HIGHEST COURT TO HAND DOWN LABOR RULINGS; TREND IS TO UPHOLD STATE INJUNCTIONS

GILBERT W. STEWART, JR.
U. P. Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The supreme court appears to have decided to chart the lines within which state courts may curtail certain purported "unreasonable" or "illegitimate" activities of labor unions.

In two actions so far this year the tribunal by inference has approved state court injunctions against strikes and picketing, and has agreed to examine the legal aspects of two others of a similar nature.

The series of cases raising these questions will be heard at the same time the court considers validity of the Wisconsin Employment Peace Act which carries far-reaching implications as to the degree to which states may by legislation, restrict labor activities in the face of the National Labor Relations act.

Court Reverses Self.

The court has set aside one of its own decisions of last June and has agreed to review a New York state anti-picketing injunction against an American Federation of Labor Teamsters union. The June decision voided the injunction. Two men who buy products from bakeries and sell them to retailers sought the injunction on the ground the union was trying to force them to hire a 99-a-day union man one day a week.

The union contends it was trying to offset the effects of the so-called "peddler system" by which bakeries, instead of employing their own delivery men, hire out the work to purported independent contractors. The system, it was argued, has made serious inroads on the employment of drivers.

Union Appeals Case.

The union appealed after the injunction was sustained in Texas courts, maintaining its rights of free speech were violated.

One of the actions in which the court, by implication, approved state court injunctions was its refusal to review an Ohio Supreme court decision upholding such an order against the A. F. of L. moving picture operators' union in a Springfield, O., dispute.

The injunction prohibited picketing which began when William Settos, operator of the Liberty theater, refused to sign a closed shop contract which he contended would have required him to hire two additional machine operators. A later proposal, Settos said, contemplated acceptance of one of his two non-union operators into the union.

The high court has declined to disturb a New York state court injunction forbidding the A. F. of L. stagehands' union from striking against a touring opera company which used recorded opera music in the place of a pit orchestra. The stagehands allegedly struck on behalf of union musicians.

CANADA MAKES ALL-OUT SHIFT TO WAR GOODS

By ROBERT C. HANSON
OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—Canada's industrial capacity has been thrown over to direct and indirect war production almost in its entirety following a year of concern over plant and machinery shortages.

New plants have risen, old plants have been extended and ghost factories dusted off after years of idleness to bring prosperity to shabby mill towns under capital advances of $490,000,000 under-written by the Canadian and British treasuries.

Hand-in-hand with the stepped-up production program needed to provide and feed the tools of an undeveloped nation now nearly two years at war, 100 new air fields and a $110,000,000 building program have acted as a tonic for the construction trades.

Since the outbreak of war, Canada has increased exports to Britain through the midst of the Battle of the Atlantic and for the year ending last March, exports were 45 per cent above the figure for the preceding year. This year, estimates place the export figure at $1,500,000,000, equivalent in United States potentialities to $23,000,000,000.

The high speed tempo of jumping production facilities has absorbed 350,000 men into industry in little more than a year. To prevent drastic shortages as needs increase, technical and plant schools have been opened with a possible training level of 100,000 a year, 80 per cent for war work.

Government agencies have kept a close watch on labor as a whole. Minimum wages have been stepped up and bonuses arranged, but strikes or lockouts in defense industries have been outlawed—unless either party refuses to abide by conciliation board finds.

Twice the labor department has rapped its newly-mailed fist. In one steel plant, the management refused to accept a board finding and the workers walked out. The government stepped in and placed the plant back in operation under its own controller. At another plant, workers struck without applying for a board. Ordered back to work, 14 refused and were arrested.

In the field of war production, many of Canada's plants are turning out goods new to them, but by far the biggest advance has been in the field of shipbuilding and aircraft, little attention to which was paid in peacetime.

Shipyards had payrolls for 1,500 men at the outbreak of war and now they carry 20,000, with more needed to operate 17 major plants and 45 smaller yards. New shipyards have been built and dry docks constructed to guarantee a quick turnabout for merchantmen and quick repairs for warships.

FIREMEN ADOPT STATE PENSION REGULATIONS

At a called meeting of the Cisco fire department Thursday evening the department voted to participate in the state plan providing for pensioning members of fire departments. A motion was adopted that each member pay $3 per month into a fund, this to be augmented by funds from the state and 2 per cent of the gross revenues collected by fire insurance companies from local insurance policies. This fund will be held locally and distributed locally by trustees composed of members of the fire department and the city commission. These trustees will pass upon the eligibility of potential beneficiaries, according to plans now in the formative stage, J. J. Collins, former chief, said.

The law provides that firemen reaching 55 years of age, who have been in the fire department 20 years, will be eligible for a pension of $25 per month.

"About the only benefit that will probably accrue to Cisco firemen," Mr. Collins stated, "will be for disability, as few, if any, will be able to qualify for a pension under the 20-year service requirement; but all will be eligible for disability benefits should they become disabled in service. I have been a member of the Cisco department for more than 20 years, and I am an exception. I know of no other member who has been a fireman for that length of time.

"The eligibility of firemen for disability benefits will be passed upon and determined by the local board of trustees. However, plans for handling this fund have not yet been worked out, but will probably be perfected in a few days," Collins concluded.

MRS. J. A. TUNE STROKE VICTIM THURSDAY NITE

Relatives here of Mrs. J. A. Tune were informed Thursday night that she had suffered a stroke, and were advised to come to Dallas, where Mrs. Tune is with her daughter, Mrs. Sylvester Dossett.

Clarence Tune of the Cisco fire department, a stepson, said the message announcing his mother's illness gave few particulars and no additional message had reached them this morning.

He stated that he will likely go to Dallas Saturday.

YOUTHS URGED TO ACT EARLY ON BAD TEETH

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Approximately 100,000 men rejected from the selective service ranks because of dental deficiencies could be rehabilitated under a plan proposed here by Lieutenant Commander C. Raymond Wells of Washington, chief dental officer of the Selective Service System.

Speaking at a dental conference here, Dr. Wells suggested that men rejected because of bad teeth go voluntarily to their dentists to correct the defects.

"For those unable to pay," said the officer, "the federal government would meet the dentist's bill.

"Thus the civil practitioners will have charge of the rehabilitation of their men in their own communities. The program would be under the direction of the Selective Service System, the local boards and physicians and dentists connected with the local boards."

The plan, said Dr. Wells, is designed to meet President Roosevelt's wish to rehabilitate physical defects in men who can be made available for military duty.

GETTING INTO THE SWING—In training with Britain's new army unit, member of the "comandos" learns how to construct bivouacs out of branches of trees. Men chosen for this brand of service must be of high physical fitness and intelligence and undergo intense training.

NEW LAW PUTS FBI ON TRAIL OF RUSTLERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—The FBI has assumed a new duty, and with it, the last vestiges of the old-time sheriff's posse and the "local justice" of the Far West have passed.

The activities of the G-men were broadened when President Roosevelt signed a bill which made it a federal offense to transport stolen cattle across state lines. Cattle rustling for the first time thus came under the jurisdiction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The law represents a hard-fought victory for Western cattlemen, who for years had found local law officials unable to cope with modern rustling.

With the entry of the FBI into the picture and the provision of severe penalties for infraction of the law, all Western states have noted a sharp decline in rustling.

ICE SKATING, TEXAS NOVELTY TO DRAW MANY

Many north and west Texas people, including citizens of Cisco, are expected to descend upon the new ice arena in Will Rogers Coliseum, Fort Worth, for the free open house, Sunday.

The program calls for public ice skating, exhibitions of figure skating, and a workout and scrimmage by the Fort Worth "Rangers," the ice hockey team.

Red Bennett, who performed in the Adolphus hotel ice show last summer, will do his famed barrel jump on the ice. Dick Palmer will "figure" skate. The exhibitions are scheduled for 4 and 8 p. m., to be followed by the hockey team workout.

Ice skates will be rented at a nominal charge to those who do not own them. Doors will open at noon.

The American Hockey association season opens next Wednesday night at 8:30, with the Fort Worth "Rangers" playing the Saint Paul "Saints" in the Fort Worth arena.

DANIELS RESIGNS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—President Roosevelt today accepted the resignation of Josephus Daniels as U. S. ambassador to Mexico. Mr. Roosevelt, in making the announcement, said that of all the people who had been at foreign posts in Latin America in the last 8 1/2 years, he thought Daniels had done more to encourage and live up to the good neighbor policy than any.

"DOVE" OF PEACE—If President Roosevelt would permit, Rev. Benny Benson of Brooklyn, N. Y., told parishioners he'd be willing to pilot plane to Berlin to present Hitler with ten-point peace plan.

GOOD CROWDS IN SPITE OF BAD WEATHER

The people of the congregation of the First Baptist church have been pleased with the good crowds at the fall revival services now in progress, in spite of very inclement weather.

A large crowd heard the message Thursday evening on "Sowing and Reaping." The minister said: "If you sow cockle burrs, you shall reap cockle burrs. If you sow roses, you shall reap roses." The text: "Be not deceived. God is not mocked. Whosoever a man soweth that shall he also reap," the pastor-evangelist stated "is self explanatory."

Full attendance is expected tonight when the visiting minister will preach on "The Second Coming of Christ."

Thursday evening there were two more additions to the church by letter and baptism.

The revival closes Sunday evening with a baptismal service. A large attendance is being worked for and expected Sunday, in all services.

The cable is said to have parted, dropping the tools in the hole. It was said when the cable broke the bit was drilling 60 feet in the Caddo lime, with encouraging oil showings.

TEXAN WAS IN CHARGE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The United States destroyer Reuben James, commanded by Lieut. Com. Heywood L. Edwards, 35 years old and a native of San Saba, Texas, was torpedoed and sunk in the North Atlantic last night while conveying shipping west of Iceland. The James carried about 150 officers and men and was the first U. S. warship sunk during this war.

The brief navy announcement did not say how many men, if any, were lost, but the navy promised that information would be released as soon as received.

Announcement of the sinking followed by a few hours a German communique saying a destroyer had been sunk recently at some undisclosed place, but did not give the nationality of the vessel.

The James was of the same type as 50 overage destroyers traded to Britain for Atlantic bases.

President Roosevelt stated this afternoon that the international situation from an American viewpoint remains unchanged despite the sinking of the Destroyer James.

LT. EDWARDS BORN. RAISED SAN SABA, TEX.

SAN SABA, Oct. 31.—Commander Edwards was a noted football player on the San Saba High School team and is remembered by San Sabans as a popular boy who loved the outdoors. He became interested in the navy because it was his father's hobby and was appointed to the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1922, immediately after graduating from high school. He was commissioned as ensign in 1926.

He later joined the U. S. S. Florida, a battleship on which he served until February, 1928. He then was assigned to duty at the Naval Academy with the Olympic squad. An all-around athlete he had served on the Annapolis wrestling, boxing and football teams and was captain of the wrestling team of the 1928 Olympic squad.

In September, 1928, he was assigned to the U. S. S. Reno, serving on that cruiser until December, 1930. His subsequent service until he was assigned to the submarine base at New London, Conn. He received instruction in submarine operation and upon completion of that course was attached to the U. S. S. Bonita, an undersea craft.

In 1932, Edwards returned to the Naval Academy for duty with the United States Olympic squad. Later he was assigned to the submarine Barracuda and after that duty received post-graduate instruction in the navy's school of the line at Annapolis. Then, from June, 1935, to May, 1938, he served on the cruiser Detroit.

During the remainder of 1938 and until 1940 he was on duty at the Norfolk Navy Yard. He assumed command of the Reuben James April 6, 1940.

FLIERS RESCUED.

FRESNO, Calif., Oct. 31.—Two army fliers, lost in the mountains since last Friday, were rescued by land crews today after they had been sighted from the air. They were Lt. Jack West and Lt. Leonard Lyndon.

THIS IS LATE CLAIM ISSUED FROM BERLIN

On the high seas Berlin today claimed another submarine success in the sinking of 27,000 tons of shipping, comprising six ships, plus a destroyer and two patrol boats.

Russian troops fought stubbornly against a powerful Nazi offensive against Moscow's southern approaches and into Crimea, while a new Japanese threat against Thailand and the Burma Road appeared to be building up in the Far East.

Reports from the Soviet war front told of a pounding German drive on the Tula salient, 100 miles south of the Russian capital, new frontal attacks on the Central Moscow sector and a continued drive southward into Crimea.

Germans claimed the Crimea offensive is approaching rout for the Russians, who were said to be in "full flight."

JEHOVAH FOLK FILE SUITS TO HALT CITIES

FT. WORTH, Oct. 31.—A group of Jehovah's Witnesses filed civil suits in federal court Friday seeking to prevent Ranger, Comanche, Dublin and Coleman from halting their distribution of literature.

The complaint, filed by Paul Borchert and other Witnesses, alleges these cities have changed their city ordinances prohibiting peddling so as to stop distribution of Jehovah Witnesses literature, such as the Watchtower.

Federal Judge Wilson issued a show cause order instructing the defendants to appear in court here at 10 a. m. on Nov. 1 to show why a preliminary injunction should not be issued.

O'DANIEL WANTS ACTION.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Senator O'Daniel asked the senate today to dispense with further debate on neutrality revision and vote now on "whether this nation is neutral."

WILLKIE'S WARNING.

It is well to re-read the warning sounded last Sunday by Wendell Willkie. Indeed, it would be well to preserve it and read it every Sunday until further notice, or until the war is over. Here it is: "Let us stop deluding ourselves. Berlin, Tokyo and Rome are irrevocably linked by the dangerous dream of world conquest. Victory for one is a victory for all. Their aim is world domination—the destruction of Liberty, the end of Democracy.

"Our ships will continue to be torpedoed and sunk unless we arm them fast. Axis victories will not end unless we deliver in rapidly increasing amounts our goods into the hands of those who are fighting for freedom on sea and land.

"But even this is not enough. We must remove the show and deception of hypocritical neutrality laws. We must abandon the hope of peace. We can no more negotiate a peace with the war lords of Tokyo than with the conquering dictator of Berlin."

This is not pleasant reading, but it is profitable realism.

FREEDOM FOR MUSIC.

There was danger that Walter Damrosch, beloved friend of every American who enjoys good music, should at the age of 80 be prevented from giving his weekly lessons to thousands of school children by some petty jurisdictional fuss. But Walter was right there on the first Friday of the season with his gentle and beautiful teaching.

The giant called American Public Opinion is slowly waking up. When he rises, he will snap all the threads with which little people have sought to bind him.

HARD TO BELIEVE.

This may not be true, but there are such definite and continued reports of it from Germany that it is widely accepted. Hitler and his gang are said to be ordering German girls to produce more cannon-fodder for the Nazis, regardless of the moral code. "A girl evading her duty," they say, "is like a soldier deserting his flag. For pure-blooded German girls there is a war duty outside of marriage, which has nothing to do with marriage."

This seems to go back to the time of the ancient Spartans, who had a purely military system, without marriage in the modern sense, breeding soldiers for war as horses are bred. The Nazi leadership has killed or disabled so many men that it may really seek to replace them by the procedure suggested. But we never expected to see any such system proposed in this modern world, and in a supposedly Christian nation. And it doesn't seem possible that the German people would accept such a pagan plea.

Church Lotteries.
 Scottish Rite News Bureau: Those who play the ponies may get the big publicity, but the average United States citizen is more apt to buy a ticket for a church raffle, play cards or dice with his friends, or drop a few coins in a slot machine than to bet on a horse race, a recent Gallup Poll reveals.

Some 54 per cent of the adult Americans gambled in some form during the past year, and of that number, 24 per cent participated in some type of church lottery. The same number played cards or dice for money or used slot machines. Only 9 per cent bet on horse races.

This means that church lotteries gained almost 20,000,000 participants last year—double the number that bought Irish sweepstake tickets before the war largely discontinued their sale.

Significantly, a large number of those questioned did not consider church lotteries as gambling. They took the position that, since the money went to a worthy cause, no harm was done.

Church lotteries have become more and more popular in recent years. Bingo, in particular, has proved profitable to charitable and church organizations trying to raise money. Apparently the only way to get contributions is to appeal to the well-known American gambling instinct.

Not all believe this method worthy of religious organizations, and churches have been severely criticized for encouraging gambling among its members. There is no reason to believe that a worthy cause, if well presented, will not draw as much from outright contributions as it will from lotteries. Certainly there will be less loss of prestige.

Rags of Neutrality.
 New York Times (Ind. D.): Except for a provision for licensing exports for war materials, the Neutrality Act has ceased to represent the policies of our government, the necessities of the situation or, on the basis of congressional votes and indications of popular sentiment, the wishes of our people. It is the rags and tatters of an outworn illusion. It is time to end it once and for all. It is time to defend our right to send our ships into any waters and any friendly ports that will welcome them, carrying such cargoes as we choose to send.

A United America.
 St. Louis Globe Democrat (Rep.): We seek no war with Hitler, we want no war with any of the Axis powers. But we will fight if we must—God forbid! Our course has been set by the president. Right or wrong, it is the course we must follow. The president's defense program, drastic as it is, must not be sabotaged henceforth by the Wheelers and Lindberghs and Nyes. They have spoken their pieces and should retire. From now on the United States must be a united nation. To take our stand otherwise is to play Hitler's game under his own rules.

Sound Foreign Policy.
 New York Herald Tribune (Rep.): Roosevelt has acted shrewdly and soundly in the diplomatic field, displaying patience and restraint before the public, refusing to capitalize incidents, and developing step by step the nation's defense system in the Atlantic with an eye single to considerations of fundamental strategy. This is a large achievement. In so doing he unmistakably has the blessing of the country.

In addition to the retirement clause the plan, recently worked out and enacted into law by the Texas legislature, provides that any firemen disabled while fighting fire will be eligible for compensation of $25 monthly. The total board of trustees will pass on all cases and have charge of making payments, the Review was told Tuesday.

RISING STAR

Miss Betty Copeland, 65, passed away at her home near Bangs early Wednesday morning from fatal burns sustained when a pail of gasoline ignited at the A. M. Welch home here, where she was visiting, Tuesday afternoon. According to Mr. Welch, his son, Ray Welch, who lives nearby, had come down to his home to water-proof a wagon sheet. It was stated that a pail of gasoline and paraffin was being heated on the kitchen stove and when Miss Copeland sensed that it was getting too hot she attempted to remove it—when it ignited, throwing flames all over her. Members of the family rushed to her aid and Ray Welch was severely burned about the hands and arms in removing her flaming clothing. Miss Copeland was immediately rushed to a local physician's office where she was given emergency treatment and later carried in a Higginbotham ambulance to her home at Bangs where she passed away at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. Funeral services were held there and interment made yesterday afternoon. Mr. Welch stated that the visitor was an old friend of the family and had arrived Sunday for a few days' visit with them.

Mrs. Frank Castleberry of Eastland was a guest in the R. A. Horton home Sunday.

Mrs. Hallie Roan McDonald of

Carl Irby, also of Rising Star, and Mrs. R. D. Brice, of Los Angeles, Calif.; also two sisters, Mmes. J. E. Edgington of Humbolt, Ariz., and F. A. Haynes, of near Rising Star; a niece, Mrs. Nola Cox, of Corpus Christi, and a number of grandchildren. All were present at the funeral. Mrs. Irby, who, before her marriage, was Miss Sallie Deens, with her family settled in the Sipe Springs community in about 1875. She was married to James Irby, a young school teacher of the day, and together they came to this community in about 1879, and settled on what is known as the Jas. Irby homestead, just south of town. Mr. and Mrs. Irby were among the organizers of the local Methodist church, it being located in a log hut just east of town for the first few years. Since that time she has been an active member and was one of the most highly esteemed and beloved matrons of the community. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 in charge of the pastor, Rev. J. O. Whitaker, and interment made in Rising Star cemetery. Active pall bearers were: E. R. Patterson, E. F. Agnew, M. D. Gibson, Tom Butler, Fred Seikman and Fred Roberts. A long list of honorary pall bearers was made up from old friends of the family.

SHACKELFORD COUNTY

Between 30 and 40 Shackelford county land owners met at the district court room Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock to hear a discussion of the soil conservation law by V. C. Marshall of Temple, and to decide whether the county would ask for a district. Glenn Taylor, chairman of the Shackelford county board, presided for the hearing, and following the discussion the group of farmers and ranchers passed a resolution asking the state soil conservation board to call an election so that all land-owners can vote on the question of forming a district that will include central, eastern and southern Shackelford county, all of Stephens county and the northern part of Callahan county. V. C. Marshall, administrator of the soil conservation law, explained the law to the group, telling of the advantage land-owners would gain by forming a district that would have the aid of all government agencies over a long-range period of time in conserving the soil and water.

LEGIONNAIRE PHONES WARNING IN TEST DRILL.

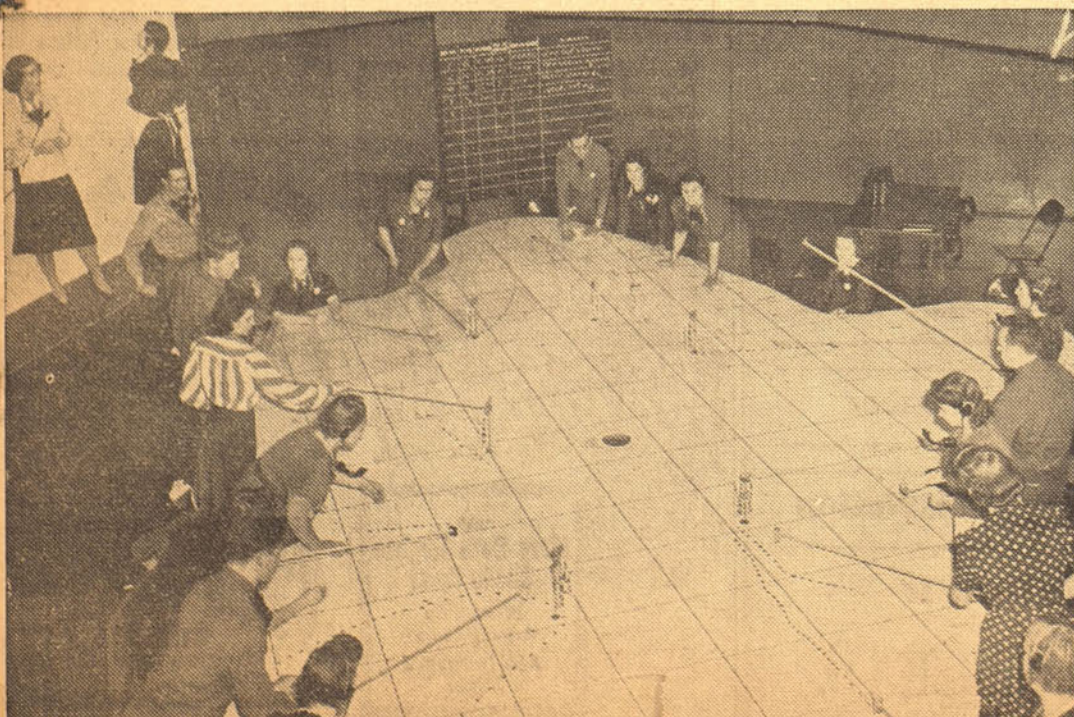

From fireside, farm and factory, American patriots, male and female, are emerging to take their places in the civilian armies, fast forming to serve behind the front as their native land is once again threatened by the grim God of War. A modern version of the "Minute Men of '76" is one of these "armies," the Civilian Spotters, who will constantly scan the skies for the approach of enemy planes. Working in conjunction with military authorities, "spotters," from rooftop or field, phone instant warning of enemy aircraft to their local headquarters, which in turn convey detailed information to adjacent army airposts. There, after swift calculation of enemy position, speedy pursuit planes are sent aloft to repel the aerial invasion. Wired instructions also send anti-aircraft guns in vicinity into action.

KENNEDY SAYS LA GUARDIA IS UNFIT FOR JOB

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Representative Kennedy of New York called on President Roosevelt Thursday to remove Fiorello H. La Guardia, New York City mayor, from his office as civilian defense director because of "neglect of duty" and "conduct unbecoming a public official."

In a speech on the house floor, Kennedy criticized an address in New York by La Guardia last Monday, saying the mayor was "best known for a loose tongue from which rolls the vilest epithets and the most insulting language," and concluded:

"Because of his neglect of duty, conduct unbecoming a public official and gross violation of his oath of office, all of which are a stench in the nostrils of the decent, God-fearing people of the United States, I demand that the president summarily remove from the office of director of civilian defense Fiorello H. La Guardia."

You should be glad if your children argue with you. If they simply listen to your words of wisdom the chances are they are just humoring you.

Mrs. Prickett Entertained N&T Club Thurs.

Mrs. T. R. Prickett was hostess to the Needle and Thread club Thursday afternoon, with the vice-president, Mrs. R. D. Jones, presiding. Floral decorations of marigolds and chrysanthemums adorned the rooms. A hallowe'en motif was observed in appointments and table decorations. The table was centered with a large pumpkin in a nest of autumn leaves and acorns, with squirrels and black cats near by.

The minutes were read by Mrs. T. R. Prickett and roll call was answered with a continuation hallowe'en story. The afternoon was spent in sewing and games. An exchange of gifts will be made at the next meeting, as rosebud names were drawn.

At the close of the work period refreshments of pumpkin pie with hot chocolate and whipped cream were served; plate favors were pins made of pecan shells. Mrs. Prickett was assisted in serving by her sister, Miss Stina Fields.

Those present were Mrs. A. L. Clark, Mrs. H. R. Garrett, Mrs. C. C. Webb, Mrs. Sim Ledford, Mrs. R. D. Jones, Mrs. S. B. Parks, Mrs. C. E. Turknett, Mrs. J. A. Smith, Miss Fields and Mrs. Prickett.
