NUMBER THIRTY-FIVE

County-Wide Scrap Metal Drive Will Open Monday

A County-Wide Drive for collection of scrap iron, rubber, brass, copper, aluminum, etc. will begin Monday morning, August 17th and end Saturday, August 23rd—with a junk rally.

Judge P. H. Freeland and the Salvage Committee, Ernest Frankie, Baird, County Chairman; I. G. Mobley, Putnam; Jim Barr, Cross Plains; and Rob Stephenson Eula, have worked out plans for this drive which has been designated W. P. A. project. Two large trucks and ten men will be assigned to collect the junk. A central point for collection of the junk will be announced later.

It is hoped that the citizens of Callahan County will respond to this call, which is very urgent. Our nation needs this material now for war purposes. Previous calls for scrap metal have not been responded to as they should be. Every man, woman, every boy and girl in Callahan County can help the government win the war by collecting scrap metal, burned-out light globes, tooth past tubes, old batteries, bicycle tires and tubes, garden hose, lawn mowers, golf clubs, wash tubs, waste cooking fats. Our government is earnestly asking us to do this. Let's do our duty before it is too late.

In its appeal to Texans to gather in the scrap, the following communication has been received from the War Production Board:

"There are countless thousands of brave men in our expeditionary forces, our ships, our submarines, our flying fortresses and other other fighting units throughout the world who are daily offering their lives that you and I may continue to enjoy the freedom that was won and passed on to us by our fore fathers. These are, indeed, real fighting men, but they can avail little unless we, here at home, can send to them a maximum of the very best fighting equipment that can possibly be made.

"We have the factories, the plans, the tools and the workmen to do this; but the disturbing question at the present time is, can we get together a sufficient quantity of raw material to keep all of this machinery in production? In addition to the enormous quantity of rubber, copper, tin, brass, aluminum, burlap, rags and manila rope that must be salvaged, we are faced with the absolute necessity of supplying 1,000,000 tons of scrap iron and steel every week to the furnaces of our steel plants!

"In order to do this every possible piece of scrap must be collected and turned in through a junk dealer. This is a program that has been undertaken by our General Salvage Committees, and we know you will not rest until you have done everything in your power, and seen to it that the local committee is conducting a continuous and determined program to send the last piece of scrap in your area to our war factories."

See the big ad in this issue of The Star giving information needed in this drive. This ad will be followed by one each week for the next two weeks.

Industrial users will be given a 10 percent increase, thus raising their allotment to 80 percent of their sugar "base" for these four months, while institutional users will be granted a 25 percent increase, boosting their allotment to 75 percent of their base.

Sugar purchase certificates for these additional allotments will be granted the institutional and industrial users when they apply for their regular allotments for the September-October period.

WAR RATION BOOKS SHOULD BE RETURNED TO BOARD IF AND WHEN—?

Mr. Ralph Ashlock, chairman of the Callahan County War Price and Rationing Board, called attention to the fact that any persons, either from lack of information or through negligence, are failing to surrender their War Ration Books to the local board when they are inducted into the armed services.

Heirs and next-of-kin also are failing to surrender to the board the books of persons who have died. Mr. Ashlock said, "There have been only nine ration books surrendered for these causes to this board," he pointed out, "while conservative estimates are that over four hundred persons have entered the armed services from this county since November, 1940.

"Birth registrations and surrenders of books as a result of death also are considerably below our estimates of the reasonable expectation."

Mr. Ashlock added that the war rationing regulations are very strict in this regard and he expressed hope that the local board not have to call on the Office of Price Administration to invoke penalty provisions against persons who fail to observe this regulation.

West Texas Chamber Of Commerce

Directors of the West Texas chamber of commerce in 170 affiliated towns are this week balloting on a rubber saving help-the-war effort measure submitted by J. Thos. Davis, president.
Davis' proposal, conveyed by letter to each of the 200 directors, is for the postponement of the regional chamber's general conventions for the war's duration and the substitution this fall of a "referendum" convention, over a two weeks period terminating in a clearance meeting of a combined work and elections committee. This would be held Nov. 4 and 5 in Abilene, headquarters city of the organization.
If the proposal carries, Davis pointed out, the WTCC will have, without wear on automobile tires, a series of 170 town conventions by its directors joined by their local chamber of commerce managers and Public Affairs Committees. In the period from Oct. 15 to Nov. 1 each director and manager will receive not to exceed ten referendum ballots. These will cover the election of new WTCC officers and directors as well as suggested policies and programs emanating from committees and members. The ballots will be returned for canvassing by the work and elections committee, to be composed of the ten present district directors and assistants to be appointed. From this small group's session, in Abilene, will emerge the 1943 officer and director list and the organization's program of work for the year.
Request From OPA
With his letter and postcard ballots to directors Davis enclosed a letter from Mark McGee, state director of the Office of Price Administration, requesting deferment of the general gathering while the rubber shortage continues. McGee urged, however, that the WTCC arrange to carry on its deliberations and activities. "For," he wrote, "I wouldn't want to see this organization, or any other regional or local chamber of commerce, suspend normal activities. These organizations are of great aid in the war effort and should continue to function apart from the conventions, not only in rendering assistance to the communities and areas they serve, but to the state and nation in these hours of extreme emergency."

Enclosed also was a letter from L. A. Wilson, manager of the Waco chamber of commerce. At the 1941 fall convention of the WTCC, Waco was selected as this year's host city. Wilson wrote: "We are glad to offer full cooperation. However, since we worked for several years to secure the convention, it would be appreciated if it may be understood that when the general gatherings are resumed Waco will automatically have the privilege of entertaining the first one."
Davis wrote the directors he was personally advocating the plan, "providing a substitute plan can be adopted for carrying on the work of the convention and of the organization. As we have had an outstanding year of usefulness and are being called on during this emergency for more and more activities, we must use the postponing as a means of strengthening rather than diminishing our organizational work. The maintenance of our affiliates, election of our officers and directors, adoption of our policies program, and such other work as is always done at the convention, must be carried on in order to Galton bottles or jars 60 minutes.
7. Place bottles or jars on side ballots to the Abilene office. Announcement of the result will be made public immediately, said, place (four to eight months).
8. If a perfectly clear juice is desired, uncap bottles after settling has taken place, filter, re-bottle and pasteurize.
Caution: When first heated make our organization even more virile and active."
Directors have been asked to vote promptly and return their D. A. Bantzen, WTCC manager.

JUNK
needed for War

"What's it good for?"
"Guns, tanks, and maybe part of a plane"

In the barnyards and gullies of farms and in the basements and attics of homes is a lot of Junk which is doing no good where it is, but which is needed at once to help smash the Japs and Nazis.

Scrap iron and steel, for example. Even in peacetime, scrap provided about 50% of the raw material for steel. It may be rusty, old "scrap" to you, but it is actually refined steel—with most impurities removed, and can be quickly melted with new metal in the form of pig iron to produce highest quality steel for our war machines.

The production of steel has gone up, up, UP, until today America is turning out as much steel as all the rest of the world combined. But unless at least 6,000,000 additional tons of scrap steel is uncovered promptly, the full rate of production cannot be attained or increased; the necessary tanks, guns and ships cannot be produced.

The rubber situation is also critical. In spite of the recent rubber drive, there is a continuing need for large quantities of scrap rubber. Also for other waste materials and metals like brass, copper, zinc, lead and tin.

The Junk which you collect is bought by industry from scrap dealers at established, government-controlled prices.

Will you help?
First—collect all of your waste material and pile it up.
Then—sell it to a Junk dealer, give it to a charity, take it yourself to the nearest collection point, or get in touch with your Local Salvage Committee.

If you live on a farm, consult your County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

JUNK MAKES FIGHTING WEAPONS

One old disc will provide scrap steel needed for 210 semi-automatic light carbines.

One old plow will help make one hundred 75-mm. armor-piercing projectiles.

One useless old tire provides as much rubber as is used in 12 gas masks.

One old shovel will help make 4 hand grenades.

MATERIALS NEEDED
Scrap iron and steel.
Other metals of all kinds.
Old rubber.
Rags, Manila rope, burlap bags.
Waste Cooking Fats—When you get a pound or more, strain into a large tin can and sell to your meat dealer.

NEEDED ONLY IN CERTAIN LOCALITIES:
Waste paper and tin cans—wanted only in certain areas, as announced locally. NOT NEEDED (at this time): Razor blades—glass.

High quality grapejuice can be made from thoroughly ripe grapes of improved varieties without the addition of sugar. With inexpensive home equipment, grapejuice can be made in late July and August, the harvest season for wild grapes and improved varieties.

Wild Mustang grapes contain very little natural grape sugar, and yield only half as much juice as the improved varieties. The Black Spanish, Bailey and Wine King varieties will be found on the markets in West, Central and North Texas. The Carmen grape, a popular variety, grows throughout the state, but its juice should be blended with other varieties for highest quality.

Better flavor and more attractive color are obtained by mixing juices of different varieties. Thus varieties of a deep red color may be used in combination with light colored grapes in proportion of 75 percent to 25 percent, and tart and sweet varieties may be blended for flavor. Here are some suggested blends:

Carmen 75 percent (light and sweet) and Mustang 25 percent (dark and tart)

Carmen 50 percent and Black Spanish 50 percent (for a deep wine color)

American 50 percent and Carmen 50 percent

Scuppernon 75 percent and American 25 percent.

Blending should be done after extraction of the juice and prior to processing and bottling. A bushel of American, Black Spanish or Carmen grapes will yield three gallons of juice, and a bushel of Mustang grapes about one and one-half gallons.

For a small quantity of juice made at home few materials are needed: an enamel or aluminum dishpan, a clean meal or sugar sack, one-half yard cotton flannel for filtering, a bottle capper and bottle caps, or corks which have been boiled in paraffine. For making juice on a larger scale, add a crusher, fruit press, saccharimeter (for testing sugar content of the juice) and several large aluminum or wooden containers.

Steps In Making Juice Are As Follows:

1. Wash grapes on the stem thoroughly and crush into aluminum, wooden or earthenware vessel. Do Not Use Tin, Iron or Steel Containers.

2. If highly colored juice is desired, heat the crushed grapes, stirring constantly, to 145 degrees F. Most of the color of the juice comes from the outer skin. Heating the crushed grapes and pressing while hot will produce a rich wine color.

3. After heating, extract the juice by pressing, or hanging up in a drain bag and squeeze.

4. Filter the juice through cotton flannel cloth or jelly bag and blend or sweeten if necessary.

5. Pour into bottles or fruit jars, filling to neck of bottle or jar. Cap or cork.

6. Place in pasteurizer (may be large pot or wash boiler) having a false bottom, and cover with water completely. Heat and hold at 165 degrees F. as follows:

Pint bottles or jars 30 minutes
Quart bottles or jars 35 minutes
1/2 gal. bottles or jars 45 minutes

Advanced program of natural when removed from pasteurizer to test for leaks and to sterilize caps and lids.

8. Store in cool dark location until all settling and precipitation in the bottles or jars has taken

Increased funds of the Livestock Sanitary Commission to aid farmers and cattle raisers in tick eradication with stems on the grapes, avoid higher temperature than 145 degrees F. since a higher temperature will extract tannin from the stems and tartaric acid from the seed, giving the juice an undesirable flavor. In pasteurizing, temperature should not go above 165 degrees F. as this tends to destroy the natural flavor of the juice.

Eating half a pound of cottage cheese will give you just about as much protein in your diet as eating a half pound of round steak. Cottage cheese has about 21 percent protein content.

Most people don't know this and many farm families allow much skim milk to go to waste which might be used in making cottage cheese. One gallon of skim milk should yield about three-fourths pound of cottage cheese.

The process of making cottage cheese is simple and not a great deal of equipment is required. Full instructions for making cottage cheese may be obtained from the office of the county home demonstration agent as well as suggestions for its use in planning wartime meals.

Farmers Urged To Watch Dairy Quality

Increased Government Vigilance to Protect War Food Supplies

The government is gratified by the manner in which farmers have responded to its call for increased production of dairy products but is disturbed by the quality of some of these products, advices received by the Clyde Enterprise indicate. "Too little and too late" will never be said of the efforts of the dairy farmer in the past year, according to T. G. Stitts, chief of the dairy and poultry division of the Agricultural Marketing Administration. In the case of almost all dairy products he has delivered a plenty, and right on schedule too, he states.

On the other hand, J. O. Clarke, chief of the central district of the Food and Drug Administration, has served notice that war conditions, far from leading to relaxation in the vigilance and enforcement activities of his division, will probably bring closer watchfulness over all who produce, handle and distribute the food for our citizens, our armed forces and our allies.

Fats are of particular importance, with shortages existing, and butter, as one of the vitally necessary foods, is in for special attention. In normal times, Mr. Clarke points out, inspections were made chiefly of the finished product but now that we are at war, any and all steps deemed necessary to prevent the waste of food that results from poor quality must and will be taken.

Each of each instance of confiscated butter, says Mr. Clarke, almost invariably it will be found that the cream from which it was made had spoiled because something was done wrong, or something was left undone, along the farm production line. The law covering the production, sale and handling of food has teeth in it—teeth designed to deal alike with the careless, negligent producer of unfit cream and the manufacturer who puts bad butter into the channels of commerce—and the Food and Drug Administration will not hesitate to use them.

Cream that has been allowed to spoil cannot be made good again, and to avoid a possible run-in with the law, state or federal, the farmer must make clean milk, rather than cleaned milk, his goal, according to Mr. Clark. Particular care must be taken to prevent particles of any kind from dropping into the milk or cream, during milking or separation or while being held on the farm. While much of the foreign matter which may enter can be strained out of the milk, the full wholesomeness of an exceptionally delicate food product, once harmed, can never be wholly restored.

The days of the poor cream producer are numbered, Mr. Clarke believes, because more and more creameries are learning the wisdom of buying cream on grade and rejecting any that is unfit. He suggests this simple test for farmers wishing to check on the quality of their cream even before it leaves the farm: If you taste it and want to swallow it, that's good cream; if you taste it and spit it out, that is poor cream; if you won't even taste it, that's bad cream. Ultimately the law will catch up with the producer and the buyer of bad cream, but even those who produce or buy the doubtful product are on pretty dangerous ground.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing an amendment to Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 40a, requiring all bills passed by the Legislature on and after January 1, 1945, appropriating money for any purpose, to be sent to the Comptroller of Public Accounts for his approval, and fixing the duties of the Comptroller with reference thereto; authorizing the Legislature to provide for the issuance, sale and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by the General Revenue Fund on September 1, 1943; providing for the submission of this amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and providing for the necessary appropriation to defray necessary expenses for the submission of this amendment.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto, immediately after Section 49, a section to be known as Section 49-a, to read as follows:

"Section 49a. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts in advance of each Regular Session of the Legislature to prepare and submit to the Governor or and to the Legislature upon its convening a statement under oath showing fully the financial condition of the State Treasury at the close of the last fiscal period and an estimate of the probable receipts and disbursements for the then current fiscal year. There shall also be contained in said statement an itemized estimate of the anticipated revenue based on the laws then in effect that will be received by and for the State from all sources showing the fund accounts to be credited during the succeeding biennium and said statement shall contain such other information as may be required by law. Supplemental statements shall be submitted at any Special Session of the Legislature and at such other times as may be necessary to show probable changes.

"From and after January 1, 1945, save in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each House, no appropriation in excess of the cash and anticipated revenue of the funds from which such appropriation is to be made shall be valid. From and after January 1, 1945, no bill containing an appropriation shall be considered as passed or be sent to the Governor for consideration until and unless the Comptroller of Public Accounts endorses his certificate thereon showing that the amount appropriated is within the amount estimated to be available in the affected funds. When the Comptroller finds an appropriation bill exceeds the estimated revenue he shall endorse such finding thereon and return to the House in which same originated. Such information shall be immediately made known to both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the necessary steps shall be taken to bring such appropriation to within the revenue, either by providing additional revenue or reducing the appropriation.

"For the purpose of financing the outstanding obligations of the General Revenue Fund of the State and placing its current accounts on a cash basis the Legislature of the State of Texas is hereby authorized to provide for the issuance, sale and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid and approved obligations owing by said fund on September 1, 1943, provided such bonds shall not draw interest in excess of two (2) per cent per annum and shall mature within twenty (20) years from date."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas, at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1942, being November 3, 1942, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words:

"For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring all appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.
