LEAGUE PALACE TO BE READY BY AUGUST 1935

By IAN FRASER
United Press Staff Correspondent
GENEVA, Sept. 1—The exterior of the League's new $5,000,000 palace, the world's largest parliament building, capable of housing over 3,000 statesmen, diplomats, experts, officials, pressmen and public, is completed.

The building, which is about the same size as the Palace of Versailles, will be ready for occupancy in August, 1935, at which time the secretariat will be moved from its present cramped home in the Hotel National.

Over 300,000 sacks of cement, 700,000 bricks and 4,700 tons of steel girders have been used in the construction of the League Palace. It measures 572,000 cubic yards in volume and contains 36,400 cubic yards of French, Italian and Swiss masonry placed against 500,000 tons of reinforced concrete.

The general lines of the League Palace represent an extreme simplification of classical Roman architecture inspired by modern architectural tendencies.

Around the Assembly Hall, like boxes at an opera and only just above the heads of diplomats, are a series of rooms exclusively for the use of movie men and press photographers. Behind the presidential chair of the Assembly, a tall screen will probably be built with letters "SDN" in gold with blue background.

Pressmen have been well provided for in the new palace. They have three bars, 50 telephone boxes, 676 seats in the Assembly and Council Halls, two big writing rooms, two telegraph offices, radio office, broadcasting studio and 55 information offices.

American architecture has influenced the construction of the new League Palace, according to Julian Flegenheimer, Geneva architect and first prize-winner with Ninot, Paris, for a design of the new League home.

Lured by Phone Call, Kidnaped

Bernard Bitterman, 28, above, of Denver, was lured from his home by kidnapers by a telephone call falsely informing him that his brother was injured. His uncle, manager of a department store, received a note advising him to "await further instructions."

HAVANA, CUBA THREATENED BY HURRICANE

HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 1—A severe tropical disturbance struck the north coast of Cuba with damaging fury and moved westward toward Havana today and headed toward southern Florida.

C. C. C. CHECKS MAILED TODAY TO DEPENDENTS

FORT SAM HOUSTON, Sept. 1—From Maine to California, the United States mail from the division and post finance office here today is carrying allotment checks to the dependents of the 4500 Civilian Conservation Corps workers in the district of Texas. One check goes to a mother in Bangor, Maine, and two go to Los Angeles, California.

The others are scattered, with 95 percent to addresses in Texas. For while the "Tree Soldiers" earns the good pay of $30 per month in addition to his keep, $25 of this amount must go direct to the family dependent upon the boy. The $5 that he may keep pays for his tobacco and other personal expenditures. In each camp there are also leaders who draw $45 a month and assistant leaders who get $36. They may keep this money or allot it, as they please, and to their credit be it said many of the extra pay men are sending this money home also.

The total amount disbursed on August 1 from Fort Sam Houston for the pay, including allotments, of the C. C. C. enrollees in the 24 work camps in the Texas district amounted to $143,777. Of this amount approximately $24,000, or an average of $1000 per camp, was paid to the C. C. C. men in cash, the remainder nearly $120,000, was mailed out in checks. Approximately the same amounts are being paid again today for the August pay rolls.

DOUBLE MURDER IS CONFESSED BY 2 NEGROES

DALLAS, Sept. 1—The double murder of Pauline Carman, 17, of Dallas, and Abe Schreiber, Galveston, on a lonely road near here June 29, 1931, was confessed by the two negro slayers of Miss Kathryn Prince yesterday, police said today.

The confession was announced by police 24 hours after the negroes were arrested in connection with the slaying of Miss Prince and the wounding of her escort, Mace Carver.

When the work of paying the "Tree Army" was assigned to the Post and Division Finance office here, it increased the activity of the office at least 75 per cent. Captain E. W. McLaren, F. D., post finance officer, estimates. But considering the large number of checks handled, a surprisingly small number of complaints have been received. In paying the C. C. C. as in the many other C. C. C. activities in which the U. S. army at Fort Houston is engaged, it is evident that, from General Howland, the district and post commander on down to the newest recruit, the spirit of helpful cooperation between the army and the C. C. C. is foremost.

Accused Kidnaper Closely Guarded

Authorities took no chances when Harvey Bailey, escaped convict accused in the Urschel kidnaping, was taken from Dallas, Tex., to Fort Worth for a habeas corpus hearing. Bailey, manacled, is shown in the center chained to one of his guards while another carries a riot gun. Bailey was later taken to Oklahoma City for trial.

26 Loboes Answer First Call Today

Oil Belt district, is anxious to get into action with its traditional rivals. It will, in all probability, actually be a better team than if it had played high school ball last year. The Loboes were forced to play college teams which were of such caliber that the Loboes learned more football than they could have against boys of their own age and experience.

At the same time, the team has changed head coaches since last year. Dexter Shelley taking the place of Wilson Elkins, who was awarded a Rhodes scholarship to Oxford University. Shelley and Elkins played in the same backfield at the University of Texas, however. In addition, Shelley has had two years experience in professional football. Coach W. C. Hodges, who came here as assistant coach under Elkins, will carry on in the same capacity with Shelley.

Bucks Begin
The Breckenridge Buckaroos, under Coach P. E. Shotwell, began their training grind yesterday. Dewey Mayhew's Abilene Eagles began work on a two-a-day schedule Tuesday.

For the present the Loboes will work out during the mornings, the coaches have announced in order to avoid the afternoon heat.

SIX Lettermen
Of the 26 men reporting for the initial session, there were six lettermen from last year's team, five backs and an end. The two other lettermen, Captain Leonard Latch at tackle and Claude Blackburn at guard, were not present.

PUBLIC WORKS REQUESTS ASK 37 MILLIONS

FORT WORTH, Sept. 1—A report covering applications for federal aid for 139 Texas public works projects involving expenditure of $37,746,039 was sent to Washington today by Engineer R. A. Thompson, of the public works administration.

The public works advisory board for the state will meet next week to pass definitely on the projects. Col. Ike Ashburn, of Houston, board chairman, announced.

Clifford B. Jones, advisor for the Texas-New Mexico district, also will hold a meeting next week to consider district projects.

CISCO APPLICATION TO BE FILED SOON
The city of Cisco will shortly file an application with the Texas public works board for the construction of a water treatment plant at Lake Cisco. City Attorney B. E. Grantham said today after his return from Fort Worth where he conferred yesterday with Col. Ike Ashburn, chairman of the Texas board.

"We shall ask the public works administration to build the plant under a contract with the city to lease it until the rentals pay the cost," said Grantham, who went to Fort Worth on the instructions of the city commission. "That will be the easiest way to get the project."

Grantham said he was given little encouragement by Ashburn, who insisted that no loan would be made to any city without positive assurance that every cent would be paid back.

He frowned on revenue bonds, Grantham said, for the reason that rates on city utility services are fixed by the city commission and are subject to the whims of every succeeding administration. Until the legislature enacts a law requiring rates on city utilities fixed to provide for payment of a loan for the revenue is made collateral to remain fixed revenue bonds won't be accepted by the P. W. A., Grantham said he was informed.

Cisco's financial condition was well known to the board Grantham said.

Between $40,000 and $45,000 will be required for the construction of the plant here, it was estimated.

Taft Kin Exhibits Marks of Kidnaper

Held captive for four days by a kidnaper who kept a vigilant guard on him as he walked the streets, William F. Wood, 45, cousin of the late President William Howard Taft, won his freedom after crying for help in a crowded San Francisco market. The policeman who rushed to Wood's aid was shot and killed by the kidnaper. Other police then shot the kidnaper, identified as Howard Meek. Wood here shows the scars on his wrist from being tightly bound with wire during his captivity.

Jobless Engineer to Be Buried at Waco

FORT WORTH, Sept. 1—The body of Raymond R. Bristow, 45, El Paso stationary engineer who died yesterday on a Texas and Pacific freight train from a crushed skull received when a box car door struck him, will be taken to Waco for burial, it was announced here today.

Bristow was en route here looking for work and was injured near Brazos and was dead when the train arrived at Weatherford where he was removed and brought here.

DESERT ST. HELENA

PARIS, Sept. 1—Returning travelers report that Saint Helena, the island where Napoleon died in exile, is being deserted. Only 80 European residents left. Life is so monotonous there that when the bi-monthly boats arrive, the women rush for the liners to spend hours with the hairdressers and talking with passengers. A silent-film theater is operated on Saturday night in an effort to relieve the monotony.

TOOK SIGN LITERALLY
GREAT FALLS, Mont., Sept. 1—The proprietor of the "Help Yourself" grocery is considering a change of name for his store. Recently thieves, apparently taking the name of the shop in earnest, broke in and escaped with a large stock of supplies.

CONFERS WITH OFFICIALS OF HIS CONCERNS

Copyright by United Press
MARQUETTE, Mich., Sept. 1—An announcement of Henry Ford's attitude toward President Roosevelt's national recovery program was expected today as the motor manufacturer and largest single industrialist without the Blue Eagle prepared for a council with the executives of his many enterprises.

There was no inkling of what Ford intended to do in the face of the efforts of NRA officials to bring him within the automobile code.

Some friends of the motor magnate expected him to go way beyond the provisions of the code, but others thought he would refuse flatly to sign it.

PRESIDENT EMPOWERED TO FORCE CODIFICATION
WASHINGTON, Sept. 1—President Roosevelt today was automatically empowered to impose upon lagging industries the "fair competition" codes authorized by the national industrial recovery act. Deadline for voluntary submission of codes expired at last midnight. Coincidentally the president's re-employment agreement prohibition of child labor became effective today.

Shake-up of NRA executive personnel began as the code deadline was reached. The first change was accomplished by resignation of Dudley Cates, assistant administrator for industries. Cates parted from Administrator Hugh Johnson under circumstances of profound, if friendly, disagreement over coded status of organized labor.

Cates' resignation produced a clear picture of the labor dispute within the NRA organization. Cates complained against round-about recognition of the American Federation of Labor as the ultimate and only representative of organized labor.

No summons was issued today to bring tardy industries before NRA code hearings. It was indicated, however, that this phase of the recovery campaign shortly would receive attention.

TRIP COST MILLION.
PARIS, Sept. 1—A report of the taxpayers' bill of M. Herriott's trip to America has just been published by the French Journal, "L'Eclair de l'Est." It records traveling expenses and sundries 116,000 francs, reception at the Washington embassy, 40,000 francs; traveling expenses on board the French liner, 892,000 francs — totaling 1,048,000 francs. The newspaper adds that the trip was absolutely useless.

BUFFALO BARBECUED.
ABILENE, Sept. 1—Barbecued buffalo, rarely known on the dinner tables of moderns, will feature the menu of the American Legion Labor Day festival here. Because of the scarcity of buffalo, the city commission by special edict ordered two animals in Farr Park Zoo here slain for the feast. The two animals will provide nearly 3,500 pounds of meat, sufficient for 4,000 persons.

DOVES AND NOT QUAILS.

Dove hunters who celebrate the opening of the dove season today may need to be reminded that the quail season has not opened. The season is open on doves but perky Mr. and Mrs. Blue Quail and equally perky and much more toothsome Mr. and Mrs. Bob White are still legally immune from the huntsman lust. They will be until December 1. Personal observance of the code of the sportsman is counted upon to make the forthcoming quail season in Eastland county a really excellent one from the standpoint of a plenitude of birds. The number of young quail in the country this summer has been noted with remarks of astonishment by numerous of the Nimrod fraternity—speaking of the Biblical paragon of the hunter and not of the modern community. These predicted that, if the dove hunters keep strictly to doves the quail shooting this fall will be splendid. Many of them, however, were dubious of the dove hunter and inclined to feel that the temptation would prove much stronger than the character to resist it. It is extremely difficult to be a good citizen and a hunter at the same time, particularly when, all alone in the field, there pops up with a tremendous whirring of wings a covey of quail just when we are bent on doves or rabbits or some other genus without benefit of law. The will power that such a situation demands is beyond the pressure resistance of the average hunter, so they say. It requires the same fortitude as is required to throw back a crappie or a bass which gets on the hook when one is fishing for pollywogs. But it is upon such fortitude that the zealous hunter depends for the assurance of excellent sport this fall. To such a hunter shooting a quail out of season is like pulling and eating an apple in April. The out-of-season hunter can't boast of what he has done, and the ability to recount adventure in the field is half the fun of hunting.

CHILD LABOR AND SWEAT SHOPS.

Today marks the beginning of the effectiveness of the child labor provisions of the president's re-employment agreements. Henceforth children under 16 years of age cannot be employed in textile mills and garment factories and, what is more effective than a mere ban against this employment, those of the minimum age who are employed must be paid the same wages that are paid adult laborers of the same class. That provision encourages adult labor in preference to child labor for the obvious reason that, with no saving in labor costs, adult labor is the more efficient and, hence, the more economical.

In some of the codes provisions are made for limited employment of children as young as 14 years, with the reservation that such employment must not interfere with day school hours. In the publishing field, city delivery of newspapers by carrier boys is covered by this condition.

The anti-child labor and minimum salary provisions of the re-employment code will serve the magnificent purpose of doing away with sweatshop conditions. We of this section are little aware of the horrors of the sweat-shop. We know comparatively nothing of the tactics of the fly-by-night manufacturer of shirts and cheap women's dresses who rent dirty lofts in aspiring towns and drive women and young girls 10 to 16 hours a day at starvation wages to produce the "bargains" that bargain-hunters fight over on the counters of the low price stores. Bargains in human misery and blood. But, sad to say, our insatiable appetite for "bargains" supports that condition. The saving we gain is not a saving at the expense of the manufacturer, but a saving at the expense of miserable women who bend over machines all day long for a wage that, if the woman is fortunate and efficient, is about $3 per week. Some of the accounts of these conditions make the blood boil. However, what decades of social work and attempts to correct by legal process could not do has been done by simple agreement under the president's re-employment program. This is a tribute to the conscience and high character of the great majority of the employers. Under the old regime they were the victims of an economic necessity. It was either meet the pace set by the lowest scoundrels in the industry or fail. Now, under the sanctions of the NRA you and I will pay more for our shirts and our dresses but the extra money means that a little corner of hell has been cleaned out.

The 1933 Idea

WOOL OUTLOOK CHEERFUL

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 1 — Wool growers in Pennsylvania this year are anticipating an income twice as large as that received last year. They point to an increase of 100 percent in price, according to the department of agriculture. The 1933 wool production has been estimated at 3,411,000 pounds shorn from 461,000 sheep, compared with the 1932 production of 3,270,000 pounds from 436,000 sheep.

News Want Ads Bring Results.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARL BARNES, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, marries DICK RADER, a construction superintendent temporarily working in Lake City. Dick wants Eve to give up working but she refuses.
SAM HOLERIDGE, an advertising man employed by another store, becomes infatuated with ARLENE SMITH, stenographer at Bixby's, but she fancies herself in love with GEORGE BLISS. Bliss has been vamped by MONA ALLEN, blond copy writer.
Eve begins playing the stock market without Dick's knowledge. She becomes worried because he does not explain several mysterious absences from home evenings. The theater on which he has been working is opened to the public and they attend the first performance.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIII

THOUGH Bixby's store had been featuring new spring apparel since mid-winter, the approach of Easter brought new merchandise and new activity to almost every department. Even in the housewares, rugs and draperies a special effort was put forth to interest prospective Easter brides.

And although this meant added work in the advertising office, Eve, Arlene and Marya enjoyed it. Even Mona showed some enthusiasm when a consignment of especially smart new hats arrived—one-of-a-kind hats bearing the magic names of famous designers on their lining bands.

One morning a dozen of these hats were sent to the advertising office so that Marya might select several to sketch. Eve looked them over. She smothered an exclamation and hurried to the mirror to try on a tiny black and white sailor. Marya cried out, "It's lovely on you, Eve! Oh, that should make a grand sketch!"

Eve tilted the hat this way and that to find exactly the most becoming angle. Then she turned for Arlene to approve the result. The hat was close-fitting and made of black straw. Its brim, entirely covered with tiny white violets, was set on to give the effect of a halo about the face.

"What a love of a hat!" Arlene exclaimed. "And it's perfect on you, Eve. Just perfect!"

"I do like it," agreed Eve. "It would be nice with that black wool crepe suit I had laid away for Easter."
She replaced the hat carefully in its tissue paper wrappings and returned it to its bandbox.

The buzzer on Eve's desk sounded and she arose to answer Mr. Barnes' summons. They were in conference over the next day's layouts for a full hour and when Eve returned she found that the other girls had gone to lunch.

lets refused to leave her mind for more than an instant. She was glad it was safe in the advertising office. Her spirits were gay as she went to the French room of the millinery department on her way back to the office. "I'll make a deposit on that hat and have it laid away until pay-day," she thought. "What a difference a hat can make in a woman's life! A truly lovely model like that one would give anyone a new lease on life!"

But a moment later Miss Marchand, the hat buyer, was echoing, "The little model by Celeste—the one with the white violets? Oh, I'm sorry, Miss Bayless, but that is already sold! The blond girl from your office—Miss Allen—bought it not half an hour ago."
Eve smothered her wrath as best she could and went back to the office. Mona had not yet returned but Arlene was at work transcribing notes.

She glanced up as Eve entered and then stopped typing. "My word!" she cried. "What's wrong now?"

Eve told her about the hat. "I might have guessed it!" Arlene moaned in sympathy with Eve. "When Mona saw that you were still in conference at lunch time there was a look on her face that should have warned me. You know—the smile of the cat that has not only eaten the canary but licked up all the cream as well!"

AFTER the black and white sailor none of the new hats interested Eve and she did not select another until the Saturday before Easter when, without enthusiasm, she bought a black beret that she never cared for later. In the meantime, indignant though she was at was through at the office and met Dick patiently waiting in the roadster at the side entrance her resentment always left her and she snuggled by his side and lifted her eyes to his in a glad smile.

The Tuesday evening episodes still bothered Eve, however. Dick did not leave her every Tuesday but when he did go out alone it was always on that evening. What was he concealing from her? Why didn't he take her into his confidence? Once it occurred to her that she had never had an engagement with him on a Tuesday before their marriage. Now that she was Dick's wife wasn't she entitled to know everything that concerned him? There were times when she thought of following him but her sense of honor prevented her from doing that. She must hide her time, she concluded. Still on the Tuesday when she had to work until eight o'clock and Dick did not meet her she was furious.

AND then one day Marya paused beside Eve's desk and motioned to Arlene to join them. "I've been waiting all morning," she said, "to talk to you two alone. Ray and I have decided to be married the day after Easter! He's been wanting me to marry him for months."

Barnes rang for Marya just then and she hurried to his office. "Well, that's certainly a surprise!" ejaculated Arlene. "Of course if there is anything I like better than a wedding it's two weddings. But I'd hate like anything to lose Marya from this office! I wonder whether they will live with his parents or with hers or take an apartment? That diamond Marya wears would set most men back at least three years' savings so I suppose they'll have to pinch pennies. Well, she's an angel and I adore her, and Ray is a lucky man!"

Eve wanted to warn Marya against continuing her work at Bixby's after marriage. Marya was not the sort to spare herself. She would give to her home-keeping wife does and also put in eight exhausting hours a day at the store. And to what end?

Eve's own experiment as a wage-earning wife was not working out any too successfully. She suspected that Dick was learning to depend on others for the companionship she was often too tired or too busy to give him.

But she found it impossible to open this subject with Marya. It would be cruel to cloud the other girl's perfect happiness. And it would be a confession of Eve's failure also. So pride held her silent. Anyhow if she lost Dick she would still have her career. That would be something to live for and to give her courage to keep on.

But it would not be enough, her heart cried out.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Constable Hicks, who still bristles at the thought of having lost a good Ford wire wheel and casing to thieves, gets some solace from the fact that he successfully traced a shotgun stolen a year ago almost to the day. Meantime Hicks hunted up a log chain to tie his new spare to the back of his puddle jumper. The log chain is a tribute to the sneaking perfection of the element against which the constable has declared a holy war.

"I didn't mind the casing so much, but I hated to lose the wheel," admitted Hicks. "I want to tell you if I could have laid hands on that bird that night, somebody else would have had to identify him."

The shotgun case which saves Hicks' irritated spirit originated with the theft of a car belonging to F. P. Shackelford on August 13, 1932. The shotgun was in the car. The vehicle was recovered, but the shotgun wasn't.

The weapon, a pump 20-gauge, passed into unsuspecting hands and knew four separate owners during the period. Hicks located it the other day.

Since making some editorial reference to quail in the first column on today's page I learn that Blue Quail is somewhat of a rarity in this part of the country, although abounding as the principal species farther west. There, so they tell me, it goes in great droves, does not "stand" for dogs. It is also larger and not so esteemed as a table delicacy as the Bob White.

Well, I don't blame it. If I were a quail I wouldn't stand for dogs either.

If any of you hunters want to take issue with the source of my information, you're welcome.

Another new employee has been added to the John H. Garner's department store staff, so Henry Drumwright, manager, announced today. Robert Elliott has been employed.

Another instance of NRA effect. The Garner store type of cooperation will put the program over.

AUSTIN, Sept. 1 — Illness that has kept Rep. Harold Kayton in a hospital for several days will not, it was said at Austin, delay efforts to bring the sales tax bill sponsored by him before the legislature early in the session to convene Monday week.

Mr. Kayton attended an organization meeting when a state committee of local officials and business men was chosen to sponsor the sales tax principle and to push for its enactment in September.

He left the campaign work to this organization. Meantime, both the Kayton plan of general retail sales tax, and that favored by Rep. Sam. S. Duvall of a semi-luxury type, with basic exemptions of the necessary minimum price, were being shaped up for submission. Advocates of the tax believed that since Gov. Ferguson this year urged the sales tax as the only means of cutting down the deficit, and as the deficit now threatens to be several million dollars more than was apparent in January and that some form of taxation to pay off the relief bonds will be required, that submission of this subject will be certain.

Submission of the general subject of revenue and taxation will open to the special session consideration of all types of taxation.

Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson has been asked, in telegrams that reached her desk almost as soon as the polls were closed, to apply some of the state relief and rehabilitation bond issue to a farm colonization plan on irrigated land in the Rio Grande valley where vegetables are grown in immense quantities. The suggestion has been made that a few families be grouped on small tracts for a comparative test of the cost of caring for them in a year, as compared with relief rolls or "made work" on public projects.

Sponsors of the plan look ahead to the time when many thousands of families may be established on small tracts of land, and given the land, or allowed to pay small sums over a long period, with the understanding they either make their way, or else will have no further chance to look the relief rolls the dele or artificially-created employment.

Instead of being a burden, such families are expected to contribute to a revived buying power and to weed out of the cities those so badly-equipped for making a livelihood that they cannot normally exist in the cities.

160 MILLION TUNE IN
PARIS, Sept. 1 — Listening to wireless is still the world's greatest pastime. The report of the International Broadcasting Bureau shows that there are 40,000,000 receiving sets in the world; the majority in the United States, where there are 138 receivers per 1,000 inhabitants. ENDS BACKACHES
AMHERST, Mass., Sept. 1—A new preventive for backache has been developed by Massachusetts State college engineers, and it's neither liniment nor pills. It's a new type of farm wagon with an unusually low bed which is especially well adapted to use in hauling silage corn from the fields, apples from the orchards or hay from the pastures. The low bed eliminates much of the high lifting which causes tired twisted backs during the silo-filling season. A 30 per cent saving in time tests show, also is possible through use of the new wagon.

DECISION UPON DIRECT VALLEY ROAD PROMISED

By RAYMOND BROOKS
AUSTIN, Sept. 1—The Texas highway commission has notified Rep. Augustin Celaya, Brownsville, and Sen. John W. Hornsby of Austin that it expects in September to be able to announce a preference for routing the state highway through Kenedy county, to eliminate a barbed-wire barrier between people of the Lower Valley country and the rest of the state.
By legislative request, the department has ordered two surveys, one the direct 30-odd mile highway line along the roadway through the county, opening the shortest line to Raymondville and all the country below. This was the route whose designation by the legislature, Sen. Archie Parr, who is elected as the senator representing the district, defeated last May.
The other route is out on the deep sand of Padre Island, isolated from the mainland except at Corpus Christi and Port Isabel, a route that was under water during the recent hurricane, and would be deserted by travel at every warning of storm danger. There have been storm signals out in the area five times in the past eight weeks.
Chmn. John Wood of the highway commission, who had not been subject to all the long political intrigue that delayed opening a direct highway to the valley, declared outright here when the time comes to vote he

Mr. Herschel M. Duncan announces that he will give $250.00 in cash prizes to stimulate the interest of consumers of Texas in the efforts of President Roosevelt to end the depression and bring back prosperity thru the agency of the NRA. Mr. Duncan believes that a more widespread knowledge of the cardinal principles involved in the President's program will lead to more effective co-operation on the part of the people.
In order to stimulate the serious study of the new law passed by the last Congress known as the National Industrial Recovery Act and how that law operating through the National Recovery Administration affects the life of every individual in the nation, Mr. Duncan invites every man, woman and child in Texas to write a statement not exceeding 150 words in reply to the question, "What Does the NRA Mean to Me?"
The following cash prizes will be awarded to 17 winners in this contest:
