C. of C. Directors Not Elected Tuesday Night At Commission Meet.

The expected election of five new directors of the chamber of commerce did not materialize at the commission meeting Tuesday night. The usual list of 15 nominations were not placed before the body by the directors in the meeting at the same time. It was ascertained that plans were changed to have these nominations submitted at the next meeting of the commission when five directors will be chosen.

The commission, while in session until after 9 o'clock, only transacted routine business, and some minor matters being disposed of.

Water Superintendent Kilpatrick called the commission's attention to the absence of adequate regulations for installing gas connections, and requested the body to give the matter

The commission voted to authorize Water Superintendent Kilpatrick to attend the state school for water superintendents, which will be held in Dallas January 15 to 17, at the city's Street Superintendent Clements reported that it will be necessary for the city to obtain title or easement for right of way for the road that crosses a corner of land owned by Jim Boggs before he could finish the cut off road that intercepts highway 23 near Randolph college. Commissioner Winston was authorized to negotiate with Boggs for a settlement of the issue, and was given authority to conclude the deal.

The fire department reported the election of C. O. Pass, chief; N. C. Fowler, assistant chief, and Howard The Unhorsing Of The Robertson, secretary. The election of Abilene Congressman these officers was ratified by the com-

Fire commissioner Henderson called attention to the efficiency of N. C. Fowler, acting chief of the fire department, and suggested that the commission vote him a salary of $10 per month for the time he has been serving as chief during the illness of Chief Pass. However, no motion to this effect was made, and the suggestion died aborning. But on motion of Commissioner Burnett the assistant chief was placed on a monthly salary of $10, as of January 1, 1934, and such salaryto continue till Chief Pass was able to resume his duties. In this discussion it was reported that no "wet" fires, or those conflagrations that required the use of water through the hose to exterminate, had occured in the military service on May 8, 1917, Cisco for the past six months. Our Friend Wafts Us A Fragrant Bouquet While We Are Living

The dead knows not the fragrance of flowers, so our old Milam county friend, Judge T. J. White, of Baird, wafts us a sweet smelling bouquet while we are yet in the land of the living. Our full appreciation to the judge is expressed in this, for he is a true and tried friend, who has never wavered, during the past decade. We don't see each other often, but there is always a love feast when we two

The letter from Judge White arrived Monday, as did one from another warm friend, L. B. Campbell, manager of the Naylor hotel at San Angelo, but this friendship has not been tried by time as that which has existed with the judge, who presides over the poor man's court (justice court) at Baird. Both came the same day, each bearing enclosures of a crisp bank note, and each conveyed expressions that are not hard to listen to. These are two of the 65 who have renewed their subscription to the Home Newspaper this winter, and others have promised their remittances just as soon as they can pinch off a dollar from their CWA

Campbell, who is one of the outstanding hotel men of West Texas, and former manager of the Laguna here, felicitates the editor by saying 'I enjoy reading the Citizen and eagerly look forward for its arrival each week, and hope the Citizen is getting along all right." He states that matters are easy with him, and that Mrs. Campbell's health is much improved since their removal to San Angelo. He also extends best wishes to his numerous friends here.

Judge White's letter is characteristic. Just such a letter that I would expect from him, as he always manifests that warm fraternal spirit when communicating with his friends, and certainly no two persons maintained more friendly relations than that which has existed between he and the editor since the year of 1898, and is, in part, as follows:

Editorials Worth a Dollar

"Enclosed find $1.00 for the Citizen. Keep on sending the paper. I like the way it rings. It rings true to the masses of the people. Some of your editorials are worth a dollar. Here's hoping that every county in the state will have an independent paper like yours, and a man at the helm that's not afraid to tell the truth. I am wishing you success in this 1934."

With such friends, and the 63 others who have recently made manifest their appreciation of the Citizen in a material way, the success of the Citizen Mr. Spears has been the executive is only a matter of time. And others officer for many years in the past, and are renewing their membership in the Citizen family every week. A paper that is read is the medium wise advertisers use. Citizen ads get favorable results because everybody read it. This fact will dawn upon some of our business men who have not yet appreciated the paper. Those who do are satisfied with results.

This editorial was inspired by the notice from J. C. Patterson, county agent, notifying the farmers that plans are shaping to pay for decreased hog production. Just why this method was devised is another of the problems that seems out of tune. For years the entire country has advised farmers to get away from excessive cotton production by raising their living on the farm-raise hogs, poultry and other food stuff. Now, we are paid No wonder the farmer is slow to take the advice of those who should be in a position to advise them. But the wise farmer will be slow to sign up to decrease his meat supply. One farmer friend said he was not going to impair his meat supply, even though the government would offer him a bounty to decrease his production. This farmer spoke the universal sentiment of his class when he stated the "processing of hogs that the average farmer was want to peddle had destroyed this source of revenue of the small producer. We can no longer sell our surplus meat, by retail, and the packer price is too low to pay for production.'

Hogs And Corn Not Raised Will Bring Farmers New Money

A corn and hog reduction program designed to place hog production on a profitable basis will be the next step of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. It is expected that contract forms will be in the hands of County Agents early in January. The corn acreage may also be reduced but since we do not grow a surplus of corn in Eastland county, it is not anticipated that there will be much interest in corn reduction here.

Hog raisers who wish to take part in this reduction program may sign contracts agreeing to reduce by 25 per cent the number of litters farrowed and the number of hogs produced for market. Payments totaling approximately $5 per hog raised under the contract will be paid by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Anyone who has produced as many as three litters per year during the base period (December 1st 1931 and December 1st, 1933) may execute reduction contracts. Example: The man who has produced for market, say, 40 hogs and agrees to produce only 30 may receive payments of $5 per head on the 30 he does raise, making a total payment of $150.00 for raising for market 10 less hogs. He may raise less than 30 hogs but will be paid only on what is produced.

Hog raisers who are interested in these reduction contracts are requested to mail to J. C. Patterson, County Agent, Eastland a post card indicating their interest. When final instructions are received full information will me mailed those who have requested it

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our Eucharist is sp.ritual communion with the God. Our bread, 'which cometh down from heaven,' is Truth, Our cup is the cross. Our wine the inspiration of Love, the draught our Master drank and commended to his followers" (page 35).

Mayor Berry stated that he had appeared before the Public Works administrator and discussed the matter of securing funds with which to build a filtration plant at Lake Cisco, but was told that there was not a chance from that source, as the PWA exacted ample security before advancing funds on any project, owing to the present state of Cisco's finances this security was not available. He was told, however, that the project might be entertained by the CWA, but the mayor failed to state whether the matter had been taken up with that branch of the recovery administration, but indicated this would be done.

The mayor named J. A. Bearman as chairman of the Roosevelt Birthday Ball for the benefit of the Warm Springs, Ga., foundation, sponsored by the president for the treatment of those suffering with infantile paralysis, a function that is being held in many cities January 30.

The mayor also reported that funds for rebuilding the airport would not be available till the gas lease of the field was released, which it was thought could be secured at once.

The commission authorized the street commissioner to build two sanitary pit toilets at Oakwood cemetery, according to the CWA plans.

The commission voted to instruct the city secretary to draw up a water contract with the Humble Pipeline company on the same terms as that which has existed with the Humble Oil & Refining company.

Passing the usual bills and tax adjustments concluded the business transacted.

The Eastland County Recent Organization

The independent printers and publishers of Eastland county perfected a permanent organization when county owners of printing establishments and newspapers gathered at Eastland December 2, by the election of R. V. Galloway, of the Eastland County News, of Ranger, president, and J. W. Cockrill, of the Progress, of Gorman, secretary. The association will meet every two weeks, after the printers and publishers code has been received, until then the meetings wil be held on call of the president, the next meeting being called for tomorrow at 2 o'clock.

Business matters pertaining to the welfare of the printers and publishers were discussed, with the unanimous approval of holding prices at such figures that a profit can be obtained, and at the same time not profiteering on the printing buyers. The gym. unfair competition manifested in the tactics of the string newspapers in the past caused the Marsh-Fentress organization to be excluded from the organization of the association.

Ripe, Fresh Watermelon In January Brought Here

Charles H. Wende, living out on Route 4, brought to the Citizen office Monday a 22 pound watermelon of his 1933 crop. "The melon was pulled from the vine December 7," Mr. Wende said, and "preserved from the frost by covering the melon and vine with straw. After gathering it the melon was placed in his barn and kept fresh." The melon is now on display in the window of the Citizen office, and has attracted much attention from passers-by. It looks as fresh and firm as any melon that was gathered in July or August, but of course its luciousness has not yet been determind. After serving its term as a window oddity we shall carve it and then tell better how successful Wende has been in producing winter melons. But we see no reason why it should lose any of its flavor or luciousness. The rind is thick and firm, and had steadily matured from the substance of the vine till placed in Wende's barn, This is another testimony to the salubrious Robinson, Grapevine, and Mrs. Minnie climate of Eastland county. A few weeks ago we told of ripe strawberries December, now it is ripe watermelons in January. Can you or California beat

PANCAKES LEAD AS GREAT NATIONAL BREAKFAST DISH

Morning's at seven, God's in His heaven, all's right with the world in America, if breakfast is pancakes. Call them what you will—pancakes, hot cakes, griddle cakes, "plate o' wheats," pancakes are the national American dish.

At the family breakfast table in mansion or hovel, in farmer's home or bachelor apartment, at lunch counter, boarding house or palatial hotel, on board train or boat, the breakfast cry is the same the country over. The American chorus swells from coast to coast, East, West, North, South, calling for pancakes.

For the man of the house the pancake is tasty nourishment, a morning benediction on the work of the day. For the lady of the house it is stamina for the morning's housework. For the children, it is a treat, and a healthy foundation for sturdy body and busy mind. The whole family wants its pancakes.

By the use of self-rising flour the housewife, whatever her means, can save time and expense, besides insuring success, in the preparation of this great national breakfast. The following recipe, utilizing self-rising flour, is always successful:

Griddle Cakes. $ cups self-rising 1 tbsp. sugar flour 8 tbsp. fat egg 1½ cups milk Directions: Sift and measure flour. 1 egg Add beaten egg, milk and sugar. Add fat and bake immediately on hot grid-

HERBERT W. McCANLIES AND MISS MARIE GLENN ARE WED IN FORT WORTH

while angel of the local chamber of Secretary Spencer, departed the latter part of last week for Fort Worth. It was given out that she had gone to the Panther City to accept another position, but it was noticed that none gave the nature and kind of position she had accepted. The news of the marriage came to those not initiated intentions of this popular young lady when the Fort Worth Press Monday announced the marriage of H. W. Mc-Canlies and Miss Rose Marie Glenn in that city Saturday.

The Citizen, like other friends of these young folk, was surprised at the announcement of the marriage at in Cisco. The bride is the daughter this time-not surprised at their of Mr. R. S. Glenn, well known Cisco eventual nuptials-for it was generally architect, while the groom is the known by their intimates that the two youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. were engaged for many years.
