'Disinformation' at Fair

By DON TABOR
Publisher

We're hearing much these days about "disinformation".

I doubt if there's such a word (I couldn't find it in my dictionary) but what it means in the jargon of the bureaucrat is intentionally misleading a person, or a country, by putting out bad information via the news media — in other words, lying.

I don't suppose they did it intentionally, buy my wife and I ran into a maze of "disinformation" when we went to the State Fair in Dallas last weekend.

For example:

— As we were attempting to drive to the fairgrounds, a sign said to "follow the red arrows" to that destination and then had one pointing down a freeway exit ramp. We then quickly came across another pointing north down a street. We took said street the direction the arrow was pointing and after several blocks realized we were getting farther away from the big ferris wheel we could see behind us in the distance. We retraced our route and finally got to the fairgrounds, thanks to seeing the big ferris wheel, but no thanks to any red arrows.

— We had tickets (to the tune of $7 apiece) to the much-publicized China exhibit on the fairgrounds. As soon as we got inside the fairgrounds we got a map of the premises. There it was, big as Dallas, on the map, "China Exhibit" way down to the right of Big Tex. We suspected we weren't in the right place when we walked in this big building and nobody asked us for our tickets. We tried to ask a couple of Chinese guys who were selling some stuff inside the building if we were in the right place, but they said they couldn't speak "junglese", which we figured out meant English. Finally, we found an American who did speak "junglese" who told us the China exhibit we were looking for wasn't in the China Exhibit but was in a building called the "Science Place" way across the fairgrounds.

— We were with my wife's brother, Ken Patton, and his wife, Juanita, who live (although only a short time) in Dallas. Juanita wanted to see the display of prize-winning quilts, so we went into a building that said on the front of it, again as big as Dallas, "Information Center" to find out where the quilt display was. It wasn't too hard to find someone in there who spoke "junglese" but it was impossible to find any information. A woman who was selling some stuff said this wasn't actually the information center, in fact she had scrawled out a sign on her counter that said it wasn't to save time. She said the real information center was to the rear of Big Tex. We went behind Big Tex but couldn't find any information center. Finally, we asked a couple of very nice young women at a West Texas Utilities display who spoke excellent "junglese" who told us how to get to the quilts.

This doesn't have anything to do with "disinformation" but we probably could have picked a better time to go to the State Fair, being as how they were playing the Oklahoma-Texas football game there the same day we were there.

The crowd was intense and the lines were long. It was due to this that I made a great contribution to research on human animal behavior. I was standing amid this mass of humanity waiting for my brother-in-law to buy some coupons with which to buy food. I was actually standing in the middle of nowhere, but I was standing still. I began to realize that people were lining up behind me.

The longer I stood there, the longer the line got. Finally, my brother-in-law got back with the coupons and we walked away. But I looked back and that line was still there, and getting longer.

As far as I know, that line may still be there, going nowhere.

Today is Blood Drive Day

Come On, Let's Give Cross Plains Some Credit, Too

M. Lee Thompson, Cross Plains High School Superintendent, brought a clipping from the Dallas Morning News to our attention, concerning the fact that Goldthwaite is not levying any property taxes for 1987. This is the first year they have ever tried tax exemption, and they are receiving a great deal of notice.

Mr. Thompson felt that Cross Plains should speak up and state the facts that they have been free of taxes for years. He said, "I have lived in this community for six years and I have never paid any city taxes." "I

Conlee Gets Bowl Invite

Deana Conlee, head cheerleader for the varsity cheerleaders at Cross Plains High School, has been invited by the National Cheerleading Association to cheer at the Hula Bowl in Hawaii on December 27. Two college teams will be chosen to play in the Bowl game.

The cheerleaders eligible to participate were chosen from the All American Cheerleading Squad at cheerleading camps.

Deana was notified of the once in a life time opportunity Thursday, October 9. Only the first 50 cheerleaders who register will be accepted. The registration fee is $1,500 for a one week stay in Hawaii. They are required to spend several days prior to the game practicing routines. Deana would be performing in the pre-game activities, half time and throughout the game. The game will be televised locally.

Cathy Permenter has started a fund to raise the amount needed to register. If anyone would like to contribute, please call Cathy at (817) 725-6564 during the day or (817) 725-6712 at night.

The Varsity Cheerleaders are also forming a support group. You may contact any of the cheerleaders if you would like to help raise the needed registration fee.

Deana has been chosen to a very elite group and hopefully she will be able to participate. She would be actively representing her hometown of Cross Plains.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommie B. Conlee of Cross Plains.

Rainfall Tab For Area Given

D. R. McInnis, Cottonwood Community resident, graciously supplied the 1986 rainfall record for publication. The Cross Plains area received a total of 35.15 inches as of Friday, October 10. Monthly precipitation measurements are as follows:

January.....	None
February.....	3.10
March.....	1.40
April.....	1.25
May.....	6.40
June.....	10.40
July.....	1.10
August.....	2.10
September.....	2.90
October.....	6.50
TOTAL.....	35.15

Glenn Payne, who lives west of town, called in his yearly rainfall report as 33.60 inches to date.

have never lived in any city that did not collect city property taxes," he reported.

The City of Cross Plains has not collected any taxes since 1981. The city has not been subject to taxes for 7 years, but no one has sung their praise. This is a record to be proud of and it is time to give our City some credit.

Mayor Frank Robertson explained how the taxes were eliminated by simply increasing the water and sewer rates. The increase makes a fair way for all residents, not just property owners, to share in the upkeep of the city. Also, the minimum, which is $13 was not increased.

The elderly residents are not affected by this procedure because most of them only use the minimum, and the increase is applied to maximum usage.

When questioned about city taxes in the future, Mayor Robertson replied, "We don't foresee any need for taxes, unless there should be some type of disaster."

He stated that the City Council and Bill Dillard, Superintendent, should be congratulated for practicing good management. The City of Cross Plains presently has no indebtedness, nor has it been indebted for the last six to eight years. It is one of the few cities who operates in the black.

Mayor Robertson reported that the City has improved the water and sewer systems, built the Community Center and Park and recently purchased a new fire truck. The list of accomplishments is quite impressive.

In addition to city tax exemption, the Cross Plains Independent School District has one of the lowest school tax rates in the State.

All these factors make our town more attractive for residential and business concerns. There are many advantages of living in Cross Plains which have not been touched, but basically this is just a fine place to call home.

TOWN MEETING — What do you suppose they are discussing?

Do You Know What's Going on Here?

By VANDA KING
Editor

While digging through some old photographs at the Review recently, we came across some pictures that we thought might be of interest to historical minded readers.

Some of the younger generation may not know how Cross Plains use to look and these pictures tell it all. It appears to be a thriving little city.

The date on the pictures is March 16, 1922, and that would be just prior to the big oil boom. They appear to be having a town meeting in front of the Farmers National Bank.

Note the dress of the men - suits, coats and hats. Also, observe the fact that there are few women on the scene.

Junior Oil Company has a sign displayed in the windows on top of the bank. The Cross Plains Mercantile Company, which was owned by the Bond brothers, was in the building now known as Bryan's Variety.

Upon careful scrutinizing of the photo you can see a cafe sign to the south of Farmers National Bank and I wondered if it was Bailey Wilson's Cafe. Bailey determined that it was not his cafe because at that time he was working with his father in Wilson's Grocery.

He delivered groceries around town in a wagon pulled by one horse. His father use to buy farm products such as eggs, milk, cream, etc., to sell at the store. Wilson said, "I remember the Model A cars would park in front of the grocery store and the street was so sandy that we would have to give them a push to get out of the sand."

Wilson mentioned the medicine shows that use to come to town. He said they provided music and entertainment and sold their remedies to their audience.

In the picture showing the cars parked in the middle section of the street you can vaguely see a round-type object in the street which Wilson recognized as the turning point where cars made a u-turn to go the opposite direction.

While he studied the pictures, he commented on the fact that there use to be huge live oak trees growing just behind the stores pictured. He seemed to enjoy relating the good ole days and it was very enlightening.

Wilson didn't recall what event might be taking place in the pictures, but if you can contribute any information as to the occasion, please write the Cross Plains Review, P. O. Box 519, Cross Plains, Texas 76443. We would like to prepare a follow-up article on the subject.

Over the next few weeks we will feature several old photos and see what kind of response we can get from readers. If you remember something of interest, please write.

UF Still $400 Short

Anyone who did not have an opportunity to contribute may still make donations at the Citizens State Bank.

The United Fund is the only such drive sanctioned in this community. The charitable act will be very beneficial to several organizations and to the community Christmas project.

the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

A "Hobo" quilt, which the club quilted, is on display at the Citizens State Bank and chances may be purchased for .50 cents. Chances will be available at the musical prior to the drawing Friday night. The proceeds from this project will also benefit the Rehab.

The Cottonwood ladies invite you to enjoy a meal and some good entertainment, and at the same time contribute to a great cause.

PIONEER NEWS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

The rains and cold winds are letting us know that fall is really here — and winter is not far away. There has been snow in several places in Texas the past week.

My big trees are losing their leaves really fast. I'll have a lot of raking and burning to do — the price I pay for my beautiful trees.

Last Saturday was my Karen's 35th birthday. My son, C. V., Jr., called one day. They are expecting their new offspring almost any time now.

C. V. said that Lisa Dawn performed last week with a ballet group at the Piney Woods Fair. Bless her heart!

Because so many friends have asked about my sister, Bernice, I want to report that she is doing just great — she hardly limps at all. Of course, she has to "favor" that knee at all times — while sitting, standing, whatever. At almost 82, her health is exceptionally great!

Mrs. Cole Tillotson and her daughter from California visited Mrs. Ethel Brown last week. Lou Grider visits her often, and Rolan Jones came by this week.

Mrs. Hiram (Jewel) Foster went to the Pentecostal Church one day and helped to serve. Eugene and Norma visited her on Sunday.

George Roody of San Francisco called his parents, Bob and Sally, last weekend. He was in San Antonio at the time. Cindy and Charlie called from Brady during the week.

Sara and David McGowen had their whole family together last weekend. Danny McGowen from Andrews was there. They had a big day.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mitchell visited with Betty and J. T. Beggs last Friday evening. Tony Beggs of Cross Plains visited them on Monday.

Paul and Juanita Harlow of Lovington, New Mexico spent several days with Jean Fore — they are there as I write. Vi Harlow of Marble Falls spent the weekend with them.

A singles super market? This is something new - even in Houston - where peculiarity reigns.

The ad invited all singles to come in and meet new singles in the produce department, or in canned goods. Financial advisers were seated next to the detergents to advise singles on how to pay bills. Anything a singles person might be interested in was offered, including, no doubt, specials on all junk and health foods.

There was a time, back when men were men, and women were slaves, that ladies could hang out the laundry, then walk over to the fence to visit with the woman on the other side.

The electric dryer and sexual equality ended that. Peek over a neighbor's fence today, the police will show up at your front door within minutes.

Men used to borrow tools from each other and spend time visiting in the garage. Then tools got expensive. Now garages are locked tight with signs pasted on the window warning of burglar alarm systems.

There are still a few coffee shops around. But Burger Kings and the like are taking over. All you do is tell a speaker what you want, then drive up to the window.

"Here's your change, sir," isn't the cure all for America's loneliness, though.

Today some people can go for months without breathing fresh air. Sliding windows are still installed as a matter of tradition, but nobody uses them. Refrigerated air is expensive, and nobody wants to air-condition a neighborhood of strangers.

In the morning, a person can pack a sack lunch, walk to the garage - which is attached to the house - and then get inside a car with all the windows rolled up.

Not until you are fastened in, do you have to click the automatic garage door opener. This protects the motorists from fresh air that might escape into the vehicle otherwise.

At work, these people can park in a garage underneath the building. They can walk straight into an elevator that transports them to their office. Again, they've avoided most of the danger of human contact - not to mention anything that nature might offer.

They even have drive-in-speakers for some churches now. You just drive up in a huge parking lot, attach the speaker and never have to bother with "fellowship." Pledge payments can be deposited in one of those suction like devices they use at drive-in banks.

I had a call from a fellow free-lance writer the other day. It said, "This is Robert Vernon's machine speaking to Art Lawler's machine. Perhaps the day will come when we can talk live."

There was an old man in our community a few years ago who took to sitting on his front porch. He supposedly hadn't had company since 1949. He never said anything, just stared. A few kids taunted him on their way to school, but there was never any reaction.

Finally, he decided to express himself, using a rifle to make his point. The kid, witnesses say, didn't say a word, but the old man remembered "kids."

They buried this kid a couple of days later and authorities escorted the old man to an institution where he'd have company.

Fortunately, somebody is now doing something positive to combat this problem. Singles-bar conversation is cliché-ridden. It can be pre-recorded on tape before a person goes to the bar if he's the nervous type.

It shouldn't be that way with grocery store singles gathering places. There's something about feeling your way through the potatoes and okra that encourages normal behavior.

For now the super market idea is unproven. But the idea could prove to be the best communication device since the clothes line.

Cross Plains Junior High Plays Bangs Thursday

The Cross Plains Junior High football team played Winters on their home turf Thursday. Winters took the victory 34-0.

Coach Jerry Walker stated that the majority of teams they have competed with have a 1st string composed of 8th graders, while Cross Plains only has a few 8th graders playing. The size and experience makes for tough competition.

The Mighty Mites will travel to Bangs Thursday. The game will begin at 6:30 p.m. There will be a B Team game prior to the regular Junior High game.

Marching Band In UIL Contest

The Buffalo Marching Band under the direction of Ricky Beam performed in the UIL Marching Contest at Shotwell Stadium in Abilene Saturday, October 11.

The band received a 4th division rating in marching in the 2A Band Group. The judges commented that the trumpet section sounded good. They also stated that the twirlers and flag corps performed well.

Denise Flippin received a 1st division on her solo twirling routine. Denise Flippin, Kami Hargrove, Shae Pancake and Khristina Horan received a 2nd division on their twirling quartet.

Bufs To Face Bangs Friday Night

The Buffaloes have done it again! They have kept up with their competition on paper but the turnovers and fumbles allowed the other team to score. Winters had a total of 15 first downs and Cross Plains had 10.

Winters raced past the Bufs with a 33-7 score. The Bufs won the toss-up and chose to receive the ball. A fumble on the play ended in the first score for Winters. The Bufs tied the score on the second kick off when Darin Apple received a pass.

The second score for Winters came from an intercepted pass. Another fumble ended with the third score. The final score was on a fourth down and long, and Cross Plains having 12 men on the field, Winters automatically received the point.

The Buffaloes scored in the 3rd quarter.

Darin Apple was the top yard gainer with 43 yards and Gregg Weiss totaled 24 yards.

Clay Richardson was the leading receiver running 34 yards on 2 passes; Chris Brown made 10 yards on 1 pass; and Jesse Sibley gained 13 yards on 1 pass.

Jesse Sibley and Shane Bubenik lead the defense.

Friday the Buffaloes will be playing Bangs at Cross Plains beginning at 7:30 p.m. Bangs has a 1-2 record in district and Cross Plains has 0-3.

Bangs has two exceptional players. Billy Baker, a Senior and quarterback, is one of the topped ranked players in the area. Jerome Brown, Senior and wide receiver, is also a very good player. Bangs prefers a passing offense.

The Junior Varsity will play at Bangs on Thursday.

The Athletic Booster Club will be serving hamburgers at the football game beginning at 7:00 p.m. The Booster Club invites you to come and eat with them. The hamburgers are $1.75 and cheeseburgers $2. Coach Permenter hopes everyone will come out and enjoy the ball game.

C. P. Open JV Program

In Week 7

By JAMES AMES
And ROBBIE WHEELER

The Cross Plains Buffaloes will open a JV football program in the 7th week of the season.

The JV will consist of Freshmen, Sophomores, and some new Juniors.

Cross Plains has not had a JV in about 4 years. There have been several new players coming into the program, which has made it possible to schedule some JV games before the end of the season.

The JV will be playing on Thursday nights following the Junior High game. The schedule for the JV for the remainder of the season is...Bangs, Jim Ned, San Saba, and Goldthwaite.

experience. He also said, "A few were irritating in their approach and in their attempt at making a case out of nothing."

He was a member of 3 separate juries, hearing 3 separate cases. The members of each jury, he said, were just "average" people, mostly men, and only 2 or 3 women.

The cases all involved traffic accidents. Two cases involved private citizens in 2-vehicle accidents, and the third case was the State vs. a private company.

In each case, the jury was instructed to decide or "vote" on separate "items" that were presented to the jurors in written form. These "items" ranged from 4 in one trial to 21 items in the case involving the State.

They were instructed not to talk with anyone (not even spouse) about any trial. They were unable to ask any questions while in court, only to listen to the evidence and then in conference to vote on each item involved.

After getting the experience behind him, Mr. C. said, "It was an interesting experience, it gave me a feeling of great responsibility. I believe we did a good job and justice was served except in the situation where the state wasn't awarded damages on the destruction of its overpass."

Halloween Carnival

By SHEILA PAYNE

The Senior Class of 1987 is planning a Halloween Carnival along with a Haunted House and Hay Ride for October 25 (Saturday night).

The Hay Rides (beginning at 8:00 p.m., and going till midnight) will start at the Carnival site and go to the Haunted House across the street from the Cemetery. The rides will begin approximately 30 to 40 minutes apart.

Although there will be adult supervision on each ride, children under 6 must also be accompanied by an adult.

The Carnival, which will be located at the skating rink on Main Street will have plenty of different games, booths, and lots of prizes. The Carnival will open at 7:00 p.m. and last until 10:00 p.m.

There will also be the crowning of the Halloween King and Queen at 9:00 p.m. Also, all kids be sure to dress up as your favorite spook because there will be prizes for the best costumes for boys and girls.

Be sure and take a scary trip through the Spook House to make your Halloween complete. It will be open from 8:00 p.m., until midnight. You can take the Hay Ride from the Carnival to the Spook House and back.

If you get hungry, there will also be hamburgers and other refreshments available at the Carnival. So, COME

AND ENJOY because all the Seniors say, "This Carnival and Spook House will be the best yet."

Coach Of The Week

By PAULA KENNEDY

This year, Cross Plains hired 5 new coaches. For the next few weeks, I'll be writing articles about each of the new coaches. This week I'll introduce Bill McKinnerney.

Coach McKinnerney came to us from May, where he coached for 5 years. He has also coached and taught at 6 other schools including Jim Ned, Perrin, Chico, Ranger, Gordan, and Brownwood. While at Chico and Perrin, he was also the High School principal. He has coached for a total of 18 years and taught for a total of 25 years. His coaching experience includes not only basketball, but football and track.

Coach Mac (as he's called) has an impressive list of accomplishments in his years of coaching. It includes 11 years district championships, 10 years Bi-district championships, and 6 years Area Championships with his basketball teams. Also, 3 years Regional champs, 1 year State runner-up, and 1 year State 3rd place, and 9 years District Championships with his track teams.

This year Coach Mac is sharing all of his experience with the C. P. H. S. Girl's Basketball Team.

Coach graduated from Rising Star High School. He received his Bachelors of Science degree from East Texas State University, and his Masters of Education from Hardin Simmons University.

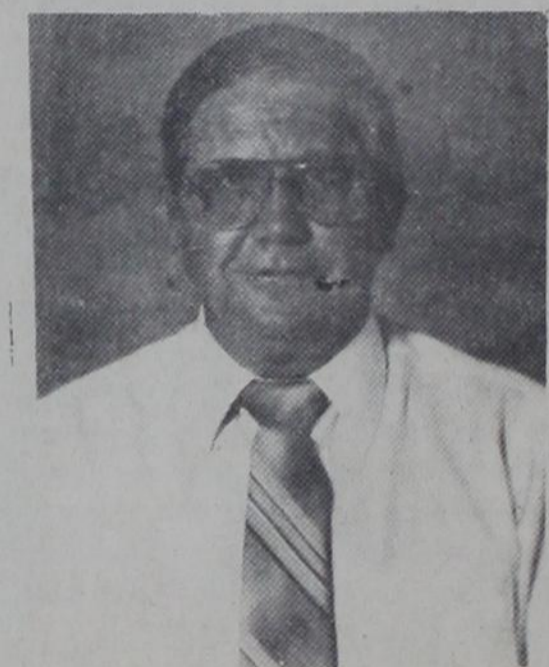

He and his wife, Dorothy, have been married for 33 years and have 2 daughters: Lorilei who is 28 and Toni who is 24. Currently, the McKinnerneys are residing in Cross Plains.

When he's not working with the Lady Bufs, Coach says he likes golfing, fishing, coin collecting, politics and exploring as his hobbies.

When I asked Coach how he felt about living in a small town like Cross Plains, he said he loved it and always has liked living in a small town.

In answer to my question concerning his plans for our girl's basketball team this season, he replied, "I plan to build a strong girls basketball program for the fans of the Lady Bufs. Beginning with the 1986-87 basketball season, people of the State of Texas are going to begin to respect and fear the Lady Bufs winning tradition."

Bike-A-Thon A Success

By MARY DUNN

Who would have thought that twenty-seven kids would have ridden 718 miles? Well, they did!

When I was a little girl, my mother use to tell me "some of the best people in the world live in Cross Plains." She was absolutely right. Because of this, a few phone calls and a minimal amount of time, is all that was necessary to put the St. Jude bike-a-thon in motion.

Cross Plains has a right to be very pleased with its children and young people. Co-operation from parents of the riders was fantastic. Thanks to Arlene Stevenson, Cheryl Trenary, Debbie Hargrove, Stuart and Barbara Sowell and Glenda Dominey who helped with the lap count and refreshments. Thanks to the Assembly of God Church for the use of their restroom facilities!

Special thanks to Tom Stevenson, Manager of Higginbothams, and Gene Greenwood, owner of Greenwood Insurance Agency, for donation of the grand prize — a ten-speed bicycle: Mr. and Mrs. James O. Koening, owner of Western Auto, for allowing them to purchase the bicycle at cost; school officials, Lee Thompson and Ray Womack, from the beginning to the end for material distribution, collection and use of school facilities; City officials, Mayor Frank Robertson and City Manager, Bill Dillard, for help in securing the area for the bike-a-thon; Carl Sohns, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott, Mrs. H. P. White and Mrs. Byron Richardson for the use of "their" street from 8:00 a.m., to noon; and Manager of Village Market for refreshments.

The most important part comes now that the riders have ridden all those miles. Collecting money from all the people who pledged and getting it turned in is the final step. The rider who turns in the most money will be the winner of the bicycle.

Money should be turned in to Mrs. Dora Smith, Mrs. Nora Odom or Mrs. Mary Dunn by Friday if at all possible.

The real heroes of this bike-a-thon are the kids who obtained pledges and actually peddled all those miles:

Crop Insurance Deadline October 31

GEORGETOWN, Tx —October 31 ends the 1986 year insurance period for barley, oats and wheat grown in Callahan, Texas and insured by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) according to Ardell Kalmbach, a representative for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

"Under the terms of the policy, any acreage on which harvest will not be completed must be left intact until an inspection is made. Any claim for indemnity may be rejected if these loss reporting requirements are not met," Kalmbach stated.

"Any notice of loss must be given promptly after the total destruction of the unit, completion of harvest, or October 31, whichever occurs earlier," according to Kalmbach. The producer who anticipates a claim should notify his or her crop insurance representative immediately.

You Tellum!

By Art Lawler

Today's web is for the sports fan to unravel.

It's a good web, actually. At least it's good if you happen to be a fan of the Dallas Cowboys.

What are you going to do about the Dorsett-Walker connection?

Tony finally seems to have accepted the fact Herschel Walker is going to make twice as much money as he is even though it's Dorsett who is the proven NFL veteran. Until Dorsett was injured, Coach Tom Landry continued to start the player with the lower salary while bringing in the high-salaried Walker when he felt the time was right.

Occasionally Landry put both super backs in the game at the same time, creating a "full-house" backfield. It didn't work very well, but we all got excited when we saw No. 33 and No. 34 lined up at the same time.

Now then, let's get down to the problems you need to solve today as head coach of the Dallas Cowboys.

If you continue to alternate the backs, how long can you expect to keep the two super backs happy? Walker is being a good sport now, but he can't amass the kind of personal statistics he'll need to make the Hall of Fame unless he's in the game for most of the offensive plays. Remember he used up three valuable years in the USFL.

Dorsett is closing in on the No. 2 spot in all-time NFL rushing yards. But unless he plays on most of the offensive plays, he may lose his health and his job before reaching that goal.

If you put both players in the game, the blocking seems to suffer. Both are learning, for the first time, how to do this blue-collar labor, but neither will ever be compared to the great blockers in the NFL.

Do you continue alternating the two, thereby assuring discontent and ultimately dissension on the team?

Or do you play them both and hope fullback Timmy Newsome can block well enough to complement both of the super backs?

Or do you make a wide receiver out of Walker until Dorsett retires. Walker does have good hands and 9.1 speed in the hundred? Remember Bullet Bob Hayes? That's what he ran when he earned the title of "World's Fastest Human."

Most NFL coaches would love to have this problem, so you should enjoy solving it for Tom.

Go ahead. You tellum about it.

Weekly Health Tip

POISONOUS GASES

Homeowners should realize that heavily insulated and weather-tight homes during winter are so tightly sealed that the stove or furnace may exhaust the oxygen in the home. If this happens, the burning fire will produce poisonous carbon-monoxide - an odorless, tasteless, invisible gas. Be sure enough fresh air enters your home at all times a fire is burning, by providing some air vent.

Visitors in the Lizzie Burks and Emma Johnson home during the week were Arlene Laney of Cross Plains and Weldon and Leona Gary.

Emma Johnson also reported that her daughter, Pansy Jo Johnson, and Emma's son, W. R. Johnson, of Caballo, New Mexico had attended the balloon festivities where 400 balloons were in the air at one time.

When the Don Harrells were contacted for news, his report was their going to and from school with their daughter, Leigh. They also were happy about the good rains.

Ellen Carpenter of Denton spent the weekend with her parents, James and Dorothy Reynolds. Her husband, John, had to work.

Gene and Vernie Belle Mauldin visited Ima Gibbs and W. B. Gibbs in Baird Wednesday night.

Robert and Dorothy Watson and son, Wyatt, attended ball games with Lometa at Baird Friday night. Cody plays on the Junior High Baird team which played in Lometa Thursday night.

Visitors in the Watson home this week were friends, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Yarborough, of Abilene. The couple had returned from a trip to the New England States and shared with the Watsons the high points of the trip.

Tommie and Lora Fay Harris came back last week after making the Fall Foliage Tour by bus of nineteen states. She reported a wonderful trip as they had not seen that part of our country before.

Distinguished Texas Women

Recently three women were named to the Texas Women's Hall of Fame in Austin. The historical figures ranged from the first female dentist in the State to the woman who helped make fence-cutting a felony.

Mary Lou Shelman, Mabel Doss Day Lea and Genie Griffin DeWolfe were announced by Governor Mark White as three of 150 distinguished women in the state's history.

Shelman (1866-1955) became the first certified female dentist in 1893 and worked in Cross Plains for 30 years. Shelman sculpted her own bridgework, caps and dentures.

Lea (1854-1906) operated the first fully-fenced Texas ranch. "In 1884, she lobbied successfully in Austin to make fence cutting a felony. She later colonized the land and over 500 families settled in the Coleman County community.

DeWolfe (1879-unknown) both a poet and a journalist, became a charter member of Composers, Authors and Artists of Texas and a member of the Texas Women's Press Association. She also served as the publicity chairwoman of the American Red Cross and traveled with her husband's mobile picture show.

Billie Loving To Review

"One Who Walks Alone"

"I Met Bob Howard Today!", so begins Novalyne Price Ellis' new book about her life in Cross Plains from 1934 to 1936.

The book "One Who Walked Alone" is a remarkable account of the last two years of the life of Robert E. Howard as written by the one woman he dated and who knew him best. Novalyne was a teacher in Cross Plains during those years and, as an aspiring writer, kept daily journals of her conversations with Howard and other residents of the Cross Plains community. When Howard died, she held on to these journals thinking that one day she would write about him. "One Who Walked Alone" is the culmination of that dream.

A review of this book will be presented by Billie R. Loving at the Cross Plains Public Library on October 21 at 7:00 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend. This review, open to all without charge, is particularly meaningful in that Miss Loving is well acquainted with those years in Cross Plains and with Novalyne Price Ellis, having been a student of her English and Speech classes.

In addition to being a first-hand insight into the mind of Robert E. Howard, this book portrays the people, places and daily life here during those early years.

"One Who Walked Alone" is not yet available in bookstores, but the Cross Plains Public Library is fortunate to have copies on hand which may be purchased any weekday afternoon between 1:00 and 5:00 as well as at the book review on October 21.

first to settle along the Mississippi River in St. Genevieve, Missouri.

The Schneider family recently visited their kin and were fascinated by LaLumondiere's connection to the past.

He still hunts with a black powder bow and arrow, and reportedly can throw a hatchet like a true Indian.

The photograph displays the full dress worn at Black Powder Shoots.

LaLumondiere is called "Bear" by his relatives and friends but is reported to be gentle as a lamb. Peggy Schneider says it was a real pleasure just to get to know him and his family and the history they represent.
