Time For 'Bits' Again

By DON TABOR
Publisher

From time to time, I have to resort to "Bits and Pieces."

You three people who have read this column regularly for a long time know that means I don't have a major topic to write about, which means I'm desperate, which means I go searching through the piles of paper on my desk for a scrap, anything, to use.

Aha! I found a few.
BITS AND PIECES:
— My aunt, Jewel Swanzy, who writes the City Briefs for the Clyde Journal, left this for me some time ago. Bless her heart for thinking of me.

It was a quotation from the publication "The Hometown Weekly" written by Donald Fellows. I quote: "Reading a metropolitan newspaper is like eating a restaurant meal — you pick and choose from what's offered. But reading the hometown weekly is like eating a good home-cooked meal — a fellow doesn't want to miss a thing." I couldn't have put it better, myself.

— This little piece was in a recent bulletin from the Texas Press Assn. It said that every issue of the Hominy, Okla., newspaper carries the following as part of its masthead: "In case you find mistakes in this paper, please consider they were put there for a purpose. We publish something for everyone, and some folks are always looking for mistakes." This sounds a bit snide and self-serving to me. I think we'll just do our best to eliminate the mistakes and leave the smart remarks to somebody else.

— At the bottom of a "You Tellum" response, Marianne Taff of Pioneer wrote the following concerning the 150-word limit on the responses:

"Whew! What a brain exerciser! Trying to convey a message in 150 words or less (which of course is necessary). It's a very difficult task for a woman, especially an inarticulate one at that. I began to hear Sgt. Joe Friday's monotone voice saying, 'The facts, Ma'am, just the facts.' I am improving though. I was unable to respond to last week's query on pornography in 150 words or less. I'm almost ready to apply for a job with Readers Digest!"

I'll respond to her and say that the 150-word limit is not carved in stone. We'll let you "fudge", up to a point. She did have one error of fact in her note to me, though. I read her response and she's not in the least inarticulate.

New People Liven Pageant

The 1986-87 Senior class presented the annual Beauty Pageant and Personality Night on Friday, November 14. Although the program is basically the same every year, there is always new people introduced and new girls are crowned "Most Beautiful" each year. And it's always fun to see the girls dressed-up in their best gowns.

This year, there were 21 contestants vying for the title. The two judges (who were from Stephenville) certainly had their work

Supper Canceled At Cottonwood

The Thanksgiving Supper announced for Friday, November 21, by the Cottonwood Ladies Quilting Club has been canceled. Several reasons prompted the decision, but the state of the economy was the main factor.

The regular Cottonwood Musical at the Community Center will be held Friday night. Sandwiches and pies will be served.

cut out for them. All of the girls looked beautiful and presented themselves very well.

Of the 21 contestants, there were representatives of each class. The Seniors included Shelley Horan, Beth Wood, Sheila Payne, Julie Atchley, Ticia Wilson, Denise Flippen, Lynn Reeves and Deana Conlee.

The Junior class was represented by Shelly Key, Scarlett Harrell, April Jennings, Delilah Parker, Tammie Lane, Kerry Pointer, Barbara Strickland and Sheila Sibley.

Sophomore entrants were Kathy Parrish, Pam Strength, Emily Horan and Kami Hargrove.

The Freshman class had one girl enter, Kristy Pointer.

The girls were judged in 3 main categories; poise, personality and appearance. Scoring ranged from 1-25 points in each category. After much deliberation, the judges narrowed the original field down from 21 to 10.

Those girls who made it to the top ten were Kristy Pointer, Denise Flippen, Lynn Reeves, Kathy Parrish, Kami Hargrove, Beth Wood, Barbara Strickland, Ticia Wilson, Shelly Key and Sheila Payne.

The girls were judged even further by answering a question which they choose at random and answered before the audience and judges. After seeing the girls again, and listening to their answers, the judges narrowed this group down to 5 finalists. Another difficult decision.

TALENT SHOW WINNERS — Local dancers (from left) Heather Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wright of Rising Star and Leah King, daughter of Tommy and Vanda King of Cross Plains, won 2nd place in the Junior Division of the Talent Show sponsored by the Rising Star F.H.A. Tuesday night. They performed a jazz routine in the competition.

Girl Cagers Beat Cooper's Varsity

By VANDA KING
Editor

The Girls Basketball Team is off to a great start with two wins in scrimmage games. They defeated Sidney, who has a strong team, and Cooper High School Varsity team from Abilene, which is a 5A school. Coach Bill McKinnerney reported that they didn't look real good against Sidney, but they had improved when they played Cooper.

He started the season with 26 players, but mainly due to injuries, the team is down to 21 girls. Donna Erwin and Tina Dukes are two players lost to knee injuries, and Deana Conlee is playing with a knee brace at present.

Sheila Payne, a Senior, is the only returning starter for the team. Beth Wood, Deana Conlee and Missy Montgomery are other return players who saw action last year.

Coach reported that the team consists of 3 Seniors, 3 Juniors and the remainder are Sophomores and Freshmen. He said, "I see good potential and with growth we will be able to utilize our capabilities, making a tough team to beat the next year or two."

"These are good kids and their attitudes are improving and they are more enthusiastic," Coach Mac replied. Coaching differences have caused some transition. Breaking old habits and developing new ones has taken time and effort.

The prime target for change is playing controlled basketball, where the ball and the player are in control. Areas of strength on the girls team is the post position played by Sheila Payne and Beth Wood. These girls can score well under the basket.

Currently they are trying to develop their outside game which is not quite as strong. He also stated they were still fouling too much.

Coach feels that the team is a definite contender for District Champs and he replied, "They will have to beat us first."

Tuesday the Lady Buffs will play their first season game against Eastland at the Buffalo Gym. The Junior Varsity will begin at 6:00 p.m., followed by the Varsity team. Coach Mac invites everyone to come out and support the girls.

ADOBE BRICK HOUSE — Dan and Nancy Childress' unique home is stated on the tour of homes sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi.

'Pioneer Spirit' Helped Build Home

By ANN LONG

Dan and Nancy Childress are most definitely pioneers, maybe not pioneers as we think about early settlers of this country, but pioneers just the same.

It was this pioneer spirit that helped them decide to buy the "old Champion farm" close to Cottonwood. Dan had worked for the Forestry Service in New Mexico for thirty-two years. The family learned to love the beautiful snow covered mountains; tall pine forest; and quiet flowing brooks.

Texas, however, was home to them too. Dan was born in Eastland, so they decided to settle in Texas.

They decided to build their own home and right away they agreed to bring the best parts of the "Southwest" into their home in Texas.

Dan drew the plans for the Adobe brick home and started making the brick. Several locations on the farm were tested for the correct blend of sand and clay for the brick.

Finally a location was selected, forms were built and the brick making process began. Dan was very disappointed because as the first batch of bricks dried, they crumbled and broke into pieces.

More sand was added to the brick recipe and they turned out perfect. About 100 brick could be made in one day, and when the house was completed, approximately 7,500 brick has been used.

The bricks had to be kept dry after being made, so storage for them was a big problem. "A huge circus tent would really have come in handy and if I ever do this again, I'll sure get one," Dan remarked.

They purposely left a wall in the garage that was not plastered to show the adobe brick, because so many people have wanted to see the beginning of the house Dan stated.

Nancy has decorated the interior of the house to blend with Southwest look of the exterior. Earth tones, a beautiful blend of blues and greens and a splash of orange here and there, gives the home a warm sunny feeling.

The master bedroom suite is located in the south wing of the house and features a spacious dressing room, full bath and huge walk-in Cedar lined closet.

The guest wing on the north side of the house has two large bedrooms with a full size connecting bath.

The large living and dining area has a beautiful brick fireplace which furnishes heat for the whole house. Here again, Dan pioneered a heating system unlike any other in this area. It is a very complicated and complex system that features hot water heated by the fireplace being circulated through wall heaters which furnish heat throughout the house.

The kitchen is surrounded on all sides by cabinets, as well as a large China cabinet for Nancy's China and crystal. Just one of the many unique aspects is a set of sliding drawers to hold dishes, that can be used from either the kitchen side or the dining area side.

There is also a large utility room with sink and cabinet space galore. This makes preparation of all fruit and sponsored a "Cinderella" contest is held. It's a unique and unusual contest if you've never seen one. There's just something hysterically funny about watching these young men parade around on stage in high heels (or barefoot), in their "best gowns", trying to talk like a girl, and answer such thought provoking questions as "what brand of panty hose do you prefer?", or "what qualities do you look for in boys?"

Beauty Pageant

 This year, there was a field of 9 that "dressed-up" and competed. The good natured and rather nervy group of guys included Jesse Sibley (Sr), Chris Brown (Soph.), Curtis Wyatt (Soph.), Bill Johnson (Soph.), Matt Strickland (Soph.), David Wilson (Jr.), David Taylor (Jr.), Gregg Weiss (Jr.) and Lynn Porter (Soph.).

They would have to be somewhat good-natured and nervy to perform on stage as they did with such names as "Cutesy Curtsy", "Getcha Gertrude", "Bouncing Bertha", or "Cream of Wheat", who was the cousin of contestant "Buckwheat's Aunt Farina."

The "girls" were judged on their personality, poise and overall appearance. The 2 judges, Clara Nell Spencer and Rosalee Bonner, had a difficult job in choosing the Top 3 Cinderellas.

With the results in, the Top 3 "girls" were announced. Second Runner-up was Cutesy Curtsy, better known as Curtis Wyatt.

First Runner-up was "Jessica Savage", alias Jesse Sibley and this year's "Most Beautiful Cinderella" was "Getcha Gertrude" who is really Gregg Weiss.

Congratulations are definitely in order for all the contestants for being so entertaining.

For many students and their parents, it's the highlight of being chosen by their peers as a "Special Personality."

vegetables grown on the farm so easy. There is also a mud room and bath that is really a necessity on the farm.

Right off the kitchen is Dan's office. The walls in this room are covered with samples of all the varieties of pecans grown on the farm, along with ribbons and plaques the nuts have won in competition over the years. All the business of "Nutty Acres" as the farm is called, is carried on in this room.

In the summer when the peaches become ripe and in the fall when pecans are ready to harvest, the telephone stays busy day and night.

Dan has one more adventure concerning his "Christmas Trees". He has planted several acres of trees and enjoys families making their selection.

All the outside doors from all the rooms in the house open onto a large screened in porch which is surprisingly warm even in cold weather. The porch really accents the atmosphere of the Southwest.

It is a pleasant surprise to see the private adobe brick fence and pines blowing in the West Texas wind. The gracious host and hostess bring to mind a favorite Southwest greeting which holds very true for this house — "Mi Casa Su Casa."

Last week I misquoted the fact that R. Gray Powell was Dr. Powell's father. Dr. Powell came to Cross Plains in 1932 and none of his family were ever residents here. I should have visited with Hub Freeman, our local blacksmith and historian, last week.

"Red" Duke Lead Smokeout Effort

Dr. "Red" Duke, known best for syndicated television "Health Reports," will prescribe a smoke-free day for Texas smokers as the state's honorary Great American Smokeout chairman.

This year's Smokeout, which is sponsored annually by the American Cancer Society, is scheduled November 20. The Smokeout is a light-hearted campaign encouraging smokers to give up their tobacco for 24 hours.

Last year, a Gallup Survey indicated 23 million Americans quit smoking or cut down on the number of cigarettes smoked during the Smokeout.

Event planners expect a record number will make the attempt to abstain this year, as the Smokeout celebrates its 10th Anniversary.

"We're anticipating our greatest participation ever," said Oscar Newton, of Houston, chairman of Texas's Smokeout efforts. "We feel Texans especially will respond to the supportive approach of the Smokeout and to Dr. Duke's plain-spoken advice," he said.

Duke, a nationally-respected trauma surgeon, has been a trusted source of health information for television viewers across the nation since 1982. His "Health Reports," produced by the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston, are broadcast three times a week on 69 television stations in 30 states. The "Health Reports" will feature segments on smoking and quitting smoking during Smokeout week.

"You can't say anything good about smoking," Duke said. "But the good thing about the Great American Smokeout is its supportive approach."

"Although the Smokeout is known as a 'Fun' event, it has a very serious purpose," he said. "each year, 350,000 Americans die of diseases linked to cigarette smoking. We have to convince smokers that quitting is the best thing they can do for themselves and their loved ones," Duke said.

Communities around the state and locally are planning promotions in observance of the 10th Anniversary Smokeout.

Duke's "Health Reports" are carried on 18 television stations around Texas including KTAB-TV, Abilene.

After 15 years in this business we are just tired. This is not an easy decision to make, but there are several factors involved. The slow economy has not helped, and overhead keeps going up. Weekly Health Tip
FEVER BLISTERS
 Lactobacillus acidophilus is a bacterium normally found in the bowel of healthy persons. It produces B vitamins and acts to inactivate 'herpes simplex'. Two Baltimore oral surgeons reported that 38 out of 40 patients whom they treated with L. acidophilus tablets, achieved relief from pain within 48 hours; 36 reported total disappearance of lesions within 5 days of treatment. Their patients took from 2 to 4 tablets, three times a day. Discuss this treatment with your doctor.
