PIONEER HIGH SENIOR CLASS VISITS COLLEGE

A portion of the senior class of the Pioneer high school, accompanied by Supt. L. C. Cash, are on a tour of visitation and inspection of Cisco Junior college today, with a view of attending summer school, the fall term, or both.

Superintendent Cash is a very wide awake and genial gentleman, who evidently knows how to handle his work with the minimum of friction, and those of the senior class whom he accompanied here, were eager to learn all possible about the college, its equipment and curriculum, during the short period they were permitted to reveal in the college atmosphere.

The class especially asked to inspect the biology, botany and chemistry laboratories in order to view the skeleton and the strange specimens embalmed and on display. The butterfly specimens were attractions that interested most of the girls, while the glass retorts and other equipment caught the eyes of the boys.

Mr. Cash said the group would probably want to go swimming while here, even though the weather was a little off color; that they certainly would not want to miss the fine waters of Lake Cisco.

Those in the group were Supt. L. C. Cash, Forrest Tyler, Nell Grant, Bessie Harris, Charlene McCowan, Imogene Perkins, Bonelle, Shirley, Ray Curry, Gail Dean, Tommy Menton and Doran Graves.

LARGE RATTLER STRIKES YOUNG BAIRD CHILD

Donnie Ray Ables, 8-year-old son of Mrs. Winnie Ables of Baird, is recovering from a rattlesnake bite which threatened to be serious for a time.

The child was at play with other children late Sunday afternoon in a Baird tourist camp when struck by the serpent, which carried nine rattles.

The boy, suffering intensely, was rushed to a hospital for treatment and is now presumed to be out of danger.

Will Pay Tribute To Hospital Donors

Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of the University of Texas, will deliver the commemorative address at the sixth annual memorial services of the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas Sunday afternoon, May 23. Memorializing Texans whose bequests to the hospital endowment fund have helped make possible the care and treatment of crippled children of the state, the services will be broadcast over radio.

Dr. W. R. White, president of Hardin-Simmons university, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon for Cisco Junior College Thursday evening, May 27, at First Methodist church.

In making this announcement, R. N. Cluck, president of the college, said: "We are fortunate in securing the services of this fine speaker. Dr. White is recognized as one of the ten outstanding speakers of the United States and was formerly pastor of the Oklahoma City Baptist church, largest Baptist congregation in America. He is in such demand that almost every minute of his time is spoken for as speaker for such occasions as this."

The speaker for Junior college commencement address will be announced soon, Mr. Cluck stated.

LIONS PRESENT COLORFUL PROGRAM TODAY

A colorful program at the Lions luncheon today, sponsored by program chairman J. T. Eggen, was presented by Mrs. Alfred Irby and her high school library featuring beauty and patriotism and precision of portrayal, calling forth the strongest praise and endorsement by Lion members. All characters did their parts unusually well and the music trio by Misses Gloria Graham and Rose Ann Woods, violins, and Miss Betty Slicker, piano, gave the fine art touch that made the program par-excellent.

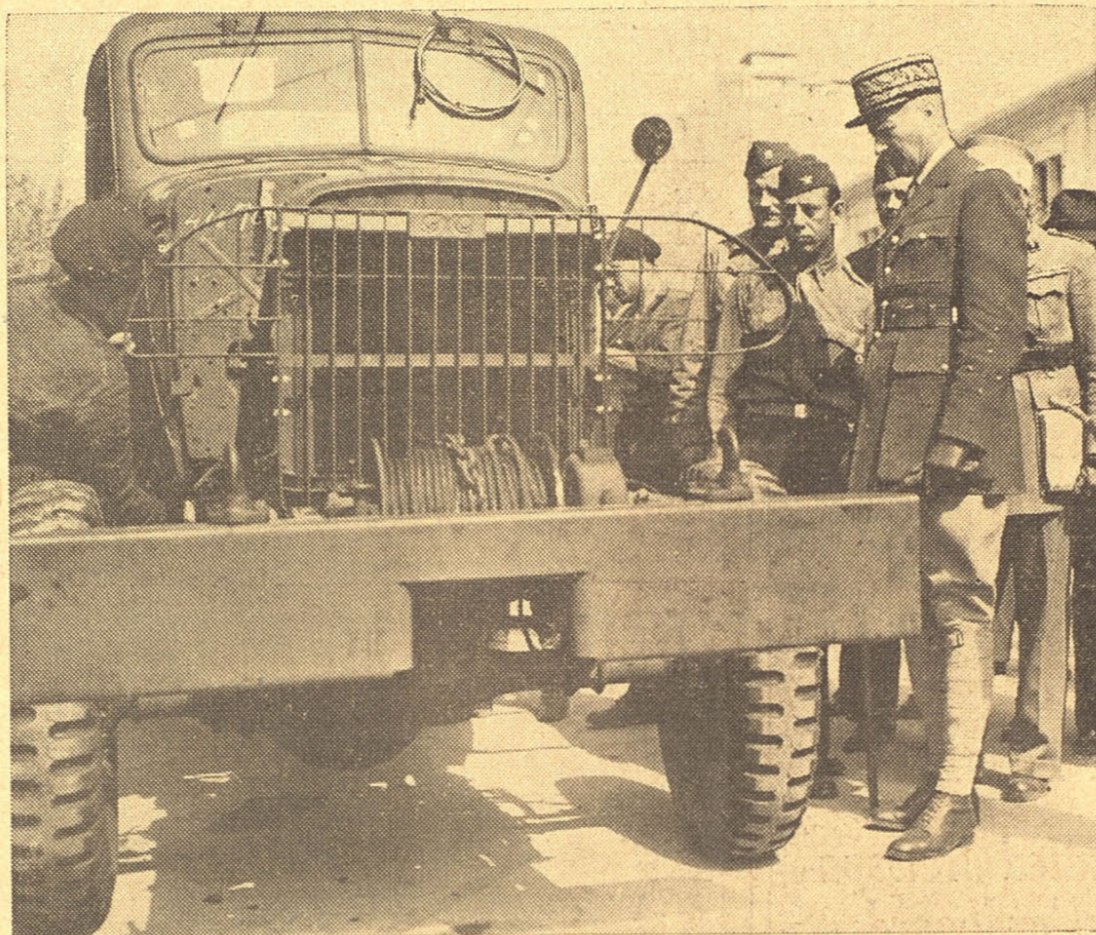

During the business session President N. C. Huston appointed a committee consisting of Russell Dennis, O. L. Stamey and Austin Flint to organize the various civic clubs, churches and other forces to combat the alarming tendency toward juvenile delinquency that abounds in Cisco and elsewhere.

President Huston also appointed a committee consisting of W. H. LaRogue and O. L. Stamey to form a return engagement of the "Womanless Wedding" play that won such high praise recently at high school auditorium. It was mentioned that a fuller cast and elaboration of the ceremony would make the play much more interesting at this time, even for those who had seen it before.

COOLING UNITS AT SCHOOL

Sundry correspondence and reports were heard at the chamber of commerce meeting last night, and action was taken on some of the matters discussed.

It was announced that cooling units had been installed at the training school office and in the canteen unit, and President J. D. Lauderdale directed that cooperation be given Mrs. E. L. Graham and her recreational committee in securing donations for furnishing the club room for the training school girls—a feature that is being promoted for recreational activities for these young ladies.

In connection with the installation of the air cooling units, it was announced that the contribution of $250 toward the war ordinance fund by Miss Mabel Daniel, proprietor of the Daniel hotel, made this feature possible.

Directors A. E. McNeely and C. E. Hickman reported on work of M. D. Fox and his future farmers class, which is being done on the 42-acre tract of land south of Cisco Junior college. A report by Mr. Fox was also heard.

Following the meeting, a number of the directors visited the Cisco War Ordinance Training Center, where they were shown the activities and new installations by Supt. J. R. Crawford.

Directors present were R. N. Cluck, C. E. Hickman, J. D. Lauderdale, A. E. McNeely, R. L. Ponsler, Wm. Reagan and L. A. Warren. Visitors were Charles J. Kleiner and M. D. Fox.

SOVIET ARMEN.
MOSCOW, May 19.—The telling blows dealt German air and supply bases during the last three weeks by Soviet airmen were reflected today in a front-line dispatch to Red Star, army newspaper, which said: "The Germans have begun to shift their air forces from Crimean airdromes to reinforce their exhausted units."

HUMBLE HIKES CRUDE.

EASTLAND LAD DEAD; HANGED

A very sad happening took place in Eastland yesterday afternoon some time between school dismissal and 6:30, when J. T. Shirley, going to investigate the absence of his son, Joe Shirley, 14 years of age, found him hanging by the neck from a rope suspended from a joist about eight feet above ground in an old lumber shed. When released he was dead.

Coroner E. E. Wood of Eastland said he had not rendered a verdict as to whether the strangulation was self-inflicted, purposely, or by accident, as there were some other phases of the investigation that were not yet completed when he held his court of findings this morning.

Funeral was held this morning at the First Baptist church and burial will be made at Anson this afternoon.

The lad is survived by his father and mother and several other children. The father is employed by the Lone Star gas company as a meter reader. The family had lived in Eastland about 17 months. The boy had returned from school, complaining of not feeling well—a headache—but was sent out to clean the cow shed, which was an old abandoned shed of the Pickering Lumber company and used by the Shirleys as a cow shed.

It was suggested that if the act was premeditated the lad would have had to have stood on a cross beam about 20 inches above the floor, giving himself about that many inches to drop. The rope was tied in a peculiar knot—not a regular hangman's knot—Mr. Wood said.

The family were busy about the place and did not miss the youth for some time, but failure to report after an unusual lapse of time, caused the father to investigate.

ALLISON FAVORS CHIRO LICENSE BILL

FT. WORTH, May 19.—Fort Worth chiropractors are unanimously in favor of the licensing bill which has been passed by the legislature and now awaits the signature of Governor Stevenson, H. C. Allison said.

Unless the bill is vetoed it will become effective Aug. 9 and will permit chiropractors to practice legally in Texas for the first time. Allison, Fort Worth chiropractor, said opposition developed among chiropractors is coming from those who will be unable to qualify under the bill. "If they can't meet the educational requirements imposed by the bill, they ought not to be practicing," Allison said.

Each chiropractor must have had two years of college training in addition to 3,600 hours in a recognized school of chiropractic. Chiropractors also must pass written examinations in physiology, anatomy, hygiene, sanitation, bio-chemistry and pathology.

They must not treat any person for infectious or contagious disease, nor engage in the practice of medicine nor advise anyone against inoculation, without danger of losing their license and serving prison terms.

The name of Dr. Gary L. Smith was inadvertently omitted as one of the ministers who participated in the get-together program at Lake Cisco Sunday afternoon.

200,000 POUNDS OF DYNAMITE PLACED WHERE IT WOULD DO MOST GOOD IN FIFTH ATTACK

NORTH AFRICA, May 19. — Allied air fleets smashed the Italian island base of Pantelleria with 200,000 pounds of high explosives in the fifth and heaviest raid since the beginning of softening-up attacks in preparation for invasion of Europe.

Docks and airfields were pulverized by the attacks, while American Flying Fortresses, escorted by Lightnings, struck at the west Sicilian port of Trapani.

At least three ships were smashed in the attacks, today's communique said. One ship, the dock area and railroad yards were hit at Trapani.

Six enemy fighters were shot down when they tried to break up the raid, the communique said.

A strong force of medium bombers and fighter bombers with fighter escort attacked Pantelleria, which lies between Tunisia and Sicily, scoring hits on two small ships and targets in the dock area. At the air field, bombs burst among ground planes.

(An Italian communique, broadcast by the Rome radio, said Allied planes machine gunned Reggio Calabria in southern Italy and bombed Porto Empedocle in southern Sicily in addition to the other raids).

AXIS AFRICA YANK TROOPS LOSSES ARE IN GOOD POSITION, ATTU NEAR 324,000

NORTH AFRICA, May 19. — Axis troops suffered a total of 324,000 killed, wounded and captured in the battle for Tunisia in addition to casualties inflicted by the British Eighth army before the battle of the Mareth Line started on March 21.

An official statement today said 224,000 prisoners were taken in the final phase of fighting from May 5 to May 18.

A break-down showed that the total of prisoners taken since last Nov. 8, when the American invasion began, was 267,000, including those captured by the Americans, the British First Army and the French as well as by the British Eighth Army after March 21.

It was estimated that 30,000 Axis troops were killed and 27,000 seriously wounded in this same period.

JAMES WRIGHT TO TRAIN FOR AN AIR PILOT

James R. Wright, Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. James R. Wright, goes to Dallas Saturday for induction into pre-cadet training for air pilot.

Wright has already taken his mental and physical tests, following his enlistment early in February at Abilene, and hopes he will be able to enter immediately for his cherished goal of training for pilot.

Young Mr. Wright is a graduate of Cisco high school and has had a half year in Cisco Junior college. He has worked at the Dean Drug store and in the J. C. Penney stores during after-school hours. Since September, he has been employed afternoons and Saturdays at The Man's Store. He is 18 years of age and popular in his social set.

WASHINGTON, May 19. — American troops today were in position to undertake a decisive and perhaps final assault on the main Japanese concentrations on Attu Island in the Aleutians.

This attack will be undertaken, weather permitting, as soon as a juncture is effected between the two American columns advancing from opposite sides of the eastern end of the island. At last reports the two columns had not yet joined but the main barrier to their union has been removed.

Japanese troops, entrenched along a rocky ridge protecting the major enemy positions established along Holtz Bay and Chigog Harbor, had held up the advance of both American forces. But after almost a week of fighting, the enemy was driven from the ridge and the Americans are now in possession of high ground commanding enemy installations.

MEDICAL CARE SAVED 97 PER CENT WOUNDED

WASHINGTON, May 19. — More than 97 per cent of the navy men and marines wounded at Pearl Harbor have survived, the office of war information reported today.

"The wounded don't die" was the theme of an exhaustive OWI report on the treatment of United States army and navy casualties. Its findings were summed up in these words:

"Never before in the history of the world has the fighting man had available the medical and equipment the United States now furnishes its de-

STERILIZE.

When Hitler goes, what? Once before, Germany, loaded down by a hated ruler, dropped him overboard, and managed to save itself from utter ruin. Thus the Junkers and big Prussian land-owners were left practically untouched by the war, and felt safe to try again later. What worked once may be repeated.

If there is such a thing as learning from experience, the United Nations will not duplicate the mistake of 1918. The great Prussian estates will be broken up, and their owners made powerless for future plotting.

Prussia is not the only country with war-mongering Junker landlords. When the United Nations sterilize the infected Prussian area, they will be wise not to forget Hungary. Rumania could benefit by a little concentrated attention, also.

90 PERCENT.

The great war building program has passed its peak. "It is tapering off rapidly," says Major-General Eugene Reybold, chief of the army engineer corps, in a hearing before the senate appropriations committee. The plan was to spend 10 billion dollars on camps, airfields and the like. This, according to General Reybold, is now 90 per cent done.

It is good news for two reasons. First and more important, because it shows that the home front against the Axis is being well established. Second and far less vital, because it will ease off somewhat the stress of everyday life. With the army requirements lessening, and the building of war plants about over, some construction should be possible at home.

DISCIPLINE.

Naturally the stiff regimen of military life gripes a lot of recruits. And naturally some of them get "ornery" about it. They may try to dodge training, or even to run away. Sometimes they flatly refuse to work or drill as a good soldier should, and may even tell an official superior exactly what they think of him, in rather shocking language.

Well, such cases don't require decapitation or burial alive, but they have to be tamed somehow to make them fit into their present job. And Roeliff Loveland, a newspaper correspondent with the Second Army in Tennessee, gives an interesting account of the way one military police officer handles really difficult cases. He administers the hog-wallow treatment.

The wallow is providentially supplied by nature, about three feet deep and capacious enough to handle several cases at once. An adequate supply of dirt and rocks is provided. The wallow has its own water. The unreconstructed rebels, invited to take the cure, pack the rocks and dirt neatly in the muddy wallow until it is solid underfoot. Then they take out all the rocks and dirt and pile them up neatly. Then they take those rocks and dirt and fill the wallow again. Then they take 'em out and pile 'em up neatly again. And so on, while they get tired and tired. And the tired they get, the more meanness seems to ooze out of them into that muddy wallow. And from then on, they're soldiers.

Warning: Don't tell any of the kids at home about that.

GRIPING.

Americans learn from a broadcast by that great dastard Benito Mussolini, that "North Africa has become the theater for the shameless prowess of Americans who are revealing their primitive red-skin strain."

Well, to tell the truth, our people do seem to feel like "big Injuns" right now, and don't care who knows it. But it would be hard to find an American who could see anything "shameless" in military operation of kicking and his worried boss Adolf Hitler. Unless, of course,

American boots were contaminated in that kicking process. And Yanks don't mind that "redskin" slur at all. Benito should see how our Indians can fight. Maybe he will know something about it personally before he is thirty days older.

GASOLINE.

There's one thing about this deprivation of gasoline for civilian driving — the drivers who are not driving are getting a good return. They have been saving gasoline for victory — and their armies are giving them victory!

It is great news, also, that the reason why we have needed so much more gas than was originally counted on for the North African campaign is that so many more of our planes have stayed in the air than could have been hoped for.

Somehow, although the civilian is perfectly willing to do without his accustomed luxuries and comforts for the purpose of winning the war, mostly, in this country, war seems a long way off. Sometimes he cannot help wondering whether it's really necessary to do without driving, and to try to let the flavor and odor contributed by a little meat added to a stew take the place of the good thick beefsteak or succulent roast pork of other days.

But when he picks up his paper and knows that the boys who are eating his beef and burning his gas are really doing what they went over to do, and getting what they want to get, he is greatly cheered. He is giving freely, but he is getting his giving's worth, pressed down and running over.

CRACKING.

That Nazi debacle in North Africa is described as the worst defeat of German arms since the surrender of 1918. "Lost, too," says a war correspondent, "was the myth that was long dying, the myth of the Nazi soldier who would not quit. The Germans, before the final general capitulation, had been surrendering by tens of thousands while still supplied with food and arms to fight with."

And the most astonishing thing was the attitude shown by so many of those Hitler-worshippers who had been trained to hate everybody and everything not German. The old officers were grim, but thousands of young men took it as a lark. They eagerly told their captors they hoped they would be shipped to America, and wondered what their chances were of getting there.

Such a mental state clearly bodes ill for the whole Hitler gamble. His Nazis are not so tough, not so dehumanized, not so indoctrinated with crazy propaganda, as they have seemed to be. If they could go to pieces so easily in Africa, they can go to pieces no less easily in Europe. Here is a cue for the United Nations to push ahead and finish the job quickly.

AIRCRAFT MAN AT EASTLAND FOR WORKERS

L. W. Keilers, manager of the U. S. Employment Service office at Eastland, says L. E. Adams, employment representative for Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, Fort Worth division, will interview and hire individuals at the Eastland office, Sinclair-Prairie building, Saturday, May 22.

Men, 18 years and over with 3A draft classification or better; women, 18 to 43, inclusive; and boys from 16 to 17½ years of age are eligible for employment.

The Consolidated Vultee Aircraft plant in Fort Worth is one of the largest aircraft factories in the world engaged in the manufacture of four-motored Liberator bombers and transport ships, which are vitally needed on all world battle fronts.

This company is employing individuals with no previous training or work experience, some of whom will be assigned to war training schools and will be paid while learning aircraft work. Individuals engaged in essential work, including agriculture, will not be considered.

To plow my farm in peace once more

It is not much to ask. To plow my little farm in peace. In spring, when the fierce rains stop, to break the steaming earth and plant my crops.

In summer . . . to watch through sunny days the great fields spring to life.

In fall . . . to gather in the harvest against the long winter days to come.

And no man to say me "nay". No plundering hand of an aggressor to take from me the fruits of my labor.

It is not much to ask . . . but oh, how much it is to enjoy.

This is our way of life . . . the American way. Freedom to have and to hold the things that are our own. Freedom to worship according to our beliefs . . . to educate our children in schools of our choosing . . . to think what we please, say what we please, do what we please.

These freedoms are in danger. To protect them and preserve them, American men are fighting on all the seas and on every continent. These fighting men look to us to back them up . . . to every man, woman and child who has a stake in victory. The job is a big one — and mighty urgent. Are you doing your share — today, every day — to contribute to winning this war?

Examine the list on the right. Study it. Check it against your own performance and that of your friends and neighbors. See how your job on the home front measures up to the job our boys are doing on the far-flung battlefronts of this war.

Our job at National Distillers is to devote 100% of our production facilities to the manufacture of alcohol for war purposes. We, like the rest of the distilling industry, are making no whiskey today. The alcohol we produce is going into munitions, rubber, chemicals, medicines and other essential war needs.

Check this list. It will help you decide— WHAT CAN I DO TO HELP WIN THE WAR?

- I regularly buy War Stamps and Bonds—at least 10% of my income.
 - I avoid unnecessary expenditures in order to help prevent inflation.
 - I cheerfully observe all rationing regulations and do not hoard.
 - I budget my ration points carefully and don't waste food.
 - I work where I can do the most good for the war effort.
 - I get to work on time and am never avoidably absent.
 - I do my best to stay healthy.
 - I do my best to avoid accidents, especially if I work in a war plant.
 - I watch what I say and spread no rumors.
 - I conserve tires and gasoline.
 - I share my car with others.
 - I travel only when absolutely necessary.
 - I carry my own bundles when shopping to save manpower, gas and tires.
 - I contribute to the Red Cross and all War Relief funds.
 - I save and turn in scrap metal, used cooking fats and other needed materials.
 - I do Civilian Defense work.
 - I work with the Red Cross or other volunteer groups.
 - I am a regular blood donor.
 - I volunteer for Nurse's Aide work.
 - I pay my taxes on time and in full.
 - I do community social service work.
 - I am prepared to quietly cooperate with the F.B.I. in apprehending suspicious persons.
 - I am planting a Victory garden.
 - I contribute books to the men in the service.
 - I write to friends and relatives in the service.
 - I observe dimout and blackout regulations to the letter.
- This list, of course, is not complete. Every man, woman and child will find many other ways to help. Check this list with your neighbors and find out what they are doing. But get going! Do all you can! And do it now! Consult your local Civilian Defense Council for further information.
