

"AS I SEE IT"

By Jack McCarty

Tragedy struck this community a shocking blow last Saturday evening when the word was received that Roy Lee Little had drowned while boat riding on Lake Brownwood. Roy Lee was born and reared here and his friends were countless. He was a close friend of this writer and we feel a real loss in his untimely death. We knew him to be honest, cheerful, energetic, helpful and reverent and our heartfelt sympathy is extended to his loved ones who survive.

This department extends congratulations to Alex Shockley upon his appointment as Justice of the Peace here and it is our opinion that the Commissioners' Court made a wise selection. Alex should make this community an excellent Justice and we pledge him our wholehearted cooperation.

The City of Cross Plains took on a "new look" this week . . . we are speaking of the Christmas lights and tree on Main Street and it makes a person realize that Old St. Nick will be making his annual ride in just 21 more days, leaving only 17 shopping days until Christmas. Local stores are gaily decorated and all are jam-packed with Christmas merchandise for your gift buying. Citizens of this trade territory are urged to buy at home this Christmas. You will find any and all of your Christmas needs in the stores of your home-town merchant where courtesy reigns supreme and prices are always reasonable.

As an added feature this year, the local Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring a huge community Christmas tree, located in the center of Main Street in front of the Higginbotham store and plans are being made to sponsor a big community Christmas program soon. Members of the Fire Department are to be commended for their community spirit. Also coming in for a share of the credit is Tom Bryant who donated the 25-foot Christmas tree.

While perusing a recent copy of "Caps and Lower Case," a trade journal issued monthly by Jagers, Chiles & Stovall, Inc., of Dallas, we ran across a story entitled, "Point of View," which we particularly appreciated and pass along to our readers, as follows:

"Looking at life is a great deal like looking at a church window. There is no more beautiful sight in the world than the rays of the late morning sun lighting up the rich colors of the figure of Christ ministering to the little children grouped in various-hued robes about him. In each corner of the window will be symbols of protection, such as a shepherd watching his flock or a mother holding her babe. All give added meaning to the center figure and every prism of glass and every color has been carefully selected to give entrancing and soul-satisfying beauty. The more one looks at such a window, the more symbolism he sees the more lifted in his spirit and body."

"Or, the window can become a collection of colored glass, crudely held together by lead molding of a dull grey color. The figures shown can be delineated, crudely, by glass varying between dirty and clean. The corner figures can appear confusing, irrelevant and put in merely to cover up space. The sun could much better have been tempered by a frosted window of regular design with the archaic figures left entirely out.

"The happenings of life, the people we meet, the things we strive for, all can be a beautiful experience, woven together in an exciting existence, or the same episodes can be accepted as trivial incidents leading to dissatisfaction and boredom. The choice is ours."

NUMBER THIRTY-SIX

Roy Lee Little, Drowning Victim, Buried Here Monday; Services Held at Rising Star

Funeral services were conducted at the First Methodist Church in Rising Star, Monday afternoon for Roy Lee Little, 36, who drowned in Lake Brownwood late Saturday afternoon, while boat riding with his sister-in-law, Miss Jessie Ruth McAdams, and Miss Martha Anne Sears.

Services were in charge of Rev. C. Y. Butler, pastor of the local Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Harper, pastor of the Rising Star church and Rev. R. Bryant Twitty of Sherman. Interment was made here with following cousins of the deceased serving as pallbearers: Norman Little, J. T. Cooper, Floyd Gooch and Roy Little, all of Abilene; Harlon Lacy of Dallas and J. Y. Robinson of Comanche.

He was born and reared here and graduated from high school here. For several years he operated a service station here, before moving to Rising Star about 10 years ago to take over the operation of the Texas Company dealership there.

Survivors include his widow, one daughter, Anna, 12; his mother, Mrs. Minnie Little of this city and two sisters, Mrs. Joe B. White of Penwell and Mrs. Buster Atwood of Kermit. Roy Lee was drowned at Lake Brownwood about 5:30 Saturday afternoon and the two young ladies narrowly escaped death when his boat overturned near Minton Point of the 36th Division State Park.

Recovering at a Brownwood hospital are Misses Sears and McAdams. They were suffering from shock and exposure. Miss Sears was unconscious. Both are nurses in Jeff Davis Hospital at Houston and had been visiting the Littles over the holidays.

Little owned a cabin at Minton Point and the family and visitors had arrived there about 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

Little and the two nurses had gone out on the lake in his boat, a 16-foot metal craft with outboard motor. The boat overturned some 80 yards from shore, about 150 yards northeast of Hill's Boat Dock. It was reported that Little attempted to swim to shore while the two women remained with the boat.

Ben Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oral Evans of Lake Brownwood, and State Game Warden John R. Wood recovered Little's body about 80 yards off-shore in 20 feet of water. A grappling hook being used by Evans caught Little's clothing. Wood said they had made about four "drags" in the area before locating the body.

Members of the Brown County Emergency Unit were preparing to launch a boat when Wood called that the body had been recovered. Complete equipment of the unit, including portable lights, was enroute to the State Park site.

Misses McAdams and Sears were rescued by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hill and her father, W. J. Cutbigh.

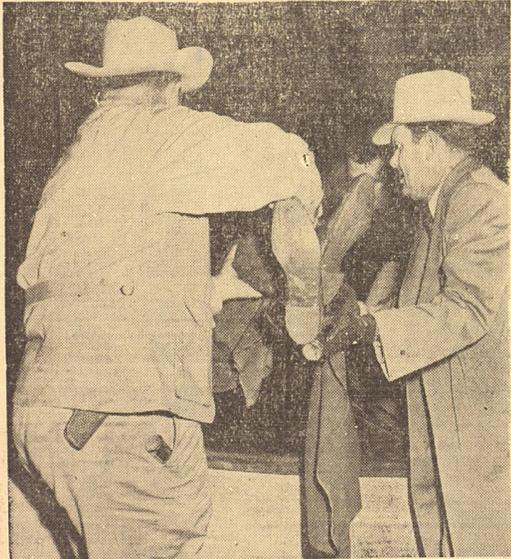

The Hill residence is some 100 yards up-shore from the Little cabin. Anna, daughter of the Littles, went to the Hill home and told them that a boat was overturned off the point.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill and Mr. Cutbigh went to their boat docks for their boat. The motor would not start and they rowed to the overturned boat.

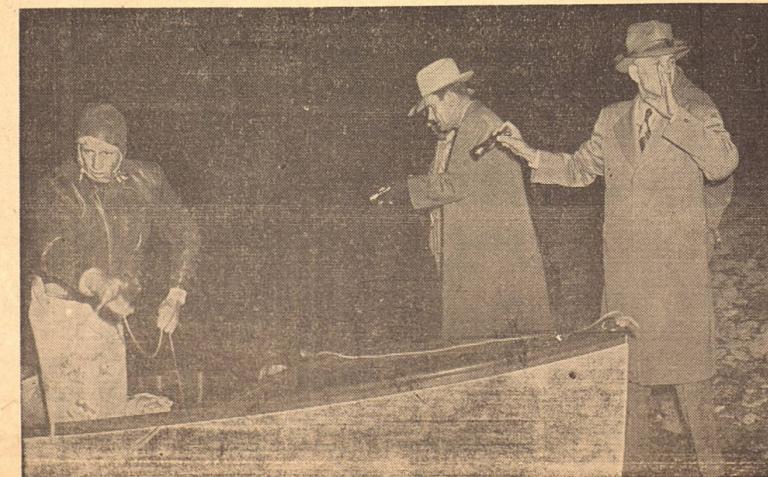

They said that when they arrived at the boat, Miss McAdams was holding Miss Sears up. They said the two faced each other across the end of the overturned craft and that Miss McAdams had one hand holding to the boat and the other holding Miss Sears' arm.

The rescuers reported that Miss Sears was unconscious and was "stiff as a board." Miss McAdams insisted that they take Miss Sears into the boat first. The Hills and Mr. Cutbigh experienced some

Gib Wilcoxon Kills Large Timber Wolf On Fry Ranch Last Week

N. G. (Gib) Wilcoxon, well known farmer in the Cottonwood community, was in town Saturday displaying a 48-pound grey timber wolf, which he killed with a cyanide gun trap on Tuesday of last week.

Wilcoxon is a veteran trapper, enjoying it as a hobby for the past 35 years. He has been trapping for W. T. (Dub) McClure for the past several years, and stated that McClure and Raymond Demerie, another rancher in the area north of Cottonwood, pay him $35.00 for each wolf he kills.

He stated that he had been after this large wolf since last September when he caught him by one toe in a steel trap on the McClure ranch. The wolf pulled loose from the trap, leaping the toe and an examination showed that the animal was the same one, being minus a toe on his left foot. There are quite a number of wolves preying on livestock in the area around Cottonwood, according to Wilcoxon and this kill brought his total to 19 in the past eight months.

Wilcoxon stated that a conservative estimate on the number of goats falling prey to this large wolf would be about 60 head in the past 90 days. He said that the average timber wolf weighs about 25 to 30 pounds, and this was the largest he had ever killed.

The wolf was killed on the Douglas Fry place, just north of Cottonwood.

Alex Shockley Named Justice Of Peace By Commissioners Court

County Judge J. L. Farmer announced this week that Alex Shockley, popular disabled veteran of the last war, has been named Justice of the Peace here, to serve out the unexpired term of Mason Shuford, deceased.

Shockley was named to the office by the Commissioners' Court, meeting in regular session at the court house in Baird on Monday of this week, and has been sworn into the office.

Workmen from West Texas Utilities Co., Klzzer Telephone Co. and city employees completed the stringing of Christmas lights on Main Street here Tuesday of this week and the city took on a Christmas look Tuesday night when the gay colored lights were turned on.

Members of the Volunteer Fire Department turned out Tuesday night and placed a huge Christmas tree, measuring 25 feet in height in the middle of Main Street in front of Higginbotham Bros. & Co. and work of decorating and lighting it will be completed this week, according to Fire Chief V. C. Walker.

Plans are being made by the Fire Department to sponsor a big community Christmas program around the tree in the near future and further details will be published in the later editions of the Review.

Stores are all dressing their fronts and show windows in the Christmas theme and the city presents a very pretty picture, especially at night when the lights are turned on.

A visit in the stores here reveals large stocks of Christmas merchandise, reasonably priced and citizens of this trade territory should be able to find everything they need to complete their gift lists.

First Christmas Seal Returns Reported

First returns from Christmas Seal letters now coming in by mail to the headquarters of the Callahan County Tuberculosis Association have reached a total of $289., Mrs. C. H. Sladous, county Christmas Seal chairman, announced Monday.

The Christmas Seal Sale which opened November 17 and will continue until December 25 is conducted annually by the National Tuberculosis Association and its 3,000 affiliated associations, including the Callahan County Tuberculosis Association.

Although early returns are light, Mrs. Sladous said she feels certain that Callahan County residents will be as generous as ever in buying and using Christmas Seals on their holiday cards and packages.

"When postmen deliver the contributions of the people of this area, I like to recall the fact that it was a postal worker who started the whole thing," she said. "It was Einar Holboell, a Danish postal clerk, who first thought of using a special stamp on Christmas mail to raise money to fight disease."

She explained that Christmas Seal money is used in this county for tuberculosis prevention and control projects including patch test, chest X-rays and aid to active cases of TB.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnel Clark of Mullin were here during the week end visiting his mother, Miss Jeff Clark.

Miss Helen Plumlee Married to Wm. R. Wardroup, Jr., Saturday

Miss Helen Ruth Plumlee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Plumlee of Cross Plains, became the bride of William R. Wardroup, Jr. of Hobbs, New Mexico at 6:30 o'clock on the evening of November 26 in the auditorium of the Church of Christ here. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. William Wardroup of Lubbock, mother of the bridegroom, was here for the ceremony and reception.

Standing before an improvised archway of yellow satin streamers entwined with yellow chrysanthemums and banked at either end by floor baskets of bronze and yellow mums, the couple exchanged vows before Minister Lawrence Smith of Abilene Christian College, who read the single ring rites. Burning yellow tapers in brass cathedral holders were placed behind the arch against a background of emerald foliage. Pews were marked with yellow candles.

Candle lighters were Miss Viola Allred and Mrs. Ralph Russell, both of Merkel.

Miss Billie Ruth Loving of Cross Plains sang "I Love Thee" and "My Here" as pre-nuptial music. "Here Comes the Bride" and Lohengrins wedding march were chanted by eight members of the ACC Chorales.

Given in marriage by her brother, Ray, the bride wore a colonial gown of ivory satin and ivory chantilly lace. The tight bodice was fashioned with long fitted sleeves tapering to points over her hands. The full bouffant skirt extended in a cathedral train with an overskirt of chantilly. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a band of orange blossoms and her necklace was a single strand of pearls. She wore a white gold watch bracelet, a gift of the groom.

The bride's flowers were an arangement of cream feathered mums, gardenias and cream roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Ann Marshall of McCamey and matron of honor was Mrs. Kenneth Bibb of Throckmorton, friends of the bride. Mr. Wallace C. Wardroup of Ardmore, Oklahoma was his brother's best man and Carl E. Gandy of Gatesville was groomsmen. Ushers were Ledford C. Stokes of Lubbock and James C. Coburn of Clifton, Texas. Miss Allred and Mrs. Russell also acted as bridesmaids.

Maid of honor, matron of honor and bridesmaids wore identical waltz length dresses of amber net over tiered skirts of taffeta shading from soft yellow to deep bronze. They carried colonial rosette bouquets of talisman and cream roses tied with autumn shades of satin ribbon.

The bride's mother wore sapphire blue crepe and the bridegroom's mother was dressed in beige crepe. Both wore corsages of bronze baby mums. Miss Loving was attired in champagne net embroidered with gold over amber taffeta with a wristlet of bronze baby mums.

At the reception the bride's chosen color of amber was carried out in decorations and amber punch. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and surrounded with yellow roses. Members of the house party were Miss Geneva Marshall of Snyder, Mrs. Sonne Umberson of Stanton, Mrs. Colvin Lackey of Seagraves, Mrs. Ray Plumlee, Miss Loving and Mrs. Russell.

For going away Mrs. Wardroup wore mauve wool with matching hat and black accessories.

The couple are now at home in Hobbs where Mr. Wardroup is employed as a petroleum engineer with the Humble Oil & Refining Co.

Report Cites Game Arrests

Austin, Nov. 25.—The Director of Law Enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission said the latest arrest report accurately portrays some of the "don't" for the big game hunters now swarming through Texas deer and turkey haunts.

The report, covering prosecutions for October, show how close to 500 persons got into trouble. "Many of the offenses," said the Director, "are the type of offenses that may tempt big game hunters."

He cited the cases involving shooting game out of season such as doves and quail; shooting deer at night; shooting doe deer; shooting fawn deer; possessing deer with evidence of sex missing; possessing more than the legal limit; hunting from automobile; hunting with unplugged shotgun; and hunting with headlights.

The report coincided with an observation by the director that the newly equipped warden force is using two-way radio and better trained personnel to check on the wayward hunters.

The total of fines and court costs for the 493 cases was $12,875.75 compared with 320 cases and $8,462.98 for October last year and 303 cases and $10,788.90 for the previous month this year.

Justices of the peace were stern with many offenders, according to the Director. He cited the case of two Baytown men who paid close to $1,000 for killing a buck and a doe out of season. They got $200 for killing a doe, $200 for killing a buck, $200 for trespassing, $100 for possessing doe meat, $100 for possessing buck meat, all plus costs. And the radio network whereby a warden in one county flushed the pair and notified the warden in the next county was responsible for the seizure.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brown had as guests during the holidays their son, Tom Brown and family, of La Porte.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Carter and daughter were in Ballinger Thursday visiting his mother, Mrs. Mary Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bayley of Goldthwaite were Sunday visitors in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCarty.

Do you Remember?...

Taken From The Files of The Review, 15 and 25 Years Ago

DECEMBER 3, 1937

A slow winter rain fell over the entire Cross Plains trade territory Wednesday, netting nearly an inch of moisture. The precipitation was of benefit to grain crops throughout this section, many of which were beginning to suffer for the lack of water.

An enthusiastic general meeting of the newly organized Cross Plains Chamber of Commerce was held in the city office Tuesday night with 33 farmers and business men in attendance.

Funeral services for A. Ogilvy, long time Cross Plains citizen, who died at his home in the northeast part of town about nine o'clock Thursday morning, will be held Friday.

A 4,000 foot test for oil three miles northeast of Cross Plains appeared definitely assured Thursday morning, as it was learned that efforts to block sufficient acreage in that vicinity were near completion.

Miss Jennie Laura Jackson of Cross Plains and Everette Jones of Baird were united in marriage at the Presbyterian manse here Wednesday night of last week.

Memories of 50 years of happy married life were recalled Thanksgiving day by Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Franke, beloved Cross Plains couple, as they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. G. C. Dill, 49, died at her home here Monday night after a long illness.

That the Cross Plains trade territory is one of the most diversified agricultural belts in Texas is generally an accepted fact, however, revenues from some of the even smaller crops throughout this section reach large totals. $1,200, was paid the Cross Plains farmers for sweet cream during the month of November and $11,000, was paid for turkeys.

Quail Season To Open With Fair Shooting Outlook

AUSTIN, Nov. 29. — The annual quail season, which opened December 1 under the General State Law, climaxes a pretty good fall wildlife harvest, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said prospects are for a generally average shoot although some sections will find quail scarce because of the prolonged drouth. But Texas which often numbers its quail population as high as 15,000,000 will again provide many exciting hours of hunting this, the king of the small game crop.

One promising phase this year concerns the moisture which, for the first time in many seasons, will permit successful use of the indispensable bird dog. Recent seasons have been too dry to permit successful scent.

This is the sport in which the man and his dog come into their element, said the Executive Secretary. This is the time when the farm boy and Old Tige and the city man with his carefully groomed pointer or setter strike their stride.

The reliable bobwhite is the mainstay of the quail population in most of the state although some areas have the scaled quail or the blue quail almost exclusively.

The General Law Season runs from December 1 through January 16, with shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset and with a bag limit of twelve per day and not more than thirty-six per week or in possession.

But there are special seasons by areas or by counties. The 28 county Panhandle group has a 12 bird per day bag limit with a possession limit of 24. Shooting hours there are from sunrise to sunset.

Veterans ? Box

Q—I hold a National Service Life Insurance policy, and I'm also drawing monthly disability compensation payments from the VA. Would it be possible for VA to deduct the monthly insurance premiums from my compensation checks, so I wouldn't have to bother with the payments myself?

A—Yes. You may authorize VA to deduct premium payments from your monthly compensation, provided your compensation is large enough for this purpose. VA Form 9-887, available at any VA office, should be used in authorizing the deduction.

Q—Assume that a veteran meets all the requirements for Korean GI Bill training. May he enroll under this Act even though he has gone back on active duty and is now in uniform?

A—No. Veterans on active duty are not eligible for Korean GI Bill training, even though they meet all the law's basic requirements.

Q—A veteran in my family is eligible for extra pension payments because he is so helpless that he needs constant aid and attention of another person. Is he supposed to hire an outsider to attend him, or would it be all right for a member of his immediate family to help him?

A—A veteran entitled to the increased payments need not go outside his family to hire an attendant. Any member of his family may help him. He still would be entitled to the extra pay, so long as he is otherwise eligible.

Q—I've just been discharged from service, and I plan to apply for Korean term insurance sometime within 120 days of my discharge. Is an application sufficient, or must I also pay a monthly premium?

A—An application alone would not be sufficient. You also must pay the required first premium before the 120-day deadline.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Thate were in Austin on Thursday of last week to attend the Texas and A&M football game.

Visitors in the home of Jim Settle during the Thanksgiving holidays were his son, Jimmie and family of Henrietta, and his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gilmore, of Lajolla, California.

PROPERLY MANAGED PASTURES MEAN MORE MILK AND BEEFSTEAK PER ACRE

Good pastures provide a tool against erosion, a way to revive abandoned land, and an opportunity to stabilize your income by getting away from too much row crop agriculture.

It is a known fact that a good pasture will produce the equivalent of one-third to one-half more pounds of digestible nutrients per acre than would be produced by corn on the same land with the same treatment. An acre of good pasture will produce annually 3,500 pounds or more of digestible nutrients.

This is true because nearly all of the rain that falls on the pasture sod is soaked up for the grass to use. With proper management, soil fertility is built up more rapidly under a permanent cover of vegetation than is possible with any other use.

Loan Sharks Resort To Devious Methods

Dallas, Nov. 27.—To evade the constitutional limitation on interest, Texas loan sharks resort to devious methods, the most used scheme at present being "credit insurance," declares E. C. Fritz, Dallas attorney, who has made a study of the loan shark evil as a member of the anti-usury committee of the State Junior Bar Association.

Credit insurance is somewhat involved and intricate but the practical result is that the borrower pays approximately 140 per cent interest. Here is the way it works: A man has urgent need for $25. He gives a note to be paid in three months in weekly installments. He is charged 24 cents as interest (10 per cent) plus a "service charge" of $1. But before he gets the $25, he is told:

"Something might happen to you in the next three months—an accident, serious illness, even death, so you must take out health, accident and insurance to protect us against loss."

The premium on the insurance is $7.96, which makes the total cost of the $25 loan $34.20. The insurance company receives 15 per cent of the premium; the loan company, as "agent", is allowed a commission of 85 per cent.

But the shark is not satisfied even with this. So far from desiring to help a borrower work out his financial problems, the company wants to keep him in debt. So if he misses a weekly installment, a day or two later he will receive a phone call, "Come down and renew."

Most of what he has already paid has been applied to the insurance premium, the service charge and the interest but suppose he has paid sufficient to reduce the $34.20 face amount of the note to $20. He signs a new note for the original amount $34.20 and receives $5 in cash. As a part of the $34.20, he has to pay another $7.96 credit insurance premium, even though the three months for which the first policy was written have not expired. Thus, in effect, he is paying "interest on interest." Then, when he again gets behind, he signs a new note, pays the $7.96 premium again—and so the process goes until the borrower is so heavily involved that he is virtually working for the loan company.

With the purpose of driving the loan sharks out of business in Texas through legitimate competition, the Texas Junior Bar Association has approved a small loan bill similar to the legislation which 30 states have adopted.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Placke were in Rising Star Sunday afternoon visiting Mrs. Myrtle Holoman.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Nichols and family visited in the Ray Ford home in Snyder Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McGowan, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McGowan, Jr. and son, Jerry, of Monahans and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heyser of Putnam were visitors in the home of Mrs. George B. Scott during the holidays.

Cottonwood P-TA Report

Mrs. Edgar Albrecht, Reporter

"The Harvest Festival" which was held at the Cottonwood school building Thursday night, November 20, drew an exceptionally large crowd and grossed about $67.

The evening's activities were started with supper served by the P-TA, followed by a musical program featuring the Polka Dot Boys and Bingo. The school children also presented a short program including the coronation of Barbara Purvis as Harvest Queen. She was escorted by Dan Archer.

The Cottonwood P-TA which sponsored the "Harvest Festival" wishes to thank everyone who helped in any way to make the occasion a success. Especially do we thank the business houses of Cross Plains for their generous contributions to the bingo stand, the guest singers and musicians and other individuals who took part on the program and all those who donated cakes, pies and other foods.
