HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEET

Rev. Ben Sandel, Baptist Minister, Dismissed on Arson Charge in Judge McDonald's Court Saturday Morning

COMMITTEES TABOO FANCY DECORATION

All elaborate decorations are taboo at the coming convention of the Texas state volunteer firemen who will convene in Cisco May 12, 13 and 14. It is planned by the committees from the fire department and the chamber of commerce to have all decorations as uniform as possible, and there will be little attempts at elaborations, only the pennants and the street flags will form the main decorations. Merchants are admonished to turn down all propositions for advertising and decorations unless the solicitors are armed with credentials from the chamber of commerce. No advertising schemes have been authorized, and business men are requested to refer these solicitors to the secretary of the chamber of commerce.

MUSIC CLUB WON CLEAN UP PRIZE OF TEN DOLLARS

District No. 7, in charge of the Cisco Music club, was awarded the $10 prize offered by the civic league for the cleanest district in Cisco after the clean up campaign staged here during clean up week. The Music club is headed by Mrs. Fleet Shepard, and some especially good work was done by her campaigners. "The clean up campaign, sponsored by the civic league, had great results," said Mrs. R. L. Bettis Saturday. "Each organization in Cisco took part. The judges postponed making their decision last week and awarding the prize on account of the heavy winds which littered up some parts of the city, as it was thought that the people might desire to give the landscape some retouching to complete the picture."

"Too Beautiful"

MR. & MRS. H. B. P. WRENN
Henry B. P. Wrenn, formerly of New York City, but for the past two years assistant electrical engineer on the new Grand Central Terminal in Cleveland, O., was shot to death at the breakfast table there by his wife, who then committed suicide. She left a note declaring he was "too handsome and too easy to love." Both had been married and divorced before.

taking evidence in the case against A. R. Nolen, a neighbor. After going into the evidence at length the county attorney stated it was insufficient to base an indictment and recommended to the court that the case against Nolen also be dismissed, and the witnesses released. However, the county attorney stated the matter would be more thoroughly investigated by the grand jury, which reconvenes April 27.

It was brought out in the hearing that there had been a family row between the Moseley and Nolen families, and those early at the scene of the fire found a woman's tracks going from the Nolen to the Moseley home. Mrs. Nolen explained these by saying she was at the Moseley home before the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Moseley for Cisco, Wednesday morning, but knew nothing of the fire until she saw the smoke.

Mr. Sandel established an alibi by giving his whereabouts on the morning of the fire. At that time he stated he was at his home where Nolen was digging a cistern for him, and he was assisting in the work by drawing up the earth when Nolen had accumulated sufficient loose earth. In the meantime, he said, he did the small jobs around his place. He stated that when he noticed the smoke that he and Nolen drove to the Moseley place, but the house was consumed before their arrival. Others were on the ground when they arrived, Sandel stated.

Rev. Mr. Sandel, who claims to be an officer, buckled on his six shooter and departed with the others after the conclusion of the case.

Miss Gould was a music pupil of Miss Cora Harris while in Cisco, but is now studying at Park College, Parkville, Mo., near Kansas City.

100 BBL. WELL IS IN FROM 385 FT. CROSS CUT SAND

CROSS PLAINS, April 18.—The C. C. Watson No. 1, shallow test well of Shaw, Fox & Adams, located eight miles southwest of here, came in late Friday night bailing at the rate of 80 barrels per day from the 385 shallow sand. Estimates place the well as high as 100 barrels, as the fluid continues to rise in the eight-inch hole with the small bailer running at capacity speed. This well is located a short distance north of the recent small producing well of the new field, and opens a large scope of territory for future drilling.

LAKEHURST, N. J., April 18.—The dirigible Los Angeles, will not leave tonight for Bermuda because of unfavorable weather conditions. The hop off may be made tomorrow morning.

POLICE BAFFLED BY KIDNAPPERS OF CANADY BABY

SAN ANTONIO, April 18.—Although furnished a clew to identify two men who abducted Roscoe Canady, a 5-year-old child here Thursday night, police today were still without trace as to his whereabouts. Snatching little Roscoe Henry Canady, 5 years old, from the arms of his grandmother, Mrs. P. B. Caldwell, who was returning from an entertainment, here at 10 o'clock Thursday night, a strange man placed the child in an automobile and sped away into the darkness.

The frantic cries of the grandmother joined by little Josephine Canaday, Roscoe's sister, failed to stop the kidnapper. The child is the son of Roscoe Henry Canaday sr., wealthy New York manufacturer.

City detectives are combing the city and wiring nearby towns in an effort to apprehend the man, while Mrs. Canaday lies at the home of her mother prostrate with grief. The mother fears that the child is being taken out of the city.

According to Mrs. Caldwell's story she, with the two children, was walking along Howard street at the intersection of Magnolia. A strange automobile approached silently. A man got out and approached them. Mrs. Caldwell claims she was struck in the back and the child snatched from her arms before she could offer resistance.

STEPHENSON IS INDICTED, FOUR COUNTS MURDER

INDIANAPOLIS, April 18.—David C. Stephenson, banished klan leader, was indicted this afternoon on charges of first degree murder in connection with the death of Miss Oberholzer. There are four counts in the indictment. Earl Gentry and Earl Klencz, aides of Stephenson, were also named in the murder indictment.

HIGGINBOTHAM PERMITTED TO REBUILD LUMBER YARD EASTLAND, April 18.—The Eastland city commission, in special called session, granted a permit to the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber company to rebuild their plant which was destroyed by fire some time ago. The location for the plant is within the fire zone and the lumber company desired certain concessions before rebuilding. These were finally agreed upon and the permit granted. It is understood that work of rebuilding the plant will be started at once.

WEST BUYS THE BOAZ STOCK OF MERCHANDISE

Cisco annexes one of Cleburne's estimable families in the acquisition of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. West, who are soon to become residents of Cisco. Mr. West has already arrived in Cisco, but Mrs. West and the boy will arrive after the school term. The Boaz stock of merchandise has just been purchased by Mr. West, who is now preparing the stock for the opening. Cisco will give this estimable couple a cordial welcome to the business and social life of this city. Concerning the removal of this family to Cisco the Cleburne Enterprise has the following:

"C. R. West and family, residents of Cleburne for 13 years, have concluded arrangements for a removal to Cisco, where Mr. West will enter the dry goods business. Numerous friends of Mr. West and his family will regret to learn of their departure. He has long been connected with the business life of Cleburne.

"Mr. West stated he was sorry to leave Cleburne, which he described as 'just now entering upon an era of great civic development.' He complimented highly the morale of the citizenry here, who have come through numerous difficulties to success. Mr. West has been engaged in the dry goods business here, and has also been an automobile dealer."

PIONEER WOMAN DIES IN CISCO, 75 YEARS OF AGE

Another pioneer Cisco woman passed away Saturday morning at the ripe old age of near 75 years, when Mrs. Cretia Eddelman was called in death at the family home, 1500 A avenue at 8:15 o'clock. Deceased was born in Alabama June 24, 1850, and was married to J. M. Eddelman June 20, 1869, and would have enjoyed a married life of 56 years had she lived till June 20 next. Besides her husband she is survived by the following children: Mrs. L. Evans, Nimrod; Mrs. Mollie Hazel and Miss Myrtle Eddelman, Cisco. She united with the Methodist Episcopal Church South in 1847, and the funeral will be conducted at the family residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock, by Rev. Leggett, pastor of the Twelfth-st Methodist church. Interment will be in Oakwood cemetery.

CISCO TRAVELING MEN ORGANIZED SATURDAY NIGHT

The Cisco Traveling Men's association was organized Saturday night following a supper at the Rotary club rooms, which was attended by 18 traveling men and their friends.

Lewis E. Starr, of Cisco, representative of the Herrick Hardware company of Waco, was elected president; T. B. Smith, of the Wooten Grocery company, Cisco, vice president, and W. J. Foxworth, of J. P. Webster & Sons, wholesale grocers of Cisco, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was called to order by A. B. O'Flaherty, chairman of the hotel and traveling men's committee of the Cisco chamber of commerce, who asked that those present join in a song to be selected and lead by that royal entertainer, John Fanning. The first selection was so enjoyable that a number of other songs were requested, in which all present took part, the piano accompaniments being rendered by Mrs. W. E. Stotts. A song by Mrs. Stotts, Mr. Stotts accompanying her on the violin, was a rare treat.

At the request of the chairman each of those present stood and gave their names and business connections. Rev. T. E. Bowman, pastor of the First Methodist church, then returned thanks and all proceeded to enjoy a most palatable supper served by the ladies of the First Methodist church.

A number of talks by traveling men disclosed the fact that Cisco has more than 50 resident traveling salesmen, that this number is steadily increasing and that the organization effected Saturday night will result in bringing many others to this city as permanent residents.

Those present, all of whom reside in Cisco, included: N. J. Winn, representing Ferris-Dunlap company, Dallas; H. R. Miller, Whaley M. & E. Co., Gainesville; J. B. Cate, J. P. Webster & Sons; A. G. Elias, manager Mobley hotel; W. J. Foxworth, J. P. Webster & Sons; J. C. Porter, J. P. Webster & Sons; E. B. Ward, Perkins Drygoods Co., Dallas; T. B. Smith, Wooten Grocery Co., Cisco; W. T. Andrus, Wooten Grocery Co., Cisco; E. H. Switzer, Wooten Grocery Co., Cisco; J. C. Fanning, Cisco; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stotts, Cisco; Rev. T. E. Bowman, Cisco; G. C. Richardson, Cisco chamber of commerce; W. L. Foy, Cisco; Lewis E. Starr, Herrick Hardware Co., Waco; J. B. Robinson, Herrick Hardware Co., Waco; E. O. Elliott, Cisco; A. B. O'Flaherty, Cisco.

West Texas History Discussed By Delegates; Visitors Find Cisco's Push and Enterprise a Revelation

West Texas history was discussed at the annual meeting of the West Texas Historical association which convened in Cisco Saturday morning. The meetings were held in the auditorium of the city hall, and there were about 200 in attendance, and every one found the papers read and the discussions of intense interest. Luncheon was served at the Alexander hotel, and the visitors were driven out to lake Cisco and shown the great dam, Cisco's water supply, her bathing beach, the zoo, the country club house, and other features of interest at the great resort. Many saw this place for the first time, and amazement and wonder of so great an undertaking as the great dam were reflected in their oral and facial expressions, especially as they passed through the corridors of this stupendous piece of masonry.

In appreciation of the hospitality extended the visitors were not slow in expressing their praise of Cisco, and every visitor left the city last night singing Cisco's praises as a city where real hospitality was dispensed, and push and enterprise was manifest.

Judge R. C. Crane of Sweetwater, presided. Mayor Williamson being unable to attend, the welcome address was made by G. C. Richardson, who was responded to by Rupert N. Richardson. Mrs. J. D. Alexander then made an interesting address on "Early Days in Cisco." Mrs. Alexander came to Cisco in 1881, when the meat eaten was that of the buffalo. She has lived at the same place during all that time. She told of the beginnings of many of Cisco's institutions. Recalled that the first Christian church started many years ago in a tent and it is now one of the strong churches of the city. She told of the first school taught in Cisco being taught by two men in a log cabin.

Mrs. McClinton, daughter of one of Cisco's pioneer preachers, pleased her audience with a vocal selection. W. C. Holden, professor of history, McMurry college, Abilene, read a paper on "The Literary Possibilities in Connection With the Study of Local History." Mr. Holden showed that great literature is never produced except where some man or woman grasps the literary value of some of the customs, habits, traditions, legends and achievements of the people of a certain locality and weaves it into great literary productions. He showed how West Texas has "floating around" and largely unnoticed, a rich supply of traditions and stories. J. Frank Dobie's books and stories. Legends of Texas are taken in a great part from west Texas. Tales of the camp fire, the range and cow trail, the fight for law and order, Indian defense and a dozen other classes of subjects hold unrealized possibilities for literary artists and some day we will produce them, Prof. Holden predicted.

At the business session the society voted to promote the marking of historic places with permanent markers on which should be inscribed a brief record of what happened at the place. A committee was appointed to take up this work with the idea in view of interesting persons who live in the locality of different points of historic interest.

Officers chosen for the ensuing year were R. C. Crane, Sweetwater, president; Carl C. Rister, Abilene, secretary; Mrs. Dallas Scarborough, Abilene, treasurer; C. U. Connelley, Eastland, vice president; J. M. Radford, Abilene, vice president; C. A. Broome, San Angelo, vice president; D. N. Arnett, Colorado, vice president.

Rupert N. Richardson read a paper on some incidents connected with the southern overland mail. He gave the route followed from St. Louis to San Francisco, and described in detail that part that ran through northern and western Texas. The difficulties encountered by the company defied enumeration. The Concord coaches, the crude driver and Mexican attendants, the Indian fights, high water, no water, rough roads, sand storms and starvation were some of the difficulties the company had to face. The line was more than 2,700 miles in length, and the project was probably the greatest in the history of overland horse-power transportation. The line came into being September, 1858, and continued until the outbreak of the civil war.

Carl C. Rister read an interesting paper on Fort Griffin. The crude shacks the government provided for the men, the violence and wild character of the people who lived about the post, the hard life the soldiers led, and the various campaigns that were launched from that point against the Indians made Fort Griffin a typical frontier post.

Judge Crane presented a paper and discussed it dealing with the Adobe Walls battle of June, 1874, and its relationship to the history of western Texas. He showed that the great battle at Adobe Walls was not that of 1874, but that of 1864, when Kit Carson fought several thousand Comanche and Cheyenne in one of the greatest Indian battles ever fought west of the Mississippi river. He showed that the fight of 1874 was relatively insignificant within itself, but that out of the complications it produced, there developed a consistent Indian policy of the part of the United States government, and that such men as Miles, McKinzie and others came into Texas with large bodies of troops and never ceased their fight until they had driven the Indians to their reservations.

A lively discussion followed Mr. Crane's paper in which C. U. Connelley of Eastland, himself a noted frontiersman, and Judge Fred Cockerell, a pioneer lawyer, participated.

Those who attended the meeting were B. E. McClammy, Hico; Mrs. R. Q. Lee, Cisco; Mrs. Dallas Scarborough, Abilene; C. U. Connelley, Eastland; Judge and Mrs. Fred Cockerell and Mrs. J. M. Stevenson, Abilene; Mrs. F. W. Burger, Cisco; Mrs. A. D. Martin, Abilene; Mrs. George Langston, Josephine Kaye, Cisco; Boyce House, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. James K. Duke, Abilene; Will H. Jobe, Sweetwater; Miss Leonora Barrett and Miss Hybernia Grace, Anson; W. F. Bruce, Mrs. W. F. Bruce, Mrs. Zed Erwin, Cisco; Mrs. Gertrude Brayles, Albany; W. H. Brooke, T. S. Reed, C. A. Hill, R. S. Hill, Nimrod; J. G. Boggs, J. H. Montgomery, W. E. Kittrell, F. W. Dill, John W. Brown, W. E. Johnson, Matthew H. Kleiner, W. H. Van Dusen, Mrs. J. E. Kincaide, Mrs. Dan McClinton; Mrs. G. C. Richardson, G. C. Richardson; Mrs. J. D. Alexander, Cisco; R. C. Crane, Sweetwater; Dr. H. B. Tanner, Eastland; C. C. Rister, W. C. Holden, John R. Hutto, Rupert N. Richardson, Abilene; J. C. Swift, Mrs. C. H. Pee, Cisco.

THE ETERNAL CRY

In the oldest books known to man we find youth being censured for its bad conduct and wilful ways, and predictions being made that the world will suffer from the wildness of its young.

When a blatant preacher stands and shouts "The young people of today are sending the world straight to hell!" (I quote verbatim), he is simply repeating what has been said in all languages in every age.

"It is almost impossible to know what a man will be, difficult to know what he is, but easy to know what he has been. One must neither distrust nor trust blindly in young people, and one must take care not to depend upon men, nor to condemn them; all is yet within them, the metal in a state of fusion is running into the mould. It is only God who knows what the statue will be."

Thus George Sand summed up what our attitude toward youth might be, if we were more charitable.

Youth believes that happiness is its due and its right; consequently it is natural that the later period of youth is troubled and made miserable by the pursuit of happiness, as though there were no doubt that it can be met with somewhere in life.

So it is that the young man is dissatisfied with the position in which he finds himself, whatever it may be; he ascribes his disappointment solely to the state of things that meets him on his first introduction to life, when he has expected something different.

Remember that in the bright dawn of our youthful days, the poetry of life spreads out a gorgeous vision before us, and we torture ourselves to see it realized. The youth expects his career to be like an interesting romance; and there lies the germ of that disappointment.

SUPERIOR FAMILIES

The British Control Conference held in New York sprung at least one new idea. It urged the raising of large families, as a news dispatch reports it, "among persons of superior stock."

In the actual words of the resolution adopted, "The conference believes that persons whose progeny gives promise of being of decided value to the community should be encouraged to bear as large families as they feel they feasibly can."

Everybody will agree to this "in principle." Everybody who thinks at all about human problems prefers large families of good stock to large families of poor stock, among human beings as among domestic animals.

This, of course, is and will remain a personal and private matter. In so far as any control of the number of human offspring is feasible, among people not obviously imbecile, criminal or hopelessly diseased, it is going to continue with the parents themselves. And where are the men and women, in this blessed land at least, who do not consider themselves superior persons who would confer a benefit on society by providing more like themselves?

It would take a Solomon to decide with unerring wisdom what stock is "of decided value to the community" and what stock is not. The so-called upper classes do not necessarily produce children of better average intelligence, character and physique than the classes below them. Children from the lower levels are often surprisingly useful to society. If any stock may be considered of more value to the community than any other, it is probably what might be referred to as "middle class" stock.

BIG TOURING SEASON

Everything points to the biggest motor season yet, say officers of automobile clubs. Already they are deluged with inquiries about routes. It begins to look as if almost everybody with a car will be going somewhere. Tourists in one section naturally want to visit other sections. The east goes west and the west goes east. The north goes south and the south goes north. No section of the country with passable roads is neglected, though the biggest caravans are found in the regions of the best roads and the finest scenery and historic associations.

RADIO FAN ON SAHARA DESERT HEARS AMERICA

How would you like to be on the Sahara desert 250 miles south of Algiers and get Paris on the radio at mid-day?

Couldn't that be truthfully described as a real radio experience? Again: how would you like to be along the south coast of the Mediterranean and get six or eight of the European stations during the day and all of them at night?

How would you like to be in Tunis, North Africa, and get American stations after 1 a. m.?

DINNER STORIES

An East Side pantsmaker who was becoming quite a figure in the movie producing world was recently selecting a chief for his scenario staff. The producer insisted that the successful applicant must be a college graduate. He looked with favor upon one applicant, and asked if he had a college education. He received an affirmative reply.

"Show your diploma," demanded the producer. The applicant tried to explain that it was not customary for college graduates to carry diplomas around with them.

"Well, then," demanded the producer, with just a slight sneer, "say me a big word." A judge is often put in a difficult position when he is obliged to ascertain if a young witness realizes the nature of an oath.

A little girl was asked the usual question: Did she know what would happen to her if she swore what was untrue, and answered thus: "Yes, my lord, I would not be given any witnesses' expenses."

The teacher was giving the primary class a talk on flowers. "Now, children," she said, "who can tell me what makes the flower spring from the seed?" "God does it," answered one little girl, "but fertilizer helps."

A NEW ERA FOR WOMEN IN THE BUSINESS MART

CHICAGO, April 18.—A new era for girls in the business world was visioned here by Miss Frances Hooper, speaking to the girls of the Francis Parker School in behalf of the campaign for Girls' Week to be held in connection with the Women's World's fair beginning today.

"I want every girl in the land to realize," Miss Hooper said, "that she has the same capacity for conspicuous success in the business world that her brother has—the education, the personal force, the executive qualities to command a big position. I want her to get away from the psychological inhibition that lies in the fact that she is a woman, to enter the business world with the expectation of taking a big place and not a minor one."

"The inspiration is here before our very eyes in the careers of half a dozen Chicago women. The example of Florence Couthou, of course, is classic. Nobody knows what her income from her theater ticket business is. It is enough to say that any man might covet it."

"It's not hard to imagine that it's a man's size job to manage a skyscraper, and the only woman manager of a skyscraper east of the Mississippi is a Chicago woman. Her name is Miss C. C. Cramer and she manages two—the Garland building, twenty-one stories, and the City Hall Square building, also twenty-one stories. Miss Cramer has only two assistants."

"Mrs. Ora Snyder's husband lay dying. Finances were none of the best with the little family and he was concerned for the fate of the wife he was leaving behind him. Don't worry about me," Mrs. Snyder told him, "I'll make candy." And she did. She went into a man's world and made good. Today she is known as the 'candy lady.' Through a stroke of genius she chose a location at State and Lake streets. She could not afford to hire clerks, so she made her candy and sold it in the same room. The public thought it a new idea and a good one. It proved her best advertisement. Today she pays $75,000 a year rent and in the first eighteen days of last December her mail order business alone totaled $40,000.

"Miss Mary L. Dutton, world famous cafeteria owner, made her success after the age of 50. Nothing she had attempted up to that time had materialized. Then, inspired by the success of another woman, she opened a cafeteria—and a large one. She cooked, washed dishes, served in the early days of her business and she's still cooking today. In a kitchen of her own, especially built in one of her establishments, she's experimenting with coconut cake. She aspires to bake the best coconut cake that ever flattered the human palate. Last year Miss Dutton served 4,000,000 meals at a profit of a fraction more than $400,000.

NEGROES WILL TRY MURDERER AT BOLEY, OKLA.

BOLEY, Okla., April 18.—Some time this month Boley will have a murder trial. It probably will be the most unusual trial in American criminal history. For Boley is an unusual town. So far as is known it is the only city of anywhere near 5,000 population where there is not a white resident. It has three first class banks and numerous business houses.

The trial and its scenes were forecast recently in the preliminary hearing of Charles Davis, the accused man. Davis is accused of having choked to death, with sand, a man named Brownfield. The complaint stated that Davis forced sand into Brownfield's mouth and nose until he died. Judge McRiley, a negro judge, conducted the hearing. More than a thousand negroes jammed the courtroom. Four negro doctors testified to the cause of death before a jury consisting of four bankers, three merchants and five farmers, all negroes. A boy who found the body was the state's chief witness, supported by the city marshal and the chief of police. There were able colored lawyers on both sides, for Davis is a prosperous farmer, and Brownfield, also, was well to do. The hearing was conducted with stern dignity. As one man, the negroes rose when the judge entered the court and remained standing until he was seated. There was quiet throughout the hearing, broken only by the continuous weeping of the relatives of the dead man. Davis was held, without bond, although he offered $20,000 cash bail.

THE SALVATION ARMY'S MISSION IN EASTLAND CO.

The work of mercy goes on in the Salvation army camps all over the nation. The Eastland county post, with army headquarters at Eastland, is contributed to by Cisco folk, and a more worthy cause could not claim their attention. The Eastland post has the endorsement of County Judge Pritchard, who states he is familiar with their work which has not only been beneficial to the parties concerned, but has proven an uplift to the community. Judge Pritchard cites two instances where young

Sargent's Aide

UGO J. A. CARUSI.

Ugo J. A. Carusi, of Barre, former secretary to Attorney Archibald, of Vermont, has been chosen as secretary to Garibaldi Sargent, new United States Attorney-General. pulling little brothers and sisters as a balance wheel. For, of course, she wanted a 'good time,' as she called it, and her sister helped her to have it.

"When the unexpected denouement came the child was frantic with shame, and hated the coming baby, with a hatred that was terrific. Crying and screaming she would not have the child, and for months voicing her antipathy for the unborn, helpless soul. The situation was brought to the attention of Capt. Moore, who succeeded in sending Ann to the rescue or industrial home in San Antonio, a Christian training home, where the refugees are taught useful occupations and reached through their differing circumstances of Christ and His promise."

"The baby came three weeks after Ann went to the home in September. Through months passing, a gradual change was taking place in Ann's heart and mind, and the following pitiful letter, will tell its own story:

"To dear Mrs. Moore:

"I know you think I have been mean by not answering your letter, for I was so busy as I am now, and I should have written you long ago. I can be as sweet as a girl, and I know I am a good girl. I don't know I am any better than any other girl. I am a girl, and I am a girl."

AMUSEMENTS

Broadway Today

Seldom does the screen echo the heartbeat of humanity as does this great motion picture. The tears, the laughter, the joy of life are the fabrics of which Victor Seastrom has woven a truly immortal masterpiece. It is a photoplay with a title that may not sound interesting to you. But the picture is 100 per cent entertainment. You may not understand why a photoplay should be titled "He Who Gets Slapped," but after seeing the production you will realize the reason for it. You will see Lon Chaney in his greatest picture. Extra added attractions. Special prologue of music.

Wisdom Of Farm Aid Is Recognized By Investors Who Have Advanced Millions To Soil Tillers Of Nation

BREAKING CANADIAN PRAIRIE.

The wisdom of affording every financial aid within reason to farmers and farming communities has been repeatedly emphasized by Edward D. Duffield, president of the Prudential Insurance Company, particularly in a recent address dealing with farm mortgage loans as investments for life insurance funds, made before the Bond Club of New Jersey.

"Life insurance companies have more than doubled the amount of their loans on farms in this country during the last five years in addition to responding to housing needs in congested urban communities. In the last five years the Prudential lent $205,699,130.20 on farm mortgages. During 1924 a smaller amount of Prudential farm loans indicated a progress towards prosperity in agricultural districts.

course, it is useless to adopt any of these other methods of aiding the country if you are not going to aid the man who produces that which we eat, upon whom we are absolutely dependent, and so these companies are largely in the field of investment in farm loans, aiding the farmer to harvest and develop his crop, enabling him to bring in land for development purposes which otherwise he might not have been able to do, aiding him in so conducting in a scientific way these farm operations that as a result thereof the food of everyone in the United States has been made cheaper and easier to obtain than it otherwise would have been."

In 1924 the Prudential loaned $37,967,402.97 on farm properties in the United States. They have also relieved the housing situation by extensive loans on small dwellings.

NEW RULING IS ANNOUNCED BY TEXAS LEAGUE

AUSTIN, April 18.—Schools entering representatives in the University of Texas Interscholastic league contests this year will be divided into A and B divisions at the district and state meets, according to Roy B. Henderson, one of the state directors.

Students properly enrolled for the literary, track, and track events must compete in the county meet as before, that is, in A and B classes. Under the present provisions the schools will send the first and second place winners in the respective events of both divisions to the district meet, where competition will take place in one big class. The same combination plan is to be followed in the final contests at Austin in May.

Another important provision in effect this year will make it possible for substitutions to be made by a school if a winner in the county contests is unable to attend the district meet because of illness or injury suffered after the date he qualified in the county meet. Heretofore schools have been restricted to enter only the individual winners. It will likewise be possible to make substitutions for district or state, provided the entrant has satisfied all qualifications of the league rules.

As in the past, first and second place winners at the district will qualify with full rebate privileges, that is, a part of their railroad expenses will be refunded by the interscholastic league. Schools will also be permitted to enter in the state meet those students taking third and fourth places in the districts; however, no rebates will be given them.

Elimination of the A and B divisions beyond the county tournaments will reduce the number of entrants in the finals. According to Mr. Henderson, records made in the past few years the two divisions were practically the same, and did not justify such arrangements. The state will be run off this year in an efficient manner, it is stated.

CROSS CUT ADDS THREE NEW ONES THE PAST WEEK

CROSS PLAINS, April 18.—In spite of the water shortage developments continue to go forward in the Cross Cut pool, three new producers having been added to this week's production. Root, Rhodes & McMurry completed their J. W. Newton No. 3 early in the week with a production of 125 barrels. Mendenhall et al. drilled in their J. W. Newton No. 3 Sunday, making from 75 to 100 barrels. Conway Bros. & Gilman also brought in their J. W. Newton No. 4. This well is a good producer, but the exact production is not known.

C. O. Moore and E. R. Wilson have swabbed out their big producer on the east Gafford tract in the east extension and the well is flowing steadily, maintaining an even rate of production. The same company is moving in a rig on their No. 2 location on the east Gafford tract, approximately 150 feet south of the big producer, and are moving in a rig on their No. 2-A location on the Westerman tract. C. O. Moore is rigging up on his No. 1 location on his west Gafford lease.

Mahlstedt-Mook Oil Co. are moving in a standard rig on their J. W. Newton No. 9, and are also moving in a standard rig on their Gaines No. 4, and will begin drilling this week. The same company is on the top of the pay on their J. W. Newton No. 8.

Conway Bros. & Gilman have completed a standard rig on their J. W. Newton No. 5, and Mendenhall et al. have moved in a rig on their J. W. Newton No. 4.

Rhodes & Highers are rigging up on their W. A. Prater lease, in the old discovery field of the Cross Cut pool, and Gillette & Dozier are also rigging up on their W. A. Prater No. 3.

Ford Air Service Inaugurated

FORD OPENS AIRLINE, 1925.

The first real step forward in commercial aviation was made when the Maiden Dearborn, the first of Henry Ford's all-metal airplanes, hopped off from Dearborn Field, Detroit, Michigan, laden with a thousand pounds of freight, for Chicago. The Maiden Dearborn was piloted by Edward G. Maminon, with Harry Russell as mechanic. The plane is the first of a projected fleet of all-metal ships which will maintain a regular air service between Chicago and Detroit. Ford has announced that as soon as the Chicago-Detroit service is in full swing three new services would be started, one to operate to St. Louis, another to Iron Mountain, Mich., and the third to Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn. Photo shows Ford placing a package aboard the plane just before it hopped off on its initial flight from Detroit.

skidding of the rig to a new location and the company has completed a rig on their Teston No. 3, and will start drilling in a short time.

Pete Huffman will begin drilling on his Armstrong No. 1 soon. Much interest is evidenced, as it lies approximately two miles northeast of the old discovery pool of Cross Cut, and some distance from the nearest well in the east extension.

C. O. Moore is rigging up on his new location on the W. H. Chambers tract five miles south of Rising Star. Crabb, McNeal & Bryant are spudding in on their Elsbury No. 2 at the west part of the Cross Cut pool. In the shallow field near Burkett Archie Shaw et al. are drilling at 250 feet on their No. 1 on the Emmett Watson tract. The Canyon Oil & Gas company have abandoned their Burns No. 4 at an depth of 635 feet. C. O. Moore is drilling at 220 feet on his Robert No. 1, north of the Burns discovery well, and the Canyon Oil & Gas Co. have made a location for a wildcat on the George Koenig tract four miles southwest of Cross Plains. The Canyon Oil & Gas Co. is drilling at 260 feet on the Morris No. 1, one and one-half miles northwest of the Echo stone in north Coleman county.

Hutton et al. are drilling at 700 feet on the Coppinger tract in the vicinity of Cottonwood.

ROPED A LIVE WOLF WHILE IN AN AUTOMOBILE

Cisco has some real rodeo talent among her people. Roping a wolf from an automobile is one of the latest stunts reported when Jesse L. Stevenson and Carl Summerlin brought in a live wolf captured while driving in the oil fields. The wolf was roped while they were in the car, and safely placed in their machine and brought into town. John Fanning says he will enter these two in the big rodeo here during the firemen's convention in the original stunt of roping a coyote from a speeding car. The wolf was tendered to Secretary Richardson to be delivered to Dr. Hale for his zoo collection. Several months ago another Cisco young man overtook a wolf in the highway and ran him down in his Ford car and killed it with a rock, but this is the first rodeo stunt reported from the deck of a Ford. ### HACKBERRY SLIM TO PUT ON RODEO AT RISING STAR

RISING STAR, April 18.—Hackberry Slim, known as one of the most fearless and daring riders and bulldozers of the generation, has just made arrangements for a two-day engagement with his rodeo troupe in this city Friday and tamed to bring him in. A feature of the performances will be the riding of the Seale girls, of Abilene. These are two of the most noted lady riders in the country and their services are always in demand at the stock show and other big attractions of this kind. Another interesting feature is the bucking buffaloes. Slim says that when you don't think a buffalo can buck you just don't know him. While here Slim took out a liberal amount of rain insurance on the two performances and guaranteed a good rain. He says he never comes to Rising Star but what it rains and says this engagement will be no exception to the rule. He says come to the rodeo and watch it rain.

RARE FLYING CIRCUS STUNTS
Cisco folk will go to Eastland today to witness the dare devil stunts advertised to be staged at the flying circus given at the field, four miles south of Eastland on the Carbon road. This circus is given under the auspices of the Dullin-Daniel post, American legion. World famed flyers will take part in the circus, and many thrillers are promised. An added attraction is "Shorty" Radack, who will perform some stunts never before seen in this section. Standing on his head on the wings of the plane. Perilous as this may seem his unexcelled feature of standing on top of the plane, with his arms folded, while the pilot makes a complete loop-the-loop. Radack is said to be the only man in the world doing this rare stunt.

Be sure and hear Batsell Baxter, president of Abilene Christian college, preach at 11 o'clock today, at Church of Christ.

Individual handmade cards, designed by Mrs. Mary Riddle, marked the place for each guest. The Rev. Bowman read the verses contained in the cards and then each guest expressed in beautifully worded sentiments his appreciation of the friendship of both Mr. and Mrs. Barber. The only shadow of an otherwise perfect afternoon was the absence of one who always partook of those annual festivities—the beloved T. P. Cochran. Dr. D. S. Rumph was greatly missed, but was unable to attend. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served by Miss Sarah Emma Barber and Mrs. Walter Daniel to the following: Messrs.
