City Council Tables Gas Rate Hike Application

Muleshoe City Council tabled action on an application from Pioneer Natural Gas Company for an increase of 11.5 percent increase in general service rates to city users at their regular meeting Monday.

City manager Albert Field said "After a lengthy discussion of facts and figures given Mayor W.B. LeVene by the company, the council decided to postpone action pending further study of the matter."

The increase is to include a total of 55 towns included in the West Texas Distribution System. The same action was reported as the Pflonia council and Lubbock council tabled the application for the present time.

Other reports will be made public in the near future as council in the area makes decisions. In other action during the council meeting, storm water draining into the city by way of the drainage ditch channeling behind Farmer's Cooperative Elevator and Texas Sesame Elevator, was discussed at length.

The ditch brings water down rural roads from the north into the city in a deep ditch running alongside the west side of the road. Water cuts across the road and goes into another ditch ending short of a natural lake to the north of the Union Compress . . . thus flooding the lower lying land in that vicinity. Councilmen concluded that since the county drainage ditches brought the water into the city, the handling of the water should be solved between Bailey County and the property owner.

County Judge Don Cihak, City Manager Albert Field, commissioners and councilmen met Monday afternoon for a discussion of the subject.

Judge Cihak said "The county is presently looking into the situation of drainage, to see if a better drainage could be effected."

Two resolutions were considered and passed for investment of monies in the interest and Sinking Fund and the Social Security Fund.

The Council also considered the purchase of a tract of land 150 by 300 feet on 21st Street, south of the Church of Christ in the amount of $3,800.00. The Council authorized an offer of $1,000 per acre or a total of $1,308.50.

According to Myron Pool, 11, the offer made by the City has See City, Page 2

Seven Arrests Made by Officers

Reports show a total of seven violations from the three law enforcement departments here. City police arrested one for minor possession and another for aggravated assault.

Texas State Highway Patrol arrested one on a DWI charge and Bailey County Sheriff's office reports one juvenile arrested on a forgery charge, one adult for forgery, 1 for no driver's license and disarranging construction warning signs and another for vagrancy.

More than 3,000 Texans were discovered to have active tuberculosis last year," Dr. Shelby said. "Because it is an infectious disease, it is important that everyone have an annual checkup."

It is not only the law, but also common sense that adults who are daily in close contact with school children should protect themselves as well as the children against this tragic disease," Dr. Shelby concluded.

Reminder Issued To Personnel On TB Medicals

Dr. John H. Selby, president of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, today reminded public school personnel that time is running short for obtaining their medical clearance for tuberculosis. Deadline is September 1.

Proof that all teachers and others employed by the elementary and secondary public school systems of Texas are free of tuberculosis is required annually.

Schools are allowed to employ only persons who have been proven free of tuberculosis within 120 days of Sept. 1. State law requires either a tuberculin skin test or chest X-ray. If the skin test is positive or the chest X-ray questionable, further examinations must be made before the clearance can be given.

Right-A-Way Awards Set For Property Owners On Natural Gas Pipeline

Bailey County special commissioners have made awards to 37 property owners totaling $216,629.00 on July 12 in condemnation actions on right-of-way being sought by the Natural Gas Line Company which is to cross the county from the southwest to the northeast.

County Judge Don Cihak said "Money for the individual awards is on deposit and landowners may come by the County Clerk's office to draw their checks if they wish."

Bill Millen, local Gas Users Association member said "I think the special commissioners made good decisions on setting the price for the land to be used for the right-of-way in fairness to all concerned."

Drainage Water Poses Problem

Several persons have complained about runoff water in some sections of the city and in portions of the county north of the town site. Water coming down a drainage ditch crossing the R.D. Precure farm washed a car being driven by Danny Miller, Lazbuddie, of the rural

Gun Accident Injures Youth

Larry Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Berry, Dallas, was injured accidentally, Tuesday night, July 11, about 9 p.m. when a gun discharged wounding him in the stomach. He is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Berry, Muleshoe.

Mrs. Allen Berry said Larry had given the double barrel derringer to his mother as a gift and she had asked him to unload the gun so it could be put away. He removed only one bullet and gave it to her. She wrapped it in a washcloth and put it in a closet shelf. Later when Larry was getting a washcloth, he unknowingly reached for the one holding the gun and pulled it down. Then it fell and he grabbed to catch the gun and caught it against his mid-section. The gun discharged, tearing away part of his stomach.

He was rushed to Parkland Hospital in Dallas where he underwent surgery. He was listed in critical condition for some time, but the family called Thursday night and reported that he had been removed from the critical list and was reported to be improving.

road. The ditch spills the water across the road at a point approximately 1 mile east, 1 mile north and one-half mile back east of town.

The other problem is water coming in from the north and creating wash-outs and standing water behind the Texas Sesame and Farmer's Cooperative Elevator.

Ike Stinson, Commissioner of Precinct 1, told the Journal that he was aware of the water problems and had done his utmost to consider everyone involved in trying to eliminate their problems as much as possible.

"The drainage ditch on the Precure farm was put there in 1948 in an effort to avoid the flooding and severe wash outs on farm lands. The ditch has been there this long and causes the water to flood the road at that point, then travels on down the narrow ditches on the south side of the road.

I don't know what can be done with this water when it does rain. We have studied the lay of the land and the situation over and over again and until something can be done, people should be as cautious of attempting to cross there as if it was a flowing stream."

"Back many years ago, those who have lived here long will recall the "Shady Rest Corner" (1903 block on American Boulevard) where we pulled school buses through on the north road, the railroad bridges washing out and the town was surrounded by water at times. The situation is, even at best, but we still have our problems and should we have rains like came in 1941, we would really have them. "The situation of the water at this point has been improved with Mrs. Boydston selling some of her property for drainage and the ditch being opened behind the elevators. The water used to saturate the entire area in that vicinity, when the Rodeo area was out there. Now the water follows this course of drainage ditching and yet causes some problems. Building up the land for trackways and locations for the elevators and other firms up to Smallwood Real Estate Office has turned the course of the water back up to the north of the tracks instead of coming on across to the lake behind KMUL radio station as it had."

"I have tried to cooperate with all those concerned and feel at present that we are in fair shape. All the roads in the precinct are passable. I have tried to take the water off the town to the best of my ability and will continue to study the situation and adjust what can be adjusted," the commissioner continued.

"We have some gullies and washouts, but the water has to have somewhere to go," Stinson concluded.

Judge, Attorney Files Contest

Lamb County Attorney C.R. Wilkison and County Judge O. J. Mangum have filed a Reply to Notice of Contest concerning the May 27 election which created Earth - Springlake Hospital District.

A petition protesting the election was filed June 30 by 22 voters in the Earth-Springlake District asking the election be declared void and another one be called because of alleged "grave irregularities."

The two-part reply stated the contestants "deny all the singular allegations as set forth in Contestant's Petition to Contest Election, say that the same are not true, in whole or in part, and demand that proof thereof."

It further replies, "Contestees say that the said election as contested by Contestants was in all things properly ordered as to form, that no illegal votes were cast and that the election was fairly conducted."

The reply was filed July 1 at the office of 154th district clerk.

Library Given New Facts Book

The Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation, and the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce presented the library with 4-copies of the Industrial Facts Book for Muleshoe, Texas. This book is full of interesting facts and information about Muleshoe, and was prepared by the Industrial Economics Research Division of Texas A&M University. It is beautifully bound in a loose leaf style, so that material may be added and kept up-to-date. This seems to be an excellent book in content, and should answer the many questions a prospective new resident, business, or manufacturer might ask, before making a decision to move here. These books will be available to the public on a regular check-out basis, both here at the li-

Pollution Study Texas Cattle Feeders' Ask for Commission

During the past several weeks, the cattle feeding industry has been receiving much unfavorable publicity. This adverse publicity stems from the pollution of Buffalo Lake which is located southwest of Amarillo. From reports released by officials in charge of the lake and game refuge, there seems little doubt that the lake water is in unsatisfactory condition.

Accusations have been broad and many, that feedlots located on the watershed of the lake are a major cause of the lake's polluted condition. These accusations have been made with little evidence of where the undesirable materials are coming from.

Some of these charges have been issued by government officials who have not visited the area in question and are generalizations which have resulted in bringing the wrath of public opinion down on the feeding industry without contributing to the solution of the problem.

Much has been made of the fish kill in the lake. However, lake officials have publicly stated that a chemical was

Citizens Can Help Growth

In the average small town the Chamber of Commerce hires a manager and turns over to him the job of locating industry. Sometimes he can hope to have the assistance of only one other man - the chairman of the industrial committee. Then, when he has not secured an industry in a few months, he is replaced. While this may be an extreme statement, it is close to the failure of most towns to secure industry. Locating industry is not a one-or-two-man job. It is a job for every man and woman in the community, working with and through the Chamber of Commerce.

How can townspeople help with the industrial program? What the individual can do depends largely upon how well he understands the problems of the industrialist and what the town must do to attract industry. The first thing he must do, therefore, is to inform himself upon what the industrialist expects of a town and how a town will benefit from industry. In short, he must sell himself on the idea of getting industry. There are two general ways in which townspeople can materially help the Chamber of Commerce. In the first place they can pick up many tips about possible industrial moves and, secondly, they can help get the town into a competitive condition for attracting industry.

Getting Industrial Tips
Industrial tips are frequently found in unexpected places. The story is told on one industry which located in Tyler after a traffic officer had stopped a car traveling the wrong way on a one-way street. Obviously this officer was a Tyler booster who understood that everyone had an obligation to help the Chamber of Commerce in its industrial efforts. The original contact which resulted in the location of Curtiss Shoe Company at Temple came through a local radio shop. The furniture factory at Smithville was located following a chance remark picked up by a Smithville housewife while shopping in Austin. These are illustrations of how individuals can help.

There is another source of industrial tips which frequently is fruitful and which is open to many businessmen. A number of publications carry information which occasionally suggest industrial firms which may be in a position to expand. The Wall Street Journal, Business Week, World News and Report, and Journal of Commerce are examples. Many trade publications are in the same category. Readers of these publications in the small town are in a position to provide the Chamber with frequent suggestions.

Making the Town Attractive
The industrialist looks for a town which is physically attractive and which has the facilities which make for a satisfied life. He is concerned with the appearance of streets, the condition of homes and yards, vacant lots, schools and churches. He is vitally interested in parks, playgrounds and other recreational facilities. Townspeople only can provide these attributes of gracious living and it is their responsibility to support those who are attempting to get them. In this way they can make a contribution to the industrial program.

Why is the industrialist critical of these aspects of community development? He sees the physical conditions as evidence of the amount of personal and civic pride of townspeople while the presence or absence of recreational facilities testifies to the progressive thinking of people and to their cooperative ability. He wants to live with people who are willing to work for a finer town and on this basis he finally decides on a location.

Foundation Field Day Set
The date for the Eleventh Annual Field Day of the High Plains Research Foundation has been set for Thursday, September 14, 1967. The second Thursday in September has been the traditional date for this annual visitors day for several years.

Tours of the Research Farm at Halfway will begin at 1:00 p.m. Trucks will transport interested guests around the farm, where they will have an opportunity to hear members of the Foundation Staff explain the various research projects underway. An exhibit of much of the latest in farm equipment has increased in popularity each year. Representatives of the equipment companies will be on hand to explain the equipment and its purpose.

Members of the Board of Trustees of the Research Foundation will be available to show visitors the various facilities of the organization, such as the builders, greenhouse, and laboratory. The program for the day will be terminated with an address by a speaker whose name will be announced at a later date.

Dr. Tom Longnecker, Director and Executive Vice-President of the Foundation, stated, "We feel that the efforts of the High Plains Research Foundation, coupled with the knowledge gained from other agricultural research organizations in the area, are extremely important to our future economy, and we are proud to have an opportunity to show the accomplishments that your money has made possible through free enterprise research."

Terri Jan Wiedebush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roudolph Wiedebush, has been named to the Dean's honor list at Texas Tech.

Terri, a Muleshoe high school graduate, is working toward a double major in clothing and textiles. She is a Tech freshman.

She and her brother, Jerry, are visiting here with their parents and friends between semesters.

LUBBOCK, Field activity in the fourth year of the High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program was sharply boosted July 5 when 30 trained weevil hunters took to cotton fields along the eastern edge of the Plains.

These men, working in two-man teams, will keep a thorough check of weevil infestations this summer to delimit and map the control zone for this fall's spray operations. They will inspect fields throughout the original 300,000 acre control zone.

But Ed Dean, Field Service Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says it is hoped the base acreage to be sprayed this year will be 125,000 acres or less. However he went on to say that every field where a weevil is found this summer will have to be sprayed, so a definite prediction of acreage can be made. Last year's program covered 185,000 base acres.

The search for weevils will continue right up to September 5 when the first application of ultra low volume malathion is expected to start.

Like last year, the first three chemical applications, dropping 12 ounces of the deadly material per acre, are designed to break the weevil's reproductive cycle. The following doses, because of cooler weather and sidertime spacing, will be at 16 ounces per acre. Their purpose is to kill remaining weevils before they attain the diapause stage and leave fields for hibernation sites.

This same two-phase system has been used in the program for the past two years and has achieved from a 97 to 99 percent reduction in the number of hibernating weevils. The 15 mapping teams are working under the direction of USDA's Plant Pest Control Division, which is charged with the general operation of the spray program.

Two other teams from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be inspecting weevils at the same time for additional information on dates of emergence, times required to reach diapause and other data pertaining to population dynamics.

Ultra low volume malathion has been used exclusively in the program for the past three years and will be used this year on all but about 6500 acres.

That acreage, located along and on either side of Luck and Dockum Creeks in Dickens County (near Farm Road 836 northwest from Spur), is tentatively set aside for a test run on gulfion, only recently approved by USDA for use in low volume form.

Dean said gulfion is also an exceptionally safe insecticide and tests on small acreage have indicated it has a longer residual effect, kills weevils quicker and retains more potency when subjected to rain or other adverse weather after application.

"If gulfion should prove it itself in this year's test, it offers good possibilities for reducing the cost of next year's program," Dean said. He pointed out that it is a little cheaper chemical and that its other characteristics might permit fewer applications without reducing the effectiveness of the program.

Washington Report

From Congressman BOB PRICE 16TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1233 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 20536

Congressman Bob Price joined with other House members Wednesday in introducing legislation known as the War on Waste. Price said the bill was necessitated by the Administration's Wares on everything else -- except waste and duplication.

The "War on Waste" bill would create a ten-member Commission to be known as the "Commission for the Elimination of Duplication and Waste," to investigate the present organization and methods of operation of the Federal Government, and to make periodic recommendations to Congress and the Appropriations Committees of the House and Senate.

Members of the commission shall include six persons from private life, two appointed by the President and two each by the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate. The other four members would consist of two Senators and two Representatives; one from each of the two parties. The bill directs that the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate choose Congressional members from those who have been outspoken in their criticism of waste and duplication in government, thereby insuring a complete and thorough investigation of government operations. Congressman Price said, "This bill is the response to a long-overdue need for Congressional action. The American taxpayer, plagued by spending programs, inflation and now a possible Federal income tax increase, seeks relief; relief from the red tape and waste that constitutes a constant drain on the taxpayers' hard-earned Federal taxes."

The Congressman concluded, "The need must be met by Congress; there is no reason why the Legislative and Executive branches of Government can't operate with the same economy that a private business must operate with."

POULTRY PRICE RISE: The Agriculture Department is expecting a price rise on poultry and eggs in the coming months. Producers have limited poultry output and egg production recently due to a severe price-cost squeeze.

Approved Program Lends Aid To Improve Cotton Market

Memphis, "The $8 million program approved here today, July 12, would virtually double industry cotton research and promotion and give a mighty boost in our fight for markets,"

President Russell Giffen declared today following action by trustees of the Cotton Producers Institute.

The Institute plans to conduct the project under a grower-approved program authorizing uniform collection of $1 per bale for cotton research and promotion.

Actually, Mr. Giffen explained, the CPI program would be the nucleus of a total effort that represents several times the $8 million recommended for 1968.

"It would greatly expand and augment activities by CPI and by others that already are opening up many new opportunities for cotton and its products," he emphasized.

This over-all effort, he noted, includes the National Cotton Council, International Institute for Cotton, U.S. Department of Agriculture, land-grant colleges, and private firms interested in cotton research.

Contributing substantially and likely to swell the total still further are matching funds from groups and businesses participating in cooperative research or promotion programs for cotton and cotton products.

The recommendations approved by Cotton Producers Institute for submission to the Cotton Board call for a budget of $2.7 million for research and $5.3 million for promotion. The Institute will utilize the staff and services of the National Cotton Council to carry out the projects.

Research recommendations cover ten major areas. These include control of insects, weeds, and diseases; yield/quality; mechanization; processing/handling/marketing; mill finishing/processing; improvements in qualities important to consumers; product development; and cottonseed. Promotion recommendations call for a substantial increase in CPI national magazine and newspaper advertising, in magazine-retailer and in manufacturer-retailer and trade advertising.

Proposed television projects include cooperative campaigns, fashion shows, and movies. Recommendations also covered six major merchandising areas: (1) chain store and mail order, (2) fabric libraries, (3) market-press weeks, (4) fabric development, (5) retail sales training, and (6) suppliers and industry. Cooperative campaign recommendations included increased promotion for cotton cushioning, canvas awnings, tarpaulins and tentings, and piece goods.
