Junior Ford was sitting in the Sam Houston Coliseum at Houston one day last week watching the rodeo, when zip, a match box struck him in the eye. He looked around to learn why and by whom he was beattacked. A tall, young man in the uniform of an American Airman was seen approaching.

The serviceman apoligized for the unintended abuse, and pointed out that he had been playfully tossing the box at a soldier friend and that his aim was bad. The two men introduced themselves and began an interesting chat.

It developed that the Airman was from Kentucky, and that he had only recently returned to the United States from Korea where he had been a captive of the Chinese Communists. He asked Junior where he lived, and upon being told Cross Plains, exclaimed:

"Do you know the Beelers there"? "My mother was a Beeler", Junior replied. "Well, this is certainly a coincidence; C. B. (Corum) Beeler is my uncle," said the serviceman.

Of course this made the two men of the chance meeting cousins and the conversation then really began in earnest.

The Kentucky boy showed Junior where the Chinese Communists had knocked nine teeth from his mouth with a cold chisel as a means of punishment. The teeth, he informed, were knocked out one at a time, all on different days, a type of punishment the Reds seemed to enjoy inflicting upon their captives.

At the Boyett farm, five miles west of town, water standing in a pit several feet below the ground froze to a solid mass, and at the L. D. Koenig place, southwest of town, a water well pump froze in a four foot cellar.

The loss of livestock and poultry ran into thousands of dollars damage.

Attention is called to a "straw ballot" appearing in a two column box elsewhere on this page, asking people to ballot on whether or not they think the Cross Plains Picnic should be continued, and if so, what type of celebration should be arranged.

Headache For City Dads May Be Cured By New State Law

A matter often discussed by Cross Plains city council is now before the Texas legislature and may soon be regulated by law. It is the shooting of air guns, which has prompted much complaint from local residents.

Harlie Sadler, state representative from the Abilene district, last week introduced a bill in the Texas legislature which would make it unlawful to shoot BB guns within the city limits of any incorporated settlement in the state. The bill would provide misdemeanor penalties of a $10 to $50 fine or jail term of 30 days for violators. Sadler said the proposed bill has drawn considerable report from sheriffs over the state, who have found the menace of BB guns a The bill is the direct result of an injury sustained by the young daughter of Mrs. Wilma Kendrick Lucas of Abilene. Her daughter, hit in the neck by a BB, still has the pellet lodged in a vertebra, and will require major surgery to have it removed. Mrs. Lucas began her campaign with a successful attempt to have BB guns banned in the city of Abilene. Such an ordinance was passed by the city commission in January.

Mrs. Lucas said Saturday afternoon, "I am happy and surprised by introduction of this bill. I was led to believe that it would be difficult to get it introduced.

Do You Want Picnic This Summer?

Members of Cross Plains Volunteer Fire Department met Monday night and discussed whether or not the annual Picnic should be held again this summer. After lengthy discussion it was decided to leave the matter to the people as a whole.

Three propositions were arranged and the Review was asked to print them, together with the request that citizens clip out the "straw ballot" and send their preference to the fire department.

The propositions are:

() 1. Hold a one day, old fashioned, basket picnic with no carnival.

) 2. Hold a two day picnic with carnival attractions, concessions and rides.

() 3. Hold no picnic at all.

People of the Cross Plains area are asked to place a check mark by which of these three propositions they favor, and mail, send or hand it to the fire department or any member. It is not necessary to sign ballot.

CASTOR BEANS

Here are some facts concerning astor beans which some people might be interested in knowing. The information which will be in this article was supplied by the Texas Experiment Station and the Baker Castor Oil Company.

Some good farmers have obtained yields in excess of 500 pounds of beans per acre in southern Oklahoma and the Vernon, Texas area during the 1948 and 1949 growing seasons.

The crop does well on medium fertile soils, but should not be planted on land too poor to produce a profitable crop of corn or cotton. The crop does best on medium textured soils that have good surface and subsurface drainage, and should not be planted on tight soils or soils of a drouthy nature. It should not be planted where the rainfall during the growing season is likely to be less the same as cotton.

The crop should be planted at since the crop needs to be clean delivered to the buyer.

These figures amount to around $15.00. Beans sell for $10c per pound. If your average yield was 400 to 500 pounds per acre then would would get $40 to $50. per acre or clear $25 to $35 per acre. Another expense that not included above though is the Harvesting of castor beans con- tractor expense. It is figured that it takes about 4.7 tractor hours acre of castor beans.

How Much Do You Think Advertising Costs?

100 to 1 Your Guess Is TOO HIGH

Take, for instance, a widely advertised can of soup that you purchase from your grocery store for 10¢.

Then ask your neighbor how much of that 10¢ goes for advertising. She'll probably say, "Oh, about 1 or 2¢" or "10 to 20%."

That is where you can correct a great American illusion. The actual cost is only 36-1000 of one cent.

And actually advertising absorbs its cost because without the wide volume of sales brought about by advertising, the soup couldn't be sold for 10¢. In fact, this soup 15 years ago cost you 12¢ retail. Advertising by expanding distribution and increasing sales, made economies possible which cut 2¢ or 16% off the retail price of soup.

> Advertising is everybody's friend because it continually acts to lower the cost of living.

Improvement Sought In Grasses Growing On Ranges of Texas

AUSTIN, Feb. 7.-The Univerty of Texas Plant Research Institute is making solid progress in its program to lay a scientific base for improvement of Texas range grasses.

Dr. W. Gordon Whaley, Institute director, reports that:

A general survey of the characteristics and distribution of 254 Texas range grasses will be published this summer, and a new survey to summerize reproduction and breeding data on Southwestern grasses is just beginning.

Several basic nutritional studies of Texas grasses have been completed or are in final publication stages, including two projects which may improve phosphorus fertilizer

An investigation of what constitutes drouth resistance in plants is underway.

Four studies of grass reproduction have been started, including one project to produce mutations and other inheritable changes in grasses by radiation, and another project to attempt to double the chromosome numbers of certain grasses by exposing them to the drug alkaloid colchicine to produce superior plants. The two projects are expected to be finished sometime this year. A general project is being con-

Commissioners Go To Austin Tuesday

All members of the Callahan County Commissioners Court were in Austin Tuesday conferring with departments of the state government. It was understood that the trip was made in the interest of several matters, one of which had to do with the redistricting of the state into new legislative districts. County Judge J. Lester Farmer. and Commissioners Wes Patton, I. G. Mobley and Clyde Floyd, arrived in Cross Plains early Tueslay morning where they were joined by Commissioner Claude Foster. The group is expected to return to this county Wednesday or early Thursday.

Q-I received a $10,000 GI home oan, of which VA guaranteed 60 percent or $6,000. I understand the maximum guarantee is $7,100. If I ever sell my home, could I buy another with a second GI loan, guaranteed for $1,300—the difference between what I used and the

A-No. The 60 percent or $7,500 maximum guarantee is a one-time guaranty. For your second GI loan, you would be bound by the law's previous maximums of 50 percent up to $4,000 guarantee. But your present GI guarantee already is greater than $4,000, so you would not be entitled to a second GI loan.

Q-My father, a World War I veteran, died in 1940, leaving a U. S. Government Life Insurance policy to my mother. Recently she died, leaving me the proceeds of the policy as an inheritanceabout $4,000. If I apply for a pension, would that be considered as reportable income?

A-Yes. All inheritances are to be considered as income, regardless of their source. The only condition under which you would not report the insurance as income would be if your father had left the insurance to you and you had received payments directly from

Q-Does VA exercise control or supervision over schools training under the GI Bill?
