Mark Twain's Answer

Mark Twain in his early days was ditor of a Mississippi newspaper. A superstitious subscriber wrote him aying that he had found a spider in is paper, and asked whether that was a sign of good or bad luck. The numorist wrote this answer and

"Old Subscriber: Finding a pider in your paper was neither good nor bad luck for you. The pider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not dvertising, so that he can go to hat store, spin his web across the loor, and live a life of undisturbed seace ever afterwards."

It has long been the policy of the State Fair of Texas to engage the very best talent in America to place the awards in all departments, so that a ribbon won at the great Texas Exposition will have the utmost value to exhibitors.

J. E. Boog-Scott, general superinident of the live stock department. is highly enthused over prospects for this year's exhibition of cattle, sheep, horses, etc., and says the cattle department will equa if it does not surpass the national show at Minneapolis fater in the fall. NO ROOM FOR CROOKS IN DALLAS DURING FAIR POLICE SAY

There'll be no room for crooks, pickpockets or other petty criminals in Dallas during the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 13-28. Neither will there be any room for the "big fish" police department officials. Chief of Police Louis W. Brown and Chief of Detectives Gunning are already at work on plans for policing the city during the progress of the thirty-seventh annual exposition The same basic plans as obtained during the 1922 State Fair, when Dallas was remarkably clear of the unwanted gentry, will obtain, ac-cording to Police Commissioner Louis

MAYOR THOMASON Back Given Out? PRAISES TANLAC

Judge George Washington Thomason, Mayor of Tarrant City, Ala., and one of the most highly respected citizens of the state, is still another man of prominence and unimpeachable integrity to give his unqualified endorsement to Tanlac. "Chronic indigestion brought me to the verge of a general break-down three years ago and nothing seemed to afford much relief," said Judge Thomason. "I could hardly eat enough to keep going, and became so weak and nervous I could hardly attend to my duties.

"Finally I started on Tanlac and six bottles fixed me up so fine that I felt ten years younger, and my good health still remains with me."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.—Advertisement. •

A pipe-smoker's challenge to other smokers

Is there a smoker in the audience who can answer this one?

Nearly every smoker is particular about the kind of tobacco that goes into his pipe. While he may smoke a pipeful from a friend's pouch for the sake of companionship, for day-in-andday-out smoking he prefers his own And yet if you ask the average smoker what it is he likes about his tobacco, he may have difficulty in answering you immediately. Mr. Joe Rivers, whose letter follows, is a confirmed Edgeworth smoker. In attempting to describe what he likes about Edgeworth, he coins the word "tasty-smellfulness." But as this does not entirely satisfy him, he puts the question up to other Edgeworth smokers. Larus & Brother Company, Richmond, Va.

Being a pipe smoker of no mean experience (having tried most pipes and pipe tobaccos) I've watched your smokers' letters in the magazines for some explanation of a taste that for me applies only to

It is extremely difficult to describe this, because it seems to come as the smoke filters through the mouth and nostrils at the end of a drawfrom the pipe—a sort of combined "tasty-smellfulness" that most satisfies the smoke appetite.
Why don't you get some of your smokers who can write, to describe this? Sincerely yours, (Signed) Joe Rivers Probably there worth, as seen by most smokers, is its uniformity. Year after year, smokers can be sure of getting the same high-grade quality of tobacco.

There are no changes in the blendno variations in the flavor or fragrance. It is always a good smoke. If you have not tried Edgeworth send your name and address to Larus & Brother Company, 66 South 21st Street, Richmond, Va.

They will be glad to mail to you some free samples, generous helpings of both Edgeworth Plug Slice and Ready-Rubbed. Then you can smoke a few pipefuls and see if Edgeworth agrees with your smoking tempera-

If you will also include the name and address of your regular tobacco dealer, your courtesy will be appreciated. To Retail Tobacco Merchants: If your jobber cannot supply you with Edgeworth, Larus & Brother Company will gladly send you prepaid by parcel post a one- or two-dozen carton of any size of Edgeworth Plug Slice or Ready-Rubbed for the same price you would pay the jobber.

Fits any Standard Truck Body

One of the chief reasons for this unprofitable situation is the average farmer's poor facilities for moving his crops or stock to the place where he can sell or ship to the best advantage. Because of the time and expense of horse delivery millions of dollars worth of produce spoils annually on American farms. The saving of this waste would, in many cases, change a losing farm to a money-maker.

This low-priced, high-grade, reliable truck was designed as a money-saver and money-maker for farmers and business houses needing fast low-cost haulage of heavy or bulky goods. It fits any standard type of ton truck body. Ask any Chevrolet dealer for price of the style of body you require.

old Ann Byrne announces her wedding to Hudson Cortlandt. socially and politically prominent. Her husband has not been told about Ann, and the new wife fears he will be displeased. With Ann. Mrs. Cortlandt returns to New York, to the house of Hendricks Cortlandt, her husband's orother, with whom the latter is living. Hudson practically refuses to have anything to do with Ann, and the child is glad-ly adopted by Hendricks Cortlandt. Ann's mother and stepfather are lost at sea. Ann fills a gap in Hendricks Cortlandt's lonely heart. The situation is resented by Mrs. Renneslyer, Hendricks' sister, whose son. Hendricks, has been looked upon as the natural heir to the Cortlandt wealth. The Civil war breaks out. A tentative engagement between young Renneslyer and Ann is understood, the youth enlisting. War hospitals are es-tablished in New York, and Ann takes up the work of cheering the wounded back from the front. With her guardian, Ann visits Renneslyer in his encampment on the outskirts of Washington and meets noted people. Ann devotes herself to Densley Howard, a dying soldier, who tells her she must not marry Renneslyer. Renneslyer's name appears in the death list, soon after Ann had secretly written breaking off their engagement. Hendricks Cortlandt goes to Europe. Ann hears that Renneslyer is alive, and starts for the front. CHAPTER XI-Continued.

'Union League Brigade" were especially active; it seemed to Ann that their banners hung from every house; that every boarding detailed the advantages they offered. Before the recruiting office at Twelfth and Girard streets, there was such a dense throng of men eager to enlist that she found some difficulty in proceeding on her way to the Sanitary commission rooms. The building was placarded with signs: "The Washington Grays," "Woodward's Light Battery," "Fall In, Men," and an appeal to negro citizens, "Men of Color-come forward." It was like the early days of the war, in New York, only here there was an added tensity because of the nearness of the enemy. All the while, over the hoarse tumult of the crowd, the shrill voices of newsboys could be heard calling: there before it's fought, "Confederate cavalry approaches Har- want to find some one. He pulled a folded paper from his pocket, and, sure enough, it was a pass. It bore the governor's necessary signature, and it was made out to a Mrs. Edward Blake.
