

NEW SECRETARY WILL ARRIVE AUGUST 1

EAST SIDE WILL BE CONNECTED WITH SEWERAGE DISPOSAL PLANT BY CUTTING THROUGH THE HILL

Work to Be Completed in Sixty Days — Building of Many Sidewalks Will Be Enforced — Several More Alleys Are to Be Paved — Shelton Appointed.

"Improvement" was the talk all the way through at a regular meeting of the mayor and city commissioners last night. Many pending projects were discussed and new ones initiated.

Chief among the latter was a sewer leading from the east side ward school house to connection with the sewerage disposal plant. Various routes for this sewer were discussed, the chief point being to avoid the rock formation in the hill, but it was finally determined that it will be necessary to cut through this as the establishment of a separate disposal plant would cost more than it would to build the sewer, and then, it was declared, it would be more satisfactory to have the plant centralized. The commission then voted to build the sewer and it was stated that the work could probably be completed in sixty days, if the pipe can be secured. The estimated cost is between $15,000 and $20,000.

The claim of Mr. Simmons, amounting to $2,257, for rock work in the construction of about five miles of sewers was allowed.

Goldman Bros. had complained about the condition of the alley in the rear of their place of business, and this brought on a general discussion relative to many of the alleys of the city. Many of these had been named in the list declared necessary to pave and the resolution had been adopted some time ago, last night the resolution making the assessments was adopted and ordered published. This resolution being adopted and published, it will be possible for the commission to proceed with the paving as it may see fit or as it is enabled to secure material. The Goldman Bros. alley, which is in block 30, between Fifth and Sixth streets, was included in the resolution and will be paved just as soon as the city can secure the cement, or if it is possible to spare a sufficient quantity from the cement now on hand, it will be paved at once.

There are several complaints relative to defective sidewalks, or the entire absence of walks, in some localities where they were said to be very badly needed. It was ordered that certain property owners be notified, by the chief of police, to construct sidewalks and the street commissioner was authorized to contract for the construction of a sidewalk in front of a piece of property owned by the city on East Sixth street.

There was discussion as to the proper top dressing of some streets on which stone had been placed, which was the best, gravel or crushed rock. Engineer Vance assured the mayor and commissioners that the crushed rock would make the best street, ultimately, but that it could only be packed by traffic and said the rats should be kept filled and the rock smoothed during the time it was being so packed and then, he said, they would have a most excellent street. To determine what should be used was finally left to the mayor, street commissioner and the engineer.

The mayor appointed W. C. Shelton a member of the board of equalization and the nomination was confirmed.

The meeting recessed until tonight, when the election of a commissioner will be taken up.

AMERICAN RAILWAY EXPRESS COMPANY IS ASKING FOR INCREASE

Associated Press.
AUSTIN, July 12.—Application of the American Railway Express company for an increase in rates will come to a final hearing before the interstate commerce commission on July 23, according to C. E. Gilmore, member of the Texas Railroad commission, who has recently returned from Washington.

Commissioner Gilmore was a member of the committee of railroad commissioners from twelve states comprising the third zone which was appointed to gather data and statistics to be presented at the hearing. The data has been presented to the interstate commerce commission.

Since the government will cease to guarantee against losses by the express company beginning September 1, it is expected that an early decision will follow the final hearing on July 23, declared Commissioner Gilmore. No action, he said, will be taken upon the application of this company for an increase in intrastate rates until after the decision of the interstate commerce commission has been made.

Elimination of the Lottery Ads Looked Like Censorship

Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, July 13.—Blank spots in Mexican newspapers circulating in the United States, which gave rise to reports that censorship had been re-established, is explained by the publishers to be caused by the fact that the United States laws prohibit the circulation of publications carrying lottery advertisements, and that the withdrawal of these advertisements in editions to be sent to be sent across the border left the blank spaces.

School Girls Help Save Peach Crop in Maryland Orchards

International News Service.
HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 13.—Alarmed at the statement by County Farm Agents Stanley E. Day that Washington County's peach crop might be lost on account of the farm labor shortage, young women and girls from miles around are rushing into the orchards to help gather the crop. These include many high school girls and girls just home from college, who assert their willingness to go into the orchards and assist in picking, packing and shipping the crop.

At the suggestion of Miss Mildred Bennett, just home from a school in New Jersey where she presides as teacher, the farmettes are donning midly blouses and bloomers, these being found more convenient for going up and down ladders and shinning up trees.

COMMITTEE OF FORTY-EIGHT IS IN LABOR PARTY

THEY WENT INTO IT AS A WHOLE AND AGREED TO AGGRESSIVE PLATFORM

PREACHER IS CHEERED

Gave Thanks for Russian Revolution and Predicted Like Situation in America.

Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 13.—Amalgamation of the principal groups attempting to form a new party here, was effected today.

The committee of 48 voted to join the national labor party. A large non-partisan league group and a delegation of single-taxers marched into the labor convention and announced they had decided to amalgamate.

Reverend George C. Richmond in his prayer before the committee of 48 gave thanks for the Russian revolution, for "the new spirit of assertiveness among the negroes" and in Ireland. His blessing of Eugene Debs "in his prison cell" was interrupted with cheers.

During the separate session the 48ers voted to recommend a platform plank for "public ownership and democratic control of transportation including stockyards, large abattoirs, grain elevators, terminal warehouses, pipe lines and tanks" and "democratic control" by the workers and their representatives which was the labor party demand.

Harry Neuberger, of New York, discussing this plank before the convention, said "we may not be able to grab the entire earth at this time, but we can take a step in this direction."

Before adjourning the labor party session, it was indicated that a new party was planned to nominate a presidential candidate and state tickets in some sections.

The combined convention then took up the reports.

Reverend George C. Richmond opened the 48ers convention with a prayer which was received with cheers. "We are not concerned with heaven or hell; it is this world we are interested in. As Jesus failed, so do we if we are corrupt, mean, low-visioned and selfish. Forgive us, O God, and as a great revolution is coming, save us from national disaster."

Cumberger testified in the trial of twenty members of the Communist labor party today. Counsel for the defendants charged with violating the State sedition act, waived the opening statement.

to proceed with the adoption of its own platform and the selection of candidates if the conference was not finished today. Delegates argued that the labor party "forget all about the 48ers and go after the farmers in their convention." They said the farmers' strength in the other meeting had no real affinity with "plutocrats and subtle slick lawyers" who, they asserted, comprise the leadership of the 48 group.

Discovers New Way To Cure Toothache; Remedy Is Heroic

BALTIMORE, Md., July 13.—A new way to get rid of toothache has been discovered by Mrs. Teresa Kweider, fifty years old, of Mount Winas, who made the contribution to the science of dentistry without ever having taken a course at a dental college.

The Cisco Chamber of Commerce and Production has secured an expert secretary who is expected to arrive here and assume the duties of the office about August 1.

He is Sam H. Fowlkes and he comes from Cleburne, where he is at present secretary of the Commercial Club of that city. He went to Cleburne from Marshall, having gone to the latter city from Birmingham, Ala. He is a young man, possibly but little over thirty years of age, and has been constantly engaged in this kind of work for the past seven years and comes with the highest recommendations for his efficiency.

Mr. Fowlkes was here July 1 and conferred with the directors and members of the Chamber of Commerce and Production and at that time felt disposed to accept the offer then made him, but on returning to Cleburne the people of that city determined to retain his services, and offered him the same salary that had been tendered him here.

Much correspondence followed between Mr. Fowlkes and the Chamber of Commerce and Production of this city, and finally he asked until today to make reply. Today G. Bedford, acting secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and Production received a telegram from Mr. Fowlkes saying he would accept the position and a reply was sent telling him to come.

Mr. Fowlkes said he would have to give the Cleburne Commercial Club 30 days' notice and would be here within that time, but that he thought he was in touch with a man to take his place and he hoped to reach Cisco by August 1. Acting Secretary Bedford wired him they would wait, but would be glad to have him come at the earliest possible moment.

There will be a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Production tonight at which time the employment will be discussed, but the discussion will probably take the form of mutual congratulations over securing his services, for when he was here he created a most favorable impression with the members, and all they have had come to them concerning him has been good.

"CONSTRUCTIVE LEGISLATION."

Those prating about "constructive legislation" on the part of congress, or the want of it, might gather in an object lesson from so small a legislative body as the city commission of Cisco.

There is never a meeting of the mayor and commissioners but some "constructive legislation," legislation for producing something, for betterments, for the aid of the city and the people thereof, is enacted.

This was evidenced against last night when it was determined to construct a sewer which will serve the East Side ward school house and all that portion of the city in taking care of its sewage disposal.

The people on the East Side take great pride in their school. They are placing their schoolhouse and grounds in the very best sanitary condition possible and the mayor and commissioners realized that with the school board taking these active measures, it was only right that the city should do its part—and they did it.

PROHIBITION IN MEXICO?

The statement that legislation to be presented to the next Mexican congress, looking to prohibition in that republic, was being prepared, came as no surprise to those who have long known Provisional President de la Huerta. He has ever been a believer in prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor.

But to recommend prohibition, to enact laws providing for it is one thing; enforcement of these laws is another. The people of the United States are just now realizing how difficult it is to enforce a law against which a large number of the citizens have arrayed themselves.

How much more difficult, then, would it be in Mexico, where there is hardly a home in which intoxicating liquor is not manufactured daily. No doubt the greatest number of crimes committed by the bandits of Mexico occurred when the bandits were under the influence of liquor.

With the intoxicants eliminated, recruiting to the ranks of minor revolutions and outlaw bands would be greatly reduced. In the United States the appeal for prohibition is made to the educated intelligence of the people and, as has been proven, with success. But in Mexico, where the intelligence among the very class President de la Huerta seeks to benefit, the half-breed Indians, the intelligence is of low degree and education is entirely wanting.

ed an uprising and began making trouble, he did not order his troops to go quell the disturbance. He simply said, "Go kill them."

So President de la Huerta will find it necessary to kill many before he will be enabled to enforce prohibitory laws in Mexico. But this is what he may do and is probably what he is trying to do. He may be able to promise the United States government that in case of recognition of his government, he will establish a 10-mile dry zone along the southern bank of the Rio Grande and thus stop the extensive smuggling of liquor from Mexico into the United States, as now carried on daily.

With an unlimited supply of good water in sight and an altitude that guarantees health and "pep," Cisco is unquestionably an ideal home city and its population and growth will be governed altogether by the rapidity with which the demand for homes is supplied.

No mosquitoes, no malaria and few flies—three good reasons for residence in Cisco.

THE DIVORCE EVIL GROWS.

Discussion of divorce has gained momentum in the United States since the publication of divorce statistics by the census bureau a few months ago. In 1870, the statistics showed, the divorce rate in this country was 28 per 100,000 inhabitants; in 1880, the rate had increased to 39; in 1890, to 53; in 1900, it had grown to 73, and now, according to figures obtained about a year ago, the rate is 112, or just four times the rate of fifty years ago.

In connection with this increase, however, should be considered the fact that there are increasing opportunities for women to earn a living. A wife who formerly would have to put up with cruelty from her husband now will get a divorce and undertake to support herself. At the same time, there is an undoubted tendency to ask for divorce for trivial reasons. Analysis of the causes for which divorces are now granted has shown that unfaithfulness, desertion and drunkenness, which figured largely in divorce cases twenty years ago, are less prominent. What appears to be growing is the divorce "habit."

A few days ago a society of national scope was organized, under church auspices, in New York City, for the purpose of defending the sanctity of marriage and halting the increase in divorces. According to the secretary of this organization, divorces granted in the United States now number nearly 130,000 a year and are increasing at the rate of 30 per cent every five years. These figures are not materially out of line with census statistics. The point at issue in the situation, the secretary says, is to forbid ministers to remarry divorced persons.

This prohibition is supposed to be based upon the teaching of Christ and New Testament writers.

The new Canadian prayer book declares that "no clergyman within the jurisdiction of the Church of England in Canada shall solemnize a marriage between persons either of whom shall have been divorced from one who is living at the time." This provision, it is admitted serious hardship upon some, but it is declared far better than a few should suffer "indefinites" than that the morals of the entire citizenship of the dominion should be endangered.

In connection with church action it has been urged that there should be stricter laws on the subject. Judge Thomas F. Moran of Reno, Nev., who estimates he has heard four thousand divorce cases, declares, however, that the remedy for divorce is not to be found in legislation, but in the home. Improvement in morals and strong character are made generally under the care and guidance of parents, with the aid of proper training in the schools, says Judge Moran.

The church may render valuable assistance in this training, but whether an inflexible rule against clergymen solemnizing the marriages of divorced persons would help is questionable. Such a rule would often work serious injustice, and it would not be materially effective so long as civil marriages are legal.—Kansas City Star.

ANOTHER STANDARD OIL FIGHT.

In the fight between the independent operators of Louisiana and the Standard Oil company, the former have scored the first knockdown by the passage in the house of the pipeline bill. The purpose of this measure is to make the Standard pipe line a common carrier, as are the other two companies engaged in the transportation of oil in that state, namely the Gulf and the Texas.

It is conceded that the Standard's status is different from that of the Gulf and Texas companies, which are frankly chartered as common carriers and transport oil at rates fixed by the state, or subject to the state's determination. The Standard, on the contrary, buys the oil from the producer before it is turned into the pipe line. It, therefore, is hauling its own product and claims it cannot be declared a common carrier by the legislature. It cites a supreme court decision that no corporation can be declared a public utility or common carrier that is in the business of hauling its own products exclusively.

But the independent operators insist that this Standard claim is neither honest nor sincere, that it is a technical pleading. The facts are, say the independents, that in many fields the operators are at the mercy of Standard, that they are compelled to accept whatever price Standard offers, since they have no way of getting their oil to market. Granting that Standard ordinarily pays the market price, especially in established fields, the charge is made that the vast pipe-line plants of Standard have been paid for by the producers, who, in the early days of every field have to sell their oil at a figure sufficiently below the market price to defray the cost of constructing the pipe line.

The Louisiana fight is not new; it is only a phase of the varied and prolonged struggle between the independents and Standard that has run through the whole history of the oil industry. In that history, which has revealed avarice functioning with incomparable cunning, untrammelled by conscience, distinguished political figures have been blighted while the name of the lesser chaps who have sold their birthright for a mess of pottage is supposed to be legion. The tactics which Standard has employed in other battles are being used in Louisiana, according to the papers down there, which say that the lobby fighting the pipe-line bill is the biggest Baton Rouge has ever seen. The conditions making for familiar scandal seem to be all present at Louisiana's drowsy old capital.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Scouts Lose Second Game With Eagles

ABILENE WINS IN 12 INNINGS HARD PLAYING

THE WIERDEST BASEBALL EVER NOTED ON LOCAL FIELD BRINGS THRILLS

INTEREST WAS GREAT

Was Lost By Scouts, Then Won and Lost Again—Almost Fight at One Time.

Cisco lost the game, won it—and lost it again in twelve innings of the weirdest baseball ever played on the local lot. Gomez Hill had the locals eating out of his paw for seven innings, but in the eighth they turned on him unexpectedly and started a rally that annexed five runs and the lead before the smoke had cleared. It looked like a five-four victory for Tom's Scouts, but Young's hit, coupled with sacrifices by Segrist and Milam, and an error in Cisco's infield allowed the Eagles to tie the score. Nothing happened in the tenth, but in the eleventh, with Kuziar and Segrist pecking on first and second, Boggs broke his string of strike-outs with a clean single to left, scoring two runs, and winning the game.

Kotelnick relieved F. Johnson at the end of four and two-thirds innings. An attempt by Segrist of the Eagles

TODD'S TID-BITS

(Written for International News Service) The Greatest Fighter He Ever Saw.

Paul Vagarelli, who was a boxer years ago and used the name of Paul Kelly in the ring, is a booster for the old-timers. He says it's the hardest thing in the world to pick one fighter and say that he was the best man that ever lived. "There's so many of them," said Paul last night, while puffing a big cheroot. "Last were a dozen GREAT fighters," he continued. "By great I mean that they stood head and shoulders above the average boxer."

The three greatest in my mind that ever lived were George Lavigne, Joe Walcott and Joe Gans.

"That Lavigne was a master fighting machine. A short, chunky fellow who was all heart and never backed up a step in his life. He didn't care how they came. That fellow was a fighter from his shoes up. He fought them big and little, black and white, clever or rugged. He picked no soft ones. There were no soft ones in his day. Every time he stepped into a ring there was a fight, and he was usually the winner."

"I think that he was the most aggressive fellow we have ever seen. Walcott, the Barbadoes demon, was a wonder, too. They never came too big or too tough for him."

Then there was Gans—different from both Lavigne and Walcott, but an artist in ringcraft if there ever was one. Smooth, clever, but dangerous. He never worked hard. He was the Lajoie of the ring. Nothing seemed too hard for him. He made everything look easy. Opponents would miss him by a hair and the mob thought him lucky. That wasn't luck; it was class."

Peckinpugh Will Try Anything Once.

When the Washington team was here on its last visit Sam Rice, the fleet-footed outfielder of the Senators, walked over to the Yankee bench during practice and, hand Roger Peckinpugh a bat, said: "Peck, do you want a bat fit hit fun-goes with? I tried to fatten my batting average with it, but hit nothing but air. There wasn't a hit IN THE FOREST that they cut this club from."

Peck thanked Sam for the club and tried it out during that game. All he got was a three-bagger and two doubles out of three times at bat. Right now Peck is hitting over .300 and did it all with Sam's bat.

He wouldn't trade it for a trunk-load of white mint.

Coffroth, the Tourist.

Word from Frisco tells us that Jim Coffroth will soon visit New York again. At present the smiling promoter is with his mother at San Diego, but will shortly visit the new race track at Reno, then hop a rattler for the Saratoga meeting, and later grab a boat for Europe. Just what James will do on the other side is a secret, but he intends remaining over there at least two months.

ETHEL CLAYTON IN ABSORBING PICTURE OF DOMESTIC LIFE

Pretty Star Is Appearing Heroine in "Young Mrs. Winthrop"—A New Film.

Ethel Clayton's latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, "Young Mrs. Winthrop," will be the attraction at the Judia Theatre for today. It is an entertaining story of young married life, telling of the estrangement of a youthful husband and wife and their reconciliation under dramatic circumstances. Bronson Howard wrote the play from which it was adapted.

Ethel Clayton has the role of pleasure loving Constance Winthrop, while Harrison Ford is the husband, immersed in business. Their varying interests lead them apart, the sole connecting link being their five-year-old child, Rosie. The husband becomes involved in an innocent, but shady looking affair with a Mrs. Dunbar, who is bent upon revenging herself upon Constance. The climax of the picture is the death of Rosie, which at first separates them still further, but later brings them together through the action of a lawyer-friend of both.

J. M. Dumont, Charles Ogle, Raymond Hatton and Winifred Greenwood are included in the excellent supporting cast. Walter Edwards directed the picture.

Hollow concrete posts for use as mine timbers have been devised by a Belgian engineer. The new system, which is designed to permit of settlement if the support is overburdened, consists essentially of a hollow reinforced concrete column, filled with sand or some other slightly compressible material through which the load is transmitted.

Congressmen From United States Will Be Welcome in China

(Associated Press.) SHANGHAI, July 13.—Plans to extend an elaborate welcome to a party of American congressmen coming to China in July are well under way in Shanghai, by order of the Peking government. The view expressed in official quarters is that this visit of the congressmen affords the first opportunity for China to express its gratitude to the United States for the stand that was taken at Washington upon the Shanghai question.

According to messages received the congressional party will number 134 and will arrive in Shanghai after a stop in Hawaii the latter part of the month.

Special trains are to be placed at the disposal of the visitors through Nanking, on to Peking and to Mukden, where the members of the party will become guests of the Japanese government and will be taken on an extended sight-seeing tour through Korea and later through Japan. Everywhere, banquets, receptions, excursions of various kinds, presentations and other affairs are being arranged.

RECRUITING OFFICERS THANK PEOPLE OF CISCO

U. S. Navy Recruiting Officers Hilliard and Sheridan will close the local temporary recruiting station on July 15.

Hilliard returns to Fort Worth and Sheridan goes to Abilene. But before their departure they will be glad to give any information about the navy to anyone interested or contemplating enlisting.

Their stay in Cisco has been very successful, as well as pleasant, and both the officers express themselves as highly gratified at the treatment they have received from the Cisco citizens, as well as the very valuable assistance and cooperation of Mayor Williamson, who kindly placed an office at their disposal at the city hall.

Hilliard and Sheridan complimented highly the enterprise of the Cisco people in the upbuilding of the city, and will ever carry with them pleasant recollections of their sojourn in Cisco, and hope that it may be possible for them to make another visit to this city soon.

To the local papers they also express their sincere thanks for the great assistance to the navy's campaign for the enlistment of intelligent and ambitious young men in the world's greatest school—the United States navy.

Friends Of Mrs. Harding Say Husband Should Win

(Associated Press.) MARION, Ohio, July 12.—Many women of Marion, girlhood acquaintances, friends or chums of Mrs. Warren G. Harding, wife of the republican nominee for the presidency, are enthusiastic over the possibility that she may preside at the white house. They say she is well fitted for the duties of a president's wife, because "she has a mind of her own, generally manages to get what she wants, is thoroughly democratic, likes to give and go to parties, is interested in a hundred and one things, knows how to talk to every one and once she knows you, always knows you."

Some Marion residents say that Mrs. Harding has contributed in important ways to Mr. Harding's success in life. Mrs. Harding was born here, August 15, 1860, and was reared in this city where she attended grammar and high schools.

As Florence Kling, daughter of Amos Kling, banker and one of the most wealthy men in Marion, she is described by a girlhood friend, Mrs. Margaret Younkins, as "one of the best horsewomen I have ever seen." "She rode and drove more like a man than a girl," said Mrs. Younkins, who said she was more accustomed in those days to seeing Florence Kling dashing swiftly upon the street on Billy, her saddle horse, then walking with the other girls of her social circle. Other girlhood friends of Mrs. Harding told of the times when they used to "pile into Florence's phaeton and ride with perfect confidence behind her speedy Billy."

Florence Kling was married to Warren G. Harding, then, as now, newspaper publisher, on July 8, 1891, in their present home in Mount Vernon avenue, Marion. For more than 12 years, until illness prevented, Mrs. Harding was circulation manager of the Star, her husband's newspaper. In addition she was the registration bureau for complaints, advertising manager and angel to the newshoys.

When Mrs. Harding returns to Marion and meets any of the boys who carried papers for Senator Harding when she was circulation manager, she pats them on the back, it is said, and remarks: "Here is one of my boys—he will be famous some day."

Mrs. Harding has been a member of "The Twigs," a card club of Marion, for many years.

In the opinion of export authorities, Canada could increase its production of zinc to supply one-tenth of the world's demand, which is estimated at over 1,000,000 tons annually.

"CONSTRUCTIVE LEGISLATION."

Those prating about "constructive legislation" on the part of congress, or the want of it, might gather in an object lesson from so small a legislative body as the city commission of Cisco.

There is never a meeting of the mayor and commissioners but some "constructive legislation" legislation for producing something, for improving something, for betterments, for the aid of the city and the people thereof, is enacted.

This was evidenced against last night when it was determined to construct a sewer which will serve the East Side ward school house and all that portion of the city in taking care of its sewage disposal.

The people on the East Side take great pride in their school. They are placing their school for

Judge R. N. Grisham Who Opposes Blanton Will Speak Tonight

Judge R. N. Grisham, a resident citizen of Eastland county and candidate for congress from this district, will address the voters of Cisco and community this evening at 8:30 o'clock. Judge Grisham's friends claim that he is running on a very constructive platform, and that if he is elected the district will be pleased and benefitted by his efforts.

He says he is opposed to any vast system of expenditures in time of peace that may be eliminated; that he opposes compulsory military training, and that the millions proposed for military training may be better diverted to the establishment and maintenance of national highways and the development of internal resources, including agriculture and stock-raising.

He has a strong plank in his platform which he claims will be of great benefit to the farmers and stock-raisers, and claims that he has a splendid remedy for the packing house evils and the profiteers of every kind. He emphatically states that capital should be protected in its property rights, and have a just earning upon its investment. Labor should have a just wage, and the people should be protected from the unjust demands of both.

He says that he stands with the present democratic administration and its wonderful accomplishments, is a prohibitionist, favors the absolute enfranchisement of women, a proper use of the Congressional Record, and last, but not best of all, his friends claim that he is in favor of the League of Nations.

WOULD DEVELOP MANGO AS COMMERCIAL FRUIT

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Development of the mango as commercial fruit is being taken up by experts in the U. S. department of agriculture.

The East Indian mango is one of the great fruits of the world, according to the department. "To those who have really tasted the good sorts of it the peach loses its place of honor."

In the early days of European settlement in the United States the mango was given a "black eye." Early travelers were more anxious to describe its peculiarities than its virtues.

Today the mangoes are worth about twenty-five cents apiece. It is being developed and will become one of the foremost fruits of Southern Florida, according to the agricultural department.

There are now fruiting at the department plant instruction field station at Miami, Fla., about twenty varieties of mangoes which are selections from about seventy varieties.

Eight Billions Spent Annually For Luxuries

Woman Expert Says Each Family Average Is $7 a Week. Two Billions Go For Tobacco — Autos Rank Second.

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—An average of $8,710,000,000 is spent annually by the people of the United States for "luxuries," according to a statement by Miss Edith Strauss, head of the woman's activities division of the department of justice high cost of living campaign.

Miss Strauss estimates on this basis a per family expenditure of $248 per year or $7 a week for "luxuries."

The male population spends $2,110,000,000 on tobacco in its various forms. Of this sum, $800,000,000 is spent for cigarettes, a like sum for loose tobacco and snuff, and $510,000,000 for cigars. Automobiles rank second in Miss Strauss' list of luxuries. Approximately $2,000,000,000 is expended each year for motor cars and their parts, she said.

Since the advent of prohibition more candy has been consumed than ever before in the nation's history, it was pointed out. The candy consuming public annually pays $1,000,000,000 for sweets.

Other items in what Miss Strauss terms the "luxury list" include chewing gum, for which $50,000,000 is spent annually, soft drinks $350,000,000, fur $200,000,000, carpets and "luxurious clothing" $1,500,000,000, toilet soaps $400,000,000, and pianos, organs and phonographs $250,000,000.

These statistics, Miss Strauss said, were collected by the Treasury Department.

"And don't forget this," she said. "The labor and capital employed in producing these luxuries might otherwise have been turning out necessities—clothes, fuel, shoes, houses, food. In other words, the nation might have had more bread if it had less cake. And as is always the case, the dancer is paying the fiddler. In this instance the luxury consumer is paying a higher price for his necessities because he is abnormally consuming luxuries."

At the age of 19 Miss Frances McConnell, daughter of a Methodist bishop, has received the degree of master of arts from the University of Denver, the youngest student, it is said, ever to graduate from that institution.

Hungary Hospitals Described As Being In Miserable Shape

Associated Press.

GENEVA, July 12.—The condition of the hospitals in Hungary is described as "a lamentable picture which should command universal attention and great pity" in a report to the International Committee of the Red Cross here.

After a recent trip across Hungary, Captain Burnier of Geneva, delegate of the International committee, told of conditions as he found them in the various towns.

"At Debreczen the children's deaf and dumb asylum totally lacks linen and shoes. The children of the municipal asylum are dressed in paper clothes. There are 80 beds for 120 children and many 13-month-old babies weigh only 4 kilograms about nine pounds. The town hospital which has 400 beds has no linen, no blankets, no medicines. There were left only two half spoons of surgical thread with which to sew wounds. The maternity hospital and Gynecological Clinic have nothing at all.

"At Nyregyhaza the Comitai hospital has no line for the sick, no medicine, no comforts to wrap babies in. The bandages and dressings must be used over and over again."

Similar conditions were reported in several other places. "The penury increases daily and no effort until now has been sufficient to re-establish a normal situation," Captain Burnier added.

"Such is the lamentable picture which presents itself at this hour and which should command universal attention on the great pity of the hospitals of Hungary."
