New Plans Drawn Up in Futile Hunt for Lindbergh Baby

THREATS ARE REPORTED IN RANSOM NOTE

By BATES RANEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOPEWELL, N. J., March 14.—The law began the 13th day of its futile hunt for the kidnaped Lindbergh baby with new plans drawn up in a conference of all police agencies cooperating in the search.

The conference was called by Col. Lindbergh himself Sunday afternoon. It followed 12 days of police and private undercover work which so far has failed to disclose "any definite information of a concrete nature leading to solution of the case."

A person in the small group with access to the kidnaping ransom note told the United Press today that the document contained threats against the baby and likewise threats against the family should they communicate with police or tell "a living soul."

This same informant had previously advised the United Press that finger and foot prints left in the nursery showed two men did the actual kidnaping two weeks ago tomorrow night.

The United Press cannot vouch on its own information for the accuracy of the statement as to threats but its informant is a man of high standing in a position to know whereof he speaks.

At Trenton, N. J., the state police bulletin in the kidnaping today revealed in the course of checking all possible clues the authorities are investigating reports that a suspicious gang from Denver, Colo., had come east by airplane to engage in mysterious activities in and around New York.

The investigation to date had yielded nothing of importance, it was said.

The couple's son and daughter, 14 and 18 years old, respectively, found Cotton's body in bed and the mother lying on the kitchen floor. The shotgun lay across the woman's body.

Justice J. A. Ward returned an inquest verdict of suicide and murder. Relatives were unable to assign a motive for the killing.

THREE KILLED IN RED RIOT AT DETROIT

GEO. EASTMAN, FAMOUS KODAK MAN, SUICIDES

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 14.—George Eastman, multimillionaire founder of the Eastman Kodak interests, shot himself today explaining in a note he felt his work was done.

The 70-year-old business man and inventor, who got the inspiration for his life work when he paid five dollars to a friend to teach him how to operate a camera, shot himself at his home. A brief note explained: "To my friends: My work is done. Why wait?"

"G. E."

He was one of the nation's wealthiest men, as well as one of the great philanthropists of the modern day. His fortune has been estimated in excess of $100,000,000 and his philanthropies in excess of $75,000,000.

Shortly before noon according to Dr. Audrey Stewart, his personal physician, Eastman ordered all attendants from his room, explaining that he wanted to write a personal note. After they had left the room a shot was heard. When the attendants returned to the room they found Eastman dead with a revolver near by.

CISCO LAGS IN POLL TAXES; TOTAL FOR COUNTY IS 6,049

A total of 6,049 state and county poll taxes have been paid by Eastland county voters, according to a tabulation furnished out of the county tax collector's office by C. S. Karkalis, of Cisco, deputy collector. This figure compares rather favorably with poll taxes paid past years, but it should be taken into account that 1932 is a presidential election year and proportionately more important from the voting standpoint than those years in which a national election is of comparatively minor consequence.

The poll taxes paid by voting precincts are listed below.

Whether or not the fact constitutes a reflection upon the interest of Cisco voters in the forthcoming

Cisco Paid 1,240

The tabulation shows that Eastland paid 1,240 polls while Cisco paid only 1,240. Ranger was credited with 1,316.

Thus Eastland and Ranger will each exceed Cisco in voting strength according to the list, although exemptions, which are understood not to be included, may alter the above standings to a certain extent.

The following is the distribution of taxes paid by voting boxes:

SURVEY SHOWS EXPANSION OF GAS INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, March 14.—The number of customers served by the gas industry increased between Jan. 1, 1921, and Jan. 1, 1931, from 11,452,000 to 16,009,000, a gain of 40 per cent, according to a survey by the American Gas Association. Manufactured gas customers increased from 8,837,000 to 10,471,000, a gain of 19 per cent. Natural gas customers increased from 2,615,000 to 5,524,000 a gain of 11 per cent.

The increase in the number of natural gas customers has resulted largely from the construction of numerous pipe lines. In the last five years millions of dollars have been spent for the construction of natural gas pipe lines, some of which are over 1,000 miles long.

Borger Given Lower Domestic Gas Rate

AUSTIN, March 14.—Reduced natural gas rates for Borger, Texas, were ordered today by the utilities division of the state railroad commission. The cut applies only to gas used for domestic purposes. Rates for industrial gas are unchanged.

The cut in domestic gas is from 50 cents for the first 1,000 cubic feet to 40 cents.

PITTSBURGH MAYOR FACING MALFEASANCE CHARGE TRIAL

BUTLER, Pa., March 14.—Charles H. Kline, first Mayor of Pittsburgh ever even to be indicted, and his former directors of supplies, Berttram L. Succop, will be placed on trial here today on charges of malfeasance in office.

Purchase of Elysian rugs for the mayor's office at approximately $3,000, without bids, was among the charges on which the two were indicted last June. They were indicted jointly on 45 counts of malfeasance in purchase of supplies and separately on one count each.

Groce Starts Investigation.

The investigation of the supplies department—one of the three city government departments to come under fire within a year, was started last March. John D. Houston, wholesale grocer, first called attention of investigators to alleged irregularities in the letting of contracts for canned goods. He charged high bidders were getting contracts.

Kline investigated Houston's charges privately and dismissed Succop. An audit was ordered by City Controller James Kerr, while citizens' committees had a separately audit made.

After the indictment, city council investigated charges that the department of public works had wasted more than $1,000,000 during a three year period because of faulty estimating. Council turned the question over to a committee of engineers who recommended changes in methods.

Bank Closed

After the closing of the Franklin Savings and Trust Company in which some city funds had been deposited, an inquiry was ordered into the city treasury. As the inquiry opened, Mayor Kline dismissed Roy D. Schooley, treasurer and former head of the Pittsburgh Hockey team.

Schooley and two others were indicted as result of this investigation. The inquiry into the bank, in which its president, Charles A. Bardolph, was charged with embezzlement of more than $250,000, has not been completed.

Kline and Succop were granted a change of venue from Allegheny County Jan. 19, when they claimed they could not receive a fair and impartial trial in Pittsburgh.

More than 60 witnesses will be called by District Attorney Andrew T. Park, Allegheny County, who is to be assisted by Attorney Earl F. Reed, special prosecutor employed by a citizens' committee.

Judge Thomas D. Finletter, Philadelphia, was named by the Supreme Court of preside. Attorneys E. B. Coll and C. B. Prichard heard the defense counsel.

CONNALLY AND STUBBLEFIELD NAMED JUDGES

Paul J. Connally and Henry Stubblefield will be judges of the municipal election to be held April 5 for the election of three city commissioners. Mayor J. T. Berry announced this morning. These judges will name the clerks for the election.

No city poll taxes were collected this year and only state and county poll taxes will be required for the qualification of a Cisco citizen voting in the election, it was announced.

So far eight candidates have announced for election to the places to be vacated by expiration of the terms of Comm'rs J. R. Burnett, W. J. Donovan and George D. Fee.

The city commission will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock in regular session. Mayor Berry also announced.

HENDERSON IS HERE TODAY ON INVESTIGATION

Roy B. Henderson, secretary of the state executive committee of the Interscholastic league is in Cisco making an investigation for the committee in connection with the recommendation of the district committee that the Cisco high school be suspended from the league for one year for alleged violation of rules. He came to Cisco from Tyler origin of most of the evidence used against Cisco, where he made an investigation.

Sunday he interviewed teachers at the high school whose affidavits declared that Fred Hightower, about whose eligibility for the Breckenridge-Cisco game, October 23, 1931, the case arose, had re-entered school here September 23, 1931. He also questioned Hightower, Coaches Jefferies and Hill and others connected with the school.

He was due to meet with the school board in a special session this afternoon.

During the morning he was closeted with members of the board.

56 Men Put to Work by Ass'n

The Cisco Charity and Welfare association today swung into renewed activity to alleviate unemployment in Cisco with the return of warm weather by placing a group of 56 applicants to work at the city dump ground. The men are engaged in removing a quantity of debris, indiscriminately dumped upon private property near by to the city grounds.

Suspect Held

The cameraman beat Colombo Boeri, fugitive anarchist suspect, to the draw, and here you see him as he was placed under $100,000 bond in Chicago pending investigation of his alleged participation in the widespread bomb plots against prominent Italians in the United States last December. Bombmaking apparatus was found in Boeri's home. He is accused specifically in the Easton, Pa., explosion which took three lives.

HINDENBURG IS FAR AHEAD IN GERMAN VOTE

BERLIN, March 14.—President Paul von Hindenburg, seeking reelection in what may be the last battle of a glorious career, turned back a Fascist bid for power in the presidential election Sunday, but failed to win an absolute majority over four candidates opposing him.

Von Hindenburg led his nearest rival, Adolf Hitler, who heads the German Fascists, by more than 7,000,000 votes. Official figures in preliminary final returns showed the president had failed by 188,453 votes to win an absolute majority, so a second ballot will be necessary in April between the two leaders.

HEARING ON ALLOWABLES ARE CALLED

AUSTIN, March 14.—Hearings to determine the allowable production in all Texas oil fields but east Texas, will be held here March 30. Orders calling the hearing were being prepared today.

Present allowables on most of the fields expire April 1. Little change is expected.

STOLEN COUPE IS FOUND STRIPPED

A Ford coupe, stolen from Mark Stamps after he had parked it before the Palace theater last night, was recovered by city police this morning where the thieves had left it stripped on the old canyon road north of the city. The car had been stripped of all five wheels, battery, speedometer and other parts.

WEATHER

East and West Texas—Generally fair, somewhat warmer tonight and Tuesday.

BUT MUSTER 187 BALLOTS FOR MOTION

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Anti-prohibitionists today lost their motion to bring the Beck-Linthicum resolution before the house, but mustered the unexpected strength of 187 votes in the first clear-cut test on prohibition in 12 years.

The house voted 227 to 187 against discharging the judiciary committee from consideration of the resolution. The resolution calls for submission to the states of an amendment to the constitution in effect returning to the states the control of the liquor traffic. Discharge of the committee would have brought the resolution directly before the house.

The vote took place on an accompaniment of fiery speeches and reminders that this "is the day of March—stand up and be counted."

Dry orators in such efforts as they made to speak met with jeers and interruptions from a militant wet minority.

Galleries were crowded, with men and women sitting in the aisles.

Speaker Garner did not vote and did not announce his position on the question.

Three of Texas' 18 representatives voted in favor of the anti-prohibition move. The other Texans either voted against it, were absent or withheld their votes. Thomas H. Blanton was one of those voting against the motion.

Denied Control of $1,900,000 Bequest

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The court ruling by which Vincent Kerens, Dallas, Texas, was denied control over a $1,900,000 bequest by his father because he divorced his wife and married a non-Catholic, was approved today by the supreme court. The high court refused to hear his appeal from the eighth circuit court ruling.

HEARING ON ALLOWABLES ARE CALLED

AUSTIN, March 14.—Hearings to determine the allowable production in all Texas oil fields but east Texas, will be held here March 30. Orders calling the hearing were being prepared today.

Present allowables on most of the fields expire April 1. Little change is expected.

CONTENDS MOORE AREA IS DISTINCT

AUSTIN, March 14.—The contention that there is a distinct oil pool or oil field in Moore county, northwest of the Panhandle field in which Moore county now is placed, was made before the state railroad commission here today.

If it is declared a separate pool the minimum allowable production for it would be 10,000 barrels a day. It is now allotted between 600 and 700 barrels a day as part of the Panhandle field.

John J. Sheerin, president of the Shamrock Oil and Gas company, said that dry holes intervening between Moore county and the Borger pool indicate that it is separate and that geologists say it is distinct.

Stolen Coupe Is Found Stripped

A Ford coupe, stolen from Mark Stamps after he had parked it before the Palace theater last night, was recovered by city police this morning where the thieves had left it stripped on the old canyon road north of the city. The car had been stripped of all five wheels, battery, speedometer and other parts.

DAILY BIBLE THOUGHT

PEACE AND TRUTH:—Thus saith the Lord, Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not. . . . Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth.—Jeremiah 33: 2, 3, 6.

SPEAKING OF THE GENERAL SALES TAX.

There is a political revolution in Kentucky predicted and all on account of introduction of a state sales tax bill. Kentucky democrats are said to be worried. Governor Mike Conner of Mississippi recommended a state sales tax. His measure was voted down in the senate and then defeated in the house by three votes.

After the World war, many European nations adopted the sales tax to increase their revenue. Germany led off in 1918. France adopted a two per cent sales tax in 1920. Belgium followed in 1921. Austria in 1922. And in recent years Poland, Roumania, Turkey, Russia, and Hungary, and two or three of the Balkan countries followed in the wake of the more important governments of Europe.

Now there is a fierce battle on in the house of the American congress. Democrats reported out of committee a general sales tax and Speaker Garner may be kept busy for weeks and weeks to come before he is successful in whipping into form the original measure, or a substitute and then send it on its way to the senate. Believe it or not, the speaker and the democratic leaders are up-against the real thing in providing heavy additional revenues for their government.

HOOVER DEMANDS A SHOWDOWN.

A public contention that bankers have been hoarding and thereby restricting credit facilities brought from President Hoover a prompt request that its author name the towns and cities in which this is happening. Why not apply to Col. Frank Knox, chairman of the anti-hoarding committee, for valuable information? He made a report just the other day that his campaign had dragged $150,000,000 out of hiding places. A banker is between the devil and the deep sea. He is damned if he does and damned if he don't. Col. Arthur Brisbane carried an editorial in the Hearst papers early in March in which he pointed to Canada as one of the most prosperous of nations and incidentally he remarked that banking law enforcement had a vast deal to do with it. He specified that there has been only one bank failure in Canada since the year 1924, and that the offending banker continued behind the prison walls. In the last analysis the bank must protect its depositors as well as its clients, who are furnished credit. A custodian of public funds must watch his step. If not, he lands in the dismal ditch.

NORRIS OF NEBRASKA MARCHING ON.

Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska is adding to his list of important achievements as a lawmaker of the republic. His latest is a favorable senate report on his bill providing that the Muscle Shoals plant shall be operated by the government. He has been hammering away on this pet proposal since the election of Warren G. Harding as president of the United States.

First he put over the lame duck constitutional amendment, which is certain to be ratified by at least 40 American commonwealths. Next he put over in the senate his bill to restrict injunctive power of federal courts in "labor and other disputes." This measure was sent to the house. Well, a democratic house by a huge majority declared for the Norris measure "to limit use of the federal injunctive power in labor disputes" and to avoid the "yellow dog" labor contract. This by a vote of 363 for to 13 against. Among those who voted "nay" were Rep. Beck (r) of Pennsylvania, and Thomas L. Blanton (d) of Texas.

Chairman Summers of the house judiciary committee said that the measure "would remove from the few the power to make government contemptible in its tyranny." Chairman Summers is a Texan and a democrat. Both the senate and the house bills would declare as a public policy the right of labor to organize and bargain collectively; outlaw the "yellow dog" contract which forbids employees to join labor unions; prohibit injunctive relief in labor disputes without a hearing and finding of facts, unless unlawful acts are committed and substantial injury to property follows, and there is no adequate remedy at law; or public officers are unable or unwilling to furnish protection and reasonable efforts have been made to settle the dispute. Also, grant defendants in contempt suits the right to a jury trial and a new presidential judge.

Senator Norris' bill sent to the house would embrace newspaper contempt cases but the house bill is limited to those arising from labor disputes. Now the senate and the house conferees will whip the bill which will be finally passed into shape, and it is to be hoped that the revised bill will embrace newspaper contempt cases. All persons accused of law violation should be given a trial by jury and an unprejudiced judge should function. This is said to be a land of constitutional liberty. Why not make it so?

In the Political Arena

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD

Texas democrat state committee voted unanimously to hold the state presidential convention May 24, at Houston, at which time 46 delegates will be elected to represent the democracy of the Lone Star at the national convention in the city of Chicago. Chmn. H. O. Huggins and all members of the committee answered the Fort Worth roll call, in person or by proxy. Houston is the home of Col. Jesse H. Jones, who received a complimentary vote for the presidential nomination from his home folk, meaning Texas, in Sam Houston hall in 1928. Insistence on party loyalty was "quickly but firmly pronounced." A resolution was adopted by unanimous vote to require all persons participating in precinct conventions to pledge their support of the party nominees for president and vice-president. Charles I. Francis of Wichita Falls, always a regular introduced the resolution. Indeed scant mention was made of the fact that a large faction of ultra-dryers led by Thomas B. Love, bolted the party ticket in 1928 and voted for Herbert Hoover. Regardless of this the state committee voted to allow each precinct one vote in the county convention for each 25 votes cast in the governor's run-off primary two weeks ago, and each county convention one vote in the state convention for each 500 votes cast in the same race. In by-gone years county representation in the state convention was apportioned on the basis of one vote for every 300 cast in the previous presidential election.

There are three congressmen-at-large to be nominated in July and the committee voted 20 to 6 to certify candidates for congressman-at-large, according to place, for the three additional seats allowed Texas under the 1930 census apportionment rather than allow them to engage in a free-for-all. There were many resolutions introduced by Committeeman Francis' resolution as adopted bound the committee to certify the two highest candidates for each place from the July primary in the August runoff, and each of the three candidates receiving majority of votes for their respective places as the party nominees in the November election. There were many candidates for congressman-at-large in the big cow town of Texas watching the proceedings. There was no discussion of presidential possibilities but there was "a salvo of hand clapping" when one speaker mentioned John N. Garner, saying, "It will be a great day for Texas if he is nominated in Chicago and elected president." Beaumont had the May convention four years ago. Houston captured the national convention in that year and Col. Jones' fat check book had a vast deal to do with winning the prize. Houston is the home of Ross S. Sterling, governor. He is nearing the end of his first term. He is in the race for a second term. Now Houston captures the 1932 May convention. Houston has three candidates for congressman-at-large—former Mayor Oscar H. Holcombe; F. O. Fuller, at one time speaker of the Texas house, and Douglas McGregor, son of Rep. T. H. McGregor of Austin, who is the latest entrant. Dallas has two or three candidates for the three jobs. Fort Worth two. San Antonio has two. All in all is expected that there will be at least 24 names on the ticket.

A reminder that those who capture the precinct conventions and send delegates to the county convention where delegates are selected to attend the Houston convention in May will have it in their power to select 46 delegates to the national convention.

Texas will have a tremendous voting power in the big political show house on the banks of Lake Michigan this year. As for the prohibition issue, Chmn. Huggins and his 31 committeemen ignored it. They demanded party loyalty and a pledge of full support to the national nominees of all participants in the May precinct meetings. A reminder that the big cities and the lesser cities and the towns and villages will send large delegations to the Houston convention. Houston, named for the Texas liberator, appears to be the hub of democratic politics under Lone Star skies.

Minnesota democrats have spoken. Followers of Franklin D. Roosevelt, led by Einar Holdale organized the state convention and placed State Chmn. J. J. Farrell in the chair. County delegates were elected two weeks ago and a big majority were chosen by the followers of Franklin D. Roosevelt. After organizing the convention the Roosevelt men elected a straight Roosevelt delegation to the Chicago convention, placed the delegates under the unit rule and accepted a plank urging a state by state referendum on prohibition. Smith's followers to the number of 200 led by a woman politician bolted held a rump meeting, elected Smith delegates and declared for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Then the "rumpies" had the nerve to return to the regular convention and demand recognition and an opportunity to vote on the prohibition plank. Einar Holdale, who heads the Roosevelt delegation to the national convention, came within 8000 votes of being elected United States senator in 1930. He is said to be the most popular and aggressive leader of the democrats of Minnesota.

Roosevelt bagged the New Hampshire delegation. He bagged the Minnesota delegation. North Dakota democrats will hold their primary the coming week. There it is a keen fight between the followers of Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma and the democratic leaders of North Dakota who lined up for Franklin D. Roosevelt away back in January. This will be the first trial of Roosevelt in the northwest. Roosevelt's third test will come in the south in March 23 in Georgia, where he will oppose G. H. Howard, who has pledged his support to Speaker John N. Garner. Georgia is the native state of William Gibbs McAdoo. He is one of the dry backers of Garner. Howard is said to be carrying the standard of McAdoo. Garner, who is out of the picture as an active candidate, but has active backing in Georgia, and his friends are hustling in Nebraska and California.

Sen. Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, chairman of the Madison Square Garden convention, regarded the New Hampshire result as most significant. He said: "It affords confirmation of the view that Gov. Roosevelt is the most popular choice as the candidate for the democratic nomination for president. Expressions and reports from all sections of the nation have for some time past clearly combined to that conclusion." Sen. Walsh was one of the active McAdoo leaders in 1920 and again in 1924. He was the choice of McAdoo for president in 1928 in California at least, but the Smith men ran away with the California delegation and played McAdoo and Walsh outside the political breastworks. In this battle for control of the federal government in 1932 the distinguished senator and the distinguished McAdoo are far apart.

HELP INDUSTRY REVIVED
GLASGOW, March 14.—The help industry, the burning of seaweed for the extraction of iodine and other by-products has been revived by a business syndicate here, following the new duties limiting supplies of such material from abroad.

STARTS 59TH YEAR
OCONTO, Wis., March 14.—A steam engine, made in Wisconsin and beginning its 59th year of service, is the "oldest worker" in the Holt Lumber company mill here. Sawdust and lumber scraps are used as fuel, fed by forced draft.

REASON FOR COMPLAINT.
VINEGAR HILL, Durham, Eng., March 14.—The thousand inhabitants of this picturesque hamlet are complaining to their rural council because they have no parson, no doctor, no barber, no saloon, no main road, and no bus service, and the nearest link with civilization necessitates a rough two-mile walk.

You Can Eliminate the Drudgery of Old-Fashioned "Ironing Day"

You can make the back-breaking, time-consuming agony of old-fashioned "ironing day" but an unhappy memory—by purchasing a modern and efficient Electric Ironer.

Ironing this modern way is easy and interesting. . . Comfortably seated before a table-height ironer, you merely guide the garments and flat work through smooth-running rollers. The largest ironing requires but one-third the time and but a fraction of the work and nervous strain imposed by old-fashioned methods. With all these important time and labor-saving advantages, don't you think a modern Fedelco Ironer a wise investment—especially when the finished work is so far superior?

Ask a salesman to arrange a demonstration for you in your own home. The purchase price is unusually low . . . and operating costs amount to but a few pennies a week!

Convenient Terms

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

The dime-a-dance girl

BY JOAN CLAYTON

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Ellen Rossiter, beautiful 20-year-old, falls in love with Larry Harrowgate, an artist whom she met at Dreamland where Ellen works as a dance hall hostess. Larry is engaged to Elizabeth Bowers, a debutante, but she shows attentions to Ellen until his fiancée returns from Europe.

From a sense of gratitude the girl agrees to marry Steven Barclay, a kind and wealthy man of 57 who has paid hospital expenses for her young brother, Mike, injured in a street accident. He finds a job for Bert Armistead, engaged to Ellen's sister, Myra.

Barclay has been married twice. His first wife died and the second, divorced, was Leda Grayson, notorious dancer. Barclay fears that talk of the divorce may be revived when he marries Ellen so they plan to keep their marriage secret. Myra and Bert are to be married the same day as Ellen and Barclay.

Two days before her wedding Ellen goes to the offices of Symes & Prendergast, Barclay's lawyers where her fiancé is to sign papers settling a private fortune upon her. She knows Symes believes her to be a gold-digger and insists that the settlement papers wait until after the marriage.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIII

The next two days passed at such a pace that Ellen felt guilty when she took time to snatch a few hours' rest. There were so many, many things to do. Such things as trunks and laundry tags to think of. There was that hurried trip for a riding habit, when Steven told Ellen they would ride in London.

Oh, there were millions of things to do.

The Rossiter household moved back and forth from the Brooklyn apartment to the hospital until Mike became as feverish with excitement as his elders. Molly's suggestion that the ceremonies take place in the boy's hospital room was flatly vetoed.

There were the hours spent in the counting of the money, the kitchen and bath where Myra and Bert were at last to begin the great adventure. Fortunately this was only two doors from the old apartment. Ellen and Myra were in and out of the place at all times of the day and night.

The girls eyed on chintz draperies and slip-covers. They hemmed tea-towels by the dozen while Bert, humming in that tuneless way of his, laquered a bedroom suite he and Myra had bought for a song.

The living room furniture was over-stuffed and comfortable and ugly suite bought on the installment plan. Ellen was too wise to suggest that she be allowed to help. Myra was ecstatic at finding the tawdry things that would fit her budget.

Late in the afternoon of the day before the wedding Ellen went out to buy tacks for Bert. She found them sooner than she expected and hurried back. The door had been left on the latch and she stepped into the disordered living room, then stepped out as quickly, her heart pounding and her face suffused with crimson. She waiting out side, confused and feeling the beginning of a great fear.

Bert and Myra had stood in the middle of the small room, lips upon lips, bodies pressed together, clasped close in each other's arms. They had been oblivious of her presence, oblivious of everything except the burning flame that enveloped them.

Was that what Myra had tried to tell her about so long ago when she had said only love mattered? That embrace had nothing in common with the kisses Ellen had seen her sister and Bert exchange before. Was that what Steven wanted to give him? She could never, never kiss Steven that way.

She waited a long while before rapping on the door. When she entered Myra was sewing a towel and Bert had returned to his painting. Ellen glanced a little foolishly from one to the other.

Bert casually thanked her for the tacks, took them and went into the kitchenette. They heard him pounding with the hammer. Ellen picked up the chintz curtain she had been lining, hunted for her needle and set to work again. Unconsciously she avoided her sister's eyes.

"You came in on us, didn't you?" asked Myra after a pause.

"Yes," admitted Ellen uncomfortably.

PRICES TURN DOWNWARD AT END OF WEEK

In its review of business and financial conditions The Wall Street Journal says:

There was a lack of unexpected factors bearing on the stock market during the week, and after short and irregular movements, the course of prices turned downward as the week drew toward a close. The interest in British developments continued active, but the reduction in the Bank of England rate to 4 per cent from 5 per cent had been generally expected and evidently discounted in United States markets. Nevertheless, the pound Sterling experienced further gains, though its upward progress was checked during the latter part of the week.

The local bond market continued its upward trend, though in this department, too, there was a reaction of mild proportions toward the week-end. Trading on the Stock Exchange was not heavy, and had a tendency to grow progressively less.

The oil shares came in for more than their usual share of activity. The proposed import duties on oil together with a reduction in refinery operations stimulated interest in the industry. Gasoline stocks experienced a decline of 138,000 barrels, the first move in that direction since last November 14. Crude production during the week was up only normally.

Events in the banking field helped sentiment to some extent. There is evidence that the country banks are working into better shape than they have been since last summer, as measured by their relation with the Federal Reserve. Observers in the financial district see, in this a first effect of the Glass-Steagall bill. Federal Reserve figures for the week showing a drop in money in circulation are also encouraging in that they indicate a decline in hoarding of currency. Gain of $59,000,000 in brokers' loans was also hailed in brokerage circles as encouraging, indicating an increase in public interest.

The movement of the Dow Jones averages was irregular through the week but took a distinct downward turn Friday. At the start of the week the industrial figure stood at 88.49, but nearly five points were dropped in the following five days. The rails lost 2.55 points and the utilities, 1.69 points. Omission of the first preferred dividends of American & Foreign Power Co. came as a surprise, but this step was prompted mainly by exchange considerations and fighting around Shanghai.

This week's range of the Dow-Jones averages follows:

30 Industrials—High 88.78; low 83.61; close 83.61.

20 Railroads—High 88.23; low 83.10; close 83.10.

20 Utilities—High 83.92; low 83.16; close 83.16.

40 Bonds—High 82.30; low 81.49; close 82.24.

FINALLY FATAL.

MARTINSVILLE, Va., March 14.—A brass tack swallowed 10 years ago by Robert Simms, 15, of Beaver Creek, proved fatal after a week's illness. The tack lodged in his right lung and was not removed until 10 months after the mishap. Afterwards physicians found it necessary to perform another operation. The boy's health never was good afterwards.

98 OLD GARDENS.

RICHMOND, Va., March 14.—The Garden Club of Virginia has issued an official list of 98 historic old colonial gardens, all privately owned, which will be thrown open to the public from April 25, 30, 30 for a small admission fee, which will go to the restoration of old Stratford, birthplace of three of the most famous men in American history.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stay them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified cod-liver oil that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

FIREMEN FREED HER.
SEATTLE, March 14.—Mrs. Le-nore Bernier had joined the league against folding beds! She was pinned like a bear in a steel trap at her home when caught in a folding bed. Six firemen finally released her. She suffered severe bruises on her right arm.

Old Pikes Peak Resident Dead

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., March 14.—Mrs. Anna Faulkner, who was probably the oldest living resident of the Pikes Peak region having lived in this vicinity 71 years, is dead.
When she was four years old, her parents came to this region and settled in 1861.
She was 15 when she and her mother were the first white women to live at the site of what later was Cripple creek. They lived over a fabulous fortune in gold and did not know it.
It was her family that named the crooked little stream that flowed there Cripple creek.
Then it had been called Pisgah Park, because it stood in the shadow of massive Mount Pisgah.
They called it that because stock which they put out to graze in the region suffered a long series of accidents from falling into the creek and because of a queer series of accidents to members of the family.
That was in 1866. The hired man broke a leg there when his Indian pony reared and threw him. Her father shot himself in the hand accidentally, and a brother injured himself when he fell from the roof of the house they built.
Her husband opened and operated the first livery stable in Cripple Creek when gold was found.
WEAVES ON OLD LOOM.
MONDOVI, Wis., March 14.—Mrs. Martha Silverness, 86, earns part of her living by weaving rag rugs on a hand made loom nearly 75 years old.

Cardoza Faces Baptism of Legal Fire When He Takes Place on Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Justice Benjamin Nathan Cardoza will receive a heavy baptism of legal fire when he mounts the supreme court bench here today.
Some of the most important cases of the year will confront the junior member of the nation's highest court when it resumes its session after he is sworn in.
Many cases which have been argued once have been set down for a rehearing in his first week devoted to argument.
Some of the Cases
These include a Texas case involving the right of negroes to vote in democratic primary elections, an Oklahoma case questioning the right of the government to tax income from state owned oil lands, and a Georgia case involving the right of the state to tax income from license fees collected by motion picture companies from exhibitors.
In addition to these cases, Cardoza will be on the bench to participate in decisions involving the modification of the Packers' consent decree case, the reapportionment cases, and the Oklahoma and Texas oil proration cases.
Question of Rights
The Texas primary case raises in another form a question of personal and racial equality which was thought settled in 1927. The court set aside at that time a Texas law barring negroes from primary elections. The case, like the present one, was brought by L. A. Nixon, a leader in El Paso negro circles.
Immediately after the law was held unconstitutional the state legislature passed a law permitting the State Democratic committee to fix the qualifications of primary voters.

stores. Now, the packers contend, the nation-wide food distribution chains have entered the packing business and competed with them.
The interests of economical distribution, they contend, should permit them to use their extensive facilities for the distribution of other foods.
Previous Ruling.
The Minnesota case is the only one which has reached the stage of Supreme Court argument, and in it the New Yorker will be asked to overthrow his on previous ruling in the New York case.
The Minnesota Supreme Court has ruled that a bill which was vetoed by Governor Floyd B. Olson was valid for purposes of re-apportionment, just opposite to Cardoza's New York ruling.
In the oil proration cases the use of state militia by Governors William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, of Oklahoma, and Ross Sterling, of Texas, to reduce production is contested by oil producers in the states.

in Madrid, whose names have been modified, now number 12—the latest change being the naming of the former Alfonso XII Street "Alcala Zamora Street" on the occasion of the inauguration of Don Second Republic. Among the names obliterated were some which had nothing to do with the king's name, or royalty—for example, the "Street of the Love of God" was renamed to honor the veteran republican journalist, Roberto Castroviejo.
Ex-King Alfonso XIII, besides having been honored with the name of a street in Madrid, had one named after him in Paris, which some Republicans now would like to see changed.

Madrid Changes Royal Names

MADRID, March 14.—Although numerous streets, theaters, stores and manufactured articles changed their names in the days following the proclamation of the Republic one still finds here "Teatre Royalty" and a "Royalty Bar."
The explanation for this is that the word "Royalty" being in English does not immediately convey the meaning which the Spanish equivalent, "Real," does. If it did, the bar and theater would have to change their names, for the "Teatre Real" had to change its name to the "Opera," and the "Cine Real" changed its to the "Cine da la Opera."

All around the CLOCK..

- There's only one thing that will chase a morning frown quicker than a warm shower. And that's a cold one. With a Chesterfield to follow. And even if you're rushed... there's time to appreciate Chesterfield's better taste.
One man likes his coffee weak. Another likes it strong. But it's dollars to doughnuts both want mild cigarettes. And that means Chesterfields. They get you started on the right foot. They're good anywhere. Anytime.
And later... in the office when the phones begin to buzz and the big boss begins to shout... put Chesterfield on the job. It starts out cool... stays cool... and keeps you cool in a hot spot till the final whistle blows.
It's going to be a big evening. So change your clothes and step out. And don't forget your Chesterfields. You'll need them. And if it's mixed company you'll want to take an extra pack. Their purity is their password... wherever people are particular.
Chesterfield has never failed to make its contract. It bids a grand slam for mildness and better taste... and comes through with all the honors every time... Because every shred of Chesterfield leaf is carefully selected... and by men who "know."
One more Chesterfield and you can call it a day. And notice... the last one tastes just as good as the first. That's no accident. That's the sum and substance of Chesterfield's popularity... told in two words... "They Satisfy."
