President Roosevelt Signs Beer and Wine Bill Today

WILL BECOME EFFECTIVE IN FIFTEEN DAYS

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Only 15 days and a dime were all that intervened today between thirsty citizens and the legal right to beckon for a mug of beer.

Over protests of prohibitionists and many lesser obstacles, the 3.2 per cent beer, wine and fruit juice bill was enacted today.

Vice-president John N. Garner signed the bill this morning and President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the measure early this afternoon, his signature being the last act required to incorporate the bill into the statutes of the United States.

Father Time will provide the 15 days. The dime must come out of your own or someone else's pocket.

Friday, April 7, will be the first day on the beer drinker's calendar.

Hold Horse Clinic At Romney Today

A horse and mule clinic will be held in the Romney community at 4 o'clock this afternoon, according to E. H. Varnell, vocational agriculture teacher here.

The clinic will be held in connection with an evening school for farmers of the community, Varnell said. Dr. Ross Hodges, Ranger, graduate veterinarian, will have charge of the clinic. After the clinic, Varnell said, Dr. Hodges will speak on defects of horses and mules.

Dr. Hodges is properly equipped to correct many of the defects in the horses and mules the farmers will bring to the clinic, Varnell said.

POLICEMAN'S 5-YEAR TERM IS AFFIRMED

AUSTIN, March 22.—The court of criminal appeals here today affirmed the conviction of Policeman Lonnie W. Wilkerson, of Fort Worth, sentenced to five years for the shooting of Buster Grimsley, 17, as the youth fled from a golf course.

The slaying occurred on the links of the Ridgelea Golf club where Grimsley and other boys were hunting golf balls. Wilkerson shot in an effort to frighten the boys into a halt, he said.

One of the boys testified that after Buster was shot and Wilkerson was asked what to do with him, the answer was "Lay him down and let him die. I ought to have killed you, too."

Wilkerson denied such a statement.

OTHERS PLEDGE THEIR SUPPORT TO CISCO C. C.

R. A. Richardson, Cisco grocery merchant, made the following statement today in support of the municipal chamber of commerce:

"I have been highly impressed with the way in which the chamber of commerce has been carried on during the past year particularly in the success that it has had in securing relief for local people. What it has done in this capacity has been worth many times the cost of maintaining it, for the relief that has been secured and distributed under its auspices has not only saved the people of Cisco the hard money they would have been forced to dig up but it has taken care of a situation that was far beyond our local ability to meet.

"We could not have received this assistance if the chamber of commerce did not exist. We can never know when something of vital importance arises which requires the work of such an organization. If we have it we are always ready for an emergency; always ready to seize an opportunity. If we do not have a chamber of commerce we are at a disadvantage for all the benefits that we might otherwise secure will be taken by neighboring towns that are on their toes.

"I think that a municipal chamber of commerce is the most equitable kind. As has been said often enough, it distributes the cost burden in proportion to the benefits received. Eliminating it will not lower the amount of taxes we pay but it will increase the contributions we would have to make to keep it going.

"I am strongly in favor of the amendment to the city charter for the continued municipal support of the chamber of commerce."

BURKETT UNHESITATINGLY FOR AMENDMENTS.

"My district covers 16 counties," said Omar Burkett, deputy oil and gas supervisor in charge of promotion in west central Texas, "and in every major town in that district there is a chamber of commerce. In every instance it is the liveliest place in the town. I have found every one of them intensely interested in everything that makes for community and state benefit, and particularly have I found them interested in the oil man, his troubles and his successes. They have always given me 100 per cent cooperation.

"Every town needs a well organized community agency which is in touch with everything that affects the town's welfare and ready to seize every advantage that tends to benefit and build the town. What better organization can this be than a municipal chamber of commerce? It is always ready to give help on community projects, to assume the leadership in programs that are aimed at community betterment.

HUMBLE GETS THANKS FROM CISCO C. OF C.

The public-spirited character of the Humble Oil and Refining company's organization in Cisco and the cooperation of officials and employees in programs of public improvement were praised in a resolution recently passed by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce.

The Humble Oil and Refining company and the Pipe Line company, the resolution sets forth, have maintained district headquarters in Cisco for approximately 14 years. During all that time, it declares, "they have maintained a corps of employees who have been of the highest type of citizenship, and they have cooperated with the citizenship of Cisco in every worthy enterprise for the purpose of improving the city of Cisco as a whole and in building up our educational and recreational advantages, and notwithstanding the change of management from time to time, this spirit of cooperation with the other citizens of Cisco has been carried on by the employees of the Humble Oil and Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company."

The sincere appreciation of the chamber of commerce for this spirit of cooperation is expressed to the companies and their employees, both past and present, and it was also resolved that "the citizenship of the city of Cisco be requested and urged whenever possible to manifest toward the Humble Oil and Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company and their employees our full appreciation of the attitude" manifested by them toward Cisco and Cisco people.

"Pure Gasoline" Bill Passes Senate

AUSTIN, March 22.—Harman "pure gasoline" bill, requiring the labelling of inferior grades of motor fuel, was passed by the senate today.

The measure requires labelling all grades of motor fuel below the standard grade as "inferior motor fuel." These words are required to be written on the pump or receptacle from which the fuel is sold.

Sponsors of the bill said its purpose is to stop the mixing of kerosene with gasoline and its sale as standard fuel.

Reciprocity Basis of Agreement Between Italy and Other Countries on Commerce

By THOMAS B. MORGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
ROME, March 22.—Reciprocity is to be the basis of future commercial agreements between Italy and other countries. The Grand Council affirmed this during its last session, and the press has continued to emphasize it.

The official figures for Italy's exports and imports recently published show that Italy has something to bargain with. In the future, advantage will be taken of Italy's importance as purchaser of raw materials and fuel in securing from the countries from which she imports compensatory facilities for exporting her finished products.

Wheat imports for the first five months of the new crop year stand at 123,806 metric tons as against 125,724 in the corresponding months of 1931.

To avoid concentrating such imports at the close of the crop year, the percentage of home grown wheat used by the mills has been reduced slightly as from Jan. 1, 1933, the quotas being fixed at 80 per cent for soft wheat in the south of Italy and Latium (Rome) and at 60 per cent in Sicily and Sardinia. For the north and central provinces the percentage of 95 per cent fixed in June, 1932 holds good. For hard wheat, the percentages are reduced to 90 per cent in the south and Latium, 60 per cent in north and central Italy and remain at 95 per cent in Sicily and Sardinia.

MESSAGE IS EXPECTED IN SHORT WHILE

WASHINGTON, March 22.—President Roosevelt is planning early action on farm credits and relief for the small home owner, it was learned today.

Sources close to the white house said the president was prepared to submit to congress within the next few days a message and bill on farm credit to be followed by legislation along similar lines for the small home owner.

This farm credit legislation will have two purposes, it was declared. One would be the incorporation in one or two control bodies the functions that now are being administered by the eight farm credit agencies.

Another would be the reduction of the interest rate on farm mortgages and the extension of time in the general financing scheme.

It was understood that mortgages held not only by the federal agencies but also by private mortgage companies, such as insurance companies, would be included.

The administration is considering the Jones bill which calls for a bond issue of perhaps thirty billion dollars two ease farm mortgage burdens.

MERCY KEEPS HEADS MAN OF FRANCE IDLE

By RICHARD D. McMILLAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, March 22.—With no more criminals to put to death under the guillotine, M. Antoine Deibler, "executioner of high works," as the French headsman is officially described, has joined the ranks of the unemployed.

Half-a-dozen murderers, who were scheduled to die under the knife in the pale light of dawn during the past six months, have escaped him. Since he decapitated Dr. Gorguloff, Russian assassin of President Doumer, Deibler has not had an execution.

He was due to execute two brothers, but President Lebrun came into office. His first act was to extend clemency to them.

They were sent to Devil's Island and the executioner had to put away his machine in the dungeon of the gram Sainte Prison in Paris.

While M. Deibler idles in his home in a fashionable suburb here, doing nothing to earn his 30,000 francs a year salary, the penitentiary at the Ile de Re, first stage on the road to the convict settlement, becomes more crowded daily.

Four hundred convicts already are stationed there. Soon, another four hundred will be drafted from various prisons throughout France to await the departure of the convict ship.

The government is considering a request by the town council of St. Martin, on the Ile de Re, in the Bay of Biscay, that the guards at the prison be increased. The council complains there are only 30 armed wardens to keep under guard their hundreds of charges.

"Do Something," Says Bulletin

WEST ORANGE, N. J., March 22.—The following bulletin was posted in all plants of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., today by Charles Edison, son of the inventor and president of the company:

"President Roosevelt has done his part. Now you do something. Buy something, buy anything, anywhere. Paint your kitchen. Send a telegram. Give a party. Get a car. Fix your roof. Get a haircut. See a show. Build a house. Take a trip. Sing a song. Get married.

"It does not matter what you do, but get going and keep going. This old world is starting to move."

Couple Found DEAD IN THEIR GARAGE HOME

Mrs. Russell apparently was slain as she was sleeping. She was in bed in her nightclothes with a bullet wound through the temple. Her husband's body was lying in the doorway, between the bedroom and the bathroom.

Ben Fly, justice of peace, returned a verdict of murder and suicide.

Russell, Fly was told, had been in ill health for the past several months.

COMMITTEE BLOCKS JOBLESS RELIEF BILL

WASHINGTON, March 22.—President Roosevelt's proposal to recruit an army of 250,000 jobless and put them to work on government projects was blocked at least temporarily today by the house labor committee.

The group, headed by Chairman Conner, a foe of the president's plan, voted formally to hold public hearings of indefinite duration before attempting to make a report on the bill.

Open and defiant revolt had flared in the house against the president's proposal to put that number of persons to work on public projects at one dollar a day.

The American Federation of Labor declared officially against the relief program. President Green, of the federation asserted he found it dangerous to wage scales.

MUTTERINGS OF REVOLT.

Underneath the spirit of unanimity with which congress has acted favorably upon the recommendations of President Roosevelt certain stirrings of dissatisfaction with the "strong arm" policies of the administration are beginning to be seen.

They perhaps feel that their constituents will think them unimportant appendages to the government unless they can raise their voices to be heard. And the quickest way in which to be heard is in opposition.

The people back home don't care a hoot who gets recognition for what is done at Washington. They want relief. They want a boss. Their imaginations have been gripped by the forceful, decisive figure of the new president and as long as they hold him in the heroic light of a Moses they are going to follow his leadership.

DIRECTOR OF PRISONS REAPPOINTED.

Sanford Bates has been reappointed director of federal prisons of the department of justice by Atty. Gen. Homer Cummings. Bates was appointed four years ago by Herbert Hoover. He came from Massachusetts where he had gained a reputation as one of the outstanding prison officials of the American world.

SOUNDS HIGH NOTE.

Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., in a late March report volunteered information that there was now more buoyancy to general commercial activity than has been in evidence in years.

Asserting that "further progress" was made last week toward restoring confidence, "in all branches of business endeavor," the mercantile review added, "taking the offensive through emphasis on expanded credit facilities and the determination of leaders of industry to carry on aggressively, distinct headway was made during the first week following a financial crisis and cash stringency that has had no parallel in 26 years."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—"If we could put a tax on red ink we could meet the deficit in the treasury," Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma told his colleagues. The white-haired, blind senator sits, listens and never misses a word. His interpolations nearly always contain a thrust of sarcastic humor and his reputation is now that of the Senate's most successful satirist.

No one took a nastier crack at the proposals to restrict American purchases of American goods than "Blind Tom." "I am wish," he said, "to offer amendments providing that no state shall buy anything that is not produced within the state, and that no country shall buy anything that is produced outside the country; and that no farmer shall be allowed to buy anything at all or sell anything at all that he grows on his farm, and also to offer a motion that the American eagle shall be displaced as the emblem of the Republic and a terrapin be substituted in its stead—a terrapin closed up in its shell and hermetically sealed. If trade is a curse let us stop it."

GORE isn't always gentle with individual members—even fellow Democrats. When Ashurst of Arizona was proposing a constitutional amendment to tax tax-exempt securities and proceeded to tell how he had feared ghosts as a boy and how business feared ghosts today it was Gore who put in:

"I merely wish to inquire whether this resolution contemplates or authorizes a tax on ghosts?" When Ashurst said such a tax might be hard to collect, Gore said he meant:

"If we could levy a tax on ghosts of departed incomes we could raise abundant revenue. Last winter we indulged in the pastime of levying a phantom tax on phantom incomes, and only phantom revenues have resulted."

And when Ashurst said Congress must be bold about those securities, Gore tossed this one—

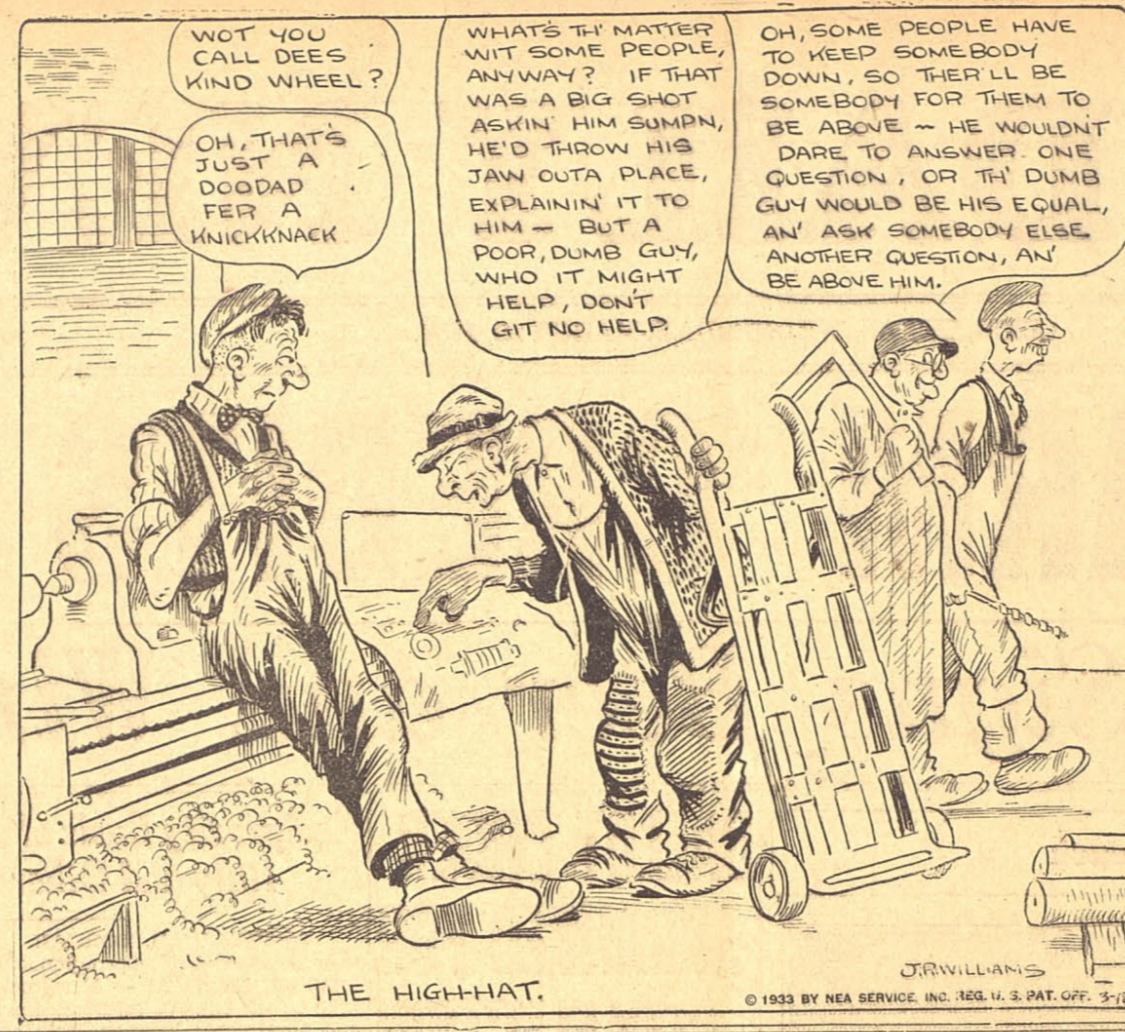

"I am glad to see a senator who trembles on so many occasions and is so daring, dashing on this occasion."

"Our national wealth and our national debts are just about in balance—we balanced that budget at any rate," the senator says.

He objected to imposition of a tariff on pearl buttons from the Philippines on this ground:

"If we are to violate a principle, let us not do so thus cheaply. If we are to barter principles for booty, let us demand more booty. Let us not swap our principles for pearl buttons. If we are to accept the wages of sin, let us demand a high wage, a wage commensurate with the sin."

OUT OUR WAY

tile review: "It is now apparent that the era of fear has passed definitely with it that phase of commercial history which belittled responsibility and placed the premium on recklessness of business conduct." According to the review retail buying improved and sales in some lines went ahead of seasonal. It was significant that the hoarders of gold, or a great number of hoarders of gold, met the government ultimatum in time to avoid prosecution.

INCOME TAXES ARE ROLLING IN.

Washington reports that new income tax collections through March 15 jumped above those of last year. A slight restoration of confidence and a driving of fear from the hearts of the people had a vast deal to do with turning the tide and restoring confidence the nation over. President Roosevelt was given authority to reduce the expenditures of government more than $500,000,000. He was given a free hand. Now he should go all the road. In the state legislative halls it would be wise for the lawmakers to make drastic reductions, speaking of appropriations and give the people real relief all along the line.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Mayor J. T. Berry issues a proclamation for a city-wide clean-up during election week—April 3 to 8. There may be something strangely prophetic in that. All citizens are urged to cooperate in making a complete clean-up. Whether that extends to the city hall I leave hizzoner to elucidate.

J. T. Elliott, one of the city fathers whose term of office will be certain to expire, for the reason that he is not seeking re-election, will endeavor to close two years of service as head of the department of sanitation and the public health in a blaze of glory. His goal is to equip every home with a closed garbage can. The commissioner doesn't want to leave any flies behind when he surrenders the mark of office to a successor.

Upon Elliott falls the duty of putting the mayor's proclamation into effect. He asks that the citizens begin work upon untidy premises now.

Hand-in-glove with Elliott's clean-up program is the beautification campaign to be waged through the city by the Cisco Garden club. The club has already organized its forces and its members are faring forth with score cards in hand to compete for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce award, whatever it is, to the city which makes the most improvement.

It is not enough for the women, God bless 'em, that the premises be rid of unsightly matters and restored to a physical evidence of healthy public pride, but the movement must go further. Homes must be beautified, lawns, trimmed, clipped and greened, hedges manicured, shrubbery set out, flowers planted and even the catch-all of the backyard restored to private attractiveness.

Nothing adds so much to the charm of an urban setting as clean-looking homes, well-groomed and glistening with the touches of love and affection which the prideful home-owner can bestow.

Some of them may, perforce, generate the energy or leave home, but others have established a tyranny that prevails against all pleading.

It would be a distinct and colorful feather in Cisco's cap should the Garden club win the honor which the WTCC is waiting to confer.

THIEF IS SUPERSTITIOUS

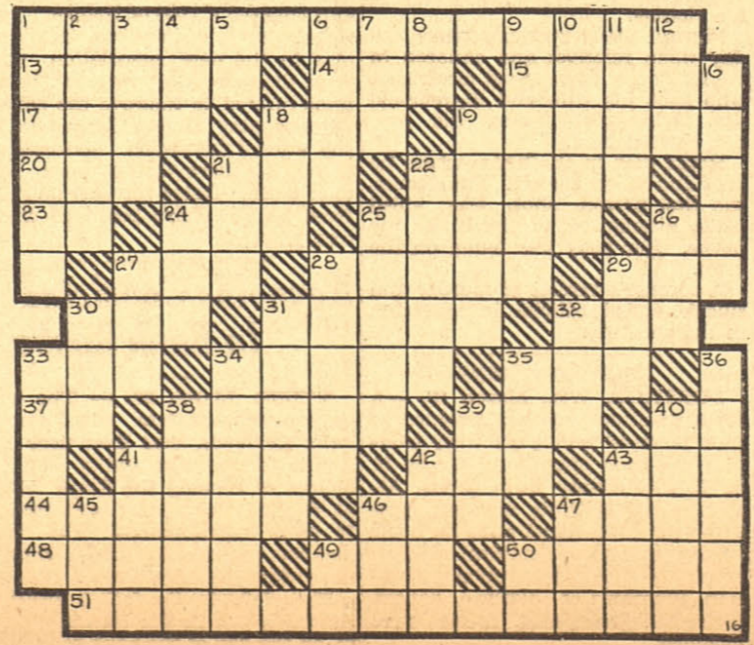

SALEM, Ore., March 22.—Joe Grigg, confessed chicken thief, is a new recruit to the ranks of superstitious people who believe black cats crossing their path bring bad luck. Joe's black cat ran in front of him as he walked from the chicken yard to the house. When he arrived at the house officers arrested him for stealing chickens.

JOHN H. KLEINER SUPPORTS AMENDMENTS. "I am heartily in favor of the chamber of commerce," said John H. Kleiner, Cisco oil man today. "At one time I was not, but I am now. I think that it is doing a wonderful amount of good."

"I have lived in Cisco all my life, own property here and pay taxes. I am in favor of maintaining the chamber of commerce out of the taxes. "I favor the band and the zoo amendments also. They are doing a lot of good. Many people who wouldn't come here for any other reason come to Cisco because of the zoo. It is a wonderful attraction to add to the recreational advantages we have at Lake Cisco."

"The band is an outstanding organization. It is known everywhere. Some time ago I was in Arizona and I was surprised to find that people out there knew of the Lobo band. Such a valuable advertising feature of our town should not be thrown overboard."

Why throw our chamber of commerce, or band and zoo overboard when this would mean that Cisco will lose the leadership that it has always held?"

The way I see it, this is no time to do away with the chamber of commerce. We need it worse right now than we ever did. If business were like it was in 1920 when we were all making money we could possibly get along without the chamber of commerce, but not now. "I wouldn't even think of breaking the handle of the chamber of commerce. Let it stay there and all of us take hold of the handle and help to pull out of this and we can and will."

BEGIN HERE TODAY JANET HILL breaks her engagement with ROSE CARLYLE after learning he has been going out with BETTY KENDALL, a society girl and niece of a member of the company for which he works. Janet is secretary to BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine and Rose is employed in an advertising office.

Janet is still much in love with Rose. She tries for a reconciliation with him but this only results in another quarrel. One night on a street car she meets JEFFREY GRANT, young engineer who has recently moved to the rooming house where she lives. A few nights later MOLLY LAMBERT, who lives across the street, persuades Janet to go on a blind date with two of Molly's friends. Janet sees Rose with Betty Kendall and is more unhappy than ever.

On a stormy March evening she sets out for a walk. She goes where to go. She walks down a street that is unfamiliar and almost loses her way. Coming back she sees a child crying in a doorway. The little girl has been sent out alone and is alone. She says her name is ROSE SILVANI. Janet buys her a hot meal and sets out afterward to take her home.

They are on a dark street when suddenly a man appears, catches Janet's arm and demands her purse.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XVII

AFTERWARD Janet insisted she wasn't frightened. It happened too quickly for that. She wasn't sure whether she saw the gun or heard Rose's scream first. The man growled, "Make it snappy!" and grabbed Janet's purse.

Then in the next instant something hurled itself between Janet and the man. A voice was shouting. Two voices. There was a tussle of arms and legs and something fell to the ground.

The gun—oh, the gun! Rose was pulling at Janet's skirt, whimpering. Janet saw a man's arm raise, saw the gun—but it did not fire. Suddenly the figures lurched apart. The man who had grabbed Janet's purse was running down the street. He turned the corner, was out of sight.

"Oh!" Janet exclaimed, "How will I ever thank—" She stopped them, looking at the tall young man beside her. Her eyes widened in amazement. "Why, Mr. Grant!" she exclaimed, "Oh, I didn't know it was you!"

Jeffrey Grant righted his tie and brushed off his coat. He was breathing heavily. "Good evening," he said. "Glad I happened to be across the street."

Then he bent down and picked up something from the sidewalk. It was Janet's purse. "Here," he said. "Better look and see if he got anything."

There was nothing missing from the purse. And it was then, after all the excitement was over, that Janet suddenly felt helpless and weak. There was nothing to be afraid of now. The thief was gone. But all at once she realized how close the danger had been.

"Oh—!" she said weakly, and then again, "Oh!" Grant took her arm. "Here," he said, "let's get away from here. My car's just across the street. If there's anywhere I can take you—"

"The car was a small and inexpensive roadster. Janet got in and held Rose on her lap. She told the young man where Rose lived and that she was taking her home. It was a street far on the other side of town in the poorest section of Lancaster.

GRANT nodded and said he "might as well run out there." He went on to explain that he had parked the car and gone into the little shop across the street for matches. He was just coming out again when he heard Rose's scream. Then when he saw the man grab Janet's purse he had made a running tackle. The rest was over almost as soon as it was started. "But it was wonderful of you!" Janet said sincerely. "He had a gun. Anything might have happened—"

Grant took that lightly. "Oh, he knew better than to shoot!" he said. "These bums who go around grabbing pocketbooks from women and girls only carry guns to seem dangerous. They'd run from a real fight—just as this bird did."

Little Rose had not taken her eyes from Grant's face from the minute they were inside the car. Great, dark eyes that said absolutely nothing and yet said so much.

Jeffrey Grant didn't ask questions but Janet told him a little about Rose. She explained gently how she and the little girl had become acquainted, about the candy Rose had been trying to sell.

"Well, say—can't we do something about that?" Grant asked sympathetically. It wasn't five minutes later that he stopped the car before a brightly lighted store, entered and reappeared with an assortment of bulky candy bars.

"These aren't to sell," he told Rose. "They're to eat. And see, these are for your brother."

Even then Rose didn't speak. The evening had been too much for her. Her dark eyes rained to Janet's questioning, and when Janet smiled and nodded she seemed satisfied and took the candy.

For a while they rode in silence. The streets became darker, the buildings on each side more dreary. At length they turned into the street for which they had been searching. Half way down the block Rose pointed to one of the shabby dwellings.

"That's it," she said. "That's where I live." All three of them got out of the car. Rose led the way to the door and opened it.

"Hello, Daddy!" she cried, running forward. "Rose!" Pat Silvani said bitterly, "who used to be the smartest operator in the Vanity Fair Beauty Shop—scrubbing floors! She don't complain though. She gets 25 cents an hour and it's all we've got to live on!"

Pat Silvani's voice died down again. The smoldering fires in the dark eyes died down, too. He looked what he was—a man beaten. Janet sat forward. "Mr. Silvani," she said, "there must be jobs somewhere. I'm going to see if I can't find one for you. Maybe I won't be able to, but I'm going to try."

"Sure," Jeffrey Grant put in. "I was thinking the same thing. I know quite a few fellows and I'll ask around."

They left a little after that. Rose came forward as Janet was saying goodby and lunged both arms about her. "You're nice," Rosie said softly. "I like you!" Janet and Jeffrey Grant went out into the night. Neither of them spoke until they were in the roadster. Then Janet said impulsively, "I didn't know people were living like that. Isn't it terrible?"

The young man nodded. "Do you suppose they'd take money? I wasn't sure—"

"I don't know," Janet said, "but there must be other things we could do. Oh—lots of things! Maybe we could sort of adopt them—the whole family, the way people do at Christmas."

"Why sure! Sure we can!" As Janet met Jeffrey Grant's eyes she was thinking, "Why, he's really nice-looking!"

WHAT ARE YOU? WHAT DO YOU READ?

A quotation familiar to every person is, "As a man thinketh so is he." Study the faces you see every day. The eyes, the mouth, the expression. What do you find? Indelibly written there are the thoughts of that person—a record of every one of them! Do you see clear, bright eyes, open and ready to meet your gaze? Do you see firm lips, maybe with a tiny tilt upward? Do you see a serene, calm expression that speaks of mastery of self.

Or do you see eyes that are shifty and that have something to hide? Do you see a mouth with weak loose lips? Do you see lines that mark the individual as lacking in character?

A slang expression, the use of "map" for face, isn't unexpressive. One's face is a map upon which the world may find the real you.

What do we think about? We like to believe that our thoughts are our own, but this is not true. What makes us think? What moulds our character? There are many factors—but there is one that each is at liberty to choose for himself—the reading of good books.

The quotation used in the beginning might be changed to read—"As a man readeth so is he." A recent survey in one of the English classes of C. H. S. disclosed the fact that "favorite" books and magazines were those which are so-called, of a pseudo-sophisticated, unlovely nature. The young minds of these readers are filled with untrue and ugly things which must leave their stamp on their faces as well as on their characters.

When there is so much that is "good and true and beautiful," and when there is an opportunity for everyone to have access to such literature, there is no excuse for our reading taste being so low. "The reading of a poor book is an opportunity lost for reading a good one."

If your taste is wrong, it may take mental surgery—but there are times when such treatment is necessary; and, as the knife may bring health to a sick body by removing the cause, so may this mental surgery bring health to the sick mind. Mental health brings physical joy and well-being.

Think it over! Are you suffering from a poison that is flouted to the world in your face, or are you living in a clean, pure, healthy atmosphere that makes your face beautiful and your character lovely?

THE WELL-DRESSED STUDENT.

How shall we dress in Cisco High? Obviously the prevailing notes in our fashions should be simplicity and cleanliness in combination with good taste.

For the girls, now that spring is here, wash dresses in becoming colors, and oxfords or slippers with moderate heels, are attractive as well as practical. Fancy clothes should be avoided—particularly those that seem more appropriate for party or evening wear. Girls should strive to enhance their charm by dainty feminine styles and certainly not by resorting to mannish apparel. Of course, we all want to look as well as possible, but this does not necessitate elaborate make-up, especially excessive amounts of rouge, for school.

The generally accepted school clothes for boys are conservative shirts and trousers, and not overalls. We should have enough respect for our school, our fellow classmates, and ourselves, to be neatly, appropriately, and sufficiently dressed.

A breach of school etiquette of which students are sometimes guilty is the wearing of hats or berets in the study halls and classrooms. This habit not only produces an unhealthy condition of the scalp and the brain, but is an indication of lack of courtesy toward the teacher and the school.

After all, going to school is a business—in which we are engaged over a definite period of time, with set rules and certain stated requirements. Shall we not treat it as such and show respect and good taste in the selection of our "business" clothes?

LIBRARY "CLIPPINGS."

Since last report, magazines have been received from Frank Shackelford, Jerry Heald, and Carl Siddall. Books of fiction donated by Malcolm Reimers (1), Dixie Bill (2), Mary Davis (2), and Elsie Pulley (3).

Reference books given: Basset's Short History of the U. S. A.—Miss Chambliss. Statistical Abstract for 1931—Congressman Lanham. Reed's Psychology of Elementary Subjects for the "Teachers Shelf."

Out-of-town visitors: Gero and Ben Miley, and John Peter Huey.

Fifteen volumes of Popular Science re-sewed and re-bound all ready now for use; good as new.

A certain appreciative person would like to express gratitude to Miss Daisy Evans for a "surprise" box and to Pauline McClinton for some more surprise "eats."

EDITOR'S NOTE.

"The Howl" is a feature devoted exclusively to the interests of the pupils and faculty of the Cisco high school and is written and edited by a staff selected from the school and supervised by the faculty. Articles appearing here-in should not be interpreted or construed as reflecting in any way the editorial policies or thought of this newspaper.

WHO'S WHO IN C. H. S.

Miss Elizabeth Dial

"What's up?" asked Miss Dial, Head of our Commercial Department, on an inquisitive reporter. "Do you want my history?" So she began, "I was born in Miami, Texas and Miami has always been my home. Of course my high school days were spent there, but my four years of college work I did in A. C. C. of Abilene and in Baylor university of Waco."

"My hobby?" she said. "Let me see—I guess it's playing bridge. Pet abomination?—writing letters. Pet economy?—buying hose. Sports?—tennis and football of course."

Miss Dial is a charming and attractive member of our faculty and sponsor of the Senior class. When asked what she thought of the school she answered, "I think that the school work is much better than it was last year, even though there is not nearly so much pep." After this last remark she added, "And I think the Howl is plenty keen."

THE FACULTY—OFF AGAIN

Our faculty took another trip—no—some more trips—Well anyhow most of our teachers went some where and did something.

Miss Dial went to Dallas—and why? Well, she brought home the perkiest red hat and the cutest little red slippers! Easter is coming, I guess!

Miss Wells says, "Where'd I go? To bed! And I wish I could have stayed a week!" Spring Fever always attacks folk in such a vicious manner on this time of year!

Mr. Elkins took that snappy junior track team to Olden and saw to it that they "did their stuff."

"Bully for you, Mr. Coach. One thing always brings up another. Mr. Hodges went home and had a most exciting time! A regular West Texas sandstorm welcomed him."

The Delta Kappa Gammars had a party Saturday in Abilene. Misses Robinson and Andres are Delta Kappa Gammars! Yes sir! And they took Miss Chambliss as one of their guests and a 'good time was had by all."

Miss Watson visited one of her married sisters Friday, but had to come home Saturday. Do you suppose she graded papers all day Saturday?

Miss Bounds didn't do nothin'—she said so herself.

Mrs. Brandon was indisposed (isn't that a swanky way to say she felt bad?) and spent the weekend resting.

Mr. Cluck was in Abilene with his debaters at a tournament sponsored by A. C. C. Good work! We are betting on Coach Cluck and his team.

Did you know that the tennis tournament was managed by Mr. Brandon and Mr. Varnell? Knighthood may not be in flower but C. H. S. people surely bloomed forth in tournaments Saturday!

Mrs. Irby had to rest during the weekend. But no wonder—she is invited somewhere so much—she has to rest sometime!

PLEASANT HOURS FOR MANY

The "Clark Sisters" entertained a group of friends at their home Sunday afternoon. Those present were: Marcia Mobley, Dixie Blis, Billy Kilbourn, Gerald Merket, Carl Siddall and Willard Gaskins, Glenn Neyes, Thelma Everett and John D. Izenhour of Putnam.

Troop 4 of the Boy Scouts met in regular session Friday night at the Methodist church. They concluded the meeting at the home of Mr. O. L. Stamey, their leader, where they were served delicious ice cream. C. H. S. boys present were: Reuben Wendt, Livius Lankford, J. C. Kirschner, Ira Laird Evtatt Horne and Tommy Wilson.

The Hi-League of the First Methodist church was entertained with a party Saturday night in the basement of the church. Games furnished the entertainment. Delicious punch and cookies were served to the guests at the conclusion of the fun. C. H. S. students among those present were: Pansy Lee Portter, Louise Statham, Maxine Hampton, Doris Surles, Dena Carroll, Margaret Norton, Mary Sprull, Marie Qualls, Lovell Clark, Mignon Clark, Olin Odem, Gerald Merket, W. C. White, Donald Surles, T. B. Matthews, Deeward Boyd, Durward McClelland, Jere Loftin, and Billy Kilbourn.

Cisco Hi enjoyed the presentation, for the speakers were good. High hopes for the success of these representatives in the approaching county meet are expressed.

"POP EYE" BEASLEY BECOMES JUNIOR TRACK HERO.

W. J. Beasley, known as "Pop Eye," has become a personage since the Junior Track Meet in which he won the hundred yard dash and the broad jump.

In the relay, "Pop-eye" gave the other boys a ten yard start, but contrary to his expectations, they kept it. (But that's all right, Pop-eye, we didn't expect you to win first in every event.) In high jump, "Pop-eye" didn't have a chance against that Eastland boy with wings on his feet. However, he came out fourth in the final. All in all, his record was one to be proud of and C. H. S. congratulates him and cheers him on to even better things next year.

PAULINE'S PENCILINGS

At last it has come to this—just four days of school, after the torture of last week's six weeks tests! Who said teachers didn't have a heart? Have you looked at your report cards? Never mind, better luck next time.

Time may fly by, and it may drag by in many places, but not so at C. H. S. Up here it doesn't ever pass. The building's two most noticeable clocks have been pointing to 8:53 and 7:15 for the last four years, to my certain knowledge. Will somebody please do something to make a little time pass!

The big day of Interscholastic activity will soon be here with its means, triumphs, and excitement—and are we glad to see it come! Since we get a holiday Friday it wouldn't be a bad idea to go over to Olden and show a little of the oldtime Cisco spirit, and a "big heap" of interest in the students who have entered the contests, instead of spending the afternoon where our presence won't be of aid, to the girls or society—those of us who aren't participating.

Do you have any material on the "Future of the Southwest?" Then please give some of it to Hartman and Hagan. They are already planning that trip to Chicago they're going to win.

When you go horseback riding don't go just for two or three hours, go all day. That's what several C. H. S. belles did—have you seen those red faces and heard those pitiful groans?

The jig-saw craze has given place to another this week. If you want to do the proper thing now you must have your picture taken. The girls (and boys) had a terrible time getting fixed exactly to suit themselves. That's the reason so much hair has been set recently.

Every week brings back C. H. S. exes for a visit and the "more the merrier." Last week end brought Helen Crawford, George Irvine, Bill Smith, Grady Coates, Ben Miley, and Lomay Shockey from the University of Texas! John Peter Huey from Simmons; Elwin Skiles from Baylor; Jouridine Armstrong from T. C. U.; and Gery Miley from Draughn's Business college.

Louise Trammell, another of our exes of several years ago, was also home last weekend. Two years ago, Louise received her A. B. at C. I. A. and is now working on her M. A., at the University of Texas. She is one of the most talented and praiseworthy of our exes.

PROGRAM OF HOME ECONOMIC CLUB

"The Girl and Her School" was the subject of the last Home Economic club program.

"Friendship"—Mildred Whitman. "School Loyalties"—Bessie Rae Coates.

"The Girl in Public"—Pearl McCauley.

Interspersed among the talks, Kathryn Wagley played several musical numbers on the "French harp."

Dell Frances Miller was elected song and yell leader to fill the place Lucille Smith left vacant.

Girls' PLAYGROUND BALL WINS SECOND HONORS.

Girls Playground Ball won second place in the County Meet this year. Coach Lois Johnston worked hard with the team and deserves much credit for the record made. Each member of the team comes in for her share of praise, also.

"Coach Johnston," not being able to decide which of her two pitchers, Stella Potter and Marie Qualls, was better, used them alternately. The one who didn't pitch played second short. Margaret and Ardella Potter played first short.

First baseman—Dorothy Houston; second baseman, Rosa Lee Kirschner; third baseman, Evelyn Reynolds. Fielders were Dena Carroll, Maxine Cearley, and Oleta Turknett. Martha Demerson was catcher.

The girls are not discouraged at not winning first place; they are already making plans for next year—big plans. Here's success to their ambitions, and much praise for what they did this year.

LYLE STEWART GIVES PARTY.

Lyle Stewart was host to a group of young people Saturday night. Games, music and other amusements made the evening a pleasant one.

Light refreshments of lemonade and cake added to the enjoyment of Earle Farmer, Irene Culbert, Nina Smith, Elsie Richardson, Ruby Lee Blanton, Fay Farmer, the McGlasson sisters, Ruth and Catherine; Bruce Groce, Greenville Groce, Bobby Kilpatrick, Ben Groce, and Amie Lee Richardson, an out-of-town guest.

DREW 10 YEARS

CHICAGO, March 22.—Vernon Monders and Vernon Guthrie held up Frank Nelson, a butcher. They got 13 cents, but were caught Judge Fardy sentenced them to one to ten years in prison.

PRIZES AND OTHER WINNINGS OF C. H. S. FUTURE FARMERS AT STOCK SHOW.

Future Farmers of C. H. S. always come in for a share of good things handed out to winners. At the stock show held recently, R. L. Tucker won three first places and one third place on his sheep, and $7.50 cash. Carl Henson won one second place and two third places on his sheep, several third places on goats, and $2.50 cash.

Rev Carter won two second places on his sheep and $5.00 cash. Merrill Tanner won third place in the dairy cow contest.

Woodrow Seaborn, Wayne Henson and Hershel Penn won prizes on hogs. (Good for you, boys!).

GIRLS WIN OVER GORMAN IN COUNTY ELIMINATION FOR FINALS IN DEBATE.

The county eliminations for debate were held in Eastland Monday at 9:45 at the First Methodist church. Cisco, Eastland, Rising Star and Gorman were represented with two teams each.

Each team drew a number that represented their opponent and the C. H. S. girls drew Gorman and won the decision, 3-0. The C. H. S. boys drew Rising Star and lost the decision, 2-4. Both the boys and the girls representing Eastland won the decisions.

The final try-outs for the selection of the best teams in the county will be held Friday at Olden. C. H. S. is "betting" on the girls team to win over Eastland.

DEBATING TOURNAMENT HELD IN ABILENE.

The C. H. S. debating teams journeyed to Abilene Saturday morning to enter the debating tournament. About thirty towns were represented. San Antonio had three teams and the San Antonio boys' team won first place. The boys' team from Sweetwater won second place. Lubbock was represented by three teams and the girls A and B teams tied for first place.

The Cisco High School girls' team won three out of four matches. They lost to Lubbock, only, and Lubbock won first place.

The boys, however, were not quite so fortunate. They lost two out of three matches.

Besides gaining much debating experience, the local teams had an enjoyable time. The rumor is out that they were very anxious to visit Woolworth's after the tournament.

HOBBIES IN C. H. S. OR HOW I SPEND MY LEISURE TIME

"I milk my cow, work in my garden, make things in my blacksmith shop, build wagons and other things with my carpenter's tools, and make harness for my horse; then, of course, I ride my horse."

M. D. Bailey, Jr.

I enjoy woodwork of many kinds, and like best of all to make aeroplanes.

Jerry Heald

I collect and keep pictures that will help me or someone else; I ride my horseback; I read; and I like to hike if I can have a pleasant companion.

Flora Bacon

I enjoy being in the band; I have taken piano lessons for five years; I like to read books; and when I have nothing else to do, try to write poetry.

Betty Elda Clark

Getting signatures and pictures of friends is my chief hobby, but I like to rest, play tennis, and cultivate a flower garden.

Dena Carroll.

My hobby is collecting material out of magazines and newspapers for a Home Economics Scrap Book.

Through The Keyhole

If you folks want any thing broadcasted quicker than by radio, tell Elsie Pulley. That little "Miss" sees all, hears all, and tells all. (A regular little 'Walter Winchell.")

Feminine interest was centered around the machine shop in Breckenridge Saturday. Our girls seemed to enjoy machinery which had never interested them before. (Strange but true, from one who knows.)

Of course everyone appreciates Joe Bob's worth, but we really do wish he would grow up—he is age—and quit shooting paperwads and doing other things so "smallish."

A little notice came through the Howl box that "Through the Keyhole" had been missed—well, unknown author, we appreciate that little remark just "oodles," no foolin'.

Kessler Thomas says his ambition is to be a barber so that he might shave Mr. Cluck. Now isn't that just too sweet! (Your ambition is as high as a barber pole, eh, Kessler?)

So Mr. Brandon has gone domestic and wears a cook apron!

Lois Johnson seems to be a very good coach. It was she who coached the girls baseball team that won second place at Olden Tuesday. Congratulations, Ma Cherie!

Novelle Huddleston is "Aunt Novelle" now! Let us hope that the young "neice" starts something new of her own, and doesn't resemble Novelle.

If it takes greasy hands and faces and dirty clothes to make good mechanics, Bill and Forbes belong in the grade "A" class. They report that their car is in tip-top shape and maybe after two weeks the greasy hands will disappear. (If they don't drive the car.) Here's hoping.

Woodrow Rouch after a serious illness of two weeks duration is able to be in school again, we are glad to report.

For shame! Coleman! Tearing up playhouses is not being done by the best seniors these days.

Forest Noble and "Tuffy" McMurry enjoyed Saturday in Abilene.

Edna Cooles had a pleasant visit in Abilene Sunday.

Did you see Marcia and Dixie sporting a new car Saturday afternoon?

Sports For Sportsmen

The Cisco High School representatives won the Junior track meet at Olden Saturday with four first places, one second place, and one fourth.

The 440 relay was the exciting event of the day in which the Cisco Juniors had to take first place to win the meet. W. J. Beasley, Dick Stansbury, Gerald Merket, and Watson Cooper are the members of the relay team who are responsible for Cisco's victory at Olden.

100 yard dash—W. J. Beasley first, Dick Stansbury, second. Time: 11 seconds.

Ercad jump—W. J. Beasley—first place—17 feet.

High jump—W. J. Beasley—fourth place—4 feet, 11 in.

Chinning the bar, Dick Stansbury—first place—35 times.

The girls' play ground ball team defeated Gorman 4-3 but met defeat at Rising Star 11-1.

The girls' volley ball team won third place in the county.

The boys' play ground ball team won both of their games defeating Gorman 12-4 and Ranger 18-9.

The tennis tournament was held at the Humble tennis courts, Saturday, Girls' doubles; Betty Fee Spears and Maxine Fowler, defeated Scranton 6-1; 6-love, but lost to Rising Star, 6-4; 6-3. Girls Singles—Merrill Goldberg, lost to Ranger—6 love; 6-1. Boys' doubles—L. A. Harrison and Bayard McMahon defeated Scranton 6-2; 6-love, and also defeated Ranger in the semi-finals—6-4; 6-2.

Boys' singles—Bayard McMahon—lost to Ranger 6-1; 6-2.

MISS CHAMBLISS' HOME ROOM FURNISHES CHAPEL ENTERTAINMENT.

QUARTETTE SINGS AT RANDOLPH.

At the invitation of the Junior Class at Randolph College, five boys from the High School Glee Club, with Pauline McClinton, Harriet Angus, and Mr. Steward, as accompanists presented the following numbers in chapel:

"My Grandfather's Clock"—Quartette—Pierce Thomason, Greenville Groce, Bobby Kilpatrick, and Roy Kinard.

"On His Bass Viol"—Carl Siddall. "Smilin' Thru"—and "Lullaby from Jocelyn"—Bobby Kilpatrick. "Duna"—Pierce Thomason. "Waiting for Ships That Never Come In"—Pierce Thomason.

Owing to Marion Waters having gone "debating" and Carl Siddall's being one of the soloists, Miss Robinson substituted Greenville Groce and Roy Kinard in her quartette and was more than delighted, it is said, at the way the "new" boys sang. In fact, many complimentary remarks were heard on all sides concerning them.

The entire program was a success, according to Randolph students, thanks not only to the singers but to the accompanists as well.

URGES DEFEAT OF AMENDMENT GAGING MAYOR

Urging that the citizens of Cisco defeat the sixth proposed amendment to the city charter or "repent in sackcloth and ashes", Judge J. D. Barker today gave the Daily News the following statement:

"I have seen discussions and opinions of our citizens on all the proposed amendments to our city charter to be voted on April 4th, excepting the sixth and last one.

"If this amendment is approved by the voters, the mayor will have very little voice in the affairs of our city. It is an attempt to have a three party commission. We have five commissioners. This amendment seeks to eliminate the vote of the mayor, excepting in case of a tie vote. Question: How could five commissioners vote a tie?

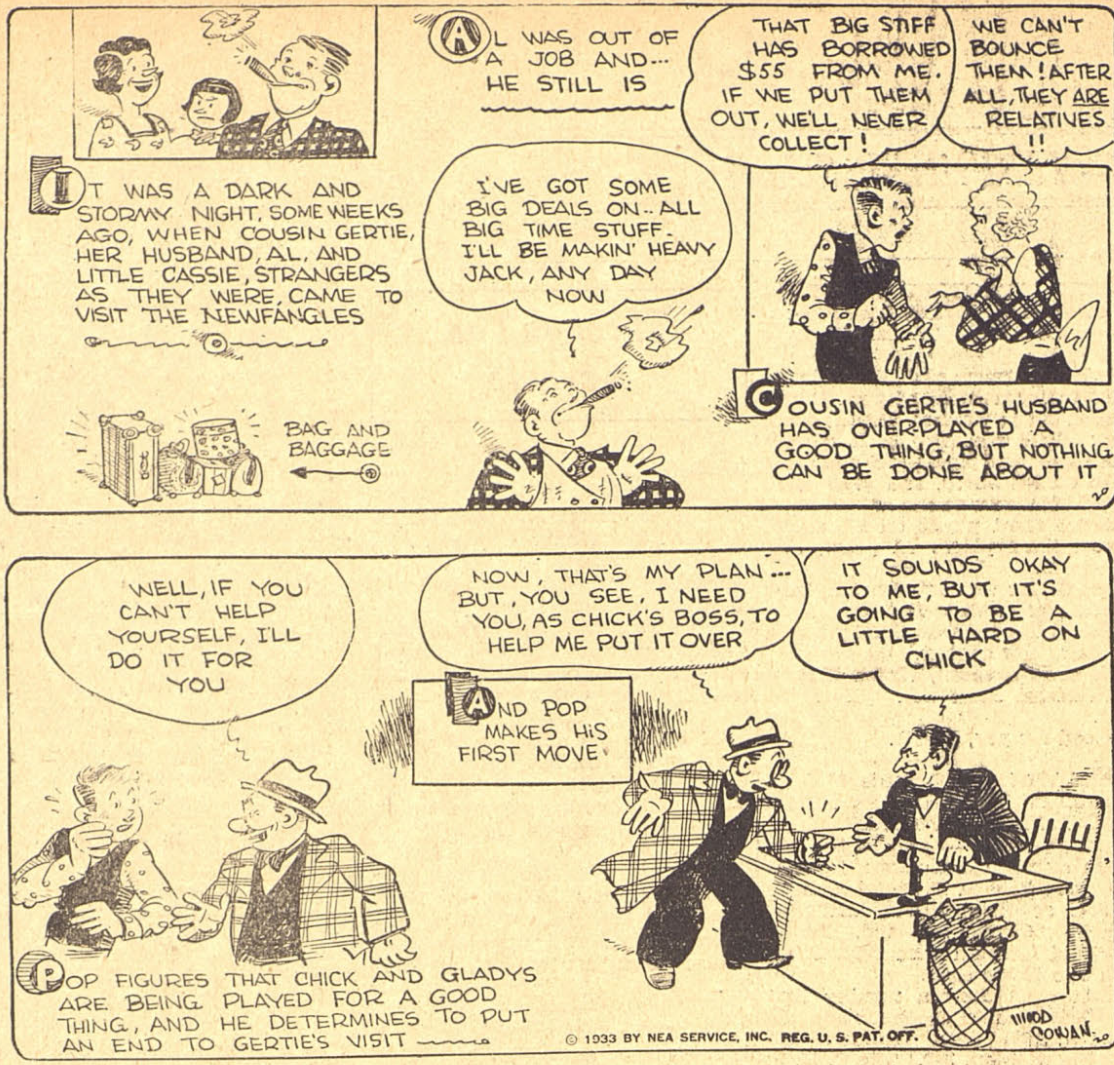

"Then, if this amendment carries we will have our city affairs in the hands of three commissioners instead of six. Three members of the commission can organize and control the city government.

"As I view it, this would be a vicious state of affairs. Why have a six member commission, if we are to make it possible for three members to have full power?

"If a man has sense enough to serve the office of mayor, he certainly should not be helpless in the hands of a hostile commission. We ought to vote against this amendment. If we do not we will repent in 'sackcloth and ashes'."

Theater Was Lit By Water Well

LOVELAND, Col., March 22. — A well that was dug to provide water became the source of the lighting supply of Loveland's first opera house.

The well, when dug, was found to be virtually dry, but it did produce gas.

The gas was piped to a storage pipe, and from the storage pipe to the opera house.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" and other "operas" of the day were played through to their heart-throbbing ends by the flickering gaslight.

The one difficulty was that the well supplied gas so slowly and the opera house used it so rapidly that sometimes the lights went out just as the villain was about to get his just dues.

Finally, the well was given up as useless. It didn't produce water and didn't produce enough gas to be of any value.

But the well, built in 1885, has outlived many who scoffed at it, because it has developed into a running fountain, where all who pass may stop for a drink.

London Offered Varied Cruises

LONDON, March 22 — Romantic as London fog and half-heated houses may be, there are those who, strangely enough, get tired of them.

For such heretics, who happen to have a few pennies, the steamship companies are offering a wondrous program of cruises guaranteed to include sunshine and dry noses for 1933.

A thousand different cruises, in fact. Cruises to the Canary Islands, Madeira, Gibraltar, the Baltic, Jamaica, the West Indies, Cape Town, Singapore, Hong Kong—fill out the list from your own map and your own imagination.

It all depends upon how much money and time you have to spend. Here, at least, are some of the voyages, with the duration and price of each:

London to Madeira, taking in Ceuta and Lisbon; 11 days; $44.45.

To Malaga, Palma, Barcelona, and Ceuta; 13 days; $51.30.

To Monte Carlo, Civita Vecchia (for Rome), Naples, Malta, and Tunis; 19 days; $75.25.

An 11-day cruise to Danzig, via the Kiel Canal, then on to Gdynia, Riga, and Tallinn; $41.

To Barbados, Trinidad, Venezuela, Curacao, Colombia, Panama, Jamaica, Costa Rica; 48 days $290 (first class), $170 (second class).

LONE WOLF TRAPPED

ESCANABA, Mich., March 22 — Daniel Boone Howard, a state hunter, finally outwitted and trapped the 12-year-old lone wolf of Warner Creek deer yard. Three times the wolf escaped from Howard's traps with the loss of only a claw or toe.

Finally captured, the wolf was found to be of the Canadian-Siberian strain, lighter in color than the ordinary timber wolf, and weighing between 150 and 175 pounds.

The Chesterfield FORMULA—what is it?

The formulas and processes which make Chesterfield a milder and better-tasting cigarette are secret—to prevent others from copying them

If every person knew the method and processes of tanning leather, it would be of interest; but what people want to know is: Is it a good shoe? Is it comfortable? Will it wear longer? Is the price right?

So it is with Chesterfield Cigarettes. If smokers, men and women, knew all of the formulas and processes of manufacture, it would be of interest to them; but what smokers really want is the result.

Everything that goes into Chesterfield Cigarettes is as good as money can buy.

Every process has in it all that science knows about cigarette manufacture.

The formulas are secret to prevent others from copying them. The mildness and the better taste you may prove for yourself. May we ask you to try Chesterfield?

Wherever you buy Chesterfields, you get them just as fresh as if you came by our factory door
