'Billy Boy'

By VANDA KING Editor

The old tune "Billy Boy" always brings to mind the rocking of small children, and a very precious pet. His name happened to be Billy, very original since he was a billy goat.

Roger Wilson, neighbor to my late grandparents, delivered the gift on a tractor. It was a briskly cold morning as I anxiously unwrapped the sack to see what was inside. There was a black and white baby goat almost

Daddy placed him in the oven at a low temperature and actually thawed him out. It does sound strange to place a live animal into the oven, but it worked. When he warmed up he was just fine. It seems like we fed him on a bottle for a while, so everyone became

About this time, we moved into Cross Plains city limits and I remember watching Billy run up and down the clothesline on a light weight chain. Not the best temporary restraint, but at least he could move around

When you turned him loose, he would generally follow close behind. However, one day we lost track of him and Daddy looked across the street and Billy was in the front seat of Ab Harris' brand new car. Evidently, Ab, who will be remembered by many as a barber, must have left the door open to the car and Billy just made himself at home.

He looked like he was playing the piano as he quickly moved his front feet from one side of the dash to the other. I recall Daddy didn't think it was too funny at the time. Thank goodness, Billy didn't decide to take a bite out of the upholstery. Ab was very good natured about the incident and just laughed.

Mother said he also helped himself to some of Lindsey and Frances Tyson's flowers. Sounds like ole Billy was real popular on the block.

His dislike for children was the final blow. He wouldn't bother me, but he tried to butt anyone who came close to him. As he grew bigger and stronger, he became more aggressive.

A cousin, James Nichols, who was a teenager at the time, thought he could teach Billy a thing or two, but it turned out the other way around. When he grabbed Billy by the horns, the goat simply flipped him making a perfect backwards somersault. A great one point landing as Don Gay would word it. The look on his face when he hit was priceless. He didn't ask about taming the goat anymore.

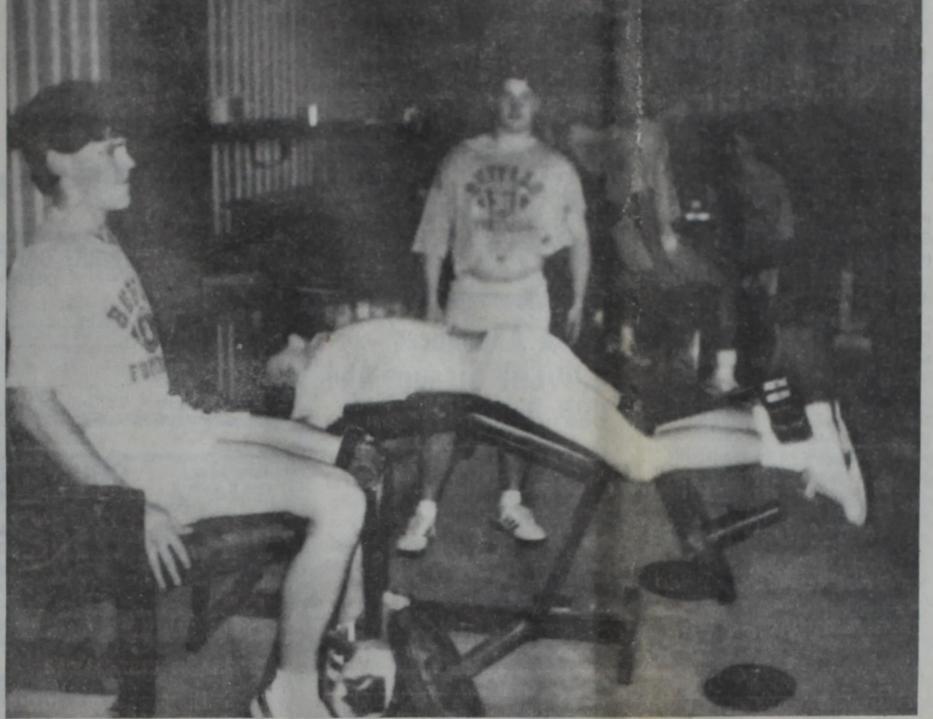

As a last resort, Daddy suggested that a small operation might contribute to Billy's behavior. No such luck, however! I recall informing him that he would have to take something else off because he was just as mean as ever

The attacks on visitors led to Billy's taking a little trip out to the late Frank McGary's place to be with his own kind.

There is nothing as cute and cuddly as a baby goat. The problem is they just grow up too soon. This sounds vaguely similar to children.

Support E.M.S. Volunteers

By PAUNIECE OGLESBY

We, in the Cross Plains community, are very fortunate to have a dedicated E.M.S. Volunteer group. In many instances, they have saved lives and been a comfort to families. From comments of individuals and thank-you notes written in the Cross Plains Review, the volunteers are prompt, efficient, and caring. Since we don't have a doctor here, our E.M.S. is very definitely needed.

At the present time, an Emergency Medical Technician Training Class is being taught by some of our local volunteers who have had advanced training and been certified as instructors. The classes started in January and go through April 15, meeting every Monday and Thursday evening from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m.

A lot of these men and women go directly from their jobs without having time to eat. Therefore, I feel the community could show their support by furnishing refreshments (snack foods) for the volunteers during their breaks. Several organizations have been contacted requesting assistance, however, if your group, or you as an individual, is interested in helping with the effort, please contact Pauniece Oglesby at 725-6772.

The groups who have already furnished refreshments or have committed to dates are Ruth Sunday School Class — First Baptist Church, Billie Kelly and Cottonwood Ladies, Cross Plains Quilting Club, Project Pride, Friends of the Library, and Ladies Monday Night Bible Class — Church of Christ. Thanks goes out to these groups. There are still several dates open at this time.

Dallas Inspires Local Athletes

By VANDA KING Editor

Doug Dallas began his position as Athletic Director at Cross Plains High School officially on February 4. He is a former graduate of Cross Plains High School and an outstanding athlete in his own right. He graduated from Sul Ross University. His wife is also a former graduate, Christy (Chesshir) Dallas. The couple's children are Jodi, an eighth grader and Jake, a second grader.

Reception of the hometown man has been favorable as many are already acquainted, and his enthusiasm concerning all areas of sports is commendable. He stressed that it is his goal to strengthen every athletic event and create teams and individuals to contend with each year. One of his prime aims is to teach the youth about the game of life and help prepare them in this area, too.

Dallas lived in Eastland where he taught and coached for a total of 23 years. Eleven years he was a coach and five years he served as head coach.

He was head coach at Santa Anna High School for one year. The football team was District Champs, Bi-District Champs, and competed in the Regional playoffs where they were defeated by Rotan.

The next year he coached at Rotan High School where they finished 2nd to Garden City. They advanced to Regional and were defeated by Eden 8 to 5 in a great game.

Dallas has complete confidence that the Buffaloes will be able to reach the same recognition. He stated that there were many fine athletes to work with and that if they follow his program of development for building confidence, strength, agility, and skills they can succeed. His positive thinking and self-motivation is contagious. If the students respond to his winning at-

Businessman Is Injured

Ray Purvis, well known Cross Plains barber, suffered a broken leg after falling at his residence Friday, February 22. The Cross Plains E.M.S. transported him to Humana Hospital in Abilene where he underwent his first surgery Friday after-

A second surgery was performed Monday morning. It was not known how long he will be hospitalized at press time.

Band Booster Meeting Slated Tuesday Night

Band Boosters will meet Tuesday, March 5, 7 p.m. in the Band Hall to discuss spring trips, contest, concerts, and plans for next year.

The high school band will be participating in the Festival of Lights Parade in San Antonio on April 27 and a lot of planning needs to go into this event.

titude, his objective should certainly be successful.

One of his primary targets involves strengthening the upper and lower body through the use of weights and a proper weight program. All athletes (boys and girls) are currently working out on weights at the temporary location in the metal building owned by Ken Horan on Avenue A just east of the practice football field.

The weights are adjusted for girls' use and proper techniques have been instructed. Dallas is a firm believer that strength is the key to better basketball players, football, tennis, track, golf, etc. Through his coaching career he has been able to see the advantage weight lifting has accomplished. He also noted that the injury rate falls when a youth is stronger.

The football team is currently involved in the off-season weight program while other athletes are working on improving individual strength.

"Parents and anyone interested in the athletic program are invited to come by and see these youths working together. I think you will be amazed at what they can do," Dallas remarked. They start on the off-season program

USDA Announces ARP/CRP Signups And CRP Program Provisions For 1991

WASHINGTON - Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter announced the 1991 Acreage Reduction Program signup will be March 4 through April 26, and the 10th Conservation Reserve Program signup will be March 4 through March 15.

"Under new CRP program provisions, bids on eligible land will be accepted based on environmental benefits obtained per dollar of cost to USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation," Yeutter said.

Yeutter cautioned producers that they should not rely on bid amounts which have been accepted in previous years when making their bids. "In past signups, there was a high expectation that a producer could rely on no change occurring with respect to the bid amounts which would be accepted," he said. "Producers who wish to enroll in the CRP should be aware there is increased competition.

Land eligibility requirements will be expanded from past signups to include not only highly erodible land, but also other cropland acres that reduce the impairment of water quality or improve wellhead protection. "Wellheads are sources of water for municipalities," Yeutter said. "We expect to accept bids for protection of these wellheads as well as areas designated by states as '319 areas,' which have been determined to be a source of water quality problems."

To increase water quality benefits under CRP, producers offering areas such as filterstrips, sod waterways, shelterbelts, and contour grass strips will receive additional consideration during the bid evaluation process.

Yeutter said bids for enrolling wetlands will not be accepted during this signup. "The Food, Agriculture, Conservation and Trade Act of 1990 establishes a Wetland Reserve Program and we will announce details of this program in the near future," he CRP bids will be accepted only for contracts beginning in 1991 and bid acceptance determinations will be made after a nationwide review and evaluation. Selection will be based on the environmental benefits received from placing the land in the CRP when compared to dollars of cost.

Yeutter said producers will be permitted to enter the same acreage simultaneously into the annual commodity programs and the CRP, and to withdraw from the commodity programs, without penalty, if their CRP bid is accepted.

USDA needs 30 days to evaluate and accept a bid, but acceptance is not binding on either the producer or USDA until the contract is signed, he

Fifty percent cost-share assistance will continue to be available to establish needed permanent vegetative cover, including trees, on the accepted acres. Annual rental payments for 10 years also will be paid to CRP participants, based upon their bid, except in some limited cases, such as hardwood tree planting, where a longer period may apply.

Further details will be made available to producers in the near future through their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices.

ARP program provisions were announced December 31, 1990.

The City of Cross Plains is reporting 1991 one percent city sales tax payments running 19.50 percent higher than the 1990 payments of the tax. Cross Plains 1991 sales tax payments have amounted to $10,691.47, while the 1990 sales tax rebates were $8,946.58.

The city's monthly sales tax check for February 1991 was reported to be $7,527.78. That figure was an increase of 14.82 percent over tax collections of $6,555.95 made in February 1990.

Retail sales in the City of Clyde continued its downward turn, according to recently released city sales tax figures for the city.

John Sharp, State Comptroller, said that sales tax payments in Clyde are running slightly lower than tax payments during 1990. He said that the sales tax rebates for the City of Clyde have amounted to $15,680.94 so far in 1991. The 1990 payments to the city were $15,737.32, a 0.36 percent decrease in sales tax collections.

Other Callahan County towns reporting sales tax payments include:

-The City of Baird reported that sales tax payments in 1991 are 4.69 percent lower than the 1990 payments. The city had received $7,512.43 so far in 1991, while the 1990 tax payments to the city were $7,882.02.

The town's monthly payment for February 1991 was $5,731.89, a decrease of 9.23 percent from a check of $6,314.63 for the February 1990 rowment.

-The City of Putnam is reporting 1991 city sales tax payments amounting to $2,441.59 so far, a 46.25 percent increase from tax payments to the city in 1990. The 1990 sales tax check to Putnam amounted to $1,669.44.

The city's monthly tax rebate check for February 1991 was $1,313.84, an increase of 32.90 percent from $988.57 paid to the city for February

Countywide sales tax payments for 1991 in Callahan County are running 6.11 percent higher than the 1990 payments to the county. Callahan County towns have received sales tax payments in 1991 amounting to $36,326.43, while the 1990 payments to the county towns totalled $34,235.36.

Statewide, sales tax payments in 1991 are 12.67 percent ahead of 1990 rebates, according to Sharp's figures. The state has sent out checks totalling $241,918,135.53 in 1991, while the 1990 payments to the state's cities were $214,537,487.82.

Comptroller Sharp said, "Texas cities and counties will enjoy a tidy post-Christmas bonus, because this month's total local sales tax rebates are the largest in the state's history.

"February's total rebates are always large because they include sales taxes collected by annual, quarterly and monthly taxpayers, but these broke by $19.5 million the old record set in February of 1989," Sharp said. "That's an increase of 12.4 percent.

"Christmas retail sales may not have been as bright as some folks had hoped, but the state's economy still looks good when compared to the nation as a whole," Sharp said.

Merchants collect the state and local sales tax and send it to the Comptroller's office with their tax returns. The state keeps its 6 percent share and returns the local one percent sales tax each month to local governments. Cities and counties may levy a combined tax of up to two percent above the state's sales tax, however, all Callahan County town's only levy a one percent city sales tax, Sharp said.

This month's checks reflect taxes collected on December sales and reported in late January by businesses filing monthly, quarterly, and yearly returns

All local sales taxes must be approved by local voters and may be used for any legal city or county expenses. Most areas put the money in their General Fund and use it for normal operations like fire fighting, maintaining roads, and law enforcement, Sharp said. Some cities use an additional 1/2 percent city sales tax to help fund local economic development and to reduce property taxes.

Acting Talent

By DANIEL CROCKETT

One Senior at Cross Plains High School, Tracy Erwin, auditioned in Dallas for an acting scholarship to The American Musical and Dramatical Academy. The school is located in New York City, but they send instructors all over the country to view applicants.

Of the thousands that apply only 140 are accepted, and only 21 scholarships are given away. Tracy feels good about her audition, but will not know if she was accepted or if she will receive a scholarship until April 1.

Good luck, Tracy!

B) The Draft: Describe the history of the use of the draft in this country including exemptions, deferments, etc., and give your opinion as to future use of the draft and changes in the parts of the population eligible for the draft due to our experiences in Panama and in the Iraqui conflict

C) Iraq and the Palestine Issue:

Describe the invasion of Kuwait by Iraq and the take over of Palestine by Israel, and give your opinion as to whether the situations are comparable and whether the changes in Palestine should be a part of negotiations with Iraq.

3. A complete bibliography —
(Notice that each topic includes a portion that will require research from outside sources, as well as a portion where you make predictions based on your own opinions.)

Deliver your essay to Kim Childers by Friday, April 5, 1991. Academic achievement and financial need will not be factors in awarding the scholarship. This scholarship may be used at any institution of higher learning. The $300 scholarship will be presented at senior graduation. If you have any questions, please contact Kim Childers at 725-6806 or 725-6121.

Cookie Sale Draws To An End

By ARLENE STEPHENSON

Last chance to get Girl Scout cookies this year is noon tomorrow! When this article went to press, there were still 9 boxes of cookies available at 725-6879. The local Scouts have sold 3,312 boxes to date — an average of 66 boxes per girl. That amounts to $828 that will go into local troop treasuries.

The girls have done a real good job this year and would like to thank the public for supporting their efforts and for handling the odd change involved so well.

Eastern Star Members Treated To Valentine Surprise

By SANDRA CAREY

A rather unusual surprise was enjoyed by all members in attendance of the February 4 meeting of Cross Plains No. 455, Order of the Eastern Star. The hostesses were Penny Neal, Vera Pearl Bunnell, and Frances Irwin who surprised all with a wonderful Valentine meal including a six foot submarine sandwich. The sandwich was assembled in Abilene and transported to Cross Plains in the Neal's car (we would have loved to have seen this!).

The Chapter has been busy with plans for attending the annual School of Instruction and Fraternal Visit of our Worthy Grand Matron, Dr. Effie Mae Davis of San Antonio. The theme for this year's school was "Measure of Friendship" and was a new wrinkle by combining three sections from District III, Sections 5, 6, and 7. This event was held at the Copperas Cove Civic Center. The Deputy Grand Matron, Joe Grant, from Coleman Chapter, appointed several local members to positions of service which were: Sandra Carey, Associate Matron for the Fraternal Visit; Rickey Carey, Associate Patron for the Fraternal Visit; Blanche Byrd, Electa for the Fraternal Visit; Frances Irwin, Personal Page to the Grand Examiner, District 3; and Mary Knott, Examining Room Chairman, Section 5. Local members who were able to attend the function were Jim and Frances Irwin and Rickey and Sandra Carey. The trip was long and tiring but was a success with three local members obtaining "A" Certificates of Proficiency by passing the examination given by the Grand Examiner of District 3, Alma Lynn Bane.

We encourage all members of the Order to attend the March 4 meeting to hear greetings from our Worthy Grand Matron, Dr. Effie Mae Davis, and news of our School of Instruction and plans for Grand Chapter to be held in October in San Antonio.

Damage To Small Grain Fields Noted

Some small grain fields in Callahan County are being infested with greenbugs and army cutworms, according to Greg Gerngross, County Extension Agent. Most producers are aware of the damage that greenbugs inflict on wheat and oats because of previous year's infestation. However, the army cutworm is a problem that is not seen very often in this part of Texas. Cutworms are the immature stages of drab brownish moths that are active at night.

Newly hatched cutworms are brown to black and feed on small grain seedlings, clipping the above ground portion of the plant from the root system at or below the soil surface. Cutworm infested fields have the appearance of being closely grazed and damage may be "clumped" or occur in spots in the field.

The cutworm usually feeds late in the evening or at night and are difficult to find in the daytime. Scratching the soil surface with your hands will usually dislodge the worms if any are present. Late evening insecticide application may improve the control of this pest due to its feeding habits.

Ambush or Pounce were both recently given emergency labels for Texas for cutworm control.

For more information on this subject, contact the County Extension office at (915) 854-1518.

MRS. JON HARRISON NEWTON

Decker-Newton Wedding Held Saturday, January 26

Lisa Ann Decker and Jon Harrison Newton were united in marriage Saturday, January 26, at 6 p.m. at the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, Kingwood. The Rev. Stephen R. Whitfield of Kingwood officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Decker of Kingwood and Mr. and Mrs. Hans Dukes of Cumming, Georgia and the granddaughter of Mrs. Margaret Fox of Green Bay, Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Decker of Green Bay, Wisconsin, and Mrs. Frances deWilton of Ponchatula, Louisiana.

The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Weldon Newton of Stephenville and the grandson of Mrs. Maurine McCuin of Cross Plains.

Miss Angela Jameson and Miss Courtney Parker registered guests and presented order of service programs. Guests were escorted into the church by Mrs. Steve Zimmer of Green Bay, Wisconsin, cousin of the bride and Mr. Jay McCuin of Austin, uncle of the groom.

The altar was decorated with two sconces which contained large European arrangements of listrice, hot pink carnations, wax flowers, Stargazer lilies, astromeria, curly willow, plumosa fern, and springeri fern. Pyramidal candelabra which held white tapers graced the center of the altar area. A large European arrangement containing similar flowers graced the Columbarium. The pews were embellished with fresh floral arrangements and primrose ribbons.

Classical selections were played by the organist, Richard Rhoads, as the guests were seated. Purcell's "Trumpet Tune" was played as the mothers entered the church. Mrs. Dukes wore a violet waltz-length dress of crepe de chene. Mrs. Decker wore a walt-length suit of mint green silk shantung. The groom's mother chose a waltz-length teal dress of crystalline fortuni pleats. They wore corsages of white gardenias.

Mr. Todd Decker, brother of the bride sang Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" prior to the entrance of the wedding party.

As the organist played Bach's "Trumpet Tune," Miss Tracy Stumberg, Acolyte, led the wedding procession and was followed by the groom and best man. Bridesmaids and groomsmen were followed to the altar by the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Lisa Roberts, sister of the bride of Stockbridge, Georgia, Melanie Whipple, sister of the bride of Atlanta, Georgia, and Pattie Zimmer, cousin of the bride of Madison, Wisconsin. They wore waltz-length gowns of teal silk brocade and taffeta. The fitted basque bodices featured open necklines, large puff sleeves, and fully gathered skirts. The matron of honor was Mrs. Donna Turpin of Fort Benning, Georgia. She wore a matching dress of blush and plum. The attendants carried English arm bouquets of Stargazer lilies, LaVonda roses, blue statice, tulips, wax flowers, mauve pixie carnations, Queen Anne's lace, and ferns. Each bouquet was accented with a bow and streamers of primrose ribbon.

Best man was Weldon Newton, father of the groom of Stephenville. Groosmen were Todd Decker, brother of the bride of Atlanta, Georgia, David Merriman of Stephenville, and John B. Alexander of Dallas. They wore black tuxedos with matching accessories of black and white. Their boutonnieres were white wedding roses with pearl accents.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with white cumberbund and tie. He wore a boutonniere of white rosebuds, stephanotis, and pearls.

Escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride entered the santuary to Clarke's "Trumpet Voluntary," performed by organist Rhoads and trumpeter Barbara Adams.

Her formal gown of white satin was trimmed with French lace, pearls, and iridescent sequins. The sculptured basque bodice featured a sweetheart neckline. The long Victorian sleeves were fashioned with a full puff at the shoulder and a fitted sleeve below. The fully gathered skirt fell to floor length and swept to a circular extended cathedral train. She wore a finger tip veil trimmed with pearls and iridescent sequins. The bride carried a traditional cascade bouquet of gardenias, roses, stephanotis, ivy, and springeri fern.

Lay reader, Mrs. Pam Nolting, read I Corinthians 13: 1-13. After the couple exchanged vows, Mr. Joe Lane, uncle of the groom, sang "The Wedding Prayer."

A reception honoring the couple was held immediately following the ceremony at the Kingwood Country Club. Guests dined at round tables covered with white linen cloths. Fresh flowers and candles in hand blown hurricane lanterns graced the tables. At the separated buffet tables guests enjoyed artichokes stuffed with crabmeat, mushrooms florentine, mesquite grilled chicken, prime rib, turkey, cheese and vegetable trays, and a pasta buffet.

The bride's and groom's white linen table was backed with white lattice screens covered with greenery and miniature white lights. This was accentuated by drapes of white tulle and bows with satin roses. The bride's three tiered white cakes with a rolled fondant icing were accented with delicate pink confection flowers. Bridesmaids bouquets were used as centerpieces. The groom's chocolate cake with a rolled chocolate fondant icing featured two life-size turtle doves.

After the parents and wedding party were announced, and following a champagne toast to the newlyweds, the bride and groom chose as the first dance "Wind Beneath My Wings."

Satin rice filled roses were passed to the guests by Gardner Folsom and Courtney Parker.

The bride is a 1984 graduate of Borger High School and received her Bachelor of Business Administration in Accounting from Tarleton State University in August, 1990. She is employed as a marketing accountant with CTX in Dallas.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

At this time when the men and women of the armed services are literally laying their lives on the line in the Middle East, for us, and all weak countries with stronger or bigger neighbors, the media are paying over half of their attention to a small, vocal, minority, who would have one believe that most of the people are against helping others.

As an ex-serviceman who served in Vietnam during the late misunderstanding, I am again offended by the attention and importance paid to this minority while the vast majority of the American public support not only the service members but the decisions of our government.

I personally resent the hurt they must feel when they see the publicity these people get. Everyone whom I know supports the armed forces as well as the government.

They may not be in favor of war per se, but once the necessity for it is shown (and Iraq was given every opportunity to leave Kuwait) they stopped arguing and got behind the effort.

I don't want Saddam Hussein and the Iraqis to take the attention paid to the protestors (and don't mistake me; I am against what they think but would die in the streets for their right to express their feelings), but think they should have publicity in relation to their percentage of the population.

I am outraged at the brutal treatment of our P.O.W.'s, and am saddened to see the media give so much attention to their use for obvious propaganda purposes. Anybody can be made to say just what one wants said with drugs or beatings.

This is part and parcel with the use of foreign nationals who had been working in the country not being allowed to leave, but being taken captive and imprisoned near obvious military targets.

> Sincerely, MSG. James H. Cowan (USA Ret.) Rt. 1 Box 25 Carlton, TX 76436

Dear Editor: President Bush is spilling American blood and consuming America's treasure to restore a repressive dictator to his princely throne in Kuwait. The Emir may be a dictator who rules with religious overtones, but his suppression of basic human rights is undeniable According to the State Department's Country Reports on Human Rights Practices for 1989 states, "Non-Kuwaitis cannot own property or majority interests in large businesses. Tight government censorship prevails over all elements of the media. Political parties are banned and government permission must be formally obtained for any political gathering of more than three persons. Women can't vote; Kuwaiti males are restricted from marrying foreigners; non-Moslems cannot become citizens; and no one but a member of the ruling Al-Sabah family is eligible to become Emirs."

When Kuwait became independent in 1961, its constitution called for an elected National Assembly and a free press. But all of that changed in 1986 when criticism of the appointed cabinet ministers by the press and the elected members of parliament led to a severe government crackdown. The Emir dissolved parliament, suspended portions of the constitution, and imposed tight censorship on the mass media. Whatever political freedom existed was destroyed.

Kuwaiti police then used tear gas, water cannon, and stun grenades in January 1990 to disperse thousands of peaceful pro-democracy protestors, some of whom were elected members of the dissolved parliment. In response to growing pressure from Kuwait's citizens, the Emir announced the creation of a new national council. But it would have no legislative powers whatsoever. Elections for membership in this sham body were boycotted by forces opposed to the Emir's dictatorial rule.

This is the nation that President Bush has chosen to commit American blood and American treasure to de-

Last week, Harry Holt mentioned the beautiful sun risings and the sunsets. I just love them, too, but there is no sunshine this Monday morning - it is all-over cloudy and cold!

My best friend in Abilene called me last week - she was very worried about her one grandson, Steve. He is in Saudi Arabia.

We all are disturbed over the condition of Ray Purvis. He was seriously injured when he fell - broke a lot of bones, one day last week.

I appreciate Helen Tillotson's bringing her news to me this Monday morning. We put it in a separate column.

Bobby Roady answered their telephone this morning. Sally is in Brownwood with Ms. Nettie Roady, who is in a nursing home there. They spend a lot of time there with her.

Marianne Taff called - I appreciate that. She and George Mack were in San Saba on business on Thursday. They attended Pee Wee basketball games Friday and Saturday. Vanessa, a granddaughter of Brownwood, spent the weekend with them.

Betty Beggs stated that they had a very quiet week. On Monday of last week, Mr. and Mrs. William Beggs of Austin came by. They enjoyed their visit very much. Son, Rex of Cross Plains, visited while they were there.

fend. The whole business is bizarre and our own media ought to be telling American people that it is. Unfortunately, many of the chief organs of America's mass media support Mr. Bush's drive for a new world order under the control of the United Nations. Anyone who thinks that freedom for Kuwait has anything to do with this war has been grossly misled. The Iraqi invasion of Kuwait is being used by advocates of a world government to work for their evil goal.

Keep Up In A Changing World

A workshop entitled "Keep Up in a Changing World: Developing a Community Industrial Brochure" has been set for March 7 in Stamford, being repeated in Cisco on March 8 for the communities in the area. Presenters for the workshop are economic development professionals from the Big Country and around the state. The workshop is sponsored by West Central Texas Council of Governments. West Central Texas Economic Development District, and West Texas Utilities.

A community industrial brochure is a notebook put together by a community interested in attracting new business. Having a complete and accurate community industrial brochure is essential when a potential new business inquires about locating industry in your community. A community industrial brochure answers the questions that prospective businesses will ask before they consider relocating or expanding into your town. Therefore, it is to your advantage to have this important document at your fingertips when an opportunity arises in this very competitive environ-

The cost of the workshop is $10 per person, which include lunch. Registration deadline is March 6. For more information, please contact Alison Benton at (915) 672-8544.

Frances' Bleu Recipe Turns Green

By DAWN COLE Staff Writer Abilene Reporter-News

Maybe sitting around snacking and making up recipes isn't everyone's idea of a power lunch, but it certainly turned out to be profitable for Frances Thornton.

One of the recipes she came up with and entered in a contest sponsored by Woman's Day magazine and Quaker Rice Cakes won a $150 third-place prize in the nationwide contest.

Frances said she and Regina Windland, a co-worker at Security State Bank's Medical Mall branch, read about the "Top This" contest and spent a few lunch hours coming up with recipes to send in.

The contest recipes were all toppings that could be spread on Quaker Rice cakes, one of the foods Frances and Regina often snack on when they don't have time to leave for lunch.

They each came up with several recipes, including one called "Presidential Surprise" — containing broccoli, of course - and entered them in the contest.

A few months later, Frances received a letter in the mail telling her one of her recipes called "Bleu Hawaii" was being considered for a prize.

"It was the first contest I'd ever entered in my life," Frances said. "So it was such a surprise."

Not long after that, she received a telegram with even better news - her recipe had won third prize in the "Anytime Snack" category and a check was on the way.

Frances said she tried to think of a recipe that would be easy and fun to make and would be a fairly healthy snack, and tried to call it something that would catch judges' attention. She named her recipe, which uses Bleu cheese dressing, cream cheese, grapes and pineapple, "Bleu Hawaii," which she thinks helped her win.

Growing up on a farm as the eighth of nine children, Frances learned early in life how to be a creative cook. She said her mother, who still cooks every day, was constantly making wonderful meals out of whatever ingredients she had at hand.

"She never used recipes, except for one for her fruitcake," Frances said, smiling.

After Frances married her husband. Don, she said it took some time to adjust to cooking for just two, and for one of their meals she made enough spaghetti to feed a small country.

Now that their two children are grown, she's back to just cooking for two, but hasn't gotten much recognition for her award from Don, who "thinks about all that should go on a rice cake is peanut butter."

Frances and Don live at Cross Plains. She is the daughter of Myrtle Kirkham, and Don is the son of Juanita Thornton.
