Ranger Clubwomen have voiced objections to the $5 fee assessed by City Commission to groups meeting in the Community Clubhouse. Commissioners were told in no uncertain terms that members of the 1920 club in the 1940's had raised about three-fourths of the money to build and furnish the building. In appreciation for their effort, one room was given to the 1920 Club for their exclusive use. Commissioners were told. Mayor Raymond Hart explained that utilities and upkeep of the building was costly. Commissioner Steve Scholing told the women "We are in financial straits." A club member replied "We have been for 40 years." All eventually agreed to pay the fee "If everybody else does."

Two Ranger residents, Polly Alexander and Tom Page, have roles in "The Messiah", which will be presented in the Clyde Wells Fine Arts Center on the campus of Tarleton State University Saturday, Dec. 7. The performance will begin at 7:30 p.m., and tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens. "The Messiah" will feature the voices of the Cross Timbers Civic Chorale and four guest soloists. The Chorale, as always, includes volunteer singers from across an eight county region.

GORMAN

The Sunbelt Santa Project

is underway again this year. Beginning this week through Dec. 19 employee volunteers from Sunbelt Savings offices will be accepting and collecting new toy donations. On Dec. 14 Sunbelt Santas will begin delivering these gifts to local homes or organizations for children who might not have presents on Christmas day. Anyone can become a Sunbelt Santa by bringing an unwrapped gift to a Savings Office. Sunbelt in Gorman is located on Highway 6 on the west side of town.

BAIRD

Anyone traveling through Baird is sure to notice the beautiful posters displayed around town, telling of Baird's First Annual Parade of Homes. This will be held on Dec. 7, and a number of homes will be included. The posters were made by Mrs. Dick Vestall's Fourth Grade Class and one Sixth Grader. Dick and JoAnn Vestal's home at 600 E. 9th, will be the starting point for the parade. There at 5:30 p.m. you may purchase tickets and receive a map of the route. All proceeds will go to benefit the Depot Restaurant Fund.

10 reasons why you should maintain and increase your newspaper advertising when business is slow.

- Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage at the very moment when you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.
- In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want to be sure before they buy, they want information about products, services, prices and values. Yours—or somebody else's.
- Maybe you figure other retailers in your line are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you, too. Right? Wrong. You're in competition for the customer's dollar with every other retailer in town. No matter what he or she sells. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell they'll spend them for something else.
- There are more people working now than ever before. More women working, too, adding to family income. People still need and want goods and services and will spend for them. There is plenty of business out there. Your competitors will be bidding for their share—and yours.
- You can't do much about most factors in the marketplace: rent, labor costs, price of merchandise, what the competition will do. But one thing you do control is your own promotion. Remember that newspaper advertising is not just a cost of doing business. It's a proven sales tool that returns many times your investment in store traffic and sales.
- Remember how long it took you to get started? Once you build up a business, you can keep it going with a moderate, consistent advertising program. But if you cut your advertising and lose your hold on the public's awareness, you'll find it's much harder to build it up again. It's sort of like starting all over.
- Your advertising is part of your sales force. Newspaper ads help to pre-sell the customers and help you close the sale faster. What saves you time saves you money.
- You say your customers know you and for a while at least they'll keep coming in even if you don't promote? That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one out of five Americans moves every year. So there's a steady flow of your customers out of your market, and a corresponding influx of new folks who don't know you at all. Tell them about yourself!
- Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a business that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.
- Advertising is "news"—about products and services. Your customers look for this kind of news in the pages of the Daily Courier. In push times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the daily newspaper because it provides an immediate payoff at the cash register.

HOUSE PLANTS

Since we have moved our plants inside to protect them from the winters cold temperature I am devoting this column to house plants, including information on the three most popular ones. Generally speaking, most house plants are killed by too much T.L.C. (tender loving care). Usually house plants are killed by over watering and NOT under watering. Let's first look at the rubber plant. The correct name for the rubber plant is Ficus Elastica and it is a member of the Moraceae family. It is a native to Southeast Asia and the Maloy Archipelago regions where it grows to a height of 65 to 80 feet. It likes half-shaded and warm places. During the summer, it requires a great deal of water and can be kept outside during this time. During the winter it likes to be 59 to 64 degrees.

Another of the more popular house plants is the Sansevieria or Snake Plant as it is better known. Its correct name is Sanssevieria Trifasciata and is a member of the Liliaceae family. The Sansevieria is a native to East Africa and is a robust plant. It is a warm-loving plant and should be kept in a sunny or light shaded location. In no instance should it be kept too wet. Dry summer type air suits it very well. When kept in a cool place, it should be watered even less often than usual. As a pot plant, the Sansevieria may grow to a height of three to four feet.

Now lets look at the Split Leaf Philodendron. This plant is a native to Brazil and is one of the most popular of all house plants today. The Philodendron can have enormous leaves reaching two feet across and three feet long. It likes medium to high light near a bright east or south window and prefers a temperature of 65 to 85 degrees. Allow the surface of the potting mixture to dry out between watering and fertilize every two months with a water soluble fertilizer. This plant likes humidity of 25 percent or more. This is a very spreading plant and can be trained to grown on a totem of wires by tying it.

Remember do not over water your plants while they are in the house this winter and feed them not only with fertilizer but also with the proper amount of light.

So long until next week from your "Garden Editor," Ted Brice!!!!!!

Plans For Construction In Eastland Available Monday

Plans and specifications for the construction work at Siebert Elementary School will be available at Superintendent Ray Pruitt's office beginning Monday, Dec. 9.

Bids will be accepted until 2 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 19. Written bids should be sent to the attention of Burnett Hunt, Director of Construction. Telephone bids will only be taken from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. Dec. 19.

The construction project was approved by the school board at their regular meeting Nov. 11, and plans call for 13 additional classrooms at Siebert, plus a science lab at Eastland Junior High, and new aluminum seats at Maverick Stadium.

Area contractors and sub-contractors are invited to bid on this project.

Social Security Checks Now Have New Look

Social Security checks will have a new look on December 3, Glyn Hammons, manager of Abilene Social Security office said today.

The familiar green punched-card checks that Social Security beneficiaries have been receiving since 1940 will be replaced with a new, more counterfeit-resistant cost-effective paper check.

The U.S. Department of Treasury's Financial Management Service, the government's financial manager, began planning the paper check conversion project in the late 1970's because of new technology and the need to conform to generally accepted banking practices. Taxpayers will save $6 million per year in costs of paper stock and storage space.

The new check is also more difficult to alter or counterfeit. More than a dozen security features—three times more than the old check—are contained in the design, the ink and the paper.

The design features a full-length reproduction of the Statue of Liberty on the left and a muted close-up of the Statue's head and torch on the right over a multicolored background ranging from light blue to pale peach. The letters "USA" create a background pattern on the front and back of the check.

Supplemental Security Income beneficiaries will continue to receive the gold-colored punch-card checks, Hammons said. The conversion process to the checks will not affect them until April 1.

CAPITOL UPDATE

As of this point you have probably heard all you want to hear about "no pass, no play" but, as is often the case with a politician, I feel compelled to make at least one more statement concerning that issue.

As I have observed the continuing and escalating controversy, with Mark White being the leader on one side and the Texas Coaches Association appearing to be the leader on the other side, it has come to my attention we may be asking the wrong question. The question has been up to this point, "Why can't the child play?" I think the question we had better ask is "Why can't the child pass?"

Recent data indicates that as many as 50% of Texas high school students are failing one or more courses. Now, I submit to you that if 50% of a doctor's patients died, someone would immediately begin to question the type of medicine that was being practiced. It looks like we may be blaming the victims, and penalizing them, when they may not be at fault.

I am starting with the assumption that our schools are intended to help all children become all they are capable of becoming. Some children will, of course, achieve brilliant academic success and others will not. Does that mean the children who do not achieve outstanding academic success are failures? I think it does not. I think it simply means some children are better at "book learning" than others.

We, as a state and a society, are spending billions of dollars on our state educational system with increasingly dismal results. I suspect we will see some short term improvement in test scores but we will see about 10-20% of our students pushed out of the school system. That is not what we want. That is not what we need. That would be one of the most disastrous consequences that could conceivably come from our educational reform.

The problem simply cannot be that we are not spending enough money, that we do not have a sufficient number of quality teachers, or that kids are any less intelligent than previous generations. The problem is that we are attempting to design a very beautiful system (and it is beautiful on paper) that applies to all of our 1,089 school districts from the "top down." By "top down" I mean the Legislature, the Texas Education Agency and the school district. The mistake we are making is not approaching the problem from the "bottom up."

What difference could it possibly make how any individual school district educates its children so long as it meets minimum standards of education? We are so hung up on regimenting districts and the structure of the "pecking order" that we are completely overlooking the intent of the school system. We have beautifully orchestrated lesson plans, mounds of pages of TEA guidelines, and truck loads of organizational directives but we are still turning out uneducated children.

I am not so naive as to think I can do it single-handedly and possible it cannot be done at all, but if we want education to succeed and if we want educated children, we must go back to a system of allowing local control of education until such time as local control has demonstrated its inability to perform its function. It should not be a great shock to anyone that the decline of education of our children has run directly parallel to the increased level of interference with local control of education by the state and federal governments.

The solution is no great mystery, the mystery is how do we arrive at a solution, meaning "we, the people."

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PASTOR
BREAM BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60632

WHO'S TO BLAME?

This writer was a bit irked when he read the following paragraph in one of our leading Chicago newspapers: "Professional thieves and joyride-happy teenagers are not to blame for most auto thefts. It's true that they are the ones who do the stealing—but the careless motorist must bear the blame... When not in use, cars should be locked."

Just think this through: More than one million cars stolen throughout the nation each year! But those who steal them should not be blamed—the owner should be blamed for not making it IMPOSSIBLE for the thief to steal his car!

Man has always been quick to shift the blame from himself. Adam said to God: "It's not my fault; it's that woman you gave me." Eve said "Don't blame me. The serpent deceived me," and ever since that time the descendants of the first couple have been adept at shifting the blame.

But now it's getting so that the courts defend and protect the criminals and even blame the innocent for not making it impossible for the criminal to act! It is a shame that we have to lock our cars against possible theft—and it is a stigma on our society. Some judges don't see it that way, but God does. Read Romans 2:2:

"But we are sure that the judgment of God is according to truth against those who commit such things."

We may all be grateful, though, that it was the very justice—as well as the love—of God, that caused Him to take on Himself human form and pay for our sins at Calvary. God cannot overlook sin, yet He loves the sinner. This is why He paid for all our sins at Calvary, and this, too, is why we may now be "justified freely by His grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus" (Rom. 3:24).

"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved [from your sins]" (Acts 16:31; I Cor. 15:3; Rom. 6:1,2).

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

A preacher said to a young man, "The last time I saw you, you made me very happy because you were sober. But today you make me very unhappy because you are drunk."

"Yes, sir," he answered. "But today's my turn to be happy."

You can get a thrill from sin, but after a while you lose the thrill and you will become ill.

You can get a kick out of sin, but after a season you will get a kickback.

Every sin has its pleasures, but it also has its pains. Every transgression has its thrills, but it also has its torments.

Whatever is good is good for you. But whatever is bad is bad for you. God is the Good One. He wants your good, and nothing but your good.

It is as you come to Him that He will give you happiness with no hang-over, fun with no fear, and bliss with no blight.

The wise man said, "The good man walks along in the ever-brightening light of God's favor; the dawn gives way to morning splendor, while the evil man gropes and stumbles in the dark."

Spotlights and Sidelights

by Julia Worthy

GIFTS...CONTINUED...
 Among the gifts, Christmas or otherwise, from which you might get double pleasure, is an unusual strand for tree decoration.
 Raid your jewelry box for beads you no longer wear but you haven't parted with because of sentiment or they're still "too good" for a garage sale item.
 Cut the string and dump the beads from each necklace into its own clear PLASTIC CUP.
 Thread a small needle. A beading needle would be best, but they are difficult to persuade to carry very heavy thread. This is going to be pretty enough to keep, so you may as well make sure it lasts by using sturdy thread. The invisible stuff that comes on bobbins will usually be small enough for the eye of the beading needle.
 Working with no more than four feet of thread (doubles to a two-foot length), mix your beads to suit your fancy. The object is to have a tree decoration more meaningful and more durable than the fragile glass beads that used to come from Czechoslovakia but are now labeled "Made in Taiwan."
 Join several of the two-foot lengths of strung beads to make your rope for your tree. Shorter lengths do not tangle as much.
 Warning Note: This beading project is not one to work on the presence of small children or other inquisitive pets.
 Candles are always pretty gifts. If you're in a pinch for time, buy plain candles 2 1/2" in diameter (or larger) and decorate for Christmas with cutouts. Too, with the current fad for stickers, a personalized candle is possible in short order.
 A more time-taking, but more in the treasure class, is a combination of new and used material.
 Clear glass tumblers of any size, old Christmas and/or birthday cards, remains of once-burned candles, a glue that dries clear, sharp scissors, and a means of melting your wax. You're in business!

 Trim your pictures from the cards to fit inside the squeaky clean tumbler you are using. Brush a thin film of glue on the picture face, place your cut-out inside the glass facing out. Use two or three pictures if they are small—only one, if large. Set aside for the glue to dry while you melt your wax.
 Wax NEVER should be melted over direct heat because of the danger of fire. If you don't have a double boiler, use a make-shift. If you are going to work with several colors, use clean cans so you can throw away instead of clean up.
 While your wax is melting pick a left-over candle no more than three-fourths inches in diameter for a glass of three to four inches in diameter. Trim the wick and was until about half an inch of wick shows. Put aside but be sure you can reach it easily.
 When wax is melted, pour about half a cup of it into your prepared tumbler and swirl it around inside until all of your pictures have a wax backing. You may use more wax as needed, but experiment to find out how long the hot wax remains liquid enough to spread—and to find out how fast you work. Build up the inside wax until you have at least a third of an inch coating your cutouts.

 Pour wax to half an inch depth in your tumbler. Place your trimmed candle in the center of your glass. You may need to do some more trimming as the top of the candle should not reach more than half the depth of the glass. When it is lighted, it shows your cutouts in a soft, flickering light that is very pretty, especially when the rest of the lights are off and you're toasting marshmallows—or yourself.
 Do not fill the glass with more than half inch of wax—no matter if it will make sure the candle stays where you put it. Candles must have air to burn, so give them a chance.
 Have a good time, but do remember: NO DIRECT HEAT.
 Safety first!

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Is Texas approaching a budget crunch worse than the deficit narrowly avoided last session by the Legislature?

Deficits seem to be the way of the world these days; even the Vatican has a $50 million deficit and wants the faithful to up their donations.
 But Texas taxpayers don't like the idea of hiking their dues, and even though a $456 million windfall from the fed's revenues is a state income tax, and don't mistake that to mean he supports one. He does not.

Look for new taxes to be a fundamental campaign '86 issue, along with the governor's credibility on tax stands.
Money Squabbles
 The money's not even in Texas banks yet, and already top officials are privately squabbling over how to spend it.
 Some argue it constitutionally belongs in the Permanent School Fund, while others say the Legislature should spend as it sees fit. The governor wants all of it to go to education, as well he might since his tax reforms are pushing up the cost of public education and adding to the expected deficit, but how?

Bullock, who has the job of depositing the money when it arrives, has asked Attorney General Jim Mattox to rule where it belongs.

No-Pass, No-Play
 The class-action trial to determine whether the controversial no-pass, no-play reform is kosher was postponed last week to let a special master gather statewide stats on its effect.

 Meanwhile, a recent statewide poll indicated Texans overwhelmingly support the reform by 70 percent. However, a similar questioning found that only about 35 percent approve of Gov. Mark White's performance, even though he championed the reform. That discrepancy is liable to be picked apart and studied by politicians for months to come.

Veterans Saved
 When the Reagan Administration unveiled its plan to scrap the Texas Veterans Loan Program next year, Land Commissioner Garry Mauro called on the Texas delegation for support.

Last week he thanked them, particularly U.S. Rep. Jake Pickle, for probably saving the program by writing it into the House version of the tax bill.
 The Texas veterans program is the only one in the nation, a modern version of the Texas tradition of rewarding its veterans with land. The state now provides loans, not land, and the program will likely be continued.

GOP Switch
 The victory couldn't have come at a better time for Pickle, who learned the day before that popular former Austin mayor Carole Keeton Rylander switched to the GOP, probably to run against him.
 Rylander was appointed last year to the State Board of Insurance by Gov. White, who tried last week to talk her out of defecting. She will have to resign if she runs.
 Word has it that several more top White personnel will leave his service in the coming months. Last week the head of the Texas Department of Community Affairs, Rafael Quintinilla announced he will quit in January for private law practice.

Short Takes
 An interesting historical footnote came to light on JFK's assassination date: San Antonio Congressman Henry B. Gonzalez revealed he took photos of the dead president as he lay alone in a Dallas hospital. The camera with its unprocessed film was stolen from his car when he returned to San Antonio, and the record was lost.
 The federal census bureau indicated last week that the Midland-Odessa area leads the state with a 37.5 and 25.2 percent growth rate the first part of the '80s.
 Other Texas cities: Bryan, 25.4 percent; Austin, 20.1 percent; Laredo, 19.1 percent; McAllen, 19.0 percent; and Houston, 15.0 percent.

 U.S. House Majority Leader Jim Wright, who says he has enough votes to become speaker in 1987, raised over $1 million at two Fort Worth fund-raiser events.
 Comptroller Bob Bullock has urged Attorney General Jim Mattox to appeal a Lubbock court ruling declaring unconstitutional part of the increased court fees approved during the last legislative session.

DOGS DO NOT LOSE THEIR 'SCENT'
 FOR GAME BIRDS DURING THE INCUBATION SEASON
 The common belief among sportsmen that a dog loses his "scent" for birds during the season while birds are incubating, is based on sympathy for the birds, and a belief that they are so protected by nature. Tests show, however, that a dog has as good a scent for birds at this time as at any other time, and if there is any loss in ability to locate birds then, it is because the birds emit less odor, and it is thus harder for the dogs to get their scent.

2 Out of 3 Customers Believe Service Is The Same

Results of a nationwide survey of telephone customers track with Southwestern Bell Telephone's efforts to study customer attitudes in Texas.

A Gallup Poll done for the United States Telephone Association (USTA) showed two out of three residential telephone customers in the United States believe the overall quality of their local telephone service has remained about the same since the breakup of the Bell System nearly two years ago. Eighteen percent say their service has improved, while 14 percent say it is worse.

These nationwide results illustrate overall customer confidence in areas similar to Southwestern Bell Telephone's research involving customer attitudes, according to Jim Adams, president of the phone company's Texas Division.

"Every quarter, 1,350 Texas customers are surveyed to determine their perceptions of Southwestern Bell Telephone," Adams said. "We ask questions about the company's management, about the quality of service we provide, and the value of that service to the customer."

Adams said results of this research reveal that eight out of 10 Southwestern Bell customers rate the quality of transmission, dependability and selection of phone services as excellent or good.

According to the USTA, the Gallup study was the first objective, scientific, nationwide survey of residential phone customers since divestiture.

Other key comparisons of the Gallup Poll and Southwestern Bell Telephone's customer research show:

-Two thirds or more of all telephone customers say phone service compares favorably in value with other necessities, such as electricity, food and home heating fuel. Just under half think their monthly bill for local telephone service is inexpensive or about right. Meanwhile, eight out of 10 Southwestern Bell Telephone customers say they get their money's worth from local telephone service.

-Seven out of 10 respondents in the national survey believe that telephone company employees really care about helping their customers; three out of five say their local telephone company is well managed. Southwestern Bell's survey shows seven out of 10 customers say helpfulness of company employees is excellent and that the company's management is good.

"We're pleased that results of the Gallup-USTA survey reflect, on a national level, what we've known for some time in Texas—that customer attitudes and service are much better than some headlines and 'guesswork' assessments have indicated," Adams said. "Our measurements show that customer perceptions of service are now higher than they were before divestiture."

Last year Southwestern Bell launched an informational program called Tele-Help to help customers better understand the changes in the telecommunications business. "So far, we've given away some 10 million Tele-Help brochures,"

Adams said. "Our research indicates that customers participating in the Tele-Help program feel they have a much better understanding of how industry changes affect their service."

Southwestern Bell also helps support the Tele-Consumer Hotline—a toll free information service developed by the Consumer Federation of America and the Telecommunications Research and Action Center. Adams said the hotline has received about 4,400 calls from Southwestern Bell customers since March of this year.

THE PROFIT MAKERS

Advance Knowledge Of Local Markets Vital To Retailing

Successful merchants use advance information to increase sales through newspaper advertising. Such market study results as follows provide leads for conducting business:

- 79.4% of Texas consumers own their own homes—(Good prospects for advertising of furniture, house repair items, lawn care and a variety of services, etc.)
- 44.8% of household residents are 18 years or younger—(Good prospects to advertise youth items, clothing, outdoor and sports goods, etc.)
- 40.9% households earn $10,000 to $30,000 annually—(Allows merchants to determine products and prices in newspaper ads.)
- 72.9% shop out-of-town at least several times a year, spending tens of millions of locally earned dollars in non-local markets—(Such information reveals to local merchants a principal reason to compete more actively for local business.)

(Advance knowledge is the name of the game in doing business today, and in the future. Another prerequisite for business success is appropriate use of the local newspaper.)

THE MAN in the Red Suit dropped by to say that folks in Eastland County are doing such a good job of taking care of their Christmas plans so early in the local stores and shops that he has some extra time on his hands, and wondered if we might have something to keep him occupied until time for his Big Trip.

Well, he was fascinated with the Linotype Machine we have on display in the window of our pressroom. We invited him to be our guest.

So the next time you're passing our windows, take time to take a look in at Jolly Ole having a fling at the machine.

Library Receives Rare Collection Geneological

A treasure trove of hundreds of volumes of geneological material has been presented to Eastland's Centennial Memorial Library and is now in the process of being catalogued.

"This material is invaluable," Mrs. Truett Bean, library official stated, "and we know that any library in the nation would have welcomed it into their collection. We think the people of this area will benefit from having access to this important materia."

The Library is preparing an appropriate thank you.

Former residents Gene and Marie Boney, now of Fort Worth, selected the Eastland library as recipient for the valuable material which they have assembled over the years.

Mr. Boney is a Texas Electric Service Co., employee and Mrs. Boney is a Journalism teacher in the Fort Worth area. When the family living in Eastland, Mrs. Boney was a writer for the Eastland Telegram.

The hundreds of volumes are being grouped and catalogued and will be stocked for convenience for those persons interested in doing geneological research, Mrs. Bean said.

The collection includes maps, rare books, search-helpers and periodicals of interest to those tracing their family histories.

adding, we ran across a piece of copy by the late Vern Sanford, writer for Texas Press, dated May, 1971, for his Highlights and Sidelights from your State Capital. That's the copy on Santa's keyboard and we thought you might like to reflect back on what we were reading, worrying and thinking about in that year:

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL

By-Vern Sanford

Texas Press Association AUSTIN.—Tax bill action switched back to the House this week after Senate passage of a $622.3 million revenue measure.

Senate passed its version of the tax bill 22-9 after rejecting six separate attempts to insert a corporation profits levy by narrow (usually 16-15) margins and six other amendments. Only amendment of substance attached in floor debate was a half-cent-a-gallon increase in diesel fuel levy to make it the same as the gasoline tax.

Here is what the bill (HB 730) now calls for and its estimated biennial yield:

- *Increase sales tax rate from 3.25 to four per cent, $288.5 million.
- *Increase motor vehicle sales tax to four per cent and bring auto rentals under levy, $79.4 million
- *Raise corporation franchise tax from $3.25 per $1,000 to $4.50, $102.6 million over three year period.
- *Increase cigarette tax three cents a pack to 18.5 cents, highest figure in the nation, with one cent dedicated to park development, $46.7 million.
- *Raise the gasoline tax from five to seven cents gallon, $102.1 million.
- *Increase beer tax from $4.30 to $6 a barrel, $28.8 million.
- *Increase diesel fuel tax one half cent, to seven cents a gallon, $4 million.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher took an early dim view of the gasoline tax in particular, and a conference committee was expected to adjust differences.

Stripped from the House bill were taxes on hotel rooms, stock transactions, jet fuel, admissions and entertainment and sand, gravel and shell. Senate also more than doubled the House version of the franchise tax. And that's the way it was in '71.

Retired Teacher Assoc. To Have Luncheon

The Eastland County Retired Teachers Association will have a luncheon meeting at 12:30 p.m. Monday, December 9, at the Restaurant at Best Western Inn, Interstate 20 East, in Eastland.

Since this is December, a program with a Christmas theme will follow a short business meeting.

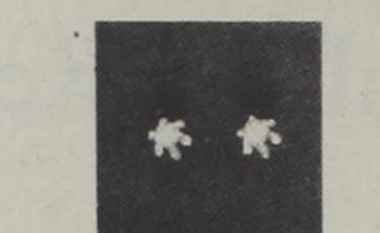

If you have not yet joined the group, there is no better time than now to come and join the Eastland County unit of the Texas Retired Teachers Association.

If the engine floods, it doesn't help to keep pumping the accelerator. Press the pedal to the floor and crank the engine a few times. Then turn it off and wait at least 3 minutes before trying again.

"Permanent" antifreeze isn't really permanent. After a couple of years, the protective additives lose potency; rust and corrosion become a problem. Flush system and replace coolant every two years.

If your car breaks down in a hazardous location, it's smart to get everyone out and away from danger. Put the car in PARK and engage the emergency brake. Light flares behind the car, and activate the flashers.

Keep cool. Check the condenser coils of your car air conditioner for dirt, dead insects, and leaves. Accumulating, they can reduce cooling power.

Reward For Coat Pays For Ring

Mrs. Ed Farrow of Dallas had her 34th wedding anniversary present (a $10,000 mink coat) back and Janey Linebarger of Cisco had a new wedding ring Monday as the result of a stolen travel bag incident in Cisco Wednesday, Nov. 27.

The stolen bag, which Mr. Farrow inadvertently left on top of their car parked near the White Elephant Restaurant, contained the fur coat plus several other items of clothing.

The bag was found late that same day besides the travel trailer park near the I-20 access road near the Cisco by Mr. and Mrs. Linebarger. They opened the unlocked bag to find the coat and clothing.

The Linebargers called Cisco police and Officer Risa

Livingston told them that a bag had been reported missing by the Dallas couple and that they were offering a $500 reward for return of the coat. The Linebargers took the bag and its contents to Officer Livingston at the police station. She called the Farrow's, who were visiting her ill mother in San Angelo.

Mr. Farrow came to Cisco on Friday and identified the bag and its contents. And he left the reward money for the Linebargers. Police Sergeant Larry Jernigan assisted with the case.

Janey Linebarger told the Press that she tried on the coat "and it was a perfect fit." She added that keeping it didn't cross her mind. "I knew that it was valuable and that somebody would be looking for it."

Mrs. Linebarger works in the office at Guthrie Truck Harbor and her husband is a local welder.

What would they do with the $500? "We've already done it—we bought me a beautiful new wedding ring," she told The Press.

Mr. Farrow, an official of American Development Company in Dallas, told local police that he had bought the coat recently for his wife on their 34th wedding anniversary. "She was ecstatic to get the coat back," he told the local officers.

Mr. Farrow told police that when they stopped at the restaurant last Wednesday his wife wanted a smaller bag from the car. He placed the larger bag on top of the car while he got the smaller bag and neglected to return the bag with the coat to the locked car. It was missing when they returned from the restaurant and he recalled leaving it on top of the car. They called police and reported the incident and went on to San Angelo where Mrs. Farrow's mother was in the hospital.

Collision Report

A 1984 model Ford pickup and a 1973 model Olds Cutlass were in collision in the Joe Green Circle area of College Hill at Cisco Junior College at 7:45 a.m. Monday, according to a report by Police Chief Billy Rains.

The pickup, which was damaged, was being driven by Mrs. Sandra Crocker of Moran. Driving the Olds was Jerry D. Bailey of Cisco. There were no injuries, the report showed.

Investigation In Theft Held

The Cisco Police Department is investigating the theft of a television set from the home of Tom Smith, 903 East 10th Street, according to a report by Chief Billy Rains Tuesday. The house was burglarized between Nov. 26th and Dec. 1, the chief said.

Remind Your Crew to Play it Safe Around Electricity.

Don't leave lights unattended.

Never leave your Christmas tree lights or outdoor decorative lights unattended. Be sure to unplug them when you go to bed or leave the house. Another wise safety precaution is to check all outdoor and tree lights BEFORE you decorate. Discard strands with frayed wiring and replace burned out bulbs.

Never overload circuits.

Avoid overloading electrical wiring by using more than one circuit for your Christmas tree lights. Use heavy-duty extension cords to run to other circuits.

Avoid hanging ornaments on lights.

Make sure paper ornaments and tinsel do not touch light bulbs. Also, never adjust outdoor or tree lights while they are turned on or connected to a power circuit.

Always use a wooden ladder or a metal one with rubber-tipped legs when installing outdoor lights. Be sure to stand on a dry surface.

Look for the U.L. seal of approval.

Only buy lights that have been checked for safety. The Underwriter's Laboratory's seal of approval is your guarantee that lights and wiring have been properly safety checked.

AN AD IN The Press last Nov. 28th shows a handsome boy with the words: "Happy 40th, Love, Mary." After a bit of detective work, we can report that the ad was to wish a happy 40th birthday to Joe Torres from his good wife Mary.

The picture was made of Joe when he was a grade school student here at about age eight. After finishing high school in Cisco, Joe went on to college and eventually settled in Dallas where he works for Gulf Broadcasting in their finance department.

Joe's wife Mary had the help of Mary's sister, Helen Gaeta, of the Cisco CoFC staff in getting the ad printed. The Joe Torreses were in Cisco visiting relatives during Thanksgiving weekend. Joe and Mary have three daughters, ages 18, 15 and 11. And our scout report that Joe has an interesting life with four ladies at his home and that he is sometimes out-voted. The Press goes regularly to the Torres home in Big D.

THE MART Agnews of our town recently enjoyed a visit out Arizona way with their daughter Pat and husband Don Kincaid. While there, they met their first great grandchild who was born to one of the Kincaid daughters... Mrs. Betty Alford cooked turkey for her daughter and family of Fort Worth here last Thursday... The Eddie Hayeses of Fort Worth were Thanksgiving visitors in the home of the Marshall Joneses.

THE PAUL Brashears and the Ralph Glenns spent Thanksgiving out at Colorado City... Kay and Mike Morris and daughter Christy of Fort Worth visited their parents, the Derward Morrises and Mrs. Forbes Wallace, in Cisco last weekend... Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Fleming and son visited their daughter and husband in Rankin on Thanksgiving... Steve Bailey of Austin ate Thanksgiving dinner at the home of his grandparents, the W.E. (Dizzy) Deans, in Cisco. The Deans, by the way, will be observing their 60th wedding anniversary in mid-January.

MR. AND MRS. Bill Smith and daughter of Las Cruces were Thanksgiving weekend visitors in the home of his parents, the Wesley Smiths. Bill works as an engineer for the NASA folks at the big missile range in New Mexico... The E.L. Jacksons of Cisco and their daughter Dorothy Ryan of Marfa went to Garland for a holiday weekend visit in the home of their son and brother, Ed Jackson... Miss Mary McGrew spent the weekend at home with her parents, the Lloyd McGrews, and sister DD. Understand Mary will be a member of the December graduating class at the San Marcos university and hopes to begin a teaching career soon thereafter.

IF YOU THOUGHT it was cold early Monday, you weren't mistaken. According to weather men on area TV stations and the newspapers, the cold weather Monday set a new low for this time of year. The official low at Abilene was 17 degrees and at Fort Worth it was 19 degrees. We heard folks say they saw local readings as low as 12 degrees. According to records, the lowest area temperature for this time of year was 23 degrees set a good many years ago.

SEE BY THE papers that two Cisco hunters, Ricky Hudson and Louis E. White, found the skeletal remains of an Austin man while hunting some 15 miles from Stephenville last weekend. The skeleton was the remains of a 59-year old Austin man who had been missing for several months... The Bill Collines' holiday visitors included their daughter Charlotte and family who live out west... Cindy Renne, who entered the recent Turkey Walk, collected a total of $200.50 and she did win the ice cream freezer. There's a story about it all elsewhere.

HOLIDAY GUESTS at the Thanksgiving dinner table at the Bill Reynolds home included their daughter and husband, Meg and Woody Cravens, of Childress and Bryan and Linda Reynolds of Abilene... Ken and Martha Brown and two children of Abilene were weekend visitors in the home of the J.B. Sittons... See by the papers that triskaidekaphobia is defined as fear of the figure 13.

LIONS CLUB program chairmen for December were listed as follows: Dec. 4, Garl Gorr; Dec. 11, Ivan Webb; Dec. 18, Jerry McBeth; and Dec. 25, no meeting... The December calendar of events for Cisco Junior College students included a Christmas dance at the student center at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 3. A history club meeting was on the schedule for 10 a.m. Wednesday. There will be a Madrigal Dinner at the Roof Garden Theater at 7 p.m. Thursday and Friday and the annual CJC basketball classic for high school basketball teams will be held Thursday through Saturday.

POLICE CHIEF Billy Rains, who is an enthusiastic deer hunter, hasn't got a shot yet although he has been out hunting several times. Last weekend, he saw deer twice, he reports... The Rust Processing Center's deer department logged in some 35 game animals during the Thanksgiving weekend. This brought the total for the season to more than 100. Allen Senterfitt of Cisco brought in a 10-pointer that was a very nice animal... Nice wild hogs were brought in by Tim Norvell and Ricky Hester... Gay Rains was a successful lady deer hunter with a nice buck... And Dennis Campbell bagged a nine-point buck.

A NOTE IN the Sunday bulletin of First Baptist Church reports that their oldest member is Mr. Frank Coats, retired Cisco mail carrier, who will be 96 years old Dec. 7th. A birthday card address to him in care of Bessie Rae Wilson, RR 2 Box 207, Mineola, Texas 75773 will reach him... The Melvin Wende family enjoyed a turkey dinner last Thursday courtesy of their son, Larry, 9. He went hunting with his dad and shot a turkey - his first game bird!

DIXIE CROSBY, owner of Kid's Kountry, 711 Conrad Hilton, Cisco, reports that Santa Claus will be at her store Saturday, Dec. 7, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Local children may go by the store and have their picture made with Santa during those hours.
