TRAIL DRIVERS HOLD ANNUAL MEET OCT. 15

Bill Dill, Cisco, president of the Trail Drivers' association, will preside at the meeting of this old-time group, reminiscent of pioneer days in Eastland county, at the annual gathering at Philpico Country club Wednesday, Oct. 15. Should the weather be unfavorable for an out-door gathering, the meeting will be held in the Bucy building in Rising Star, according to Secretary E. R. Patterson.

After a short business session at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning the people will be at ease to talk and review the old days and renew acquaintances, many of whom may not have seen each other for many years past.

A big barbecue will be the feature of the noon meal, but ladies will serve home-made pies and other sweets as bountifully as they or their parents did in the old log cabins which were the homes of those doughty pioneers who won this country from the wilderness through struggle and hard work.

A program of talks by old-timers and other entertainment features will occupy the time of the afternoon, Mr. Patterson said.

CATTLE MARKET

Light supplies of cattle and calves reached the Fort Worth stock yards for Saturday's trade and cleared at steady prices. Hogs were steady to strong compared with Friday's average. The top remained at $10.75. All sheep offered sold at steady prices.

Three loads of medium to good fed steers brought $9.60. One load of choice heifers topped at $11.75. Common to medium yearlings in odd lots sold at $6 to $8.50.

Calf cattle ranged from $6.50 to $7.50 and canners and cutters brought $4 to $6.25. Prices on the new bulls ranged from $6 to $7.25.

Good fat calves ranged from $9 to $10; plain and medium calves from $7 to $9; and cull sorts from $6 to $6.50.

Not enough stockers were in the fresh supply to test the market. The hog market was steady to strong compared with Friday's average. The top of $10.75 was paid for good to choice 180 to 200-pound butchers while good 150-pound averages sold down to $10.15. Packing sows were fully steady at $9.75 down. Compared with a week ago, butcher hogs were 50c lower.

Steady prices prevailed in the sheep yards. Shorn lambs and yearlings sold at $9 and shorn 2-year-old wethers at $7. Some medium grade woolled yearlings brought $9. Feeder lambs cashed at $8.50 and feeder yearlings at $7.50.

DR. JONES IMPROVING.

Dr. Chas. C. Jones, who is taking an enforced rest in his home at 1401 Bullard, is reported to be gradually improving. Dr. Jones has many friends in Cisco who are much interested in his recovery and hope he will soon be able to return to his dental office.

Two extraordinary services will be held at First Methodist church today, Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas to preach at the morning worship at 10:50 at which time he will formally dedicate the church building, and Rev. J. D. Hendrickson, esteemed retired Methodist minister of Cisco, to preach at 7:30 this evening.

Bishop Holt will preach three times today and dedicate three Methodist churches within the bounds of the Cisco district—Rising Star at 3:30 in the afternoon and Cross Plains at 7:30 in the evening being the other appointments besides Cisco First church. He is also scheduled to preach to a district mass meeting of young people at Gorman Monday night.

Langston to Assist. Assisting the bishop in the dedicatory service here this morning will be Dr. Roy A. Langston, district superintendent and Rev. Leslie Seymour, pastor. Wm. Reagan, chairman of the board of stewards and one of the trustees of the church, will officially present the church to the bishop for dedication.

BISHOP HOLT.

Special music has been arranged by the choir for the occasion. Mrs. W. B. Statham will play as a prelude Handel's "Largo," and for the offertory Miss Rose Ann Woods, accompanied by Miss Betty Slicker, will play on her violin "Andante Religioso" by Thane. The choir will give the anthem, "Jesus Lord, We Adore Thee," by James.

Bishop Holt, at one time dean of the school of theology at Southern Methodist University, and for twenty years pastor of St. John's Methodist church in St. Louis, is generally considered without a superior as a pulpit man and public speaker in the Methodist church, says Mr. Seymour. He is a world traveler, a writer of books, an outstanding proponent and champion of closer cooperation between the various denominations. He was for two years president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, during which time he gave major emphasis to the uniting of all Christian forces. As chairman of the commission on rituals and orders of worship he has done more than any other one man in the Methodist church toward the development of a uniform and dignified order of worship in the various congregations of Methodism. He was for ten years a member of the special commission appointed to prepare the Methodist hymnal, now the official hymn book.

It is expected the bishop in the course of his sermon will have something to say with reference to his recent visit to Central and South America, in which countries he spent three months of the summer as a good-will ambassador and as supervising bishop of Methodist work. Hendrickson Tonight. The evening service is to be one in which the entire congregation is to pay tribute to the man who is to preach at that hour, Rev. J. D. Hendrickson. On

1,480,280,000 LBS. PEANUTS U.S. THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The agriculture department Friday placed this year's harvest of peanuts for picking and threshing at 1,480,280,000 pounds in its October estimates of crop production. This estimate was 1.2 per cent below indications on Sept. 1, the department said.

Prospective production by areas this year compared with last included Virginia-Carolina area, 429,470,000 pounds and 593,000,000, respectively; southeastern area, 826,455,000 and 893,370,000, and southwestern area, 224,355,000 and 247,970,000.

Harvest of the crop is about over in South Texas and well advanced in North Texas, Oklahoma and the southeastern area, it added.

MARLAND, ONCE A MILLIONAIRE, DIED POOR MAN

NEWKIRK, Okla., Oct. 11.—Remnants of the late E. W. Marland's $85,000,000 oil empire were listed Friday as two small pieces of real estate and a relatively few personal possessions when the former Oklahoma governor's will was filed in county court. It was understood that proceeds of the sale of the Marland mansion at Ponca City, which was closed last summer, went directly to Mrs. Marland and were not included in the will.

The remaining real estate constituted a pair of lots in Ponca City and a four-acre piece of land on a corner of the Marland estate where the former governor resided at the time of his death, Oct. 3. Terms of the will left all the estate to the widow, who was designated executrix. Heirs named in a petition accompanying the will were Mrs. Marland and George R. Marland, the former oil king's foster son.

FREED TO PARENTS.

FT. WORTH, Oct. 11.—A 21-year-old youth, arrested Wednesday afternoon at Polytechnic high school after he allegedly had molested girls at the school, had been released Friday to his parents. The youth, a psychopathic case in the opinion of officers, was held by police on a charge of indecent exposure. Charges were not pressed by the parents of the girls who told the school principal of the youth's behavior in the halls of the school building, where he was loitering. He was graduated from high school two years ago.

Monday he will be 82 years of age.

Forty-eight years ago he joined the old Northwest Texas conference and accepted his first pastoral appointment in the fall of 1893. Since his retirement as an active pastor he has been living here in Cisco in a home provided by the conference. During this time he has endeared himself not alone to the Methodist people, but to the citizens of Cisco. He is a loyal and enthusiastic member of the Good Fellows class of the Sunday school which group plans to attend the service tonight in a body. Old familiar hymns will feature the worship program. The sermon will have to do with facing and overcoming temptation.

The public generally is invited to attend both of these services today.

MOSCOW NEEDS HELP

The battle for Moscow is approaching a climax.

The Germans pushed their main fighting fronts within 100 miles of the Soviet capital and claim the Panzer vanguards at any moment—if they have not already—will sight Moscow's steeples and towers.

In the south the battle for the Donets basin and the gateway to the Caucasus reached an equally critical stage.

Moscow sent out an urgent appeal to Great Britain for action to relieve the pressure.

MIDCONTINENT ASKS INCREASE IN OIL PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Stocks followed irregular trends in quiet market dealings Saturday.

Fractional gains at the opening included Douglas Aircraft, U. S. Steel, Sears Roebuck, Western Union and Boeing. On the downside were General Motors, Chrysler, Phelps Dodge and Pennsylvania Railroad.

Serving as a depressant were the increased labor difficulties in defense industries, including the shutdown of the vital Spicer plant in Toledo.

Interest in oil stocks was heightened by a request from Midcontinent producers to the office of price administration for a general increase in the price of petroleum.

PECAN CROP IS SHORT, QUALITY IS MUCH BETTER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The total pecan production this year will fall short of that in 1940, the agriculture department forecast Friday, but added that there should be an actual gain in the yield of improved varieties.

Prospects in Texas, the largest pecan producing state, continued to decline during September largely as the result of scab and insect damage. Its crop, largely of the wild or seedling variety, was expected to be only half as large as the heavy yield of last year.

In Georgia, largest producer of high quality pecans, the 1941 improved yield was estimated to reach 9,738,000 pounds. The 1940 production was 7,929,000 pounds. Georgia was expected to produce 622,000 pounds of seedling or wild pecans; the 1940 yield was 597,000 pounds.

The total prospective yield this year was set at 84,909,000 pounds, compared with 88,426,000 pounds in 1940. The predicted 1941 yield in pounds by principal pecan producing states, all varieties, with last crop shown in parenthesis, showed:

Illinois, 261,000 (144,000); Missouri, 840,000 (400,000); Oklahoma, 30,960,000 (22,230,000); Texas, 21,390,000 (41,000,000).

MASS ENLISTMENTS.

DALLAS, Oct. 11.—Navy recruiting officials are planning a mass enlistment ceremony at Austin on Navy day, Oct. 27, when Governor Stephenson, American Legion officials and navy department representatives will be present.

CITRUS FRUIT CROPS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—A grapefruit production of 40,233,000 boxes for the 1941-42 marketing season was forecast Friday by the agricultural department. This would be about six per cent smaller than last year's crop of 42,874,000 boxes.

Cisco Airport, Now Used For Civilian Training, Dedicated Next Sunday

The Cisco airport, now being used for civilian training in charge of Reg Robbins and sponsored by Cisco Junior college, will be formally dedicated in appropriate ceremonies next Sunday, Oct. 19, according to H. H. Monk, head of the chamber of commerce airport committee, and Mayor G. P. Mitcham, both of whom have worked diligently in building flying interest in Cisco.

At 12:30 all visiting pilots will be served with barbecue and the trimmings.

Following the noon feed, dedication ceremonies will be held with H. H. Monk as master of ceremonies. W. H. LaRoque will welcome visiting flyers and pilots and will dedicate the field to the city of Cisco. Mayor G. P. Mitcham will accept for the city.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the dedication ceremonies is Reg Robbins, Hayward (Doc) Cabaness and P. R. Warwick.

Reg. Robbins, in charge of the flying school, has had 18 years' active flying and is well known over the state in flying and air-training circles.

J. R. BURNETT IS TREASURER FOR 9TH TIME

Nine years ago in the First Baptist church at Eastland, Judge J. R. Burnett was elected treasurer of the Cisco Baptist association. He has served efficiently since that time and was reelected Thursday evening to serve another year.

He made his annual report and is always present to make his monthly reports at the workers' conferences unless providentially hindered. His reports are accurate and complete, always. Henry Littleton, district missionary, said: "He is the best treasurer I have ever known."

Judge Burnett's church has furnished quite a great deal of the leadership in the association for many years was president of the association W. M. U. He serves without remuneration and is one of the general officers of the association.

The Full Statement. "We are NOT neutral. As freedom-loving citizens of the United States, we recognize that our liberty, that democracy everywhere will be ended unless the menace of Hitlerism is smashed.

"We, therefore, petition the congress of the United States to repeal our suicidal, hypocritical and dangerous Neutrality Act, to remove the prohibition against arming our merchant ships, and to dissolve the ban which prevents vessels flying the American flag from sailing the seven seas."

According to Professor Timm, the faculty members are joining Fight For Freedom, Inc., as full-fledged members.

"We are NOT neutral. As freedom-loving citizens of the United States, we recognize that our liberty, that democracy everywhere will be ended unless the menace of Hitlerism is smashed.

"We, therefore, petition the congress of the United States to repeal our suicidal, hypocritical and dangerous Neutrality Act, to remove the prohibition against arming our merchant ships, and to dissolve the ban which prevents vessels flying the American flag from sailing the seven seas.

"American policy has traditionally been that of freedom of the seas. Our congress must reassert and uphold that right. Our congress has pledged our resources to those nations fighting Axis aggression and must reinforce that pledge by guaranteeing that our goods arrive at their destination in the hands of our allies.

"We deplore the spectacle of resorting to the subterfuge of shipping our aid to the beleaguered nations resisting Nazi aggression under the flag of another country. The time for hypocrisy is ended. If we are to win the fight for freedom, the United States must reassert a brave and honest course.

"The great majority of American people have shown, time after time, that they support the foreign policy of the president of the United States. The congress of this nation must now be truly representative, must act and act quickly to carry out the will of the people of this nation."

FACING FACTS.

A college economics professor sat at dinner the other night between a manufacturer and a merchant. Naturally they talked about the effect of the defense program on their respective businesses.

The manufacturer now has great difficulty getting raw materials that are essential to his operation. He believes he may have to close his plant. The merchant, after recently enlarging his store, now finds it increasingly difficult to replace stocks.

The economist was interested in the fact that these executives were not resentful enough of the peril they believed they faced. Both said they considered it an unavoidable consequence of the national program and regretted that the necessities of the situation had not been recognized earlier and the adjustments undertaken a year ago.

If such a philosophy becomes common, the economist says, and "everyone is eager to do what he can and everything he can see this thing through, there will be little beefing. And if we are all inconvenienced in approximately the same measure we shall all be happier at the thought that we are taking our beating and that it may presently be less severe and possibly over entirely."

Calmness, patience, cooperation, patriotism may get the nation safely over the course on which world events have forced it to embark.

CAESARISM.

There was a time, in the second term of President Theodore Roosevelt, when Col. Henry Watterson, then editor of the Courier-Journal in Louisville, Ky., and the most widely-read newspaper man in America, had a vision—or maybe a brainstorm. He came out with a solemn warning, reprinted by every newspaper in America, that the President was a man of the type of Caesar and Napoleon, who must be curbed immediately or the nation would lose its liberties, possibly forever.

Well, time passed, and T. R.'s term ended, and he went to hunt lions in Africa, and good-natured Taft moved into the White House, and life went on as usual, except that it was dull after the fireworks.

Colonel Lindbergh is too young to remember that episode. And maybe some of the older alarmists who trail along with him have forgotten it. But the fact is that we don't grow Caesars very well in this country. Maybe it's the climate. Or maybe it's just ordinary American common sense.

A Bargain With Mexico?

New York Times: The arrival in Washington recently of Mexico's finance minister, Eduardo Saurez, coincides with reports that final agreement is near on the proposed credits to Mexico to strengthen hemisphere defense.

To the extent that such credit will help strengthen American defenses there is justification for giving it. But the reported plan to include in the settlement provision for a $9,000,000 part payment to the American oil companies in compensation for the seizure of their properties by Mexico in 1938 is an entirely different matter.

At a time when all the world is being forcibly reminded of the need for good faith between nations, it would be unwise for the United States to display an easy tolerance of broken contracts. So far as the oil companies are concerned, it is clear that they would rather preserve a clear-cut position of insisting upon their legal rights, even though this means continuing to go without compensation, than compromise their position by accepting a payment advanced by the United States treasury and paid for ultimately out of the pockets of American taxpayers.

LIFE'S TEST.

"There's only one method of meeting life's test: Jes' keep on a-striving and hope for the best;

Don't give up the ship and retire in dismay 'Cause hammers are thrown when you'd like a bouquet.

This world would be tiresome, we'd all get the blues, If all the folks in it held just the same views;

So finish your work, show the best of your skill— Some folks won't like it, but other folks will.

If you're leading an army, or buildin' a fence, Do the most that you can with your own common sense,

One small word of praise in this journey of tears Outweighs in the balance against carloads of sneers.

The plants that we're passin' as commonplace weeds Off prove to be jest what some sufferer needs.

So keep on a-go-in'; don't stay standin' still— Some people won't like you, but other folks will."

Little Liechtenstein Is Untouched by Aggression

HAS Adolf Hitler forgotten about Liechtenstein? Here are 65 convenient miles of independent territory in which 10,200 unregimented people live, lying between old Austria and Switzerland.

Most Liechtensteiners believe, however, that 65 miles does not constitute enough "Lebensraum" to interest the Nazi aggressors. The ties between this country and Germany were very close prior to the Hitler regime.

Household Hint: Coffee In Icebox

Research on how to keep foods fresh is constantly being conducted. Housewives will be interested in knowing that coffee can be kept at its best when stored in the refrigerator in the new vacuum-packed duraglas jars. Nationally recognized technical laboratories announced this discovery after a series of recent tests. They reported coffee retained its best flavor and aroma when kept at low temperatures, and resealed after each using by means of an airtight, rubber-lined cap on the duraglas jar. Many of the leading roasters have adopted this new package.

Loboas Lost First Game of the Season--25 to 7

By GORDON SHERMAN

All the stubborn yardage an urgent Lobo ground game piled up meant nothing in the face of a nonchalant aerial attack which gave the Mineral Wells Mountaineers a 25-7 victory over the local talent Friday night in beautiful Miller Stadium.

The fact that the brannigan was the conference opener for the Loboas and seriously damaged their title hopes, served to give the affair an even more sinister aspect.

The Loboas opened festivities with an astonishing burst of enthusiasm. Cisco took the kickoff on their own 30. Three thrusts at the Mountaineer forward wall brought nine, then Lasater on fourth down picked up the necessary yard for a first with about 60 to spare. His first splintering charge carried to about the forty-three, where a posse of Mountaineer tacklers appeared to have him corralled, but the redoubtable Lobo full-caromed into the open at about twice his ordinary speed and, quite before anyone knew what he was about, had rumbled into the end zone. When husky Bruce Sanders slammed his placement squarely through the uprights it looked like a Cisco year.

The manner in which the Mountaineers scored contained the essence of the Loboas loss. After a nice punt by McQueary of Mineral Wells, the Mountaineers took over on the Lobo 40. Run plays carried to the Lobo eight, where the Loboas stopped two thrusts cold. Then, on third down, Mc-

Queary faded back and hit Warner on the goal line with a perfect strike. McQueary's attempted dropkick was wide, but the efficiency of the Mountaineer aerial game gave the lie. The Loboas still led, 7-6.

The Mountaineers capitalized on a break for their second tally. With about two minutes remaining in the first half, McQueary ran under a Lobo aerial and pressed it back to the Lobo 22. Then the Mountaineers unwrapped another of those sparkling aerials, this time with the combination reversed, Warner to McQueary, for 22 yards. McQueary's dropkick was again wide and the half ended with the Mountaineers leading 12-7.

Midway in the third period the Loboas made their final bid for victory. Taking one of McQueary's long punts on their own 20, the Cisco lads pounded their way almost entirely on the ground to the Mountaineers 25. A fumble halted the drive which might have given the Loboas victory.

Again the Mountaineers took to the air with that relentless passing game. Starting from their own 49, the Mountaineers threw nothing but strikes, carrying to the Cisco 25-yard stripe. From there Warner ruined the entire evening for the local delegation with another flawless pitch to McQueary. This time McQueary converted and the Mountaineers led, 19-7.

About that time Lasater injured a thumb and retired to the bench for repairs. The Mountaineers then proved their general indifference to Cisco misfortunes by one more insult to the numerous Lobo injuries. In this case McQueary flipped a 31-yard aerial to Calhoun to close out the offensive festivities. Conversion failed and the game ended with the Mountaineers on top by the embarrassing margin of 25-7.

In looking back over the game, one can, of course, say the Mineral Wells aggregation was rather fortunate in garnering this win.

However, the efficiency of the Mountaineers' aerial game was such as to contradict that with even the most rabid local fan. The Loboas did outgain the Mountaineers on the ground, a fact which had little bearing on the outcome. The Loboas showed a marked improvement in fundamentals and were in no sense out-
