The Cross Plains Review

CROSS PLAINS' OLDEST BUSINESS INSTITUTION

CROSS PLAINS, CALLAHAN COUNTY, TEXAS

"When The One Great Scorer Comes To Write Against Your Name He Writes Not If You Won Or Lost But How You Played The Game"

FRIDAY, AUGUST 18, 1944 VOL. 35 NO.20

"Without offense to friends or foes we sketch Cross Plains exactly as it goes."

About People and Things

The State is conducting a waste salvage campaign from August 20th through September 20th. During this period the goal is to collect 20 pounds per person in each county. That's a lot of waste paper, isn't it? Are you going to do it? For Cross Plains to attain their goal it would require between 16 and 20,000 pounds. To attain this goal, we must cooperate closely with the Boy Scout search Wednesday as they make their rounds. Again, let us remind you to keep your paper, bundle it tightly, for handling, and have it on your porch on Wednesday of each week. You'll rather bring it yourself to the collection center.

Since we are experiencing that shortage of cigarette shortage, many of us will learn to roll our own. That appears to be the answer. The shortage is more or less the same over but Texas is avowedly worse off than other sections, because of distribution handicaps. It is reasonable that a wholesaler can sell all he has in the state therefore save the overhead of delivery a hundred or so miles. This pretty easy to roll your own, see the fingers get the delicate thumb and feel. You know the covers in the good old days could be strided a horse, fill the cigarette, roll it into a neat hot tangle, use the sack and light up with the use of only one hand and his. It is an art, but a few days practice and a few sacks of telly would make some finished rollers. And it's a neat and clean, non-wasting habit, and most smokers are averse to breaking it. (Still the best way to overcome the cigarette shortage is to up and quit.)

J. H. Cochran of Big Spring called the Review one day this week and renewed his subscription. He is an old time resident of Callahan County. In 1892 he carried the mail from Cottonwood to Cross Plains on a horse twice a week, receiving for pay 50 cents per trip. Before that he operated a store at Cottonwood and was once justice of the peace of that town. He allowed that in those days, the office sought the man, and not the man the office. In 1904 he unceremoniously took off from Callahan County and was heard from for 36 years, during which time he was legally declared dead by the Government. Now he introduces himself as the man who was dead. During that 36-year period he lived in 45 of the 48 states and in 12 foreign countries.

He amuses you with his experiences, which have been varied and colored. He relates that just a few days ago he answered the jack-pot question. The question was, "Who was the first new-dealer?" His answer was that it was Christopher Columbus because Columbus didn't know where he was going when he started, didn't know where he was when he got there, and didn't know what he had done when he finished, and all on borrowed money. For that answer he got the $64,000.

Mr. Cochran will probably be remembered by many of the old timers in this section.

This newspaper takes this opportunity to disclaim any partiality toward any candidate for any of the offices whatsoever through its editorial channels. Sentiments and attitudes of various candidates published in this paper are accepted as "paid political advertising" only, and do not constitute any partiality of one candidate against another.

We refer explicitly to political advertising carried in our issue of August 11th entitled "Why good men refrain from offering for public office." The last paragraph of this advertising reads, "This newspaper is supporting L. R. Pearson for Representative because he has conducted etc. etc."

We beg to advise the public that this paragraph was a part of the advertising and was not the opinion of the paper. We also take note of the fact that the Ranger Daily Times offers to Omar Burkett their public apologies for allowing the article to appear under the heading "Editorial."

Training Schools for Medical Department Female Technicians

Here is a wonderful opportunity for women to serve their country in an extreme emergency and to learn a profession which will qualify them for well-paying positions in the post-war world.

Due to the greatly increased numbers of battle casualties being returned from the invasion and the Italian fronts, the need for medical technicians at Army hospitals in the United States has been intensified to an emergency degree. Therefore, training schools are being conducted by the Medical Department at Camp Atterbury, Indiana (between Indianapolis and Columbus, Indiana). Here at Camp Atterbury courses of three to four months' duration are being given in the following schools: Medical Laboratory Technician School, Dental Technician School, X-Ray Technician School, Medical Technician School, and Surgical Technician School.

Individually selected women with the proper qualifications are enlisted in the Women's Army Corps, sent to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., for six weeks' basic training (Army orientation), upon the completion of which they are sent to Camp Atterbury for their medical training. Upon graduation from one of the five above-listed schools, each applicant is assigned to duty at an Army installation hospital.

Qualifications for selection of attendance at one of the five schools are that the applicant (1) be a four-year high school graduate, (2) be between the ages of 20 and 50 years, (3) be in excellent health and of good character, (4) have no children under fourteen years of age, and (5) have a genuine desire to enter into this type of work.

Call at the U. S. Army Receiving Station, 301 Post Office Building, Abilene, between 8:30 a. m. and 6:00 p. m., or call Abilene 2580 for an appointment. A representative from the Dallas Officer Procurement Service will be in Abilene on Saturday, 19 August 1944, to interview and select qualified applicants to take this training.

Because of the scarcity of nurses, the Surgeon General of the United States is making an urgent plea to do their part in caring for the thousands of battle casualties that are being returned to this country. The training is absolutely free; living and clothing expenses are furnished; and a salary is paid from the day an applicant leaves Abilene to report for training.

POSTMASTER URGES CARE BE USED IN PACKING OF GIFTS

"Persons who will mail Christmas packages to overseas service personnel this year are reminded to read the following instructions carefully," says F. R. Anderson, local postmaster.

"Save strong string and box material and start to plan shopping." Postmaster General Frank C. Walker advises Americans in announcing the rules for mailing of Christmas gifts for Army and Navy personnel overseas.

This year the Christmas mailing period for both Army and Navy overseas forces is the same—September 15 to October 15. After October 15 no gift parcel may be mailed to a soldier without the presentation of a written request from him.

"I know that our people will observe the overseas mailing schedule once more this year but I do wish to stress this fact: More care must be taken in wrapping and packing parcels securely and addressing them clearly and correctly," said Mr. Walker.

"It is not a pleasant thing to visit a postal concentration center and see the numbers of Christmas parcels which will never reach servicemen and servicewomen. Post office personnel have orders to do everything they can to effect delivery of such gifts, because we know how important they are for the happiness of the armed forces. Too frequently, nothing can be done."

Among the more important rules for Christmas mailings to the armed forces overseas are the following: "The parcel must not exceed five pounds, and must not be more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. It should be marked 'Christmas parcel' so that it may be given special attention to assure its arrival before December 25."

Not more than one parcel may be mailed in any one week to the same member of the armed forces by or in behalf of the same mailer.

When combination packages are made up of such items as miscellaneous toilet articles, hard candies, soap, etc., the contents should be tightly packed so that they will not become loosened in transit and damage the contents or the cover. Hard candies, nuts, caramels (including those covered with chocolate), cookies, fruit cake and chocolate bars individually wrapped in waxed paper should be enclosed in inner boxes of wood, metal or cardboard.

Perishable goods, such as fruits and vegetables that may spoil, are prohibited. Intoxicants, inflammable materials such as matches or lighter fluids, poisons, and anything that may damage other mail also are prohibited. Gifts enclosed in glass should be substantially packed to avoid breakage. Sharp instruments, such as razors and knives, must have their edges and points protected so that they cannot cut through the coverings and injure postal personnel or damage other packages.

MARINE TELLS OF EXPERIENCES ON FRONT LINES IN SAIPAN BATTLE FOR 26 DAYS

Mr. Truman Forbes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Forbes, and grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Pierce, of Cross Plains, who was originally believed to have been wounded on Saipan was "in the care of a doctor and just sick from not having enough hot chow," he wrote.

His parents were notified through a friend that Truman was in a hospital but they did not know if he was wounded or not. He is out of the hospital now and back with his company.

In letters written July 16 and 17 he wrote of the battle on Saipan and told of a few of his experiences. Parts of his letters follow:

"Well, mom, I suppose you know where I am by now without my telling you. Yes, I'm on Saipan. Mother, if my prayers and yours didn't save me, I don't know what I came through the battle without a scratch. It was a hard 26 days but I shouldn't do any complaining. I'm alive and well. However, all we had during the time of the battle was rations. We got mail while in combat."

"Mom, you all should have seen the way those filthy Japs were set up here. They were in caves that were camouflaged and you couldn't see until you were right on them, and that's how they got lots of our boys. But we made up for their fires in the end if it's possible to equalize their lives with the Japs. Since I've been on this island I have learned to kill just like I was killing rats in a corn crib and have a very clear conscience. In other words killink a Jap comes more or less automatic. We had lots of hard luck all the way through this battle. When we first hit the island, they pounded us continually for three days with artillery and mortar, my prayers and yours saved me. We lay there in a swamp, water and mud completely covering our bodies. But that didn't bother us. All you could think about was when will our big guns get ashore and knock theirs out. We didn't now it but they were catching the same hell as we were, but when they did get in the enemy artillery began to cease. Then we thought we would have pretty smooth sailing. So we continued the attack. Then for the next 24 days we were under machine gun and rifle fire. We just took it little by little in the good old Marine Corps fashion and the island gradually became secure. Well, Mom, that's about all I can tell you about the operations without going into detail, and if I did that I'd be writing a month from now. I'll tell you all about it when I come home."

WHO PAID FOR Clyde Garrett's Posters?

Garrett's opposition in his race for election to Congress from the Seventeenth District, charges they were paid by the CIO Political Action Committee.

Here Are the Facts:

Photographic reproductions of the actual checks after they had been paid and cancelled by the bank; the names of those who contributed the money to pay for this advertising; the list of companies which ran the advertising, and the total cost of all billboard advertising during the campaign.

These Are the Men Who Paid the Bill For the Billboards. C. W. HOFFMANN, Eastland Oil Operator; HAL JACKSON, Eastland Wholesale Gasoline Dealer; T. E. RICHARDSON, Eastland Druggist; HALL WALKER, Ranger, Banker; DR. P. M. KUYKENDALL, Ranger, Physician; B. E. GARNER, Ranger, Theatrical; VICTOR CORNELIUS, Eastland Theatrical Printing, Acting Treasurer.

These are the checks with which they paid the bill for the billboards! Here are actual photographic reproductions of all checks issued in payment for all billboard advertising for Clyde Garrett in the last primary. The opposition says that payment was made by the CIO. These checks, as the pictures show, were drawn against the account of Victor Cornelius, mayor of Eastland, and paid by the Eastland National Bank.

The Facts Were Available to Clyde Garrett's Opponent! The facts as presented here were never hidden. They were available to the opposition. But it would have done the opposition no good to admit that individual citizens in the district, friends and supporters of Clyde Garrett among whom he has lived practically all of his life, would voluntarily give their time and money to support a man who has POSITION DOESN'T LIKE TO ADMIT THE FACT THAT CLYDE GARRETT CARRIES HIS OWN COUNTY IN EVERY ELECTION WITH AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY!

What Is the Real Issue In This Campaign? The opposition knows that Labor is not an issue in this campaign. There have been no controversies or strikes that would interfere with the election. Workers and employees have been in harmony. The great majority of the voters are farmers, ranchers, small business men, professional men, and all operators and workers who have no love for the John L. Lewis type.

We Need a Change in Washington! CLYDE GARRETT Is That Change! WARNING! SUCH UNWARRANTED RUMORS AS THIS CIO POSTER FICTION ARE AMPLIFIED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE DISTRICT MUST BE ON THEIR GUARD AGAINST OTHER AND EVEN MORE DISGRACEFUL CHARGES WHICH MAY BE PROMOTED AGAINST CLYDE GARRETT LATER IN THE CAMPAIGN.

$4,000? IT IS ALLEGED THAT THE CLYDE GARRETT POSTERS COST $4000. HERE IS THE ACTUAL COST THE COMPANIES TO WHICH PAYMENT WAS MADE WILL VERIFY THESE FIGURES: Elmer S. Taylor, Ft. Congressman Sam Russell Answers Political Ad

CARRIED IN MOST NEWSPAPERS OF THE DISTRICT ON FRIDAY, AUGUST 11th, AND WHICH PERHAPS WILL BE CARRIED IN OTHERS PAPERS OF THE DISTRICT ON FRIDAY, AUGUST 18.

This ad was printed by someone, no one can tell by whom by reading it, and seems to be an attempt to justify the expenditure of funds for the high-priced billboards, somewhere between 50 and 75 in number, placed in the District by my opponent's sponsors. For some cause, these high-priced billboards are being rapidly torn down at this time. It will be noted that no where in the ad is there any denial of a 100 percent endorsement by the CIO Political Activities Committee of Mr. Garrett, as well as the 100 percent endorsement of Mr. Garrett by the labor organizations which the CIO controls.

For the information of the public the following orders and extracts from Labor papers, which were printed for all branches of organized labor, are set out:

"THE TRADE UNIONIST": an organized labor publication, printed in Washington, D. C. on Saturday, July the 17th, 1943, carries the following article:

"Green Urges Workers to Defeat Congressmen In 1944"

New York City.—President William Green called upon the six million members of the American Federation of Labor to defeat for re-election every member of Congress who voted for the anti-labor (as he called it) Connally-Smith Act.

(NOTE: This is the Act passed by Congress to stop sabotaging in our war production program.)

"Addressing the delegates at the convention of the International Longshoremen's Association, Mr. Green declared:

Get ready for the fight in 1944. Go back home and organize. Let the members of Congress know that labor never forgets. Let them know that they are going to be defeated."

"Six million members of our American Federation of Labor have been penalized and insulted by enacting the Connally-Smith Bill."

"Mr. Green charged that Congress 'wrote a page of shame for the party in control of the Government' by passage of the bill. However, he refused to be lured into acceptance of the CIO proposal for joint political action against labor's enemies. He emphasized that united action with the CIO must be predicated upon organic unity with the CIO."

"Organized Labor Reports on Texas Candidates' Records"

AUSTIN, July 10.—Organized labor in Texas has just made its report to its members on Texas candidates for public office.

"The report is signed by the four legislative representatives of the Railroad Brotherhoods: Joe T. Steadman, W. M. Conway, W. H. Winchester and James A. Shields; and by Harry CIO and Affiliated Labor Endorses My Opponent 100 Percent!

I am sure not one has the slightest doubt after reading the above endorsements by labor unions, as well as articles printed in papers published by labor unions they control, that they are opposed to Congressman Sam Russell, because he tried to Americanize the labor-union saboteurs and stop strikes in our war production program. Likewise, there can be no doubt of their 100 per cent endorsement of my opponent. It should be noted that in the advertisement referred to which was published on August 11th, in most of the papers of the District, that no where does my opponent deny the fact he has the endorsement of the CIO Political Action Committee and affiliated unions.

The advertisement sets out some six persons that are supposed to have paid for the high-priced billboards set up over this Congressional District, and those names are listed as follows:

- C. W. Hoffman, Eastland Oil Operator
Hal Jackson, Eastland Wholesale Gasoline Dealer.
T. E. Richardson, Eastland Druggist
Hall Walker, Ranger Banker
Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, Ranger Physician
B. E. Garner, Ranger Theater Operator
Victor Cornelius, Theatrical Printing, Acting Treas.

and it sets out a number of checks which they claim were made in payment of the high-priced billboards. These checks are all dated in July, 1944.

MR. GARRETT'S CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTORS

Under the law of Texas, each candidate for a District or State office is required to file, under oath, with the Secretary of State, Austin, Texas, three expense statements, setting out all the money expended by them or in their behalf or with their knowledge and consent. Mr. Garrett filed these three statements. The first one being executed and sworn to by him on the 23rd of June, 1944, wherein he sets out the contributors to his campaign as Mrs. Joe Williams, Ashville, North Carolina, and it sets out a number of checks which they claim were made in payment of the high-priced billboards. These checks are all dated in July, 1944.

MR. GARRETT DOES NOT LIST ALL

It will be noted that Mr. Garrett, under oath, lists only one of the parties, seven in number, alleged in the newspaper advertisement to have paid for his billboards, as a contributor to

W. Acreman, executive secretary of the Texas State Federation of Labor. The report in most instances lists the voting record of the candidates only; in some cases, adds labor's comment. Here is the way the candidates look to these representatives of organized labor:

In Congressional and legislative races, labor's lineup: Sam Russell, incumbent Congressman in the 17th District, got a listing of "for labor 0, against 15." *** and former Congressman Clyde Garrett was listed four and four, with this notation: Bulletin for 1940 shows record fair."

A photostatic copy of the following letter is in my possession:

On July 25th, 1944, there appeared in bold headlines a statement by Sidney Hillman, boss of the CIO Political Actions Committee, in these words:

"YOU AIN'T SEEN NOTHIN' YET BOASTS CIO POLITICAL ACTION BOSS: THREE MILLION CAMPAIGN SLUSH FUND READY TO SPEND."

This article discusses the tactics used by the CIO in defeating candidates they have blacklisted and are fighting against with their money.

A Photostatic copy of the following letter is also in my possession at this time:

$35.00. On the 12th day of July, 1944, Mr. Garrett swore to his second expense report, and he set out as contributors and donors at that time, S. H. Hucklebee, $5.00; J. R. Hollis, $10.00; S. Pritchard, $40.00.

On July 31st, 1944, Mr. Garrett filed his third campaign expense report as the law requires, and in that report he set out as his contributors and donors, J. B. Johnson, $10; E. Hallias, $10; Ben Scott, $25; Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, $50; A. G. Thompson, $5; Floyd Campbell, $10, and blank Golightly, $10; O. R. Cooper, $350; and Walter Morton, $10.

The oath accompanying this campaign expense report, as well as the one filed by Mr. Garrett on the 12th of July, 1944, and the 23rd day of June, 1944, is as follows:

"I do solemnly swear that the foregoing statement filed here-with correctly shows all moneys received by me and disbursed by me, or in my behalf or with my knowledge or consent, through or by any other person in connection with the candidacy of Clyde Garrett for the nomination of Congress, 17th District of Texas, before the July Primary Election, and that I have neither directly nor indirectly arranged or assented to, encouraged or connived at the spending of any money other than as shown in said statement, and that I have not violated any provision of the laws of Texas governing primary elections of the expenditure of funds in connection with the candidacy for a nomination in such primary election in letter or in spirit.

AIR MAIL

"RE: Endorsements—Texas Mr. J. T. Steadman, (31) Texas Legislative Representative 210 Littlefield Building, Austin 15, Texas. Dear Sir and Brother:

Your letters with reference to candidates seeking election in the Primaries to be held on July 22, 1944, in Texas, as Representatives in Congress, are received, also letters from Brother Martin H. Miller, National Legislative Representative, and I am listing below the position of the Brotherhood with reference to the various candidates, and you will acquaint our membership with the names of the candidates having received the endorsement of the Brotherhood, and urge them to use every honorable means to bring about their election."

After setting out the other 20 Districts in Texas, and showing the endorsements made, this letter shows the following:

17th District . . . Hon. Clyde L. Garrett . . . Endorsed. With best wishes, I am, Fraternally yours, (Signed) A. F. Whitney, President.

CC: H. G. Hambrick, Chmn. W. H. Savage, V. Chmn. H. H. Clarkston, Sec. Texas Legislative Board M. H. Miller, N. L. R.

The above recommendations have been made by President Whitney in accordance with the constitution of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the above records are almost identical with the recommendations made by other transportation brotherhoods.

Fraternally submitted, Joe T. Steadman, State Representative, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

On July 29th, 1944, there appeared on the editorial page of the publication, "LABOR," printed in Washington, D. C., the following:

Mr. Hillman (Referring to Sidney Hillman, boss of the CIO Political Action Committee) says that each of his campaign committees will have a campaign fund of three million dollars. That is a total of six million dollars. In addition, he proposes to freeze what is left of a fund of seven hundred thousand dollars raised to influence this year's Primaries."

On the same page is an editorial styled,

"LABOR GAINS IN TEXAS"

It reads as follows:

"In the Seventeenth District, Congressman Sam M. Russell, anti-labor, was unable to get a majority over former Congressman Clyde L. Garrett, who carried the labor movement's endorsement."

his campaign, and that one name is Dr. P. M. Kuykendall of Ranger, Texas. C. W. Hoffman, Hal Jackson, T. E. Richardson, Hall Walker, B. E. Garner and Victor Cornelius' names are not set out as the law of Texas requires.

Yet they stated in the newspaper advertisement that the contributing of funds to pay for these posters was well known to everyone and open and above board. However, Mr. Garrett failed to include their names in his expense report which he filed under oath, making affidavit to the effect that he had not received the same or the benefits of the same.

The law also provides that these men should make reports if the amount they contributed was in excess of $10.00. On the 2nd day of August, 1944, after Mr. Garrett's last expense report was filed, there was no report from the above men filed with the Secretary of State at Austin.

If their statement is correct, then Mr. Garrett's affidavit is false. Which are you going to believe? Mr. Garrett, under oath, or the statement published in the newspapers, which you cannot tell who wrote?

For myself, I am going to give Mr. Garrett the benefit of the doubt and say he did not make a false affidavit. If these men contributed in the manner set out, then Mr. Garrett made a false affidavit. Inasmuch as he swore that no such contributions were made, I believe he told the truth. This compels me and all people of the District who believe in fair play, to ask whoever published this newspaper article to be fair and let the public know which one is correct. Mr. Garrett, under oath, or a newspaper article printed by someone?

If the newspaper article is correct, under the law of Texas Mr. Garrett's name can be removed from the ticket. For that reason I believe Mr. Garrett is correct.

All people who believe in fair play are now honestly asking, "Who paid for the high-priced billboards scattered over the 17th Congressional District?" Won't the opposition be fair and sign their names to some kind of an instrument and let the people know whether the article published is correct, or whether Mr. Garrett's oath is correct. The people would like to know.

Clothing News on The Home Front Shows Improvement

The news about fall clothing is mostly good.

There'll be more clothing for infants and children in the stores, for one thing. And there'll be an increase in the amount of boys' and mens' knit union suits and boys' overalls. Dorothy Wilkerson, County Home Demonstration Agent cautions, however, that we can't expect the quality of the material to be as good as pre-war fabrics.

So far, the War Production Board has given assurance that there'll be only enough clothing for essential needs . . . certainly not enough for indiscriminate buying or hoarding. And even though the situation is better than it was six months ago, Miss Wilkerson says we're still honor bound to make our clothes last.

Along with the announcement about more clothing for men and boys, OPA has announced dollars and cents ceiling prices for most clothing made according to WPB specifications. These ceilings will apply to low cost house dresses, women's cotton slips, and men's shirts and shorts, so keep this in mind when you shop.

On some cottons, though, you can expect an increase in price. Now what's your part in this program. Here are three ways every homemaker can help. You can keep your family's clothing in good condition by careful laundering and mending. You can make over and re-style your clothes instead of buying new ones. And finally you can reinforce the sewing on the new garments you buy. That should make your clothing wear as long as possible.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS . . .

"The more I read about it, Judge, the more I realize the tactics and requirements of this war are as different from the one I fought in 25 years ago as night is from day."

"Yes, and I can give you an example of how true that is, Fred. In World War I the chief uses of alcohol produced for war purposes were found in smokeless powder, medical supplies and chemical warfare materials. In this war the need for this product is far more vital because it is also used as a fuel to propel torpedoes, to make shatterproof glass for airplane windshields and instrument covers, to make lacquers used in camouflaging equipment and as a base for synthetic rubber needed for tires, gas masks, paratroop equipment and dozens of other things."

"Every time I think of it, Fred, I realize how fortunate we were in having a beverage distilling industry in existence when war broke out . . . ready and eager to convert 100% to the production of this critically needed war product. I'm mighty sure bootleggers wouldn't have been of much help."

About People and Things

It has happened again. One of the old-time speakers we used to hear was interested in L. R. Pearson, candidate for State Representative from the 107th District.

Should the voting strength of county will not be as high as used in the first primary, it is as much our duty to go to the polls and our second decision as the one, because even though the polls to be filled are not so near, they are still vitally important to State welfare.
