by Justice of the Peace Z. M. Taylor while he searched the cars for a Mexican who is alleged to have beaten his wife almost to death with a club.

A Mexican was found in one of the compartments who is said to have confessed to the brutal act and who was taken from the train by the peace officer. He is now in jail charged with wife beating and with carrying concealed weapons.

Woman Beaten Severely.

"My phone rang when there was no one in the office, but myself," says Taylor. "Somebody said that a Mexican over in 'Little Mexico' was killing his wife. I hurried over to that section of the city and found a crowd of excited people gathered about a shack in which a woman lay wallowing in a pool of blood on the floor. She had been beaten severely about the head and body with some sort of a heavy weapon, presumably a club, and I believe that her skull must have been fractured. She was unable to speak."

"It was fully five or six minutes before I could discover from the neighbors, few of whom could speak English, what had happened or who was responsible. I finally learned from a woman that a Mexican in blue denim was seen to leave the house and hurry to the railroad station."

Ordered Conductor to Stop.

"I ran all the way to the depot and arrived just as the train was about to pull out. I ordered the conductor to hold the train. He complied. I found the man I wanted in the last coach. He answered the description and when I asked him suddenly, 'Why did you hit that woman?' he answered, 'She mistook me.'"

"I took him from the train and upon searching him found a .33-caliber revolver in his inner coat pocket."

OIL BELT TOWNS SHOW INTEREST IN ELECTRIC RY.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING AT GLEN ROSE WITH TWELVE TOWNS REPRESENTED.

Oil belt towns want an electric inter-urban railroad and are going to do everything within their power to secure one if the interest evinced in Friday's meeting at Stephenville is any criterion.

Representatives from Cisco, Cleburne, Glen Rose, Stephenville, Hico, Olden, Gorman, Desdemona, Dublin, Abilene, and Lingleville met at 2 p. m., Friday, in the Liberty Theatre at Stephenville, to formulate a working organization and to project plans for the raising of funds.

Dean Davis of John Tarleton college called the meeting to order. The representatives were entertained by vocal and instrumental numbers by the John Tarleton orchestra.

Mayor Chandler of Stephenville delivered an address of welcome, which was responded to by B. F. Bennett, field manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Judge Goldsmith of Cleburne was elected chairman of the meeting. D. C. Ashmore, secretary of the Stephenville Chamber of Commerce, was elected secretary.

Speakers Urge Action.

Judge Spann of Glen Rose then spoke on "How to get in and out of Glen Rose," emphasizing the necessity of an electric line through that mineral water and health resort. Short talks were then made by Mrs. Kent, secretary of the Desdemona Chamber of Commerce; Garland Adair, editor of the Hico weekly paper, and secretary of the Hico Chamber of Commerce; W. N. Brown of Lingleville; Mr. Hainmark of Dublin; Mr. French of Gorman; Mr. F. E. Johnson of Cleburne; B. F. Bennett of Abilene; and Stuart L. Williams of Cisco. All of the speakers stated that their respective cities wanted and needed an electric line to supplement the service now being furnished by steam lines; that their commercial organizations were anxious to co-operate with the neighboring towns in any way possible to put over the project.

Discussion of Route.

Some discussion arose as to whether the line should be projected from Stephenville by way of Lingleville, Desdemona, Ranger, Eastland to Cisco, or from Stephenville through Dublin and Comanche to Brownwood. Williams of Cisco stated that as far as his city was concerned that either line was satisfactory to Cisco citizens would insist it being continue from Brownwood in the event that the line was built in that direction. Bennett of Abilene expressed the same opinion as Williams would want the line continued that far if no further.

Organization Committee Named.

Alford Henderson, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, made a motion to the effect that an organization committee be appointed consisting of the secretaries of the commercial organizations of the various cities interested, whose duty it would be to call public meetings and present to the chairman proposition and to report to the chairman whether or not they would agree to raise their pro rata of $1,500,000, the pro-rata to be based upon taxable values. The motion carried unanimously.

PRIVATE CITIZEN HAS RIGHT TO "CALL DOWN" POLICEMAN

Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., June 5.—A private citizen has a right, according to Police Judge Fitzgerald, to "call down" a policeman for infractions of city ordinances.

Former Mayor OF CISCO ON VISIT TO FRIENDS HERE

E. P. O'Neil, a former Ciscoan, was visiting in the city Saturday. Mr. O'Neil lived here many years in the wild and woolly days, and served as mayor for a term or so. From here he moved to Fort Worth some fifteen years ago, but is now at Minges in the oil business. He said, "While I used to know every man in Cisco by his first name, I now meet perhaps one in fifty that I recognize. Foundation here now for a great city; and it makes me homesick every time I come here."

AIRPLANES PLAYING PROMINENT PART IN POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

Associated Press.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 5.—Airplanes are playing an active part in the national non-partisan league's political campaign in Minnesota.

A. C. Townley, president of the national organization, was the first to use a plane, and as a result, he was able to appear at several meetings a day.

Now another plane has been purchased by the league to be used in furthering its campaign for the republican nominations in the state primary election, June 21.

Herbert J. Connell, attorney for the Omaha & Council Bluffs street railway, observed a policeman pass a street car on the wrong side. Following in his automobile, he saw the officer a few minutes later arrest a citizen for the same traffic violation. He rebuked the officer, who thereupon arrested him. Judge Fitzgerald dismissed the case.

STREETS AND ROADS.

While street paving and road building are uppermost in the thoughts of Eastland county citizens, here is an idea for them to think over. It is the experience of the use of a concrete street in Kansas City. Commenting on this street and its usage, the Kansas City Star says:

That stretch of concrete was laid six years ago, not as a permanent wearing surface, but as the base for a permanent paving of wood or brick blocks. From the day in November, 1914, to the present time that base has been subjected to more wear and tear than any other traffic artery in the city and today if an agitation were begun to complete it by surfacing, property owners would argue, with cause, that it doesn't need it.

When the traffic way base was put down it was put down right. A. Jaicks was the contractor and his work was under the constant supervision and inspection of experts employed by property owners. He put down a solid concrete slab from one end of the traffic way to the other, eight inches thick. The property owners thought they could not afford to surface it with wood blocks at the time and the street was thrown open to traffic. Every year since there has been a movement to put on the permanent surface, every year engineers have examined the base and decided the new surface was not necessary. There is not a vital defect in the entire stretch, according to city engineers.

Had the base not been cared for regularly it would have disintegrated long ago, engineers say. Whenever a crack has appeared it has been filled immediately with an asphaltic solution, keeping the water out and avoiding the damage that results from freezing.

Each day for six years more traffic has passed over that 8-inch concrete base than over any finished paving outside the congested district and it is in better condition today than any finished paving in the city in use as long as McGee street traffic way has demonstrated that concrete paving, properly laid and cared for, delivers greater efficiency than other pavements Kansas City has experimented with.

A Frenchman has invented a new type of gun capable of firing shells 150 miles. And the largest gun ever constructed, the "Woolwich Infant," has just been completed by English builders. It weighs 150 tons, and fires an 18-inch shell, weighing about 1 1/2 tons, and which would pierce 28 inches of armor at ten miles. Yet the world is preparing for universal peace. Why the League of Nations?

Just to remind the city builders: This is another Sunday on which a large population of Cisco are milling around, with no park or recreation resort to draw them for the lonely afternoon.

MUNICIPAL CAMP SITES.

American cities, especially in the west, which expect to derive extensive benefits from automobile tourist traffic, will have to provide municipal camp sites, is a warning sounded by automobile associations throughout the country.

These associations keep a file list of all cities affording camp sites, and furnish these to prospective tourists before they enter any territory.

Cisco is on the Bankhead highway, and is at a convenient divisional point. But a city without a camp site will soon find that the automobile traffic is passing it up for one better equipped to handle the tourists. Mileage is of but little consequence to the motor tourist compared to convenience and accommodation. They will stop with the community or city offering these advantages. This is a problem for Cisco's team-workers.

In this little upheaval in city administration affairs, citizens should not lose their equilibrium. This is the time for teamwork on the part of the people.

Some of the sidewalks of the principal and side business streets of Cisco suggest to visitors and strangers that this is a city built by disorganized teamworkers.

Situation Parallel With Railroads.

There is a striking parallel between the financial plight of municipal utility companies and that of the steam railroads at the outbreak of war.

When the federal government took over the chief transportation utilities it exempted the municipal and interurban lines. These were left to battle through the war period on their own account. Like the gas, electric light and telephone utilities, they had to contend with a period of war stagnation and rising costs.

The present crisis may be judged by a single concrete case. According to President Sunny of the Chicago Telephone company, the war forced his company to cut off $2,000,000 that would have been expended in 1918 and 1919. Since then labor and material and money from the banks have advanced rapidly in price. With variations, this is the story of all the utility companies. They cannot keep pace with the public's demand for improved service without large borrowing of capital and this capital the banks refuse to lend except at ruinous interest rates.

The steam railways were lifted out of similar conditions by the federal government at the outbreak of the war. Even now, when the roads have been returned to private owners by the government, the latter guarantees regular dividends to stockholders. The municipal utilities are fighting a lone battle on their own resources and on such help as they can get in higher rates from state utility commissions.—Chicago Herald-Examiner.

NEGRO BOY FELL 20 FEET. LIT ON HEAD; ESCAPED UNHURT

A LITTLE SLICE O' LIFE.

The "quantal" is a new scientific quantity smaller than an atom. In other words, it is about the size of a food profiteer's soul.

Liquor has been absolutely abolished in our town, yet we seem to see many gentlemen with regular old-time morning after pessimism.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY.

Ninety-eight years ago today the first cigar store Indian was born to fulfill his mission in front of a tobacco shop in Philadelphia. After receiving seventy-one cents of paint he passed out of his life at the age of ninety-one, mourned by a large circle of friends and relatives. He was one of the few Indians in this country who wouldn't trade his birthright for a mess of firewater.

A reader of the New York "Tribune" writes that paper that he doesn't know what it is to be intoxicated, as he never drinks liquor for pleasure. He certainly doesn't if he drinks the liquor they are selling now.

There is no such word as "preventative." That is why we always use it in this column. We hope this adequately answers the correspondent who asked us.

They must expect a good deal of sickness in Cincinnati. A drug firm out there has just bought a million gallons of whiskey for medicinal purposes.

OPEN OPINIONS

CAPTAIN BILL SMUGGLER.

We met "Capt." Bill again yesterday and had quite an interesting chat with him.

"Yes, I am enjoying myself since my family has arrived and settled in our new home. Things in general are moving on nicely, so far as business is concerned and I see a 'Greater Cisco' looming in the no distant future."

"When our new lake becomes a reality I look forward to a bigger boom than ever. Theresa (Waddington) Lake has continued, is destined to be among the greatest pleasure resorts in the state. Encampments for yearly meets at the Woodmen, Epworth league, Sunday schools, besides local clubs, will dot its miles of banks, amid the finest natural scenery in Texas and perpetuate the 'Waddington' name for generations to come. A club house on the summit of Bruy Top mountain which rises abruptly from the lake and the highest point in Eastland county would be visible to the four corners of Eastland, Callahan, Shackelford and Stephens."

"Cisco is preparing to take advantage of nature's munificence and a properly supported press will herald her attractions to the listening world, and people everywhere will be eager to read 'The Cisco Morning News' and others to come on later."

"Yes, and no. I went to the ball game but I did not bet on the result. Do not gamble. With me that day is gone. I consider gambling on ball games or other various methods, as a great evil. It is not only legally but morally wrong and I am sorry to see it so universally practiced. St. Paul never said a truer thing than 'He that hatheth a to be rich falls into many temptations and a snare that draw men in perdition.' Many homes are wrecked and wives and parents' hearts broken by husbands and children indulging in this grave offense."

"If one wins then another must lose. To 'bet' and win possesses great enchantment and the habit binds its victims with cords of steel, and the end is often ruin."

"Where a citizen dies the paper men people ever say 'We regret the loss of a good citizen who was a professional gambler; one who won much and often was successful in wrecking others in their business and bringing to want women and children.'"

"Mothers nor fathers never boast of a son made famous as a successful gambler, to say nothing of one who wrecks his family and often his father by such indulgence."

"Yes, I once was a gambler; that is why my soul abhors the thought of it. 'I played in a game one night and won one thousand dollars. One man in the game there were several in it lost that amount. He had played with us before but never had much success, and seemed to have a limited amount of money, but that night he had 'a roll' and lost it. The other players came out about even but I won one thousand dollars. Of course I was elated at my big winning (big for those days) and congratulated myself."

"The next day my elation left me when I learned this man had killed himself. The money he lost was a legacy left his wife. He left a note saying the fascination for gambling had overcome him and he had lost what he had and then his wife and the only escape he saw open to him was to take his life, which he did. I attended the funeral and witnessed the grief of the wife and children. I may truly say, with 'broken heart and contrite spirit.'"

"Until today that scene rises before my mind to haunt me."

DINNER STORIES

In an Irish courthouse an old man was called into the witness box, and being confused and somewhat nervous he went up the stairs that led to the box. The judge good humoredly said: "Is it a judge you want to be, my good man?" "Ah, sure, yer worship," was the reply, "I'm an old man now, and mebbe it's all I'm fit for."

The father of the girl is well known as "a very kind old gentleman." When dad recently received a young man who for some time had been "paying attention" to the daughter, it was the old gentleman who made the first observation: "Hi! So you want to marry my daughter, eh?" "Yes, sir; very much, indeed."

"Um—let me see. Can you support her in the style to which she has been accustomed?" "I can, sir," said the young man, "but I am not mean enough to do it."

Little Sidney had reached the mature age of three and was about to discard petticoats for the more manly garment of knickerbockers. The mother had determined to make the occasion a memorable one. The breakfast table was laden with good things when the newly breeched infant was led into the room.

"Ah!" exclaimed the "proud mother, 'now you are a little man!'"

Sidney was in ecstasies. Displaying his garments to their full advantage he edged close to his mother and whispered, "Can I call pa Bill now?"

I might not be reminded daily of the crime I had committed."

Then and there I vowed to God that I would never again indulge in the damning business. It was some consolation to learn that in a few years the widow was again married to a good man who was not a gambler, a wrecker of lives and fortunes, but the blot is on my escutcheon—the wound rankles still.

"If I can do or say anything to turn one man, young or old, from this path to ruin, which is marked with wreck and ruin to millions, then I will have made some amends for the greatest sin of my life."

"There are in Cisco young men with a bright future before them that have started on this downward road. I appeal to them. Go to your mother or father, your wife or sweetheart and make them gladly telling them that in the future you will avoid this path to death."

Of course there are others "case hardened" when I cannot hope to reach. May God have mercy upon them. May be some day the knowledge that they have caused untold grief to broken hearted fathers, mothers, and wives of their victims will bring them to repentance."

"Strict laws" can never eradicate the evil. You cannot reform people by legal process. You can do so by appealing to them, by showing them how much better it is to live in the esteem of good people than to be loathed by them. I might talk for hours and not exhaust this theme, but will stop now, hoping that some young or old gambler may be led to resolve to forever forsake this evil path, so that when they have a community or death overtakes them, people will regret the loss of a good citizen."

Thus ended our third interview with "Capt. Bill" the reformed gambler. W. H. KITTRELL, Sr.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

"Heart Broken and Anxious." You have made your mistake and now must suffer for it. Be just as independent as the boy and do not show how eager you are to have him come back. In the future think twice before you show your anger and make another such statement.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl and have been married 10 months. We have lived with my husband's folks, and at first they were nice, but now they seem to think I am mean to Bob, and they try to run all of my affairs.

Whenever I buy anything for myself they get jealous and say I am spending all of Bob's money. He does not want to move for things are so high and we are trying to save. He is very good but at times he doesn't believe me. When they hurt my feelings terribly I must tell some one. He does not act as if he hears me.

Would you advise me to work? We have a five-room apartment and it is clean, for I know how.

Please help me, for I know you can give me good advice.—Drooping Rosbud.

To live with "in-laws" is unsatisfactory, 50 times out of 100. I believe you and your husband would be happier together if you had a few rooms of your own, even if you had to work. In case you remain with his people, you must learn not to talk about the things you do and buy to them and when they have been unreasonable do not mention it to your husband. Naturally he has been able to get along with his people because they understand each other's ways. He will blame you for inharmonious and therefore you might as well remain silent. You will be happier in the end if you work for peace and keep your troubles to yourself. Very few men would be sympathetic in circumstances like yours.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young widow of 22 and have been keeping company with a fellow two years my junior. I have gone with this boy for five months steady. I think a lot of him, but have never told him. He never told me that he loved me, but he shows it in his actions.

Do you think a fellow loves a girl when he is jealous of her? Whenever we attend a dance together he gets puffy if some one asks me to dance or I smile at one I know or even speak to a friend.

He has never spoken of marriage. What do you think a fellow like that has in mind?—Frenchy.

Since the young man is only 20 years old he probably realizes that it would be foolish for him to talk of marriage. He is the exception if he is making enough money to support a wife.

Jealousy is not always a sign of love. People with jealous natures have a perverted sense of ownership and if anyone infringes on their imagined possessions they become insanely angry.

You cannot count on this young man's love. He may be very serious for the time being but his character is changing all the time. At the age of 25 he will have different tastes entirely. If I were you I would value him as a friend only and not expect marriage.

FOARD COUNTY MAY HAVE FAIR IN THE EARLY FALL

CROWELL, June 5.—Foard county may have a full fair representing the county and various towns in this section. G. C. McDowan, secretary of the Foard County Chamber of Commerce,

BUFFER STATE BETWEEN JAPAN AND BOLSHEVIKI

WAS ABOUT TO BE SET UP BY RUSSIAN PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT OF SIBERIA.

NIKOLSK, Siberia, June 5.—The Russian provisional government of Siberia was about to set up a government which would be in the nature of a buffer state between Japan and the Bolsheviki government of Russia and western Siberia, when the Japanese military forces seized control of Vladivostok and all the chief centers of the maritime province in April. It was since then announced that the Japanese were establishing a buffer state in part of the same territory.

The Japanese coup was accompanied by rather heavy fighting at Nikolisk, where the Russians resisted and held the Japanese at bay while the majority of the Russian forces withdrew. The Russian losses at this place are estimated at 200 killed and 200 wounded; the Japanese at 42 killed, 81 wounded.

Two days before the Japanese sprung their surprise the provincial constituent assembly, sitting at Nikolisk, had voted to establish a separate government, including all Siberia east of the Volenski river, which flows through Yerhine-Udinsk into Lake Baikal—a government over which the Moscow soviet would have no authority except in a purely advisory capacity.

The step was taken at the instigation of Vilensk, special diplomatic commissar of the Soviets in the Far East, and was carried through with the support of the Communist-Bolshevik party. The new government was to consist of the five members of the present provisional government (social revolutionaries or moderate liberals) and two delegates from each province, to be elected by their respective constituent assemblies.

The conference was still in session, having completed most of its work, when the Russian staff received news from Vladivostok that firing had begun there and that the Japanese were taking control of the town. The Japanese staff, accusing the Russians of having fired on some of their sentinels in Vladivostok, had issued telegraphic orders to all Japanese detachments in the maritime province to disarm the Russian forces in their vicinity.

By the next morning the Japanese garrisons in Vladivostok, Razdolnoye, Nikolisk, Spasskoe and Habarovsk (extending about 400 miles north from Vladivostok along the Usuri railroad) were in the possession of their respective towns.

The Russian forces, commonly known as Partisans, having received orders from the provisional government not to let themselves be drawn into hostilities, offered no resistance, and either surrendered, or, opportunity permitting, withdrew to the hills. Nikolisk, however, was the headquarters of a Russian army corps in process of formation, so that its garrison numbered between 8,000 and 10,000 men. The corps commander, Andreyeff, a young Russian officer, fought a delaying action with his best troops but the Japanese pushed their attack with great rapidity and captured 1,000 of the Russians. Andreyeff escaped with the rest of his forces to the hills where his ranks were afterward swelled by other fugitives. The Japanese forces engaged numbered 3,000 or 4,000 men under the command of Major General Odagiri.

In the course of the fighting the Russian commander stationed a battalion of 300 men with two field pieces and machine guns on a large hill overlooking the city, the key to the situation. A company of Japanese, 100 strong, approached the hill and the captain assured the Russian commander that he had come merely to occupy the hill under orders, but not to fight, whereupon the latter allowed him to lead his command up the hill. The two forces were standing within 20 yards of each other, when suddenly the firing commenced in town. A hand to hand battle ensued on the hill in which the Japanese came out successful, with a loss of six killed, driving the Russians from the hill.

For two days Japanese guards barred Russian Red Cross workers from the hill and when they were finally permitted to pass, they found 56 dead and no wounded, excepting six who had previously been picked up around the outskirts. Many who live near claim they could see the wounded being dispatched.

BATTERY WISDOM NOT POSSESSED BY MANY MOTORISTS

While all motorists may not be in the class with the chap who takes an actual delight in spending all his spare time tinkering about the garage, most of them have some knowledge of the inner and outer workings of their cars. They know that the spark plugs must be cleaned, valves must be ground, that carbon should not be allowed to accumulate in cylinders, that the gear box must be kept filled with grease, and that even so matter of fact thing as a tire appreciates an occasional change of air; but, according to B. S. Huey, of the Huey Motor Co., local distributor for the Exide batteries, the average motorist knows almost nothing of his battery except that it is there to furnish current for starting and lighting.

"A mighty wise man," says Mr. Huey, "asserted years ago that few people realized they had a stomach unless it gave them trouble, and a similar statement would apply equally as well in connection with starting and lighting batteries. With the battery it's a matter of out of sight, out of mind; the battery works on uncomplainingly until the last ounce of strength is exhausted, then come trouble and a big repair bill."

"All large battery troubles are small in the beginning, and a small battery trouble can be readily avoided if the battery is looked over regularly by competent experts. Some motorists take the attitude, unfortunately, that the battery is there to start the car and start the car it must. Without realizing that the neglected battery, no matter how well constructed, loses efficiency under the tremendous strain that is put upon it. Other feel that it would be too much trouble to have the battery inspected at regular intervals, yet these same men would not think of allowing their watches to run down before rewinding them."

"When motorists thoroughly appreciate the great saving of time, money and annoyance which follows the regular inspection of their batteries, we will see a remarkable country-wide increase in starting and lighting efficiency. Many of the best informed motorists in town now come to our service station at least once a month and have their batteries thoroughly looked over. We take care of all makes of batteries in this way. In times gone by these same men brought their batteries to us only when something was wrong, but they have learned that the power and punch originally built into their batteries can be best kept there by expert inspection at regular intervals."

THRILLING STORY OF ESCAPE FROM MEXICO CAPITAL

OBREGON'S CHIEF LIEUTENANT FLED HIDDEN IN SACKS IN A MILK WAGON.

Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, May 22.—One of the exciting incidents preceding the revolt against President Carranza was the escape of General Benjamin Hill, chief lieutenant of General Alvaro Obregon, who fled from the capital hidden in a pile of sacks in a milk wagon. General Hill vanished from the capital on the same night as did General Obregon, April 13. The wagon in which Hill was hidden was stopped by the police in the suburbs of the capital because it did not carry a light. While the driver was bribing the policeman to pass the lightless vehicle, General Hill dropped out of the back of the wagon and hid in the shadow of a building until the policeman was mollified.

Then the general crawled back into the wagon and continued his flight. His good fortune saved him from death when Carranza was slain in the camp at Tlaxcalantongo and he was brought here to be imprisoned until the provisional president decided his fate.

When Captain Felipe Sanchez Carranza was captured near Texcoco, a suburb of Mexico City, after he had been injured while making a forced landing in his big bombing plane, he shot himself. Captain Sanchez Carranza was a nephew of President Carranza. He attempted to reach Vera Cruz via the air route when Mexico City was evacuated on May 7.

SECRETARY OF CROWELL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
CROWELL, Tex., June 5.—G. C. McGowan, a former service man, has been selected as secretary of the Crowell chamber of commerce and assumed his new duties. He comes from Fort Worth, where he is well known. Mr. McGowan announces that he will immediately undertake to stimulate oil activity in his section after an adequate number of cars to care for the wheat harvest now upon the country, and otherwise put Crowell on the map.

FOARD COUNTY CRYING FOR CARS TO SHIP ITS WHEAT
CROWELL, Tex., June 5.—With a wheat production of probably a little more than a million bushels in sight and ready to harvest, Foard county is already crying for cars. The owner of one of the large elevators there informed a West Texas Chamber of Commerce representative today that Crowell alone needs 35 cars to handle last year's wheat, held in elevators and barns so that the elevators can begin to take care of the new wheat.

Production in this section is expected to be between 25 and 30 bushels to the acre, with some few fields making as high as 40 bushels to the acre. The oats crop will also be heavy. Thirty thousand women are employed by the British railways at the beginning of this year.

NEGRO WOMAN HELD ON CHARGE MURDER OF YOUNG MEXICAN

EASTLAND, June 5.—Mike Aleman, a Mexican, is dead and Lillie Roberts, a young negro woman, is in the county jail, charged with the murder. The negro used a 32-calibre pistol and the one shot took effect in the upper chest of the Mexican.

The entire trouble is said to have occurred in the house of the negro woman.

CORRESPONDENCE COURSE EXTENSION DEPARTMENT
Special to The News.
AUSTIN, Tex., June 5.—The extension teaching division of the department of extension of the university of Texas offers correspondence courses in harmony and counterpoint for teachers of music who wish to meet the examination requirements of the Texas Music Teachers' association.

Students may register at any time and continue the work as rapidly as their duties permit; they may begin at any place in the work that their former studies justify. It is probable that examinations for the licentiate and associate degrees will be held at the time of the next meeting of the association and it is advisable that students register early in order to have a margin of time for unexpected interruptions.

In the harmony course the text book will be Practical Harmony by Homer N. Norris and for constant reference and additional exercises The Material Used in Musical Composition by Percy Goetschius will be used. Elementary Counterpoint by Percy Goetschius is the text used for the work in counterpoint. This text does not require a knowledge of the C clef.

The registration fee for each correspondence course is $7, payable in advance. The student must pay full postage one way on the lesson papers. Upon application the prospective student will receive a registration blank for each correspondence course desired.

To avoid delay it is suggested that students send the price of book plus 25c for postage and insurance to the University Co-Operative Society, University Station, Austin.

The extension department also offers a group study course in appreciation of music, including outlines, programs, and library of critical and historical reading, prepared for musical and literary clubs or groups of readers or students.

The loan library is prepared to furnish free small package libraries on the history of music to any citizen or organization in Texas, except that the borrower pays transportation both ways.

Further information may be had from the extension teaching division, University of Texas, Austin.

CLASS IN PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING GOING TO HOUSTON

Special to The News.
AUSTIN, Tex., June 5.—The second class in public health nursing at the University of Texas will complete the theoretical course June 5. They will then go to Houston for five weeks of field work under the supervision of Miss Sabina Fritsch. This class of 11 nurses, added to the number in the first class, who are already at work, will bring the total to 46, all employed in county work in the state. In discussing this important subject, Miss Jane Duffy, instructor in public health nursing, said:

"Considering the area of the state, wonderful progress has been made in public health work but still the harvest is great and workers few. The Red Cross, which is supplying counties with nurses, has been unable to meet the demand."

"The death rate from tuberculosis in this country has been reduced from 200,000 and 150,000 in the last few years. Why cannot the death from other preventable diseases be reduced? Graduate nurses of Texas should stop and think what they can do to help prevent this needless sacrifice of human lives."

All who are interested in this work can obtain information from Miss L. Jane Duffy, instructor in the school of public health nursing, University of Texas. Miss Duffy will conduct the fall course, beginning September 27.

JUDGES WINNERS FINAL GAME FROM SCOUTS, SCORE 5-3

CRUISE PITCHED A BEAUTIFUL GAME, STRIKING OUT TEN EASTLAND BATSMEN.

Cruise pitched a beautiful game for Cisco Saturday, but lost to the Judges, 5 to 3. The new Scout hurler was in fine fettle. He struck out 10 Eastland batsmen, five of which came consecutively in the sixth and seventh innings. The score stood three each up to the eighth frame. In this stanza, Lewis hit a liner to right, that Johnson dropped after making a nice run and getting hold of the ball. Browning followed Lewis, sent out a drive to left field for two sacks, and both runners were brought home by a single through short by Hahn.

The Scouts scored a couple of tallies in the third on three straight hits by York, Griesenbeck and King; another in the fourth after Neely walked, was sent to second by York's sacrifice, and came home on a triple to right by Tim Griesenbeck.

This afternoon the Scouts will open a three-game series with Ranger.

No. Baseballs in Town.

Associated Press.
TYLER, Minn., June 5.—Two years ago this place was virtually blown off the map by a tornado. Since that time the citizens have been busy rebuilding the town.

Recently a baseball team was organized. When the players reported for the first tryout, it was found there was not a single baseball in town.

Miss Laura E. Edmund of Toronto has been appointed a deputy game warden for Ontario, the first woman to hold such a position in Canada.

GIL'S GLEANINGS

Tim Griesenbeck, our heavy hitting backstop, takes this opportunity to thank and express his appreciation to all fans for their good will shown toward him when they presented Tim Tuesday with a little purse at the ball yard, and another later in the evening at the City Drug store, for the home run he made, which materially helped to win the last Abilene game here.

Joe Gaines and Beyer staged a pretty pitchers' battle at Abilene Friday. The Nitro hurler gave only five hits, but was defeated by the crafty Joe, who was certainly stingy in dishing out safe blows. His donation was two bingles, and very weak ones at that.

Things have changed considerably in baseball since 1884. At that time a batter was allowed to call for either a low or high ball. He was out on three strikes, and he didn't take his base until he had seven balls called on him.

Last year Vaughn of Chicago and Tony of Cincinnati, pitched against each other for nine innings and neither allowed a hit. Cincinnati won the game in the tenth, 1 to 0.

Jack Britton's feat of becoming world's welterweight champion at the age of 35, and defending his title against any man who'll even stand to be a contender, is a fine example of what clean living will do for an athlete. It took Jack seventeen years to gain the crown, and it seems he just kept himself in better condition than the other writers, as the last battle between the American and Lewis, was a walkaway for Britton.

We have noticed where the Milwaukee team went through two games last season without an assist, error, or put-out. How this could be is a mystery to us, unless all the batters on the opposing team attempted to hunt on the hot strike and failed.

Buckeye Athletes Give Promise of Being Strong Contenders at Ann Arbor

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 4.—Ohio State University's track team, one of the best balanced organizations developed at the Buckeye institution in years, has advanced considerably in strength in the last two weeks and seems destined to give Western Conference men a hard tussle in the conference meet at Ann Arbor June 4-5.

In the recent "Six Six" meet held here, in which athletes from all the principal colleges of Ohio participated, several new state records were hung up by the Buckeyes and some fast time made.

Louis Morehead, who practically all season has been doing the 100 yards and 200 yard dash in 10 and 22 seconds flat, respectively, negotiating these distances just a trifle faster. In the century run, Morehead registered a mark of 9.45 seconds.

The same day Morehead traveled the 220 yard dash in 21.35 seconds which equals the present Western conference record held jointly by three men. Morehead ran this race in a dead heat with King of Ohio Wesleyan.

Morehead has been improving steadily all season and no doubt will be in splendid form. In addition to his prowess in the dashes, he is always good for at least 5 feet 5 inches in the high jump and has cleared the bar at over six feet. As a broad jumper he can go nearly 21 feet.

In the 440 yard run against some rather stiff opposition, Tracy Pittenger made the distance in 34 seconds and was caught by one watch at 49.45 seconds. Pittenger is a rangy athlete and has possibilities of developing into one of the best runners in the Western conference. This is his first year for conference competition. Triggs, another Ohio State man can also negotiate the quarter under 51 seconds.

In the hurdles Hill has improved and while not coming anywhere near the time set up by Simpson of Missouri he will stand up against the best in the conference. Hill in the meet crossed the high hurdle bars in 15.25 seconds and has made the low in 25.25 seconds. He also cleared 11 feet 6 inches in the pole vault. In the shot put White is almost always good for over 40 feet, while in the dumbbells Spiers has made heaves of over 120 feet.

In addition to these men Ohio State has the service of Hane and Locke both 10 second men in the century dash; Dickerson and Anderson in the two mile run, both of whom can make the distance in 16 minutes; Mikesell, who can hurl the javelin around 150 feet, and Todd and Ferguson in the 846 yard run.

NEW PITCHING RULES IN MAJOR LEAGUE CIRCUIT

HAVE NOT AFFECTED NUMBER RUNS AND HITS, BARRING FREAK DELIVERIES.

Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 5.—The number of runs and hits in the major leagues has been affected little by the new pitching rules adopted this year, barring the use of the "spit ball" and other freak deliveries, according to a comparison of figures for the first month of this season with the same period last year.

Higher scores were expected by some followers of the game, but the increase in the American league was slightly more than one run a game (or half a run for each team) while in the National a gain of one-tenth of a run was made. An increase of about nine-tenths of a hit a game was made in each league.

The National league game average was 7.7 runs and 17.92 hits in 1920 and 7.6 runs and 16.70 hits in 1919. The respective totals in the younger league was 8.44 runs and 17.72 hits to 7.5 runs and 18.82 hits.

Errors, which often were attributed to the "spit ball" interfering with the fielding, were slightly more numerous this year despite the abolition of its use.

Totals for the two periods compare as follows:

	1920	1919
Games	89	88
Runs	686	659
Hits	1648	1470
Errors	297	264
American	1920	1919
Games	90	87
Runs	4778	4522
Hits	1596	1467
Errors	281	269

Carl Johnson, All 'Round Michigan Star "Taking the Hurdles"

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 4.—Announcement that Carl Johnson, Michigan's brilliant all round athlete, was again "taking the hurdles" on Ferry field, revived the hopes of the Maize and Blue team for a victory in the western conference championship meet here June 4-5.

Optimism, however, was held in check until it is definitely determined that the rangy Spokane lad is fit. In his first workout in several weeks on the local field he took things easy but went over the jumps without difficulty. A strained groin muscle has kept Johnson out of track competition.

Even though Michigan's "20 point" man should go into the conference meet in good shape, supporters of the Ann Arbor contingent admit a hard battle is in prospect. The competing teams, according to all performances, are more nearly balanced this season than they have been for some time past. A close score in the opinion of many followers of track events, will probably result. Illinois and Wisconsin have two of the best balanced squads in the conference. California, which has defeated Leland Stanford, also is looked upon as a dangerous contender. Its squad includes Merchant who is picked to take the broad jump easily. Merchant is counted the best all round man on the coast.

Michigan won the conference meets in 1918 and 1919 and has finished first in seven of the western contests. Illinois has won 4; Chicago 3; Wisconsin 2; California 1; Missouri 1; and Notre Dame and Leland Stanford once tied.

Neolin Soles Demonstration

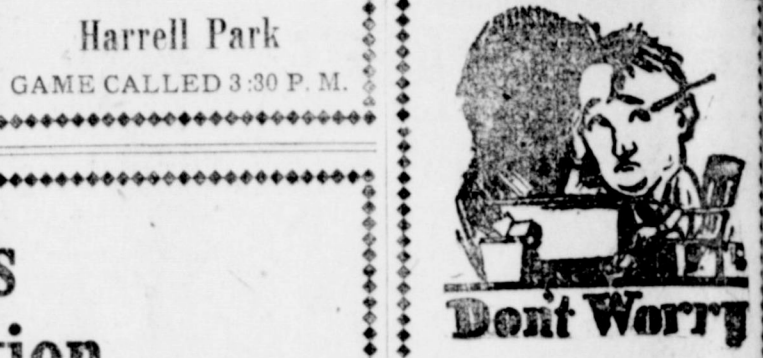

---at Cisco Shoe Hospital

NEOLIN is a secret composition designed as a substitute for leather, but its wearing qualities has proven it to be superior to leather, and can no longer be classed as a substitute, especially when hard wear is required.

To prove this, the

CISCO SHOE HOSPITAL

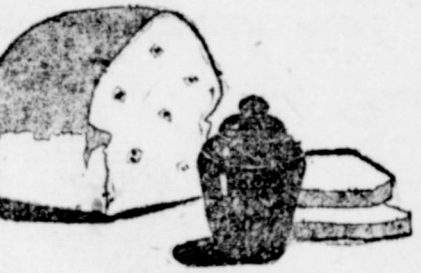

NEXT TO BROADWAY THEATRE
will give a public demonstration of this material, both as the best for shoe soles and for all purposes for which leather is used. This demonstration will interest you, especially if your business requires material that will stay with you. Bricklayers and others whose occupations are hard on shoe soles, will be interested in knowing that you can have you half soles put on with NEOLIN and have them wear you. Don't forget this Neolin demonstration June 10, Cisco Shoes Hospital.

TURKS FIRED ON U.S. ORPHANAGE AND HOSPITAL

STORY OF ATTACK BROUGHT TO THIS COUNTRY BY MISS MABEL ELLIOTT.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Turkish nationalist forces in besieging Marash, Syria, last January, deliberately and continuously fired on the American college and Near East relief hospital and orphanage there, according to Dr. Mabel Elliott of Benton Harbor, Mich., who was in charge of the hospital during the three weeks' attack.

Dr. Elliott, who has now returned to this country, with Mrs. Mabel Power of North Hero, Vt., Miss Helen Schultz, of Reading, Pa., and Miss Minnie Dougherty of Holyoke, Mass., told by eyewitness story of the attack directed against the Armenian population.

The slaughter of men, women and children was horrible, she said, and the pillage of houses barbaric. In one Armenian church 3500 persons were killed—only 22 surviving the attack on it—she said.

Of a fleeing column of 5000 Armenians, mostly women and children driven from the besieged city, Dr. Elliott said only 2200 reached their objective, Ishah, but 75 miles away.

"The whole three weeks of the siege, the firing from house tops and windows never ceased," she said. "The Turks fired many buildings all over the town, and from our windows we could see columns of smoke rising first from one part of the city and then another, every hour of the day and night."

The largest Armenian church at first sheltered some 2500 Armenians of the better class; shop keepers, business men and merchants and their families. They had arms and put up a good fight. But the Turks finally fired the church and forced them out. Only 22 of them escaped with their lives.

"A communication trench was dug from French headquarters to the hospital by which the French wounded were brought in to us. They were all Senegalese and Moroccans. The Senegalese blacks suffered frightfully from the cold. We had 800 cases of wounded and frozen feet—mostly frozen feet."

"All over town, the Armenians would gather in the nearest churches for protection, largely because by being concentrated they were in greater force, and also because the church buildings are of stone and surrounded by high walls and thus made the best means of defense. It wasn't possible to live a day in a private house, as the Turks would fire the houses and drive the inhabitants out, killing them as they ran for shelter. We could see that going on everywhere."

There were about 5000 Armenians who found the column and tried to take the march over the mountains to Ishah, 75 miles from Marash, when the French troops evacuated the city. "There was no food for anyone and only a few carts. Practically everybody had to walk the whole way."

"It was a ghastly, incredible night-mare. The worst blizzard that Marash had ever known caught us."

Most of the fugitives were women and children. The men stayed behind to fight and cover our retreat. "They fled like flies. Every 50 yards or so someone would drop in the snow. There was no use trying to do anything as it was all anybody could do to keep going."

"We had to cross many streams, which were frozen at first, but the ice was broken by the French trains and artillery, and when we came along we had to wade in the icy water, and then walk on in the snow. I saw the French general in command wading the stream on foot."

"Out of the 5000 who started only 2200 ever got there."

Mrs. Mabel Powers of North Hero, Vt., and Miss Helen Schultz of Reading, Pa., who came out with me, went to Adana in a French hospital train."

JUDGE JOE BURKETT IS CANDIDATE FOR STATE LEGISLATURE

TO THE VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF 108TH REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT.

Yielding to insistent solicitation of many friends in both Eastland and Callahan counties, which compose the 108th Representative District, I announce myself as a candidate for the state legislature from this district.

Of course, I realize, as everyone else does, that holding the office of Representative means a great financial sacrifice, but someone must take that sacrifice if the ever increasing needs and demands of our state are successfully met. I believe there are many great and difficult problems that confront us which, if properly solved, means millions of dollars yearly to our people.

Take our oil and gas conservation laws, for instance. They are wholly inadequate at present and should be amended to meet the needs of the public, as well as protect the land owner, and at the same time be just and fair to the oil operators. There has been enough gas and oil—mostly gas—wasted in the Eastland field in the last two and one-half years to supply the needs of all Texas for at least five years. This should not be, and if elected, I shall assist in passing such laws as will save this wastage. And to my mind the remedy lies in placing gas pipe line companies under state supervision, and requiring them to take gas in sufficient quantities to furnish an adequate supply to their customers.

Our tax laws need revision and amendment. No man should pay more than his just share of taxes, neither should one county pay a higher portion of the state taxes than any other county. Some counties now assess their taxes only sixty per cent value, while others assess higher and others lower. To be just and fair the rate of assessment for state purposes should be uniform. No fair minded man can object to an equal tax rate, and every man should demand just that—no more and no less.

The irrigation laws of our state have been woefully neglected. All Texas, and especially West Texas, can be turned into a veritable garden of Eden, if only the storm and flood waters are impounded. There are numerous streams and valleys which with comparatively small expenditure, can be made to hold enough water to irrigate by gravitation thousands of acres of fertile land, and our laws should be so framed as to care for just such conditions.

Then, too, at the next session of our legislature there is likely to be an effort to place a heavy tax burden on land owned, but not cultivated or used by the owner. This should not be. Every man should be willing to bear the burdens of our government in proportion to his property values and income, but no man's property should be confiscated because, forsooth, he has been more economical than his neighbor and has stunted and saved and invested in land, perhaps, instead of in stocks and bonds.

The public schools have not been receiving their just share of the state school money. We should have an excellent university and normal schools, and I am glad we have such, but we should not stand thirty-fifth in our public schools and first or second in our state university and normals. It does seem to me that money should be spent on our children while they can not help themselves, and no so much on them after they are grown and capable of their own support. I am for our public schools first, and for our university, A. & M. college and state normals second. In the proper education of all of its citizens lies the safety of our commonwealth. Education is the one great bulwark of our nation, but all our citizens cannot attend the university and normals, and by force of circumstances must attend our public school if they attend at all.

If elected, I promise to be on the job at all times while the legislature is in session, looking after what I conceive to be the best interest of the people as a whole, as distinguished from the interest of a favored few. The laborer, farmer, and toiler should be treated justly by our laws, and at the same time capital should not be driven out of our state by drastic legislation. We need both and must treat each fairly, if our already great state is to continue to develop its boundless resources as it should.

If I am right in my views, and you agree with me, I shall be glad, and I will certainly appreciate your vote and influence, but if on the other hand you should not agree with me, I shall regret it very much.

Respectfully,
JOE BURKETT,
Candidate for Representative,
108th District.

FRENCH CHURCH BELLS PEAL AS BENEFACTRESS NEARS TOWN

The Countess de Buyer, nee Daisy Polk.

The Countess de Buyer, who as Daisy Polk, an American girl, directed the work of rebuilding the French town of Vitrimont in 1916-1917, was signally honored when she recently returned to the village, accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Crocker of San Francisco. Mrs. Crocker supplied the funds with which the village was rebuilt. As the women neared the town the church bells began to peal, while the populace in their holiday apparel came out to give an enthusiastic welcome to their American benefactresses.

Car Shortage Equal to That of Last Spring Faces Wheat Counties

CHILLICOTHE, Texas, June 5.—

Another car shortage which will be as pronounced as last spring's faces the wheat counties of this section. The wheat harvest has already started and cars for the loading areas yet not available.

It has been conservatively estimated that at least 300,000 bushels of last year's wheat crop remain in the hands of farmers in Hardeman and Ford counties which seek outlet to the millers, but which is being delayed because of no available cars. Elevators and barns filled with last year's grain must soon be discharged to take care of the new crop.

Well known wheat men are of the opinion that the government during its tenure of railroad operation failed to keep up the grain car rolling stock and took no interest in building more cars, resulting in the present intense lack. It is believed that the country is now 1,000,000 cars short to take care of the needed requirements for the country's great crops. Not every box car is fit for grain. Wheat cars must not be leaky or with a single hole, as the grain will stream out like water, and be lost.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is studying the situation and trying to relieve this section.

WILL START CAMPAIGN TO MARK WEST TEXAS ROADS

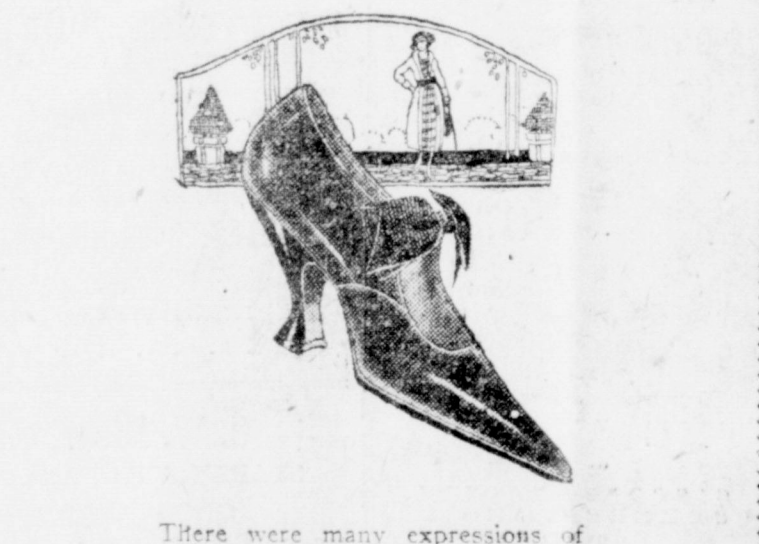

STAMFORD, Texas, June 5.—

A campaign will shortly be started by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to have all chambers of commerce and commissioners' courts to mark all roads through their counties, so that tourists will not be led from the right road. Just at present many roads in western counties are not marked where cross roads are encountered, so that travelers are mystified as to which road to take. A few signs would obviate this, the organization asserts.

New Stations Along Orient.

HAMILIN, Texas, June 5.—A number of new stations will be opened shortly along the Orient railroad, according to information given out here to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Among these are McCauley, in Fisher county. Splendid crops for two years have made the Orient "come back."

PROCLAMATION MAKING JUNE 12 NEIGHBOR DAY

ISSUED BY CARDINAL GIBBONS THROUGH COMMITTEE ON COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION.

Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Cardinal Gibbons, through the National Committee on Community Organization of which Franklin K. Laen is president, has issued a proclamation suggesting Saturday, June 12, as "neighbor day" to develop a spirit of neighborliness and friendliness.

Cardinal Gibbons' proclamation, similar to others by the governors of Ohio

Wyoming, West Virginia and Arkansas, is as follows:

"The celebration of a national neighbors' day on June 12 would be a splendid means of promoting local community organization. I regard this kind of organization as an excellent means of breaking down racial and other prejudices and of teaching men and women in a practical way their duties of Christian charity and helpfulness toward their fellows. It should prove effective in promoting genuine and sympathetic Americanization."

"JAMES CARDINAL GIBBONS." The committee on community organization is responsible for the birth of the idea of neighbor day. It grew out of the national conference on community organization, which was held in Washington, March 19-20. It is planned to have neighbors' day become a nationally recognized day for the purpose of bringing the people, foreign born and native, into closer relationship in order to give them an intimate knowledge of the needs of the community. The sponsors believe that if a real spirit of community interest prevails under the stimulus of a yearly neighbor day on June 12 that no radio propaganda can withstand the welding together of local community organization.

Again the ESSEX Wins

Is first in every event entered at the Independence, Mo., track last Sunday--the 3-mile light car race, the 5-mile Special challenge championship and in the 10-mile 20-lap challenge free-for-all

Another Triumph for the Exclusive Essex Patented Motor

Isn't this record, made by a stock Essex, a wonderful proof of Essex Endurance? Doesn't this accomplishment further demonstrate the qualities that have made Essex the desired car by nearly 40,000 owners?

And what the Essex did on the $\frac{1}{2}$ -mile narrow dirt track at Independence has been done on other speedways throughout the country. In speed events, hill climbs, endurance tests, the Essex has proved time and time again the qualities that are built in every Essex.

Such motor supremacy is possible only because Essex controls patents on its motor that are exclusive to Essex. No larger than conventional 18-horse power motor, Essex develops 55 horsepower.

But while the Essex showed its ability to win first place in every event entered in such races as Sunday, by far the greatest Essex proof of endurance is that of a stock chassis in setting a new world's record by covering 3,037 miles in fifty hours on the Cincinnati speedway at better than a mile a minute. This is the greatest milestone in Essex history.

It is just a little over a year since the Essex was announced. In that time it has set a new world's selling record—it has captured record after record for speed, power and endurance. It has taken a place in the light car field in a manner never before filled by any other car.

Along Automobile Row

By R. M. HUDSON

There is no such thing as a lull in the automobile business if the bustling activity along Automobile Row in Cisco is any guide or measure. The dealers in this row are all wearing a business-like smile of pleasure, along with their weary-looking physique from the strenuous work caused by the never-ceasing demands of the auto trade of this oil area, of which Cisco is the motor center.

Trade in all lines of the industry in Cisco is visibly increasing each week, said R. E. Moran of the B-M Motor Company, distributors of the Studebaker and Overland cars. "Although it is still difficult to get cars fast enough to supply the trade, the outlook is brighter than for many weeks," was Mr. Moran's comment. "Studebakers, Studebakers, is the daily cry of automobile buyers," he said.

Sedans are forging to the front in Texas as they have elsewhere," said H. D. Fulwiler of the Fulwiler Electric Company. "And my guess is that in two years more the closed cars sold here will greatly outnumber the open top type. The latter will be reserved for the rough-necks and cowboys for round-up purposes. The closed cars are certainly much more comfortable in every respect, and are certainly worth the difference in cost."

Mr. Fulwiler recites where one Oakland dealer at Denison has sold all the closed Oakland cars he could get from the factory this year—and all that he he could get from other dealers.

He says that they now have a shipment of Oakland's en route which will soon be in. And this shipment includes one Sedan.

R. W. Manell, of the Manell Motor Company, complains that the parts and accessories trade keeps on increasing so that he can't get enough from the factories to supply the calls. He adds:

While Henry's plants are doing double time in turning out Fords that the people are doing double time and then some in buying or trying to buy these cars. Although the Dallas assembling plant is rolling out a new Ford every twelve minutes in the day, our allotment never gets to the sales room. They are snatched by seekers as they are unloaded at the depot."

But trade prospects look very bright, said Mr. Manell.

"There must be much automobile activity in this oil belt, judging by the demands they are making on this house for parts and accessories," said Manager Mitchell of the Central Motor Company, Dodge distributors. "Our business since here, is remarkable," he said. "But it is so everywhere. They are calling on our Waco house from all over the state."

Mr. Mitchell says that the express shipments have been limited to 250 pounds, shipping hindrances at the factories the great obstacle to an unprecedented automobile business, he said.

Phillip F. Keelan, of Waco, has joined their force in the Cisco house, as bookkeeper.

"This all goes on a Ford. You can use a Ford for anything" is the wording on unique miniature oil derrick in the show-window of Blanken Bros., the auto hardware dealers. This derrick is formed of Ford axles and other parts and looks as natural as the real oil field. A copper tube connected to the base leads out to a bucket in the corner of the window which contains compression cup grease, which represents the reservoir tank. The whole display is very suggestive.

Whitaker & Mahaffey are now ensconced in their new Broadway home in the Mayhew block. This Elgin home looks very spick and span—as do the Elgin cars, especially the Sport model. "This is going to be Automobile Row" they say.

Broadway Motor Company is the Elgin neighbor. They are just in their new home, too—and are keeping house as brides, with the Chandler, Cleveland, and Apperson Eight. They say that trade is opening up most gratifying with them as a new house. They placed a Chandler the first day in the hands of A. B. Webster.

A. B. Lewis, of the Auto Electric Co., where the electric department of their shop is flooded with work, gives this little hint to automobilists:

"Don't allow your storage battery to stand in a discharged condition for any length of time. Should the battery for any reason become discharged, have it fully charged at once at the nearest garage or charging station. A battery when in a discharged condition sulphates rapidly, making charging extremely hard and in time entirely destroying the elements."

The Cisco Motor Company have now on exhibit two new Haynes cars of the latest type, showing a wheel-base of 140 inches. "Riding in this car is like riding in a Pullman," said C. K. Burroughs of the firm. Yes, trade is good, said Mr. Burroughs, and the buyers are buying good cars.

C. M. Lewis, operating the three Cisco oil and gas stations of the Sturm Oil Co., makes lubrication a study. He warns the thoughtless auto users on brake care:

"The brake mechanism seldom gets the lubrication it really needs. Oil is required on the pins supporting the brake shoes and upon the bearing points of the cams or toggle mechanism which actuates the brakes. These parts usually depend for lubricant on the hand oil can. Beginning at the operating lever, every joint in the brake needs occasional oiling, as do the bearings of the compensating shaft."

JUDGMENT AND INDIVIDUALITY ARE BEST DRIVING GUIDES

Driving is an art that requires an individuality. Hebbie rules should not always be followed. The one at the steering wheel of an automobile should not be hobbled with a set of "don'ts" and "nevers," is the opinion now held by many expert motorists.

Expressing this view, T. J. Mitchell, manager of the Central Motor Company, distributors for the Dodge car in the Cisco belt, says, however:

"We do advise every owner to exercise his best judgment in the operation of his motor car.

"We believe the owner should take this view from a purely business standpoint. He should safeguard his investment. We believe driving should at all times be based upon prevailing traffic rules.

"These principles may be generalized in one rule: Whenever you are in doubt as to whether to follow the safe way or the uncertain way, take by all means the safe way." Try to keep out of the element of chance as much as you can.

"For instance, if you are approaching a narrow stretch in the road and an automobile is coming from the opposite direction, don't plunge ahead with the hopes that there will be a place to turn out. It is better to wait on safe ground for the other car to pass.

"Or, if you are driving toward a railroad crossing and even though there is no apparent warning of an approaching train, it is advisable to slacken your speed and look carefully to make sure of a clear crossing before passing onto the track.

"Another simple illustration of safety in driving is to lessen the speed of the car when trying to get out of a rut in the road. If the car is moving rapidly the sharp turn necessary to get out of the rut may throw the car out of the road entirely and cause a serious accident.

"Mention of these instances may seem to some drivers as being rather elementary in this age, when driving an automobile is considered quite simple, but—

"The fact remains, however, that every day hundreds of automobile drivers are ignorant of the simple rules of good driving and the daily lists of accidents might be curtailed at least 50 per cent were ordinary care used in handling the car."

LOVE SONG.

I'd steal the Kohlnoor, love,
To hid your necklace rare;
I'd steal the sunset's gold, love,
And twine it in your hair;
To grace your queenly brow, love,
I'd flish the morning star,
But darned if I'll agree, love,
To let you drive my car!
—R. E. B. in Motor Life.

Driving in deep mud is not difficult if good judgment is used by the driver. Don't try to force the car in high gear causing the wheels to spin. Shift to a lower gear and take it slowly. If the car stops, reverse and back up for several feet. This will give you a chance to gain momentum to overcome the obstruction. Forcing the engine and the spinning of the wheels, only tends to dig a hole.

AUTO AND ROAD CHAT

A total of $1,140 automobiles were driven over the motor highways from western factories to their distribution centers during the month of April. This set a new high record, exceeding that of March by $400. When the country has a network of highways, surfaced for motor vehicles, there will be less congestion of freight movements on railroads.

The convey of the United States Army Motor Truck Transport Corps, which is to travel from Washington to Los Angeles, will traverse the Bankhead National Highway. Thus, it will visit Cisco. It is scheduled to reach Texarkana on July 24, and El Paso on August 23. The average daily mileage is 44 miles, but some days it will make more than 60 miles. It will be three months in crossing the country.

There will be from 20 to 30 trucks and 20 automobiles in this convey, and it will consist of near 170 soldiers, 30 officers and 20 "distinguished" citizens.

It is announced from Breckenridge that active operations have been inaugurated on the construction of Stephens county's $4,000,000 system of highways. To the $1,500,000 voted by Stephens county $200,000 federal aid has already been added. It is stated that the type of construction on the east and west road from county line to county line will be an 18-foot concrete road. Vast sums will be spent to connect with Eastland's contemplated highclass roads.

The death penalty for automobile drivers who run down a pedestrian and then speed away without stopping to render aid to their victim, is a law that will be recommended by the members of a public safety committee recently organized in Dallas. Pretty drastic—but such demons need rough handling.

The proposed route of the Roosevelt International Highway will run from Portland, Maine, to Portland, Oregon.

According to construction figures, the American people have invested approximately $11,000,000,000 in high highways.

It is said that chauffeurs in Buenos Aires, South America, earn an average of $360 per month.

Jitneys now attend church in Kansas City. To stimulate attendance at a Christian church there, a free jitney service has been extended to members living beyond walking distance.

Toledo, Ohio, has a union depot solely for motor truck freight. And motor trucking is just in its infancy.

A garage that will accommodate 3500 automobiles has been established at Akron, Ohio.

An average allowance of horsepower for passenger automobiles is about one horsepower to 80 pounds of weight.

Motor tractors and trailers are replacing ox teams of the famous Italian marble quarries at Savoxezza. Discovered by Michael Angelo in 1517, these quarries have been in active operation ever since.

THOUGHTS FOR AUTO USERS

In driving over crater-like holes, watch the road and try to stagger the joints. Don't let both wheels hit the obstruction squarely. The impact will not be so severe on the car. The effect is noticeable when crossing rough tracks at an angle.

A rattle in the spring clip may be cured by wrapping the lower part with tire tape, enough to prevent the movement that causes the rattle. The point may be painted over to match the color of the spring, so as not to make an unsightly mark on the vehicle.

Imperfect cores and caps in tires frequently lead to extensive and expensive injuries to casings and inner tubes. It is unwise to try and fix these small pains; the better way is to carry a supply of spares and replace doubtful ones with new ones.

Millions of gallons of fuel are wasted every year through the idling of truck engines. When the truck is standing at the loading platform or elsewhere the engine should be stopped. Unless some watch is maintained over the drivers they will idle their engines to avoid the trouble of making a fresh start.

Distribution of Motor Trucks.
According to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, utilization of the motor truck is enabling the railroads to "catch up" with traffic needs which so accumulated during the war.

MIXTURES RICH AND LEAN ARE EASILY UNDERSTOOD

There is nothing mysterious about the terms "rich" and "lean" mixtures. A rich mixture is one with too great a proportion of gasoline to the amount of air, whereas a lean mixture is possessed of less fuel it should have for proper combustion.

An overrich mixture will cause overheating of the engine to say nothing of carbon accumulation and such other ills as pre-ignition, loss of power, lack of acceleration ability and loading up at low speeds.

At high speeds a lean mixture will cause misfiring and uneven running of the motor. In connection with this improper operation there will be the familiar popping in the carburetor.

Of course these troubles cannot always be charged to incorrect mixture but nine times out of 10 such incorrect operation can be traced to it.—Motor Life.

The trophy has since been in the custody of the Hamburg Yachting club and Mr. Watson has made application for its return.

MAKE AGRICULTURE MORE PROFITABLE TO KEEP MEN ON FARM

Only Way to Stop Exodus to the City and Bring Production Up to the Demand.

DALLAS, Tex., June 5.—"Make agriculture more profitable; that is the only way to stop the exodus from the farm to the city and bring production up to the point where it will meet demand," declared Walton Peteet, manager of the agricultural department of the Texas chamber of commerce before the last board meeting of that organization held in Dallas a few days ago.

"Business men and economists may preach themselves blue in the face, and your urban dwellers may literally flood this state with 'back to the farm' slogans," said Mr. Peteet, "but the alarming movement of the population from the country to the city will not stop until the farmer is convinced that he can earn as much money and live with as much comfort in the country as in the city."

Mr. Peteet explained that the state chamber of commerce is not "telling the farmer how to raise more corn and cotton and other crops." That it is carefully avoiding duplication of the work of the various farmers' organizations and colleges and departments of agriculture. "The state chamber of commerce is working with the business men of Texas," he declared, "and is asking that the wall between city and country be torn down and the farmer treated as a brother business man."

Declaring that the "abandoned farm has arrived in Texas," the speaker gave some startling figures upon crop production. He said:

"After very careful study and analysis of agricultural production of food and clothing in the United States, it is the deliberate judgment of the board of directors of this organization that the American people are facing an agricultural economic condition which, if not dealt with immediately and wisely in co-operation by the business men, will lead to consequences so grave as to affect all industry to the point of actually imperiling the social order.

"Agriculture is the great foundation on which the superstructure of industrialism is built, but it has been steadily declining for more than two decades until now there is an alarming exodus from the farm, which has overbuilt the urban centers, lessening the number of agricultural producers and increasing the nonproducing consumer to a point where it is our belief that the supply of food and clothing cannot be maintained.

"The United States department of agriculture estimates the farm labor shortage at 25 per cent below normal, which has resulted in a curtailment of the acreage in cultivation in the entire United States.

"Careful estimates show that Texas will cultivate this year from 15 to 20 per cent less acreage than it did last year.

"It is estimated that the wheat crop of the entire United States will be practically 33-1-3 per cent below that of 1919.

"With an acreage production of 15 to 20 per cent and a shortage of farm labor of at least 25 per cent, it can be estimated that agricultural production in Texas in 1920 will be fully one-third less than in 1919. Stating this in dollars it will mean a loss in the earning power of Texas of more than $375,000,000 or nearly twice the value of oil production in Texas for 1919.

"But this means more than money value—it means a decrease in the supply of the necessities of life and an increase in their cost.

"Stated briefly, agricultural production has not kept pace with urban population and demand for foodstuffs and clothing for the reason that this industry has not yielded a return upon the labor and capital invested and the comforts and conveniences of living comparable with that of urban industries.

"There is no gainsaying the fact that the only way to stop the exodus from the farm and bring agricultural production up to the point to meet the demand is to make agriculture more profitable and living conditions in the country more comfortable and attractive. The business men of the urban centers cannot expect the farmer to immortalize himself on the farm in order that the urban population may have simple and cheap food and clothing.

"Three main considerations are necessary as a foundation on which to build agricultural production; namely, more adequate credit, a ready and standardized market for everything a farm produces and an efficient labor saving and convenient equipment of the farm and the farm home.

"We wish to declare that a solemn duty rests upon business men of the urban centers to share the responsibility with the farmer in agricultural production and distribution, that the business of agriculture may be made a profitable and attractive one.

"The agricultural department of the Texas chamber of commerce is now working out plans whereby the business men can function with the farmer in agriculture and we earnestly call upon the business men of this state to cooperate with us in the perfecting of these plans in order that agricultural production, the line of least resistance in Texas, may be brought to a high state of perfection and that our industrial superstructure may persist.

"We urge the financial interests, as represented by the Federal Reserve bank, to make full use of all its broad powers to direct credit into the channels of production, where it can best serve the industry upon which the well-being of the whole people depends."

FOARD COUNTY RAPIDLY COMPLETING HIGHWAY

CROWELL, Tex., June 5.—Foard county is rapidly completing the western half of the state highway running from Farwell to Fort Worth and will complete the eastern half before the year ends.

The new highway to the western boundary of the county is now one of the finest stretches of roadway in this section of the state. Foard county is ready to co-operate with Knox county in building a steel bridge over the North Wichita river, which is at many seasons of the year unfordable.

Each county will bear one-quarter of the expense and the state the remainder, it was said. The county is also eager to have a bridge built across the treacherous Pease river, north of the city, and needs the cooperation of Hardeman county.

Blow at Dual Citizenship.

HONOLULU, T. The proposed constitution provides that any American citizen of Japanese parentage over the age of 16 may join the society after he has signed the pledge declaring his wholehearted allegiance to the United States.

The wheat harvest is about on and hundreds of new people are coming to this territory.

A geological survey of the entire county will soon be made for the Foard County chamber of commerce to determine the likelihood of oil in the county. If the survey is favorable, strong efforts will be made to have a number of deep tests for oil put down in the near future. The Sigler well is not far from the eastern boundary of the county.

Hoosier Athletes Are Expected to Show Up In Western Conference

INDIANAPOLIS, June 5.—Although they will not have the best developed teams they ever prepared for a championship event, athletes representing Indiana and Purdue Universities are expected by their followers to give good accounts of themselves in the Western Conference Track and Field games at Ann Arbor, Mich., June 4-5.

Indiana will show its greatest strength in the field events. Kealing, who took second place in the broad jump at the conference games last year is reported in splendid condition. Pierce has showed fine form in the discus throw and recently broke the Indiana record. Russell Williams, a shot putter and Heber Williams, a dash man and javelin thrower, also are expected to make a showing. Habbe, quarter, and half-mile, is Indiana's best entry in the track events.

R. F. Miller, who recently broke his own conference record for the javelin throw, is the star of the Purdue team. A short time ago he established a mark of 184 feet 7 inches in a dual meet with Northwestern University. Captain P. E. Reed, dash man, is expected to be a real competitor in the speed events. He recently broke the Purdue record in the 220 yard dash, covering the distance in 23.1-5 seconds. C. C. Furnas, another barrier is counted on to make points in the mile run. He set a new university mark a short time ago when he negotiated the distance in 4 minutes 25.1-5 seconds.

MOUNTED SILVER SHIELD FOR ARMY AND NAVY OF U. S.

LONDON, June 5.—In the windows of the European office of the Canadian Pacific railway, Charing Cross, is displayed a handsome mounted silver shield to be presented to the Army and Navy of the United States of America by the Imperial Service Boxing association.

Emblazoned around the shield is the American Eagle, the stars and stripes, and the arms of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and the overseas dominions.

Designed by Harold Stabler, the trophy, which will be dispatched to the United States in the course of a few days, is inscribed:

"To the Army and Navy of the United States of America from the Forces of the British Empire, 1919, this trophy is given in admiration of the sporting spirit in which the Americans entered and fought in the Boxing Tournament, London, December, 1918."

The Judia Theatre will close Monday, June 7, and remain closed for one week, opening again Sunday, June 13, according to an announcement made by E. J. Lewis, new manager of this popular playhouse. Several changes are to be made to the interior and exterior of the theatre building including the installation of new seats, a new organ, lighting effects, etc. When reopened Mr. Lewis states it will be one of the finest theatres in this section of the state.

The programs also will be changed and only high-class, first-run pictures will be shown, the opening bill for Sunday and Monday, June 13 and 14, being Anita Stewart in "The Yellow Typhoon," the latest release of the First National company, and reported to be one of the biggest and best pictures of this season. For laughs, a Chaplin comedy will be shown.

Hessian Fly in Kansas.

EMPORIA, Kan., June 5.—The Hessian fly has made its appearance in a number of wheat fields in Lyon county, in some instances having destroyed 50 per cent of the crop, according to E. G. Kelly, of the state agricultural college, who inspected the fields here. He advised the farmers that the surest way of destroying the pest was by plowing soon after harvest.
