THOUSANDS GREET GOVERNOR COX AS HE MAKES ADDRESS IN ACCEPTING THE NOMINATION

skyline of the setting sun, looking back ward, at the old days of reaction." A graceful tribute to President Wilson was paid by Governor Cox, when, scoring the republican platform for absence of "a line that breathes emotion of pride" in the nation's war achievements, he said that while soldiers fell in the trenches, Mr. Wilson "was broken in the enormous labor of his office."

The republican proposal for a separate peace, Governor Cox declared, would be "the most disheartening event in civilization since the Russians made their separate peace with Germany." Citing difficulties in the plan, Governor Cox said that if accomplished, "no nation in good standing would have anything to do with either of us."

"This plan would not only be a piece of bungling diplomacy, but plain, undiluted dishonesty, as well," he said, inveighing against any scheme without associated powers.

"This act would either be regarded as arrant madness or attempted international bossism," he added.

Discussing domestic questions, Governor Cox denounced profiteering at length and promised that profiteers should "suffer the penalty of the criminal law."

Fair returns for both capital and labor were advocated, the nominee also approving development of both "into large units" without injury to the public interest. Collective bargaining by labor through its own representatives was approved by the governor, who added:

"We should not by law abridge a man's right either to labor or quit his employment. However, neither labor nor capital should take action that would put in jeopardy the public welfare."

"We need a definite and precise statement of policy as to what business men and workmen may do by way of combination and collective action. The law is now so nebulous that it almost turns upon the predilections of the judge or jury. The rules of business should be made more certain so that on a stable basis men may move in confidence."

Disputes between capital and labor are inevitable, Governor Cox said, and public opinion settles prolonged strikes.

Declaring that "public opinion should determine in America," he said the government should occupy an impartial position, protest lives and property and, possibly at times, inquire into facts of a tie-up.

"But facts and not conclusions," he said "should be submitted."

Agricultural subjects formed another extensive feature of the candidate's speech, many expedients for agricultural development being advocated, including reduction of tenantry, increased production, co-operative selling as well as purchasing by farmers, establishment of municipal markets and "modern state rural school codes," and increased acreage by irrigation development. He also declared for government regulation of cold storage and a time limit on storage products.

Advocating more home owners, Governor Cox declared that the nation owes a debt to those who died and their dependents and to the wounded, who should be trained and rehabilitated. Also, he said, "we must realize that considerable compensation is due those * * * who lost much by the break in their material hopes and aspirations."

The Mexican situation, the governor stated, has been "trying our patience for years," but now begins to show signs of improvement.

"Not the least of the things that have contributed to it," he continued, "is a realization by the people of that country that we have neither lust for their domain, nor disposition to disturb their sovereign rights."

On the railroad question, Gov. Cox advocated giving "a thorough test to private ownership" under government regulation, the latter now being accepted, he said. Financial credit for the roads, he stated, should be provided. Discrediting of government operation of the carriers was deplored as "unfair and insinuous."

A pledge for "heavy" and immediate reduction of federal taxation was made by the nominee, who said that, with economy, $2,000,000,000 could be lopped off. He advocated repeal of "annoying consumption taxes," and said taxes on incomes of wage earners, agricultural producers, and salaried, professional and small business men should be "sharply modified." He suggested, in lieu of excess profits taxes, "a small tax, probably of one and one-half per cent of the total business of every going concern." He also argued "making holders of hidden wealth pay their share of taxes with those whose property is in sight."

Advocating reform of federal agencies and activities, including establishment of a budget system, the governor said the government could be run on $4,000,000,000 annually including sinking fund and national debt interest. Disarmament provisions of the League of Nations, he added, constitute "an appealing fundamental" and its loss a surety of armament burdens.

The federal reserve act was commended at length as the greatest factor in America's war efforts next to personal sacrifices of the people. The law is a democratic achievement, he said, enacted "against the protests of the bitter republican stand-patters." In its development he recommended establishing foreign banks in trade centers and urged Americans to guard the law, declaring it should be "kept from the hands of those who have never been its friends."

Repeal of war laws restricting freedom of speech and assembly and liberty of the press was advocated, together with Americanization of alien residents and extension of education work "without encroachment by the federal government on local control."

Conservation of children by prevention of child labor, adequate pay for government employes, short shift for anarchistic agitators and development of waterway transportation were other affirmative policies the governor enumerated.

"I accept the nomination of our party," he said in conclusion, "obedient to the Divine Sovereign of all peoples, and helpful that by trust in Him the way will be shown for helpful service."

Senator Robinson's Speech

Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas, chairman of the committee on notification, said in part:

Governor Cox:

The custom of giving formal notice of their selection to party nominees originated when methods of transmitting intelligence were slow and unreliable. Means of communication now available render notification ceremonies, in a sense, superfluous. The practice continues chiefly because it affords an opportune occasion for the candidate to express his interpretation of platform declarations under conditions which give to his views great publicity.

The circumstances attending your nomination should be highly gratifying to you. The San Francisco convention considered the qualifications of a number of able and loyal democrats, including leaders of mature experience and nation-wide renown. From the time the delegates first assembled you were the favorite. Throughout the proceedings laudable rivalry and good will prevailed. When on the forty-fourth ballot you were nominated, the action of the convention was practically unanimous. Scarcely a contest so impetuous has terminated so harmoniously. You are not only the choice of the convention, but the choice is almost universally approved by democrats and meets with the favor of many independent voters.

The convention reached its decision through the exercise of untrammelled judgment by the delegates without inducement or coercion from political bosses. Neither midnight combinations nor plutocratic cabals were instrumental in your selection.

The honor and responsibility attending this nomination came to you because your position respecting campaign issues is known to be in harmony with the platform adopted; and because the record of your public service demonstrates rare leadership.

Remarkable Record as Governor

It is not surprising that the whole some reforms accomplished in Ohio through your efforts as Governor, at first challenged the antagonism of every questionable influence in the state, in spite of opposition, which at times threatened to become overwhelming, by gallant and courageous performance of duty you won, and retain the admiration of a grateful public.

It seems appropriate to state in this connection some of the things of permanent benefit which your initiative has given to the people of Ohio.

The new constitution, ratified through your efforts, made possible a series of legislative and administrative reforms without parallel in number and importance in the annals of any other state.

It is not practicable here, to review in detail these reforms. They vitalized existing institutions and created new agencies for the promotion of the happiness and prosperity of a progressive people.

The Workmen's Compensation Law

You secured the passage of a workmen's compensation law which thirty other states have taken for a model. This measure provides compensation for workmen according to the degree of their disability and at the same time safeguards employers against unfair and extortionate claims. It has worked so well that it is said the number of law suits involving workmen's compensation decreased from approximately 50,000 in 1912 to less than 50 in 1919.

Industrial Disturbances

No better example of courageous discharge of duty is known than the manner in which you dealt with the industrial problems in Ohio during the war. With firmness and patience you harmonized apparently irreconcilable contentions between employee and employer, and without resort to force, succeeded in keeping in continuous operation the steel, mining, and transportation industries of the state, admittedly indispensable to the comfort of your people and to the success of our armies.

The Budget System

The Budget System is an enduring monument to your genius in statesmanship. This measure placed the various State Departments on a sound financial basis. Notwithstanding the greatly increased cost of administration incident to the war, the State Government has been operated without increase in tax rates. The measure has proved so satisfactory that the republican nominee has declared for a similar system of coordinating national income and expenditures.

Rural Schools

When you became governor you found the rural schools of the state inadequate and poorly maintained. A masterful organization was effected which resulted in consolidations from which have come the best rural school system in the Union.

Prison Reforms

The reforms inaugurated in the prisons of Ohio during your administration have made penal institutions of this state effective agencies for the protection of the public against crime and for the reformation of criminals.

The inter-county highway law, from which many other states have modeled their systems, the mothers' pension law, the child labor act, the blue sky law, the Warnor law reforming the tax system of the state are among the important improvements you promoted, any one of which is of sufficient merit and importance to entitle you to renown.

This incomplete list of reforms you have accomplished for Ohio in the face of organized opposition is evidence of your fitness to bear the weightier burdens and to discharge the more comprehensive responsibilities of chief executive of the nation.

Nominee in Accord With Platform

It is not alone because of rare executive ability so convincingly displayed that this nomination has come to you, but even more for the reason that you are known to be in hearty sympathy with the principles expressed in our party platform.

Your expressions regarding its provisions are eagerly awaited by the public. It therefore seems appropriate that only brief reference to the platform be made in these remarks.

The document clearly defines the attitude of the democratic party on vital domestic and foreign problems. Unlike the republican platform, which was deliberately made ambiguous in order to conceal irreconcilable differences of opinion among the delegates, the San Francisco platform is easily understood and is not susceptible to conflicting interpretations.

Democratic Platform and Domestic Questions

Our platform points out the simple

GIVE WIFE AN ALLOWANCE

DALLAS, Aug. 7.—"Women must be given allowances and must form the habit of keeping a careful account of their expenses before they can become good business managers and live up to the government's thrift plan," said Mrs. Ella Carruthers Porter, national thrift chairman for the national congress of Mother's clubs and Parent-Teacher associations.

While Mrs. Porter's activities will be national in scope, she will participate in state activities. At present emphasis will be placed, first, on women obtaining a fixed allowance for household expenditures, and second an accurate account of such expenditures.

"Only when this is habitually done," said Mrs. Porter, "can women become mistresses of their own households and practice the government's plans for wise buying, systematic saving and safe investments. Our work, both nationally and in the states, will be conducted with these ends in view."

HOW SHIPPERS MAY AID IN RELIEVING THE CAR SHORTAGE

O. I. Shannon, general agent, Texas & Pacific railway, Abilene, gave out the following data, relative to the equipment situation and transportation facilities that now confronts the railroads of the United States as a whole, which if receivers and shippers of freight will pursue and note carefully, contains some valuable information and if each and everyone will more closely cooperate, transportation facilities can be greatly increased and the acuteness of the equipment situation be reduced materially.

That the freight car stringency can be largely mitigated through the efforts of shippers themselves is very apparent from the results of car loading on one of the large Texas lines in the month of June, 1920. The records of this line indicate that the average loading of sugar during the month was but 69.64 per cent of the capacity of the cars used; flour 85.25 per cent; oats 70.21 per cent; cotton, 48.12 per cent; salt, 75.56 per cent; lumber, 59.44 per cent; wood, 56.36 per cent; fertilizer, 56.65 per cent; cement, 88.02 per cent; brick, 99.76 per cent. These figures were compiled from records of the loading of 5,298 cars during the month. The average loading of this entire number of cars was 64.72 per cent. There was, therefore, a wastage of car space amounting to 2,882 cars. Had the total shipments contained in these 5,298 cars been loaded to the capacity of the cars, it would have required but 3,429 cars to move the freight, thus leaving available for other usage 1,869 cars.

This, of course, represents but a small amount of the total business handled by the one railroad referred to during the month of June, but it will indicate in a graphic way to what extent the car shortage can be relieved if shippers will load their cars to the full capacity permissible under the rules of the carriers. Thousands of cars can be made available for the commerce of this country without awaiting the completion of new equipment. If only shippers will take hold of the problem with the same determination that railway employes are doing.

It is apparent that under existing conditions, transportation facilities of the railroads in the United States, as a whole, with particular reference to the cars and locomotives, are inadequate to handle the unusually large volume of business offered for movement at the present time. This deficiency cannot be immediately overcome as it requires time to materially increase the number of cars and locomotives that are needed. The termination of federal control constant interruption due to disturbed labor conditions have interfered to a considerable degree with the movement of traffic and relocation of cars.

Recognizing this situation, the Association of Railway Executives have ordered that all members thereof and all other common carriers, devote forthwith their utmost energy to the more intensive use of the existing equipment and that, as a program to be followed in this connection, they should undertake the co-operation of the public, to secure for the country as a whole:

1. An average daily minimum movement of freight cars of not less than thirty miles per day.
2. An average loading of 30 tons per car.
3. Reduction of bad order cars to a maximum of four per cent of total owned.
4. An early and substantial reduction in the number of locomotives now unfit for service.

While the car performance proposed has never been attained, it is believed that such a performance is not impossible of attainment if the full co-operation of the public can be secured. To comply with this order and bring about a full realization of the ends to be attained, an intensive campaign is being inaugurated by all of the affected departments of the railroads. Our superintendents will use their force in bringing about better handling of equipment through the prompt placing for unloading, and the removing of empties. Traffic department representatives will apply themselves to the work of securing full co-operation with the shippers for prompt unloading; prompt loading and maximum loading of cars. The car stringency will be materially relieved if any degree of progress is made along the lines indicated. It is surprising indeed to what extent the empty car supply can be increased by the saving of a few hours' time in loading and unloading of cars, and the prompt movement thereof. This is not a problem to be worked out exclusively by the railroads. We must have the whole-hearted and determined assistance of the shipping public. A close co-operation in our efforts to save "car days" will go a long way towards helping the fellow who needs a car. A strict economy in car space cannot help but make available more cars.

GERMANY'S POSTOFFICE WORSE THAN BANKRUPT

International News Service.
BERLIN, Aug. 7.—The bankrupt German state post and telegraph system has entered into competition with the national bill posting and advertising agencies. Postage and telegraph rates have reached the limit; the cost of mailing letters is so high that people have cut their correspondence to the minimum. The billion mark deficit continues to grow. The postal authorities are looking around to sell or rent anything which will bring in money. Consequently they advertise that they will rent advertising space on the interior and exterior walls of postoffice buildings.

You may buy advertising space on the backs of postal money order forms, telegraph blanks, or on the margins of postage stamps. Mail wagons and telegraph poles will be rented as advertising mediums. Even the cancellation stamp will be sold to the highest bidder. A postoffice commission has been authorized to censor the advertisements and reject unsuitable or undignified matter.

SUICIDE THEORY IS SCOUTED BY FORMER DEPUTY U S MARSHAL

Says He Examined the Body of Leicester Reber and It Was Not Powder-Burned—The Four Men First Arrested Have Been Released by the Sheriff.

Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 7.—Four men held by the Stephens county sheriff following the death of Leicester Reber, station agent at Breck-Walker, were released last night when the coroner returned a verdict of suicide. Reber's body was found on the station platform at midnight Thursday. About $400 was found in his room intact. The robbery theory was immediately concluded. No cause for suicide was advanced.

Scouts Decide Theory

A former officer who examined the body is satisfied it was not a case of suicide, according to the following from the Ranger Times:

The mystery surrounding the killing of L. Reber, station agent for the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth railroad at Breckwalker, will soon be cleared up, in the opinion of members of the Stephens county sheriff's department. Reber was shot and killed about 1 a. m. Wednesday night at the rear platform of the Hamon & Kell station at Breckwalker. A charge of shot from a twelve-gauge shotgun entered his body and he died soon afterward. George Gist, aged 21, Frank Baurin, aged 27, and John Acree and Jack Frazier were placed under arrest and are now being given the "third degree" at Breckbridge in an effort to make them disclose knowledge of the affair.

Ed Higbee of this city, former United States deputy marshal, passed through Breckwalker soon after the crime was committed and stopped and made an investigation. Mr. Higbee stated this morning that he examined the wound of the dead man and he is positive that it was not self-inflicted, as no powder burns were apparent. The shotgun which inflicted the wound is believed to be the property of George Gist, one of the men now under arrest.

According to Mr. Higbee, the generally accepted theory in Breckenridge is that Reber was murdered by highwaymen who hoped to gain possession of the substantial sum of money he usually carried. Mr. Higbee said that so far as he knew there was no safe in the railroad station at Breckwalker. A number of checks made out to the company were among the effects found on the dead man, together with about $400 in money. It is believed that the agent was called to the rear platform from the room in which he slept, in the station, and shot and that his cries after he was wounded turned his assailants from their purpose to rob him.

Railroad officials state that Reber was a man of very fine character and people living at Breckwalker scout the theory that he was killed in a brawl over a gambling game.

Citizens of Breckenridge are said to be indignant over the affair and are planning drastic measures to rid the country of bandits and highjackers.

The body is being held at the Baur undertaking parlors at Breckenridge. Advances from Breckenridge this morning stated that no inquest had been held.

Owls will have smoker Monday night.

COLEMAN COUNTY IS ASKING CONNECTION WITH NIMROD ROAD

County Judge Mathews and Engineer Dickason of Coleman county, were in the city Friday night conferring with the directors of the chamber of commerce and production, a meeting of the latter having been called for that purpose.

These gentlemen are interested in having what is known in this county as the Nimrod road connected with the Coleman county road and thus making connection with the Bankhead highway, and providing a direct line from Coleman to Cisco.

The matter was fully thrashed out between the visitors and the directors of the chamber of commerce and production and will now be presented to the commissioners of Eastland county. It is more than probable that the plan proposed will be carried out.

Owls will have smoker Monday night.

SPLENDID CROPS AND MUCH ROAD BUILDING FEATURES IN TEXAS

John L. Kelly and George Fee, Jr., have returned from an automobile trip to the southern part of the state, going by way of Austin to Houston and Galveston and returning by way of Bryan and Waco. Mr. Kelly stopping at the last named place to visit relatives.

Mr. Kelly said Galveston was not as lively as usual, owing to the fact that it is under martial law. What particularly attracted his attention on the long trip was the excellent condition of crops in every locality, and the great amount of road work being done in many counties.

FIXTURES FOR THE POSTOFFICE ARRIVE. SOON BE INSTALLED

The new fixtures for the postoffice arrived Friday afternoon and men were at once engaged in putting them in place. Postmaster St. George said yesterday that he has everything in the office in readiness to move into the new building just as soon as the work of installing the new fixtures is completed, which he was of the opinion, would be early this week.

The new fixtures are of very handsome design and modern, being manufactured by the Keyless Lock company of Indianapolis, Ind. The letter boxes all have combination locks.

A State-Wide Institution Operating a Chain of Stores

WILL OPEN A NEW STORE

Monday, August 9

In Cisco

We are here to stay. Our goods are new. Our methods are new. We sell Dry Goods, Clothing and Shoes for every member of the family at lowest prices all the time and the same price to everybody.

Who We Are

It is quite natural to inquire about any new-comer in your midst. So we answer the question in advance.

RICHARDSON-BROWN COMPANY, owning and operating a chain of stores, is the outgrowth of a small store started in Athens, Texas, in 1914. Ever since that first store was opened, the principle that has guided this present-day state-wide institution has been the Golden Rule. With fullest consideration for every one, serving all alike, our reward has been ever increasing friendships that enable us to constantly enlarge our field of service and consequently benefit a greater number as we go forward.

Why We Came to Cisco

FIRST OF ALL—

WE ARE HERE TO STAY!

Our investigations of conditions in and about Cisco has convinced us that the majority of people will quickly appreciate the advantages offered to them by the service of this store.

With new goods always, lowest prices every day and courteous service at all times—this "different" store will fill a long-felt want in this community.

Our Buying Power

In 1919, we sold for cash, about one million nine hundred thousand dollars' worth of merchandise. We know it needs very little explanation to convince people that such a purchasing power is sure to entitle us to lowest cost prices. In addition to quantity purchases, we do, by our centralized buying organization, almost entirely eliminate the middlemen's profits that generally constitute part of the cost in the usual one-store-only buying.

What we save in buying is passed along to our customers. That fact in itself is a very good reason why we constantly sell at such low prices.

Our Buying Organization

To make certain that we are constantly able to supply with the newest and best that the nation's markets produce, we maintain year-round buying organizations in our offices in New York and St. L.

Daily contact with the markets is a big advantage in buying we have that advantage. Experience has demonstrated that in no other manner of buying can we be sure of serving you as you should be served.

In each of our buying centers we have an adequate staff of thoroughly experienced buyers whose intimate knowledge of merchandise markets, combined with the accurate information supplied by our local buyers as to the needs of every section of the country, enable them to buy for the Ready-to-Wear Apparel, Shoes and Dry Goods that you particularly want.

One Price to All

AND THAT PRICE IS ROCK-BOTTOM, ALWAYS!

We never discriminate in the prices at which we sell merchandise. One price to everybody—that's the real spirit of RICHARDSON-BROWN COMPANY.

Every dollar you send here has the same purchasing power your neighbor's— isn't that your idea of correct business methods?

We are sure that such a method has the approval of every man and woman, because people always approve Fair Dealings, and that is our customary way of conducting business.

New Merchandise Always

Our low margin of profit assures rapid selling—that results in constant replenishment of our stocks—you are thus assured that you have goods to select from at all times in our stores.

Goods do not remain here sufficiently long to become old. We are confident such a service is sure to please you and therefore we seek your patronage with full assurance of genuine satisfaction to you always.

FIXTURES ONLY TEMPORARY

We do business in a modern way and our store will be of the most modern when completed. Due to the factory shortage, we were unable to get delivery on fixtures, therefore, we are forced to open without them. However, new fixtures will be arriving in the near future and will be installed by late fall.
