Cross Plains'

NUMBER THIRTY

The skies are heavy as this is being written (Wednesday morning) and part of the local population is silently wishing for rain while others are loud in wishing for a few more days of dry weather so that they can complete their peanut and cotton harvest. For this very reason, it is well that man has no control over the elements because it could easily start a civil war. . . . Next Saturday has been proclaimed as United Nations Day by President Eisenhower and while the organization is sharply criticized from numerous angles, it is our opinion that the future of the world depends on the success or failure of this organization. In a box on this page readers will find the full text of the President's proclamation and we recommend that everyone read it.

This department was proud of the Buffalo football squad last Friday night. While they lost to the powerful Dublin Lions, it is our opinion that they played their best game of the season, thus far, and were simply out-classed. However, they gave Dublin one of the best battles they have had this season and forced the Lion coach to play his first string team all evening Barring injuries, we predict that the Buffs will wind up their season with only three conference losses. The Thundering Herd journeys to Cisco Friday night where they will tangle with the Class AA Loboes in a nonconference tilt. While little is known about the Cisco lads, we are going to string along with the Buffs and predict another victory for our side. Let's follow the Buffs to Cisco.

In another story in this edition of the Review announcement is made that the young people of the various churches here have joined forces with other youth of Texas in backing the Milk for Hungry Children Campaign and will make a house-to-house canvass of the town raise funds for this worthy project. When one of these youngsters call rational meeting attended by more too small nor too large.

So often many are constrained to fairs of every day life and at the count their wealth in numerous ways. For example:

Cash low? Short of dough? That seems to be a common ailment at of the things that money can't Money can't buy friendship. It must be earned.

Nor a clear conscience: Square dealing is the price tag. Money can't buy good health.

Right living is the secret. It can't buy happiness. That is a mental attitude. Money can't buy sunsets, nor singing birds. They are as free as the air we breathe. Money can't buy inward peace.

Nor can it buy character. Make a list of these priceless possessions. If you have them you'll find yor are as rich as Rockefeller.

Tarleton State College Homecoming Nov. 7

Stephenville—The annual Fall homecoming at Tarleton State College here has been set for Nov. 7.

The day-long activities will include reception, dinner, and dance for exstudents.

Plans call for a three-mile long parade to form at 10:00 a.m. Twenty five high school bands have been asked to march. Others to participate will include the Tarleton cadet corps and co-education band and colorful floats entered by Stephenville merchants and ex-students from other towns.

Highlight of the afternoon will be the football game between San Angelo Junior College and Tarleton. Kick-off time has been set for 2:00 p.m., but the Homecoming Queen will be crowned in pre-game events at Memorial Field.

The reception, dinner, and dance for ex-students will follow the game. Honor guests at the dinner will be former Tarleton professors of military science and tactics. Among these will be S. F. Davis, now serving as head of Tarleton's chemistry department. He served as the first military instructor at the

After the ceremonies, President Eisenhower drove to Laredo and took a plane for Washington.

- t p a -Behind all the pomp and excitement of the Eisenhower visit to. Texas a political struggle was going on as three factions sought the favor of Texas voters.

These were the Republicans, the Shivers or Conservative Democrats, and the Adlai Stevenson or Liberal Democrats.

National Republican Chairman Leonard Hall concluded a visit to Texas after exhorting his party's members to whoop up their efforts. "If you work hard," he said in a speech at Houston, "it wil not be long before we find as many Repubicans in Texas as we find in New going to participate in a winter hay program," Shivers said, "I feel the states should also participate very strongly, by management, money, or otherwise. That may necessitate a session of the legislature."

- t p a -If called, the session would deal only with the hay plan, and not concern itself with teacher pay.

There has been hope that money for teacher salary increases would become quickly available if the U.S. Supreme Court refused to consider the validity of a gas gathering tax passed by the Texas Legislature in Such a ruling would have had the effect of upholding the tax and would have made the tax revenues, now being collected under protest and unspent, subject to appropriation by the legislature for teacher pay hikes or any other purpose.

But the court decided to hear arguments on the appeal of test cases brought by a number of pipeline companies.

That takes time, and it will probably be next year before there is a supreme court decision in the

More money for teachers is an essential and urgent proposition, says James A. Redmond of Beaumont, president of the Texas Association of school boards.

Speaking at a meeting of the association here, Redmond stated that unless something is done soon about the shortage of teachers things will "certainly become critical and can only result in further curtailment of education."

Governor Shiveres told the school board members that there is no disagreement about the need of teachers for a pay boost, but there is disagreement about how to bring it

BIBLE Question

QUESTION: Can we believe both the theory of evolution and the Bible or does evolution prove the Bible false?

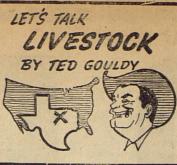

ANSWER: Evolution has not roved the Bible to be false for the simple reason that evolution itself has not been proved. Many scientists have rejected it and among those who do believe evolution there is a wide variety of opinions. All the proof that is offered to sustain the theory is less than conclusive. There are as many facts known to science that directly contradict the theory as there are that SEEM to support it. It is foolish to throw away the Bible on account of an unproved theory which is gradually falling into disrepute.

Regarding the first part of the question, it is impossible to believe the Bible as one must believe it in order to be saved and yet believe the theory of evolution. The theory flatly contradicts the teaching of the Bible. In an effort to appease those holding to evolution some have tried to show that the days of Genesis one, where the Bible account of creation is given, were not twenty-four hour days but were long periods of time during which God 'created" all things through evolution. The language of Genesis one however shows this to be false. After each act of creation the statement is made, "And the EVENING and the MORNING were the first day, etc." This shows that each day was a twenty-four hour day as are ours today.
