In soliciting your vote for the upcoming school board election, I would like to extend a deep thanks to many of you who have shown your support and confidence in me concerning your vote in previous elections. Also, thanks to you, our voters, school patrons and tax payers for your continued support of our fine school system.

I pledge to continue to work hard for our school system and children to steadily improve the quality of education for future generations to come. Over the past few years a new vocational building has been added with the latest and most modern equipment to train our children in various skills and trades enabling them to be self supportive once they graduate. Also, the addition of the Title I and Special Education facilities strengthening us to better serve and better educate all our children in every form. The addition of a new and very well built high school plant is something that we can all be very proud of for many years to come. The credit for these new and added improvements doesn't go to me as your school board member nor the rest of the school board, nor any administrator or school teacher. The credit for these new and improved school facilities goes to you, our school patrons and our many hard working back breaking tax payers for without you and your support we would have nothing. Thanks!

I deeply appreciate the many fine, God-fearing school teachers and administrators that we have in our school system, and the proper example they set in our community for our children.

I would like to extend an extra appreciation to our Superintendent, Mr. Lee Thompson, for his strong knowledge of the business world, in handling capital outlay and a keen sense for classifying business priorities while simultaneously illustrating a sincere concern for the betterment of not only our children, but our community.

Through Mr. Thompson's strong business like leadership, he has been able to cut the number of school board meetings by 60% or more while making for a smoother and efficient school operation, thus molding our school faculty into an unsurpassable unity.

State Capital HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

State Treasurer Warren G. Harding may be describing the recent indictment returned against him or official misconduct as "ridiculous" and "unwarranted," but his challengers in the treasurer's race can be expected to play the matter for all it's worth.

In fact, the Travis County grand jury had hardly handed down the charges when at least one candidate was calling for Harding to drop his re-election bid.

Democratic challenger John Cutright of Austin said that, "in view of the indictment," Harding has become "an unsuitable candidate for public office."

Former Travis County Commissioner Ann Richards said she was "stunned and shocked" at the seriousness of the charges leveled against Harding, and former Waco Rep. Lane Denton, Harding's third Democratic opponent, said the incumbent now probably can do no better than third in the race.

The grand jury has alleged that, on two occasions, Harding had his secretaries performing work for his re-election campaign on state time.

Harding has described the entire investigation of his office as a "witch hunt" and contends that Richards' friends at the Travis County Courthouse set up the whole thing to open the way for her treasurer's campaign.

Richards said that accusation is "just ridiculous."

Redistricting Appeal
It seems that the court battles over the state's redistricting plan may never come to an end. Texas Republicans who challenged the Senate redistricting plan have taken their case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The GOP leaders have taken issue with lines drawn for Dallas congressional districts by a three-judge federal court panel. That panel wiped out a black majority district Gov. Bill Clements had fought for.

The Supreme Court has agreed to expedite the matter because the state's May 1 primary elections are less than six weeks away.

A decision in the case could come down within two weeks.

Bid Rigging Case
Five highway contractors charged with rigging bids on state highway construction contracts have agreed to pay the state $960,000 in civil damages.

Attorney General Mark White announced that he has now negotiated settlements with those firms in civil lawsuits brought in connection with the criminal investigation being conducted by federal prosecutors.

The contracting firms are among nearly 20 companies and about a dozen individuals that have been charged with conspiracy to restrain trade and mail fraud for allegedly submitting collusive, noncompetitive and rigged bids on highway contracts since 1976.

White has two additional civil suits pending against a San Antonio firm and several Lubbock area contractors.

"Where evidence warrants, we have not been hesitant to file suit not only against corporations but also against individuals we believe are responsible for depriving the state of funds it should have received through the highway department," White said.

He contends that the alleged bid riggers have damaged the state to the extent of several million dollars.

Guilty Pleas
Meanwhile, several of the firms charged in the bid rigging case have pleaded guilty in federal district court, including some of those that already have agreed to pay civil damages.

C. H. Allison Paving Co. of San Antonio, Brannan Contractors of Victoria, Paoe Public of Denton and Jagoe's president Gerald G. Ricks are among those who have pleaded guilty to conspiracy to restrain trade in exchange for agreements from U. S. attorneys to drop further prosecution.

The defendants still are awaiting sentencing on the charges. The companies face maximum fines of $1 million each, while Ricks could be sentenced to up to three years in prison and fined up to $100,000 on the felony charges.

Report Fall-Seeded Crops At Sign-up
The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is currently accepting applications for the feed grain, wheat, upland cotton and rice programs. ASC official, Oran Bains, reminds farmers that they can report their wheat, oats, and barley acres when they sign up for the programs and will not have to make a separate visit to the county office. "Some farmers will have seeded spring crops which they can report also," he said.
The 1982 reduction programs offer farmers target price protection, price support loans and use of the grain reserve. To be eligible for these benefits, farmers must agree to reduce their feed grain acres planted for harvest by 10 per cent, and their cotton, rice and wheat acres by 15 per cent.
Bains said program sign-up so far has been light to moderate, but greater activity is expected during the next few weeks. "Only farmers who sign up by April 16 will be eligible for program benefits," he stated.
For wheat program participants, these benefits include $4.05 a bushel target price, a regular loan of $3.55 a bushel, and a reserve loan of $4.00 a bushel. Farmers who participate in the feed grain program will receive target prices of $2.70 per bushel for corn, $2.60 for sorghum and barley, and $1.50 for oats. They will also be eligible for a target price of 71 cents and a loan rate of 57.09 cents a pound. Rice program participants will be eligible for target price protection of $10.85 per hundredweight and loans on their rice at $8.14 per hundredweight.
According to Bains 1982 wheat and feed grains will be eligible for immediate entry in the farmer-owned grain reserve. Feed grain reserve loan levels per bushel are $2.90 for corn, $2.75 for sorghum, $2.37 for barley, and $1.49 for oats.
"Farmers who may be undecided about the programs or who have questions are encouraged to contact our office for more information," the ASCS official said.

By Mrs. N. V. Gibbs
How many days has it been since we've seen the sun shine? The Gibbs gauge has measured three tenths of an inch of rain through all of this cool, damp weather. This is not the time to garden or do field work even though the calendar says spring. Some readings were below 35 degrees Sunday morning.
The community meeting was enjoyed by everyone there and we hope more will be there next month. Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Smedley and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Coots and son Bryan of Clyde were our visitors.
Ellen Reynolds of Austin spent the week end at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Reynolds and also was a guest at the Saturday night supper at the Center.
Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrell and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bell of Baird were in Abilene Saturday night to eat out and go shopping.
Mrs. Gene Mauldin visited in the Jimmy West home Friday morning.
Those attending the annual Coleman Production meeting Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy West and their guests, Warren Price, Chris West and Tony and Judy Steele. Also Mr. and Mrs. John D. Montgomery.
Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dye made a trip to Lovington, N. M. Friday and visited her sister and family the Johnny Gibsons, of that city. Their daughter Julie spent Friday night with her grandmother, Mrs. Russell Dye.

HINTS FOR ADVERTISERS
When you next call The Review, 725-6111, to place a classified ad, remember that words are your business. Words properly put together in an ad mean more phone calls and more sales for you. Follow the rules below and get more and faster results.

1. Put in the address
Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.
2. Put in the phone number
Many readers will call you but will not find it convenient to come to your home or business.
3. Avoid use of blind boxes
Avoid them if possible. They are difficult to answer and people prefer to deal directly.
4. Put in the price, by all means
Surveys show that many people will not answer an ad unless the price is given.
5. Keep the readers from guessing
On important details it is better to include them if they are relevant to a sale.
6. Be available
If you advertise your phone and address, be sure you are not absent when the ad appears so as to accommodate the reader.

Books have been donated to the Cross Plains Public Library by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Casle. Polly Lawson donated three books from the best seller list, "Answer as a Man" by Taylor Caldwell; "Century" by Fred Mustard Stewart, and "A Perfect Stranger" by Danielle Steel.
Randy Cave donated several books to the Library. One of these was a collection of poems entitled "How Do I Love Thee?" poems of yesterday and today by such famous authors as Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Anne Bradstreet, Edgar Allen Poe and Emily Dickinson. "How Do I Love Thee?" is as inspiring as it is timeless. These are poems that endure.

Annual Vines Are Versatile In Garden, Tipster Reports

Editor's Note: The following article is one in the monthly series of gardening tips submitted by the Cross Plains Garden Club. This column is on annual vines.

Annual vines have been labeled the quick-change artists of the garden. In a single season, these quick growing plants can screen out an unpleasant view, shade a too-sunny patio, or enliven a dull corner with color.

Annual vines expend most of their energy producing lavish blooms their first and only season.

All annual vines climb by twining, so give them strings or nets to climb on. If the supports are set at the same time as planting, the seeds can be sown right where they are to grow. These vines do not like to be moved.

To aid germination of hard-shelled seeds, soak overnight in warm water, or shake them in a glass jar lined with sandpaper to wear down the tough cover. This is easier than hand-notching the seeds.

The most popular of the annual vines is the morning glory with blooms from pure white to blue, red, pink, purple and combinations of these colors. They grow well in average soil, like full sun and reach heights of eight feet and up.

Other reliable vines good for this area include the balloon vine (cardiospermum) balsam apple (momordica), bougainvillea, moonflower, queen's jewels or coral-vine (anagallis) and Spanish jessamine.

Two other rewarding vines are sweet peas and scarlet runner beans. Sweet peas are good as a blooming cover and for cutting bouquets. Runner beans are both flowery and edible. Start both when the weather is still cool. Sweet peas can reach a height of six to eight feet while scarlet runners may grow to 12 feet.

Wet, Cold Weather KO's Junior Track

Rain cancelled a junior high school track meet in progress last Friday.

Cross Plains Junior High School girls had a big lead and were apparently headed for the championship when the meet was called because of the rain and cold. Mighty Mites had also scored well when the meet was cancelled.

Coach Wayne Grable reported that his charges had three first place finishes and two second places, among others, when the weather forced the meet to be closed.

Kala Franke captured two blue ribbons with number one finishes in the shot and discus.

Dawn Strength raced to first place in the 400 meter dash.

Suzie McClure had second place finishes in the triple jump and the 100 meter dash. Miss McClure and Staci Weiss tied for third place in the high jump.

Two local relay teams had claimed sixth place in two races. The 800 meter relay unit is composed of Dana Phillips, Pam Hutchins, Audrey Sabatis and Suzie McClure. The quartet forming the 400 meter relay team is Miss Weiss, Melissa Morgan, Miss Strength and Miss McClure.

Mack McConal, athletic director and junior high head coach, listed three placings by Mighty Mites before the meet was called. Lance Clawson claimed third place in the high jump. The Mite 40 yard relay team finished third and was composed of Clawson, Arthur Agnew, Bryan Brown and Randy Walker. Steve Martinez had placed fourth in the shot put.

McConal announced that both the Cross Plains Junior High School boys and girls track teams will be competing in a meet at Bangs Thursday, April 1. Athletes will be leaving here prior to 1 p.m.

Cool .40-Inch Rain Delays Spring Here

Winter-like weather which accompanied a slow, soaking .40 of an inch rain which fell here Friday night, extending into Saturday delayed the permanent arrival of spring to Cross Plains another few days.

Although there was no frost reported and conditions were not favorable for its forming, temperatures in the mid to upper thirties were reported in the area Sunday morning. Spring had made at least a temporary return Tuesday.

The .40 of an inch rainfall raised to 1.70 inches the moisture received here during March, and it brought to 4.85 inches the aggregate gauged in the city thus far this year.

Although the temperatures were cooler than most wanted, weeds, clover and some grasses continued growth and spread. By the same token many flowers, gardens and fruit trees continued to react to the change in seasons also, blooming, growing and budding.

The moisture was helpful on the grain crops and pastures, although it was not especially needed.

11 Finalists Chosen For Congressional Interns

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm announced that 11 finalists have been chosen for the summer Congressional Internship Program. Two Omar Burleson Congressional Interns and two Lyndon Baines Johnson Congressional Interns will be selected by the district-wide eight-person committee, chaired by former Congressman Omar Burleson. These interns will work in the Washington office of the Congressman for one month, in June or July.

"This program is designed to provide the intern with a full Congressional legislative experience in the Washington office. Stenholm said. 'The committee told me that all of the applicants were outstanding, and I am very pleased with the response we have had from the students and teachers in the 17th District. I know it was very difficult to make the selections from the 44 applications received.'

Finalists appearing for interview will be Carl Lee Andrews of Olney, a senior history major at Bob Jones University in South Carolina; Phillip F. Arrien II, junior political science major at Baylor University, from Stephenville; Patsy C. Howard of Rising Star, now working on her Ph.D. in Education Administration/International Education at Texas A&M University; a business and history teacher in the Newcastle ISD, Paula S. Kelly, of Graham; Rice University pre-law student, Evan Nicholas Kramer, from Lockney; Marjorie Maddox, of Colorado City, a freshman at the University of Oklahoma, whose major is communications and public administration.

Also selected were Lory Moore, a 1982 graduate of Clyde High School, Southern Methodist University freshman Mark Robertson of Snyder, majoring in political science; Barbara Ann Shelton of Lake Jackson, a senior communications major at Abilene Christian University; senior mathematics major at Angelo State University from Roscoe, Karri Lynne Waddell; and Mary Ellen Webb, of Jacksboro, an educational diagnostician.

Final selections will be made on April 9 after personal interviews in Abilene.

BISON TRACKSTERS PULL OUT OF MEET SATURDAY

Cold temperatures and damp conditions plus a tightening muscle of a Buffalo runner all contributed to Cross Plains boys pulling out of a track meet at Santa Anna last Saturday.

Several schools decided to pull out of the event because of the inclement weather.

Both boys and girls high school track teams are due to compete at Rising Star in an all-day meet Friday.

Adding Machine Tape, Review.

To The Voters Of The Cross Plains Independent School District

As a candidate for a place on the Cross Plains Board of Education, I would like to take this opportunity to present a brief exposition of my reasons for running and my philosophy concerning the relationship of the school board to students, teachers administrators, and the community in general.

Before I begin by explanation, I wish to state that I am a resident and taxpayer of the Cross Plains Independent School District. I served for twenty years in the school system in the positions of superintendent, high school principal, secondary teacher, and basketball coach. I now have a strong desire to serve another three years as a school trustee. I feel that my background and education place me in a unique position to help the district achieve its goals and graduate students that are good, productive citizens, adequately prepared for a vocation, and capable of functioning effectively in our society.

I feel that the school board should function primarily as a policy-making body and should charge the superintendent of schools with the responsibility of implementing board policy. I definitely feel that the school board should not be involved in the day-to-day operation of the school. The second most important function of the school board, as I see it, is evaluation. The school board must continually evaluate goals, policies, programs, facilities, the curriculum, the budget, and the staff. I see personnel evaluation and the managing of school revenues as areas where the school board should strongly consider the recommendations of the principals and superintendent, since they are in positions to be aware of personnel job performances and the status of available school funds. In short, it is my considered opinion, that because of their training and first-hand knowledge of the situation, the administration should be given more authority in personnel and monetary matters.

I believe in discipline in the schools and in teachers and principals handling disciplinary matters. If problems arise, I feel that the correct procedure is for a parent to first talk to the teacher involved, next the appropriate principal, and finally, if the problem is not resolved, the superintendent of schools. If the problem cannot be resolved at that level, then a request to be placed on the next school board agenda should be made in order that the board can consider the problem.

I also believe that teachers and children are first-class citizens and should receive the same respect, courtesy, and fair treatment that every other person in our society is afforded. We must provide the children with the best educational opportunity that we can afford without placing an excessive tax burden on the patrons of the district.

If you feel as I do about our children and school system and think that I can help by serving on the school board, please cast a vote for me on April 3, 1982. Thank you for considering my request.
