Shut-down Order for East Texas Field Is Rescinded

COMM'N HAS NO PLAN FOR SUBSTITUTION

HOUSTON, March 25.—Chairman Lon A. Smith, of the Texas Railroad commission, said today that the "free flow-shutdown" order for the east Texas oil field would not go into effect Monday as planned. Smith immediately began a communication to R. D. Parker, chief of the oil and gas division at Austin, giving instructions for rescinding the latest plan to solve Texas' oil problem. Under the original plan the field's 10,000 wells would have been opened Monday to flow freely for two hours to test the field's potential, then be placed under a complete shutdown until further notice. Smith acted after returning here from the Conroe oil field and learning that the plan had been described by Atty.-Gen. James V. Allred as "probably not workable."

Dozens of east Texas operators had protested against the plan. Several oil companies had planned court action against the commission if the order had been carried out, it was reported. Smith said he had no plan for a substitute oil order. It was learned that Federal Judge Randolph Bryant would come here from Beaumont to discuss the Texas oil situation with Allred.

OIL WORKERS WILL SUPPORT PROTRATION.

FORT WORTH, March 25.—Support of nearly 30,000 workers in Texas oil fields and refineries today was placed behind enforcement of Texas oil production orders. The executive board of the Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers of America adopted a resolution directing its members to refrain from taking any part in the unlawful production or distribution of oil and gasoline. Announcement of the resolution was made here today by J. L. Coulter, secretary-treasurer of the organization which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Cotton Men Demand Tariff Reduction

GALVESTON, March 25.—Telegrams condemning the present American tariff as injurious to the farmer and the country as a whole were sent to Texas congressional representatives today by members of the Texas Cotton association, holding its annual convention here. Immediate reduction of the tariff was demanded in the message.

Oklahoma Banker to Face Murder Charge

HEADRICK, Okla., March 25.—Murder charges were pending today against J. H. Brock, 36, president of the Citizens State bank, in which an examiner was shot to death. The charges were filed at Altus, Okla., against Brock who surrendered and told officers he shot W. C. Ernest, 50, in self-defense. After Brock's bank re-opened here under restrictions Ernest was sent to audit the books. He telephoned the state bank commissioner "The books are in a hell of a mess" and recommended that the bank be closed. He was shot as he talked over the telephone.

Pioneer Trainman Dies at Weatherford

WEATHERFORD, March 25.—Robert F. Foy, 77, veteran railroad fireman and engineer, has made his last run. The man who blazed a track of steel from Fort Worth to El Paso back in the 1880's died at the home of a sister here late yesterday. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon. Foy was engineer for the construction crew that pushed the Texas and Pacific lines across prairies and mesquite thickets to El Paso. He had been living in Mineral Wells and Fort Worth where he had come in an effort to regain his health.

As Ohio River Flood Took Deadly Toll

SPRING GRID TRAINING WILL START MONDAY

Coach Wilson Elkins has sounded the call for spring football training. He expects between 35 and 40 candidates to report for practice Monday afternoon, he has indicated. The spring training period will last for three weeks. Dexter Shelley, 1933 Cisco coach is expected to be here next week. When elected to the coaching position here recently, he expressed a desire to be in Cisco for a week to assist with spring training and a hope that he might take that time from present duties in order to help shape next year's football team. Shelley will replace Wilson Elkins, who has been awarded a Rhodes scholarship to Oxford university and who leaves for England in September. While at the University of Texas, the two men played in the backfield, and their coaching systems should fit together well. Since his university days, Shelley has played two years of professional football.

LEERAY ROAD IS NOW READY TO BE PAVED

All deeds to additional right-of-way for widening the Leeray cut-off road north out of Cisco were turned over to the state highway department yesterday, signaling completion of all conditions incident to the state's designation of the road as a state highway, it was announced. The instruments were taken to Brownwood and handed to Division Highway Engineer E. O. Ellenger by County Comm'r Arch Birt, County Highway Engineer A. F. Taylor and J. E. Spencer, Cisco chamber of commerce secretary. Mr. Ellenger expressed himself as well pleased with the manner in which the conditions have been carried out and indicated he would ask for the appropriations necessary to construct roadbed and drainage structures at the April meeting of the state highway commission. If this appropriation is set aside work will probably begin by May 1, Mr. Spencer said. The highway, a nine-mile strip, connects Cisco directly with Graham and Wichita Falls. Built as a county road, the highway is in poor condition with a very narrow right-of-way. The state's principal requirement was that this right-of-way be widened to 100 feet. All Land Secured. Through the efforts of Mr. Birt, Mr. Taylor and the Cisco chamber of commerce all of the additional land necessary to provide this width has been obtained. In addition the 100 foot strip is carried five blocks within the city limits, or within two blocks of the end of brick paving on Sixth street. The state will pave to join with this brick surfacing. Labor for setting back the fences along the route was provided by the local R. F. C. relief organization. This work has been completed. The county took care of the other expenses, such as the purchase of new posts and additional wire while Mr. Birt supervised the work. Taylor did the necessary engineering. Reconstruction of the road will be done by the maintenance department of the highway commission. A foreman from the Brownwood division office will supervise the work and local labor will be used, Mr. Taylor told the Daily News.

LARGE METEOR STILL SOUGHT IN 2 STATES

LOS ANGELES, March 25.—Searching parties headed by scientists invaded New Mexico and Arizona today in an effort to find the main body of a huge slow-moving meteor which shed its fragments over three states. According to two mail pilots who viewed the spectacle from the air, the fiery mass entered the earth's atmosphere somewhere over Oklahoma. Near the Texas panhandle the mass exploded and pieces were shown as far west as Winslow, Arizona, some 800 miles from the point where the meteor was sighted. Ed Hart, a farmer living seven miles south of Stratford in the Texas panhandle, found a fragment of the meteor weighing about four pounds at the edge of his wheat field. The molten mass had scorched green grass and wheat in the vicinity.

Taxi Driver Thought Kidnaped Thursday

CLEBURNE, March 25.—Julius Hablett, 30, service car driver missing since Thursday night, was sought throughout Texas today. His employers here told officers they were convinced the driver had been kidnaped. He was last seen here as a passenger entered his automobile.

THIS WASN'T MAUDE

PLAINFIELD, Wis., March 25.—When Bert Beck, 20, and his brother Alvin, 18, went away out of season it took them three days to bring a load home through a blizzard. The brothers braved subzero weather during a blizzard to drive their truck to stacks of marsh hay when cattle on their farm faced starvation through lack of available feed.

CANDIDATES AND CITIZENS URGE SUPPORT OF C. OF C.

J. B. BLITCH THINKS C. OF C. IMPORTANT. After all factions have expressed an opinion on amendments one, two and three, it becomes permissible for the candidates to do so if they desire. I believe that a municipal chamber of commerce, or department of commerce as it should be called—the same being a city service operating in its particular field, like the water, street, and other departments—a band and a zoo, are valuable assets to the welfare and growth of a progressive city, when operated along economical and conservative lines. The present system was worked out as the most equitable. The system has not failed, but the men who were at the head of it in times past have used poor judgment in its operation. If I am your mayor I shall keep in touch with it and give it something constructive to do. There must be a "new deal" in Cisco if we are to emerge from our present conditions. We must have a leader with a clear vision around whom all can gather. I have offered you a program in my platform that should keep your eyes on the future, and with the aid of an active and patriotic chamber of commerce we can accomplish these things. When you go to the polls, April the 4th, you, each and every one who votes is going to sell Cisco's destiny for the next two years. The responsibility is on you Mr. Voter, so give your serious consideration to Cisco's future regardless of all other matters. This is our home town. Do we want to see it move forward, stand still or go backward? It's up to you. Use good judgment and you will not regret the day you started Cisco on the road to better times. J. B. BLITCH. "INCONCEIVABLE," SAYS A. D. ANDERSON. "It would be inconceivable to my mind to think of Cisco without a chamber of commerce—a city that has held leadership in this section of the state in everything that has stood for progress and advancement," said A. D. Anderson, when asked as to his views regarding amendments one, two and three, which have to do with retaining the chamber of commerce, the zoo and the band. Mr. Anderson said further that to kill the chamber of commerce would be a death blow to Cisco's prosperity and the business we have would drift away, people would move away, stores would be empty and natural schools would lose their attendance and present standing—everything that has made Cisco a "City With a Personality" would no longer obtain. One thing that Mr. Anderson thinks should appeal to every one is the fact that the 2-mill tax will not make local taxes any higher, since Cisco people will still pay the maxi-

Wholesale Company Head Says Chamber Of Commerce Brought Firm to Cisco

One of the outstanding achievements of the Cisco chamber of commerce was the location in Cisco of the west Texas house of the West Texas Produce company, Sam Lipschitz, vice-president of this company, admits that it was the Cisco chamber who brought his firm here. "When we came here to investigate conditions," he said, "the chamber of commerce took us in charge and before we left we had secured a site. They just pulled harder than the chambers of commerce in the other towns." In the following statement prepared by Mr. Lipschitz, figures reveal just what this act of the Cisco chamber has meant in payrolls and expenses turned loose in this city. It should be added that the company's force is the same today as it was when it began business here in the prosperous years before the depression. My idea of a chamber of commerce in a city is that it is just as necessary to have it as it is necessary to have a captain on a ship, and a mother to children. A real chamber of commerce to a city is the city itself. For instance: Four years ago, when I first came to Cisco to look the city over, I was introduced to the chamber of commerce by Pete Gooles and Charlie Sandler, and I wish to state after my interview with the secretary of the chamber of commerce my mind was made up right there and then to open the West Texas Produce company in Cisco, which brought approximately 30 families, or 125 to 150 people to Cisco. In less than 30 days we were operating our business in full swing. The chamber of commerce of Ranger tried very hard to keep us in Ranger, but the Cisco chamber of commerce just out smarted them a little and they lost a pretty good concern even if I do say it myself. However, I have facts to prove it, and here they are: Our pay roll is something like $2400 per month, auto expenses $1,000, water, lights and gas $200; other miscellaneous expense items $600, and our inbound freight $18,000 or a total of $22,200. Now, after I have given you my figures in black and white, you can see for yourself that the West Texas Produce Co. is a pretty valuable concern to Cisco, and nobody is responsible for our being here but the chamber of commerce, and I for one give my personal opinion that a chamber of commerce must be in a city and more especially one like we have here in Cisco. I therefore, again appeal to you good citizens of Cisco not to destroy the head of the family and keep all the fire burning, because we have everything city wants to have. For instance, we have a wonderful lake, something the entire state should be proud of. We have two ice plants, a light plant, a bank which is one of the strongest in Texas, two wholesale groceries which are a credit to any city, a good country club, a golf

POOR FAMILY WAS COOKING WHISKEY MASH

WOODWARD, Okla., March 25.—Five persons were burned to death when a gasoline stove on which whiskey mash was cooking exploded today at the home of Roy Smith, near Fargo, Okla. Two other persons, Smith and his two-year-old son, Donald, were burned perhaps fatally. Smith and his son were brought to a hospital here. Although suffering intensely from body burns, he told how the tragedy happened. "I got up early to put six gallons of whiskey mash on the gasoline stove," the farmer murmured. "I had just started it cooking when something exploded. I just had time to grab Donald when the whole house was in flames. The others died without awakening from their sleep. "We had to make whiskey to keep from starving." Those who perished in their sleep were Mr. and Mrs. Nick Smith, Mrs. Roy Smith, wife of the injured man; her three-year-old daughter and a Mrs. Stineman, daughter of the Smiths.

BRIEF ILLNESS IS FATAL TO MRS. G. D. WARD

Death early Saturday morning removed a member of one of the most prominent pioneer families of Cisco when Mrs. G. D. Ward, 68, died unexpectedly at 1:30 a. m. at her home, 708 I avenue. Mrs. Ward, widow of a noted banker of this section who organized the Cisco Banking company in the first decade of this century, came to Cisco with her husband in 1900. Funeral services will be conducted from the family residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Stuart Pearce, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery with Green Funeral home in charge of arrangements. Before her marriage to Gus D. Ward Mrs. Ward was Miss Annie Edwards. She was born at Shiloh, Arkansas, May 9, 1865, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Edwards. While still a young girl her parents moved to Tennessee. Her marriage took place at Greenville, Tenn., on December 17, 1885, and the following year she and her husband moved to Breckenridge, Texas, living there until 1900 when they came to Cisco. Mr. Ward died about thirteen years ago. Two of three children born to her and her husband survive. They are John D. Ward, of Sweetwater, and Mrs. Guy Dabney, of Cisco. Death, which was due to a heart ailment, followed a week of serious illness. Both her daughter and her son were with her when she died.

TWO CHILDREN FATALLY BURNED

MILFORD, Ellis County, Texas, March 25.—Two children, fatally burned when a lamp they were helping their father fill with oil exploded were buried here today. The victims were Opal, 13, and Viola Stont, 9. The accident occurred late last night. Stont was burned about the hands and arms while pulling burning clothing off his children.

Romney Club Plans To Present Play

Plans for presenting a play, the proceeds to help send one member to the short course at A. and M. college next summer, were discussed when the Romney Home Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. T. J. Morris last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Gil Walker, Miss Jewel Maples, and Mrs. C. L. Carmichael were appointed as a committee to choose a play. Mrs. C. L. BANKING AND BANKERS.

Detroit, one of the great industrial cities of the American world, had a rotten banking situation. Now plans have been completed for the creation of the National Bank of Detroit to take the place of two erstwhile powerful banks. The new bank will have a capital of $25,000,000. Half of this sum will be subscribed by the Reconstruction corporation and the remainder by the General Motors corporation. General Motors will sell common stock in the new bank to stockholders and depositors in the old banks at $50 a share, the same price at which it was acquired by the corporation.

Jesse H. Jones of Texas is director of the R. F. C. He indicated that this principle would be followed in dealing with similar reorganization of banks the country over. Both houses of congress are for the enactment of a measure which will give hundreds of state banks an opportunity to clear the deck and resume business. Reorganization is on the way. Rehabilitation is on the way. All of which is in line with this paragraph taken from the banking moratorium proclamation of the president:

"The events of the past three years prove that the supervision of national banks for the protection of depositors has been ineffective. I propose much more rigid supervision. We have witnessed not only the unrestrained use of bank deposits in speculation to the detriment of local credit, but we are also aware that this speculation was encouraged by the government itself. I propose that such speculation be discouraged and prevented."

Perhaps this is the reason that Herbert Hoover remarked to a Utah audience, "I may come back some day and make a speech worth the while." He must have felt the Roosevelt sting.

LADY SECRETARY TOSSES 'EM OUT.

Lady Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins is conducting a spring house cleaning. She has swept away almost at a single stroke most of the immigration inspectors, and she told it straight to the press correspondents, "This is only the beginning of a general reorganization." There is an immigration service.

Lady Perkins is for economy. She is for efficient service. She abolished the post of 55 special immigration investigators and put on furlough of 16 others because of the near exhaustion of the $200,000 appropriation under which they operate. She is going to abolish a secret service force organized by her predecessor, that practical politically-minded William Doak of Virginia. In the past while labor commissioner of New York, Lady Perkins declared the entire federal statistical and information service needed revision. Well, she is revising all the figures and reports of her predecessor. As for the Hoover-Doak employment service the lady with the

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON.—Agriculture, for better or worse, is out of the hands of the politicians.

The farmers are the intended beneficiaries of the most far-reaching program of economic rehabilitation that any government—perhaps excepting Soviet Russia—has ever devised.

The man who will supervise this gigantic attempt to put agriculture on its feet is President Roosevelt's secretary of agriculture, Henry Aarad Wallace of Iowa.

Wallace never held office before. He is an economist, an agricultural scientist, a dirt farmer and a business man who has been in constant contact with farmers and their organizations through his editorship of one of the most distinguished and successful weeklies of the middle west. He holds the respect of farmers, economists, scientists—and politicians.

Right behind him, helping to carry the enormous burden of power which it is hoped can be used to save 10,000,000 farmers and their families from ruin, are Prof. Rexford Tugwell and Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, economists who have specialized in agriculture. Tugwell, who was an economic adviser to Roosevelt in the campaign, is assistant secretary. Ezekiel, who has been assistant chief economist with the Farm Board, is economic adviser to Wallace.

They are the "Big Three" behind the new farm program. They framed it with the advice of President Roosevelt, of farm organization leaders and others and are now trying to figure out how best to make it work.

Wallace thinks in terms of farm prices, overproduction, taxes, acreage, planting, charts, yield, mortgages and the various other aspects of the farm problem.

To a stranger he seems saturated and rather preoccupied with it. Handsome, medium-size, younger than his 44 years, wearing a rather unruly shock of hair hardly beginning to gray, and with determined, thoughtful eyes among other semi-rugged features, he seems friendly but slightly hesitant and even diffident at times. But that appears due to his caution in making statements. One can't imagine the man ever going off half-cocked.

Wallace's Farmer and Wallace reflect each other. Since his father became secretary of agriculture in 1921 he has been an active editor, producing a magazine of surprisingly high quality in which he simplifies economic and farm problems. You find him editorializing on "Early or Late Corn for Silage," "State Taxes for Local Schools," "Check Up on Your Seed Corn," "How Clean Ground Saves Spring Pigs," "How British Lard Prices Have Risen Since England Went Off Gold," and a hundred other subjects. He has been writing a separate column for farm boys and girls in which he explains such matters as the relation of the gold supply to farm prices.

Neither a spellbinder nor a backslapper, he has grown through his writings and his ceaseless nonpartisan battle for the farmer's interests into one of the biggest figures in the grain region.

Wall Street sat up and blinked when it realized the new secretary was an advocate of inflation, but Wallace has remarked that they have another fellow here who takes care of the money and that he "won't be butting in on the job."

He favors tariff revision as a means of aiding the farmer. He was one of the original proponents of the domestic allotment plan and the bill which he helped frame empowers him to invoke the main provisions of that plan. He has favored an "orderly retreat" from millions of acres of farm land which are now operated with resultant huge overproduction—and he is now empowered to withdraw that land under the new rental plan.

Long ago he branched into economics and for years has been in contact with many of the country's leading economists. Among his books are "Agricultural Prices," "Corn and Corn Growing"—a widely used textbook—and "Correlation and Machine Calculation."

He has three children. He is a vegetarian, regardless of all the hogs they raise in Iowa. His chief recreations are tennis, volleyball and badminton.

new broom is going to sweep it out. She issued this order to the holdovers: "I expect you to redouble your efforts to carry on enforcement."

Murray Garsson of New York lost his job. He is said to have volunteered his services to the Hoover administration at $1 a year two years ago "to rid the country of alien smugglers and aliens illegally here." The philanthropic and patriotic Garsson, a year ago, had his salary lifted from $1 a year to $9000 a year. Lady Secretary Perkins knows bunk and bunk jobs when she faces them. More power to her elbow.

AUTOCRATIC POWER TO FIX TARIFFS.

Washington broadcast the news that the administration will seek from the present special session of congress a free hand for Pres. Roosevelt to open American tariff doors for return in compensating breaks in foreign tariff walls by means of reciprocal treaties. Moreover the legislation will be pressed as soon as emergency measures encompassed in the president's program have been enacted. A key goes with the story: The power to reduce tariff rates on a give and take basis is hoped for by the administration in time to permit the making of the first of the proposed commercial treaties in advance of the world economic conference scheduled for London this summer. The decision, it is said, means embarkation upon an entirely new tariff policy from that pursued since 1909 when provisions for reciprocity were repealed.

Lest we forget, the Chicago platform provides for reciprocal "tariff agreements with other nations." All this will lead to more talk—perhaps lots of talk—in the good old summer time.

The job Jim Carson almost got...

For days Jim Carson had looked for work...

When they asked for his telephone number, he always gave that of his neighbor across the hall.

Home early one afternoon, he heard his neighbor's telephone ringing and ringing.

Next day at the Acme Manufacturing Company.

This story is based on an actual incident. A half-day's pay on the job Jim Carson almost got would have paid for a telephone for a month.
Having a telephone is of course no guarantee that you'll find work. But your chances of getting a job are certainly better if you can be reached promptly when a job is open.

Babe Hits First Homer of Season

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 25.—Babe Ruth started off the 1933 season with a bang. After signing his contract for $52,000 he drove out the Yankee's first home run of the year against a major league pitcher as his teammates pounded a 7 to 1 victory over the Boston Braves. The drive cleared the rightfield fence with yards to spare.

any remuneration whatsoever except the rare thanks they receive. These men, accepting their commissions willingly, devote more time without pay to the public welfare than any others.

"Without the interest these men manifest Cisco would be at sea, like a ship without a rudder. In the event the chamber of commerce amendment is not carried Cisco will be at the mercy of surrounding communities, and a failure in every sense of the word.

"The opposition to a great extent, I believe, is from citizens who have not familiarized themselves with what the chamber of commerce is doing. The city commission and the chamber should be in accord in the various undertakings and enterprises that affect our municipal welfare.

"The municipal band is a very essential and necessary asset of the city and should receive the unanimous support of the citizens. Its value to the young life of the community is inestimable and it is a tangible evidence of civic pride that adds to our municipal spirit.

"The zoo is likewise a value educational and advertising medium and it should be maintained. Why cut out these things which we have maintained through so serious a depression just when times are getting better and we have the opportunity before us to capitalize on them? It is to the lasting credit of Cisco that we have carried our municipal organization through these times intact. Why lose that distinction now?

"The chamber of commerce is fortunate in having as its president Mr. R. L. Poe; fortunate in having Mr. Spencer as its secretary and fortunate in having the men who are its present directors to direct its affairs. They are willing and anxious to work for Cisco and they should be given the opportunity to do so."

VOTE "YES" SAYS DR. F. E. CLARK.

"Every thoughtful, progressive citizen of Cisco should be for the first three amendments to the charter having to do with the preservation of the chamber of commerce, the zoo and the band," said Dr. F. E. Clark when asked his views on the proposed amendments, one, two and three, which will be voted on April 4.

"No citizen of Cisco should fail to vote yes to these amendments that chamber of commerce is the publicity are the real life of our city. The department of Cisco and should be given sufficient funds with which to carry on in an economical yet efficient manner — there is no department of a city government that can take its place."

"The zoo brings thousands of people to our city each year and is forming the nucleus from which Cisco will grow into the recreational center for this section of the state. The band is doing its part in the advertising of Cisco's leadership in the Oilbelt," he said.

MCDONALD SUPPORTS AMENDMENTS

"I shall support the three proposed amendments to the charter of the city of Cisco affecting the chamber of commerce, the band and the zoo," said Homer McDonald, a candidate for city commissioner in the April 4 election. "A city without a chamber of commerce is a city without the spirit and energy to accomplish anything for itself, and especially in these times when there is so much competition between towns it is essential that we have an organization to promote our civic welfare. The chamber of commerce, the band and the zoo should be run as economically as possible but they should not be dispensed with. Each of them is worth to Cisco much more than its cost of upkeep."

Hoover Is Melted For Roosevelt

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent.
PARIS, March 25.—Herbert Hoover has been melted down and Franklin Roosevelt has been moulded from the same wax to take a prominent place in the French wax works known as the Musee Grevin.

Immortality, or oblivion, is merely a matter of wax, as far as the museum officials are concerned, and a present shortage in wax has necessitated the ex-President, along with Pershing, Lindbergh, and a number of prominent generals, being put into the melting pot to permit the modeling of the new Democratic President, Mussolini and Stalin.

When the French fliers, Costes and Bellonte, were melted to make room for Amelia Earhart and Amy Johnson Molison, their flying suits were preserved and draped over the wax effigies of the feminine celebrities. A bit small for their inherited masculine attire, both Amelia and Amy are impressive in their wax dignity and always command an audience.

Maxime Thomas has been director of the wax works for 23 years and gave the melting orders for Hoover, Pershing and the group of generals, whose popularity has faded. Last year, the Russian assassin, Dr. Paul Gorgouloff, who took the life of President Paul Doumer, enjoyed only a brief popularity.

One section of the museum is given over to models which are never changed except for occasional repairs, such as scenes from the life of Christ, Christian burials in the catacombs and the gory spectacle of lions licking their chops after having eaten the Christian martyrs in the Roman arenas.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT
PARIS, March 25.—America is making plenty of headway in the creation of her own styles, but every now and then she hits a snag and has to send someone running over here to get help. It isn't that she isn't more than capable of making clothes that fit better than Paris models, but a small dose of French inspiration goes such a long way that it is almost indispensable.

When an American designer sees a Paris collection of spring or winter clothes, it is impossible to go back to the States and not incorporate them in American made models. The sub-conscious as well as the conscious mind, has a strong hold on the designing hand.

French manufacturing mills are going to great expense this year to carry out the new ideas of the couturiers. They have both the means and the inspiration and France is leaving no stone unturned to cement the international fashion crown firmly over her locks. Other countries are not belittling in her eyes—they can, and do, produce good things, but Paris has been, is, and will be the pace-setter of the feminine mode. She admits that war is on to wrest the title from her, but she fears neither America nor Britain.

KALISPELL, Mont., March 25.—Transmitting and receiving radio sets for the forest service are to be installed during the coming summer for the purpose of sending fire messages in forests without telephone service.

There will be a total of about 80 Texas speakers and conference leaders on the program.
Rev. R. R. Lloyd, pastor Central Baptist church, San Antonio, is chairman of the general arrangements committee. Rev. S. C. Hubener, 4121 West Martin St., San Antonio, has charge of hotel reservations and Mrs. R. H. Burgess, 125 Glenwood street, home reservations.

COOPERATION IS URGED BY LABOR LEADER

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 25.—A plea for the entire nation to forget politics and give wholehearted cooperation to President Franklin D. Roosevelt has been issued here by Harry W. Fox, president of the Wyoming State Federation of Labor.

Under the heading of "The People Rest Their Case With Franklin D. Roosevelt" the labor leader expressed a hope that the new president will succeed in restoring order to the tangled state of economic affairs.

"One thing is perfectly plain to those who can claim familiarity with national affairs," said Fox, "and that is the complete and almost child like faith the great mass of people have, Republicans and Democrats alike, that President Roosevelt will find ways and means of setting the economic world in order and, in some way, hastening the arrival of re-employment and the return of prosperity."

"This is no time for blocking tactics, or for filibustering against relief measures, rather one for all national lawmakers to get their feet down to earth, recognize the situation, and work with the new president for the relief of national conditions."

One I Love

at a deeper interest he was sure to follow it with some casual remark.

It was as different from Rolf Carlyle as night from day. Rolf had paid her pretty compliments the second time he met her, had given her to understand that he was in love with her, the third.

Jeff Grant, on the contrary, talked about steel mills, the news on the sport page and funny things that happened at the office.

Mrs. Silvan nodded toward him and said to Janet one evening, "You're a lucky girl to have a young man like that one!"

Janet protested, "Oh, but it isn't like that! We're—we're only friends!"

The older woman continued smiling. "Sure, I know! And you'll make a fine couple, too. Oh, it's a fine thing to be young! Times have been hard for us, of course, but I can remember when Pat and I took the prize for being the best dancers at the St. Patrick's Day ball. We used to dance every Saturday evening."

Thinking about it afterward Janet shrugged. What difference did it make what Mrs. Silvan thought so long as Jeff Grant understood? There were no sentimental notions in Jeff Grant's mind. He wasn't that kind.

She was surprised the next evening when he knocked at her door. Janet opened it and said, "Oh—hello! Won't you come in?"

He had stopped at the door to talk to her once or twice but he had never entered the apartment. Now he came inside. Janet dropped into a chair and motioned him toward one.

"There's something I thought maybe you'd help me with," Grant said hesitantly. "All right. What is it?"

"Well—I wondered if you'd help me buy a present for a girl."

"What kind of a girl? I mean what's she like? Do you have any idea what kind of a present she'd especially like?"

Of course it hadn't been jealousy that flamed up in Janet's heart. That was ridiculous. Of course it couldn't be anything of the sort. Why should she care how many presents Jeff Grant bought for other girls? What difference could it make to her?

He answered all her questions in the negative. She was—well, just an ordinary girl. He didn't know how old she was. About Janet's age, he thought. He didn't have any idea what she'd like. What kind of presents did girls like? Hadn't Janet any suggestions?

He was so helpless about it that she laughed. "Why, yes, of course, I could suggest a dozen things. It depends partly on how much you want to spend. You could get a vanity case or perfume or something for her room. A vase, a candy box maybe or a piece of pottery. Maybe she'd like a handbag. I saw some beauties in Marsh's window today. They were on sale at $5. Really lovely ones—!"

"That's an idea!" Grant nodded. "Do you think she'd like a handbag?"

Janet smiled again. "Well, of course I don't know. I'd like one of them myself, though."

"I think that's a good hunch," Jeff announced. "Would you be willing to go with me to buy it? I'm pretty dumb at things like that. It's probably pick out the worst in the bunch."

She agreed to meet him at Marsh's department store next day

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

at 12:15. They could buy the purse and then have a sandwich somewhere together. He stayed a little longer and then departed. "Twelve fifteen," he called over his shoulder as he closed the door. "Don't forget!"

At exactly 13 minutes past 12 o'clock the next day Janet entered the main door of Marsh's department store. Jeff Grant was there before her.

"Hello," he grinned. "I was wondering what in the world I'd do if you didn't show up. These places give me the willies. Too many women around!"

He didn't seem in the least uncomfortable, though, five minutes later when they stood before the purse counter. The young woman behind the counter who wore her blond hair in amazing ringlets smiled at him as she drew several purses from the case. She spoke with a marked southern drawl that Janet felt sure was affected.

"Now heah's a little numbah," she said. "We've been sellin' at $10.35. It's a real bah-gain—"

Jeff turned to Janet. "How about it? Do you like that?"

She shook her head. "Those clasps never hold. I know because I had one once."

It was an attractive handbag which they finally chose—a soft black leather envelope with a distinctive metal trim. The girl with the blond curls sent it to be wrapped in a gift box.

"I'm sure she'll like it," Janet said. "I think any girl would. It's so practical and a good size too."

"Well," Jeff said contentedly, "it you like it I guess it will do."

He hadn't volunteered any information about the recipient of the purse.

The young man glanced at his wrist watch when the package was delivered to him. "Sorry," he said, "it's later than I thought. I was hoping we'd have time to drop in at Hartley's but I don't believe we can make it. Where do you want to eat?"

Janet suggested a sandwich bar in the same block. They went there, found two vacant stools beside the counter and climbed up on them. Janet ordered a hot chicken sandwich and glass of milk. Jeff called for ham on rye with plenty of mustard.

"Well," he said, "that shopping business wasn't half bad, was it? You're the one I have to thank for that, though. Lord, I wouldn't have had the slightest idea what to buy—!"

He saw that she was not listening and the words broke off. Some earlier customer had left a folded newspaper on the counter. Janet opened it, glancing idly at the front page. All at once a headline in rather inconspicuous type stood out. Janet read it, stared at the words, read them over again. There it was—no mistake about it! The headline read:

"BETTY KENDALL, SOCIETY GIRL, ELOPES WITH ROLF CARLYLE"

Cellar Well Solves Shortage Problem

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 25.—It has been an unusually dry winter in the west and there is something of a water shortage in Cheyenne, just as there is in many other western cities.

W. L. Feiker doesn't care. Feiker's neighbors who can't water their early spring lawns because the city has imposed restrictions, notified police when he irrigated his yard with no regard for the city ordinance.

A patrolman called on Feiker and offered him a ticket. Feiker refused the summons and invited the officer to inspect his basement.

There the astonished patrolman saw a pump, with a capacity of 500 gallons per hour going full force, pumping water from a private well in the basement.

Feiker explained that he always has been troubled with a damp cellar. "I thought there might be water," he said, "so I cut a hole through the concrete dug down four feet, and there was the well."

DRUGS ARE PASSING

Years ago nearly all people believed that drugs would cure almost anything. The feeling prevailed that if the right kind of drugs could be found, it would soon make them well. Now a more enlightened public is getting away from this foolish idea. They are depending on Nature and not placing all of their faith in habit-forming drugs.

If you cut your finger, there is no known way to compel it to heal, yet Nature will repair the damage if you will stop cutting it. By the same token, Nature will restore health if you will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have some ailment that is due to faulty elimination or imbalance in the body's chemical arrangements, the thing to be done is to correct the body chemistry; clean up the entire system and allow Nature to repair the damage just as is done in the case of the cut finger.

W. J. PARSONS ANNOUNCES FOR CISCO MAYOR

To the Voters of Cisco:
 In announcing for the office of Mayor of the City of Cisco, I do so at the request of many citizens of Cisco and The Taxpayers' League.

I want it distinctly understood that I am not seeking myself up on the people of Cisco, but if I can be of any help to the people of this community, I am ready to do so.

One thing I will assure you of: I will be one man at least, if elected, that will do what I say I will do, when I go into the office so far as it lies in my power, so to do, regardless of how the City Hall bunch is organized and cliqued up. I will not go in there to represent that clique or any other clique, but my mission will be to represent the people, and if elected, the cliques will not be long finding it out.

All the candidates for office have repeatedly been invited by the Daily News to express themselves on the amendments, and so far they have remained silent.

I want to say here and now that I am for the RECALL AMENDMENT, and for the cutting off of full-time commissioners. And I am more interested in these amendments passing than I am in who goes into office at this time. I will have more to say regarding the amendments soon.

If a man is looking for a job, let him get out and apply for that job like a man.

I am for these things now, and will still be for them, even though I am honored with the office of Mayor.

I want to say also, that if I am elected to the office of Mayor, that I will use my influence to employ men from an efficiency standpoint and that I have no friends or relatives, or men that I owe, that I will be obligated to force on the payroll to be paid from the people's treasury, whether they are efficient or not.

I am for immediate action on securing a municipal gas supply for Cisco: The only way you can whip the Lone Star Gas Co. is with gas belonging to the people, piped down our back alleys.

By securing pipe at three cents per foot, as Rising Star did, 3x5280 ft. is $158.40 per mile and 30 miles of pipe at that rate: 30x$158.40 is $4,752.00. And that amount of pipe will pipe gas into town and down every alley in the town. (Why not some action?)

If the voters of Cisco see fit to elect me to office I will do all in my power to get some action on this gas question before another winter.

There is twice as much money on meter-deposit with the gas people today as it would cost to buy pipe at the Rising Star rate, to pipe this town, and it is not likely that Rising Star got the only pipe bargain left.

And about the bonded indebtedness: I am in favor of a group of 12 or 15 Cisco men acting with the commission in weeding out the phony bonds from the legitimate bond and telling the phony bond-holders to go jump in the lake, and notifying the holders of the good bonds that we are ready to settle if a way can be found that the people of Cisco can stand. But these 12 or 15 Cisco men must be elected by the voters of this city at a mass meeting held at the City Hall for that purpose. I am not in favor of these men being appointed by the Mayor or any one else.

And I want to say that if I am elected mayor of this city and a thing comes up to me like the Senior tax adjustment, (that I just read in last week's Citizen) I will show some how to use that mayor's veto, and there won't be enough political bosses in this town to keep me from it.

Especially to the small home owners of this town I am making a plea for support.

You are the people who have made it possible for Cisco to have her beautiful lake, you are the people who are entitled to have twice as much water for raising your gardens and beautifying your homes, at the same price you are now paying, but you do not get it. Why? Because you are paying for a bunch of Special Privileges, dished out to a group of men here that you might call the UPPER TEN.

I happened to be a member of a committee sent to the City Hall to go over their records. And what did we find? We found on the water records that the Cisco Amusement company owed a water bill of $604.20 and that they have only paid $50.00 since Mr. Winston has been water commissioner.

Now I am strong on amusements for everybody, and I believe it is good for all of us, but I am stronger for beans and potatoes in the back yard of the small home owner, after he pays the bill.

My opponents are going to do all in their power to make me out a radical. But I am not a radical. After you know me, you will find me to be a man of the tamest sort. But the real radical is the man who manhandles our public officials, and pays off hundreds of dollars in taxes with just a few dollars. And the ones that will let their water bill run into hundreds of dollars and then have it cancelled, or partially cancelled, by throwing their political influence to support our politicians.

Make me mayor of your town, and I will put that UPPER TEN out of politics during my term in office, and abolish all special privileges and establish a government at the city hall that will give equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

(Signed) W. J. PARSONS.
