Master Sergeant W. E. Norton non-commissioned officer in charge non-commissioned officer in charge of the Marine recruiting sub-sta-tion in Abilene, said yesterday that the May enlistment quota for the U. 8. Marine Corpe has not yet been filled. Norton urges young men who are interested in elec-tronics, radio, auto and aircraft mechanics, instrument repair, band dute are other theore reculting duty or other trades requiring skilled technicians, to contact him in room 203 of the Abilene post office building at their earliest opportunity.

There building at their tearlest opportunity. There are now openings in Ma-rine aviation detachments, Marine sea-going detachments and in the land units of the Corps, said Nor-ton. In order for young men to qualify for enrollment in the Ma-rines they must be between the ages of 17 and 28 and pass the physical examination and educa-tional requirements. This does not mean that a high school diploma is required before a man can be accepted for enlistment, said Nor-ton. According to Sgt. Norton, if a man has enough education to meet the minimum educational re-quirements for enlistment, he can obtain his high school diploma while serving for the Corps and go into college work at no expense to binester. into college work at no expense to himself.

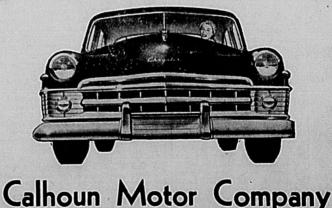

All applicants accepted for enlist-ment in Abilene will be transfer-red to San Diego, California for their basic training, said Norton.
