If a man is possessed of even a small plot of ground he can live at home regardless of the fact that his taxes are unpaid, and boom investment notes are over due.

This thought came to mind when a gentleman told the Citizen that he had the good fortune to be a the Heysers.

In keeping with the Southern There were parsnips, string beans, new potatoes, young onions, lettuce, beets, and other palatable vegetables from the Heyser garden; delicious egg bread from meal Heyser farm; butter from the Heyser cows; fresh roast beef from the Heyser pastures; delicious biscuits and pastry from wheat grown in the Heyser fields, and a dessert of dewberry pie grown from Hey-"chaser" from Heyser cows.

This gentleman said later on when the Heyser fryers are ripe for the table he anticipates another invitation to this hospitable home to feast on a chicken dinner, with all the accessories, as the Heysers have a large flock of chickens all the time, and these will just add things to eat.

But the Heysers are not an exception to the rule. Except those who were victims of the recent hail, which destroyed all vegetables and growing crops, all Eastland county farmers, like the Heysers, are living at home, with only such things purchased for their table as sugar and coffee, which are not indigenous to this section.

Yes, we are hard pressed for ready cash, but Eastland county people are not starving. If you don't believe our farmers have plenty to eat just contrive to get an invitation to dinner at the home of one of your farmer friends. They are not spending much money in 'high living", but thank God they are still eating.

People Can Get Relief if They Stick Together

The fight that is being waged by the Cisco Citizen is being read by others than those living in Cisco, who see their towns as the next victim of the rapacty of the soulless monopolies that are filching the public of their very life blood to enrich their coffers.

Transmitting copies of the Cisco Citizen to Mayor Lee R. York, of Abilene, Mr. Shanks says in his letter which is published below: Dear Judge York:

Herewith I hand to you two issues of the Cisco Citizen in which the gas rates are discussed in an able manner.

If Cisco loses the fight in this hold-up other towns will follow and Abilene will likely be next.

How can Brownwood have four or five companies anxious to sell gas to that city at 35 cents when Cisco and Abilene are paying twice that much?

How can gas companies still claim gas rates should be allowed that will pay interest or dividends on an investment made in boom times without any consideration being given to 50 and 75 per cent declines in all other property as well as the income of their customers?

Telephone rates also are far out of line with prices of other things and it seems a united effort on the part of the cities and towns of Texas will be necessary to get the reductions.

The urgent need, it seems, is for concerted action at this time to stop increases and secure reductions in the price of

Doubtless other companies would be interested in competing, with gas at more reasonable rates, if assured of patronage which could easily be secured from all the towns using gas from this company that holds up customers on rates, and also on deposits, etc.

Hoping to see you call a meeting of all towns using gas to combine in this fight, I am,

UNIVERSITY GRADUATES AND THE COMMUNE

A friend asked me recently this question: "What are we going to do with the university and college graduates we are turning out, equipped for white collar jobs, and no jobs to give them.'

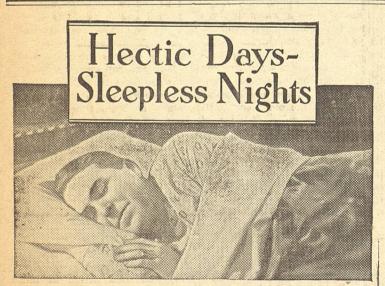

My reply was: "The European revolutions are usually incited by 'students', and I suppose our university graduates will head the great American commune which both major parties of a plank demanding its repeal. the capitalistic interests seem hell-bent in forcing on the

This may be considered as a wild statement, but one need not be surprised at such an eventuality. The colleges and universities of the land are turning out men and women by the hundreds, with all manner of degrees, all fitted for the various professions, but without prospects of capitalizing on their ability. A few will find employment, but thousands will find no jobs for white-collared degree men.
Then what will be the result? Naturally they will conclude there is something wrong, and when they cast about and see a favored class living in luxurious ease, while thousands are at the point of starvation, hopeless despair staring them in the face, it is the student and university graduate who will begin to think, and thinking will lead to some means of righting a wrong. When they can find no relief in legislatures and congress, these degree men will be the

POLITICS MAKE STRANGE BEDFELLOWS

The most unholy alliance is that just announced by the Rev. Atticus Webb, when he stated that the dry Roman Catholics, headed by Rev. Father J. Patrick Murphy, of Ennis, had forgotten the unjustifiable war that was made on the affiliates of the Roman Catholic church in 1928, who now would join Doctor Webb and his anti-saloon league in waging a militant campaign against resubmission of the prohibition question. In 1928 there was nothing too vile for Dr. Webb and his cohorts to charge against Al Smith and the Roman Catholic Church. The Citizen does not believe that Father Murphy will get very far in his efforts to cause the rank and file of the Roman church to forget the unjustifiable campaign of slander and misrepresentation that the anti-saloon league waged against the Democratic nominee for no other reason than that he was a Roman Catholic.

According to Doctor Webb peace and harmony prevails between anti-saloon league and those Catholics who may follow the leadership of Father Murphy. In other words, the lamb of Catholicism will sweetly repose in the lair of the anti-saloon lion.

Maybeso, but we hardly think any considerable number of Catholics will so soon forget the unholy campaign promulgated four years ago by alleged followers of the immaculate Saviour on another religious denomination, and that sect the oldest christian church in the universe.

Doctor Webb states that Father Murphy advises him: "We must stand side by side, Catholic and Protestant alike, beneath the shadow of the cross of Christ for God and home and native land." Quoting Father Murphy Doctor Webb continues: "We do not need whiskey; we need bread, we do not need Al Capone; we do

Yet, we never had Al Capones till the Volstead act made his kind a possibility. Since the adoption of the eighteenth amendment the Al Capones have thrived as did the "gilded palaces of sin" in every city and town, and have been militant allies of the anti-saloon league, thus forming one of the most unholy alliances of modern times. They, the anti-saloon league leaders and bootleggers, "standing side by side," working to perpetuate a law that has proven a fail-Healing takes place when one begins to walk with God-healing ure; ostensibly opposing factors, yet both working for the for the salary and graft attendent and the Al Capones that he may continue to ply his feloneous avocation.

Under the operation of the Volstead farce, after twelve years of make-believe enforcement, the country is still flooded with cheap concoctions of poison, yet the people are crying for bread; we have forgotten Christ while hypocritically labeling the Volstead farce the work of God.

No condemnation was ever so severe as that which Jesus pronounced on hypocrites, of such are the leaders of the anti-saloon league. "Likened unto whiten sepulchres; full of dead men's bones."

And, by the way, the latest prominent and life-long supporter of the anti-saloon league to see the fallacy of the Volstead act, and acknowledge its failure, is John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Announcing his advocacy of the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, but his continous fidelity to the cause of temperance, Rockefeller favors the adoption by

Here's Simplified Cooking

Actually, cooking consists of only three fundamental operations: preparing the foods . . . putting them in the oven . . . and placing the meal on the table.

But so many more are required by old-fashioned methods! So much peeking, tasting and testing is necessary! So much time is wasted on these unnecessary, tiresome tasks!

With a modern Electric Range, cooking is reduced to its three fundamentals. You merely prepare your meal, place it in the oven, set the Time and Heat Controls, and forget the actual cooking! All the work is done automatically... requiring none of your time or attention-and leaving you free to enjoy happy leisure hours!
.. And this Freedom is only one advantage of modern Electric Cookery! Foods look better, taste better and are more healthful. In fact, there are so many advantages you'll wonder how you managed with old-fashioned, inefficient methods!

Call us for an individual investigation of your use of electric service, to determine the cost of cooking by electricity in your bome. You may be surprised to know that there are many cases where electric cookery actually decreases the total of electric and

Editor Cisco Citizen:

Thank you to permit me to use some of your space to give my observations on a mooted question on which Biblical students seem to disagree, "Is Death Real?" My position is that death is real, but a large portion of the singing and preaching people of today teach otherwise.

In Job 14:10 we read "But man dieth and wasteth away," while modern theology says he can neither die or waste away. Which is right, Job or modern theology?

When speaking of what Jehovah with Jesus would do to save humanity, Isa. 53:10 says: "when thou shalt surely make his soul an offering for sin:" and verse 1, speaking of what Jesus would do says: "Because he hath poured out his soul unto death." When FOR JUDGE SSTH JUDICIAL DISspeaking of that which was to immediately come upon him Jesus said: "My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even unto death." Mat

Did Jesus speak of that which was impossible, when he said his soul was about to die? as "he did no sin." I Peter 2:22, and was not subject to spiritual death, as he in very soul died. It must have meant literal death of his soul, as his soul was sacrificed for sin. As the law equired that any living thing sacrificed for sin should lose its life, FOR SHERIFF, EASTLAND CO. how could his soul be sacrificed for sin without dying?

Jesus is a soul and his entire being lost its life. He said he came to give his life a ransom for many. Matt 20:28. Could he give his life without losing it? He said: 'I am he that liveth and was dead.' Rev. 1:18.

The Christ who is now in Heaven was once dead. I have no use for FOR REPRESENTATIVE, 106th a. Christ who never died, for such a Christ never atoned for my sins.

Why did Jesus give up his life? Because there was no way of bringing man out of death without conquering death, and in order to conquer it he must go into it.

He said he came to save men's lives, Luke 9:56. Man has forfeited life, and this is why so much is said about Jesus, the eternal life-giver, to those who believe on

Now, the question is, do we believe on him, or do we believe the statement of Satan, in Gen. 3:4, when Satan said to Eve "ye shall JURY LIST FOR SECOND not surely die." Jehovah said to her "thou shalt surely die." Gen. 2:17. If a man does not die then Satan told the truth. Do you believe him? Jesus said he was "a liar and the father of it."

Hijacker and City Police Stage Duel On Eastland Road

Quite a bit of interest was manifested Monday night in the chase of a hijacker by the night force of the Cisco police department, when it was learned that the police and the hijacker staged a pistol duel, out on the Eastland highway, the results of which was only an exhibition of bad marksmanship.

In response to a telephone message from Abilene officers the Cisco police went in quest of a man said to have held up a service station operator in Abilene Monday. A description of the Chevrolet car in which the hijacker was riding, was given to Cisco officers. Night Chief Pierce and Patrolman Hendricks drove out on the Eastland highway, and spotted the car at the Litchfield hamburger stand. No one was in the car, but the officers saw two men in the cafe, so decided to wait at the car for the owner to come for his machine. As he arrived Pierce advanced to arrest him but the man kept backing, all the time attempting to get his gun. Pierce however, prevented his immediate draw by grabbing his hand, but never succeeded in getting close enough to hold him. The man never ceased to back away, and finally reached the brush, and as he did so, fired on the officers, who in turn fired in the direction the man was going. None of the shots did any harm, so it was a abandoned Chevrolet, which carried a Bowie county license. Clothing left in the machine bore the mark of R. W. Carter, whom, it was learned, lived in Wichita Falls. A coat,, pants, shirt and undecrothing was found in the car.

It developed later that the car in which the hijacker, (believed to be Carter) had been stolen from R. B. Griffin, of Texarkana.

Carter is said to have a police record in Oklahoma, and it is presumed he will be aprehended, as a splendid description is in the possession of the Cisco and Abilene

Pretty Boy Floyd, Rumor Added intrest was seen in the spectacular escape from the grasp of the police when a rumor gained circulation that the hijacker was Pretty Boy Floyd, who has been playing hide and seek with Oklahoma officers for the past year. However, there was an alibi ready for Floyd, for about the same time the duel was in progress, Floyd was giving the Oklahoma officers something else to think about, and the rumor died aborning.

Two Killed When ROCKEFELLER... Airplane Crashed In Cisco Monday

Cisco was the stage of a horrible tragedy last Monday afternoon when George A. Fox and Elmer E. Moseley met their death as the plane, piloted by Moseley, took a header from an altitude of about 500 feet and crashed in the front yard of the home of W. D. Hazel, killing both instantly. Both of the victims lived in Fort Worth, and were men of families, whose widows and several children survive.

The plane was noticed by many Cisco folk just before the crash came, and saw the machine as it made a dive for the earth. All said the plane was flying at a dangerously low altitude, and it is presumed the effort of the pilot, to take more altitude failed, when something went wrong and the plane made its fatal plunge to the ground. In its decent the plane narrowly missed the front of the Hazel home, 1000 West Sixth street. but struck a Chinese elm, growing in the front yard, about five inches in diameter, which it snapped off County Taxpayers association to four or five feet from the ground. meet in Cisco will be held in the The Hazel family had just finished a late dinner when the plane

> Fortunately for the safety of the Hazel home the leaking gasoline did not become ignited and no conflagration resulted.

> Relatives of the crash victims arrived in Cisco Monday night and arranged for the bodies to be sent to Fort Worth for burial.

Moseley was a licensed commercial pilot, while Fox was a wrestling promoter, who with others, operated an arena in Fort Worth. It is reported that he was enroute wrote. to Sweetwater with view of opening a wrestling arena in that city, and was a passenger on the plane piloted by Moseley.

Justice McDonald, who held an inquest on the bodies rendered a verdict of acidental death.

Instead, he said, "drinking generally has increased," and that "the speakeasy has replaced the saloon, not only unit for unit, but probably two-fold if not three-fold."

Rockefeller pictures a "vast army of law-breakers," who, he said, had been "recruited and financed on a colossal scale."

He wrote that "many of our best citizens, piqued at what they regarded as an infringement of their private rights, have openly and unabashed disregarded the eighteenth amendment."

As "an inevitable result" of these effects, he said, "respect for all law has been greatly lessened."

"Benefit Outweighted"

He expressed a belief that the benefits of prohibition are far outweighed by "the evils that have developed and flourished since its adoption,, evils which unless promptly checked are likely to lead to conditions unspeakably worse than those which prevailed before.'

"It is not to be expected," he said, "that the repeal of the eighteenth amendment will in itself end all those evils and restore public rspect for law. I believe, however, that its repeal is a prerequisite to the attainment of that goal."

The letter to Dr. Butler was an indorsement of the resolution the Columbia president 24 hours earlier had announced he, as a delegate to Republican national convention, would fight to have incorporated in the party platform.

"With this resolution I am in complete sympathy," Rockefeller

The Butler plan provides that "Congress submit a proposal to repeal the eighteenth amendment, which proposal shall be submitted for ratification by conventions of the people of the several states."

It also pledges the party, in the event of repeal, to secure the adoption of "such measures for the control of the liquor traffic by the several states as will promote temperance, effectively abolish the saloon, whether open or concealed, when not prohibited, under complete public supervision and con-
