'Renewed Faith'

By VANDA KING
Editor

Our little community has been shaken from its peaceful sleep by the untimely passing of Penny Jo Heath. Probably for the very first time, we became personally involved with the every day experiences of a larger city.

Surely, no other community has mourned more, the loss of a young woman whose life was taken by another person. The local residents have rallied in an effort to comfort Penny's family at this time. Her relatives have stated that the love and understanding they have felt from everyone has been overpowering.

Young and old attended the services as a tribute to Penny's life. I know I went with a feeling of enormous sorrow, but the beautiful words of encouragement delivered by Rev. Susan Trammell and her prayer for comfort to all was fulfilled.

It is so tempting to question why. All of our faith has been renewed because we are aware that it is the only way to withstand. Lives have been touched and hopefully spirits rekindled.

With all our shortcomings, I feel that Cross Plains is a community that will be there for its residents, both former and present. Every act of kindness is always expressed, and prayers for all of Penny's family have been sent from many, many places.

I have heard Glenn say that he could feel the community reaching out in comfort, and I know that everyone will continue to be supportive as he and his children establish their home in Cross Plains.

I would like to close with this passage from the Bible which, as always, relays the ultimate message:

Be patient with everyone, but above all with yourself.

I mean, do not be disturbed because of your imperfections, and always rise up bravely from a fall.

On Tuesday, January 15, all interested persons are invited to attend this meeting. The purpose is twofold: one, to adopt the bylaws which will give the organization its structure; and two, to discuss the nominating process for officers.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the high school library.

Cross Plains City Council Changes Meeting Time

The Cross Plains City Council has been meeting on the second Tuesday of each month, but they are announcing a change to the first Tuesday of each month. Please be advised of the schedule change if you plan to attend. Council meetings begin at 6:30 p.m.

The first session following the change was held Tuesday, January 8, at the City Hall.

Girl Scout Cookie Time

Don't start those New Year's diet resolutions just yet, because it's Girl Scout cookie time! Starting this Friday after school, fifty Girl Scouts in the Cross Plains area will be taking orders for those delicious "baked fresh just before delivery" cookies. The cookies will be delivered February 15 and for a few days afterwards.

The economic crunch finally caught up with the cookie sale. As a result of rising costs of production and delivery of the cookies at the Little Brownie Bakers in Kentucky and Oklahoma, the local Girl Scout Council reluctantly voted to raise the price per box to $2.25.

Please understand that most of the cookie information published in the Abilene Reporter-News refers to another council whose jurisdiction borders ours between Clyde and Baird. Their higher price and different varieties result from a contract with a different company.

Local Scouts will receive as much as 25 cents commission per box to be used for troop activities. The remaining profit to the council is used for individual sales incentives, maintenance and improvements at the camp on Lake Brownwood, and on-going services to members.

Two new varieties of munching goodness has been added this year, making a total of seven great cookies for a great cause. A granola type cookie called Trail Mix and the Chalet Creme, a vanilla cookie with vanilla or lemon filling are now available. Of course, all the old favorites are back — The Thin Mint; Trefoil (Shortbread); Samoa (coconut with chocolate drizzle); Tagalong (wafer/peanut butter with chocolate); and Do-Si-Does (peanut butter/oatmeal sandwich).

Co-ordinating this annual money-earning opportunity for the girls locally is Arlene Stephenson. Handling the sales at the troop level are: Peggy Bailey and Roxie Thomas; Barbara

Jan. 11 Deadline For Project Pride Banquet Tickets

The second annual banquet for Project Pride is set for Tuesday, January 15, at 6:30 p.m. in the Senior Citizens Center on North Main Street in Cross Plains. Deadline for obtaining tickets is Friday, January 11. Tickets may be purchased at Greenwood Insurance, The Back Room, Tim's Floral or from any member of Project Pride at $6 each.

The meal will be catered and fish and/or chicken will be served. C.J. Ledet of Coleman will be providing entertainment.

An afghan, which is currently on display at the Citizens State Bank, will be awarded to a lucky winner on the evening of the dinner. A $1 donation will give you an opportunity to receive this afghan.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend the banquet.

Rural Water Sign-Up Extended

The Board of Directors of the Callahan County Water Supply Corporation has extended the sign-up period for membership to January 31, 1991, according to Robert Warren, President. The time was extended because the board felt a number of prospective members had not signed up due to the holidays.

If you have property in Callahan County and are not in another water service area and would like to have the convenience of treated water, you are strongly urged to sign up during January as the time will not be extended again. You will not be able to get on the water line once it is designed.

A deposit of $200 will entitle you to membership in the co-op and the installation of a meter.

The Callahan County Appraisal District Office, located in Baird in the old hospital building, has applications and will assist you in filing your applications.

For more information call (915) 854-1165 or 893-4346.

For The First Time In History Of Texas, Dry Inaugural Celebration

AUSTIN (AP) — The inaugural eve celebration for Gov.-elect Ann Richards and Lt. Gov.-elect Bob Bullock will offer singers, dancers and bands, but no liquor.

Perhaps for the first time in Texas history, no alcohol will be served at the gala, which is scheduled for Jan. 14 and is expected to attract 15,000.

Democrats Richards, 57, and Bullock, 61, are recovering alcoholics.

Chuck McDonald, a spokesman for Richards, said the party is intended to be a "family affair," but the absence of alcohol has as much to do with a recent trend toward non-alcoholic parties as it does with Richards' personal views on the subject.

McDonald said the inaugural committee also declined offers by several Texas wineries to create a commemorative label in honor of Richards' inauguration.

Cottonwood News

By BEVERLY BROWN

We fared better during the cold spell that came in over the weekend in our area. Saturday was foggy early in the morning but roads were clear and a lot of folks were able to get about and travel on business. The Christmas holiday found many residents without water, frozen pipes, and well pump problems.

Mrs. Bertha Wheeler had a "white birthday" on Friday, January 4. A winter scene of ice covered the community from the freezing drizzle and moisture during the below 32 degree weather, which lasted for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wheeler had a birthday dinner for her at their home with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith and Russell Wheeler attending.

The "Yellow Rose of Texas" was the theme carried out at the 86th birthday party of Mrs. Ethel Anderson on December 26. The centerpiece was a beautiful bouquet of a dozen yellow rosebuds in a vase and the birthday cake was topped with yellow rosebuds on the white background. The celebration was hosted by her niece, Mrs. Joe Martin and the Conger family. Family members, sisters, nieces, and nephews from around the Big Country and Fort Worth gathered at the White Elephant in Cisco for the special occasion.

During the holidays Mr. and Mrs. Doug McCorkle of Stamford were at Ethel Anderson's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Champion had all their children home during Christmas. Ethel's niece and family, Roxann and Bill Tull, Billy and Shelley of Sterlington, Louisiana visited with them on the Saturday after the holiday.

Family members and guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Clark during the holidays were Janie and Billy Woody of Phoenix, Arizona; Cookie and Bob Robinson and Bryan of Clyde; J.P.'s niece and husband, Charle and Fanie Chaney of Atlanta, Georgia; Darwin Breeding of Corpus Christi; Fred and Recie Tatom, and Ora Breeding.

The W.B. Nickerson Sr. and the Bill Kellys had their families gather at the Nickerson home on Christmas Day. Delilah Nickerson of San Antonio visited with Dena and Bill over the Christmas holidays.

Creation Evidence

On Sunday, January 20, Dr. Carl Baugh will be teaching in the Sunday Morning Bible Study hour at 9:45 and the 11 a.m. Worship Service as well as 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. Worship hour at the First Baptist Church of Cross Plains. This will be a time to learn more about "EVIDENCE FOR CREATION." Everyone is invited.

Dr. Baugh is the Director of the Creation Evidence Museum in Glen Rose, Texas. In 1982, Baugh came to Glen Rose to direct an excavation following a trail of dinosaur footprints. In the process a trail of sixteen inch human footprints was discovered under 14 inches of limestone. That experience launched the concept of the Creation Evidence Museum.

In May 1990, the Dallas Times Herald, writer David Fritze wrote about two groups working to search for the origins of the universe. Physicists working on the superconducting super collider in Waxahachie talk of revealing the origin of the universe through naturalistic means. Isaac Asimov is quoted as saying the collider will give information about how the universe got started without supernatural interference.

Dr. Baugh believes that if the findings of the collider research are reported honestly and openly, they will show creation and design, yet some secular scientists will not disclose information that does not support their evolutionary model.

Dr. Baugh says that many visitors to the Museum, after looking at the evidence, ask why most of the scientific community still hold to the evolutionary theory when given the facts. Mr. Peterson, author of "Unlocking the Mysteries of the Creation," says scientist know that their position on origins is a personal choice of opinion. He quotes Evolution Sir Arthur Keith, "Evolution is unproved and unprovable. We believe it because it is the only alternative to special creation, and that is unthinkable."

Pneumonia Vaccine Effective

HOUSTON — Researchers at the Houston Veterans Affairs Medical Center (VAMC) are testing an improved pneumonia vaccine that may be effective for up to 10 years.

Pneumonia is an infection that strikes 500,000 annually and is the sixth leading cause of death in the United States. Symptoms include high fever, cough and fluid in the lungs.

The present vaccine contains 23 of the most common types of organisms that cause pneumonia; however, it has not been widely used because some less common types are not included. The VAMC researchers hope to change that.

"We have been able to chemically alter two of the 23 vaccine components so far, and we are now in the process of testing this improved version," said Dr. Daniel Musher, a professor of medicine at Baylor College of Medicine and chief of the infectious disease section at the Houston VAMC.

Musher is producing chemical changes in the vaccine by linking natural sugars found in the pneumonia bacteria to a protein "carrier." The protein carrier causes the body to produce antibodies to the infection.

Elderly people, especially those with any kind of chronic lung disease, bronchitis or emphysema should be vaccinated. It is also recommended for those infected with the AIDS virus because they are 100 times more likely to contract ordinary pneumonia.

"This incidence of pneumonia increases with age. By 60 to 70, the disease is more serious and can even be fatal," Musher said.

The four-year study is funded by the Department of Veterans Affairs under the Merit Research Program. Musher's work is based on an earlier study conducted at the Houston VAMC in which he developed methods to accurately measure antibody response to the vaccine in patients.

"Those who read succeed."

4-H Shooting Sports Growing In County

The 4-H Shooting Sports program is one of the fastest growing 4-H projects in Texas according to Greg Gerngross Co. Extension Agent. Callahan County was one of the first counties in the state to incorporate shooting sports into the 4-H program and its success has been attributed to parent and leader involvement. Recently, a group of parents and leaders met to explore new avenues of participation for current 4-H members and other eligible youth who are interested in the 4-H shooting sports program. The group decided to meet again in January to give everyone an opportunity to recruit additional 4-H'ers and parents who might be interested in the 4-H shooting sports program.

There are many avenues of participation open to 4-H'ers in this project including position rifle, light rifle, trap and skeet and silhouette. Participation in all areas of 4-H are open to anyone 8-19 years of age regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

One aspect of this 4-H project and other 4-H projects is that it is family oriented and participation by parents is viable for its success. Anyone interested in the 4-H shooting sports program is asked to call the County Extension Office (915) 854-1518 and to attend the next meeting to be held January 10, at 7 p.m. in the county courtroom.

Benefits Not Reduced During Trial Work Period

"People who receive Social Security checks because of a disability and who have what we call a trial work period can have unlimited earnings during that time without a reduction in their benefits," said Glyn Hammons, Social Security manager in Abilene.

The trial work period, which lasts up to 9 months, allows the disabled person a time in which to test his or her ability to work productively and become self-supporting.

"It's a type of buffer period which eases the transition from disability and dependency to productivity and self-support," said Hammons. All persons who feel that a trial work period would help them are encouraged to contact Social Security.

The person's earnings will not affect their disability status until after the trial period has ended as long as he or she is still disabled. At that time, Social Security will decide whether he or she is still disabled under Social Security law.

Wages averaging more than $500 ($780 for blind people) usually indicates substantial gainful work. Other factors, such as job duties, hours worked, and expenses necessary for employment may also be considered. For the self-employed, their participation in and management of the business are important factors.

If Social Security decides that the individual is still disabled, benefits will continue as before. If no longer disabled, the person will not be eligible for benefits and monthly checks will stop 2 months following the last month of eligibility.

For more information about the trial work period and how a person may participate, call Social Security's toll-free number 1-800-234-5772.

Cold Weather Poses Serious Health Threat

Although winter got off to a late start this year, it certainly came in with a bang around Christmas. One day we were in shorts and the next day wrapping our pipes. In addition to possible frozen pipes, we need to remember that the cold winter weather poses the potential health threat of hypothermia. Conditions that may accompany or result from hypothermia include: shock; seizures; pneumonias; kidney failure; gastrointestinal bleeding; heart attack; heart failure or cardiac arrest; coma; and death.

The Signs

The signs of hypothermia may include any of the following:

- * Low body temperature
- * Pale, puffy skin
- * Low blood pressure, or hypotension
- * Heart rhythm problems, or arrhythmias
- * Aspiration, or inhaling stomach contents into the lungs
- * Shortness of breath
- * Decreased alertness and/or slowed speech
- * Decreased pupil reactions (pupils in eyes not dilating appropriately)
- * Decreased or increased urination
- * Low blood counts (decreased platelets and white blood counts)
- * Acidosis, or reduced alkalinity of the blood and body tissue
- * Cessation or stopping of breathing

People at Increased Risk

People who are at increased risk for hypothermia are those who participate in outdoor activities, such as skiing, hiking, hunting and camping. The homeless are also at increased risk since they don't have adequate protection against the cold.

Another high-risk group is the elderly. The reason said Dr. Katherine M.

Jew, a certified internal medicine and geriatrics physician at the Scott & White Santa Fe Center in Temple, is because "Although the elderly prefer the same environmental temperature as young people (71.6 to 73.4 F), they do not adjust well to rapid temperature drops and have a more difficult time maintaining their body temperature." In addition, bone-chilling cold weather is not necessary for elderly people's body temperatures to drop to hypothermic levels, and death can result in only a few hours. The rate at which the temperature changes and the duration of exposure are more critical for the elderly than how low the air temperature is. "Prolonged exposure to even mildly cold temperatures may be harmful and may go unrecognized as being dangerous by the patient," explained Dr. Jew.

"The elderly may even experience hypothermia indoors because of inadequate housing and insulation or inability to pay their heating bills," she added.

Prevention

Simple steps to take to prevent hypothermia include:

- * Follow an adequate diet that includes enough calories to produce the necessary body heat
- * Avoid alcohol and other drugs which predispose people to hypothermia, unless prescribed by and discussed with a physician
- * Wear sufficiently warm clothing to prevent heat loss (layered clothing, woolens, head from the top of the head, gloves, etc.)
- * Be sure that the living quarters are well insulated and heated.
- * Keep extra blankets in your car in case you are stranded while traveling.
- * Obtain good medical care for other illnesses or conditions, such as diabetes, hormone imbalances, heart disease, infections, strokes and other neurological diseases, which can lead to increased risk for hypothermia. Medications should also be closely monitored by your doctor.
- * Exercise regularly to improve body temperature regulation.

When Hypothermia Occurs...

If you suspect that hypothermia is occurring, take the following steps:

- * Remove any wet clothing.
- * Wrap the person in warm blankets and give him something warm to drink.
- * Get the person to an emergency room. Hypothermia is a medical emergency and should be treated as such.

Medical treatment for hypothermia depends on the complications and the severity of the patient's condition.

NEWS OF EDUCATION

School Is More Than Learning The Fax

As small towns across America have lost population, declining enrollments—and budgets—have forced many school districts to drop specialized courses like advanced mathematics and foreign languages. But in Sibley County, Minn., the school district has found an innovative way to continue providing rural students with the courses they need.

Each of the four schools in the Sibley district has a classroom outfitted as a broadcast studio, complete with television cameras, monitors, two-way sound systems, and facsimile machines. The schools are linked together, over local cable TV lines, through an "interactive television system," which permits students in up to three schools to take classes originating from a fourth classroom site.

Even though the students are miles apart, the lessons are as interactive as any regular class. The two-way sound system permits students to participate in question and answer sessions, and an overhead camera provides close-ups of a teacher's notes for display on TV monitors, which serve as a remote blackboard.

Using the fax machines, assignments can be given out—and handed in—almost as easily as having the students all at one site. The interactive system employs specially designed machines from Ricoh Corporation, a leading supplier of document communications equipment, that carry the fax transmissions over cable TV lines. This technology permits assignments to arrive simultaneously at each school, avoiding unnecessary delays in classroom time. (A standard fax

Snowden Still 'Helping' After 26 Years

When Bill Snowden accepted a position in 1964 as staff physical therapist at West Texas Rehabilitation Center, his intention was to stay one year, gain some experience and then move on.

That was 26 years ago this past August — the same month WTRC's Board of Directors named Snowden executive director. He succeeds the late Shelley V. Smith, who until his death on July 19, had been the executive director of the Rehab Center since it was founded in 1953. Not surprisingly, it was Smith who introduced Snowden to the rehabilitation field.

A basketball player at McMurry College, the 6' 7" Snowden had set his sights on a high school coaching career, and he initially taught school for two years. But a summer spent "helping out" at West Texas Rehab Center at Smith's insistence and an experience involving a disabled grandparent changed all that.

"No doubt about it, I was just hooked on Rehab," Snowden relates, "and I still am as big a believer and supporter to this very day. You don't sit where I sit, and see what I see and not be a believer."

The next step was Hermann School of Physical Therapy, then clinical affiliations at Gonzales, Houston and Abilene's WTRC.

After working only a year as the Rehab's physical therapist, the Georgetown native was named PT department chief. Rising through the ranks, he became director of treatment services and vice president in 1983 and four years later was named executive vice president.

While directing treatment services, Snowden began writing grant applications — many of which resulted in the Center expanding existing programs and initiating new services. He also managed to retain his connection to education by sharing his knowledge — especially about stroke rehabilitation — with students at universities in Texas, Nebraska and Florida.

Not one to rest on past accomplishments, Snowden is eager to meet the challenges of rehab care in the 1990's — staff recruitment, expansion of facilities and programs, rural services, competition for donor dollars.

A self-confessed workaholic, Snowden has somehow made time for his community and his family. He's been active in the Lion's Club, Boy Scouts, PTA and several professional organizations. His wife, Bobbie, is head of bookkeeping at WTRC and grown children, Lori and Greg, both have become physical therapists. Then there's two grandsons who'll soon be big enough to tag along while he hunts, fishes and skis.

These days are busy ones for Snowden. He's fielding phone calls, meeting with treatment section chiefs, reviewing budgets, visiting with donors. But give him a few free minutes and he'll be among Rehab Center patients stopping to ask about their progress or bending his big frame down to check on a youngster's brace. That's what West Texas Rehabilitation Center's Bill Snowden is all about.

Top Amateur Chefs Compete At Texas Beef Cook-Off

Ten top amateur indoor cooks will gather in the scenic Texas Hill Country April 25-26 for the 1991 Texas Beef Cook-Off. The contest will take place at the YO Hilton in Kerrville.

At stake is a cash prize of $3,000 and an expense-paid trip to the National Beef Cook-Off in the fall of 1991 for the first-place winner. The second place Texas Beef Cook-Off winner receives $2,000, and the third place winner, $1,000.

"The Texas Beef Cook-Off annually shows off the brightest new ideas in preparing beef dishes," Sharon Spennath, chairman of the Texas Beef Cook-Off, said. "Each year, these amateur home cooks show the diversity, versatility and popularity of today's beef. Their talents indicate that beef has grown far beyond just steaks, roasts and patties."

Last year's winner featured an original adaption of caldo, a Mexican soup made from a strong beef stock base and chunks of chuck roast.

Anyone 18 years of age or older who resides in Texas and is not a food professional may enter the 1991 contest. Each contestant must have an original, innovative beef recipe. Although the call for entries covers indoor, outdoor barbecue and microwave categories, the Kerrville competition will declare a Texas indoor winner only. Outdoor barbecue and microwave winners are named in national competition.

Indoor entries will be judged by a five-member panel of national food experts. Dishes are rated on taste, ease of preparation, appeal and appearance. The first-place winner will be eligible to win an additional $15,000 plus other prizes at the National Beef Cook-Off Sept. 22-24 at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Contestant entries must be postmarked by March 1. For an entry form and information, contact Sharon Spennath, Texas Beef Cook-Off chairman, Rt. 1 Box 126, Comfort, Texas 78013.

Texas Still Dominates U.S. Energy Reserves

By BILL GARLAND
Washington Pipeline
Abilene Reporter-News

WASHINGTON — Latest estimates of U.S. oil and natural gas reserves by the Energy Department showed Texas continued to dominate the nation's reserve picture at the end of 1988, although Alaska followed closely with oil reserves.

Including both onshore and offshore fields, Texas held more than one-fourth of U.S. oil and gas reserves, DOE's figures showed.

The figures were provided in DOE's latest Monthly Energy Review as a summary of a report, "U.S. Oil and Gas Reserves by Year of Field Discovery." Total U.S. reserves at the end of 1988 were 28.2 billion barrels of oil and 176.9 trillion cubic feet of natural gas, DOE said.

By order of reserves, the study showed a breakdown by states:

■ Texas: 7.46 billion barrels of oil reserves and 48.68 trillion cubic feet of gas reserves, accounting for 26.4 percent of total U.S. oil reserves and 27.5 percent of total gas reserves.

■ Alaska: 6.95 billion barrels of oil and 9.1 trillion cubic feet of gas, amounting to 24.6 percent of oil reserves and 5.1 percent of gas reserves.

■ California: 5.9 billion barrels oil and 5.2 trillion cubic feet of gas, accounting for 20.9 percent of oil reserves and 2.9 percent of gas.

■ Louisiana: 1.7 billion barrels of oil and 36.5 trillion cubic feet of gas, totaling 6.2 percent of oil reserves and 20 percent of natural gas.

■ Oklahoma: 875 million barrels of oil and 17.4 trillion cubic feet of gas, amounting to 3.1 percent of oil reserves and 9.8 percent of gas.

■ New Mexico: 758 million barrels of oil and 18.4 trillion cubic feet of gas, representing 2.6 percent of oil reserves and 10.4 percent of gas reserves.

Although Alaska's North Slope is loaded with "huge volumes of natural gas," the report noted the gas is excluded from U.S. reserves since it's not "economically producible due to the lack of a transportation system to the Lower-48 states."

"Historically, Texas is by far the largest crude oil and natural gas supplier in the United States," the report stated. "At the end of 1988, onshore Texas accounted for 33 percent of the nation's ultimate recovery of both oil and gas and for over 40 percent of the nation's oil and gas fields."

"Onshore Texas fields discovered in the 1930s alone originally held more oil than has been discovered in the entire history of any other state except California," DOE said.

However, the diversity of the nation's oil and gas production industry is documented each year by the Independent Petroleum Association of America in "The Oil & Natural Gas Producing Industry in Your State."

The edition for 1990-1991 provides details of oil and gas production for 33 states, covering almost all of the western United States except Washington and Idaho and most of the eastern United States except New England, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

In a map of Illinois, for example, almost half of the state is shaded — representing 42 counties with oil and gas production out of 102 counties.

Rowden News

By MRS. N.V. GIBBS

What did you think was happening early this morning Saturday around 3 a.m.? Something began making noises on roofs over the area. This writer was awakened and thought squirrels were playing on the roof, not realizing it was pieces of ice falling from tree limbs. When Dorothy Watson was contacted for news, she reported what was going on at their place, the ice falling. All in the community are ready for warmer temperatures. It has been another week of bad weather.

Cross Plains students did not report for classes on Friday. It was reported some vehicles were in ditches along highway 36 in this area.

Don Harrell reports spending some time bringing in wood for the fireplace and also tending their livestock to make sure of water for them.

Dorothy Reynolds, Jim Reynolds of Midland, and Janet Flippin and children, Drew and Erin of Ruston, Louisiana visited Billie and Goldie Henry while they were home this week.

Lee and Jean Jernigan of Lake Proctor visited in the Tony Steele home Saturday.

Around noon this Saturday, a grandson called to invite this writer up to eat dinner that he and his sisters, Tonya and Connie Steele, were cooking. A menu was given that they were having steak, creamed potatoes, and broccoli. They thought they had catsup and barbecue sauce on hand, but each bottle was almost empty. They fixed iced tea and had whole wheat bread. A meal like this was appreciated.

Bob and Kathy Dye were in Copperas Cove spending the weekend with their daughter, Julie and her family, Bryan and Justine Patterson.

The funeral of Penny Jo Heath of Fort Worth was attended by all the family living in Rowden Wednesday in Cross Plains. She was the daughter of Franzel and Becky Odom of Cross Plains. Sincere sympathy is extended to all the family.

James and Dorothy Reynolds visited Troy and Sue Stone in Cross Plains Friday night.

Roland and Faye Mauldin had blackeyed peas with his parents, Gene and Vernie Belle Mauldin, on New Year's Day. Today, Saturday, Vernie Belle was suffering from flu that is going around.

In the Wal-Mart store in Abilene, this writer met up with a used to be neighbor, Lorene (Jones) O'Dell of Abilene. The two talked of their health, how cold it had been and a big hug for each other. Lorene grew up in the community and after marriage to Walter O'Dell they moved to Abilene where Walter was employed by the city. Lorene worked in a school lunchroom until they reached retirement age.

Also in this same Wal-Mart store, a lady was in line for checking out her purchase of items. The line was hardly moving when she mentioned she was a native of Cottonwood and related to the W.B. Varner family. She was his daughter, Agness Neal, who resides in Abilene. She also said they take the Cross Plains Review. Her cousin, Esther Varner (now deceased), dated Ray Boen of Rowden during their young years. She talked of members of her family and her Uncle Harry Varner. Her cousin, Leo Varner, taught in the Rowden school. This writer enjoyed meeting her and talking of days gone by.

Carroll Burks of Abilene visited in the Burks home this week.

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

These items just might be unusually brief this Monday morning. The monthly meeting of our AARP group is scheduled for eleven o'clock. I hope to be ready, with my 'lunch basket' before that hour.

I visited briefly with my neighbor, David, one day this week. Those young people go to work at an early hour and I don't see them often. David has an injured hand which has interfered with his work lately.

Betty and J.T. Beggs were in Temple the past week. J.T. visited his doctor one day. They are very optimistic about his problem. They stayed with their son, Rusty, and his family in Temple. George Mack Taff visited them on Sunday. On Saturday, Rex Lee Beggs and family, also Amanda Dillard visited them.

Sally Roady stated that the icy weather had curtailed much of their activities the past week. They visited Ms. Nettie at the nursing home nearly every day. They visited on the telephone with their children, George, Joe, and Cindy the past week. On New Year's Eve, they had ten visitors (brothers and sisters). On Saturday, they visited in Baird with Bob and Sue McNeil. On Sunday, they were in church; Charlie was with them.

Ms. Jewel Foster didn't have any special news this morning. She was in Sunday School and church on Sunday. She was getting ready to attend AARP later on.

At the last hour, I've just recalled that I am the "Reporter" for this new year at AARP.

CARD OF THANKS

Card Of Thanks

The expression of love and concern for us in the tragic loss of our loved one was overwhelming. A "thank you" is so little to say when our hearts are so filled with love and gratitude for all the compassion shown our family.

For all the visits that helped us through these trying times; phone calls — some received from friends we had been out of touch with for years; food that was brought to our home and church, and the ladies that helped so many hours with food before and after the service; for the many, many beautiful flowers and plants; for the thoughtful cards; memorials; and the prayers that have been such a comfort.

A special thanks to Susan Trammell for the beautiful service that touched our hearts so and the special music and songs.

May each of you be blessed in your time of need as we were.

The Family of

Card of Thanks

The Ray Trent family wishes to thank all those who were of so much help during our recent loss.

Thank you to the First Baptist Church, Dr. Marc Lowthorpe, and Reverend Hale.

The visits, calls, cards, flowers, and food, along with the prayers and words of comfort were greatly appreciated.

Card Of Thanks

Dear Friends and Family,
Words are inadequate to express my deep appreciation for your thoughtfulness and every deed you performed during my three months stay in hospitals in San Antonio and while recuperating at home. Your prayers were felt and greatly valued through this period of time.

Thank you for your friendship and love!

May God bless each of you through this new year and beyond!

Love,
Gretna Payne

Card Of Thanks

We would like to take this time to say how much we care about our family, friends, and this community, for all your help and concern. To me, the word appreciation just doesn't seem to express my feelings enough for all of the cards, prayers, and food everyone brought by. I'm sure Billy heard all the prayers and felt all the loved shared during his passing.

I would like to especially express my love and gratitude for all of the Merryman family and Merryman Drilling Co. for all that they have done for Billy and me. I will never forget everything you did for Billy.

And to Cindy and David Clark for so much support and love given to me. It has meant more than I can express. And thank you, David, for bringing Billy home one more time.

I would also at this time like to acknowledge the pallbearers that helped lay Billy to rest: Greg Austin, brother-in-law; David Clark, friend and co-worker; Charles Jennings, friend; Sammy Gardner, friend; Ricky Kelley, brother; and Danny Kelley, brother.

Sincerely,
Cindy Kelley

Application Deadline For Congressional Page Is Near

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Individuals interested in serving as a page or intern in Washington, D.C. have less than three weeks to get their applications into Congressman Charles Stenholm's office.

Completed applications must be submitted in person or postmarked by January 23 to be considered for either position.

Pages perform a variety of duties, including delivering packages to offices within the Capitol complex, and answering telephones in the Members' Cloakrooms. The pages answer directly to the Director of Page Services and they are paid a monthly salary, which covers basic living expenses.

Pages are housed in supervised dormitories and study junior level curriculum at the U.S. Capitol Page School.

Page positions are open to students in the 17th Congressional District who will be juniors in September 1991. Pages must have a "B" average in four major courses, excluding electives.

Four interns are selected to work in the Congressman's office for one month intervals in June or July.

Interns are involved in the daily operation of the Congressman's office and will help research constituent inquiries.

College students from the 17th Congressional District or those attending college inside the district, teachers and administrators and residents aged 19-25 who have demonstrated an interest in government, are eligible for the internship program. The interns are paid a one-month stipend to cover basic living expenses.

Page and intern applications and information can be obtained by contacting Elaine Talley in the Abilene district office at (915) 673-7221.

Applications are due by January 23, 1991. They will be forwarded to a Selection Committee who will notify finalists by February 28, 1991. Interviews for all positions will be held in Abilene on March 10, 1991, and selections will be made at that time.

MR. AND MRS. KEITH ALAN HILBURN

Elizabeth Anne Wood and Keith Alan Hilburn were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at the First United Methodist Church of Cross Plains. Rev. Joe Coppinger performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. W.E. (Bill) Wood are the parents of the bride and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Hilburn.

Dawn (Strength) Hilburn of Stephenville served as matron of honor. The bridegroom's father, H.D. (Jr.) Hilburn, was best man.

William Smethers of Conway, Arkansas, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Jaclyn Downs of Adair, Oklahoma, niece of the bride, and Jessica Hilburn, cousin of the groom, were candlelighters. Michelle Faraji of Canoga Park, California, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Wesley Hilburn of Cross Plains and Ronald Hilburn of Stephenville, brothers of the groom, and Derek Down of Adair, Oklahoma, nephew of the bride, were ushers.

Dorothy Reynolds and Norma Strahan provided the beautiful music for "The Lord's Prayer," "Lady," and "Wind Beneath My Wings."

Mrs. Ricky (Alesa) Brown of Fort Worth kept the guest book.

The bride chose a full length white satin sculptured cathedral dress with full sheer veil. The V-necked fitted bodice was accented with puffed, long sleeves of satin and Venus lace, enhanced with tiny inlaid seed pearls. A large bow at the waist was embellished with tiny pearls, and formed a bustle which released into a tiered satin and lace ruffled train.

The bride's bouquet was tear-dropped shape with peach colored roses, rosebuds and lilies of silk highlighted with pearls.

In one satin shoe was a 1969 penny for the birth year of the bride, and in the other a 1990 penny for the year of her wedding.

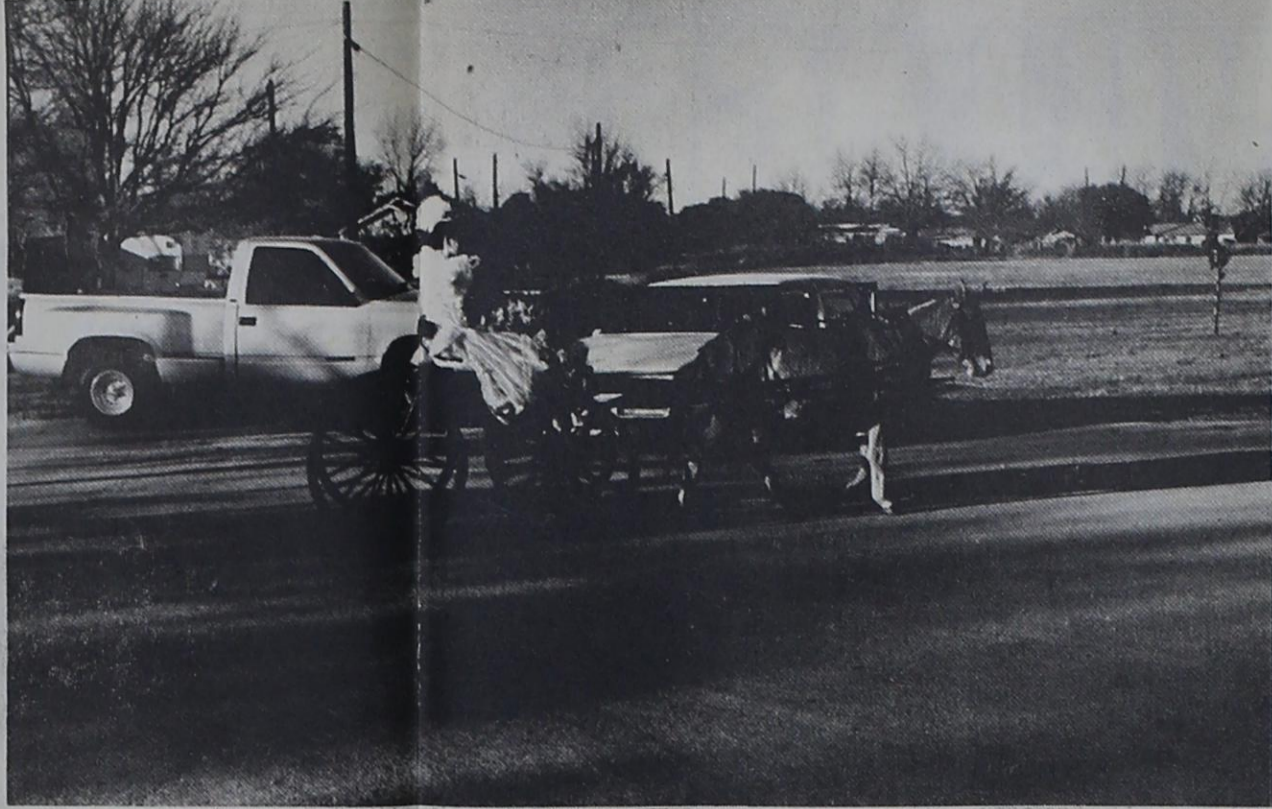

The matron of honor wore a tea length peach satin dress and the candlelighters wore teal dresses with peach bows for accent. The flower girl wore a peach lace over satin tea length dress.

The father of the bride and ushers wore grey tuxedos with peach ties and cummerbunds.

The groom wore a light grey pin striped tuxedo with tails and grey bow tie.

The church was decorated in peach and teal bows and flowers featuring two heart shaped candelabras with matching heart shaped archway.

Twenty-four peach and teal balloons were released as the groom surprised the bride with a horse-drawn carriage to charmingly escort the couple to their reception at the Cross Plains

ON THEIR WAY — Alan and Beth Hilburn ride in a horse-drawn carriage

Wood-Hilburn Wedding November 24

Community Center.

The reception hall was also decorated in the wedding colors with flowers and balloons. The bride's cake consisted of four tiers with a peach colored fountain. Fresh flowers including spider mums and peach rosebuds decorated each layer. Peach punch was served along with finger sandwiches and hors d'oeuvres.

Champagne punch along with chocolate cake with fresh dipped chocolate strawberries flowing out was served at the groom's table.

A replica of the bride and groom decorated the bride's table along with the bride's bouquet. A friend from Oklahoma created all the bouquets and additional trim which made the adornments unique.

Lyda Shults and Lois Garrett of Cross Plains, along with Beatrice

Thomason and Joyce Marks, aunts of the bride from Lone Wolf, Oklahoma, Linda Gideon of Lone Wolf, Alesa Brown of Fort Worth, Sheila Hilburn, and Dawn Hilburn served at the reception.

Chad Parrot of Midland caught the garter and Jessica Hilburn the bride's bouquet.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Saint Thomas, Virgin Islands of the United States.
