

"AS I SEE IT"

By Jack McCarty

Rain is in the news again this week. No, we are not talking about a "Million Dollar" rain, nor are we quoting one of the local forecasters regarding a rain in the near future.

Baum states this week that he would be happy to discuss the matter with any interested parties, but he would not care to argue the merits or demerits of the proposal.

The representatives of the rain-increasing firm stated in the meeting that the program should not be looked upon as "mettling in the Lord's business," since they made no claim for being able to make it rain, but rather state that if the forces of Nature are right in the area they can make the elements give up more than a normal amount of moisture.

Any way you look at the plan, at the small cost of one cent per acre, no one could possibly get hurt much, and if the program was put into effect in this area and we did receive more than a normal amount of rainfall, it would provide us with a brand new subject for arguments.

Anyone interested in learning more about this proposed program of rain-increasing is invited to talk to Edwin Baum, and if enough interest is manifested in the project, rain-increasing experts will come to this section and explain the workings of their program at a mass meeting. Think it over!

Perhaps our Reader(s) are tired of our personal opinion concerning politics, but we cannot resist writing our own personal opinions on the subject and we do not ask (continued on back page)

Borden Milk Company Will Station Dairy Specialist In Cross Plains; To Assist Dairymen

JOHN JENKINS, Dairy Specialist

John Jenkins, 31-year-old dairy products specialist, will soon be a well-known figure to dairymen around Cross Plains.

Jenkins recently assumed a position of field representative with the Borden Company and will make this city his home in order to be closer to dairymen of this locality.

He comes here from the Borden plant in Abilene and prior to moving to Abilene he held a similar position for two years with the Borden plant at Lubbock.

He was raised near Ruston, Louisiana, and attended Southwestern Institute and Louisiana State University where he graduated with a degree in dairy products.

Sister of Local Lady Buried At Moran Wed.

Funeral services were held at Moran Wednesday for Mrs. A. J. Wise of Odessa, sister of Mrs. O. M. Smith of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Placke were Eastland visitors Saturday.

Edwin Baum, cashier of the Citizens State Bank here, was in attendance with representatives from nine counties in this area at a meeting held in Coleman, last Friday, for the purpose of setting up a new rain-increasing program in the area.

Counties included and represented in the meeting were Callahan, Taylor, Runnels, Tom Green, McCulloch, Concho, Eastland, Brown and Coleman.

R. G. Hollingsworth of Coleman presided over the sessions and L. E. Cox, field executive for the Dr. Erving Krick organization of Denver, Colorado, was the principal speaker. He explained the rain-increasing program by cloud seeding, why and how it worked.

Discussing a proposal to set up the rain-increasing program with several counties represented, those present expressed favorable consideration, after lengthy details were explained, and a basis for the organization was established.

Lunch for the group was provided by the Coleman County State Bank at the Coleman Hotel Club Room, attended by 32 people, where the program was continued.

Those present asked the Krick representatives many questions regarding their method and plan of operation, how it worked, how it was financed, and what to expect in the way of results.

Other meetings are planned later if the program meets with favor in the proposed area, it was understood. If the citizens of this area are interested in the program, they are invited to discuss the matter with Mr. Baum, and if enough interest is manifested in the project, a mass meeting will be held at a later date when the Krick organization will send representatives to explain the program.

In speaking of the proposed program, Mr. Baum stated that he would not be interested in arguing over the merits or demerits of the project but would be happy to give what information he gained while attending the meeting, to any interested parties.

He stated that the cost of the program to land owners in the area would be one cent per acre and a block of three million acres would have to be signed up before the program could be started.

The Krick organization does not make any claims that they can produce rain, it was said, but they do claim that they can increase the rainfall when it comes by as much as 25 per cent.

Cross Plains Calves Win From Rising Star By Score of 7 to 6

Coach Hubert L. Keumpel's Ward School Calves defeated the Rising Star Kittens here Tuesday night by a score of 7-6, in the first game of the season for the mighty mites.

The first period was scoreless, but Jerry Millington, Kitten back pounced on a Cross Plains fumble on the 12-yard line, early in the second quarter and Kitten back Jack Kaitenbaugh ran the ball over for the first tally of the game. The try for extra point failed.

While piling up a large number of first downs and leading the visitors in yardage gained, the locals were unable to push the pigskin over to pay dirt until early in the final period. The Cross Plains tally was set up when Pat Moore, hot-shot quarterback for the Calves took the ball on the Rising Star 24, and romped to the Kitten 2-yard stripe before being hauled in. He scored on a quarterback sneak on the next play, and then toted the ball through right tackle for the extra point.

As the game ended the Calves were again threatening to score and had the ball on the Rising Star 5-yard stripe.

The Calves lead in game statistics, with 12 first downs to the Kittens three, and gained 104 yards rushing to the visitors 39.

Buffalo "B" Team Loses Season Opener To Carbon, 12-0

The Buffalo "B" team lost a hard-fought game to the Class B Carbon Wolverines by a score of 12-0, here Thursday night of last week. It was their first game of the season.

Playing on even terms for the first three periods of the game, the two teams appeared to be an even match and the fracas had been pretty much a punting duel. However, the Carbon lads began to romp about midway of the final quarter and scored twice in rapid succession to win by a score of 12-0.

Principal ground gainer for the Buffs was young Pat Moore, playing quarterback on the "B" squad. The locals looked good in this initial game of the season and proved that the school has a good supply of material coming up for next year.

The lots, according to Payne were purchased on a high bid basis at public auction, and would be converted into playground space for students of the local schools.

THE BAYOU PHILOSOPHER WANTS EVERYBODY TO PUBLISH FINANCIAL STATEMENTS, NOT COUNTING HIM

Editor's note: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Bayou comes up with an outlandish proposal this week, as you'll readily agree.

Dear editor:

I notice what looks like a fad may be developin in public life today, where a man runnin for office gets on the radio and bares his entire financial life, tellin how much his house cost, how much he owes, where he owes it, etc., and I want you to know I believe this is a good idea, providin it's carried far enough.

That is, I would like to see it carried over into all walks of life.

For example, there are several people in town, several neighbors out here, that I've been dyin to know what their financial statement was. I know several people who drive good cars, go all the time, live pretty high on the hog, dress mighty good, that I'd be interested in knowin how they do it. Also, I don't know why this is, but what other people's salary is, what they make, has always been a topic of considerable curiosity to lots of people.

Also, I know lots of women who are even more interested than I am in findin out what their neighbor's financial picture is. It ain't that they'd want to do anything about it, but from a curiosity standpoint I don't know of anything that would make better readin and get closer attention than the financial statements of people you know. It's one thing to get the lowdown on a politician in Washington, but folks right around you, there's where the real curiosity is.

You take so and so, everybody says he's got money salted away in so many places he can't remember em all, and it would make mighty intense readin to bring this to light. Or you take the so and sos, they cut a pretty big swath in some circles, but it's been rumored they're mighty slow pay, sort of behind with their grocery bill and ain't paid all of last year's dry goods account, and while it ain't nobody's business, still and at the same time there would be a big run on the newspapers the day their true financial picture was brought out.

I tell you, this thing has endless possibilities. It would be sort of like drainin a lake and leavin the bottom exposed to public view. Ain't no tellin what sort of fish you'd find, and some of em that looked like keepers from the way they splashed on top might turn out to be about the size of minnows. The secrets that doctors have probably ain't half as interestin as the secrets bankers have.

On the other hand, you don't suppose anybody could possibly be interested in my financial report, do you? Some people are just too nosy. Maybe we better limit this thing to vice presidential candidates and keep the system we got for everybody else.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Official Memorandum

ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

In the light of international events, our cherished right of freedom of the press takes on added importance. For as we consider the pattern of aggression by forces seeking to dominate the world, we find that the gagging of the press is invariably a prelude to the destruction of free government.

We have reason to take pride in the alert and vigorous press that has been built up in our nation under our traditional freedom of thought and expression. We cannot, however, assume that it will always be that way. In our own hemisphere we have witnessed the death of La Prensa, one of the world's great newspapers. Elsewhere, we have seen the perils that beset the men and women of our free press in their pursuit of the truth. We have the example of William N. Oatis, now incarcerated behind the Iron Curtain in a mockery of justice by oppressors who know that the printing of the truth interferes with their aim to destroy individual rights and freedom.

In view of these and other disturbing events in the world today, it is appropriate that the slogan "Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom" has been selected for the 13th annual observance of National Newspaper Week.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of the State of Texas, in cooperation with this program of the free press of our nation, do hereby designate the period October 1 - 8, 1952, as

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

In Texas, and urge all the people of our state to take the opportunity during this period to become more familiar with the services and facilities offered by their community newspapers and their contribution to the preservation of our way of life.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 18th day of Sept., 1952

Allan Shivers
Governor of Texas

IMPORTANCE OF LEGUMES

Now is the time to make plans for those fall legume plantings.

It doesn't take a student of the soil to know that legumes properly fertilized and inoculated have excellent effects on the soil. Every farmer knows legumes are important in improving soil structure and condition.

Texas A&M agronomists depict the best soil structure as being crumbly or granular to allow for deep penetration by roots and water. Proper air circulation between the small particles of soil is also necessary.

Some Texas soil is so packed and tight that very little water or air can penetrate it. Deep rooted legumes such as sweet clover and alfalfa on these "tight" soils can help to improve this fault. Legumes which add good organic matter and nitrogen to the soil content, but which do not necessarily open subsoils are vetch, winter peas, annual yellow sweet clover and crimson clover.

Another farming "bug-a-boo" is the type of land which has a heavy, dense sub-soil at a comparatively shallow depth. These sub-soils restrict the movement of plant roots and hinder circulation of water and air. Good remedies for this condition are deep rooted legumes or grasses which will punch holes in the sub-soil and aid the water-air-root conditions.

When plowed under the soil as a green manure crop, legumes increase the organic matter of the land. This matter helps hold the small soil particles together and improves the granular quality of the soil structure. High organic matter in the soil almost assures the best type of air circulation and absorption of water which is so essential to plant life.

The farmer who is unaware of the qualities of his soil can get professional help and advice. Soil samples taken from fields where legumes are to be grown should be sent to the Soils Laboratory, College Station, Texas, for analysis. This analysis will determine what kind and the amounts of fertilizers needed to make legume growing successful in the various soil-type areas of Texas.

Competition is the life of the OIL BUSINESS

The demand for oil increases every year.

Americans need more oil for more automobiles, for more airplanes, more ships, more high speed locomotives and more of many things besides.

And just as one merchant competes with another for your business, oil companies compete for it, too—for the gallons of gasoline and quarts of motor oil you buy; to supply the ships, the locomotives, the industries, the airplanes.

The competition is intense, and it spreads throughout the industry. Oil companies compete with each other to find and produce more oil. Pipe line companies vie with each other to develop low cost transportation. Refineries compete to supply more and better oil products. Salesmen compete on the basis of quality products and the service rendered.

It's a good thing, this competition, a healthy thing. It is the life of the oil business; it keeps the industry vigorous, progressive, enterprising.

But its chief benefit is to you and other Americans. Competition within the oil industry discovers and develops a natural resource necessary not only to modern living but to national defense. It supplies you and the country with continuously improved petroleum products; today, two gallons of gasoline do work that required three in 1925, but the gasoline costs no more than it did then.

VETERANS ? BOX

Q—I believe I am eligible for training under the new Korean GI Bill. Can you tell me how to apply?

A—You can obtain an application form at any VA office. Fill out the first five questions completely—be sure to include your program of training—and send the application, along with a photostat copy of your discharge, to your VA Regional Office. If VA approves the application, it will send you a "Certificate For Education and Training", which you present at your school when you enroll.

Q—I know that I may change the beneficiaries of my National Service Life Insurance at any time, but may I also change the method of payment of the insurance?

A—Yes. You may change any previously selected optional settlement to any other—and you may do so without the beneficiary's knowledge or consent.

Q—When I went on active duty, I made arrangements to pay a smaller amount on my house, which I bought with a GI loan. Now that I've been released, I find that I am unable to resume my regular payments. In fact, I can't pay back the payments that accumulated during my service. Can anything be done to help me out?

A—Probably yes. It's possible that the payments may be reduced by extending the maturity of your loan. Talk the matter over with your lender.

Q—During part of my military service, I was a cadet at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. Do I count that time in figuring out how much entitlement to train-

Fertilizers

A cattle raiser interested in finding out the value of fertilizers fenced off a part of his pasture in two small plots. On the first, he applied no fertilizer at all, and when he cut the vegetation at the end of the season, it weighed 1,725 pounds to the acre. But when he added lime, sulphate of amonia, superphosphate and potash, his yield of forage on the second plot jumped to 4,120 pounds per acre. Grasses and covers in both the plots consisted mainly of carpet grass, Bermuda grass, white clover and lespedeza.

Southwest's Greatest Show Opens Sunday

The most thrilling show staged in the entire Southwest will open just outside the walls of Texas' State penitentiary at Huntsville next Sunday, October 5. And, when the gates of the rodeo chutes in Prison Stadium arena swing open at 2:00 p.m. Texas' Annual Prison Rodeo will be on for the 21st year four big Sunday afternoon performances, October 5, 12, 19 and 26. Convict cowboys, allegedly the most reckless in the nation, had a taste of what is in store for them at a try-out session in the big prison arena last Sunday. Their conclusion is that "somebody has done souped-up that bucking stock." Very little doubt remains in their minds that they will mount some of the buckin'est critters ever seen in anybody's rodeo arena. And they are probably right, for the broncos and bulls, used only once a year in the four Sunday series of shows, don't get used to contact with man enough to tame down like ordinary rodeo stock. Featured guest attraction for the opening day performance will be the 130 piece University of Texas Longhorn Band and the "Texas Stars", the group of majorettes and twirlers featured with the band at football games. Specialty acts by the Hendricks Family, acclaimed "the greatest troupe in rodeo today", by the nation's biggest rodeo producers will perform between events. The Hendricks brothers, twins Byron and Lee, specialize in the most daring feats of trick riding and horsemanship. With their sister, Ann Hendricks, the twins stage comedy acts guaranteed to roll the audience in the aisles. Professional rodeo clown, Jess Reynolds, who brings the only Liberty Act performed with Brahma bulls to the show will assist inmate clowns in entertaining the spectators and protecting fallen riders from wild bulls. The fastest riding quadrille group in East Texas, the Angelina County Mounted Quadrille, will cut square dance capers on horseback. Add music by no less than three fine inmate musical groups and you will see a show that provides a chill, a spill, or a thrill every hour of its two hour duration.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kizer, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Kizer and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Starks of Rising Star were in Fort Worth recently.

B. Irvin, Fort Worth. Mrs. Irvin returned home with the Sheppards to get acquainted with her new granddaughter, Brenda Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Biggs Irvin of Fort Worth. anyone to concur with us. However, it is our opinion that the Democratic voters of the State of Texas should stretch every candidate on the Democratic ticket who has allowed his name to appear in more than one column of the General Election ballot. A man or woman running on the Democratic ticket in Texas should not be afraid to face the issues and run as a DEMOCRAT. We are not against the Republican Party, but we do feel that a candidate cannot possibly ride a Donkey nor an Elephant in two opposite directions at the same time. John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, is the only candidate in the state who has refused to allow his name to be cross-filed on the state Republican ticket, and in our opinion, he is the only true Democrat in politics in Texas on the state level.

POLITICS ON the national level is, this week, still concerned with the personal aspects of the four candidates, and as far as this department is concerned, this battle is being waged to cover up the real issues of the campaign. Personally, we are not interested in the individuals nearly as much as we are the principles upon which the candidates of the two parties are supposed to be campaigning, and we agree with Gov. Fulbright that the campaign should be returned to the original issues, rather than the personal lives and incomes of the candidates.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig McNeel left Thursday for a visit with relatives in Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pruitt and son have returned from a two week vacation trip to Pampa.

Pat McNeel, Sr. and Pat, Jr. made a business trip to Kentucky last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Neel of San Angelo visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Neel Sunday night, returning to their home Monday.

Fort Worth—Heavy pressure continued on cattle and calf prices this week. Another excessive run of grassers and shortfeds appeared at the 12 major markets Monday when over 165,000 cattle and calves appeared and roughly 75 per cent of these were grassers and stockers and feeders at many markets. This was over 23,000 over a week earlier and over 42,000 over the same day last year.

Most cattle and calves ruled 50 cents to $1 or more lower at Fort Worth, with some spots $1 to $1.50 off on calves and yearlings and the plain and medium steers. Stocker demand remained narrow over the country and packers reported excessive supplies of meat other than strictly choice grain fed beefs.

Deterioration of pastures in Kansas and Oklahoma increased the rush from those areas. Continued lack of moisture dampened prospects for wheat grazing over the Texas-Oklahoma-Kansas plains.

Hogs opened the week with 25 to 50 cents higher prices and a top of $20.75 to $21. Sows drew $17.50 down. Sheep and lambs opened steady.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings sold for $23 to $30, odd club calves $33 and $34, while plain and medium slaughter kinds sold at $14 to $22 with cutter grades from $10 to $14. Stocker steer yearlings bulked at $14 to $24, with a few choice lightweights to $25. Stocker heifers sold from $22 down.

Fat cows cashed at $13.50 to $17, with canners and cutters at $19 to $13.50. Stocker cows sold from $14 to $18.50. Bulls sold from $12 to $19.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $20 to $27 and plain and medium slaughter kinds sold from $14 to $19, with cull sorts from $10 to $14. Good and choice fat lambs sold from $10 to $17. Cull lambs, yearlings, and two's sold from $8 to $10. Fresh shorn lambs and sheep usually sold $1 to $2 under woolskins.

Yearling weathers sold at $17 down, and two-year-olds sold from $12.50 down. Aged wethers cashed at $10 down. Slaughter ewes sold from $5.50 to $7, and some solid-mouthed ewes drew $7 to $8.50. Old bucks cashed at $6 to $6.50. Feeder yearlings sold from $10 to $12.
