Interesting Case of The Empty Cracker Barrel

My name is Cracker Barrel. I am a discarded relic of another age, but the little story I am going to tell might well be happening today to something very dear to you . . . your country.

Sure, I'm on the scrap heap now. My once strong ash staves are worm-eaten and rotten. My bright hoops have long since rusted and disappeared. In fact, it's difficult to tell that I ever was a barrel at all, but I was. A very large, a very strong, a very useful and a very proud barrel.

I can remember the day I left the coopers. I can remember the day . . . the very hour, I was unloaded from a big, horse-drawn wagon at the bakery dock. I can remember the day I was delivered to the General Store, filled to the brim with crackers.

As befitting my importance, I was given a prominent position in the store . . . a spot near the center close to the big pot bellied stove around whose red glow in the winter time, the townspeople gathered to visit, and to swap yarns and gossip. A spot by which the children passed on their way to the candy case . . . and the ladies for a few yards of calico. That was my trouble, I guess. I was too easily accessible . . . like I hear your Government Treasury is today. I was too handy and too many folks reached down into my depths.

I wasn't noticeable at first. I was big and amply filled. But each day, greedy hands reached in and took a cracker or two. The kids couldn't seem to resist the impulse as they passed. Old men, sitting around the fire, dug in deep and frequently as they went about their serious business of a checker game. Even the ladies took a nibble now and then.

True, the proprietor sold a pound or two occasionally . . . but he, like everyone else seemed to expect and accept as a matter of course, this constant robbery and depletion of my store of wealth . . . and at last, the inevitable happened. There came a day when a grimy hand plunged deep . . . and came out empty. I was an empty Cracker Barrel . . . of no more use or consequence.

I tried to save myself from destruction and oblivion. I served as a rain barrel for a time, until, during the dry, hot summer, I sprung a leak. I was used to haul trash to this very heap . . . until finally, I myself was left here.

It would have been different if my proprietor had watched my contents more closely. But he was busy with other things. It would have been different, too, if the folks who so systematically robbed me had only stopped to think. But they didn't. And from what I hear . . . they're not thinking today, either.

I see an occasional paper that is thrown here on the dump where I lie, and I can tell by the headlines that folks are still not thinking. I know that because the headlines say there have been two world wars since my days of glory . . . and certainly, people who will permit the destruction of two world conflicts cannot be thinking.

I know that people are not thinking today because various alphabetic agencies of our Government are doling out billions upon billions of dollars to individuals and groups of individuals . . . for everything from automobiles to airplanes . . . aluminum houses to hotels. From what I read, too many folks today have their palms out . . . at home and abroad . . . too many people have their hands in Uncle Sam's pocket . . . in your pocket, actually, because you are Uncle Sam.

It isn't a healthy thing, I hate to see it because eventually, if you do not think . . . and if you do not put your thinking into action . . . it will lead to disaster. A Government, like a Cracker Barrel, can become empty . . . its wealth depleted . . . and when this happens . . . well, I'm telling you this story from a trash heap. You wouldn't want what happened to me to happen to your Government, would you?

Okay, then! Think! Then put your thinking into action . . . so that you, or if not you, those who follow behind you . . . your children and your children's children will never read The Case of The Empty Treasury as you have just read . . . The Case of The Empty Cracker Barrel.

Flies Cause Many Deaths Each Year

Millions of flies help to cause the illness and death of thousands of children and adults each year in the United States. Hundreds of these casualties may be in the State of Texas this year if residents fall in their responsibility for developing the best possible sanitation measures in the area where they reside. Typhoid fever, summer complaint, and other intestinal diseases can be traced to the common housefly as the carrier of infection.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, speaking in this connection recently said, "Be sure that your windows and doors are tightly screened so that stray flies from a careless neighbor will not endanger your family. Be sure that flies are kept away from food, drink, and utensils used in the preparation of food. Make sure, if you live in rural districts, that outside privy vaults are tightly covered so as not to permit the entrance of flies. Infections from this source can be picked up and spread to human beings through contact with food, drink, and utensils. Keep all garbage covered until collected or buried. Eliminate all breeding places for flies and you will be helping your community in its work of controlling communicable diseases and preventing unnecessary illness."

Dr. Cox said that the State Health Department would furnish upon request a pamphlet outlining safe and practical methods recommended for use in fly control.

Eggs can be frozen and stored successfully in the home freezer or the freezer locker.

Grasshopper Menace Feared On Texas Farms This Year

It may be a little early to start talking about grasshoppers, but farmers and ranchmen are urged to be ready to stop them this year before they leave their egg beds. Once they begin moving out of the areas where they hatch, effective control becomes more difficult, says H. G. Johnston, extension entomologist of Texas A&M College and state leader for the grasshopper control program in Texas.

He says recently completed surveys show heavy infestations of grasshopper eggs in at least three areas of the state and warns that hoppers can again build up to plague proportions. The weather at hatching time will materially affect the situation, he adds. The surveys show the danger spots to be in the Brazos valley especially in Robertson and Milam counties; in the Trinity valley in Kaufman and south Dallas county and along the Elm Creek Fork in north Dallas county and in the Panhandle. One area in the Panhandle—along the Oklahoma line—is termed by Johnston as a threatening area while the other area extending from the northwest corner of the Panhandle south-eastward to Amarillo contains infestations of the eggs of the migratory hoppers. These are difficult to control because of their migratory movements. The seriousness of the situation in this area will depend upon the weather conditions at hatching time—late May—says Johnston. He urges farmers and ranchmen in that section to be ready for an all-out fight should the hoppers become a menace to their crops and pastures.

He says the program in Texas will operate the same in 1950 as it did last year. Special emphasis will be placed on the use of insecticides for control rather than on the bait method. Results from last year's program show that toxaphene and chlordane are excellent grasshopper killing chemicals if used at the right time. The use of these chemicals plus neighborhood and community-wide cooperation make control of local infestations a simple and inexpensive job, he says. Every farmer in infested territory should be ready to spray or dust his field margins, fence rows and roadsides just as soon as the hoppers begin to hatch.

The migratory hoppers must be controlled before they leave the egg beds. They soon scatter over wide areas and thus control becomes a difficult problem.

Snakes Cause More Deaths In Texas Than Any Other State

More people die from snake bite in Texas than in any other state. This observation was made by John E. Werler, curator of reptiles, San Antonio Zoological Society, in an article in the latest issue of the Texas Game and Fish Magazine.

Rubbish is the main incentive for the reptiles to gather around homes. By removing all rubbish, the food and shelter which attracts snakes is eliminated and they move to a more suitable environment, the official game, fish and oyster commission magazine writer said.

Rattlesnakes and copperheads are partial to rocky hillside during warm days of early spring.

Snakes move by daylight during the first warm days of spring but later reverse the routine and travel during the cool nights.

"It is dangerous to believe, as many do, that a water moccasin cannot bite under water and woe be to the person who dares to catch a submerged 'cotton mouth,'" he says.

With prompt and proper treatment only about one or two percent of all snake bites are fatal, the article says.

A victim should not be given whiskey or other alcoholic drinks, since both hasten absorption of the poison. The best treatment before a doctor can be reached is incision and suction.

Little Interest For Paving To Cemetery

So little interest has been manifested in the proposed pavement to Cross Plains cemetery that V. C. Walker, cemetery trustee and advocate of the project, said Monday that he believed it advisable to forget the proposition.

"We thought that it might be possible to get this work done this Spring with equipment which will be here to top the road to Cottonwood," Walker said, "but there has been so little interest manifested that financing the job would likely be impossible." It had been Walker's intention after completing the current campaign to finance the maintenance of the cemetery this year, to seek funds for the paving.

Dry Gas Now Flows Through City Mains

Gas now coursing through the municipally owned system in Cross Plains is now dried before reaching the city gate and is expected to occasion less difficulty in domestic use.

Previously the gas contained natural moisture and was causing meters to freeze during cold weather, interrupting service to consumers. Too, a large regulator has been installed to maintain an equal pressure in city lines at all times, the Review was told Tuesday morning by Mayor S. N. Foster.

Cross Cut News
By Peggy Rhymes

We are always glad to know someone who has distinguished himself and won honors. Rex Chambers, a graduate of Cross Plains high, was on the mid term honor roll at TSC where he is taking an engineering course. To be on this list these students had to make 30 grade points, pass 15 hours and have no failing grades.

Mrs. Don Cotten and two daughters, of Monahans, have been visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Byrd. Mrs. Cotten arrived Sunday and will return Tuesday.

Galyn Rhymes, who is attending TSC, was home for the week end. He brought a friend, Bill Johnson, an Alaskan, with him for a week end visit. Bill prefers Texas weather to the weather of his native home in Juneau, Alaska, which is located in the southeastern part of the country. He plans to stay here this summer if he can find work. The country life is all new to him. He has never seen cows, pigs and such until he came to the states. He thoroughly enjoyed his first coon hunt.

Americans are a peculiar people. Had you ever thought of that? A Chinaman once said: "Funny people, you Americans. You take a glass of tea, put sugar in it to make it sweet, and put in lemon to make it sour; you put in gin to warm you up, and ice to make it cool. You say 'Here's to you', and drink it your self."

We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Graves and family to the Cross Cut community. They were residents of Bell County before moving here. Oleta and Freda Graves have enrolled in the Cross Cut school. Oleta is in the third and Freda is in the first grade.

The Cross Cut 4-H club will meet with Mrs. Nelson, the county 4-H agent, Tuesday afternoon.

Wildcat Makes 115 Barrels Oil In Four Hours Near Putnam

A Strawn Sand discovery has been completed in Callahan County five miles northwest of Putnam at the Trumpeter Petroleum Corp. No. 2 Herman Betcher.

Potential of 115 barrels of 40.9 gravity oil in four hours has been filed for the project.

The well flowed from the open hole section at 2,171-73 feet, through 36-64 choke. Casing pressure was 130 pounds, and flowing tubing pressure was 90 pounds.

The No. 2 Betcher is a quarter-mile north of the same operator's No. 1 Betcher, a dry hole abandoned last fall at 3,557 feet. Reports Tuesday were that the No. 1 Betcher had in the vicinity of 20 feet of section correlating to the pay in the No. 2. Location is 1,123 feet from the east and 1,475 feet from the south lines of Section 66, BOH.

The same operator has staked the No. 3 Betcher as an offset to the No. 2. It will be 1,527 feet from the north and 1,941 feet from the west lines of Section 66, BOH Survey. Projected depth is 2,200 feet with rotary.

McElroy Ranch Co. No. 1 W. A. Ramsey, et ux, Ellenburger wildcat in Callahan County three miles northeast of Putnam, was running a drillstem test in the Caddo at last report.

That project topped the Caddo at 3,192 feet, to give it a datum of minus 1,562 feet on that marker.

Operator ran a drillstem test from 3,198-3,210 feet. Tool was open 30 minutes. Gas appeared at the surface in three minutes. Recovery was 40 feet of mud. Flowing pressure was 125 pounds. Shut-in pressure was 1,300 pounds in 15 minutes.

Operator then cut 20 more feet of the section and was taking the second test Tuesday to total depth of 3,230 feet.

Location for the No. 1 Ramsey is 1,300 feet from the north and 1,015 feet from the east lines of Section 2276, TE&L Survey.

Giles Asks More Funds for Veteran Land Buying Plan

Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office and Chairman of the Veterans Land Board, Tuesday issued an "informal memorandum" to the 51st Legislature calling attention to the necessity of expanding the $25,000,000 Veterans Land Program at the next regular session.

"Within a very short time," Commissioner Giles pointed out to the legislature, "we will have received a sufficient number of applications to fully obligate the total $25,000,000 authorized by the constitutional amendment. But only approximately 5,000 veterans will have been taken care of, when many times that number desire to participate in the program."

"While we are processing an average of ten applications a day," Giles added in his prepared statement, "we are receiving new applications at the rate of 20 per day. Of the 4,700 applications received, most were signed for only a 90 day period. It was, therefore, to be expected that many options expire unless the sellers were willing to stand with the veteran and with us."

He described the personnel of the Land Program, of which Alvis Vandyriff is secretary, as consisting of "10 appraisers, two attorneys and 15 clerks, stenographers and typists."

"Our incoming mail is averaging approximately 200 letters per day," he stated, "and most of these letters require personal attention."

Listing the program's progress to date, Giles said that 1,600 farms and ranches had been appraised with approximately 72 per cent approved for the contract price, 500 purchases has been completed at an average price of $5,750, an average of $52 per acre including improvements.

"Due to the heavy back log of applications and our limited staff," Commissioner Giles pointed out, "the time necessary to process an application filed at this time is at least 200 days."

FERTILIZER

Recent strikes in potash mines will create a shortage in many types of fertilizer this year. This condition is general and the scarcity will be felt throughout all agricultural belts of the United States.

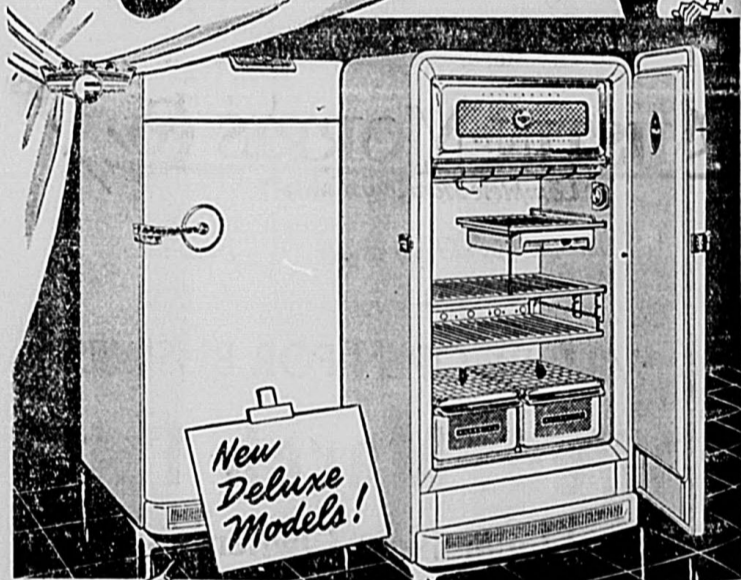

Regardless of the type of fertilizer you require, we advise you to begin making your arrangements for it early.

As for us we will have several formulae in two well known brands: VC and Armour's, however, we have no assurance that our supply will be adequate. We do want to assist you though, and will appreciate discussing with you your fertilizer needs.

Last Saturday evening nine thoroughbred Holstein calves were received by express consigned to A. S. Armstrong of Cross Cut, who is behind a move for better cattle in this part of West Texas. Notwithstanding their long trip from Milwaukee the animals were in excellent condition and were distributed among farmers in this and Cross Cut communities.

An airplane visited Cross Plains last Saturday and landed somewhere in the suburbs. Its appearance created no excitement compared with that attending the one which visited here last Christmas, of about ninety to nothing. In fact, amid the oil excitement, no one had time to inquire who its occupants were, or noted the time of its departure. Ten dollar airplane rides is dull sport compared to million dollar oil well acquisitions.

Many new locations have been made in the Vestal field and trading still remains active. The first boom incident to the putting of an oil town on the map, has somewhat abated notwithstanding the numerous comers and goers. The town was not long in meeting the demands made upon it by the influx of new comers and visitors. Additional eating places were hurriedly opened and the citizens of the town are taking care of those who fail to find lodging at the hotel and rooming houses.

The Cross Plains basketball girls are going to Baird Friday to participate in the county championship meet.

Miss Velma Cross entertained the girls of Cross Plains recently. Those in attendance were: Misses Christine Teague, Leta Neeb, Elizabeth Tyson, and Edith Enzor and Brownie Baum was the only jelly bean present. These few had a very enjoyable time though it was very cold.

Two neighboring towns, Coleman and Strawn, are starting big street paving programs, which reminds us very forcibly that if Cross Plains had paved streets, it would look to be the town it really is—and how proud we would be of paved streets.

If you want still another answer to the old question, "Does Advertising Pay?" reflect on this. Wasn't it advertising that made the Victrola dog famous; didn't it put Sozodent and Pebeo on your tooth brush and a Gillette razor in your hand, along with a cake of Ivory soap and Williams shaving cream? Didn't advertising put an Arrow collar around your neck and Holeproof socks on your feet and Paris garters on your legs? Hasn't it eased your nerves with Spearmint chewing gum, quieted your headache with aspirin and comforted your stomach with Campbell's soups and Swift's Premium hams? Sit down and take inventory of what you've got on, or what you have in the house and you will be surprised at the number of things you buy simply because you are through reading ads, familiar with the brand.

Cottonwood high school boys basketball team, defeated by Dublin at the district tournament last week, has been placed back in the running for the state championship and the Erath county school thrown out for playing an ineligible athlete. A united effort to increase Sunday School attendance in Cross Plains has been launched by four local churches. The campaign is to continue through 90 days and the results announced at the conclusion of the drive.

A well reported to be in the making in the neighborhood of 10 barrels daily was brought in this week by E. E. Thate on the J. C. Watson farm between here and Burkett. The pay was topped at 300 feet.

Like most other sections of Texas, the Cross Plains area had a Raymond Hamilton scare this week. Belief that the Texas badman spent the night at Okra was broadcast after the noted outlaw drove westward after a brush with the law at Dallas. The Hamilton scare originated after a Chevrolet sedan, bearing Illinois license numbers and conforming to the description of the outlaw's car, spent the night in a dense thicket near Okra.

Jack Graves was elected Chief of the Cross Plains fire department last week succeeding Jim Settle, who resigned. Walter Rudloff was named assistant chief to fill the vacancy caused by Graves' promotion. Graves is the third man to serve as chief here. Ralph Chandler was the first and Settle the second.

Mr. Flippin suspected the cow was afflicted with the malady, so he took the head to Austin himself. The report came Tuesday, advising that rabies were definitely present.

The Flippin family was advised to take shots for immunization against hydrophobia.

Russell Dennis Buys Brownwood's Largest Furniture Business

Sam and Roy Morris, co-owners of Austin-Morris Co., pioneer Brownwood firm, today announced sale of their furniture business to Russell Dennis, pastor of the Melwood Avenue Baptist Church in Brownwood, and Herbert Sowell. Change of ownership became effective March 1, date of the store's reopening.

Mr. Dennis, former pastor of a Cisco Baptist Church and 1942 graduate of Howard Payne College, will continue in his church capacity and will not be active in the furniture store except to the extent of operations. He is married to the former Miss Evelyn Barr of Cross Plains and they have two children. LaVerne is a student in Brownwood high school while another daughter, Mrs. Joe Bissett, attends Howard Payne College. Dennis is a member of the Lions Club and all orders of the Masonic Lodge.

The original charter and business name was included in the sale and Mr. Dennis will fill the position of president of the corporation. Interested with him as secretary, treasurer and store manager will be Mr. Sowell who has had 15 years experience in furniture business in Brownwood. Mr. Sowell is married to the former Miss Sara Jewell Turner of Winsboro and they have four children in Brownwood schools. Mr. Sowell is a member of all orders of the Masonic Lodge and his wife is a senior student at Howard Payne College.

The new owners are planning a formal opening to be held at a later date.

Austin-Morris Co. was the outgrowth of a corporation formed in 1922 from Austin-Hall Hardware and Morris Furniture Co., the latter a pioneer Brownwood business started in 1915. In announcing the sale, Mr. Morris thanked the Central Texas public for its patronage of the last 35 years and asked continued consideration of the firm under its new ownership.

Mrs. H. A. Young spent the week end visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hickman in Alice.

Ralph Short, coordinator of the veterans schools in Callahan County, said yesterday: "We regret to lose a teacher of Mr. Parker's calibre; he has done an outstanding job at Cross Plains. We feel, though, that his replacement will be a valuable addition to our faculty."

Mrs. A. J. Koenig returned to her home here Tuesday after a week's visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Leonard in Eunice, New Mexico.
