Charles Decatur Stone, 57, long-time resident of the Cross Cut area, was found dead in bed Friday morning at 6:30 at his ranch southeast of Brownwood.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from the Davis-Morris funeral chapel in Brownwood and burial was made in the family plot of the little Cross Cut cemetery.

Stone was found dead in bed by M. M. Spinks, who lives at the Stone place. Raymond Spinks, 22, who slept with Stone did not know what the older man had died until M. M. Spinks came to awaken the two, and discovered that Stone had died.

Mr. Stone had been ailing and had just completed a physical check-up at a Brownwood clinic. He was born in Brown County June 24, 1893, and lived in this section all of his life. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. D. (Dick) Stone, pioneer ranch couple who lived south of Cross Cut until their last years which were spent in Cross Plains. Stone was a member of the Christian Church and the Masonic Lodge.

Survivors are two sons, J. W. Stone of Cross Cut and David Stone of San Antonio; one sister, Mrs. S. M. Keeler of Zephyr; two half-brothers, M. L. Stone of Talpa and A. W. Barry Bell's New Hat Here For Him

Will someone please tell Barry Bell he can throw away the old hat he's worn so long and drop by the Review office and pick-up another, gift of the John B. Stetson Hat Company of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Several months ago the Review published an article about Barry's hat, pointing out that the local man had professed to have worn it continuously 28 years. A clipping of the newspaper article was sent the hat manufacturers and they decided to make the Cross Plains man a new one, a hat to his own particular liking.

The hat now being held for Barry at the Review office is cream colored, has a seven inch crown and four inch rolled brim. It is of seven X clear bover quality and estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $100.

Barry had been advised that the new hat was being manufactured for him and had hoped to receive it in time for the Cross Plains annual picnic. He'll wear the new one to the annual reunion of Callahan County Pioneers to be held at Deep Creek August 11.

Mrs. Gray Resigns After 21 Years At Phone Office Here

After 24 years as a switchboard operator, the last 21 in Cross Plains, Mrs. W. J. Gray has resigned at the local telephone office as of August 10. Her resignation was tendered the new owner, E. O. Kizer, Monday morning.

Mrs. Gray plans to leave the latter part of this month for Upland, California, where her son, Bill, resides, to make her home.

Mrs. Gray moved with her children to Cross Plains in July 1929 and took charge of the telephone office here as local manager for the late T. P. Bearden. For many years she ran the exchange 24 hours per day, with help only of her children, all of whom became efficient operators.

With 140 telephones the Cross Plains exchange is now serviced by two operators: Mrs. Gray and Miss Peggy Raughton. It had not been learned here yesterday who would replace Mrs. Gray.

During the 21 years she operated the local phone office Mrs. Gray came to know the people of the Cross Plains area intimately. Her tenure of service continued through eras of depression, war and peak prosperity, and the many thousand calls processed at her switchboard chronicled the history of this section.

In appreciation of her cooperative service, Cross Plains Volunteer Fire Department long ago made Mrs. Gray their matron of honor.

Cottonwood Area Gets Ellenburger Test on the Strahan

Equipment was being moved this week to the W. J. (Bill) Cross place—formerly owned by the Strahan family—south of Cottonwood, for an oil test of the Ellenburger lime, expected to be topped around 5000 feet. Drilling operations will begin soon with rotary equipment.

Location of the well is near the center of the Maxwell Steel Arvey, slightly northwest of the house on the Strahan place, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Cross.

The Steel survey, comprising about 700 acres, is said to have been farmed out by the McElroy Ranch Company, which took a block of several thousand acres in the Cottonwood area, to Ed Connally, O. B. Stephens and Gene Thornton of Abilene, on drilling contract basis. McElroy had seismographed their entire block and recently released a number of leases, however, rentals were paid on most of the acreage.

The new test will be the first ever to exceed 3,000 feet in the immediate locality of the Steel survey and will be closely watched by West Central Texas oil men.

Pioneer Classes To Be Moved Here This Fall O'Dell Declares

Classes will not be held at Pioneer next school term, all students are to be transported to Cross Plains, the Review was told one night this week by Newell O'Dell, superintendent of the local school system.

"The number of pupils at Pioneer will not justify the necessary three teachers for classroom instruction," O'Dell said, "and we feel that consolidation of the classes will be beneficial to all concerned."

The Pioneer school district was consolidated with Cross Plains two years ago, but primary and some intermediate grades were continued at the Pioneer school building as a part of the Cross Plains system.

Teachers who taught at Pioneer last year will assume similar duties here this fall.

ENCOURAGE PEOPLE TO PLANT FALL GARDENS

In most sections of Texas, there are from 60 to 90 days of good growing weather during the fall season and that is sufficient to grow a good fall garden. Today's high prices may mean, says John Hutchison, extension horticulturist of Texas A. & M. College, that if we don't grow our vegetables, we may not have them.

FOX GETTING BRAVER LOCAL MAN BELIEVES

J. W. (Pappy) Cox, who lives in the west part of town, believes that foxes are becoming more daring.

"The sly little animals used to be only seldom seen", Pappy says, "but now they're coming right into town to invade chicken pens".

Thursday morning of last week a fox was slain in Pappy's chicken yard, and he opines there'll be more along soon.

Mr. Link Robinson, 519 Lindsey, is the most content and satisfied man in Newport, Ky. In fact, he says there isn't a thing in the world that can irritate or upset him now that he is on the HADACOL band wagon. If there ever was a man who thought HADACOL is the most wonderful thing in the world, it is Link Robinson, since he learned that his system lacked Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin.

Here is what Mr. Robinson has to say about HADACOL, which is now supplying liberal quantities of these essential elements: "I have been a steel worker for over twenty years. When you are a steel worker, you have to do plenty of good, hard work, and you need lots of good, substantial food. But when a stomach is in as bad a shape as mine was... I couldn't eat, I had gas pains, stomach bloating and nervousness; well, I just couldn't eat the proper foods I needed. My boss told me about HADACOL and I started taking it immediately. After the second bottle I could tell a definite improvement. Now I can eat the foods I need to eat to really be on the job. In fact, I can eat anything I want to. I am not nervous anymore, either. Best of all, I haven't got those terrific gas pains and no more stomach bloating. HADACOL is the best ever. I recommend HADACOL to everyone."

HADACOL is Different
Countless thousands are benefiting from HADACOL... even hundreds of doctors are recommending HADACOL to their patients whose systems lack Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin. HADACOL is so wonderful because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the liver, liver, kidneys and lungs, even to the eyes, hair and nails. Give remarkable HADACOL a chance and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take—you get your money back. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $4.50.

COTTON INSECTS

Cotton leafworms are appearing in cotton fields of the county at this time. If you haven't looked at your cotton closely, it would be a good idea to walk out in the middle of the field and look for the leafworms. Every part of the county has reported leafworms doing damage to the cotton. Boll weevils are also thick this year and really doing the damage.

Both the leafworm and boll weevils can be controlled with the same dusting or spraying material. If you have spraying equipment, use the Toxaphene or the 2-1 Toxaphene and DDT mixture at the rate of two to three pounds per acre at five day intervals. This will also get the fleahopper, bollworm, lygus and rapid plant bugs, stink bugs and grasshoppers. Spraying can be done any time of the day when the winds do not exceed 15 to 20 miles per hour. Nozzles can be increased to a maximum of three. Sprays should be applied at approximately 60 pounds pressure and total volume of two to eight gallons per acre.

If you have dusting equipment there are three things that you can use to get the leafworms and boll weevils. 20% toxaphene-40% sulphur mixture can be dusted at the rate of 10 to 15 pounds per acre. Then too the 3-5-40 mixture can be used at the same rate per acre. 3-5-40 means three per cent gamma benzene hexachloride -five per cent DDT-40% sulphur. These two dusts are also good for bollworms, fleahoppers, lygus and rapid plant bugs, stink bugs and grasshoppers.

If you cannot secure either of the two dusts mentioned, then calcium arsenate can be dusted at the rate of seven to 10 pounds per acre for the control of leafworms and boll weevils.

The presence of dew is not necessary for dusting. Application of insecticide must be repeated if washed off within 24 hours.

The county agent will be glad to help anyone in trying to secure a supply of insecticides or with any of your insect control problems.

SPRAY THOSE PEACHES

For those who have peach trees with a few peaches left this year, it would be a good idea to give them a sulphur spray now. Recent showers add importance to continuing the sulphur spraying on the late varieties of peaches that will ripen in the next 30 days. Use five pounds of wettable sulphur to 50 gallons of water to prevent brown rot and scab. If rain comes, repeat in 24 to 48 hours. APHIDS ON CANTELOUPE AND WATERMELONS

A one per cent lindane dust will give excellent control of the aphids on canteloupes and watermelons. Lindane is the pure gamma isomer of BHC and dust used on vine crops must be from the pure isomer or the material will burn.

Former Coach Here Made Army Colonel

Norman Gayle (Beans) Morris, former Cross Plains high school football coach, and nephew of Mrs. Fred Tunnell of this city, has been promoted from the rank of lieutenant colonel to full colonel.

PROFITEERING AT HOME AS MEN FIGHT TERMED 'HEIGHT OF IMMORTALITY'

The "height of immortality," according to Bernard M. Baruch, is reached by those who profiteer at home while American soldiers fight abroad.

The elder statesman who last week urged Congress to impose immediate controls on wages, prices and rents declared this week that "any system that would call young men to the colors" and leave behind "those who would profit and profiteer" is contemptible.

"I think it is the height of immortality," Baruch said.

News From COUNTY AGEN

By Oliver F. West

At a meeting of the Callahan County Fair Association on day night, July 31, it was decided to rent tents to hold the fair this year. The fair will be September 22 and 23. One tent will be 40x85 feet in size and the 20x40 feet. Along with the building this will make it possible to have all the livestock exhibits protected from the weather.

It was also decided to purchase a premium list in the near future. This will give a list of the various types of livestock, crops, exhibits and booths which can be secured and will also list the prizes for each event. Ribbons and awards will be given in each class.

Community booths will again be welcome at the fair. Booth space will be 10x10 feet in size and will be given to the most attractive, neat, and original display. The money received from the selling of commercial space will be used to buy ribbons and premiums to the exhibitors at the fair. Booth space will be allocated on a first come first served basis. Many booths have already been reserved and anyone wishing to reserve a space should turn in their application to Ray Black, Chairman of the concessions committee or Oliver West, Secretary of the Fair. Anyone who wants to set up a booth or drink stand or have any other concession should see one of these men immediately.

A Hereford breeding cattle show will head the livestock event. This will be open to any owner of a registered Hereford that is over two years old. Other livestock events will be a Jersey show and a swine show. There will also be a boys livestock show consisting of the showing of fat stock market barrows, breeding and young boar pigs.

There will also be classes for breeds of poultry except bantams. And a new feature to the show this year will be a rabbit show. Cash for the rabbits will be furnished by the West Texas Rabbit and Cavy Breeders Association. Some premiums have already been offered for this show and will be announced soon.

Hungry Stockmen take Revenge on Buzzards After Calves Killed

A catch of 210 buzzards in a single day was made by one Freestone County stockman, according to a report submitted by county agent J. H. Pritchard to R. E. Alexander, extension wildlife conservation specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

The stockman, Fred Hale, of Cottonwood, reported to Pritchard that in June that he had lost 18 calves by buzzards killing them. Since other stockmen were having the same trouble, Pritchard met with a group of the ranchers to discuss the situation.

After discussing the problem, the group decided to encourage the killing of buzzards by any means at hand. One of the methods of control decided upon was the setting of traps.

Hale constructed a trap and set it, but he did not catch any buzzards immediately. After several days, he finally caught one in a steel trap and placed it inside the regular buzzard trap. From about 4:00 p.m. one afternoon, Hale placed the first buzzard in the trap, until late the next afternoon, 210 buzzards were caught in the trap.

Nice Shallow Well Is Hit Near Burkett

C. K. Manley et al are completing a shallow well on the Ben Wooten farm, a mile and a half east of Burkett, from a pay zone from 217 to 227 feet. The well was being placed on pump late Tuesday and was believed capable of producing from eight to 10 barrels daily.

The well is a wildcat, approximately a mile from nearest shallow production, and the pay is believed to be an extension of the 'Merada pool, between Cross Plains and Burkett which is reported to have produced more than a million barrels of high grade crude.

Sanitation Among Turkeys Required If Profit Desired

Sanitation is an all important factor in the control of diseases and parasites in turkey flocks. According to Dr. W. C. Banks, extension veterinarian of Texas A. & M. College, nine times out of 10, parasites and diseases, if neglected, will wipe out the profits of the turkey owner.

He says that about the best definition of sanitation that he has heard was given by a prominent poultry breeder who said: "Sanitation consists of equal parts of live solution and elbow grease applied vigorously with a brush at frequent intervals."

However, Dr. Banks says that, even with the use of plenty of live solution and elbow grease, there are other factors that enter into a sanitation program—such as type of soil, its drainage, freedom from surface water; suitable housing with proper floors and good ventilation; sunshine; and manure disposal.

He cautions that crowding the birds in too small a house or on too small a piece of ground is a mistake in sanitation, while allowing the flock to run all over the farm at random is another.

Dr. Banks recommends that not more than 200 to 300 birds be kept on each acre of ground, depending on the age, breed, and size of the turkeys. In addition, he says that it is always good to have some extra land available to which the birds can be moved if trouble appears in the flock.

HINTS ON CULLING POULTRY

COLLEGE STATION, August 2—Hens that are not laying now are likely to be early molters and thus poor layers, and there is no profit in feeding hens that do not produce eggs, says professor E. D. Parnell of the poultry husbandry department of Texas A. & M. College. These non-producing hens should be removed from the flock by culling and now is a good time to do the job, he says.

Poultrymen who maintain breeding flocks and produce hatching eggs should keep the birds that are good representatives of the breed and are free from standard disqualifications. Breeding birds must also be free of diseases, such as Pullorum, that are transmitted through the hatching eggs. For this reason says Parnell, health is more important in the breeding than in a flock that is kept solely for egg production.

Another point that should be given consideration at the time of culling, says Parnell is the age of the birds. In some farm flocks the old hens may be finishing a year of production and in the same flock will be pullets that were hatched this past spring. Parnell says to handle this situation just as if you were culling two separate flocks. The old hens should have frayed, worn plumage, and well faded beaks and shanks while the pullets would be expected to have bright, clean new features and yellow shanks.

If the entire flock is culled, it is best to do the job during the early morning hours or late in the afternoon or even at night. The job should be done quickly yet carefully, says Parnell. Too much handling during hot weather, he continues may cause a drop in egg production.

While you are checking such production characteristics as red combs, faded beaks and shanks, worn plumage and soft abdomens, look for vitality and health in the birds. Bright, full eyes are a mark of vigor and good fleshing and general activity are signs of good health. The high producing birds will also have big bodies.

Parnell says that after pullets reach six months of age and have developed good bodies, they should start laying and should continue to lay for at least six months. When they quit laying for any reason other than the yearly molt, they should be culled. He suggests culling the pullet flock once each month.

Low Price Of Furs Slowing Trappers

The Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission said Saturday no new furs has been sighted for Texas trappers of furbearing animals. He explained the reason is twofold. The price of furs continues depressed. Muskrats, the main source of fur income in Texas, are still near the bottom of their cycle.

Thus the farm boy who depends on an occasional fur bearer for his spending money and the professional trapper will have to look for other means of income for the time being.

GOOD SEWING EQUIPMENT AND ITS CARE

COLLEGE STATION, July 24—Using the right sewing equipment and keeping it in good condition makes the sewing job easier, saves time and labor and permits the sewer to do more satisfactory work. According to Nena Roberson, associate extension clothing specialist of Texas A. & M. College, the right sewing equipment includes a sewing machine, a work table, full view mirror, an ironing board, a sleeve board and iron. The small items of equipment should include shears, scissors, measuring tape, pins, thread, pin cushion and needles to take care of the different sewing jobs.

Good equipment, she says, doesn't remain useful over long periods of time unless it is properly cared for. Know your sewing machine; study the directions that came with it; learn how to set the new needles; to adjust the tension, the stitch and when and where to oil the machine. A sewing machine should be thoroughly cleaned and oiled at least twice each year, and moving parts will need oil more often.

Here are her suggestions on selecting some of the smaller pieces of equipment. The scissors should be made of good steel, the blades true and should cut all the way to the tip. The better grades of scissors and shears, she says, are held together with a nut and bolt instead of a rivet. This is desirable because they can be easily adjusted after sharpening or in case they need tightening. Scissors and shears should be kept dry to prevent rusting and the use of a wool pocket for storing is recommended.

Do not use your sewing room scissors or shears for cutting paper, wet cloth, flowers, cutting material when the blades are dirty and using the points to pry open cans, jars, and the like.

In addition to the kitchen scissors, a seven or eight inch pair of shears for snipping and trimming are desirable. If you can afford them, include a pair of pinking shears. They are excellent for trimming and finishing seams.

She says using the right kind and size of needles can make the sewing job easier. Long needles should be used for long stitches, fine needles for sewing fine fabrics and coarse needles for coarse stitching. Size 10 needles are probably best for sewing most dress weight fabrics and for fine hand sewing while a size seven or eight is more desirable for sewing the heavier fabrics.

Miss Roberson says the best pins for use on all sewing jobs are the slender, sharp pointed brass pins. They do not rust and can be used for years if they are kept clean and dry.

Sewing, she concludes, can be a task or a pleasure depending upon the kind and amount of sewing equipment you have and on the manner in which it is maintained.

Urge Homemakers to Take Advantage Of Big Supply Of Peas

Texas homemakers are urged to take advantage of the plentiful supplies of black eye and other varieties of peas such as cream and purple hull that are now available, and to preserve a supply for use this winter. They are good frozen; are a nutritious food and will add variety to your meals later in the year, says Jimmie Nell Harris, associate extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

Homemakers should remember that freezing does not improve the quality of a product and if you want a quality product, she points out, you must very carefully select the peas to be frozen. The peas should be tender and at the right stage for good eating. It is best to harvest them early in the morning before they absorb heat from the sun.

I'm only one of
80,000 EX-BREADWINNERS

You wouldn't know how it feels to be an EX, unless you are one.

Two million people are injured at work every year, but sooner or later most of them get back on the job, working and earning again. They don't know how lucky they are! Among those 2,000,000 there's an inner group of 80,000, of which I am one. We're the EX-breadwinners. We had accidents—bad ones.

Who can say what the result of any accident will be? Two people have almost identical falls—one gets his wind knocked out—the other is paralyzed for life. Call it fate or what you will, but when an accident starts happening nobody knows how it will end.

You don't have to tell me how personal safety is all wrapped up with the things that make life worthwhile—a good job—good pay—a happy family, well-cared-for and the promise of a bright future.

The least I can do now is pass the word along to you. Don't take safety for granted, an accident can happen to you! Know your job, be alert to its hazards. Think safely. Keep on being a breadwinner!
