Mrs. Paul McNabb, Former Baird Resident, Dies In Abilene

SWEET 'N SOUR

January bowed out last week and February moved in - Febwith her icy fingers and warm hearts — month of patriotic holidays and — most important of all — the day when we celebrate in honor of the Patron Saint of livers - Saint Valentine's Day. Young people today send messages of affection to each other with utmost abandon as to the contents but abandon as to the contents, but there was a time, children, when they were taken in all sincerity they were taken in all sincerity and a request to "be my valentine" carried with it a definite odor of orange blossoms. Although few of us will be sending tokens of matrimonial intention the ones we do send can be full of real friendship and affection. Don't mark Valentine's Day off as a child's holiday — make it an opportunity of telling your friends that you appreciate them as such.

We've had a wonderful week visiting with the Prews, Jim and visiting with the Prews, Jim and Mary, in Clyde, and enjoying immensely their distinguished house guest, writer Howard Griffin. The young Texan, whose rise in the literary world has been nothing short of phenominal, is a tremendously likeable person, Completely free of pretense, he's a sincere and believable person and it is little wontense, he's a sincere and believable person and it is little wonder that he projects this honesty into his books until they the believable too. #### OPPORTUNITY FOR GROWTH

We salute the Boy Scouts of America, observing its 43rd birthday during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13, with its membership at an all-time high of 3,500,000 boys and adult leaders enrolled.

Our nation is all the richer for since 1910 more than 20,200,000 Americans have benefitted by the training, fellowship, handicraft skills and high adventure of Scouting, and have been strengthened by the high ideals of the Scout oath and Laws.

Boy Scout Week this year places a major emphasis on "The Scout Family." This is a two-way recognition. It honors the many fathers of Scouts amnog the 850,000 adult volunteer leaders in the organization. It salutes the 127,209 mothers who give generously of their time as Den Mothers in the Cub Scout ranks. It is here that the enrichment of family life is a main objective. Through doing things together boys and parents learn to know each other better. This emphasis upon strong family ties helps to build a stronger America.

"The Scout Family" of Scouting programs meet the varying needs of boys. Cub Scouting is for boys 8, 9, and 10 years old. Boy Scouting is for those 11, 12 and 13. Exploring is for young men 14 and older.

There are 58,934 churches, synagogues, schools, civic and fraternal groups who sponsor the nation's 84,300 Scouting Units in their aims to strengthen family life and build a better future citizenship in the community.

Most of these groups sponsor one of the three programs. The need today is for more boys to have the advantages of Scout training. These groups can best meet this challenge by sponsoring additional programs. This would make it possible for a boy to enjoy Scouting over a ten year span, from 8 to 18, under the same auspices.

Since the mention of him in this column two weeks ago Taylor has received some high praise by the sport writers. Coach George Sauer has high hopes for him as offensive center and defensive linebacker based on the showing he is making in spring practice now in progress. If Tay'or makes it, Clyae will have two starters in the lineup as Allen Jones is due to be the fullback.

Our neighboring city of Albany is developing quite a bit of flying enthusiasm. Local flyers have four new planes on order to be delivered soon, two of them in March. One of the new planes will be delivered to John McGaughey, Publisher of The Albany News, and Grocer Arthur Adams. Their plane is a four-place Piper Tri-Pacer. Albany has reason to be proud of Taylor Airport with its 3200 feet of hard hard-surfaced runway.

The end of January means we are going downhill on the winter season. Although we can expect some bad weather in February, we also start having some spring days. About this time of the year the seed catalogs begin to get their share of our attention.

The mentioning of the Put-nam Hotel in the Memory Lane poem caused some reminising by many of the older inhabitants. According to Fred Cook, the hotel, at the time of its completion, was the finest between Fort Worth and El Paso. It had steam heat and modern baths and its own light plant fired with coal. The lights were started each morning at 5:30 and operated until 9:30 P. M. on week days and until 11:30 on Saturday nights.

Burleson Due Top House Spot

A slight shift in Congressional organization is soon likely to elevate Representative Omar Burleson (D-Tex.) to the topranking Democratic position in the House Committee on Administration.

The Seventeenth District Congressman is slated to step into the top spot on the Democratic side of the Committee table by February 3rd, when Representatime Thomas B. Stanley (D-Va.) vacates his and in the House to become a candidate for Gover-nor of Virginia. Stanley was Chairman of the important standing committee of the House in the recent Eighty-second Congress, but lost his chairmanship when the Republicans gain-ed control of the House in last November's election.

Should the Democrats regain control of the House, Burleson is in line to become Chairman of the Administration Committee. He is also eighth ranking Democrat on the Foreign Affairs Committee

Second only to the Virginian as ranking majority member of the Committee in the last Congress, Burleson was Chairman of the active House Committee on Elections. Comprised almost entirely of former judges and attorneys, this body controls Federal elections laws and regulations and serves as a court of last resort in deciding contested Congressional elections.

The Administration Committee is one of 19 standing committees of the House established under the Reorganization Act of 1946. Combining the functions of 10 pre-reorganization committees, it has cognizance over a broader variety of legislative matters than any other House committee.

In addition to its control over election matters, it administers all the myriad Congressional housekeeping affairs, including the multi-million dollar contingent fund of the House. All Congressional investigations are subject to the Committee's action in that the Administration Committee controls investigative

STATE MAY WIN ESTATE WHEN DECEASED LACKS WILL

Made your will? If not, the State of Texas may wind up as owner of your estate upon your death. Under our statutes, the estates of persons having no heirs who die inestate revert, or 'escheat", to the State.

Such provisions have been carried over from the English common law. There, under such circumstances, the estate escheated to the British crown. The theory of the process is that the sovereign (or State), having been the original owner of all lands before they were parceled out to individuals, is entitled to a return of such lands when the possibilities of legal inheritance have been exhausted.

This idea has been expanded to include personal property as well as real estate. It also ap-plies in the case of a person absent from a term of seven years and not known to exist who leaves no heirs and no will.

Presumably, there is hardly a person who does not have some individual or charity that he would prefer to have his estate, rather than have it go to the State be default, so to speak. Yet, surprisingly, estates worth many thousands of dollars do escheat to the various states from time to time.

Now, before you shrug the matter off with the idea that these statutory provisions could not possibly apply to you, better think a minute. Suppose you and your spouse have no heirs besides each other and your children. Many people do fall into this category.

In event of catastrophe resulting in death for you and your entire immediate family, no legal heirs would remain. Therefore if you had no will, your property would go to the State. In preparing a will, it is possible to provide for such an eventuality

In this hypothetical case, you would probably want to designate some friend as executor, to take care of all necessary arrangements and then distribute the estate according to your

On the other hand, if you have plenty of possible heirs, a will could be used to designate which of them shall participate in the division of the estate. And, even if you wish your property to be distributed entirely in accord-ance with our statutes of descent and distribution as explained in previous columns, a will can perform useful functions. Among other uses, a will could provide for an orderly and economical partition of your property, preventing any waste of the assets by heirs impatient for

INTEREST RATE WOULD BE LESS UNDER LOAN BILL

Austin - The small loan bill drawn up by a special commit-tee of the State Bar of Texas and endorsed by the State Junior Bar sets a ceiling on what the borrower will have to pay and this ceiling is less than now permit-ted by statue and the regulations of the State Insurance

So declares Tom Reavley of Jasper, president of the State Junior Bar.

What is called interest can not now exceed 10 per cent a year but the present statues permit a lender to collect other charges which can run the cost up to 100 per cent or more, Reavley points out. Extra charges are called "credit investigation," "drawing papers" and "credit insurance."

"But," said the Junior Bar head, "it doesn't matter to the borrower what the items are called. The practical test is, How much does he have to pay be-

"Under the bill we favor, all charges - whether called interest or anything else — can not be more than 3 per cent a month $100 for hunting at night and on the unpaid balance, if the $200 for hunting after forfeiture loan is $150 or under. If the amount of the loan is larger, then the rate is less. The bill applies to loans of $500 or under and it exempts lenders already licensed by law, such as banks, federal lending agencies, certain coand credit unions.

Safe Shaft Cleaner

When grass or weed stems bind tightly around revolving shafts or axles of farm equipment, it's a vexing and sometimes dangerous job to dig them loose. But here's a safe shaft-cleaner; a steel quarter or half-inch rod, with an 8 or 10-inch handle, and a sharp hook on one end. With it you can break the stems and clean the shaft without danger of losing a finger or hand—even if you've been careless enough to leave the shaft in motion. One farmer made several, one for each implement where wrapped shafts was a problem.

Nephrosis is the general name for the kinds of kidney disease found among children. If discovered early, it can be successfully treated.

Its early symptoms, however, are not always easy to recognize and its exact cause is not fully understood. Nephrosis results usually when for some reason the child's body is not able to absorb protein and fat in the normal way. It is known that, if a child has nephrosis, tests show a lack of protein in the blood and an abnormal amount of protein in the urine. If this situation is not treated promptly, malnutrition and anemia may follow. If unchecked, the disease results in edema, or swelling, in

Return To Normal Living

Let's assume that you are a tuberculosis patient. It could happen to you, you know. There are some 400,000 Americans with "Lenders will be licensed and their books inspected by the State Banking Commissioner."

Reavley declared the small loan bill is based on fairness to year at any age and in any walk of life.

Let's also assume, for purposes of this discussion, that you are already in a tuberculosis hospital receiving the best of medical care. You have learned that, after months of rest in bed, treatment with drugs, and possibly surgery, your disease will be arrested. In short, you will recover. How complete your recovery will be, however, will depend largely on how you live after you leave the hospital.

Scout Family" Honored By Boy Scout Week

The Boy Scouts of America with its membership at an alltime high in excess of 3,250,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and adult leaders, will observe the 43rd birthday of the organization during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13.

The theme of the celebration which will be observed by 84,-300 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Units throughout the United States, its territories and wherever American families live abroad, is "Forward on Liberty's Team." This is the name of the Scouts' Three Year Program which seeks to produce a greater functioning manpower and provide a higher quality program for its ever-increasing boy membership.

Boy Scout Week celebrations this year will stress "The Scout Family" depicting how parents, and others of the family often have a relationship to the Scout Program. At "Open House" evening meetings Scouts will introduce members of their family to their fellow Scouts. At these meetings tribute will be paid to the American home, and its influence on the lives of boys and its place in a free society.

The actual birthday, Feb. 8 will be observed in countless church of all faiths as "Boy Scout Sunday." Scouts and leaders will attend services in uniform. Members of many Scout Units will have their parents and other members of their families sit with them during the services.

Since its inception in this country in 1910, the Boy Scouts of America, and its individual members have always taken a strong position in respect to the place of organized religion in the nation's life.

The 12th point of the Scout Law to which more than 20,000-000 boys and men have subecribed since 1910, reads:

"A Scout is Reverent. He reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion."

During Boy Scout Week, Scouts and leaders will express their appreciation to the organizations and institutions whose sponsorship makes possible their Units' existence. These include the religious bodies which account for almost half of the nation's Scouting Units, the naor state civic groups, school organizations and local civic groups.

In its latest report to Congress the Boy Scouts of America said that 58,934 institutions are sponsors for the nation's Scouting Units. #### Real Needs Cause People To Borrow From Loan Sharks

SAN ANTONIO thousands of people in Texas who are paying 140 percent interest, or more, to loan sharks why do they borrow?" asked John Goode Jr., San Antonio attorney, who is a leader in the State Junior Bar movement against sharks. Answering his own question. Goode said:

"In 30 states, this need is met through lending companies which are licensed, inspected and regulated by the state These companies are permitted by law to charge sufficient to yield a fair profit above the cost of doing business and this cost of doing business naturally includes the higher ratio of losses on such unsecured loans.

"In Texas, however, this method is not possible because of the constitutional limitation on the rate of interest, so legitimate companies stay out and the loan sharks, who care nothing for the constitution, have the field all to themselves and they are having a field day. They load the borrower with 'service charges' and 'credit insurance' until the cost of the loan is so high that he is unable to pay it off and so he renews, paying 'interest on interest' and sinks deeper into the quicksands."

The State Bar of Texas has recommended that the legislature pass a law embodying the principles of fairness alike to borrower and lender. The Junior Bar of Texas has endorsed a bill similar to the small loan laws in effect in most of the states

White Corn Hybrids Ready for Planting

> Plant breeders at Renner began a search for parent strains which might produce hybrids with these characteristics. Experimental hybrids were tested in 1948, a drought year, and one of these, TRF-3, yielded 75% more than the best white hybrid then available. In 1949, a good corn year, its yield agáin exceeded that of the best white hybrids being grown in North Texas. About 15 bushels of the seed were produced in 1949, and samples were distributed to several state experiment stations and to about 50 farmers for testing in 1950. Highly favorable reports resulted. About 200 bushels of the new hybrid were produced in 1950 and sold to the Quaker Oats Company at Sherman, for distribution to farmers. Production was increased in 1951, and again in 1952.

Here are the desirable charac-teristics which make TRF-3 an outstanding hybrid.

1. Its milling quality, including its large grain size.

Its earliness. It is usually ready to harvest a week to 10 days before other hybrids. This is an important factor in white under the Governor's by-line, corn being sold for milling since the premium paid for white corn is often highest early in the harvest season.

NEW DEER TAG IS CONSIDERED

Austin - The Texas Game and Fish Commission tentatively decided to replace the present paper deer tag used by hunters.

Meeting in quarterly session in Austin, the Commission agreed that a proposed new metal tag would be preferable. The Commissioners reported sometimes is re-used. The theory behind the tag, according to the Executive Secretary, is to identify the owner of harvested deer and to prevent any individual from taking more than two deer per season under the General Law.

The Commission postponed discussion of a proposed law permitting a block of Hill Country counties to experiment with a limited doe harvest as a means of balancing the deer herds. Two Marble Falls men - Vern Dillon and Jack Crownover - appeared before the Commission to suggest that the present system for taking buck deer is preferable.

The Commission approved purchase of the J. C. Gambill Wildlife Refuge near Paris, subject to final section of the United States with and Wildlife Service which would provide three fourths of the funds under the Pittman-Robertson Act. It acted after the Executive Secretary reported that a minimum of 411 acres should be added to the present 702-acre deadhead clear off the field of refuge to make the area manageable. The Commission also agreed to study possibility of using part of the refuge for propagating quail.
