Millions Spent to Save Citizens Loss of Week at Work Each Year

By RAY LYMAN WILBUR, M. D., Secretary of the Interior and Chairman of the Committee on the Costs of Medical Care

Even in a time of economic depression America has reason to be proud of its great industries. Indeed, economists tell us that one reason for our present difficulties is that science and organization have made it possible for us to produce goods faster than we are able to buy and consume them.

But there is one "industry" of which this is so far from being true that the actual supply of its "goods" fall below even the minimum demand for them. This is the "health industry," one of the greatest in the country, measured by personnel or by invested capital.

The force engaged in "manufacturing" health numbers nearly 1,500,000 men and women, of whom about 145,000 are physicians. There is thus, theoretically, one health worker for every hundred of us, and about one physician for every thousand. Yet only a few illustrations or personal experiences are enough to show that medical care is as yet anything but adequate in distribution.

Even where medical facilities seem to be adequate patients complain of what they consider excessive bills from physicians, surgeons and hospitals; physicians protest that much of their work is done for nothing and that many patients pay less than they could and should; and hospitals, even when many of their expenses are paid out of endowments and contributions, often find it hard to make both ends meet.

City, county, state and federal health officials, as well as private practitioners and institutions, all fight the common enemy, disease, but they do not fight on a common front. The struggle against ill health for the most part is more like guerrilla warfare. It was this situation—not reflecting on any individual or group, but throwing light on the erratic nature of scientific progress—that led to the creation of the committee on the Costs of Medical Care. Its purpose is the solution of adequate scientific medical service to all the people, rich and poor, at a cost which can be reasonably met by them in their respective stations in life.

Of its membership of 50 persons, 10 represent the private practice of medicine and dentistry, six represent public health service, twelve represent institutions and special interests, six represent economics and sociology and 10 represent the public. A research staff under Dr. Harry H. Moore, formerly public health economist of the United States Public Health Service, getting the facts of the problem.

The work was planned to consume five years, with the backing of the Carnegie Corporation, the Milbank Memorial Fund, the Russell Sage Foundation, the Twentieth Century Fund, the Julius Rosenwald Fund, and Rockefeller Foundation, the New York Foundation and the Josiah Macy, Jr., Foundation. At the same time it has had the cooperation of the American Medical Association and the American Dental Association. It is the first survey of its sort.

The committee determined to find out, so far as possible, how much sickness there was in the United States, of what kind, and what general facilities there were for dealing with it; how much the patients paid, and how much physicians, dentists, hospitals and other agents received; and what existing facilities there were for organized medical service for particular groups of the population. It was hoped that by finding out where the patient dollar goes and what it buys light might be thrown on what adequate medical service should

5TH NATIONAL RADIO CONTEST PLANS MADE

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26.—A fifth National Radio Audition, to be held during 1931, with prizes of $25,000 in cash and musical scholarships for the winners was authorized today by the Atwater Kent Foundation.

Organization for local and state registration of entrants will be perfected during the coming month and preliminary auditions will begin early in the spring.

Decision to extend the audition into its fifth consecutive year was reached by A. Atwater Kent, president of the Foundation, after a careful study of the accomplishments of earlier audition winners and of the recognition they have received in musical circles.

Any young singer between the ages of 18 to 25, not a professional, is eligible for the audition. Following local tests the competition will run through state and district eliminations to a final national sing-off which will be broadcast over a nation-wide network of radio stations in which the respective ratings of the five young men and five young women who have survived the earlier contests will be determined. These will share in national prizes as follows: The young man and young woman rating first, $3,000 cash each and two-year scholarships in any musical conservatory, or under any American vocal teacher they may select; second place winners, $3,000 cash each and one-year scholarships; third, $2,000 and one-year scholarships; fourth, $1,500 and one-year scholarships; fifth, $1,000 and one-year scholarships.

100-METER DASH IS ADDED TO TRACK EVENTS

FORT WORTH, Feb. 26.—One special event, the 100-meter dash, has been added to the track events of the Southwestern Exposition Track and Field meet to be held at Texas Christian university March 14.

This event is expected to be one of the best drawing cards of the meet. Such men as Cy Leland, Red Oliver and Dick Houser of Texas Christian and Claude Bracey former Rice Institute track star, and many others are expected to compete in this event.

More than 800 athletes are expected to compete in this meet, which has grown to be one of the largest of its kind in the southwest. Schools that heretofore have not entered have sent in applications, according to R. D. Evans, superintendent of the city recreation department. Teams from Oklahoma A. & M. and from Durant Teachers are entered.

There will be some 200 gold, silver and bronze medals for first, second and third place winners in the various events. There will be two watches given, one to the winner of the pentathlon and to the winner of the special 100-meter dash. There will be 14 loving cups and four cups for the winning relay teams.

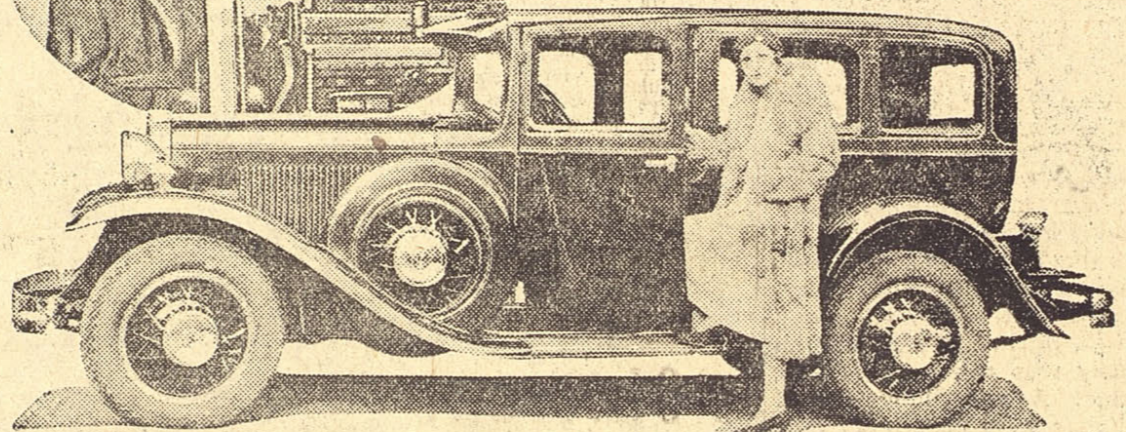

Three men who are expected to try out for the 1932 Olympics will be entered in this meet. Leland and Oliver, Texas Christian sprint aces, and Jordon, Denton Teachers' star hurdler, are the trio entered.

Loboes to Battle "Has-Beens" at High School Tonight

FUNDS TO BE USED TO BUY '31 SWEATERS

Exciting Clash Promised by Glance at Line-up

The "Has-beens" and the "Now-ares" will battle tonight on the hardwood at the local high school in the cause of cash for the purchase of sweaters to reward the efforts of the 1931 Cisco high school basketballers.

The "Has-beens", dignified by the dubious title of "All-stars", will be composed of former Lobo basketball stars re-enforced by the ancients of college quintets. They will play the current Lobo five which lost the district title to Breckenridge after a brilliant season in which they twice defeated the title-holders. The game starts at 7:30. It will feature brute force versus science.

All doubt that there will be excitement rampant in this clash is dispelled by a glance over the roster of the "All-star" squad. Such names as Leonard Hill, W. B. Chapman, P. B. Glenn, and Hiram Brandon garnish the grandfather lineup which is strengthened by such capabls as O. C. Ray, George Van Horn, J. Pippin and Charlie Bryan.

For once the Loboes will be left hopelessly upon their Lobo. Their mentors have deserted them to fate and now propose to lambast the youngsters plenty. It will be a test of Hill's and Chapman's personal abilities to destroy what they have wrought.

The same Lobo lineup which has lost but three games this season will be arrayed against the "All-stars." All of the proceeds of the game will be used for the purchase of sweaters for the Loboes.

BRUSHING UP ON SPORTS ..... By Laufer.

BASEBALL'S BIGGEST BONERS

TWO UMPIRES, two managers and 58 players all were fast asleep on a very simple play in Chicago on the day before the close of the 1916 season. As a result the game was thrown out of the records and the two teams had to play a double-header on the final day. With a runner on first and one out, Steve O'Neill of the Cleveland club struck out. The final strike was a wild pitch. The runner on first galloped to third and O'Neill, who really was out because first base was occupied when he missed the third one, ran to second. A base hit then scored both and Cleveland apparently won, 5 to 4. The two illegal runs were discovered that night by a Chicago newspaperman, going over his box score. The Sox protested and President Ban Johnson ordered the game replayed.

DEBATE SHOWS FARM FUNDS AT ROCK BOTTOM

AUSTIN, Feb. 26.—That the department of agriculture is the only state department whose appropriations have actually decreased during the past decade was forcibly brought home here in the Texas legislature during debate over emergency fund requests.

All other departments, several speakers related, have steadily increased their biennial requests, and some have had their appropriations doubled and trebled. But the department of agriculture, with new duties placed upon it with the growing recognition of services to the farmer, has seen its funds dwindle as its duties increase.

On first consideration the house despite these uncontroverted figures, cut the requests $43,000 to $5,000 in effect asking the department to operate the rest of this fiscal year on 12 per cent of what its officials considered essential. Emergency funds were necessitated by the fact that the incoming administration found from 60 to 88 per cent of current funds expended, with six months to go.

Unless reconsidered, this drastic cut will react to the detriment of the farmers, commented J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture.

"In the name of economy," he said, "the man who defeated the appropriations are denying Irish potato growers valuable northwest markets; endangering recently opened avenues of trade for the sweet potato.

"The farmer will suffer from this false economy. The farmer bears the heaviest burden of taxes, and is also being sheared closest in the economy program.

"The house very properly refused to cut the $91,000 asked by the State Livestock commission, and I believe general farm interests are within reason when they seek less than half that amount."

Figures from representative states were cited, showing Texas spends less per rural capita and less per acre than any other state for the support of the state department of agriculture.

The Texas budget in 1930 called for $137,270, which was one and one-quarter mills per acre, and six and one-half cents per rural capita. Iowa, another great farm state, spends $638,890, or nearly two cents per acre and 67 cents per rural capita. In Georgia agriculture gets $269,120, which is 1.2 cents per acre, and 20 cents per rural capita.

Phased another way Texas has a total appropriation equal to 51 per cent of Georgia's and 22 per cent of little New Jersey's; a cost per rural capita 1.5 per cent of

ONE ALLEGED BANK BANDIT IS CAPTURED

HEBRON, Neb., Feb. 26. — Capture of one of the alleged trio of bandits who yesterday robbed the Hastings National bank of $27,637, shot their way out of a posse of officers and kidnaped two police was claimed by officers here today.

Held in the city hospital was a man giving his name as Robert Hendricks, captured in Belvidere, Nebraska, early today. The robbery suspect was in a serious condition from two bullet wounds in his abdomen. He refused to talk.

With the man when arrested, officers said, were a woman and baby. The woman claimed to be the injured man's wife.

Meanwhile officers scoured the surrounding portion of Kansas and Nebraska for trace of the members of the bandit gang still at large.

FEDERAL LOAN OFFICE TO BE READY SHORTLY

FORT WORTH, Feb. 26. — Headquarters for federal drouth relief in Texas, will be established and functioning here some time next week, O. S. Fisher, extension agent in the department of agriculture, who arrived yesterday from Washington to have charge of these offices, announced.

Fisher was accompanied by H. F. Pitts, who will be disbursing agent for the state headquarters, and will be joined in a few days by three more officials from Washington.

Quarters for the office will be selected today and a staff of 25 to 30 accountants, clerks and stenographers will be employed in the office, Fisher said. He said it is expected the office will be functioning fully some time next week ready to accept application for federal aid, but asked that committees await advice before sending applications.

Fisher will have charge of administering Texas' part of the $45,000,000 fund appropriated by congress destitute by last year's drouth. Loans will be made on crop mortgages for seed, fertilizer, farm equipment, feed for work stock and gasoline for farm tractors.

County Committees
 Fisher stressed the fact that while the office here will have charge of disbursements for Texas, individuals will not be interviewed or considered there. All cases must continue to be handled by the county loan committees, he said, and added that for an individual to make appeal direct to his office would be to slow up the case as the appeal would have to be taken back to the county committee.

According to Fisher, disbursement will be available in a very short time after the application has been accepted. Applications that already have been made to the St. Louis office will be completed by that office, he said, and only new applications will be handled from the Fort Worth office.

Fisher and Pitts Wednesday conferred at length with D. A. Bandeen, general manager of the West Texas chamber of commerce, regarding the conditions that exist in West Texas and the steps to be taken in making the federal relief funds available for farmers and stock men in that section. After this conference they met with representatives of the city's banks and inspected several offices that were offered. Bandeen emphasized the necessity for speed in perfecting the set-up so as to get loans in the hands of West Texas farmers at the earliest possible moment in order that they may go forward with preparations for 1931 crops. He was accompanied to Fort Worth by J. C. Watson, secretary of the Stamford chamber of commerce.

$20,000,000 Fund
 Fisher said he has no information regarding rules and regulation by drouth relief fund will be handled.

Machinery of the Fort Worth office will greatly facilitate the handling of loans in Texas and no farmer will find it necessary to wait more than a week for his loan if county committees function properly and efficiently, Fisher said.

Plans are being made for holding six meetings in strategic points in Texas, five of them in West Texas for the purpose of instructing committees regarding the handling of the applications, Fisher said. Representatives from the Fort Worth office will attend the meetings, locations for which are to be announced shortly.

Committees are asked to await advices from the Fort Worth office.
