New Year Brings Area 3-Inch Snow

Snow, estimated three to four inches, mixed with some sleet, covered the Cross Plains sector New Year's evening and night, slowing traffic and interrupting school re-opening.

Cool temperatures were re-enforced by sleet and snow which began to fall in the late afternoon of Tuesday of last week, New Year's Day. That continued into the night, and reached a depth of from "two to four" inches, most observers reported. The white fluffy stuff was the first of the season and was caused to drift by a stout northerly wind.

Although there was no report learned here of traffic being halted on highways leading into or out of Cross Plains, flow of traffic was slowed considerably. By afternoon, Wednesday, well traveled highways and streets in Cross Plains were considered open and safe. The case was not true, however, with lesser traveled roadways and county roads.

Therefore the re-opening of classes at Cross Plains Schools was delayed to Friday from its originally scheduled Thursday resumption. Adding to travel problem early Thursday was the fact that moisture which was left on road surfaces Wednesday froze during the night making driving at that time hazardous. By Friday morning almost all roads were completely clear, but evidence of the snow remained for several days in drifts which were protected from the sun.

One gauge in Cross Plains measured .40 of an inch of moisture from the sleet and the snow, although the snow was considered

Chris Brown and Deron Duffey each bucketed 10 points for the Mites with Chad Bagley adding 6, Terrill Smith 4, and Chris Porter 2. Rising Star paced by Mr. Green with 13.

Low-Income Household May Quality For Fuel Pay Help

AUSTIN — Some low-income Texas households may be eligible for help in paying their heating bills this winter through the Home Energy Assistance Program, according to Texas Department of Human Resources Commissioner Marlin Johnston.

Carolyn's Corner

By Carolyn Glover

I'm sure that most of you might have had a little problem with over indulging during the holidays. Now some of us can do that and never gain a pound, (you smarties) but then there are those of us who can just look at food and gain and if you at times think you may have your weight problem the rest of your life, read the following which was submitted to this column by Mrs. M. F. Dill and was sent to her by Bonnie Henson of Pasadena. Thank you ladies.

The Twenty-Third Pound

The 23rd pound says my appetite is my shepherd, I shall always want, It maketh me to sit down and stuff myself, It leadeth me to my refrigerator repeatedly, It leadeth me in the path of the Burger King for a whopper, It destroyeth my shape. Yea tho I knoweth I gaineth, I will not stop eating for the food tasteth so good. The ice cream and the cookies they comfort me, when the table is spread before me, it exciteth me for I knoweth that soon I will dig in. As I fillet my plate continuouslv, my clothes runneth smaller. Surely bulges and excess weight shall follow me all the days of my life and I will be fat forever.

Coleman Lady With Area Ties Expires

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Friday at Stevens Funeral Home in Coleman for Mrs. C. C. (Nena) Windham, 82-year-old resident of Leisure Lodge Nursing Home at Coleman.

Mrs. Windham, remembered by many in the Burkett and Cottonwood communities, died at 10:29 a.m. at the Leisure Lodge.

Officiating the final rites were the Rev. Paul Hubbard, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church in Coleman. Burial was in the Santa Anna Cemetery.

Born Oct. 24, 1902, in Fannin

County, she was reared in Burkett and attended school in Cottonwood. She married C. C. Windham in July 1920 in Burkett. She was a homemaker and a Baptist.

She was preceded in death by a son, Arrie, and a daughter, Dorothy Medford.

Survivors include her husband; three daughters, Udell Copeland of Santa Anna, Eltie Hubbard of Bronte and Faye Dean of Coleman; three sons, Odie of Houston, Odie of DeSoto and Arthur of Merkel; a sister, Flora Griffith of Fort Worth; 20 grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; four step-grandchildren; and eight step-great-grandchildren.

Grandsons were pallbearers.

State Capital HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN — The governor and the attorney general traveled together last week to tell a Panhandle town citizenry they would fight to stop the federal government from turning a nearby site into an atomic waste dump.

But whether their political promises to a Deaf Smith County primed for fear will ever need to be kept, only time will tell.

The feds will pick the proposed site in 1990, and the Texas site near Hereford is one of the top three locations.

No one in Texas appears to like the federal action, especially since the region around the site is fertile enough to generate yearly some $248 million worth of agriculture products.

The land sits over the Ogallala Aquifer, a major source for the Panhandle's water supplies. If nuclear contamination made it into the aquifer, opponents fear, the entire region's population could be affected.

The feds plan to actually use the high level radioactive waste dump, whichever site is selected, by 1993. Texans have a few years ahead of them to convince the federal officials to go elsewhere.

Lawsuit, Veto

But Gov. Mark White and Attorney General Jim Mattox, perhaps the best pair of campaigners in the Lone Star State, haven't missed this excellent opportunity to step to the fore.

Mattox has filed a lawsuit challenging the method which picked the site. White promises to use state veto power to stop the dump.

Under federal law, the state selected for the waste burial site can refuse it, but Congress can override the veto.

To Back Down?

That means the responsibility for making the Texas congressional delegation, and not really with the Texas Legislature or its executive branch.

But White, a Democrat who campaigned staunchly against Reagan, has seized this moment as an entry for Democrats back into the Panhandle which has lately voted increasingly Republican.

The political furor, plus a large Texas voting population and a large Texas delegation in Congress, may cause the U. S. Department of Energy to pick on another state with less clout and back down on the Texas site.

Galveston Beach

Mattox scored a victory in the courtroom last week when a state district judge ruled he had the authority to confiscate property of Galveston beach-front owners after Hurricane Alicia shifted their property lines.

The land once owned by over 250 private citizens is ruled to be now in the public domain, which by law is the area between the existing natural vegetation line and the mean low tide line.

Mattox had sued to stop property owners from rebuilding homes on what is now state land because the hurricane changed the shore line.

Pesticide Conformation

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower has modified his controversial new pesticide regulations, but the state's largest farm group, the Texas Farm Bureau, wants to investigate whether he has stayed within his authority.

His final version, modified after complaints from some agriculture groups, was released last week and will go into effect Jan. 21. Hightower's goal is to protect farmworkers who might unknowingly enter fields too soon following pesticide applications.

A spokeswoman for the United Farm Workers Union said union members will monitor treated findings to Hightower in three months.

Parole Returns

A study made public last week by the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles indicates about 16 percent of the convicts paroled under a new scoring system were returned to prison within a year.

The system, called the Pablo plan, tries to identify inmates who have the best chances of keeping their paroles.

The 16 percent is about the same rate as in past years.

Parting Advice

The warden of a women's prison unit in Gatesville is retiring at 70, but said the court-ordered reforms, not her age, was the main factor.

Lucile Plane said that new rules and regulations on how male and female inmates must be treated have created problems, and she thinks that women inmates shouldn't have been brought into the lawsuit which sparked the reforms.

The abuses cited in male prison units — widespread brutality and housing and medical conditions were not present in women's units.

Short Takes

Gov. Mark White plans to meet in New Orleans on January 17 with other Gulf Coast governor's for discussions on the growing drug problem.

Recent gubernatorial appointments include: Menton Murray Jr., Brownsville, 357th District Judge; Charles W. Barrow, Waco, Texas Judicial Council.

After Legislators met with the Corrections Corp. Of America, Nashville, on the possible use of private prisons, Gov. White defended his closed-door meetings on the subject which included talks with Merrill Lynch Pierce Fenner & Smith on financing.

Rep. J. W. Buchanan, D-Dumas, has prefiled HJR 14 which would amend the Constitution to require elections on proposed constitutional amendments to be held on the November general election date.

CLYDE KNOWN SOLDIER ENDS BASIC TRAINING ARMY AND AIR FORCE HOMETOWN NEWS — Pvt. Thomas G. Lee, son of Sharon M. Lee of Rural Route 3 Clyde, has completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

Help Your Heart

Diet in the Healthy Child

The American Heart Association recommends moderate changes in the diet of healthy American children over the age of two in order to lessen their risk of heart disease in adulthood.

The AHA's new dietary guidelines focus on lowering intake of cholesterol and salt by substituting and modifying foods. For example, when you pack your child's lunch box, substitute sliced turkey or chicken sandwiches for high-salt, high-cholesterol hot dogs and baloney.

Your children's diet should be nutritionally adequate in vitamins and minerals and consist of a variety of foods. It should emphasize fresh fruits and vegetables, complex carbohydrates, and high-quality protein such as low-fat dairy products and lean cuts of meat, fish and chicken.

A child's daily intake of calories should be divided approximately this way:

15 percent from protein; 55 percent from complex carbohydrates such as beans, cereals and grains; and 30 percent from fat. The AHA recommends a fat ratio of approximately 10:10:10 — that is, about 10 percent saturated fat, about 10 percent monounsaturated, and less than 10 percent polyunsaturated fat. Animal fats are examples of saturated fats. Olive oil is an example of a monounsaturated fat. Peanut and corn oil are examples of polyunsaturated fats.

Like adults, children should not consume more than 300 milligrams of cholesterol per day. Recent government studies show that rapid changes in cholesterol consumption occur in white boys; from a level of 391 milligrams at age 10 consumption soars to 605 at age 19.

Excessive salt intake may be associated with hypertension in susceptible persons. Children should limit their intake by cutting down on highly-salted snack foods and on sodium-containing condiments, and by not adding salt to food.

Even at the age of two, it's not too early to start teaching your children healthy eating habits that may help their heart.

WEEKLY Health Tip

ASK YOUR DOCTOR

When your doctor prescribes drugs, be sure to ask him precisely how often during the day (and night) the drug is to be taken — whether before, during, or after meals — with or without water or other liquid — and how much liquid. For correct and best results it is important to take medicines precisely as directed.

Your better health is our concern

Rowden Sector News

By Mrs. N. V. Gibbs

Already, we are 7 days into January 1985, and I'm sure some resolutions have been broken. We have good intentions, but some fall by the wayside.

Could it be said that weather conditions each year decides a farmer's future? Take 1984 for instance, known as the coldest winter in many a year. Spring did arrive in time for gardens and crops being planted, then along comes the driest summer on record for this area. When late fall rains came, the countryside suddenly greened up giving hope for grain farmers to plant their fields, and no one could believe there had been such a severe drought.

The only gardens that produced were on land that could be irrigated from wells. Some stockmen had to sell part of their herds for lack of pasture. The usual insects were on hand to plague the plants they feed on. Someone had remarked that due to the extreme cold, they would be done away with. We still had squash bugs, blister bugs, plant lice and rattlesnakes to deal with through the year.

New Year's Day was celebrated in some homes. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mauldin enjoyed a meal with their son and family, Roland and Fay Mauldin and their two sons, Kenneth of the home and Douglas of Irving. Douglas also shored his birthday cake and ice cream with his family and his grandparents, Gene and Vernie Belle, on Saturday night in their home near Denton Valley.

Company in the Sterling Odum home Sunday afternoon were Nancy and son, Michael Palmer, of Clyde and Ivon and Vickie Odum and children, Dustin and Brittany, of Pinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Harris attended the funeral of Mrs. Minnie Coleman in Coleman last week.

The Tommy Dye family and Bob Dye family shared a New Year's birthday dinner in the Bob Dye home in celebration of Bob and Tommy's birthday, both in December.

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Hollowell of Abilene were dinner guests of Edna Dye on New Year's Day. Edna has done the art work in two books of poems that Dr. Hollowell has written.

Jim Reynolds and his son, Chris, of Midland visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Reynolds, Saturday. Mrs. James Reynolds attended the 110th birthday celebration of Mrs. Laura Jobe, a resident of the rest home at Baird. Dorothy sang a number of her special songs during the party. Those of you watching the Saturday night news program could have seen Dorothy in the picture made by both TV stations in Abilene. Dorothy brings pleasure to many of the residents of the home each Saturday afternoon. After the program James and Dorothy drove to Abilene to eat out with Jim and Chris while Jim's wife Creecia was with a friend in the hospital.

J. W. Sayre of Hobbs, N. M., had lunch with his cousin, Edna Dye, en route to his home last week.

Those visiting in the N. V. Gibbs home Saturday were Curtis and Velma Springfield of Azle and Bruce and Barbara Rose and two children, Christi and Barry, of Fort Worth. All except Mrs. Springfield and this writer spent the day hunting and enjoying being out in the country. Mrs. Springfield and Mrs. Gibbs visited in the Tony Steele home and also visited Mrs. Leila Gibbs in the rest home at Baird.

Hearty Stews Chase Winter Chills

On a chilly evening, there's nothing quite as welcoming as a steaming bowl of stew. Hearty, satisfying and flavorful, stews can be the starting point for a bounty of budget-stretching winter meals.

Like most one-dish meals, stews give the cook many advantages. They can be prepared in advance and refrigerated or frozen. Many stews actually benefit from reheating because the flavors have a chance to mingle. Stews are easy to prepare, and last minute preparation is minimal when stew is on the menu. A salad and bread may be the only accompaniments you'll need.

Stews are versatile, too. Most stews can move easily from family dinner table to party buffet by simply doubling the recipe ingredients. Variety is no problem either. Since every country has one or more traditional recipes, there's a stew to fit every cook's taste and budget.

Budget stretching stewing chickens and less tender cuts of meat are perfect for the stew pot. Beef chuck, pork and lamb shoulder, beef short ribs and lamb shanks are less expensive than their more tender counterparts. And, they benefit from the long, slow cooking process. For additional savings, stock-up on meat and poultry specials. Fry as much as you can use, date and freeze in moisture-vaporproof wrap. Cutting up whole chickens and cubing meat before freezing saves preparation time later and hastens thawing.

Meat alone does not a stew make, however. Seasonal vegetables and a cereal grain, such as barley, are the other essential ingredients. Both important nutrients as well as satisfying flavor for mere pennies a serving.

In Winter Barley Stew, barley's wholesome wholegrain flavor and pleasantly chewy texture complement a quartet of favorite stew ingredients. Select the style of barley which best suits the recipe you plan to prepare. Longer cooking Scotch Brand Pearled Barley is used in Winter Barley Stew because the barley and beef cubes require about the same amount of cooking time. Scotch Brand Quick Pearled Barley can be prepared in just 10 minutes, making it the perfect choice for soups and side dishes as well as quick-to-prepare one-dish meals.

Winter Barley Stew

2 tablespoons vegetable oil	1 cup water
2 lb. beef stew meat, cut into 1-inch cubes	1/2 cup Quaker Scotch Brand Pearled Barley*
1 cup chopped onion	1 teaspoon salt
2 cups carrot slices	1/2 teaspoon thyme leaves, crushed
1 can (16 oz.) whole tomatoes	1 bay leaf
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce	1 clove garlic, crushed

In 4-qt. saucepan or Dutch oven, heat oil. Add stew meat and onion; brown meat on all sides. Add carrot; cook just until tender (5 to 10 min.). Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Cover; bring to a boil. Reduce heat; simmer, covered, about 1 to 1-1/2 hours or until meat and barley are tender, stirring occasionally. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

*NOTE: Substitute 3/4 cup Quaker Scotch Brand Quick Pearled Barley, if desired. Add barley after stew has simmered 40 minutes. Continue simmering about 20 minutes or until meat and barley are tender.

Citrus Fruitatta Pampers The Taste Buds

Fresh citrus from Florida contributes eye appeal and glorious flavor to CITRUS FRUITATTA.

Bright-flavored, pretty-as-a-picture dishes that can be whipped up in minutes are as welcome as a gentle breeze on a sweltering day. A dish that satisfies all those requirements is Citrus Fruitatta, which is filled with ingredients that are low in cost and high in nutrition. The secret lies in the plump, juicy oranges and grapefruit from Florida, which add lively citrus taste and nutrition while enhancing the flavor of the other ingredients. Protein-rich eggs are the base, with pears bringing their juicy goodness, chopped dates adding texture and richness and the orange and grapefruit sections offering their naturally sweet succulence to make the recipe an outstanding success. For family . . . for guests. . . Citrus Fruitatta is a winner.

Citrus Fruitatta

8 large eggs	1/2 teaspoon freshly grated orange rind
1/2 cup milk	1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cored, diced, fresh pear	3/4 cup Florida orange sections
1/3 cup chopped, pitted dates	1/2 cup Florida grapefruit sections

In a medium bowl, beat eggs and milk until well blended. Stir in pear, dates, orange rind and salt. Pour into a well-buttered 8 1/2-inch quiche pan. Bake in a 350°F. oven 10 minutes. Arrange orange and grapefruit sections on top and continue baking 20 to 25 minutes longer or until eggs are set. Allow to stand 5 minutes before serving.

The Career Oriented College -Central Texas Commercial College

CTCC is a very special kind of school. It's a career oriented college in which the curriculum offered each student contributes directly to the skills necessary for employment.

The liberal arts college is an ideal place for those young adults who love learning for its own sake who would rather read than eat, and who gain enjoyment from writing a research paper. Yet of those who do manage to complete their 4-year program, a large percentage find themselves with no marketable skill upon entry into the employment market. Therefore, high school graduates need to evaluate any college being considered as a consumer product, in terms of time spent and, more importantly, in future returns.

At CTCC There is no wasted time. Each program has but one objective: to prepare you for a career immediately upon graduation. You see, we're more interested in preparing you for a career than in giving you a degree.

Terrill Smith Bags Big 10-Point Buck

Terrill and Brandon Smith, local eighth and fourth graders, spent much of the hunting season and holidays doing what they love — deer hunting and snow skiing. Terrill bagged the big one, a ten-point buck with a 17-inch spread. He is having antlers and head mounted in a drop-sneak fashion, and the trophy will be ready for friends to view sometime in March. Terrill also brought home two others in addition to the big one. Brandon is should have another day or two of more comfortable weather, but it may be cold before the week end. During the past several weeks we have gotten an unusual amount of rain. The pastures are green and all the stock pounds full, and our Pecan Bayou is running deeper than it has in a long time.

We have one gift to the Burkett-Adams Cemetery Fund. Ten dollars was contributed recently in memory of Ann (Burkett) Shouts, by Mr. and Mrs. Ed McNally. The gift is greatly appreciated for the upkeep of our cemeteries, and especially for the reason it was given.

We are pleased to report that E. W. Brown was dismissed from Overall-Morris Memorial Hospital last Saturday, and is recuperating at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lillian Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Koenig spent the week end a week ago in Big Spring with his sister, Mrs. Frieda Bell Hood and husband.

Mrs. Addie Newton has returned home after spending two weeks in Big Spring with her son and wife, James and Frances Walker.

Visitors of Bill and Jo Davee Sunday were Mil Angeley of Brownwood and her daughter, Tisa McKim, an officer in the Navy stationed at San Diego, and her two children, and Lois Garrett of Cross Plains.

8 Callahan 4-H Clubbers Will Vie In District Show

CALLAHAN COUNTY — It's only one month until eight Callahan County 4-H'ers will compete in the District 7 4-H Food Show in San Angelo. Several of this year's participants are from the Clyde area or attend school there, including Tonya and Chris Johnson, Deborah Fiscus, Melanie Ison, Stephanie Barnhill, and Paula Rose. Betsy King and Stacy Hewes are from Baird.

To prepare for District Competition, all of Callahan County's representatives will meet at the Clyde Dairy Queen on Thursday, Jan. 17, at 4 p.m. to work on their menus and knowledge of nutrition.

The food show and foods projects involve more than just preparing a dish for the show. Contestants learn about various aspects of food preparation, nutrition, food buying, meal planning, table service and much more. As they learn these lifelong skills, they practice them in project group lessons, at home, and at the food show.

At 4-H food shows, the contestants are asked questions about the four food groups, nutrients, preparation and their activities in the project. They must know what nutrients are in their particular dish they have prepared, as well as what those nutrients do for our bodies.

The 4-H Food and Nutrition Project is one of the most popular projects, with both boys and girls participating. One of our participants this year was Crissy Rogers, age 10, daughter of George and Jody Rogers of Clyde. She is a member of Oplin 4-H and prepared "Watergate Salad" for the County 4-H Food Show this year. It is hoped her recipe is enjoyed!

Watergate Salad
1 9 oz. carton cool whip
1 small pkg. pistachio pudding
1 small can crushed, drained pineapple

1/2 pkg. mini marshmallows
1/2 cup chopped pecans

No. 2 Shults, producing from the Cross Cut pay, is located 1,553 feet from the north and 873 feet from the east lines of P. Curlong Survey 151.

Daily pumping potential was 23 barrels of 42 gravity oil, with a trace of water, from perforations at 1,202-17 feet. The pay was treated with 500 gallons of acid and fractured with 10,000 gallons of fluid and 100 sacks of sand.

Operator set the 4 1/2-inch casing at 1,500 feet and the hole is bitumined at 1,537 feet.

The firm filed application to plug back to 1,250 feet at No. 1 Shults.

Site is 467 feet from the north and east lines of P. Curlong Survey 151 and on a 40-acre lease.

It was completed in 1979 by the same firm in the Blind Hog (Ranger) Field from perforations at 2,812-447 feet. The well was originally drilled to a total depth of 3,250 feet.

Delbert and Emma Boyle visited Virgil and Freeda Burkett Saturday evening.

Everyone in the Burkett area is reminded again to call in or mail their news items in for this column. Telephone number is 624-5267. For our convenience it is good to call it in as early in the week as possible — when it happens. Thanks Freeda.

HINTS FOR ADVERTISERS

When you next call The Review, 725-6111, to place a classified ad, remember that words are your business. Words properly put together in an ad mean more phone calls and more sales for you. Follow the rules below and get more and faster results.

- Put in the address
Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.
- Put in the phone number
Many readers will call you but will not find it convenient to come to your home or business.
- Avoid use of blind boxes
Avoid them if possible. They are difficult to answer and people prefer to deal directly.
- Put in the price, by all means
Surveys show that many people will not answer an ad unless the price is given.
- Keep the readers from guessing
On important details it is better to include them if they are relevant to a sale.
- Be available
If you advertise your phone and address, be sure you are not absent when the ad appears so as to accommodate the reader.
